

Every Night 45

Chapter 45: Daniel Marshall's car accident is not simple

The Daniel Marshall Olivia Jenkins knows—

He can turn against you at any moment, he is fickle, heartless, a despicable ierk!

Daniel, who has no reaction even when slapped, doesn't seem all that repelling, nor all that dangerous and terrifying, rather pitiful. A mix of feelings rises within Olivia, unconsciously furrowing her brows.

A major incident has occurred to Daniel, and there are no signs of the Marshall Family.

The woman he loves a lot is nowhere in sight too.

Being instructed by the chief to keep it a secret, Olivia finds the accident rather suspicious.

Despite the suspicion, a person's life is at stake, so she couldn't worry about anything else. Olivia begins asking her colleagues from the emergency department about details.

Simultaneously, Olivia proceeds to closely observe Daniel's vital signs.

"Mr. Mitchell, how was the patient brought in? Who are the family members?"

Someone needs to sign some papers later."

'Dr. Jenkins, the patient was brought in by one man, he probably went to settle the bill, I saw him just now." Who is that man?

Will his in-laws come soon?

Will that woman with long straight hair come as well?

And that arrogant Miss Bennett, will she be here too?

RenewalCare Hospital is under the control of Marshall Corporation, why didn't the injured Daniel choose to go there?

With complex emotions in her eyes, Olivia says, "Mr. Mitchell, I should take him to the operating room immediately. When that man returns, ask him to find me directly in the operating room."

"Alright!"

In the pre-operation area, Olivia calls the blood bank.

"Thoracic Surgery requests 3 units of O blood type, send it to the theater immediately."

"Dr. Jenkins, we're running out of O blood type, only 1 unit is available. Half an hour ago, an amniotic fluid embolism patient from Gynecology and Obstetrics needed the stored O blood type. Moreso, Neurosurgery had a major operation around ten, and they used a lot of O blood type too. Currently, the blood bank is in a crisis and it may take a while to get more blood."

Even the lifesaving blood is missing, even the heavens are not helping him, Daniel Marshall indeed worthy of being a jerk!

Although he does appear pitiful in his injured state, it doesn't obscure the things he has done. At this moment, Olivia's heart is filled with all sorts of cursing towards Daniel.

However, given the instructions from the chief and her being the medical manager, Olivia has no choice but to negotiate further, "Thoracic Surgery has an urgent operation, we need O blood type now, we can't wait." "Dr. Jenkins, you'll have to find a donor, we really are short of O blood type." "Please push a little harder, let them send the blood bags over faster."

“We’re trying our best, we’re anxious too. You guys should try to find a solution, ask the family members to donate blood quickly.”

“I understand, I’ll go and communicate with the family.”

After all, she is a family member herself. Olivia hangs up the phone, unhappily pursed her lips.

She really didn’t expect to encounter Daniel while working a night shift. That he’s now her patient, she’s going to be extremely busy tonight!

With a sigh, Olivia leaves the pre-operation area.

Lacking O blood type is life-threatening, she’ll just have to find O blood type for Daniel.

Seeing Olivia coming out, anxious Assistant Howard immediately steps forward to ask, “How is he? Has he woken up?”

Turns out it’s Assistant Howard, Olivia gives him a glance, “Daniel hasn’t woken up yet, he needs to undergo surgery as soon as possible. Assistant Howard, are you O blood type?”

Olivia’s facial expression turns serious, sincerely says: “The blood bank is in crisis and we don’t have enough O blood type. Please quickly find a donor, otherwise, we won’t be able to perform the surgery. If we delay any longer, it would be dangerous. Aren’t the members of the Marshall Family coming?”

Suddenly, a chilling intensity springs forth from Assistant Howard’s hawk-like eyes, “You are his legal wife, you have the right to make decisions. Before he lost consciousness, he instructed not to worry the people of the Marshall

Family.”

Olivia stares at Assistant Howard, dumbfounded.

Observing from the look on Assistant Howard's face, Olivia has a gut feeling of what's happening –

Daniel Marshall's car accident was not simple!