Chapter 82: Let Her Know Your Existence

Xiang Fu was so angry that her face turned red, and her eyes were shimmering with tears, looking as if she was about to cry.

“You’re lying. Daniel will never lay a hand on you. Soon, you’ll be kicked out,” she said.

Olivia Jenkins let go of Xiang Fu’s hand.

With her sharp gaze fixed on Xiang Fu, a hint of mockery crossed her face. “If you like deceiving yourself, go ahead! I’m sure, you might not see my outcome, but I can already imagine your end.”

A hint of scornful derision filled Olivia’s eyes. She shot a glance at Xiang Fu, confidence and pride radiating from her face, she walked away from ResilientCare Hospital in her high heels.

“That bitch is abhorrent, I swear I will tear her face apart. Dream on if you want to carry Daniel’s child!” Xiang Fu muttered between clenched teeth, filled with spite, her face darkened with fury.

A fierce murderous intent flashed through her eyes; she dug her nails into her palms so hard that she drew blood, yet she didn’t loosen her clenched fist.

Xiang Fu calmed down for a few seconds and decided to proceed towards the maternity ward regardless.

The supplements she had been taking wouldn’t go to waste.

Funny enough, she was ovulating in these few days. She would go to any lengths to conceive Daniel’s child first.

Even if that bitch got pregnant, she wouldn’t let her have the chance to deliver the child.

That bitch could only get lost!

Back in the car, Olivia got a call from her assistant.

Over the phone, William Jacobs was quite anxious, his face serious, "Chief Jenkins, the news about the Jenkins Group's two billion debt is trending number one. The entire internet is filled with negative news about the Jenkins Group. I've heard that the shareholders are teaming up to force you out. The board is also making moves."

She knew the storm was coming, she had foreseen people wanting her out of the Jenkins Group.

Showing no reaction, Olivia replied calmly, "Assistant Jacobs, I got it." "Chief Jenkins, you must be careful. Many people harbor malintent. The previous Chief Jenkins foresaw this outcome and even mentioned it to me. If there's any business you don't understand, you can ask me. He instructed me to assist you before he passed away. I will do my best to help."

Suddenly, Olivia felt a sting in her nose, and tears welled up in her eyes.

She knew her father had truly loved her, had done so much for her and planned everything carefully, but human intentions are unpredictable.

"Assistant Jacobs, we will surely overcome this difficulty, I won't be defeated. Now, go to Bennett Group and keep an eye on Jordan Bennett's secretary. If she doesn't let you schedule an appointment today, follow her every day. Even if she chases you away, don't leave, and don't stay too close to her either. Just make sure she knows you're there." "Alright, I'll keep an eye on her!"

"I'll handle the rest. I'm hanging up now."

After briefly browsing the trending topics on the internet, Olivia called Martin Wallace.

“Lawyer Wallace, are you interested in taking my case?”

Martin replied forthrightly, “I am a witness to the will. It would be inappropriate for me to take your case.”

Olivia laughed lightly, eyes sparkling, “I’m suing those who spread rumors. As many as there are. I’m not hiring you for an inheritance lawsuit.”

Martin raised an eyebrow in interest, “I can take on such a case, but be warned, my fees are quite high.”

Olivia smiled meaningfully, “You know, I have a permanent meal ticket, regardless of the cost, I can afford your legal fees.”

Martin looked intrigued, “Pleasure doing business with you!”

No sooner had he finished his call with Olivia than Martin called Daniel.

“Your wife hired me to file a suit. She wants to sue those who spread rumors. I agreed and am helping her gather evidence. It looks like she’s become a thorn in someone’s side.. Daniel, do you want to do something for your wife?”
