"Qiao Jiuyin?" Wei Shuyi called out suddenly.

Qiao Jiusheng was stunned, and then reacted that Wei Shuyi was asking her name.

Without hearing Qiao Jiusheng's reply, Wei Shuyi asked again, "Are you called Qiao Jiuyin? The eldest lady of Qiao's family in Junyang City, the sister of Qiao Jiusheng introduced in the magazine?"

Qiao Jiusheng moved his lips and asked, "What do you think?"

Wei Shuyi frowned, and the gaze under the lens was also a little strange. "How I don't think it matters. The strange thing is that you are obviously still alive. Why do the police think you are dead. Then who is the corpse found?"

"Anyway, it's not me, maybe it's a scapegoat?" Qiao Jiusheng laughed after laughing at himself.

Wei Shuyi stared at her mocking smile, but was not interested in smirking with her.

He was eating dumplings and pork loin slowly, feeling almost full, but he heard the girl opposite say, "My name is Qiao Jiusheng."

The dumplings on the chopsticks fell into the dipping material without warning. The dipping material splashed and soiled Wei Shuyi's white shirt.

Wei Shuyi finally raised his head, showing a surprised look. "In that magazine..."

Qiao Jiusheng said again, "Qiao Jiusheng in the magazine is Qiao Jiusheng, and I am the real Qiao Jiusheng."

Wei Shuyi subconsciously took off his glasses and directly wiped the non-existent dust with his fingers. He looked down at his glasses and was silent for a long time before he lowered his head and asked, "You just told me so, are you afraid that I will betray you?"

"Will you?" Qiao Jiusheng smiled.

Wei Shuyi glanced at him, then put on his glasses, his expression was nonsense. "Look, you don't even know your sisters who have lived with you for more than 20 years. How long do we have known each other? How can you dare to believe me?" She said that she should grow her heart by eating a bite .

"No, I believe in you." If there is anyone in this world who is Qiao Jiusheng who dares to pat her chest and say that she will believe him forever, then this person is none other than Wei Shuyi.

At Qiao Jiusheng's unwavering gaze, Wei Shuyi choked. "You guy..."

The news that the second youngest member of the Fang family and the second youngest member of the Qiao family will choose a date for their wedding has been widely reported in the city.

For this marriage, Fang Pingjue, the head of the Fang family, is naturally happy to see it happen. The Qiao family is a jewelry family with more than a hundred years of inheritance. Whether it is family or wealth, they are in line with the Fang family.

On Saturday night, Fang Mu will take Qiao Jiuyin back to the Fangzhai for dinner. The new lady who is about to start will come to visit, which is a big event. For this reason, Fang Pingjue specifically urged everyone in the Fang family not to miss the dinner on Saturday night.

On Saturday, at dusk, Fang Mu brought Qiao Jiuyin, who had been dressed up, to the door on time.

Qiao Jiuyin was wearing a black waist dress, a red round top hat, a pair of black stilettos, carrying a white heavy-duty rhinestone night banquet bag, and followed Fang Mu. As soon as the charming beauty entered the gate of Fang's house, she attracted the attention of men and women in the house.

The Fang family is a big family with a big family, naturally, there are also many descendants.

Fang Ping is definitely the head of the Fang family. He sits alone on a red sandalwood chair carved into antlers. He wears a black Tang suit, and his face looks like Fang Mu. To Fang Pingjue's right, Fang Qingyun, Fang Mu's aunt, sits, and Fang Ping, Fang Mu's uncle, in the lower left corner.

In the hall, there are also a group of young men and women with extraordinary clothes. These people are Fang Mu's cousins or cousins.

Under Fang Mu's recommendation, Qiao Jiuyin greeted everyone in the room.

She behaved generously and prepared a meeting ceremony for everyone. After receiving her meeting, the young girls all smiled crookedly, and the women looked at her with a little more satisfaction. Fang Ping never saw Qiao Jiuyin doing all this and nodded inwardly.

After six and five minutes past six, steward Wan walked into the lobby, leaned in Fang Pingjue's ear, and said, "Mr. Fang, dinner is ready."

Hearing the sound, Fang Pingjue stood up.

He was together, and the living room, which had just been frolicking, suddenly quieted down.

Fang Pingjue's temperament is exactly the same as Fang Mu. He is cold and arrogant and his expression is cold. The younger generations in the family are in awe of him. Fang Ping definitely didn't see the awe-inspiring eyes of the juniors. With his hands hanging beside him, he opened his mouth and said softly, "The food is ready, let's all take the table."

Hearing that, everyone got up, followed Fang Pingjue, and walked into the restaurant.

Everyone was seated, Fang Pingjue glanced at the people on both sides of the long table, his eyes swept to the only empty seat present, and an unpleasant light flashed in his eyes. Seeing him frown, Wan Lang steward explained in due course, "Mr. Fang, the eldest man is still in England."

"What is he going to do in the UK?" Fang Pingjue had been notified a few days ago, asking everyone in the Fang family not to be absent from the dinner tonight. Everyone came, but the eldest son was absent, which made Fang Pingjue very angry. "It's getting worse and worse, he doesn't take my words seriously now!" Fang Pingjue's voice suddenly grew louder.

The people at the table heard it, but they didn't say anything. Most of the juniors did not dare to speak, Fang Mu was also silent, but he didn't want to excuse the elder brother. Fang Qingyun wanted to say a few words for his elder nephew, but before he could speak, her husband held his hand.

The couple looked at each other, Xie Anchao Fang Qingyun shook his head slightly.

Fang Ping will never wait to see Fang Yusheng, nor is it a day or two. Xie An's idea that more is worse than less, prevented Fang Qingyun's plan.

Butler Wan Lang wanted to explain why, but seeing this, he shut up. Only Fang Pingjue's younger brother, Fang Pingping, spoke out at this moment, "Big Brother, look at what you said, can you forget it, this is the anniversary of Lisa's sister-in-law. As the only descendant of Lisa's sister-in-law, Yu Sheng went to the UK to worship her, is there anything wrong?"

In the entire Fang family, probably only Fang Ping dared to openly challenge Fang Ping.

He does have that ability. After Lisa and Fang Pingjue divorced, Fang Pingping left Fang's family to establish himself, and founded AXA Entertainment with his own abilities, and developed it into the most influential entertainment empire in China. .

Hearing Fang Pingping's words, Fang Ping was absolutely stunned. The rest of the people also lowered their eyebrows without saying anything.

Qiao Jiuyin sat quietly beside Fang Mu, and remained silent like most people. Qiao Jiuyin had heard of the eldest brother of the Fang family a long time ago. She had known Fang Mu for so many years, but she had never seen that person.

I heard that the man suffers from eye disease and is very low-key. Few people have seen him. Even Qiao Jiusheng had never seen him before.

Seeing this, the boss of the Fang family is not seen by Uncle Fang.

The boss is not treated by Fang's father. As the second child's fiancée, Qiao Jiuyin is naturally happy to see it.

Probably because Fang Pingping mentioned the deceased ex-wife, Fang Pingjue didn't say anything about Fang Yusheng. The topics afterwards were mostly discussed around the marriage between Qiao Jiuyin and Fang Mu. At this time, the juniors became active again and kept talking.

On the contrary, Fang Mu himself, a little reticent, looked down at the only empty seat and squinted his eyes.
