

Ex Convict 1521

Chapter 1521

Despite having lost her memories, she still retained some of her knowledge bank. Even though she had forgotten she was once a lawyer, she still chose to become one and passed the bar exam with just one try.

“Yes, long time... no see.” Lawyer Li seemed to have remembered something and his face changed. Was the person Irene Lynch wanted to file a lawsuit on Lawyer

Cummins?

If so, Lawyer Li felt that this battle was already over. The master Grace had trained under was famous!

Not only was his win rate for lawsuits high, but he was famous for being on the defendant’s side. As for Lawyer Cummins, she was his favorite student. He once even declared that Lawyer Cummins would be his last protege!

After considering this, Lawyer Li felt his head ache as he looked at Grace with slight embarrassment.

“Huh, it turns out you’re really a lawyer.” Irene Lynch smiled coldly. “Lawyer Yi, if you think this lawsuit is difficult to take on, there’s no need to. But this woman didn’t anger me, she angered Young master Reed. She made her own daughter ddy while holding Young master Reed’s photo. If anyone heard that, people would think he has a bastard child. That would cause the Reed family and Reed group a lot of negative impact!”

Irene Lynch deliberately brought Jason’s name into this.

Lawyer Li was shocked to hear this and looked at Grace weirdly. He had heard that Lawyer Cummins was not married but had a daughter. However... to make her daughter call Jason ‘Daddy’ while looking at his picture?

Even if Lawyer Cummins really wanted to find a stepfather for her daughter, she should not have used Jason’s photo!

Did Lawyer Cummins not know Jason’s power in Emerald City? Perhaps... Lawyer Cummins was just trying to entertain her child and simply used the picture of a man she found online?

Just when Lawyer Li was still guessing, he heard Grace say, “My daughter is not some bastard, she’s the little young lady of the Reed family!”

“What a joke! Little young lady? The Reed family’s little young lady is my daughter, Wanna, you...”
Before Irene Lynch could finish, she heard her own daughter timidly say, “Mr. Reed.”

After that, Irene Lynch saw a familiar shadow step out from the police station. His suit was well ironed, and he had a cold yet exquisite face. It was Jason.

3/4

Beside Jason was Terrence and a few other uniformed police officers.

‘Why is Jason here?’ Irene Lynch thought to herself. She nudged her daughter to go forward to cry and complain. If Jason was not pleased, this Grace, and any other women for that matter, would no longer have a footing in Emerald City.

However, before Oriel Lynch could go over to Jason, another tiny silhouette dashed forward to Jason and even threw /herself at him.

With that, her tiny hands pulled on Jason’s waist as she shouted with a clear voice, “Daddy!”

This exclamation shocked everyone there, and Lawyer Li’s mind was in a bigger mess now.

Irene Lynch curled her lips in mockery, waiting for what would transpire next. Young master Reed really hated it when someone who was not related to him called him ‘Daddy’. Even her own daughter, Oriel, did not have the permission to do so, what more a child who was completely unrelated?

Jason frowned and was about to pull the girl who was clutching onto his waist away. However, he then saw the little girl’s face that was raised toward him. She had pink and tender cheeks with some baby fat. She had jet-black hair that was tied into two tiny braids, and she had bangs as well. She

Chapter 1522

‘That face... It looks just like the face that I’ve seen on the marriage certificate...

‘And what did this little girl just call me? Daddy?!’

At that split second, the father and daughter were just staring at each other.

At that moment, it was not just Jason who was stunned but even Terrence who was beside him was also glancing at the little girl who was hugging his boss. ‘Gosh, she... really looks like a mini version of Grace!

‘But upon a closer look, she looks a little like Young master Reed as well.

‘Could it be that this little girl is...

It was at that moment the little girl suddenly furrowed both her little brows. She turned around and looked in the direction of Grace. "Mommy, didn't you say that daddy will like me? Why isn't he hugging me? Did Daddy really love you so much? And he even cried for you?"

That little girl started to suspect the words her mother had

The people in the surroundings were drenched in sweat. Yet, Grace did not answer her daughter. Her gaze was currently on Jason.

Even though she could not recall the reason why she had left Jason and why she was 'dead' in Emerald City, she remembered how they had been in love and how they ended up getting married. She had promised him that she would give him a complete family and never leave his side.

Tears welled up in Grace's eyes as she walked over to Jason, taking one step at a time. The scenes from their past were flashing in her mind.

She remembered the very first time she cooked him a bowl of noodles at the rented house when Jason came to live with her; the scene when she was sold off to a crazy person by her relatives and he rushed over in the middle of the night just to rescue her; the scene when she was pregnant with his children and he had said, "Let's get married."

He had even said, "Never leave my side, Grace."

She had promised him, yet she still left his side for five years. At this moment, she was finally in front of him. Each step she had taken to reach here was so difficult.

"I'm back, Jay," Grace said while choking. She raised her hand and gently touched Jason's face.

Her hand touched his face that was a little cold. This had always been how his body temperature was. He was the man whom she loved most. He was also... the man who loved her the most in the entire world.

In this entire world, no other people would love her as much as this man!

Jason frowned. Subconsciously, he wanted to avoid her touch.

After all, he was not used to having others make physical contact with him. Besides, the appearance of the woman in front of him made him suspicious.

Furthermore, when she called him 'Jay', he felt his body suddenly tense up. With that, he allowed her hand to touch his face.

'This is a... very gentle feeling! It was accompanied by a feeling which he found very familiar. Even his body... seemed to be yearning for this feeling.

As for the people around him, they were all looking at the scene playing out with astonished looks.

'Young master Reed is actually allowing others to touch his face? Just what relationship does this woman share with Irene Lynch's expression became extremely awful. 'What the hell is going on here? Why didn't Young master Reed push this woman away? He's even allowing this woman to keep touching his face?

'On any ordinary day, it'd be difficult for me to even try to get close to him. There was once where she intentionally wore very seducing sleepwear to seek an opportunity to get closer to Young master Reed. She had put on a seductive pose and wanted to seduce him.

Chapter 1523

However, just then, Jason blurted out a cold statement, "I don't like others simply touching me. If you have the guts to do so, then get ready to lose your hand the next day."

It was such a faint comment yet it sounded so casual. It was so frightening that it made everyone feel a terrifying chill go down their backs.

At this moment, his eyes were not focused on her. He had his head lowered and was looking at the documents in his hands. It was as if he was not bothered to even look at her.

Grace dared not take on the bet with her hand on the line. After all, she was very aware that a man like Jason would definitely keep his word.

'Such a man is way too proud and cold. It's like no one can get close to him.

However, Grace was intending to get close to Jason and even boldly placed her hand on his face! While Irene Lynch was astonished and jealous at the same time, she also cruelly hoped that Grace's hand would be chopped off.

Nevertheless, what made her even more surprised was that

Terrence suddenly called out, "Young Madam!"

Irene Lynch was stunned. 'Young Madam? Who is he referring to? Didn't Young master Reed's wife die a long time ago?'

Irene Lynch snapped out and suddenly thought about the woman in front of her. 'She shares the same name as Jason's late wife.

'Could it be... that this young madam he's referring to...' Her eyes opened wide. If she was feeling astonished earlier, then she now felt as though she was about to pass out cold. Her face immediately became pale.

'No. It's impossible that this woman is Young master Reed's wife!'

Grace placed her gaze on Terrence. "Terrence, long time no see!" She answered Terrence, who greeted her as 'Young Madam' earlier.

The people surrounding them all took in deep breaths. Despite all of them having different thoughts, the scene before them still made them flabbergasted.

Terrence looked at Grace, feeling agitated. "You're not dead, you're still alive!" They did not expect the miracle that they had all looked forward to countless times to actually be fulfilled after five years.

"Yes, I'm not dead," said Grace. "Back then, what happened..."

When she was halfway done talking, she felt a painful sensation on her wrist. Jason's fingers were grabbing onto her wrist. She turned around and found herself being stared at by those deep almond eyes.

He was staring at her and giving off an intimidating vibe.

"Who are you?" The cold voice was heard coming from his sexy lips.

Grace bit on her lip. "I'm Grace."

"Who exactly are you?" He was staring right at her as if he was about to see through her.

She looked straight into his eyes and said once more, "I'm your wife, Jay. It's been five years since we last met and you can't recognize me already? Haven't you missed me in the past five years?"

Five years... She had forgotten about him for five years. "I'm sorry to have made you wait for five years. If only I had been able to remember you much earlier, I would've come to meet you sooner as well," said Grace. Fortunately, she eventually remembered him. Five years was not considered too long.

They still had a lot of time to spend together.

Jason stared at the woman's face which he had seen on the marriage certificate before. When he heard her say, "If only I had been able to remember you much earlier," he suddenly heard a voice in his mind saying, "If I had met you much earlier, knew about it earlier, and fallen in love with you earlier, then I wouldn't have made you suffer this much. I wouldn't have just turned a blind eye..."

Chapter 1524

1/4

It was his own voice!

'Did I used to tell this woman all these things?'

The next instant, tears were seen streaming out from both of Jason's eyes. He had no control over them.

Grace was surprised. She would not have thought that this meet-up would make him burst into tears. All of a sudden, she was at a loss of what to do and quickly helped him wipe off his tears. "Don't cry, Jay, don't cry!"

The more she tried to wipe off his tears, the more they came streaming down.

The people around them, who were initially stunned, were even more shocked at this scene.

'Young master Reed... is crying?! He's crying because of this?!

'Oh gosh. How many people in Emerald City have ever seen Young master Reed cry?! Yet, now... we're all witnessing it in front of us? Perhaps no one would believe it if word about what happened today gets out!'

2/4

Even Jason did not expect himself to cry. Furthermore, he was crying so hard. Despite trying to recompose himself and force himself to stop crying, his body was still defying his will, making his tears continue to flow down.

'Why... Why can a simple statement blurted out by this woman make me cry this hard? When this woman touched me, why did I experience a feeling like I'm in love?

'It is all because... she's Grace, my wife whom I thought was no longer on earth? Is it because... she's the woman I used to be in love with?!

'But what's the point of it even if I used to be in love with this woman? Since I've forgotten about all the things that I went through with her, doesn't it mean that my love for her isn't deep?'

Jason quickly grabbed Grace's hand that was trying to wipe his tears away. Then, he pulled Grace forcefully and made his way to the car beside him.

Bang! The car door was closed. Grace and Jason were in a black Bentley. At that moment, no one else dared to approach the car.

"Why did Daddy and Mommy enter the car?" When the innocent voice was heard, everyone snapped out of it.

3/4

Terrence looked at the little girl in front of him. This little girl was so cute and her facial features looked like Grace's. At the same time, she also looked rather similar to Young master Reed.

Terrence knew that this child was Young master Reed's child! She was one of the triplets Grace had been pregnant with.

It turned out that Little Young Master was not the only one who had survived among the triplets. Another one had survived as well!

Indeed, Secretary Wang hadn't lied to us that time!

'However, since Grace is still alive, whose ashes were in the urn that Secretary Wang gave at that time?

'Also, how did Grace survive? Why is one of the triplets with Grace, while another was handed to the Reed family by Secretary Wang?'

At that moment, Terrence was confused as there were too many questions to be answered.

However, regardless of what had happened, it was good news that Grace and Young master Reed's children were still alive! Terrence's eyes had tears in them. He squatted and said to Jasper Reed, "Because it's a miracle that you and your mommy have come to visit us. Your daddy has a lot to talk to your mommy about. Let's not interrupt them for the time being."

Chapter 1525

As Terrence was talking, he choked up. "I'm Uncle Klein, your daddy's subordinate. Come, tell me your name."

"I'm Jaylee. But Mommy says that I'm going to have to change my name to Jasper Reed," the little girl said with a childish voice.

Jasper... Just like Little Young Master? As for Jasper... Jay... Could it be because of her relationship with Young master Reed? That's why Grace named this child with the word 'Jay'?

Grace had returned but Young master Reed... He no longer remembered everything that had happened between him and Grace back then. He even claimed Grace's death back then...

The thought of it made Terrence's heart sink.

'Will Young master Reed remember what happened back then... after seeing Grace? Will he get through the hardships?!'

Terrence had witnessed the love story between Young master Reed and Grace from the very beginning. He knew the entire incident way better than anyone. It was also because of this he knew that it had not been an easy feat for Young master Reed to be together with Grace.

At that moment, Irene Lynch was glaring at Jasper Reed, who was talking to Terrence, with much hatred. She did not expect this little girl to be Young master Reed's biological daughter.

If that was the case, her daughter, Oriel, would end up having a much more awkward status.

The Reed family's little young lady was here now. When the time arrived, no one would pay her daughter, who was the fake little young lady, any attention.

At that moment, Irene Lynch felt that this little young lady who had just appeared would be taking everything away from her daughter! What made her even more uneasy was that the things she had been looking forward to... might end up being snatched away as well!

After all, Grace's current status was Young master Reed's wife! She even managed to make him burst into tears the moment they met each other.

With such a person here, it would be an obstacle that would crush her dreams of marrying into an affluent family.

At that moment in the backseat of the Bentley, Jason was looking at Grace with a pair of reddened eyes. His hands were grasping onto her wrists tightly. The tears in his eyes kept streaming down and he had no control over them.

"Let go of me, Jay. I can't have a proper talk with you like this!" Grace said. Even though the backseat was spacious, given their current positions, it would make anyone feel uncomfortable.

"Why did you come back? Didn't you decide to leave me back then without any hesitation? Why did you come back? And you brought the kid back as well? Why? Is it because you're having a tough time outside, that's why you started missing me?" he questioned sternly.

However, his cold voice, along with his teary look, made a weird combination.

Grace was stunned. 'Me... leaving his side?!' She had yet to regain a part of her memories. She could not recall the reason why she was apart from him.

With her current memories, she only knew the truth behind the car accident that she was involved in and her imprisonment. Then, she had decided to forgive him and let go of the past grudges. 'However, it seemed like when I decided to forgive him, he didn't believe me.

'Could it be... because of this issue? That I ended up leaving his side?! But... that's impossible! Since I had made up my mind to let go of the past, I wouldn't have a reason to leave his side!'

"You're staying that I was the one who left your side?" Grace asked.

"Isn't that the case?" he replied in a mocking tone as tears continued streaming down his face. His tears dripped on the back of her hand, which was warm.

"I... I don't know what's going on. But Jay, it's impossible for me to have left you without any hesitation. There must be... There must be a reason behind this! Besides, it's not because I'm having a tough time outside that I decided to come back looking for you. I just..."

Chapter 1526

"Just what? Are you going to say that you came back because you love me?" Jason said sarcastically.

Grace stared fixedly at the person in front of her. His tears made her heart ache. She did not understand why his attitude toward her seemed to have an indescribable contradiction, but... "Yes, I came back for you because I love you."

His pupils shrank, and his heart beat wildly as if what she said was very important to him.

His heart was even beating so fast that he was a little out of breath.

'Why does this woman influence me so much?'

"Do you think I'd believe someone who's been gone for five years?" It was a long time before he managed to speak with some difficulty.

"What will it take to convince you?" she asked.

He pursed his thin lips, and he did not know what to say for a moment. Almost unconsciously, his fingers squeezed her wrist.

2/4 "Ouch!" Grace could not help but frown and let out a low cry.

Jason instinctively loosened his fingers, and Grace pulled out her wrist. Sure enough, her wrist was already red.

Jason looked at his empty palm a little blankly as if a treasure had left his hand.

'Treasure? What's my treasure?'

'Could it be her?' He only found it a little funny when the thought flashed across his mind.

Just then, a pair of hands grabbed his face. "Why are you crying? Don't cry. You're crying as if I bullied you."

'Bully? Who is she to bully me?' Jason thought sarcastically, but he could not control these tears at all. It was his body's instinctive reaction.

"As for proof..." she muttered before her lips touched his cheek and she gently kissed his tears away.

Jason subconsciously tried to push her away, but when his hand pressed on her shoulder, he seemed unwilling to push her away and could not muster any strength.

She slowly kissed his eyes that were full of tears. "Okay. Okay, stop crying. I didn't mean to leave you for five years. I won't leave you anymore, okay?"

Her voice rang softly in the car. Her gentle tone was so melodious.

Feeling somewhat uncomfortable, he wanted to hide his face. 'Does she think I'm a child that she needs to coax?'

With her hands on his cheeks, she turned his face toward her as soon as his face moved.

"You..." Jason glared at the woman in front of him. No one dared to do this to him, only her... However, he did not dislike what she was doing.

"If... Uh, you can push me away if you don't like me doing this," said Grace. After all, she loved him as much as ever, but he seemed to feel somewhat differently for her.

'Maybe some things will change in five years... Even though she thought so, there seemed to be a voice in her heart saying, 'It won't change. His feelings for me won't change.

'They're so unforgettable. How could they change in just five years?'

Therefore, when Grace said this, she nervously watched his reaction, afraid that he would push her away.

Chapter 1527

After waiting a moment, he did not push her away even though his hands were still on her shoulders.

'Does that mean... he doesn't hate it?'

Grace's heart instantly relaxed. She looked at the man in front of her. She had not seen him in five years. He did not seem to have changed much from what she remembered. The years seemed to have left no trace on him, and if they had, he had only grown more mature.

Of course, that maturity was limited to before he cried.

He felt... more childlike after he cried.

Especially now that his peach blossom eyes were still watery. It was because of the tears. Although he was glaring at her, she somehow felt that his glare seemed somewhat alluring.

It seemed extremely contradicting but also strangely attractive.

'Does this man know how tempting he looks?'

Almost uncontrollably, Grace leaned into him. "Jay, I missed you so much... I really missed you... I thought of you every day, wanting to see you soon and... tell you how much I love you..."

He stiffened as her pretty face magnified in front of his eyes.

'She... missed me? She loves me?!

His body quivered slightly as if in response to the words, and her lips rested on his lips after she finished speaking.

It was... a kiss after five years.

It did not have the awkwardness Grace expected but a sense of familiarity.

'Jay's lips... are soft. They're cool, yet so familiar! His warmth and scent seemed to be bewitching her.

Jay was no longer the Jay she remembered five years ago. He was no longer the man she could only try to see in her dreams; he was standing right in front of her!

Grace closed her eyes gently, deepening the kiss.

Jason passively accepted the kiss, never thinking he would see his dead wife again one day, much less that she would kiss him like this after seeing him.

He had always liked to be in control, but now, he only felt like she was in control of him.

Her tongue pried open his lips and squeezed into his mouth. He let her enter. He could have pushed her away and ended the kiss, but he could not bear to do so...

He could not bear pushing her away and letting the kiss end.

'What the hell is going on with me... Even if I loved her and married her back then, it doesn't mean that she can control me like this!'

When the kiss was over, Grace gasped slightly and looked at Jason with a slightly red face. "Well... is that enough proof? And if that's not enough for you, I... Uh... I can continue to prove it." Um, she seemed to want more!

Jason pressed his thin lips tightly together, not knowing how to answer all of a sudden.

Two hours had passed when Grace followed Jason back to Reed Residence.

Chapter 1528

Grace could not help but blush at the thought of her previous bold actions in the car.

Well, she did not think she would have done that either... but everything seemed second nature after seeing Jay!

However... she had forgotten that there was a group of people waiting outside the car!

Therefore, when she got out of the car to take her daughter with her, those people were looking at her with suggestive glances, wondering what they had just been doing in the car!

Her daughter was even more straightforward as she asked,

"Mommy, why were you in the car with Daddy for so long?"

Were you telling Daddy a story?"

Grace almost choked. She would tell her daughter stories to distract her when she was upset!

Therefore, it became a habit over time.

Her daughter probably thought Jason cried because he was sad, so she went to tell her sad daddy a story.

2/3

"Yes... Yes... I was just telling Daddy a story," Grace could only answer her daughter awkwardly.

When she said this, the people around her looked at her more suggestively.

After Grace returned to Reed Residence, the former maids were all shocked when they saw her. The butler, Uncle Kwan, was even more agitated. "Young Madam, you're alive... You're really alive! Wonderful. You're not dead! You're not dead!"

Grace said, "Yes, Uncle Kwan. I'm alive. Sorry, I promised you I wouldn't leave Jay, but I still..."

"Oh, it's good enough that you're alive. It's good enough. you're alive!" Uncle Kwan said with red eyes.

Jason went upstairs after returning to Reed Residence. Grace looked at the butler and Terrence, who had also returned to Reed Residence. She asked, "Jay keeps saying I left him. What the hell happened?"

As soon as she said this, Uncle Kwan and Terrence's eyes instantly widened as they looked at Grace in surprise. "Don't you remember?"

"No, I... I lost my memories. It was only in these two years that I gradually remembered some things from before. I finally remembered Jay a week ago and came back to Emerald City."

Grace briefly told them about her situation and finally said, "The last memory I got back was spending New Year's Eve with Jay, but I can't recall anything else after that."

It was like she had blacked out after getting drunk and could not remember.

Uncle Kwan and Terrence looked at each other. Finally, Terrence said to Grace, "So you've lost your memories too?"

"What do you mean 'too'?" Grace frowned. "Could it be..!"

"Has Jay also..."

Terrence said, "Yes, Young master Reed has also lost his memories, but he hasn't recalled anything yet. What he knows about you is what we told him afterward."

"But how can it be so coincidental that he lost his memory when I lost mine too?" Grace only found it unbelievable.

"It's no coincidence that Young master Reed lost his memory," said Terrence. There were only Terrence, Uncle Kwan, and Grace in the living room. That was why Terrence dared to speak about it.

Chapter 1529

After all, only a few people knew about it.

"Young master Reed almost lost his mind when you fell into the ocean. Later, Secretary Wang brought a baby and an urn of ashes to Young master Reed. Young master Reed was overwhelmed with sorrow as he held your ashes in his arms. If we didn't make Young master Reed forget about you at that time, he wouldn't be able to live at all!"

What Terrence said set off waves in Grace's heart.

'What kind of memories have I lost? Lost his mind... Jay almost lost his mind back then? Even to the point where he couldn't live?'

"What on earth happened? How did I fall into the ocean?"

Grace asked quickly. She desperately wanted to know what memories she had not yet recalled!

Terrence told Grace what had happened when she fell into the ocean. Then, he said, "Young master Reed was dejected as he held your ashes. Finally, Secretary Wang said we could only erase Young master Reed's memories of you. It was the only way for Young master Reed to survive."

"Erase? How? You only erased his memories of me?"

"With hypnosis. Secretary Wang found a hypnotism expert at that time and finally succeeded in erasing his memories of you. But every once in a while, some fragments of your past will recur to Young master Reed. It's just that maybe his feelings for you may..."

At this point, Terrence looked at Grace somewhat sheepishly. After all, Young master Reed had loved Grace to death back then, but he had lost his memories of her now. He probably no longer had feelings for her.

Of course... It was just a theory.

Young master Reed cried when he met Grace today. He even took Grace to the car... It led Terrence to think that even though Young master Reed had been hypnotized and his memories were erased, he still treated Grace differently.

Grace gasped and finally understood why Jason had behaved this way today.

'Jay... has forgotten everything about our love!'

However, it was alright as long as he was alive. It did not matter even if he had forgotten.

"If I fell into the ocean back then, why does Jay think I left him?" Grace, asked her doubts.

3/4

"Well..." Terrence instantly seemed even more embarrassed. "Secretary Wang said that since Young master Reed has been hypnotized, it's better not to trigger him. If we told Young master Reed about you falling into the ocean, perhaps he would get triggered. He might lose his mind right away if he got too agitated. Therefore, we told Young master Reed that you found out about the truth of the case and... you left him right after giving birth. But you died in an accident when you left."

'So that's why!' Grace pressed her lips together. No wonder Jay was acting like this.

It seemed that she had a lot to work on, but even if he had forgotten and misunderstood her, she would try to make him fall in love with her again as long as he did not have another love interest!

"By the way, is there any woman Jay likes now?" asked Grace.

"No. There's absolutely none!" Terrence said immediately. In the past five years, though Young master Reed had forgotten. about Grace and did not intend to 'remain chaste' for Grace, his lifestyle was more monastic than a monk's.

"What about Irene Lynch? There are many rumors online that he adopted Oriel Lynch because of Irene Lynch," asked Grace.

Chapter 1530

"Young master Reed adopted Oriel Lynch because Little Young Master saw the Lynch mother-and-daughter pair being bullied. He said he wanted a little sister," Terrence quickly explained. He was afraid Grace would misunderstand.

"Little Young Master is Mick, right?" Grace got excited when she brought up the son she had yet to meet.

"Yes, you can meet Little Young Master when he comes back from kindergarten later," said Terrence.

"What about the other child? I was pregnant with triplets. I only had Jasper with me when I woke up in the hospital. Do you have two kids here?" Grace asked hurriedly.

Terrence and Uncle Kwan showed a regretful look on their faces. "No, we only have Little Young Master here."

Grace only felt her heart suddenly being emptied out. A sore tingling feeling spread from her heart.

Although she had thought about the possibility, it still hurt when she found out.

'I was carrying three babies! And now there are only two left?

Is the other child alive or dead? Where are they?’

“When Secretary Wang handed Little Young Master to the Reed family, he said only one child had survived but isn’t Little Young Lady alive too? Perhaps the other child’s alive as well,” said Uncle Kwan. He had already addressed Jasper as ‘Little Young Lady’!

After all, she was the Reed family’s true heiress!

Grace heaved a sigh of relief. ‘Yes, maybe the other child is alive too! Secretary Wang should know about all this best. Secretary Wang must know whether the child is alive or dead!’

“Do you know where Secretary Wang is?” asked Grace.

Terrence said, “After hypnotizing Young master Reed, Secretary Wang was arrested by the police for wounding and kidnapping. However, he escaped before the trial and no one knows where he is now. I went to the police station with Young master Reed today because we got word from the police station that they had a lead on Secretary Wang’s whereabouts. We went to confirm it.”

Grace shuddered, and her breathing quickened again. “Are they going to find Secretary Wang soon?”

“Yes, the Reed family will also send people to assist the police in tracking down Secretary Wang’s whereabouts!” said

Terrence.

3/4

That was when they thought only Little Young Master had survived, but now it seemed that it was not the case. Even if for no other reason than finding out the whereabouts of the last child, they would dig three feet deep to find Secretary Wang.

Just then, there was a sudden scream from the second floor.

The three in the living room looked up and saw a maid standing not far from the stairway. She was staring hesitantly at a room at the end of the corridor.

“What’s the matter? Where’s Little Young Lady?” Uncle Kwan looked up and saw that the maid was the one he had assigned to take care of Little Young Lady, so he asked quickly.

“The Little Young Lady... entered Young master Reed’s study,” the maid said, looking reluctant.

Young master Reed’s study was not somewhere everyone could enter. Even Little Young Master could upset Young master Reed if he barged into the study randomly.

Little Young Lady had just returned. If she made Young master

Reed mad... Terrence and Uncle Kwan could not help but worry when they thought of this.

At the moment, the adult and the child were staring at each other in the study.
