

Ex Convict 2551

Chapter 2551

However, his body stayed stiff, and he stood still as his eyes watched Louise Mitchell's lips open and close. She said... "She said there's no way she'd give you up to anyone. She loved you and had promised to be with you forever. She said she only thought of Herman Moss as a friend and had never loved Herman Moss."

His blood seemed to freeze when he heard this.

His heart hurt like it was stabbed by countless sharp daggers.

George Gregory staggered back a few steps... He looked like he was on the verge of collapsing.

'Was I the only one Amber Mitchell loved?

'She never had anything going on with Herman Moss?

'If... of all this is true, what have I done? How could I have treated her like that?'

"George Gregory, you're the real villain. You're paranoid and jealous. Even though you loved Amber Mitchell, you didn't believe her. I didn't put Amber Mitchell in that position. You did! If you had trusted Amber Mitchell a little more, you would have been a harmonious and beautiful family of three now. It's a pity that Amber Mitchell hates you so much now-

Chapter 2551 Slap!

A cold slap interrupted the rest of Louise Mitchell's speech.

2/3

Louise Mitchell was slapped so hard that she almost fell to the ground, but she did not seem to feel any pain. She just looked at George Gregory hysterically and said with a laugh, "George Gregory, you'll suffer worse than me. You'll never get what you want. You'll end up alone in suffering. You'll regret it all your life..."

Her shrill voice was like a curse.

George Gregory stumbled away with a pale face. He wanted to find Amber Mitchell. He had so much to say to Amber Mitchell!

With a swollen cheek, Louise Mitchell laughed until George Gregory left.

The sarcasm on her face then changed to self-deprecating sadness.

She now needed to use Amber Mitchell to hurt George Gregory and make him suffer. How ridiculous!

"Amber Mitchell, George Gregory, I curse that you'll never be together. Never!" Louise Mitchell mumbled. In her opinion, her life was ruined!

She would not have any future!

3/3

As soon as George Gregory got out, he called his subordinates. "Where's Amber Mitchell? Help me find her."

He wanted to see Amber Mitchell. He wanted to tell Amber Mitchell that Simon was their child! He also wanted to tell her that he was sorry. He was really sorry. He should not have doubted her. He should not have turned his back on her when she was at her worst!

He had done so many wrong things, and he only realized them now.

However, he was surprised when he got a reply from his subordinate. "What? She and the Moss family went to the Moss family's cemetery?"

"Yes, and Miss Mitchell went there wearing a wedding dress today," the subordinate said.

Chapter 2552

The statement set off a tempestuous wave in George Gregory's mind.

'Wedding dress... Why would she go there in a wedding dress? What exactly does that mean?' Uncasiness and fear filled his heart as he stepped on the gas pedal and sped off toward the Moss family's cemetery.

'Amber Mitchell... Amber Mitchell...'

The name kept flashing across his head.

Those pledges of eternal love seemed to echo in his ear.

'Amby, I love you. I'll take good care of you and won't let you suffer!'

'Amby, I can do whatever you want. I only want you to be safe and happy.'

'Amber Mitchell, I have never loved anyone so much in my life, and I have never wanted anyone to marry me this much. Let me be with you for the rest of your life. I'll be with you for the rest of mine, okay?'

These words had come out of his own mouth. He meant it with all sincerity when he spoke.

Chapter 2552

However, he never fulfilled them.

2/3

She had suffered a grievous injustice. She was not safe, let alone happy, but... he did nothing.

He just let it happen!

‘George, don’t betray my feelings, okay?’ Her voice seemed to ring in his ears. ‘I will love you with all my heart. But I’ll stop loving you if you betray me one day. I’ll stop loving you once and for all.’

She looked at him. Though her voice was soft, every word was so firm.

It was as if she was making him a lifetime promise.

What did he reply to her then?

He said... ‘Okay, I won’t betray you and our relationship.’

However, what did he do in the end?

Suddenly, George Gregory saw a car rushing by and slammed on the brakes. The two cars were only a few centimeters apart and were about to collide.

“Don’t you know how to drive? Are you in a hurry to die?” The driver of the other car rolled down the car window and stuck their head out of the window to scold George Gregory.

4

George Gregory let out a breath, ignored them, and backed up.

Chapter 2552

He bypassed the car and drove on.

‘Amber Mitchell! I want to see Amber Mitchell as soon as possible.

When the car finally arrived outside the Moss family’s cemetery, he almost stumbled out of the car.

Many of the Moss family’s security guards were standing outside the cemetery. They stopped George Gregory as soon as they saw George Gregory getting out of the car and running over.

“This is the Moss family’s cemetery. Outsiders are not allowed to enter,” one of them said.

“Get out of the way!” George Gregory snapped.

However, they showed no intention of moving aside.

George Gregory did not want to bother with anything else. He only wanted to get into the cemetery and see Amber Mitchell.

Chapter 2553

If anyone got in his way, he would get them out of the way!

He wanted to see Amber Mitchell. He wanted to see Amber Mitchell no matter what!

He raised his hand and swung it fiercely at the man in front of him. The entrance to the cemetery started becoming chaotic.

In the cemetery, Amber Mitchell stood in front of Herman Moss's grave. Workers took out the old tombstone and replaced it with a new one. There was a new line with the words 'Wife, Amber Mitchell' next to the words 'Husband, Herman Moss' on the tombstone.

The only difference was that the words 'Herman Moss' were drawn with red ink, representing that he had died. Meanwhile, the words 'Amber Mitchell' were in gold, representing that she was still alive.

When Amber Mitchell died and her ashes were put into this tomb, the gold words would be painted red.

Amber Mitchell looked quietly at the new tombstone and murmured, "Herman, I'll go look for you someday. But I might be old by then. You'd better recognize me."

She even looked forward to the day when her ashes would be placed next to his. They would quietly be with each other

Chapter 2553 forever.

Just then, someone hurried up to Daley Moss and whispered something in his car.

2/4

Daley Moss's expression froze. Whitney Herrera, who was standing next to Daley Moss, watched her husband's expression change slightly as she whispered, "What's wrong? Did something happen?"

"George Gregory's here, and there's a fight outside," said Daley

Moss.

"What?" Whitney Herrera was shocked. "Why is George Gregory here? Does... Does he know about what's going on here today?"

However, the Moss family was holding the wedding in secret and had never disclosed it. How could George Gregory have known?

Daley Moss said, "I don't know. But he can't get into the Moss family's cemetery so easily!"

With that said, Daley Moss instructed the messenger, "Keep George Gregory outside and don't let him disturb us."

"Yes," the person answered and hurriedly left again.

The ceremony went on, and the new tombstone was set. A priest began the wedding ceremony.

Chapter 2553

However, the groom was unable to make any sound in this special ceremony. Only the bride answered 'I do' and recited the marriage vows.

When Amber Mitchell completed her vows, two rings were handed to her, one of which was a male wedding ring that Amber Mitchell had made into a necklace. She wore it around her neck. The other was a female wedding ring that she held in her right hand and carefully put it on the ring finger of her left hand.

It was her wedding ring-her and Herman's wedding ring. She would be wearing these two rings for the rest of her life.

However, a voice suddenly rang out just as the ring was about to slip onto her ring finger.

"Amber Mitchell, stop!" The roar was so loud that everyone there looked in that direction.

Then, there was the sound of footsteps. The security guards guarding the cemetery entrance came over. When the one leading the security guards realized the ceremony had been disturbed, he rushed to Daley Moss's side and cautiously said, "Mr. Moss, I'm sorry. I failed to stop the man. I'll ask them to take this man away immediately!"

With that said, the man ordered his men to take George Gregory away.

"Daley Moss, you'd better ask them to leave me alone if you don't want me to have someone demolish the Moss family's cemetery!" George Gregory threatened.

Chapter 2553

Daley Moss narrowed his eyes slightly. "The Gregory family might have a hard time setting foot in the Moss family's cemetery. George Gregory, you broke into the Moss family's cemetery. Shouldn't you explain yourself first?"

4/4

'Explain?' George Gregory looked at the woman in a wedding dress nearby. It was Amber Mitchell, the person he had wronged the most in his life.

Chapter 2554

"I only came to take her away!" George Gregory walked up to Amber Mitchell step by step.

the Moss family's security guards tried to stop him but stopped when they saw Daley Moss waving his hands.

1/4

Watching her husband's actions, Whitney Herrera whispered, "Do you plan to let George Gregory take Amber Mitchell away?"

"Her feelings for Brother might not be that deep if she leaves with George Gregory. The wedding today will be canceled, of course," muttered Daley Moss.

"What if... she doesn't?" "Whitney Herrera asked curiously.

"If she doesn't leave, she'll be... my eldest brother's wife and my sister-in-law. the Moss family will naturally take care of her forever!" Daley Moss said.

Therefore, Whitney Herrera understood that her husband was doing this to see how Amber Mitchell truly felt about Herman Moss. George Gregory's appearance was undoubtedly the best lest.

George Gregory walked up to Amber Mitchell. Looking at her in a wedding dress and delicate makeup, he fell into a trance, It was as if he were in a dream.

Chapter 2554

2/4

He had had such dreams many times. He dreamed that she had put on a wedding dress and become his bride.

However, she was now standing in the cemetery in a wedding dress.

"What are you doing? Why are you standing here in a wedding dress?" he asked as he glanced again at the ring she was holding. "What's this ring for?"

"This has nothing to do with you, Mr. Gregory. This is the Moss family's cemetery. Please leave," Amber Mitchell said coldly.

"I can leave, but I'll take you with me!" George Gregory said and grabbed Amber Mitchell's right wrist. "Amby, come with me. I have a lot to say to you."

Amber Mitchell froze. Amby... was a nickname no one had called her in years!

She wished she could hear someone call her that when she was in the mental hospital, but no!

Every day brought her nothing but more disappointment and despair.

However, she no longer felt anything when she heard him call her Amby like that.

"I'm not leaving with you. It's my wedding with Herman today. You'd better let go right now, or I'll ask the security guards here to drag you away!" Amber Mitchell said coldly.

Chapter 2554

3/4

George Gregory's pupils constricted, and he stiffened. "Excuse me? A wedding?"

"Why else do you think I'm wearing a wedding dress, Mr. Gregory? And what do you think the ring is for?" "Amber Mitchell sarcastically asked in reply.

George Gregory stared blankly at the person in front of him. Then, he turned to look at the tombstone on one side.

Only then did he read the tombstone and saw the words-'Wife, Amber Mitchell'!

"You are marrying Herman Moss?" he asked, almost in disbelief.

"Not, I've already married him," Amber Mitchell corrected him.

"You're marrying a dead man, Amber Mitchell. What are you thinking?" George Gregory asked with a note of fear in his voice that he did not notice.

"Though Herman has died, he lives on in my heart. He saved me with his life. What's wrong with me marrying him?" Amber Mitchell replied.

"So, you intend to repay him for saving your life in this way? If you just want to repay his kindness, I can repay it for you in other ways. You can..." George Gregory said quickly

1/3

She interrupted him and said, "It's not because he saved my life! It's because... I love Herman. Marrying him is my greatest wish."

George Gregory felt like he had been struck by lightning.

'She... loves Herman Moss? She once said she'd love me forever! But now, the one she loves is Herman Moss!'

There was a sudden surge of pain in his heart, and the pain spread to every corner of his body in ripples.

"You... love Herman Moss?" he murmured, tightening his five fingers around her wrist.

Amber Mitchell scowled. Her wrist was hurting so much but she could not break free.

"Yes, I love Herman. Can you let go now?" she said coldly. The coldness and estrangement in her eyes stung him all the more.

"But you said you love me! You said you'd spend the rest of your life loving me!" He suddenly pulled her into his arms as if he were holding his most important treasure and was in fear of losing it.

Amber Mitchell was caught off guard and leaned against George Gregory's chest, feeling the rise and fall of his chest as well as his violent heartbeat.

Chapter 2555

She used to love the way he held her tightly. It made her feel loved.

However, she no longer longed for his embrace.

“George Gregory, how dare you say such a thing? I regret that I loved you so most. If only Herman had been the one I loved,” she said.

“You... regret it?” He only felt as if he were being enveloped in constant chills.

“Yes, I regret it. George Gregory, listen well. There’s no way I’ll ever love you again. The person I love is Herman Moss. You’re just a man who betrayed me!” she said with perfect clarity.

His body swayed, and he fell into a trance momentarily.

She took the opportunity to push him away and turned to say to Daley Moss, “Mr. Moss, please ask someone to take this man out of the cemetery. I don’t want him to interrupt my wedding with Herman.”

Daley Moss’s eyes glistened before saying, “Okay.”

At his signal, the Moss family’s security guards walked up to George Gregory and surrounded him. “Mr. Gregory, please.”

They made a gesture, ‘asking’ George Gregory to leave.

Amber Mitchell faced the tombstone again. Her mutilated right hand held the wedding ring as she slowly wore it on her left ring finger.

George Gregory wanted to stop her but was blocked by the security guards.

No, he could not let Amber Mitchell marry Herman Moss, a dead man!

He loved her. He had loved her all this while!

“Don’t put it on. You can’t marry Herman Moss. Simon is your child. He’s our child!” George Gregory almost shouted at the top of his lungs.

Amber Mitchell had already worn the ring on her left ring finger, but she also looked up at George Gregory with a shocked expression at the same time.

“It’s true. Simon... My son, Simon, is the child you saved when you donated your blood the last time. He isn’t Louise Mitchell’s child but mine and yours!” George Gregory only tasted bitterness in his mouth as he said this.

Chapter 2556

Amber Mitchell looked stunned as if she had heard an unbelievable story.

1/3

'My child? My child with George Gregory? Didn't my child die at birth? Why did George Gregory say Simon's mine? What the hell is going on here?'

George Gregory's voice continued ringing. "It's true! I can show you the doctor's DNA test results if you don't believe me. Amber Mitchell, Simon is your child!"

The special wedding hastily ended with George Gregory's intervention.

Amber Mitchell came to the hospital and looked at Simon lying inside the sterile room through the glass window.

Although she had donated blood to the little one in the hospital the last time, she did not see him. She saw the child through the glass window for the first time.

The child was asleep and wearing an oxygen mask. He had short black hair, and his eyes were closed. His features were delicate. His eyes and eyebrows looked a little like hers.

'Is this... my child?'

2/3

Simon's attending doctor also handed Amber Mitchell the little one's DNA test report. "Our hospital compared your blood with Simon's and found that you're mother and son. You can go to another authoritative institution for testing if you're still worried. But I think the result should be the same."

Amber Mitchell looked at the report in her hand and was a little distracted, but she knew one thing. There should not be any problems with this report. After all, this hospital was a leading hospital in the industry.

"What on earth happened?" Amber Mitchell asked as she looked at George Gregory.

"I don't know what happened. The doctor informed me when they unintentionally found out that you and Simon are mother and son. Louise Mitchell also admitted that Simon is your child. It's just that since we discovered the news so suddenly, we still need to investigate how she did it," replied George Gregory.

Amber Mitchell pressed her red lips together tightly. There was now little point in finding out how Louise Mitchell did it.

After all, it had happened, and Louise Mitchell was now behind bars for life. It did not matter much that she had committed one more 'sin'.

The doctor left, leaving George Gregory and Amber Mitchell alone in front of the sterile room.

"Amby, I know I was wrong about what happened that year.

3/3

Nothing had happened between you and Herman Moss. I misunderstood you. I lacked trust in you, and I wronged you. No matter how you want me to repay you, I'm willing to do it. But I hope you can believe that Simon is really our flesh and blood!"

He never bowed down to others easily, but he was letting go of all his pride to beg for her forgiveness.

He was wrong. He was awfully wrong.

Amber Mitchell gazed silently at the man, whose face bore the traces of today's confrontation with the Moss family's security guards. She had never seen him like this before.

"Do you want me to help Simon with his blood transfusion?" Amber Mitchell asked slowly.

"What?" A look of surprise flashed across George Gregory's face.

Chapter 2557

1/4

"When I donated blood the last time, I heard from the nurses that his disease requires him to undergo transfusion treatment with his immediate family's blood. That's his only shot at survival, right? His blood type is the same as mine, so he'll recover if I can donate enough blood for his transfusion.

Isn't that right?" she asked.

George Gregory came back to his senses. "Yes, we do need you to help Simon with his transfusion so that he'll recover, but

"I'll help Simon with his transfusion. Even if he isn't my child, I'll do it if my blood can save someone else," she said.

After going through so many things, she realized the value of life and was more willing to help those in need.

With that said, she looked intently again at Simon who was still unconscious. Then, she turned to leave.

George Gregory grabbed Amber Mitchell's arm. "Do you think I said that to make you help Simon with his transfusion?"

"What else? Do you really want us to acknowledge each other? George Gregory, you can stop the act. Given the choice, I think you would rather Louise Mitchell be her mother than me," Amber Mitchell said mockingly.

Chapter 2557

2/4

George Gregory said, "I'm not acting, and I don't have to act in front of you! I... I really want to ask for your forgiveness."

His voice began to grow hoarse, while his dark eyes seemed to be tearing up. There was even a touch of inferiority in his proud expression.

"Amby, give me another chance, okay? Let's start over. I won't misunderstand and doubt you this time. I'll be good to you. You'll have a bright future ahead of you," George Gregory choked out the words.

Amber Mitchell could not help laughing. "A bright future? George Gregory, what future is there for you and me?"

"I'll make up for what you've suffered. I'll make you happy!" he said quickly.

However, Amber Mitchell only said, "You can never make up for what I've suffered. George Gregory, I'm Herman's wife now. Don't ever say such absurd things to me again!"

"Absurd?" He stared at her. "Who's being absurd now? Herman Moss's already dead. You have no legal support by marrying a dead man!"

Chapter 2557

3/4

"Why should I need legal support to marry? I'm marrying him because I love him!" Amber Mitchell raised her chin and said sternly.

"You love him? You love Herman Moss?"

"Yes, I love Herman, even if he's dead. Death doesn't mean the end of love." Instead, her love for Herman only began after his death.

If only... she had fallen in love with Herman earlier. Maybe many things would not have ended like this.

With that said, Amber Mitchell lifted her hand to break away from George Gregory's grip.

He stubbornly refused to let go, feeling that he might not be able to hold her ever again if he did.

"George Gregory, it's no use holding on like this. You know what? You only disgust me every time you touch me. I hope I never have to see you again!" she said.

Her words seemed to trigger him. He suddenly pulled her into his arms before lowering his head and kissing her hard on the lips.

The intense kiss seemed to want to prove something or bring her back in time.

Chapter 2558

‘How could she love Herman Moss? I’m the one she loves!’

When he kissed her, she would respond and show him she loved him with her actions!

However, she responded with a violent struggle and resistance to push him away!

Therefore, George Gregory hugged Amber Mitchell tighter and deepened the kiss.

Just then, there was a sharp pain in his mouth, followed by the taste of blood. Then, a sudden force suddenly pushed him away!

Slap!

A clear and loud slap hit him on one side of his cheek.

He watched blankly at the right hand she swung out. The sting on his cheek and the blood in his mouth told him what had happened.

‘Does she... resist me so much?’

Chapter 2558

2/3

“George Gregory, don’t touch me. The more you touch me, the more disgusted I feel,” she said.

“Amby, I just...” He tried to say something, but he then saw her mutilated right hand and the missing right ring finger,

All his words seemed to be stuck in his throat, and he could not say anything more.

Amber Mitchell turned to leave, while George Gregory stood there like a statue, motionless.

When Amber Mitchell walked out of the hospital, she saw Daley Moss’s car parked not far away. The driver walked up to her and said, “Miss Mitchell, Mr. Moss asked you to get in.”

Amber Mitchell followed the driver to the car and got in.

However, the driver did not get in the car. Amber Mitchell and Daley Moss were the only ones in the car.

"Is Simon really your child?" Daley Moss asked. He was also surprised to hear George Gregory say that. After all, the Gregory family's heir had always been Louise Mitchell and George Gregory's child.

Amber Mitchell said, "I think so. The hospital issued a DNA test report. The chances of it being a mistake are slim, and Simon's disease requires his immediate relative to help with the transfusion. There's no way George Gregory would deceive me."

Chapter 2558

"You didn't know?" Daley Moss asked again.

Amber Mitchell shook her head. "I don't know why my child became Louise Mitchell's, but I'll save him and love him well."

She had imagined many times how she would love the child and how she would become a good mother if her child were still alive.

Now... the child was still alive.

"Congratulations on having a child." Daley Moss chuckled but looked at Amber Mitchell more sharply. "As soon as George Gregory divorces Louise Mitchell, the three of you will be a happy family."

Amber Mitchell froze before looking at Daley Moss sternly. "I'm already married to Herman."

"But isn't it better to marry the living than the dead? Besides, George Gregory still seems to have feelings for you. Besides, Simon is your son," said Daley Moss.

Chapter 2559

"Does being dead or alive have anything to do with whether you love someone? I love Herman, and I want to marry him," said Amber Mitchell.

"Do you really not have feelings for George Gregory anymore?" Daley Moss asked.

"Would you still have feelings for someone who said they'd love you forever but just stood by when you were in trouble?"

Amber Mitchell asked.

If she did have feelings for him, they would only be hatred and disgust.

Daley Moss pondered for a while before saying, "You marrying my eldest brother is just a ceremony. No law recognizes that kind of relationship. If you ever meet someone worthy of your love and want to get married again, the Moss family won't stop you."

"I won't-" Amber Mitchell eagerly tried to guarantee.

However, Daley Moss interrupted her, "Listen, I won't get mad if you want to get married again. I think my eldest brother would be able to rest in peace seeing you take things this far for him. It's just that... When you get married again, that person mustn't be George Gregory!"

Chapter 2559

2/4

Daley Moss added his conditions, "If you marry anyone else, the Moss family will give you dowry so you can marry with honor. I, Daley Moss, will always treat you as my sister-in-law. But if you choose to marry George Gregory, everything you did today will only turn the Moss family and my eldest brother into a joke! You'll make yourself an enemy of the Moss family!"

Amber Mitchell said with a stern expression, "Okay, I got it. But I don't think that will ever happen."

As far as she was concerned, no one would love her more than Herman. She was never going to love anyone else!

A few days later, the Gregory family announced that George Gregory was divorcing Louise Mitchell. They also announced that Simon and Louise Mitchell were not mother and son.

After all, Simon was George Gregory's biological son.

Therefore, there was a lot of fuss in the media. All sorts of speculations were made. What they were most curious about was who Simon's biological mother was.

However, the Gregory family did not announce the name of Simon's biological mother.

Chapter 2559

3/4

Kyla and Grace, who were in Emerald City, naturally read the news and learned about it.

Kyla had been discharged from the hospital, but her daughter was still being treated in the neonatal department as she was born prematurely. Hence, she would come over every day to see her.

Though she could only look through the transparent glass, she was happy to see the little one getting better day by day.

"I can arrange a driver to pick you up if you want to visit your daughter every day," said Grace.

"It's convenient for me to take a taxi, and the doctor said Trista can be discharged in two weeks. I won't have to come to the hospital every day by then," said Kyla.

"How are you recovering?" Grace asked with concern.

"Pretty good. Look, I can walk on my own now. My indicators are also fine when I had my follow-up check-up." Kyla could not help saying emotionally, "I didn't think I was going to make it. I asked the doctor how my liver is doing and he said it's fine."

Grace's eyes glimmered slightly at that. 'It's fine because... Martin Weiss donated his liver to Kyla again, but Kyla has no idea about this!"

Chapter 2559

4/4

"Kyla, have you... ever contacted Martin Weiss again?" Grace could not help asking.

Kyla shook her head. "We're no longer in touch, and I've moved out of his apartment. I guess that's it for us. This is good. He won't be sad in case anything happens to me."

Chapter 2560

1/4

"But..." Grace almost blurted out about Martin Weiss's liver donation. However, she said nothing when she recalled that Kyla's body was still recovering, Trista was still in the incubator, and Grace was afraid of Kyla having intense mood swings.

She would tell Kyla the truth later.

"No buts. I'm afraid you're about to suffer again in this pregnancy," said Kyla.

Grace said, "My suffering is nothing compared to yours. After all, the threat to my life is minimal." At most, she would lose her uterus. "But I'm willing to suffer for the baby."

"Yeah, for the baby..." Kyla said emotionally.

Maybe only mothers could understand their love for their children. "Just like Amber Mitchell... Simon is her child and is currently sick. It seems that only Amber Mitchell's blood can save the child. I think she'll do anything to save him."

Even though the child did not grow up with Amber Mitchell, blood ties were not something you could cut.

Chapter 2560

2/4

Grace nodded in agreement at that. She was surprised for a long time after hearing about this on the phone with Amber

Mitchell.

However, what surprised her more was... Amber Mitchell had chosen to marry Herman Moss.

After all, Herman Moss died so many years ago, yet Amber Mitchell chose to become Herman Moss's widow. Could Amber Mitchell ever be happy?

Would she immerse herself in the past for the rest of her life?

When Grace left the hospital and returned to Reed Residence, she found Jason in the room lulling their two children to sleep.

Mick and Jasper were lying side by side. They were covered with a thin blanket, and they hugged each other as they fell asleep. It was a beautiful sight.

"You're back," said Jason as he sat up and looked at Grace.

"Yeah." She nodded. "I stopped by the hospital with Kyla to see Trista when I went to see her today."

"How's Trista?" Jason asked.

Grace said, "She's doing okay. She can be discharged in two weeks if everything goes well. Speaking of which, I almost told

Chapter 2560

3/4

Kyla about Martin Weiss's liver donation, but I was afraid she would get intense mood swings. I thought I'd wait until Trista is discharged."

Jason said, "Suit yourself. You can decide how you want to handle it. Did you throw up when you were outside today?"

"I feel better now," said Grace as she looked down at her belly. "Maybe the baby feels bad for me and wants me to throw up less."

Sorry flickered in Jason's eyes. If the baby threatened her life, he would not hesitate to abandon the baby to save the mother.

Even if she would resent and blame him for it, he would still do it!

He did not want to lose her for anything or anyone!

Even if it... was their baby and their flesh and blood!

"If this baby feels bad for you, they should keep you safe," said Jason.

Grace burst into laughter. "Alright, it's not that dangerous.

Besides, I have the most authoritative obstetricians and gynecologists in Emerald City to take care of my pregnancy.

I'm not so worried now. As for Amber Mitchell..."
