

Ex Convict 3141

Chapter 3141

Brian's gaze darkened as he looked at Valda, who was unusually silent. His lips almost formed a straight line.

When Valda and Brian entered the apartment, Valda turned on the lights and was about to go back to the bedroom to change out of her dress. Suddenly, Brian grabbed her wrist and said, "Valda..."

"Hmm?" Valda turned her head and looked at Brian. "Can you loosen your grip first? I...I want to go change my clothes. If you have something to say, wait until I change my clothes."

"So... shall I help you change it?"

"No, no!" Her face suddenly turned red, and she avoided his gaze. "I can change by myself..."

She spoke while twisting her wrist again, trying to pull her hand out of his fingers.

But he actually tightened his grip instead.

"Brian, let go!" she whispered softly.

Let go?!

Why would he dare to let go? He's afraid that if he does, she'll just run away again!

Brian suddenly pulled Valda into his arms and said, "Valda, please don't change your mind!"

"Regret?" Valda was confused and didn't understand what he meant by this.

Brian buried his head in Valda's shoulder and held her tighter. "Don't regret what happened today. Don't refuse to marry me. I know... I can't guarantee that similar things won't happen in the future, but Valda, I will do everything I can to protect you. No matter how much ridicule or pain we face in the future, I will stand in front of you. So, don't regret it, don't give up on me, okay?"

Valda was stunned. She never expected that Brian's "don't regret it" meant this.

He was afraid that she would regret it and cancel their marriage agreement, wasn't he?

His embrace was so tight, but it carried a tremble.

That was... his fear.

Suddenly, a wave of guilt surged in Valda's heart. It was her who made him afraid. He was such a brave person, but he was afraid because of her.

Her hands slowly hugged his waist. "Brian, I won't regret it. I've said it before. I want to marry you, I want to be Mrs. Hart, I want to have children with you, and I will always be with you. So how could I give up on you?"

His body trembled, then he looked up at her. "Really?"

"Yes, really." She nodded and said, "Before I went there today, I was mentally prepared, so I wasn't greatly affected. Of course, it was a bit embarrassing, but I will digest it myself and won't dwell on it."

"Why did you pull your hand away when I kissed the back of it earlier, and why didn't you talk much on the way here?" he asked. It was because of this that he became even more anxious, afraid that she might give up on him just like that.

"Because..." She bit her lip slightly and blushed for a while before saying, "Because I felt a little embarrassed. When you kissed the back of my hand, I felt like my body got warmer, and then... I pulled my hand back. In the car... you didn't say anything, and I also felt a little embarrassed to speak up."

He was stunned, "I'm sorry?" Her answer completely caught him off guard.

"Mhm." She nodded and said, "So... it's really not what you think."

He breathed a sigh of relief at this moment, "It's good that it's not the case. But from now on, you can't have any thoughts of wanting to divorce or give up on me, okay?"

Chapter 3142

She chuckled, realizing only now that he seemed to be thinking even more than she was.

"Okay, I understand. I will never regret divorcing you and I won't give up on you!" she said. Finally, she added, "Never, for all eternity!"

He was taken aback. The look on his face, which had been somewhat nervous and worried, suddenly turned into shock, and then into a gentle expression like water. "For eternity, are you really willing?"

“Why won’t you?” She looked at him and said, “Brian, do you know how much I like you and love you? While you are afraid, I am also anxious. Before, I was afraid that you wouldn’t like me. Later, I was afraid that the person you love the most is still Grace. And now, I am also afraid that in the future, there will be conflicts between us, or that your love for me will eventually be worn down by reality. I am afraid that I won’t be able to fit into your world...”

She murmured, “Brian, you’re not the only one who’s afraid. I am too. But even so, I still want to be with you and work hard to be able to stay with you. So when you ask me not to give up on you, I also hope that you won’t give up on me. No matter what happens in the future, please don’t easily give up on me.”

Brian lowered his head and gently kissed her lips, saying “Never in a million years!”

Bending down, he carried her into the bedroom. “Valda, I love you. You are the one I love the most in this world!”

Valda’s eyes turned red, but her lips revealed a brilliant smile. This was her man, the man she would love for the rest of her life. “In this world, I love you the most!”

She spoke and then wrapped her arms around his neck, taking the initiative to kiss him on the lips.

One night, it is so beautiful.

When Valda woke up the next day and saw Brian lying next to her, she felt a deep sense of happiness in her heart.

The man she loved the most was lying right beside her, and as soon as she opened her eyes, the first person she saw was him! Valda couldn’t help but sigh again as she looked at the handsome face in front of her. He was indeed very attractive, no wonder so many women were pursuing him relentlessly.

Apart from his identity as a prince in the entertainment industry, his face should also play a big role.

His skin care is excellent, and his bone structure and skin texture are almost perfect. When viewed from the side, his nose bridge appears even more straight and his long black eyelashes make her envious.

If she had his eyelashes, she probably wouldn't need mascara.

She couldn't help but reach out her hand and gently touched his eyelashes, then exclaimed again that her future husband is an "eyelash spirit".

At this moment, his eyelashes trembled slightly, and then his phoenix eyes slowly opened.

Chapter 3143

She quickly withdrew her hand, as if feeling guilty.

"What's wrong?" He looked at her.

"It's...nothing." She said with a guilty conscience, feeling embarrassed to admit that she had been playing with his eyelashes while he was asleep.

However, her nervous laughter and guilty appearance only made him more suspicious.

"What's wrong?" he stared at her.

She was sweating profusely and could only say helplessly,

"Well...I just played with your eyelashes while you were asleep."

He raised an eyebrow slightly.

She quickly added, "I really just played around a little bit, just touched and gestured with my hands, measured the length, and didn't do anything else."

He chuckled, finding her eager explanation quite adorable.

“It doesn’t matter even if you did something,” he said as he lifted his hand and embraced her, pulling her into his arms. “Valda, everything I have is yours. Whatever you want to do to me is okay!”

Her face suddenly turned red. His words were too easy to be misunderstood!

“It’s time to wake up. If you don’t get up now, you’ll be late for work!” she said, blushing.

“It’s okay even if I’m late, no one dares to deduct my salary,” he said, burying his face in her neck, smelling her scent, feeling her warmth, reluctant to get up like this.

Before, he thought that the idea of “henceforth the king will not attend morning court” was absurd.

But now, he has a deeper understanding. If she were his partner, he wouldn’t want to go to work early every day. Instead, he would want to stay in bed with her for a longer time.

“Valda, say you love me,” Brian’s gentle and longing voice came from her neck.

Valda paused for a moment, then smiled and said, “I love you, Brian.”

“Say it again.”

“I love you, I love you, I love you...” she repeated over and over again.

Love him, without a doubt. After experiencing so much, it only made her think more clearly about her love for him.

Brian looked up and fixed his gaze on the person in front of him.

“Valda, you are the person I will love and never let go for the rest of my life.”

As his voice trailed off, he kissed her lips... Everything was so sweet.

Tracy has been banned, and all of her endorsements, programs, and contracts have been terminated.

This matter has caused a lot of discussion online. After all, Tracy was previously known for her wealthy and beautiful image.

Suddenly, all of her work has come to a halt and her entertainment career has been banned, which naturally leads to various speculations from others.

“What’s going on with Tracy? Has she really been banned?”

“Isn’t her family pretty wealthy? She got all those resources. through her family! Who could ban her?”

“There are rumors that it was the prince who ordered the ban.”

“Why would the prince ban Tracy? They didn’t have any relationship before! Or did Tracy do something to anger the prince?”

People kept speculating, even Camille called her friend to ask,

“Did your husband really ban Tracy?”

“Maybe,” Valda hesitated.

“Maybe?”

“I just heard about this gossip today and haven’t asked him yet. But Tracy and I have some grievances.” Valda said.

“What grievances?” Camille’s gossip heart was ignited again.

So Valda briefly told Camille about the incident at the film festival where Tracy and her friends had caused trouble.

After listening, Camille gritted her teeth and said, “Brian did the right thing by banning Tracy. People like her should be banned, otherwise they’ll keep causing trouble.”

Valda was amused by her friend’s words.

“By doing this, Brian has put my mind at ease. He is truly protecting you well,” Camille said. “Now that Tracy has been banned, those who want to make things difficult for you will see it as a warning. If they ever want to cause trouble for you again, they will think twice.”

Chapter 3144

However, Valda and Camille initially thought that Brian ending Tracy’s career would be the end of the matter. But a few days later, they realized that it might have only been the beginning.

Next, the Barlow family encountered trouble as the Barlow Group was investigated for tax evasion. At the same time, an employee came forward with evidence that the company was selling subpar products under false pretenses. The employee made their report using their real name and provided a significant amount of evidence to support their claims.

Suddenly, the Barlow family was completely overwhelmed and became the target of criticism from many netizens online. Even Tracy’s ban was applauded by many people!

Some of Tracy’s fans want to say a few words to support their idol, but when they speak up, they often face a lot of criticism and attacks from others. As a result, they become hesitant to say anything at all.

At this moment, in the Barlow family, the elderly Mr. Barlow was looking at his daughter with anger on his face. “Why did you offend Brian? Don’t you know what kind of person he is? In Emerald City, if you offend him, you will suffer the consequences. Now, not only are you ruining yourself, but you also plan to ruin the entire Barlow family?”

Tracy has already dropped the pretense of being overly friendly with Valda. She says with a hint of sadness, “I...I didn’t offend Brian. I just didn’t like his fiancée.”

“That’s Brian’s fiancée. Do you have a problem with her?” said the old Mr. Barlow angrily.

“Dad, that woman looks average and she even has a limp. Why did Brian choose someone like her? I...I just wanted to get close to Brian and at least not let that woman take his fiancée’s place!”

Upon hearing this, the old Mr. Barlow became even more furious and trembled with anger. “Don’t you know how hard Brian worked to find his fiancée in the past year? You embarrassed him like this!

If Brian only cared about a woman's appearance, there are so many female stars in the entertainment industry he could choose from. His side would have been full of people by now!"

"Okay, Tracy, don't think too much about it! You shouldn't talk about your daughter like that. Now, we should think about how to get through this difficult situation," said Mrs. Shen.

The old Mr. Barlow thought for a moment. "Since the root of this matter is on Brian's fiancée, we can only go find her now! Quickly apologize to her and see if we can make amends."

"Apologize?" Tracy looked incredulous. "Dad, do you want me to apologize to that cripple?"

"You caused this matter. Shouldn't you try to make things right? If the Barlow family falls, do you think you can still live like this? By then, everyone can step on our heads!" said the old Mr. Barlow unkindly.

Tracy could only bite her lip reluctantly upon hearing this.

Apologize?!

The reason why Brian blacklisted her and dealt with the Barlow family must have been instigated by that woman!

And to think that they still wanted her to apologize, Tracy felt very nauseous at the thought!

But unfortunately, she has no choice but to go.

The next day, Tracy arrived at the neighborhood where Valda was located.

After all, it's not very difficult to find out this address.

However, she didn't go in immediately. Instead, she waited for Valda to come out.

Although her father said she should apologize, she was free to choose how to apologize in her own way.

Anyway, she has a way to make Valda forgive her, and then Brian will naturally have to give up targeting the Barlow family.

Chapter 3145

At that moment, Tracy finally saw a figure walking out of the residential area.

Tracy quickly got off the car and took out her phone to start her live broadcast. With a pitiful expression on her face, she said, “Today, I want to apologize to someone and hope that person can forgive me. Please wish me success, everyone...”

In front of the camera, Tracy looked sad and helpless as she continued, “I know I made a mistake, and I regret it deeply. I hope this apology can make things right and show that I am truly sorry.”

As she spoke, Tracy’s eyes filled with tears, and her voice trembled with emotion. “I want to take responsibility for my actions and make amends. I hope that person can see how sincere I am and give me a chance to make things right.”

With a deep breath, Tracy concluded her broadcast, “Thank you all for your support and encouragement. I will do my best to make things right and learn from my mistakes.”

After saying the prepared words, Tracy got off the car and quickly caught up with Valda, saying “Miss Theller, please wait a moment!”

Valda turned around and her expression froze when she saw Tracy. She was completely caught off guard by Tracy’s sudden appearance in front of her.

“Miss Theller, I came here today to apologize to you.” Tracy said while pointing her phone’s camera at Valda, clearly wanting the audience in her live stream to have a better view of Valda’s face.

Valda instinctively avoids the other person’s gaze and says, “I don’t think there’s anything to say between us, is there?”

“How could there not be? At the film festival the other day, Miss Theller, you accidentally fell and I didn’t help you up in time. I’m truly sorry, it wasn’t intentional. I didn’t know you had difficulty with your legs. I really hope you can forgive me, Miss Theller. I don’t want my true passion to end like this. Please forgive me!”

Tracy was in tears as she spoke, crying uncontrollably and shedding tears as if they were free.

In the live stream room, those netizens who were originally mocking her began to gossip and became curious about Valda’s identity. After all, Tracy’s words implied that this apology was related to her entertainment career.

Some netizens also said, “Is it true that someone’s entertainment career can be ruined just because they fell down and no one helped them up? It sounds like a fantasy to me.”

“Wow, what’s this woman’s identity? She doesn’t look like a rich and beautiful person at all! Does she have some kind of hidden background?”

Tracy’s fans are frantically sending gifts in her live stream and shouting, “Don’t cry, Tracy!”

“My family’s Tracy is so wronged. Is it fair for her to be banned just because she doesn’t know how to do it?”

“They haven’t done anything wrong, yet they have to beg for forgiveness from others. How pitiful!”

Tracy is performing in front of the camera. Yes, she is using public opinion to pressure Valda into compliance and get through the current crisis first.

Moreover, as long as she can control the public opinion, this can even become a bargaining chip for her and Brian in negotiations.

If Brian can help the Barlow family get out of this crisis, she can naturally clear Valda’s name later.

Valda may not have realized all the complexities in Tracy’s mind at that moment, but one thing she was certain of was that Tracy had ill intentions towards her.

So, she looked directly at Tracy and said, "Miss Barlow, I didn't accidentally fall. Your companion deliberately tripped me. As for you not helping me up in time, no one in this world has to help me up just because I fell. But it seems like you intentionally prevented me from getting up."

Tracy's eyes were filled with tears as she said, "Miss Theller, how could I possibly have intentionally prevented you from getting up? Before that day, I didn't even know you."

Chapter 3146

"Why you deliberately prevented me from getting up, that's something you have to answer," Valda said. "If you truly came to apologize, then there's no need to livestream it, or even point the camera at me without my permission. Or perhaps, are you trying to use public opinion to make me agree to something?"

Tracy was taken aback, Valda was even more composed than she had imagined!

Some of the viewers in the live broadcast room are starting to realize that Tracy is trying to use them as a weapon!

"Miss Theller, I... I apologize in the live broadcast. I just want more people to witness my sincerity. I truly apologize, and you don't have to forgive me, Miss Theller. I know that when you make a mistake, you have to bear the consequences. I just hope that Miss Theller can be the bigger person..."

Tracy said timidly, as if she was a poor victim.

Valda looked at the acting in front of her and felt disgusted.

"Miss Barlow, if you want to act, I won't accompany you!" Valda said, then turned and left, ignoring Tracy crying behind her.

Not long after, Valda received a message from Camille, "Valda, you're trending. You need to talk to Brian. Many people online are saying that Tracy was banned because of you."

Valda was confused for a moment, but then realized that it was probably because of Tracy's recent live broadcast that caused the trend.

“Okay, I understand,” Valda said, and just then, Brian called.

Valda ended the call with her friend and answered Brian’s call.

“Valda, don’t pay attention to what’s being said online. I’ll take care of it,” Brian said.

She hasn’t even looked at it yet!

After Camille’s phone call just now, Valda has a general idea of what people are saying online.

“Are they discussing Tracy’s ban online because of me?” Valda asked.

Brian hesitated for a moment before answering with a “yes”. “TH handle it, trust me!” he quickly added.

“I believe you,” said Valda. “But Brian, you also have to believe

1. I’m not as fragile as you think. Even if I see the comments from online users or face attacks, I can handle it.”

Because of being with him, she was destined to not be able to become an invisible person. In that case, she might as well face it openly!

Brian hesitated for a moment on the other end of the phone and then said, “Valda, you are really stronger than I imagined.”

Valda smiled and said, “In the future, I will become even stronger!”

After the phone call ended, Valda took out her phone and looked at the comments from online users.

Camille previously mentioned her trending topic, which has now disappeared. However, related content can still be found through a search.

There are criticisms directed towards her in some of the content.

Some people have even openly claimed online that she is Brian’s fiancée and that Brian banned Tracy because of her.

Some people online have shifted from attacking her to attacking Brian and the Hart family.

Valda's face became increasingly unpleasant as she read those comments.

She doesn't mind when those netizens attack her, but she does mind when they attack Brian.

She doesn't want Brian to suffer any humiliation because of her!

She... also wants to protect Brian!

Chapter 3147

When Brian returned, he saw Valda looking at her phone with a serious expression. "What's wrong? What are you looking at?"

"It's nothing, just browsing casually," Valda said, turning off her phone and setting it aside.

But Brian picked up his phone and turned on the screen.

Suddenly, the webpage that Valda had been browsing appeared before his eyes.

This is about the Tracy incident, and there are various comments attacking both him and Valda.

"I was careless and gave the Barlow family a chance to retaliate.

The public opinion may not be easily suppressed for a while, but I will settle this matter within three days. For now, you can come and stay at my place for a few days to avoid any inconvenience caused by someone breaking in here."

Valda considered for a moment, nodded and said, "Okay, I'll stay at your place for now. Let me pack my things."

"I'll pack for you." He gently pushed her onto the chair. "I know exactly what you need to bring, so if there's anything I missed, just remind me."

She suddenly didn't know what to say.

Only those who truly understand each other can confidently say these words.

As Valda watched Brian pack her things, she felt a sweet sensation in her heart. Her previous bad mood caused by reading negative comments seemed to have improved a bit.

She thought that as long as he was by her side, she could face any difficulty.

When she saw Brian open one of the drawers, her face turned red in an instant. She quickly rushed to the drawer and pulled his hand away, blocking the way to the drawer. "It's okay, I'll tidy it up myself."

Brian raised his eyebrows slightly, "It's no problem for me to help you tidy up."

"No, I...I can do it myself," she stuttered, her face turning bright red.

He looked at her flushed cheeks, "What, are you feeling shy?"

Of course she was feeling shy! She muttered to herself in her mind, all of her underwear was in this drawer. If she let him tidy up, wouldn't that mean he would see all of them...

Now, she pursed her lips and remained silent.

Brian looked at Valda and felt that her current appearance was extremely cute, which suddenly gave him an impulse.

He slowly leaned down and kissed her cheek gently.

The tender kiss made Valda stunned for a moment and she couldn't react.

"What's wrong?" he whispered.

"Why did you...suddenly kiss me?" she asked nervously.

"I couldn't help but kiss you because I find you very cute," he whispered, his voice husky with desire.

"Valda, do you know how cute you are in my eyes?"

Her face immediately turned even redder. Oh my, it felt like he was getting better and better at sweet-talking her. Every time he spoke, she couldn't help but feel her heart skip a beat.

"I...I've organized my things. Don't...don't look yet," she hesitated for a moment before blurting out these words. Then she turned around and began staring at the drawer behind her.

I'm afraid that if I keep looking at him like this, her face will turn so red that blood will start oozing out.

Chapter 3148

Just then, a pair of arms wrapped around her from behind, and she felt his hot breath on her ear.

"Valda, just one year, I'll wait for only one year. After that, I want you to become my rightful wife! By then, you can't use any excuses to delay it anymore."

Valda lowered her head and looked at her hands that were wrapped around her. A smile curved her lips as she said, "Okay, one year. I will definitely marry you after one year!"

Marry him, have children together, and live happily ever after.

When Brian finished packing up Valda's things and was ready to leave, there were indeed many reporters gathered outside Valda's apartment.

Fortunately, Brian was prepared beforehand and had a large group of bodyguards to keep the reporters at bay. Valda was able to get into the car safely without incident.

She was just filmed getting on the car with a limp, and then it was uploaded online.

So, the news that the Crown Prince's fiancée is actually a cripple has exploded on the internet!

"Oh my god, how could the prince find someone with a lame leg!"

"Does the prince have any particular preferences?"

"Could it be that the Crown Prince has been caught with some kind of handle?"

"Did this woman threaten the Crown Prince? Otherwise, why would it be difficult for the Crown Prince to find a suitable woman? Is it necessary to look for a woman like this?"

Online, there are all kinds of opinions.

At this moment, Tracy is gleefully looking at these derogatory comments about Valda.

The more negative comments there are about Valda, the happier Tracy becomes.

Valda has caused her so much trouble, now Tracy wants to make Valda suffer too!

Besides, the more Valda suffers, the more leverage Tracy has.

If Brian really wants to clear Valda's name, Tracy is the best person to help her! As long as she reconciles with Valda and says a few words on her behalf, the online attention will naturally shift.

Thinking about this, Tracy feels even more proud of her plan.

But Tracy's mother, Mrs. Barlow, is not as optimistic as her daughter. "Tracy, you underestimate the Hart family and Brian.

Do you really think you can control Brian with this kind of public opinion?"

"Dad, I'm not trying to control him. I just want to apologize to his fiancée online. As for the rest, it's not my problem. I can't control what the netizens say. Anyway, if Brian really loves his fiancée, he should come to me to clear her name," Tracy confidently replied.

However, Mr. Barlow finds his daughter's idea ridiculous. If it were that easy to manipulate him, the Hart family wouldn't be sitting at the top of the entertainment industry.

He regrets spoiling his daughter too much in the past, making her think the world is so simple.

"Tracy, you will regret everything you've done today," Mr. Barlow said. His mood has been like a roller coaster these past few days.

He thought his daughter would apologize to Valda properly, but instead, she caused this incident. He could almost see the downfall of the Barlow family.

Perhaps the only thing he could do now was to tidy up everything and prepare an escape route for his family.

“Regret? Why should I regret?! Dad, soon the Barlow family will be just like before. As for me, Brian might even give me more good resources!” Tracy shamelessly declared.

After a day of fermenting online, the situation had escalated even further!

Chapter 3149

And when Valda found out that the stock price of Hart Group had fallen the next day, she fell silent.

She never expected that this would cause a drop in the stock price.

“Don’t worry, fluctuations in stock prices are normal. You don’t really believe that there are stocks that only go up and never go down, do you?” Brian comforted.

“I certainly know that stock prices fluctuate, but now that the stock price is falling, it’s because...”

“You, don’t take all the responsibility on yourself,” said Brian.

“Believe me, if I said I can settle this matter in three days, then I can definitely do it.”

“Mmm, I believe you,” she replied, but after this time, there will still be a next time.

If we can’t completely dispel all these rumors and gossip this time, then we’re just postponing the issue and it may resurface again someday in the future.

She doesn’t want to be just the protected one, she also wants to protect the people she loves!

“Brian, there should be surveillance footage at my exhibition that day,” Valda suddenly said.

Brian squinted his eyes slightly and asked, “What’s wrong?”

“So when I fell down and Tracy and her friends prevented me from getting up, there should have been surveillance footage of it,” she said. “If we can retrieve that footage, then some of the rumors will naturally be debunked.”

“Even if I don’t release this video, it doesn’t matter. I will suppress these rumors!” Brian said. In fact, he had obtained the video on the second day of the incident.

In the video, Valda is being harassed by someone. Even though her face is blurry and her expressions cannot be seen, he doesn’t want to expose her embarrassed appearance to the public just to clear up a lie.

That lie, he has the ability to suppress it!

“But even though it’s been suppressed this time, who knows what might happen next time? This issue might be brought up again,” said Valda. “There’s nothing more powerful than that video surveillance, and Tracy probably thinks that we won’t make public, which is why she dared to do this.”

Brian pursed his lips slightly and said, “But if it were made public, you might feel more...”

“Are you being laughed at?” Valda asked, “I’ve already prepared myself mentally, I’m not afraid. Perhaps I’ll face even more ridicule in the future. If I can’t handle it now, how will I be able to live my life in the future?”

Her determined gaze finally eased the tension in his heart that had been tight all along.

“Are you really sure you want to do this?” he asked softly, reassuring her that he would support whatever decision she made.

“Okay, I’ve decided,” said Valda.

The next day, Valda went live online, which surprised many onlookers.

“Oh my god, she’s actually live streaming?”

“Are you really Brian’s fiancée?”

“Goodness, she’s so ugly. How did she become the prince’s fiancée?”

“You’re a scheming woman. Tracy didn’t help you up, so you let Brian ban her. Disgusting!”

Chapter 3150

“How did someone like her become Brian’s fiancée?”

“Is the prince blind?”

The live stream was filled with speculation and insults, but Valda remained calm and introduced herself, “I’m Valda, and I’m also Brian’s fiancée. As for how Brian fell for me, that’s between him and me. I’ve always believed that love isn’t about being chosen, but about falling in love.”

In addition, due to some personal matters, I have been using public resources for a while, and I feel very sorry about it.

Regarding the unrealistic comments about Tracy and Miss Barlow, I have explained before, but it seems that many people do not believe my explanation. Therefore, today, I plan to play a video so that everyone can have a clearer understanding of what happened at that time.

Valda played the video footage of the party surveillance on the live broadcast without hesitation.

After playing at normal speed once, they began to play some targeted details.

Now everyone can clearly see that on that day, Valda fell down and was prevented from getting up by someone.

However, although there is a video, it cannot prove whether Valda fell on her own or was tripped by someone.

After all, on that day, both she and the other person were wearing long dresses, and the distance of the surveillance camera was far, so it’s normal that she couldn’t see clearly.

Most netizens have stopped attacking and insulting Valda in the live broadcast room.

However, there are still a few netizens who shout, “If you fall, you fall. Who says someone has to help you up?”

“Yeah, helping you is a matter of kindness, but not helping is also a duty. You’re trying to morally blackmail me!”

“Moral hypocrite, did you get angry just because someone didn’t help you up?”

Looking at these comments, Valda replied, “First of all, I have to say that I fell because they tripped me. Secondly, in the surveillance video that I released, it is very clear that every time I tried to get up, they stopped me. There was even one person who stepped on my hand. Before you criticize me, shouldn’t you ask Tracy how many lies she has told?”

“Who knows if they accidentally stepped on you! You tend to be more accident-prone because of your limp. If you weren’t limping, you wouldn’t have fallen!”

“I think that you have done a lot of bad things, that’s why God made you limp! Tsk tsk, it’s true that you reap what you sow!”

In the live stream room, someone appeared with a rhythm.

Despite such remarks, Valda was already mentally prepared for them.

But when faced with the real situation, the heart keeps sinking.

Her leg is lame...it’s her pain.

Especially for someone who used to be healthy, able to run and jump, everything seemed so natural and taken for granted. But when suddenly one day they become lame, they realize that what used to be effortless is now not so easy anymore!

This kind of pain is difficult for others to understand!