

Ex Convict 3281

Chapter 3281

1/4

On the weekend, Lawrence and Jasper finished their piano lessons and returned to the Reed House. Jasper was thinking about the new piece he learned that day and asked Lawrence, "The teacher said you played it very well. Can you play it again for me?"

"Okay." Lawrence obediently nodded his head. For him, playing the piano for her was actually the happiest thing.

At this moment, he feels useful because she likes his music!

Lawrence put down his backpack and sat in front of the piano. He lifted his hands and began to play on the piano.

His fingers moved nimbly across the keys, producing a continuous stream of notes from his fingertips.

Jasper was deeply engrossed in listening. Although it was a new piece he had just learned, he played it smoothly. One would have to listen carefully to detect the slight imperfections in his playing.

As the teacher said, Lawrence has made significant progress.

In the past, she always found it difficult to find someone her age who was at a similar level to her. The feeling of not having a worthy opponent always left her feeling a bit disappointed.

Chapter 3281

2/4

Even though she participated in some piano competitions and met some peers who played very well, their piano sounds did not give her the urge to keep listening.

However, Lawrence's music would not be like this.

As Jasper was thoroughly enjoying the music, Lawrence suddenly stumbled in his playing. The music continued, but it was no longer as smooth as before, and there were even a few mistakes in the notes.

Jasper furrowed his brows involuntarily, his eyes filled with confusion. Could it be that he played the wrong notes because of the new song?

Just then, her face suddenly changed.

On Lawrence's face, there was a look of pain, as if he was trying to endure something.

"What's wrong with you?" Jasper quickly approached and asked.

"I...it's nothing," Lawrence replied, suppressing the pain and continuing to play. He had made a mistake in his playing because he had been distracted by their conversation.

Jasper noticed Lawrence's discomfort and quickly grabbed him, asking, "What's wrong? Where do you feel uncomfortable?"

Chapter 3281

3/4

The sound of the piano abruptly stopped, and his right hand was trembling uncontrollably. She was startled and immediately held his right hand.

He tightly bit his lip, preventing the pain from screaming out of his mouth.

"Is your hand hurting?" Jasper asked, carefully examining Lawrence's right hand. It was still trembling and there was a slight swelling around the wrist when he touched it.

After a while, Lawrence spoke with some difficulty, "It's...it's okay.

I'm just a little bit sore, it'll be fine soon." As he spoke, he seemed to want to prove that he wasn't in too much pain and that he could still play the piano. He also wanted to put his hands back on the piano keys.

Jasper was quickly grabbed, but his right hand was accidentally clenched.

A cry of pain suddenly burst from his mouth.

"Oh, I'm sorry!" She quickly apologized, "Does it hurt a lot?"

"No, just a little bit painful..." he said.

"I'll tell the butler and take you to the hospital," Jasper said. At the moment, her parents were not at home, so she first looked for the butler.

Chapter 3282

"I...I don't need to go to the hospital. I just need to rest for a while," Lawrence quickly said. "Earlier, did I play badly? If I rest for a bit, I can play well again without making mistakes."

"Your hands are like this, how can you play? Of course, you need to go to the hospital right away," she said.

"But..."

"Lawrence, hands are very important. If there is any problem with your hands, you won't be able to play beautiful music. So, listen to me and go to the hospital to have a doctor check your hands."

Jasper called for the butler and together they accompanied Lawrence to the hospital.

After examining, the doctor concluded that playing the piano too much has caused some damage to the ligaments in the wrist joint, and it is necessary to rest properly for a few days.

"Even if you enjoy playing the piano, you must also know when to stop, especially since you are still young. It's important to be careful because if you develop any health problems now, it will be difficult to recover fully when you grow up," the doctor advised Lawrence with a serious tone.

Chapter 3282

Lawrence asked anxiously, "How long until I can play the piano again?"

2/4

"At least take a break for two weeks first. After two weeks, come back for a follow-up to check on your recovery," said the doctor.

Half a month? "Can't it be any shorter?"

The doctor was amused by his bargaining behavior, "It's only half a month, it will pass quickly. Doing this will help you play the piano better in the future."

But if that's the case, he won't be able to practice the piano during this time and won't be able to see Jasper. Also, when he can practice the piano again, will he become unfamiliar with it and regress?

One worry after another, swirling around Lawrence's mind.

On the way back, Lawrence said to Jasper, "I'm sorry."

"Why are you saying sorry?" Jasper asked strangely in response.

"I... If I can't practice the piano, then... then I won't be able to play it for you, even though we had agreed that I would play it for you. often," he stammered.

"After you've healed, you can play for me often," Jasper said. "I should be the one apologizing for not noticing your injury. The doctor said your hand must have been hurting for a while now."

Chapter 3282

3/4

Jasper's expression turned serious as he spoke, and he addressed Lawrence with great sincerity, saying, "Lawrence, I'm sorry! If I had been more attentive to you, I would have noticed your hand was hurting earlier!" He looked at her in a daze, never expecting her to apologize to him.

"In the future, you must take good care of your hands because they are the hands of a pianist, very important, very important!" said Jasper.

"Pianist?" he murmured, never having thought of becoming one himself. He played the piano because he enjoyed it, and now he played it because he wanted to play for her.

Because she truly enjoys listening to him play the piano.

"Jasper said, 'The teacher said that if you continue to study hard, you will definitely become a great pianist in the future.'"

"So, will you also become a pianist?" Lawrence asked.

Jasper blinked his eyes and said, "I'm not sure. I really enjoy playing the piano, but I don't like performing like a pianist. What I love the most is playing the piano for someone I care about to listen to."

Lawrence's heart stirred at these words.

Chapter 3282

4/4

"That... um, when you play the piano, do you... sometimes play for me? And, um, do you maybe... like me a little bit?" He stumbled over his words, blushing and looking like he couldn't quite get the whole sentence out.

Finally, Jasper took the initiative to say, "Yeah, I like you, so I also like playing the piano for you to listen to."

She spoke openly and honestly, without any attempt to conceal anything.

His heart warmed up as he knew that she played the piano for many people she was close to, and she liked those people, especially Mr. Barlow.

She enjoys playing the piano for Mr. Barlow the most, so it seems that he is her favorite.

However, he was also among the people she “liked”, and that made him very happy! For him, this was a great satisfaction.

1/3

Jasper brought Lawrence back to the Abbott family. The Abbott family was naturally very surprised. When Jasper mentioned Lawrence’s injury and that he wouldn’t be able to practice the piano for half a month, the Abbott couple’s expressions immediately changed.

However, immediately after, Wilona quickly added, “We will definitely take good care of Lawrence and help his hand recover as soon as possible!”

After Jasper left, Wilona immediately frowned and turned to her son. “How did you manage to hurt your hand while playing the piano? If your piano skills decline, Jasper might not want you anymore!”

“Yes, you should know that our family is relying entirely on the Reed family now. If you don’t pull yourself together, Jasper won’t value you in the future. Do you think we’ll still have such good days?” Doran also scolded his son.

Lawrence kept his head down and listened to his parents scolding him without saying a word.

He knew that the only thing he could rely on now was the piano, and he was more aware of this than anyone else.

2/3

Lawrence hasn't been going to piano lessons for a while, but Jasper still calls from time to time to ask how Lawrence's hands are doing and if they still hurt.

This made him feel quite happy.

Soon, it will be Christmas time again. Every year during Christmas, the school will decorate and many classmates will exchange Christmas gifts with each other.

In previous years, no one gave him Christmas gifts. But this year, even before Christmas, many classmates have already asked him what kind of Christmas gifts he likes. Obviously, as long as he speaks up, the other party will find a way to give him the gift.

He knew that they didn't really want to give him the gift, but it was because his family had now become associated with the Reed family. These classmates, or rather their parents behind them, wanted to please him.

But...actually, these people don't understand the real situation at all.

So when others asked him, he always said he didn't want anything in particular.

On Monday, while he was at school, a classmate suddenly ran up to him and asked, "Lawrence, aren't you good friends with Jasper from the Reed family? Then why didn't she bring you along when she went to the amusement park?"

3/3

"So, are you guys really good friends or not?" someone asked.

"Amusement park?" Lawrence paused for a moment.

"Yeah, I saw it online!"

Although only in third grade, many children have their own phones or are allowed to use their parents' phones for a certain amount of time each day. As a result, they may come across news online, especially news that their parents may bring up and discuss with them.

"My parents also mentioned this! Lawrence, why didn't they bring you along to play?"

Chapter 3284

"That amusement park is really fun. My parents took me there to play before!"

“Is it that they don’t want to bring you along?”

Definitely, Jasper and her two brothers were playing with another boy who was very handsome. I also really wanted to play with that boy.

“My mom said that the boy seems to be the young master of a wealthy family...”

The words and comments from Lawrence’s classmates only made him feel more embarrassed.

Did Jasper go to the amusement park? So, the boy who went with her is... Mr. Barlow?

After coming back home from school, Lawrence asked his father to borrow his phone, saying that he wanted to watch some cartoons. However, once he got hold of the phone, he started searching online for information about the Reed family and the amusement park instead.

Sure enough, after a short while, I saw some gossip news related to it, with accompanying photos.

Chapter 3284

2/4

In the photo, the main focus is on the Reed family. It includes Jasper and her two brothers. I have seen both of her brothers before, and although they don’t look much like Jasper, I can easily recognize them.

Apart from her two brothers, there is also a little boy who catches the eye in the photo.

That is... Mr. Barlow, William!

In those photos, there are several pictures of Jasper and William playing and eating together. Jasper is smiling happily, while William’s gaze is always fixed on her.

That kind of gaze made Lawrence feel a sense of unease that he couldn’t quite explain.

At that moment, he didn’t yet understand the fear that comes with encountering a strong competitor.

He simply felt that Jasper and William in the photo were like people from two different worlds to him.

That is a world he cannot fit into.

He was staring absentmindedly when suddenly the door to his house was pushed open with force. Immediately after, he saw his mother had returned.

Chapter 3284

At this moment, Wilona is in a disheveled state with a bruised and swollen face and messy hair, clearly having been beaten by someone.

3/4

Doran and Lawrence, father and son, were immediately surprised when they saw this.

Doran quickly stepped forward to support his wife, who was about to lose her balance. "What's going on? Why are you like this? Did someone hit you? I'll call the police right away!"

He was about to take out his phone as he spoke, but Wilona quickly stopped him and said, "You can't call the police. I... I gambled with some people and lost money. They're pressuring me to pay it back. If I call the police... they'll kill me!"

"What?" Doran exclaimed, "How much money do you owe someone?"

"It's about 500,000." said Wilona.

"500,000?!"

Doran stumbled in disbelief at the sight of his wife. She had gambled away 500,000 yuan, which was more than five times their annual income of just over 100,000 yuan. How could she have racked up such a huge debt?

"How could you gamble and lose so much money?" he shouted angrily.

Chapter 3284

4/4

"This is nothing, just 500,000 yuan, which we can earn back soon," Wilona said nonchalantly.

"Even if the Reed family gives us new jobs now, our annual income is only a little over 200,000 yuan. Even if we don't eat or drink, it will still take us more than two years to pay off this debt!" Doran said irritably.

"Don't worry, I will pay off this debt myself," Wilona said. As long as they still had the support of the Reed family, she could pay off this debt.

Chapter 3285

She was beaten today because those people were getting impatient. She would think of a way to get the money back!

Thinking of this, Wilona glanced at her son and said, "After you recover from your injuries, try to get on Jasper's good side. You need to work hard to please her. As long as she's happy, all our problems will be solved! Maybe she'll even give you money if she's happy enough!"

"I don't want to please Jasper just for money," Lawrence said, biting his lip.

"What did you say?" Wilona was angry. She was already upset from being beaten today, and now her son was defying her, making her even more furious.

"I don't want to please Jasper just for money," Lawrence repeated.

Wilona slapped him directly, and Lawrence's little face immediately swelled up on one side.

1/3

"Do you want our whole family to accompany you to the grave? If you can't stay by Jasper's side properly, then we'll all be left out in the cold! Listen carefully, no matter what, you cannot let Jasper be dissatisfied with you, understand?"

Chapter 3285

Lawrence felt a burning sensation on his cheeks.

2/3

Actually, he also wants to win Jasper's favor, hoping that Jasper will like him more and that he can always stay by Jasper's side.

But he doesn't want these things, he's only in it for the money.

Although he is still young, he knows that money is very important, but... if he were to only please Jasper for the sake of money, he would feel like something would be destroyed.

On the other side, William was waiting in Jasper's room and handed him a gift, saying "This is a Christmas present. I won't be able to come on the day itself since I'll be in Deer Capital, so I'm giving it to you in advance."

Jasper opened the gift and saw a beautiful doll dressed in fancy clothes with hair accessories.

Although she is still young, she has spent several years with the Reed family and has seen many valuable jewelry pieces with her parents. Therefore, she can recognize that the gems embedded in the dress and the diamonds on the hair accessories of this doll are all real.

"This doll is very pretty, but it must be expensive," said Jasper.

"Okay," said William. "Don't you like it?"

"I like it, but... Mom said I can't accept very expensive gifts from others," Jasper said.

"But... I'm not someone else, aren't we really good friends?"

Besides, I bought this gift with my own pocket money. I just thought it looked really nice, so I wanted to give it to you," said William.

Jasper thought for a moment after hearing this and seemed to find it somewhat reasonable. As a result, a happy smile appeared on his face again.

William breathed a sigh of relief and felt happy seeing her smiling so happily.

"By the way, I have prepared your Christmas gift, so I'll give it to you in advance," Jasper said, walking over to a nearby glass cabinet. He opened the cabinet, revealing a row of neatly arranged boxes of various sizes.

Each box has been packed and at the knot of the box's string, there is a paper tag hanging with the name of the recipient written on it.

Jasper took out a box and handed it to William. "This is my gift for you, but it's not as valuable as yours."

Chapter 3286

William took it and said, "I really like all of your gifts."

"Would you like to open and take a look?" Jasper asked with a smile.

"Wait until we get back to Deer Capital before opening them slowly," he said, looking at the pile of gifts she had prepared. He then noticed a card with the name Lawrence written on it.

William hesitated for a moment and asked, "Are you also going to give a gift to Lawrence?"

"Of course, he's my friend!" said Jasper naturally.

William's expression dimmed slightly as he knew that the people who receive gifts from her on Christmas are the ones she considers important.

Are there not many people who receive gifts from her as a friend, besides her family? But now, is Lawrence one of them?

"Jasper, you have many friends, but... can you promise me that I am your most important friend?" William spoke up.

Jasper looked at the other person with a hint of confusion in his eyes, wondering what was going on.

My Gorgeous Wife is an Ex-Convict!

1/4

Chapter 3286

William took it and said, "I really like all of your gifts."

"Would you like to open and take a look?" Jasper asked with a smile.

"Wait until we get back to Deer Capital before opening them slowly," he said, looking at the pile of gifts she had prepared. He then noticed a card with the name Lawrence written on it.

William hesitated for a moment and asked, "Are you also going to give a gift to Lawrence?"

"Of course, he's my friend!" said Jasper naturally.

William's expression dimmed slightly as he knew that the people who receive gifts from her on Christmas are the ones she considers important.

Are there not many people who receive gifts from her as a friend, besides her family? But now, is Lawrence one of them?

“Jasper, you have many friends, but... can you promise me that I am your most important friend?” William spoke up.

Jasper looked at the other person with a hint of confusion in his eyes, wondering what was going on.

Chapter 3286

2/4

William’s heart sank a little. “What’s wrong? Is it because of my request? I...I just...”

As soon as he finished speaking, she interrupted and said,

“William, your words are strange. Of course, you are my most important friend!”

Upon hearing this, William was stunned, and the nervousness he had been feeling suddenly disappeared.

He suddenly raised his hand and hugged the other person. “Yes, I said something strange. Jasper is also the most important person to me...” The last few words of his sentence were muffled in his mouth.

To him, she has always been more than just his best friend, she is the most important person to him! More important than his dad, his grandparents, or anyone else!

Everything he is doing now is for the future when he can stand by her side and truly be with her.

“Jasper, I will work very hard, very hard... to become someone who deserves her, instead of being known as the son of a criminal by others!”

On Christmas Day, Jasper went to look for Lawrence after school.

As soon as Lawrence left the school gate, he was stopped by the driver of the Reed family and was taken to the car where Jasper was sitting.

Chapter 3286

3/4

“You...how did you come here?” Lawrence said in surprise.

“Today is Christmas, and I got you a gift,” Jasper said with a smile. Suddenly, his smile faded and he leaned in close to the person’s cheek, furrowing his brow and asking, “Why do you have a bruise on your face?”

Lawrence suddenly looked embarrassed, he had been... beaten by his mother.

Although it’s not as popular as it was at the beginning, there are still some traces left.

“It...it was me accidentally hitting the door frame. It...it will be better in a few days,” he stuttered, telling a lie in front of her, making him feel extremely guilty.

“I see. Well, be careful when you walk from now on,” Jasper cautioned. He then took out his own gift, put on a smile again, and handed the gift over to him.

Lawrence looked at the gift in his hand with a slight surprise. The gift was wrapped nicely, even the wrapping paper on the outside was very beautiful.

“Well... but I didn’t prepare your gift,” he suddenly felt embarrassed. Actually... he did prepare it. He was still thinking about how to give her the gift.

4/4

Chapter 3286

But now, seeing her with such a beautifully wrapped gift, he suddenly felt a bit embarrassed to present his own gift.

My own gift seems too shabby compared to it.

Chapter 3287

“Let’s do it next time, how about you give me a gift for Christmas next year?" said Jasper.

Lawrence hesitated, unsure whether to agree or not.

Jasper grabbed his hand and said, "So it's settled then, we pinky promise to exchange Christmas gifts next year!"

As she spoke, she hooked her pinky finger with the other person's pinky finger and began to interlock them!

Lawrence looked at his pinky finger intertwined with the other person's, feeling a bit unsure but also experiencing a happiness that he couldn't quite explain even to himself.

This Christmas is also the first Christmas for Valda and Brian after their marriage. Especially now that Valda is pregnant with a baby, it can be said that this is a Christmas for the family of three.

Brian had also prepared carefully and took Valda to a restaurant she usually likes. After finishing their meal, Valda wanted to take a walk around the area. After all, she hasn't had many opportunities to go out lately, except for her prenatal check-ups. Besides, it was Christmas Day, and the streets were quite lively.

"Okay," Brian replied.

Chapter 3287

Anyway, he would agree to any of her requests.

2/4

The two of them strolled along the road, and the Christmas atmosphere on the street was strong. Along the way, they could see many couples walking hand in hand. Many shops were also holding events, and the staff were dressed in Santa Claus costumes.

At that moment, Valda noticed someone wearing a Santa Claus outfit. Unlike other store employees who were handing out flyers or giving small gifts to passersby, this person seemed to be performing alone.

This performance is like a silent pantomime that relies on body language to tell a story.

The person was wearing a Christmas hat and had a fake beard on his face, so it was difficult to see his real appearance. However, Valda found the pantomime performed by the man quite interesting. On the street, the pantomime performed by men doesn't seem to interest many people. Even those who stop to watch for a while eventually leave. Only Valda and Brian approached, and they kept staring. Valda asked Brian, "What do you think of his performance?"

Chapter 3287

3/4

"Not bad, you have a foundation in performance, you should be someone who makes a living in this field," Brian said with a hint of surprise.

"Are you saying that he is an actor?" Valda exclaimed in surprise.

"It should be, and he should have been in the industry for a few years," said Brian. After all, he is a big shot in this circle and has seen many actors, so he naturally has some insight.

As they were speaking, the performance of Santa Claus ended. People were passing by, but no one stopped to watch. Just as Santa Claus was feeling disappointed, suddenly, there was applause.

He looked up towards the sound and saw a woman clapping her hands, with a tall man standing beside her. The man looked familiar.

"Is that man also from the entertainment industry?" The man playing Santa Claus thought to himself at the moment.

"Great performance," Valda stepped forward and said, "Your performance was very interesting. Thank you for showing me such a wonderful performance on Christmas."

"Do you really...think it's good?" the other person murmured.

Chapter 3288

"Well, I've been watching you for a while now. Are you an actor?" Valda asked.

The man remained silent for a moment before nodding and saying, "Yes, I am an actor."

Valda said, "I hope that one day you can achieve your own dreams. The hardest thing in this world is perseverance." She could see the disappointment in the other person's eyes.

This reminded her of when she first decided to pursue a career as a professional comic artist. She was once full of confidence and ambition, but also experienced setbacks. Therefore, she wanted to encourage the other person.

Moreover, she genuinely found the other person's performance interesting. It's just that because it was a holiday today, many people didn't pay attention to it.

"Thank you," the other person said, then suddenly raised their hand and took off their hat, removing the white beard attached to their face.

Suddenly, a handsome face with well-defined features appeared before Valda's eyes.

Chapter 3288

2/4

Valda blinked and recognized the person – it was Kering! She remembered Lina mentioning this actor when they were playing cards together.

She debuted at 18 and is only 22 now. Recently, she has become very popular due to the success of her TV drama. It is said that her access to film and TV resources has increased significantly.

Last time, Lina mentioned about going to the film and television city together to chase after stars in the future! However, unexpectedly, Kering has now appeared right in front of her.

Just as Valda was surprised, several cameras suddenly rushed out from the side, along with a person holding a microphone, and several others who appeared to be staff members.

The person holding the microphone said, "Congratulations, you have become the lucky guests of our show 'Dreams Fulfilled' and will receive a gift from our production team. Do you have anything to say?"

Valda blinked her eyes, feeling a bit dazed, while Brian furrowed his brow slightly.

"What's going on? Lucky guest?" Valda asked her husband, turning her head to look at him for a while.

"Program teams may use special methods to engage passersby in interactive activities," said Brian.

Chapter 3288

3/4

"So..." Valda looked at Kering again. Was his street performance earlier also part of the show?

Kering said, "Thank you for your encouragement earlier. I'm also happy to announce that you've become the lucky guest of the show. Apart from the gifts prepared by the production team, I would like to invite you and your family and friends to my movie premiere in a few days."

Kering sincerely extends an invitation, which is not part of the original program schedule, but rather a personal invitation from him.

He has always been confident in his acting skills, believing that among his peers, he is very talented and can even compare to those veteran actors. Many directors have praised his quick learning ability, especially in the past year where he has been able to nail his performances in one take.

In addition, with increasing popularity and a growing fan base, everyone seems to be praising his acting skills, causing him to become conceited and believe that he is truly a great actor.

However, just now, when he was performing on the street while covering his true face, no one paid attention. At that moment, he suddenly felt that perhaps in the past, others paid more attention to his face than his acting skills.

The only person who truly stopped to watch his performance and encouraged him to persevere was the woman in front of him.

Chapter 3288

4/4

He was truly grateful to the other person for saying that his performance was interesting when his confidence was about to crumble.

Chapter 3289

At this moment, the people around also noticed this scene, and someone recognized Kering. They immediately shouted, "It's Kering, it's him!"

And upon hearing this, others gathered around one after another, with many young women even letting out screams.

"Oh my god, no way, Kering is actually here? Wow, I didn't even notice just now!"

"I regret it so much. I should have looked at this Santa Claus more!”

“Who would have thought that Kering would play Santa Claus!”

“Just now, Kering said he wanted to invite this woman to the movie premiere!”

“Is that woman pregnant? And is the man next to her her husband?” Some people began to notice Valda. Although she is already six months pregnant, she is naturally thin and wearing a loose coat, so her belly is not very noticeable.

At this moment, the program staff are stopping the passersby from getting too close, to prevent them from being too enthusiastic about chasing stars.

Chapter 3289

The bodyguards who have been following Brian also stepped forward to protect Brian and Valda from being squeezed by the crowd.

2/4

A cameraman who was filming suddenly frowned, and then, as if he had thought of something, exclaimed, “He...he...he is...”

The host noticed the cameraman’s strange behavior and asked, “What’s wrong?”

“He is the Crown Prince!” the cameraman whispered.

The Crown Prince?!

The rest of the production team were taken aback. In their minds, there was usually only one person who could be referred to as the “young master”, and that was the lord of the Hart family!

Suddenly, everyone’s gaze turned towards Brian in unison, and they compared the face in front of them to the photos they had seen online.

Next, the expressions on the faces of the other people also changed slightly.

And the surrounding passersby, upon hearing the three words “young master”, seemed to have realized something.

Someone shouted, “It’s Brian! Oh my god, I didn’t expect the prince to be interviewed by the production team!”

Chapter 3289

3/4

“Intentional, right? The production team intentionally invited the prince to do a street interview!”

“How could it be intentional? Can the production team afford to invite a prince? The prince has never appeared on this type of variety show before! If the production team really could invite a prince, wouldn’t there be any news online?”

More people started taking out their phones and filming the scene. After all, it’s not every day that you get to see a popular young actor and a prince and his wife in the same frame! To make things even more interesting, the prince and his wife were interviewed by the program crew on the street! It was quite a sight to see!

Kering looked at the couple in front of him with surprise on his face.

He originally thought the person was just an ordinary passerby, but he didn’t expect that they were actually the prince and princess.

Although he is also a celebrity in the entertainment industry, he has never seen the prince with his own eyes. Moreover, it is nighttime now, and the lighting on the road is not as bright as during the day, so he didn’t recognize him for a moment.

“Oh, so you are Mr. Hart and Mrs. Hart. Hello!” Kering quickly said.

Chapter 3289

“Hello,” said Valda. “My friend really enjoyed the TV series you aired recently. Would you mind if I bring my friend along to the premiere?”

Chapter 3290

“Of course, that’s great!” Kering quickly said.

Brian looked around and saw that there were too many people, so he said, “Let’s go back. It’s not safe here with so many people.”

“Mhmm,” Valda responded.

The driver had already pulled the car up to the side of the street, while the bodyguard cleared the crowd. Only then did Valda and Brian get into the car.

Even though they got on the car, people kept taking pictures from behind.

After filming the scene where Valda and Brian left, the production team temporarily stopped shooting.

The staff looked at Kering with envy as this rising star unexpectedly met the prince and princess. If he’s lucky, he might climb a few more steps in this industry.

In the car, Valda exclaimed, “I didn’t expect it to be Kering. Too bad Lina isn’t here, she seems to be quite interested in Kering.”

“So Hadwin is probably just glad that Lina isn’t here,” said Brian.

Chapter 3290

2/4

Valda couldn’t help but laugh when she heard it. It does seem that way!

“Are you planning to take Lina with you to the premiere of that person’s movie?” Brian asked.

“Not just Lina, but also Grace, Camille, Kyla, and Amber,” Valda counted on her fingers while asking.

Brian watched as Valda counted on her fingers and mentioned so many names, but she didn’t mention his name at all.

“Are you not taking me with you?” Brian asked.

“Hmm?” Valda blinked in surprise and looked at the other person. “You’re going too? But I thought you weren’t interested in art films.”

After all, the movie that Kering is going to release this time is an art film.

“Shouldn’t a husband accompany his wife to watch a movie? Or is it that you prefer your friends to accompany you instead of your husband?” Brian asked.

Right now, his face is very close to hers, and his warm breath is spraying on her ear, making her feel a tingling sensation in her ear.

“Where...where is it?” she said.

"Okay, then on that day, I'll accompany you as well," he concluded.

Suddenly, Valda let out a cry of "Ah!" Brian immediately became nervous and asked, "What's wrong?"

"Babe...the baby is kicking me," said Valda. She is now 6 months pregnant and can clearly feel the fetal movements.

Brian lifted his hand and placed his palm on Valda's belly, feeling the movements of the baby inside.

"It seems like a lively child," said Brian.

This statement is not wrong. Since Valda felt the fetal movement, she has been able to feel it several times a day, indicating that the baby is quite active.

"Did you misbehave when you were a child?" Valda asked curiously.

"Before the age of three, I don't remember anything. You'll have to ask my parents about that. But since I have memories after the age of three, I don't think I was mischievous."

She guessed that his "not mischievous" meant that she was actually very mischievous.

"I wonder whose personality this child will have in the future," Valda muttered.

"Hopefully like you," Brian said.

For him, it would be best to have a mini Valda. It would feel great.

Valda thought about herself. Before her parents passed away, she was quite mischievous and was scolded by her parents often, or had to eat bamboo shoots and shredded pork.

But later, her parents' sudden death made her grow up overnight. She was no longer mischievous, but more silent.

Actually, if possible, it would be very happy to continue being mischievous under the care of her parents.

"Then the child will look like you and have my personality, how about that?" Valda said, thinking for a moment before adding, "Of course, the intelligence should be like yours too!"

He was a top student. If the child had his intelligence, it would be as easy as eating cabbage to study in the future. How great!

Brian smiled and said, "Okay, whatever you say."
