

Ex Convict 3391

Chapter 3391

Four hours later, when the surgery was over, Samir walked out of the operating room and Brian and Valda rushed up to him almost immediately.

“Doctor Quentin, how is Harley doing?” Valda asked with a trembling voice.

“There’s no problem. We’ve taken care of the head bruising. She should wake up within 24 hours,” Lornell said.

Brian and Valda both breathed a sigh of relief, but Valda seemed to lose all her strength. If Brian hadn’t been there to support her, she might have collapsed on the ground.

Brian looked at Samir and said, “Thank you. The Hart family will remember this favor from Doctor Quentin.”

“No need. I did it for the Quentin family. Your daughter will marry into the Quentin family in the future. The Quentin family will send the engagement letter to the Hart family in a few days,” Samir said, then walked straight to Lornell. “I saved the person you wanted me to save, but the words you said cannot be taken lightly. No matter how old you are, if you want to engage with Harley, you can’t just back out.”

Lornell pursed his lips and stared at his father. “I won’t back out!”

2/3

“Okay, I’m going back now. You go back to the hospital and rest,”

Samir said.

“I’ll stay here for a while and then go back,” Lornell said.

Samir didn’t say anything and left with his team.

The communication between father and son was unsatisfactory.

Lornell watched as Harley was wheeled out of surgery, and then watched as the Hart family followed their daughter all the way back to the ICU ward. They anxiously peered through the glass wall at Harley lying inside. Suddenly, Lornell felt a strange emotion welling up in his chest.

A bit...envious!

I envy Harley for being loved by her parents in such a way.

No wonder when the two of them were trapped together in the rubble of the explosion, she firmly believed that her mom and dad would come to rescue her.

Because... it seems to be true!

And he, along with his parents, only cares about whether the Quentin family has an heir or not!

Lornell glanced at Harley in the ICU room again. Since her father said she would wake up within 24 hours, she must be able to wake up.

Chapter 3391

He and this little guy will probably meet frequently in the future.

I wonder what expression the little one will have when he finds out about his engagement with her?!

Wait a minute, little one, do you understand what a betrothal is? Lornell suddenly thought of this question and after a moment, he said to his subordinate next to him, "Let's go back to the hospital, I want to sleep."

"Yes, young master!" The subordinate responded and pushed the wheelchair towards the elevator.

Chapter 3392

1/4

The next day, when everyone came to the hospital to visit

Harley, they learned from Brian and Valda that the head of the Quentin family, Samir, had come to perform surgery on Harley in the middle of the night. The faces of the people were filled with surprise.

"How did Samir come over here?" Jason asked. He had heard of Samir before, but he wasn't sure about his medical skills.

After all, sometimes people exaggerate, and in Samir's case, he has never really made a name for himself in the medical field. Not many people know him, and his surgical videos have never been leaked.

Speaking of this, Brian's expression seemed a bit helpless. "Harley and Lornell Quentin from the Quentin family are engaged, so Samir is willing to take action."

"Engagement?" Grace widened her eyes, while Kyla almost choked on her saliva. As for Martin, despite his usual seriousness and calm demeanor, he also showed clear surprise at the moment.

"Last night, Chandler brought Lornell to the hospital. While Lornell was calling the Quentin family to ask for their help in saving Harley, she mentioned that she was engaged to Harley in order to persuade them." Brian briefly recounted what happened in the middle of the night.

Jason nodded in agreement upon hearing this. "That makes sense. If Harley is a member of the Quentin family, then the Quentin family will surely come to his rescue."

"Is Harley okay now? Will he wake up?" Grace asked urgently.

2/4

"Samir said he will wake up within 24 hours after the surgery," said Brian.

"Great!" Kyla exclaimed with tears of joy. The families have always had a close relationship, and Harley is lively and adorable. Kyla almost sees Harley as another daughter.

After learning that Harley was unconscious and unresponsive, she has been extremely worried and scared these past few days.

She is afraid that something serious might happen to Harley.

And now, there is finally some good news!

The women present all had tears in their eyes.

On the Stephenson family's side, they learned from Chandler that Samir performed a life-saving surgery on Harley. Lina was so happy that she exclaimed, "We, the Quentin family, are capable! Harley is saved now."

Hadwin said, "It seems like the Quentin family that he mentioned has no relation to your Quentin family."

Chapter 3392

3/4

"Anyway, we all have the surname Quentin! Chandler didn't say that Lornell's child is engaged to Harley? So our relationship will be even closer in the future!" said Lina.

Hadwin thought that if Lornell and Harley ended up together in the future, it would bring their families closer, especially the relationship between Lornell's family and the Quentin family.

"Did Harley and Lornell really get engaged?" asked 8-year-old Tina to Chandler.

"Uh-huh," Chandler responded.

"Are they just like us?" Tina blinked her eyes and asked.

Chandler lowered his eyelids slightly and after a moment said,

"Yes, just like us."

Tina suddenly smiled brightly and said, "That's great! In the future, if Harley doesn't have anyone to play with, she can find Lornell to play with. And she can ask Lornell to buy her food, help her with crafts, and tell her stories..."

Tina has started to count on her fingers, helping Harley calculate the benefits of having one more fiancé.

Chandler raised an eyebrow, Lornell is doing these?

Chapter 3392

It's really hard to imagine him!

4/4

On this day, almost all the people who had a good relationship with Brian and Valda gathered in the ICU ward, waiting for Harley to wake up.

Although Samir previously said that the child would wake up within 24 hours.

But after all, they haven't really woken up yet. Only when they truly wake up can we feel at ease.

Chapter 3393

As time passed by second by second, finally, when Harley slowly opened her eyes in the ICU ward, the people waiting outside were overjoyed.

"She's awake, she's awake! That's great, she finally woke up!" someone exclaimed excitedly.

Valda couldn't stop her tears from falling, her daughter had finally woken up! God knows how afraid she was that her daughter would never wake up again.

At this moment, even Brian's eyes were filled with tears.

Although Harley had woken up, she had only just woken up and fell asleep again after a moment of awakening.

After the attending physician examined Harley, he finally announced that the little one was out of danger.

This finally lifted the heavy stone in everyone's hearts.

The people then left one after another, agreeing to visit the little one again when her condition improved.

Outside the ICU ward, it also became quiet.

Chapter 3393

Valda sat on a chair, leaning against her husband's shoulder, quietly watching her daughter through the glass wall.

These days, she has looked at her daughter countless times through this glass wall, but her mood has already changed completely.

“Brian, Harley has finally woken up,” murmured Valda.

“Yeah, she’ll recover and before long, she’ll be just like she was before,” said Brian.

2/4

“Will she blame me? I didn’t protect her well, but I also let her have another engagement. She’s so young that she probably doesn’t even understand what an engagement means,” murmured Valda.

Marriage, in fact, also means being tied down, especially for the Quentin family of the Crypt families. If they really want to refuse the marriage in the future, it won’t be that simple!

However, in that situation, she was unable to say no at all.

Moreover, Lornell proposed the engagement to save Harley. If it weren’t for this engagement, why would the Quentin family have intervened?

Contradiction...

“I don’t know,” Brian said. “Harley won’t blame you. She’s always been cheerful and optimistic. Besides, I think Lornell is a good kid.

Chapter 3393

3/4

At least he genuinely wants to save Harley. Maybe the future of these two kids will be bright.”

“Hopefully...” murmured Valda, unable to resist closing her eyes.

These days, she has been too tired, and at this moment, the big stone in her heart has finally fallen, allowing her to truly relax.

In just a moment, Valda had already fallen asleep leaning on Brian’s shoulder.

Brian turned his head slightly and looked down at his wife beside him. He said softly, “Valda, don’t worry. No matter what happens to our child in the future, I will protect you and our child. Even if something unfortunate happens, I will do my best to turn things around.”

He will do everything in his power to protect his family.

When Lornell came to see Harley again, he was still being observed in the ICU, but he had been awake for quite some time.

Because of the limit on the number of people allowed in the ICU ward, and also because Lornell, despite being engaged to Harley, is not considered a family member in legal terms.

So he could only watch from the outside.

Chapter 3394

Valda and Brian were inside with Harley, who had just woken up. The couple had tender expressions on their faces as they talked to their daughter, with smiles on their faces.

And although the little one can only lie down and cannot even make any movements, he/she listens particularly attentively.

Suddenly, Lornell felt an indescribable feeling. It was as if he also wanted to go in, say something to her, touch her face and hands, and tell her his name!

Would she be happy if she knew?

When Lornell finally came face to face with Harley, it was already 10 days after Harley had been transferred back to a regular hospital room.

Harley at the moment has bandages wrapped around his head, and his complexion appears somewhat pale and not rosy. He is also wearing a hospital gown, and overall looks a bit sickly.

However, his bright and lively phoenix eyes are still full of grace.

Looking at this Harley, Lornell began to reminisce about the old days when she used to fight. She was so spirited back then, even though her fighting style was completely chaotic and disorganized. It was actually quite entertaining.

Chapter 3394

“Do you want to know my name? I can choose not to tell you,” Lornell said, raising her small chin.

2/4

“But Mommy and Daddy already told me!” the little one blinked, “They said your name is Lornell, right? But I don’t know how to write those three characters yet. I can only write my own name for now. But my name has a lot of strokes. Does your name have fewer strokes?”

Lornell was surprised when, as he was about to tell the other person his name, they asked him whether his name had more or fewer strokes.

“Not many,” he said, his little face tightening.

Her face immediately showed disappointment. “My mommy said that when I get better, I have to learn to write your name because you’re my lifesaver.”

“Lifesaver?” He was confused.

“Yes, my mommy said that you begged your dad to save me, so you and your dad are my lifesavers. Do you know what a lifesaver is? It’s someone who saves someone else’s life and needs to be thanked properly...”

Lornell suddenly realized that even though this little one was injured, lying in bed, and sick, she still talked as much as before.

Chapter 3394

3/4

“Lornell brother, thank you! You’re my great benefactor!” The little one’s face lit up with a brilliant smile as she spoke to him.

He looked at her smile and couldn’t help but stare.

Her smile was actually very beautiful, and he seemed to still like watching her smile.

“I’m not your brother, I’m your fiancé.” Lornell still felt it necessary to correct her and let the little one understand her current identity.

Harley blinked. “What’s a fiancé?” For a 3-year-old like her, this term was a bit beyond her understanding.

Lornell thought for a moment and said, “Just like Chandler and Tina.”

Harley started to think about it. She had heard from her sister Tina that when Tina grows up, she will marry Chandler, just like how mommy married daddy. They will live happily together and have babies.

So, are she and this brother Lornell going to live together in the future and have a baby?

“But why are you my fiancé?” she asked, puzzled.

“Because if I wasn’t your fiancé, my family wouldn’t have saved you, and you would have died,” he said very bluntly.

Chapter 3394

4/4

After all, don’t expect a 7-year-old child to speak in a very tactful way to a 3-year-old child.

Chapter 3395

Harley listened with a confused expression and asked, “So, in the future, will you treat me as well as Chandler treats Tina?”

Lornell was taken aback and thought of Chandler’s behavior towards Tina. Suddenly, he felt a sense of unease and realized that his engagement to this little guy might not be a good thing after all.

“In the future, when I get into a fight, will you help me fight?” The little one’s clear black and white eyes looked at Lornell with a sharp and focused gaze.

She remembers how skilled he was during the fight on her birthday.

Lornell’s mouth twitched. Is fighting the only thing this guy can think of?

“I won’t.” He refused directly, he didn’t want to help this little kid fight!

Her expression immediately turned into a deep disappointment. “Why are you different from Chandler? If it were Chandler, he would definitely help Sister Tina fight!”

“Why should I be like him?” Lornell said irritably.

apter 3395

“But aren’t you all fiancés?” Harley asked.

2/4

In one sentence, Lornell was so choked that he didn't know how to refute it for a moment.

"From now on, if you help me fight, I will give you delicious food and let you play with my toys. I have a lot of fun toys!" She began to propose a conditional exchange, thinking she was clever, and luring him, "I have many toys that my dad says are limited edition and not sold outside!"

However, Lornell doesn't find these things appealing at all.

How could a 3-year-old girl possibly like this toy? She already has so many toys of her own.

However, her expression amused him and he thought it might be fun to play with her. It seemed like it wouldn't be too boring to spend time with her.

"If anyone bullies you in the future, I'll help you fight back," he reluctantly promised.

She immediately laughed and said, "Then you can't go back on your word, let's pinky promise!"

"..." He once again had the urge to roll his eyes, forget it! He didn't want to do such a childish action!

Chapter 3395

3/4

When she was lying in the hospital bed, she reached out her small hand and looked at him with hopeful eyes. He couldn't help but reach out his hand and hooked his finger with hers.

"Pull the hook and hang on, unchanging for a hundred years," her childish voice rang out.

Immature! He thought to himself, but he didn't actually say it out loud.

At this moment, he himself doesn't really understand why he has to go along with her actions.

And this feeling, will he only be able to understand it when he grows up?!

During Harley's hospitalization, many people came to visit him from time to time.

After learning about Harley and Lornell's engagement, everyone had a strange expression on their faces.

Some people who don't know that Lornell is the heir of the Crypt families don't really feel anything, but they think it's a bit too early for the Hart family to arrange a betrothal for their child when they are so young.

Those who knew Lornell's true identity were surprised in their own way.

Chapter 3395

4/4

When Jasmine came to see Harley, she cried a lot. Despite being only 3 years old and still wearing bandages on her head, Harley ended up comforting Jasmine who was a few years older than her.

Chapter 3396

“Jasmine, I’m fine. Mom said as long as I stay in the hospital and take my medicine every day, I’ll be able to leave soon!” said Harley.

“Really... can I be discharged soon?” Jasmine said with teary eyes.

“Exactly, very fast!” said Harley.

“So... when will your hair grow longer?” Jasmine furrowed her brows again with two small lines.

Talking about her hair, Harley is also quite sad. Her mom said that because she had surgery on her head, her hair had to be shaved off. She’ll have to wait for some time before her hair can grow back again. She really liked her braids and had many pretty hair accessories, but now they are all useless.

“Wait for me to be discharged from the hospital,” said Harley gloomily.

“Did you really get engaged to someone?” Jasmine thought of this question.

Chapter 3396

“Right,” nodded Harley, bobbing her little head.

2/4

“So... will he help you fight in the future?” Jasmine asked again, showing that they often hang out together and think alike.

“Sure, he and I made a deal. If anyone bullies me, he’ll help me fight!” said Harley.

Jasmine looked enviously and said, “That’s great. I also want to get engaged to someone so that I have someone to fight for me.”

Jason raised an eyebrow as he watched his little daughter, who is only six years old, accompany him to the hospital to visit Harley.

This child already wants to have a fiancé?

“Shall I help you find one after that?” Harley said.

Even though Jason is known for his strong composure, he couldn't help but feel a bit bewildered after hearing this.

“Okay,” Jasmine nodded.

And so, the two children hooked their pinkies together and made a promise that Harley would help Jasmine find her future husband.

Jason was left speechless!

After leaving the hospital, Jason held his daughter's hand and asked, “If Jasmine wants a future husband, how about Daddy helps you find one? No matter what kind of person you like, Daddy can find him for you.”

Chapter 3396

Whatever his daughter wants, he will do his best to make it happen.

3/4

No matter what kind of guy his daughter likes, he will help her get him.

But Jasmine shook her head and said, “No, Harley promised me that he will help me find one.”

Jason, who is usually so strong, suddenly felt like he was going to vomit blood. His own daughter didn't trust him, her own father, and instead trusted a three-year-old child who is even younger than her? “Do you really think she can find someone you like?”

“Yes!” Jasmine said with unwavering trust. “Harley always keeps his promises, and we even hooked our pinkies together.”

Jason was speechless. He just waited for Harley to find a suitable partner for their daughter in the future. When Jasmine grows up, she will understand the meaning of “once bitten, twice shy“!

As for Tina and Chandler visiting Harley at the hospital, Tina specifically told Harley about the things a fiancé should do for his fiancée.

Harley listened with wide eyes, as if a new world had opened up to her.

Chapter 3396

4/4

“Is having a fiancé really that great?” Apparently, a fiancé can not only help with fighting, but also play with her, buy things for her, give her pocket money, and even help with homework.

Although Harley doesn’t have homework yet, she will soon be going to kindergarten where there will be homework and lots of crafts.

It turns out that a fiancé can also do these things for her!

Harley suddenly felt that having a fiancé was a very good thing.

Chapter 3397

At this time, Lornell was also in the hospital room. When he heard what Tina said to Harley, he looked up at Chandler and asked, “Did you do all these things?”

“Yes, I did,” Chandler admitted straightforwardly.

“Yeah, Chandler did it too!” Tina chimed in.

Lornell stared at Chandler and asked, “You’re doing something so boring?”

“Fortunately, it’s not that boring,” said Chandler.

How is it possible to not be bored? Accompanying to play, buying things, and even helping with homework, there’s no fun at all! Usually, many people ask him to play, but he’s too lazy to play with others!

Let alone helping others with their homework, he has never done anything like this before!

Moreover, no one dares to ask him for help with homework when he’s around!

So, Lornell turned to Harley and said, “I’ll tell you, I never intended to do it this way.”

Chapter 3397

“But you’re my fiancé,” Harley blinked in confusion.

“So what?” Anyway, he won’t do such a stupid thing!

2/4

At this moment, Chandler has undoubtedly become synonymous with idiocy in his eyes.

“But isn’t that what fiancés are supposed to do?” Harley asked.

“Who said that! If the fiancé wants to do such a boring thing, then what should the fiancée do?” said Lornell. Although he usually has a mature and calm demeanor beyond his age, he is still a 7-year-old child at heart.

Especially, he didn’t even realize that his emotions could easily be stirred up by Harley.

He asked this way, and Harley turned to look at Tina. “Yeah, what is the fiancée going to do?”

Tina giggled and said, “It’s just about eating, playing, and when facing difficulties, you should tell your fiancé. You can’t keep secrets and must be honest and polite with your fiancé. It’s important to be united and friendly.”

Harley listened carefully, then tapped her fingers and compared herself to Lornell. She looked at him seriously and said, “I can do it, I can be a great fiancée.”

Chapter 3397

3/4

Lornell has black lines all over his head, but he doesn’t feel like she’s doing anything at all. It’s like she’s not doing anything!

He is the one who has to do everything!

So, Lornell glared at Chandler with dissatisfaction and asked,

“Does your fiancée usually do these things?”

“Uh, it’s about right,” said Chandler.

“How could you tolerate that?” Lornell was somewhat incredulous. In his impression of Chandler before, he was someone who didn’t like to meddle in other people’s business and was also arrogant.

Although he knew early on that Chandler was engaged, he never expected that the relationship between Chandler and Tina would turn out like this.

I'm afraid that if he tells his friends from other Crypt families, no one will believe him.

"Since I'll have to endure it sooner or later, what's the difference between enduring it earlier or later?" Chandler said. "Tina is the person I chose, and since people can't change, I have to change myself."

Upon hearing this, Lornell looked at Harley sitting on the hospital bed. So, does that mean he also chose her?

At that time, when he saw her lying in the IUC ward, he chose her when he called the Quentin family.

So in the future, the only thing he can change is himself?

Chapter 3398

However, he never even considered that after getting engaged to her, he would have to do even more boring things in the future!

If he really did these things, then others would probably laugh their heads off.

However... Lornell looks at Chandler again and it seems like Chandler did these things without anyone from the Crypt families mocking him!

He turned his head and looked at Harley's hopeful black eyes, suddenly feeling a bit shaken again!

If we have to endure it eventually, then let's endure it sooner rather than later.

Who wouldn't want her to die! If she can obediently listen to him in the future, then he can tolerate it for a while.

Lornell's mood has finally improved slightly with some self-comfort.

After staying in the hospital for over a month, Harley can finally be discharged.

The marriage contract of the Quentin family has also been sent to the Hart family.

Ter 3398

2/4

Valda gazed at the ancient yet imposing wedding document, feeling a sense of weightiness in her heart. The document appeared very old and was written on a special type of paper that looked like neither paper nor silk. It was said to be fireproof and resistant to insects, and its color would not fade for decades.

The marriage certificate only required Harley to write his name and press his fingerprint, Samir and his wife did not appear. However, Lornell came along with the certificate and it was clear that he intended to write his name and press his fingerprint as well.

There was no engagement ceremony in between, which actually relieved Valda.

However, along with the marriage certificate, there were also many gifts that were said to be small trinkets from the Quentin family, given to the future lady of the house.

When Valda heard the words “future mistress of the house” from the gift-givers, she was stunned for a moment before realizing that her daughter would be the future mistress of the Quentin family!

However, when Valda looked at the so-called “little trinkets” that were sent over, even though she had seen many precious jewels and her taste had improved over the years, she still gasped at the sight of these things.

Chapter 3398

3/4

One of the sets consists of twelve zodiac animal figurines carved from jade, with each animal decorated with precious gems such as gold, silver, agate, and jade. The animals are carved so vividly that they look lifelike, and the craftsmanship is of a very high standard. Even though Valda is not an expert in this field, she can tell that the jade and gems used are of considerable value.

But Brian’s vision is much more precise. After seeing the small things that were sent over, his face couldn’t help but become serious.

The value of these items, although the Hart family can afford.

them, the Quentin family's gift has two meanings. Firstly, it showcases the Quentin family's wealth, and secondly, it expresses the Quentin family's attitude towards the engagement to the Hart family.

This also means that if the Hart family wants to cancel this engagement in the future, it may not be so easy!

Brian

looked serious, and Valda naturally noticed her husband's unusual expression, so she asked, "What's wrong?"

"Not much," Brian shook his head. "Let the two children finish the marriage contract first, so that the Quentin family's people can go back and report."

Valda nodded, after all, the Quentin family's messenger who delivered the marriage proposal was still waiting.

Chapter 3399

The marriage certificate was placed on a large table, and two children were looking at it.

1/4

Lornell could understand all the characters on the marriage certificate, while Harley could only understand a few. After all,

Valda and Brian did not deliberately teach their daughter how to read characters. They would just casually mention something when they saw it from time to time.

The most deliberate thing was just to teach his daughter to recognize and write her own name.

Lornell looked at the marriage certificate, picked up a pen, and without saying anything, signed his name. He then pressed his finger into the red ink pad and onto the certificate.

Next up is Harley's turn.

Harley looked at the marriage contract and learned from the adults that it represented a betrothal between her and Brother Lornell.

So she also picked up a pen and signed her name on the marriage certificate with great seriousness.

However, Harley's posture while holding the pen was not very attractive, and the writing produced was crooked and uneven.

Chapter 3399

2/4

This was especially true for the strokes in her name, with the final "ley" being written terribly.

However, after all, he is only a three-year-old child, so it's already good enough that he can write his own name.

Lornell frowned and looked at Harley's name on the marriage certificate, feeling that he was really... quite ugly!

After Harley finished writing her name, she felt exhausted. She furrowed her eyebrows and complained to Lornell, "Why do we have to sign and write our names on the marriage certificate? My name is difficult to write. Next time, can we just use fingerprints instead of names?"

Lornell frowned. "Next time?" Does she want to sign another marriage contract with her?

Can we sign this thing just once in our lifetime, please?

Harley was very skilled at taking fingerprints, but unlike Lornell who only took a single fingerprint, she pressed her right palm directly onto the ink pad and then "slapped" it onto the marriage certificate.

They're just...playing around!

The Quentin family members realized the situation and tried to stop it, but it was too late.

Chapter 3399

A bright red handprint suddenly appeared on the marriage certificate.

3/4

"This..." The Quentin family, who delivered the marriage proposal, looked very embarrassed.

"I printed more than Brother Lornell," said Harley proudly.

Lornell was speechless. What was there to compare? But Harley continued to grin foolishly at him.

"If it doesn't work out, we can make another marriage certificate for the Hart family and have the two children sign and fingerprint again," said Brian.

"No need, this is fine!" said Lornell. "There's not much difference between palm prints and fingerprints anyway."

"Yes," agreed the Quentin family.

Since the marriage certificate was in duplicate, the other copy also needed to be stamped.

Since Harley's first copy was stamped with a palm print, the second copy was also stamped with a palm print.

After the stamping was done, each family kept one copy of the marriage certificate.

Harley looked at his red hand with ink and then at Lornell. "Brother Lornell, does this mean we will always be together from now on?"

Lornell pursed his pretty lips. "I suppose so."

After he and she got engaged, his mother approached him again and asked, "Have you really thought this through? An engagement is not something you can just agree to and then change your mind about."

"I won't regret it." He answered his mother's words like this at the time, even answering quickly without hesitation.

He didn't even understand himself why he answered so quickly at that time.

Chapter 3400

1/4

Although you are still a child, you are the future heir of the Quentin family. Therefore, you must understand that every word you say in the future will not be a child's play. Since you won't regret this matter, it's even better. As for the girl from the Hart family, although her mother's background is not great and she has a limp, the Hart family is still worthy of our Quentin family.

At that time, he didn't know why, but when he heard his mother say the words "lame leg", he felt a strange discomfort. In his mind, he saw the swollen face of Harley flash by.

I wonder if that little one will get angry again if they hear these words.

“His leg is lame because he saved someone. He traded one leg for a life,” he couldn’t help but say these words.

After the fight, he heard from others that the woman from the Hart family had a limp leg because she had jumped into the river to save Jasmine, the daughter of the Reed family. She almost died but survived, but her leg never fully recovered because she missed the opportunity for timely treatment.

“It’s rare to see you speak up like this. Are you speaking on behalf of your fiancée’s mother?” said the mother with a hint of sarcasm,

Chapter 3400

2/4

And now, with the signature and seal on the marriage certificate, Harley’s status in the Quentin family is officially confirmed.

In the future, they should be together forever, Lornell thought to himself in this moment.

“Does that mean I should also call you Lornell?” Harley asked curiously.

The sound of “Lornell” made Lornell’s eyebrows furrow and her body tremble. She asked, “Why are you calling me that?”

“But doesn’t Tina always call Chandler ‘Chandler’?” the little one said naturally.

So... did she learn by imitation? Lornell continued to furrow her brows, and on her pretty little face, she rarely showed such a bitter and resentful expression.

In short, it all comes down to that guy Chandler, who started things off on the wrong foot.

“I don’t like it when people call me Lornell,” he said, scrunching up his face and feeling uncomfortable.

“Why don’t you like it? I think Lornell sounds nice. You can also call me Harley,” she said.

He paused for a moment, then realized that his name and hers were actually antonyms.

Chapter 3400

It's true, just like their personalities, they were completely different. If it weren't for that explosion, they might have never seen each other again after the amusement park.

He was lost in thought and didn't say anything for a moment.

3/4

But his silence

made her think he agreed, and she suddenly hugged him excitedly, "I knew you would agree. Lornell sounds nice. From now on, you can call me Harley, and I'll call you Lornell!"

Lornell was caught off guard and was hugged face to face. He instinctively wanted to push Harley away, but when he raised his hand, her hand, still stained with red ink, grabbed his hand.

The red ink and the firm grip reminded him of the scene when she held his hand tightly during the explosion.

He had heard from people around him about the scene when he and Harley were rescued. She was already unconscious, but she still held his hand tightly. Even the rescuers had to spend some time separating their hands.

And there were still bloodstains on his hand.

He thought it was his blood at first, but later found out that it was Harley's blood.

So, was the blood on his hand from Harley?

The red ink was like the blood from back then.
