

Ex Convict 3771

Chapter 3771

Veronica and Mason were browsing the stalls in the school. The various small items were indeed very attractive.

However, Veronica clearly felt that walking with Mason attracted a lot of attention.

Especially in the campus, the attention was even more exaggerated than on the street.

“Are you very famous in school?” Veronica couldn’t help asking.

“No, I just came as an exchange student this semester. I don’t know many people in school,” Mason said.

Veronica wanted to say that just because he didn’t know many people didn’t mean that many people didn’t know him!

But thinking about it, Mason was the Mason of the Reed family, and Jasper was also at Stanford University. Naturally, when Mason came to Stanford University, many people probably already knew him.

However, that person is now her boyfriend, and it’s quite an honor for her.

“Still haven’t decided what to buy?” Mason asked. “How about clothes or shoes? Anything visible, just buy two identical ones?”

How much stuff would they have to buy then?

Suddenly, Veronica saw a small booth selling handmade trinkets and became interested, so she walked over.

“Can I help you with something?” The vendor, a girl, asked eagerly when she saw Veronica approach.

“Just looking.” Veronica replied, and began to look at the trinkets. There were hair clips, bracelets, and hairpins, but some of them suited her better than Mason.

“Do you have anything that can be used by both men and women?” She asked. She quite liked the handmade trinkets at this booth, unlike the ones that could be found everywhere online.

“These phone charms can be used by both men and women.” The girl replied warmly.

Veronica’s eyes lit up. Yes, phones are something that people use every day, so they would see the charm every day. If they both took out their phones with the same charm in public, people would know they were a couple without explanation.

Thinking of this, Veronica began to look for phone charms. After a while, she chose a leather cat paw charm and asked the person next to her, “Mason, what do you think of this?”

Mason was originally facing away from the booth, texting Jasper on his phone.

Jasper had sent a message asking if they were free for lunch.

After hearing Veronica's voice, Mason turned to look at the cat paw charm in her hand and said, "It's pretty cute."

The girl running the booth was surprised to see Mason and stared at him with wide eyes. She never expected the campus heartthrob to be standing in front of her booth.

"Um... does Mr. Reed have any preferences?" The girl asked.

At this point, even if she had to give it away for free, she would be willing to.

"Do you have two of these cat paw pendants that are the same?" Mason asked.

"Yes, yes!" the girl quickly replied, pulling out a cat paw pendant identical to the one Veronica was holding.

"Do you like it?" Mason asked Veronica.

Veronica nodded, "It feels pretty good."

"Then let's take these two," Mason said, then turned to the girl at the booth and asked, "How much?"

The girl gave a number, and Mason scanned the QR code on the booth with his phone to pay. Veronica hung one of the pendants on her phone and then said to Mason, "What about your phone? Let me hang it for you."

"Okay." Mason handed his phone to Veronica without objection.

Chapter 3772

Veronica hung the cat paw pendant on Mason's phone.

The girl at the booth watched this scene in a daze, feeling that the interaction between these two people was very natural, as if they had known each other for a long time.

Is this person Mr. Reed's friend? It seems like their relationship very good, the girl thought to herself.

is

"Do you want to buy anything else?" Mason asked.

"No, these couple pendants are enough," Veronica said with a smile, handing the phone with the pendant back to Mason.

The girl at the booth was stunned to hear this.

Did she hear it right, a couple's pendant? Could it be that this woman and Mason are in a romantic relationship?

But how is that possible?

Didn't Mason just return to the country not long ago? And with so many people in school asking about Mason's news, there has never been a rumor about him having a girlfriend!

But the problem is... Mason did not deny what this woman said!

Couple's pendants, only couples would choose the same pendant to hang on their respective phones.

Just as the female vendor was still randomly thinking about it, suddenly, a voice sounded, "Reed... Mr. Reed, hello, I am Mezera Ladd, a sophomore in the School of Economics and Trade. I don't know if the senior remembers me. We have met before. Today is the campus festival. I didn't expect the senior to come. You just returned to the country not long ago. How about I be your guide and introduce you..."

Before the other party finished speaking, Mason directly said, "I don't remember you, let alone need you as a guide."

"Huh?" Mezera showed an expression that was somewhat unacceptable.

She has always been a beauty in school, pursued by many boys, including those from wealthy families, but she didn't like any of them.

First, she is beautiful, and second, her own family background is good. She is the daughter of the Ladd Group, and even her own value is worthy of Mason.

"Um... Mr. Reed, did you really forget? We talked before at the banquet held by the Reed family. My father is the chairman of the Ladd Group, and he has a good relationship with your father. I am well-intentioned and also want to make you more familiar with the campus."

After all, her father had already greeted Mason, asking her to get closer to him in school. If she could be with Mason, her future value would naturally be different.

Moreover, Mason's appearance is very attractive, and she naturally likes it.

It's just that Mason's cold attitude towards her is the same as before... Thinking about how she deliberately talked to Mason at the banquet in the past, but he always responded coldly, Mezera felt regretful.

No man has ever treated her like this before!

But now it's not the same as before. She's even more beautiful than before and understands men's psychology better.

"Your father and my father have a good relationship. It's their business, and you have nothing to do with me," Mason said lightly.

However, his words did make Mezera lose face, especially in front of so many people.

"Let's go," Mason lowered his head and said to Veronica standing beside him.

"Oh," Veronica responded.

Chapter 3773

Mezera's gaze finally fell on Veronica standing next to Mason. In her opinion, Veronica looked very ordinary, wearing cheap clothes and not particularly beautiful. This kind of woman could be found everywhere on campus.

But just now, Mason was cold towards her, but his attitude towards that woman was obviously much gentler. This comparison made her even more uncomfortable.

Seeing the two about to leave, Mezera suddenly said, "Senior, are you refusing my kindness to go to the campus festival with this woman? I wonder what the relationship between her and you is? But I guess this woman is not your girlfriend, after all, your girlfriend couldn't be so ordinary-looking, right?"

In Mezera's view, since Mason made her lose face, she wouldn't let him off easily. Mason was the Reed family's son, and she couldn't directly oppose him, but she could use the woman next to him to attack him.

Mason paused and turned his head to look at Mezera coldly, "I don't need you to evaluate what kind of person my girlfriend is."

Mason's words made some of the onlookers gasp in shock.

Mezera was even more stunned and exclaimed, "How is that possible! How could she be your girlfriend?!"

Her words just now were just meant to deliberately attack the woman and create a rift between her and Mason, but she didn't expect Mason to answer like this.

"This kind of person?" Mason's voice became even colder, "Then what kind of person are you? Do you think you're superior to her?"

Mezera did feel superior, but she couldn't say that to someone like Mason.

"I...I just thought that you two didn't really...look like a couple. If Mr. Reed said she was your girlfriend just to save face after what I said, then I apologize."

"No need," Mason said. "You don't have the right to make that call. Let me handle it."

Mezera's face turned red at his words.

"Also, you mentioned that your father is the chairman of Ladd Group, right? I remember that," Mason said before taking Veronica and leaving.

Mezera stood there, her face now pale instead of red.

Remember? Remember who her father is?

The cold tone made her feel like he wanted to destroy her.

Maybe...her actions today would bring endless trouble to the Ladd Family. Mezera suddenly had a premonition in her heart.

If possible, she hoped that this premonition would never come true.

Veronica followed Mason towards the school gate.

"Are you angry?" Veronica couldn't help but ask.

"Do you think I'm angry?" Mason asked back.

"Well, I think so," she said. "Of course, if I'm wrong, then I apologize."

"Why are you apologizing?" Mason abruptly stopped and turned to Veronica. "Even if I'm really angry, it's not you who should apologize. It's not you who made me angry."

"Is it because of what your classmate said earlier?" she asked.

Mason pursed his thin lips. He couldn't even explain his own emotions at the moment.

Why did he feel so uncomfortable and even want to hit someone when he heard someone belittling her?

Chapter 3774

He stared at her, as if he could see right through her, and Veronica's heart couldn't help but beat faster.

"Don't be angry. That classmate of yours is probably regretting everything she said now and wishing she hadn't said anything," Veronica said. "By the way, where are we going now?"

"We're going to have lunch with Jasper and William. They should be waiting for us in the restaurant by now," Mason said.

"Oh, the restaurant?" Veronica was surprised.

Mason took her to a restaurant near the school. Jasper and William had chosen a private room, and when Veronica followed Mason into the room, she saw Jasper and William playing mobile games.

"Hey, Sister Veronica, you're here. William and I are playing a game. You and Mason can order first. We'll finish this game soon," Jasper said.

"Okay." Veronica nodded and sat down with Mason. She scanned the QR code on the table with her phone and opened the menu page.

The restaurant served Emerald City's home-style dishes. Veronica ordered a few dishes and then let Mason order.

After Mason finished ordering, Jasper and William's game seemed to have entered a fierce stage. Jasper would occasionally shout, "Ah...ah, William, come save me, I can't take it anymore...I'm going to die..."

"Ah! What should I do? I'm dead. Wait for me to respawn..."

"Quick, hurry up, help me block it!"

"One wave, one wave, here comes a wave..."

Veronica rested her chin on her hand and watched Jasper playing games. She used to play these online games on her phone too, but she stopped playing after she broke up with Mason. Playing games always reminded her of the times she played with Mason.

Firstly, she didn't want to be reminded of the past and get upset. Secondly, she didn't have the time anymore. Her time was mostly spent on studying and working, and carefree life seemed to be getting further away from her.

Watching Jasper and William playing games now made her miss the times she played games with Mason.

"OK, we barely won!" Jasper let out a sigh of relief and put down his phone.

"That was satisfying," William said.

Jasper smiled, "Yeah, it was."

"By the way, I ordered some food earlier. Take a look and see if you want to add anything," Veronica said.

"No need, you and Mason ordered enough. William and I will just eat," Mason said, his gaze suddenly falling on Veronica and Mason's phones. "Hey, Sister Veronica, you and Mason have the same phone charm."

Veronica's face turned slightly red. "Yeah, we bought it at a booth in your school. It's pretty nice."

"Is it a couple charm? Are you and Mason officially dating now?" Jasper looked at Veronica with a sharp gaze.

Mason didn't say anything, but his gaze was also on Veronica, as if waiting for her answer.

Veronica pursed her lips and answered honestly, "Yeah, we're dating."

If we're going to date, let's do it openly and honestly. There's no need to hide anything.

Chapter 3775

Upon hearing this, Jasper immediately laughed and said, "Oh, that's great! Mason, you'll have to rely on Sister Veronica from now on. By the way, when are you free next? How about the four of us go on a date together?"

"Together?" Veronica was taken aback.

"Yes, it's more fun to hang out with more people!" Jasper said.

Veronica looked at Mason. Although she didn't mind going on a date together, would he be against it?

As if guessing what she was thinking, Mason said, "Let's do it together then."

"Yeah, that's great! We'll go on a date together, take some photos, and send them to our big brother to tease him. He's the only one who's still single now," Jasper said.

Looking at Jasper's worried expression, William was relieved. At least now, Jasper wouldn't think about the time when Lawrence forcibly kissed her.

But as for Lawrence, he wouldn't let this matter go. He had to get justice for Jasper!

After finishing their meal, Veronica received a call from Daniel, saying that there was something urgent at the company and she needed to come back to help.

"Today is your day off, and you don't have any classes, right?"

You can come over, and the supervisor needs the documents urgently," Daniel said.

"Oh, I see. Alright, I'll come over," Veronica said.

"Okay, by the way, where are you now? Do you want me to come pick you up?" Daniel asked.

"I..." Veronica didn't have a chance to speak before Mason took her phone and said to the other end, "I'll take her there."

After the call ended, Veronica looked at Mason and said, "You're taking me to the company."

"Otherwise? Let you take the subway by yourself?" Mason asked back. "Let's go!"

Veronica said goodbye to Jasper and William, and obediently got into Mason's car.

As the car drove towards Veronica's agency, when they were close to the company's entrance, Veronica said, "Just stop by the roadside."

"Don't need to send me to the company entrance?" Mason asked.

"No, if you really send me to the entrance, it will attract too much attention. I'm just a small assistant. If it's too eye-catching, it's not good. You know, our company is an agency for celebrities, and there are paparazzi following us." Veronica explained.

"Okay." Mason didn't insist. "I'll come to pick you up when you're done."

"No need, I can take the subway back by myself. It's a waste of time for you to come and pick me up." Veronica said. "Then...how about waiting for me in my apartment? Of course, if you have time, you can cook some dishes for me."

Knowing that he studied abroad and could cook by himself, she really wanted to taste his cooking.

Mason looked at Veronica, and on her face, there was a certain expectation, and her eyes were shining.

Looking at her expression, it made him have the impulse to agree to all her requests.

"Okay." Mason said, "Then I'll wait for you in your apartment."

"Okay." Veronica smiled and got out of the car, watching Mason drive away. Meanwhile, in a taxi not far away, Daniel was staring at this scene with a gloomy face.

As Veronica walked towards the company, suddenly she heard footsteps behind her, and then someone tapped her on the shoulder.

She was startled and turned her head to see Daniel.

"Why didn't you let Mason take you to the company entrance? Wouldn't that be more convenient?" Daniel asked.

Chapter 3776

"Ah, you saw it?" Veronica said nervously. "It's more noticeable at the company entrance."

"Did Mason ask you to hide your relationship?" Daniel said. "Maybe he doesn't want to go public, maybe he's just playing with you."

"Enough, Daniel!" Veronica said displeased. "The relationship between me and my boyfriend is our private matter. I hope you don't make unfounded comments."

"I'm doing this for your own good!" Daniel said angrily. "What kind of person is Mason? Do you really think he will marry you? Families like the Reed family only marry those who are of equal status. Besides, do you really think Mason is sincere to you?"

"What the Reed family is like and how Mason treats me are my own business!" Veronica retorted bluntly.

“Mason could have left you back then, causing you to struggle and work hard to earn a living. After he returned to the country, it didn’t take long for him to be with you again. Don’t you think the timing is too coincidental?” Daniel said.

“What are you trying to say?” Veronica frowned.

“I mean, Mason may be with you now to get revenge on you. I heard that you broke up with him back then, and you had a dispute with him before he went abroad. You also moved away from your family and lived alone in your current place. Later, the Barlow family fell from grace in the business world, and all the benefits that the Reed family gave you were gone. Now, your father seems to be worried about business matters all the time,” Daniel said.

Veronica was surprised. Did Daniel investigate her and Mason’s past?!

He investigated them?!

“Daniel, what is your purpose?” Veronica asked. If he had no purpose, why would he investigate these things?

“What purpose could I have? I just don’t want you to be hurt,” Daniel said. “Veronica, I was hurt because of Mason before, so now I don’t want you to be hurt.”

Upon hearing this, Veronica’s expression softened. “I have decided to be with Mason. I don’t want to bring up the past, and whether or not I will be hurt is my own business. Daniel, I appreciate your concern, but this is my private matter. I hope you won’t interfere anymore.”

Daniel’s face turned extremely unpleasant, and Veronica didn’t say anything else. She turned and walked into the company building.

The company matter wasn’t actually that urgent, and the supervisor didn’t say it had to be dealt with today. In other words, she could come to the company tomorrow to handle it.

So why did Daniel call and make it sound so urgent? Veronica wondered.

On the way back, she looked at her reflection in the subway window. She had actually thought about the possibility that Mason was suddenly with her for revenge.

After all, the timing was too coincidental, and Mason’s attitude towards her had changed quite quickly.

However...if she thought about her understanding of him from childhood to adulthood, she didn’t think he was the type of person to use emotions for revenge.

Even when she had hurt him before, he had chosen hypnosis instead of doing anything to hurt her.

How could such a person come back and do something cruel to her after a few years?!

Therefore, she didn't believe what Daniel said at all!

Chapter 3777

When Veronica arrived at the door of her apartment and opened it, she was greeted by a soft light and the smell of food in the air. Then she heard a familiar voice say, "You're back."

It was just a simple sentence, but it made her feel like tears were welling up. And when she saw that figure, she suddenly felt like her heart was settling down.

That is... Mason, the person who has accompanied her for the longest time in her life.

"Hmm, I'm back," she raised her lips and smiled.

"The food is ready, wash your hands and we can eat," he said.

"Okay," she replied, put down her bag, washed her hands, and came to the dining table.

There were four dishes and a soup on the table, a bit more than what two people could eat, but it looked good!

Veronica took out her phone and started taking pictures.

"Why are you taking pictures?" Mason asked.

"This is the first meal you've cooked since we started dating. Of course, I have to take a picture to commemorate it," she said.

"If you like the taste later, I can cook for you whenever you want," Mason said.

Veronica was taken aback. So, he meant that he could cook for her anytime she wanted?

He knew that now, just like before, he would agree to any request she made.

She sat down and started to eat the food.

The taste of the food was better than she had expected, and as a result, she ate half a bowl more than usual.

"It seems that your cooking skills have really improved during your years abroad," Veronica said.

"Living alone, you always have to do something to pass the time," he said. If he didn't find something to distract himself, he would only think about those memories from the past.

Even if the unforgettable feeling has faded away, the memories of those experiences remain vivid in the mind, especially without the emotional attachment.

"It's true, living alone sometimes requires keeping oneself busy," Veronica murmured. Mason's words reminded her of her past.

When she first moved into this apartment alone, she used to overthink things and feel more pain and discomfort as a result.

Only by keeping herself busy could she forget about those

But what about Mason? Is he also doing it for the same reason?

Thinking about this, Veronica looked at the person in front of her and suddenly asked, "Don't you blame me?"

"Blame you for what?" he asked in return.

"Blame me for misunderstanding you, not trusting you back then, even though you saved me when I was kidnapped," she said.

"I blame you and resent you, that's why I chose to be hypnotized," Mason replied.

"Yes, I should be blamed and resented for misunderstanding and accusing you," she said.

"I blame and resent you not because of your misunderstanding and accusation," he said.

She looked surprised, "Not because of that?" Then why?

"I blame and resent you because if you can fall in love with someone, why can't that person be me? Why do you only see me as a little brother?" he said.

Chapter 3778

Veronica was stunned, staring at the person in front of her, completely unaware that he was the one who caused him the most pain back then!

"I'm sorry," she said, her voice trembling.

"Okay, I accept," he replied.

She blinked her eyes, was that it?!

Well, he accepted her apology, which was the best outcome, but why did she feel like something was off?

It was like...too casual.

No, it was more like the weight of these things had been building up in her heart for so many years that it had become too heavy.

If only she had understood her feelings earlier, they wouldn't have wasted all these years, and he wouldn't have been hypnotized.

What kind of feeling was it to remember everything that had happened but not feel the same emotions anymore?

Did he really feel nothing as he claimed?

Or was it...a feeling too heavy for him, just like her?

Veronica suddenly stood up and hugged Mason. "We must never be apart again, okay?"

"Never?" He lowered his eyes and rested his head on her chest. "There's nothing in this world that's 'never.'"

Such promises were as elusive as the word "forever."

"Then let's try our best to make 'never' come true," Veronica said.

"Don't you think that if we work hard, we won't have to be apart anymore?" he asked.

"Because I love you, and you love me too. As long as we trust each other enough, nothing can separate us except death," Veronica said.

Mason suddenly looked up, his beautiful black eyes staring straight at Veronica.

"You love me, and I love you?" His voice was huskier than usual.

"Yes," she said, meeting his gaze without flinching. "Or did I say something wrong?"

His eyelashes trembled slightly, and his gaze became even deeper. After what seemed like an eternity, he finally said, "No, you're right. You love me, and I love you."

It turned out that his feelings for her, even under hypnosis, would still fall in love with her again.

Only her! Because she was the one he was destined to love.

Veronica felt as if her whole body was enveloped in a warm embrace. In this moment, she couldn't help but lower her head and kiss his lips.

She loved him, really loved him.

But she seemed to have realized this fact a little too late. If she had realized it earlier, their pain would have been much less.

From now on, she would love him better! She would work hard to heal the wounds of the past and make them happy.

This kiss, initiated by her, was gentle at first, but after he took control, it became dominant and intense, as if all their emotions were poured into this kiss.

This kiss made her almost breathless. Just when she thought her heart was about to stop, his lips finally parted from hers.

Chapter 3779

She was breathing heavily, her face flushed red.

The kiss just now was too intense, making her heart beat hard, and all the blood in her body seemed to be rushing to her head.

"Does it hurt?" he asked, gently touching her lips with his fingertips.

"It's...fine," she whispered, feeling the spot where he touched her burning even more.

"Can we kiss again?" he asked.

"Kiss again?" she widened her eyes.

"Don't want to?" his eyes became even deeper.

How could she not want to? Veronica looked at the person in front of her, he was simply irresistible, especially his lips that had just been kissed, they looked soft and red, moist and charming.

"No...I don't mind." She blushed and took the initiative to kiss his lips again.

The feeling of kissing him was so beautiful, as if she was slowly picking up the pieces of what she had lost...

Because...she really loved him.

That night, Veronica didn't know how many times she kissed Mason, and even at night, Mason didn't leave, but slept with her in her room.

But for her, it was more warm and comforting than anything else, just like when they were children, holding each other.

When she woke up in the morning and looked at his face, she suddenly felt grateful that she had been willing to "give it a try" with him, grateful that he had given her such an opportunity.

Otherwise, she wouldn't be able to be this close to him now, let alone fall in love with each other.

In the morning at work, Veronica sat at her desk, processing the documents in front of her, when suddenly Daniel's voice sounded next to her, "Veronica, yesterday... I'm sorry, I just worried about you, that's why I said those things."

Veronica replied, "I hope this matter can end here, Daniel. I have moved on from what happened back then, and I hope you can too. Being stuck in the past will only make yourself more unhappy."

Daniel's hand hanging by his side couldn't help but clench into a fist, but he still smiled, "You're right, we should move on. By the way, the supervisor just said that Miss Lane's dress has some issues, so let's go and deal with it together."

"Okay," Veronica agreed.

However, when she and Daniel got into the car, the direction

Daniel drove in was not towards the dress shop, but in another direction.

Veronica immediately felt something was wrong, "Where are you taking me?"

"You'll know when we get there," Daniel said.

"Stop the car!" Veronica said, "If you're not going to the dress shop, then I want to get off now."

"I've already locked the car door now. If you want to grab the steering wheel, go ahead and try! But then, we might end up crashing!" Daniel said.

Veronica fell silent because she could tell that Daniel was determined not to stop the car.

For now, the only solution might be to secretly call the police or... find Mason!

However, her phone was in her bag, so she could only try to move her hand as little as possible to reach into her bag and take out her phone, then make a call.

"If we really crash, your family will be sad too," Veronica said, trying to distract Daniel's attention, "If you really want to take me somewhere, just tell me directly. There's no need to use this kind of method."

"If you had listened to me earlier, I wouldn't have done this," Daniel said.

"What do you mean?" she asked, confused.

Chapter 3780

"Why are you still with Mason? You shouldn't be with someone like him. I did this because I want you to see his true colors sooner!" Daniel said angrily.

Good, her hand had reached for her phone! Veronica nervously held onto her phone and continued to ask, "What true colors?"

"Of course, his despicable and selfish true colors," Daniel said. "Actually, I don't want you to see it, but I'm afraid you'll be too deep in it and I won't be able to save you!"

Veronica slowly took out her phone from her bag and placed it next to her on the side near the car door. She used her body to shield the phone and quickly put it on silent mode. Then, she quickly dialed Mason's phone number from the quick dial interface.

She just hoped that when Mason answered the phone, he would sense that something was wrong on her end.

And now, she had to talk more to make Mason realize that something was off as soon as he answered the phone.

"If...if you still can't let go of what happened in the past, what do you want? Do you really want to 'save' me? Or do you have some conditions to talk to Mason?" Veronica said.

"Conditions? Do you want him to give me money? But can money buy my past life? You have no idea what I've been through!" Daniel said angrily.

"Then why don't you talk to him face to face? If he really did something that hurt you badly in the past, then he will definitely make it up to you," Veronica sensed that Daniel's current state was a bit off, so she tried to calm him down.

At the same time, she glanced at her phone from the corner of her eye. The call had been answered, but she didn't hear Mason's voice on the phone. It was clear that Mason had already sensed that something was wrong.

"Make it up? How can he make it up? Veronica, do you think he can easily buy me off with money?" Daniel said fiercely. At that moment, the traffic light turned red and Daniel slammed on the brakes.

"Ah!" Veronica was caught off guard, even though she was wearing a seatbelt, her body still moved forward due to inertia, and her phone, which was originally hidden by her side, was suddenly thrown to the middle of her and Daniel's seats.

Veronica instinctively wanted to retrieve her phone, but the other hand was faster than her.

"You're actually talking to Mason on the phone?! Veronica, you're really despicable!" Daniel's face immediately changed as he looked at the call display on the phone screen.

"Give me back my phone!" Veronica said urgently.

At the same time, Mason's voice came from the phone, "Daniel, no matter what grievances there are between you and me, it has nothing to do with Veronica. Don't involve her."

"Haha, the Reed family's high and mighty Mason, even at this time, your tone of voice sounds like you're giving orders. Today, I will make Veronica understand that she shouldn't be with someone like you." After saying this, Daniel hung up the call, then put the phone on the other side of him near the car door.
