

Ex Convict 4101

Chapter 4101

"If we have a baby, I'll definitely be a good mom!" Tina smiled and turned to Chandler. "And I'm sure you'll be a great dad too!"

Her smile made Chandler's heart skip a beat.

If they really had a child and she could forgive everything that happened before, he would be so happy!

So happy that it almost felt unreal!

Back in Emerald City, everything was normal for Chandler, but Tina had a new job – asking about Chandler's health every day, as if afraid he would get sick again.

Chandler was a little uncomfortable with this.

"I'm fine, really," he said.

"So, that day, you were really drugged by someone with bad intentions?" she asked curiously.

"No, it was the parasites in my body," he hesitated for a moment, then spoke with determination.

"Gu worms?" She was stunned.

He pursed his lips tightly, considering how to say it, "Do you remember the portrait of an ancient woman in the church that day? She was a woman loved by Hunter's ancestor, but also cursed Hunter's family with Gu poison because of love!"

Chandler began to reveal Hunter's secrets to Tina, which should have been told to her after marriage or even after having children.

But now, he told her in advance.

As Tina listened, her eyes widened, as if she were listening to some incredible fairy tale.

This is just too unbelievable!

"So, you still have Gu worms in your body now?"

"Yes," he nodded.

"So, if we have S, it can suppress the activity of the Gu worms and calm them down?"

"Yes."

"In the past, every time the Gu worms were about to attack, you went back to Hunter's family to soak in the medicinal bath to calm them down? And the black lines on your body were also caused by the Gu worms?"

"Yes."

The two of them asked and answered each other.

Chandler was unusually nervous. If she found him disgusting because of the Gu worms in his body and hated him for it, what should he do?

But Tina said, "Wow, the Gu worms are so lustful."

Her words instantly dissolved his nervousness.

"But if that's the case, it's easy to handle in the future. If you feel uncomfortable, we can just sleep together for a night!" She said with a smile.

"You really are..." He couldn't help but laugh. It seemed that whenever he was with her, any negative emotions would disappear.

Perhaps that's why he wanted to stay by her side even more!

The Stephenson couple's faces changed when they found out their daughter had visited the Hunter family estate.

Lina asked worriedly about what happened, while Hadwin was almost ready to scold their daughter.

"Do you know how dangerous it is? Are you treating what your father did for Hunter as a joke? What if Hunter wants to do something to you? What will you do?" Hadwin said angrily.

He felt blood rushing to his head at the thought of his daughter being in danger.

"I'm safe, aren't I?" Tina said.

"Did Hunter do anything to you?" Hadwin asked irritably.

Well...actually, he did! She was trapped in that church overnight!

But she couldn't say that now!

Chapter 4102

"What can he do to me? After all, I'm Chandler's fiancée. After we get married, I'll be able to come and go from the Hunter estate. It's just a matter of time." Tina deliberately downplayed the situation.

Lina breathed a sigh of relief. "That's true. After you graduate, you'll marry Chandler. Hunter shouldn't do anything to you."

Hadwin's face finally softened. "Have you really decided to marry Chandler after you graduate?" he asked.

"Yes, I have. I'm going to marry Chandler," Tina replied firmly, without any hesitation.

"That's good," Hadwin said, and didn't say anything more.

Meanwhile, Lina was busy asking about Hunter's mansion.

Tina explained the process, but left out the part about Chandler's bath and the church.

After her parents finished questioning her, Tina collapsed on her bed, exhausted.

Even now, she still found Chandler's talk about the bugs and the woman in the church painting unbelievable, but she believed him because she knew he wouldn't lie to her.

But what did her grandfather mean when he said Chandler had to have a child to live?

If sleeping with her could calm the bugs and end his suffering, what did having a child have to do with the bugs?

But Chandler didn't want to say more, so she was left with her questions.

Tina saw Weldon again when he gave her and Kit a copy of the photos they had taken.

"By the way, have you seen the real Chandler yet?" Weldon suddenly asked.

Tina tensed up and looked at Weldon warily. After all, she didn't know how much Weldon knew about Chandler and the bugs.

"It seems you know something," Weldon smiled. "Do you know about the church? Have you seen the painting inside the church?"

"You—" Tina stared at Weldon with wide eyes.

Weldon continued, "So, Chandler has something in his body. Do you know what it is?"

"You also know about the curse?" Tina blurted out.

As soon as the words left her mouth, she wanted to curse herself for being so foolish! Come on, the other person never even mentioned the word "curse"!

"It seems you know too," Weldon smirked. "The curse is something that the Hunter family has been unable to get rid of for generations. If someone in the Hunter family has the curse in their body, it's difficult for them to live long. Of course, it's not entirely hopeless. As long as you find the right person, you can be cured. Chandler chose to marry a little girl like you because you are the one who can cure the curse in his body.”

Tina didn't expect Weldon to know so much!

“So, Chandler is likely just using you. In Hunter, there are many people like you who are used to cure the curse. As a member of the Stephenson family, are you willing to be used like this?” Weldon asked.

Tina stared at Weldon. “Why do I feel like you're trying to sow discord?”

Chapter 4103

Tina continued, “Of course, if I misunderstood, I'm really sorry. But Mr. Patel, you know Chandler and have connections with Hunter. However, from your tone just now, it seems like you want me to feel used and have a big fight with Chandler, or even break up with him, isn't it?”

Chandler seemed surprised that Tina could be so direct, although that was indeed his intention.

Fortunately, Weldon had experienced many storms and quickly regained his composure after Tina's words made him feel a bit awkward. “What if I really want you to break up with Chandler?” he asked.

Tina blinked. “Why?”

“Of course, it's because I despise the way the Hunter family uses people,” Weldon said. “They only think about themselves and don't care about others' wishes. They even force people who don't love them to have their children just to keep themselves alive.”

Tina was taken aback. Another child?!

“Is having children so important?” Tina asked.

A bitter smile appeared on Weldon's lips. “It seems that Chandler hasn't told you everything,” he said.

Tina remained silent.

“Do you want to know?” Weldon asked. “I can tell you if you agree to a condition.”

“No need!” Tina refused. “If I really want to know, I'll ask Chandler myself. So, I won't agree to any conditions. Since there's nothing else, I'll leave now!”

After speaking, Tina was about to leave when Weldon's voice suddenly sounded behind her.

“The placenta of the child born to the person selected by Hunter to cure the curse has the effect of eliminating the curse. So, as long as the placenta is made into medicine and taken, the curse in the body can be resolved! It's precisely because of this that the people of Hunter will do everything possible to make the selected person have a child!”

Tina's footsteps suddenly stopped, and she turned to look at Weldon, seeming to not believe what he said.

Weldon sneered lightly. "If you don't believe it, you can ask Chandler yourself."

Tina tightly pursed her lips and after a while, said, "I didn't agree to any conditions, why did you tell me all this?"

"I was impulsive and blurted it out!" Weldon laughed at himself. "If you ever see a ring with red and blue gemstones in the Hunter family, I hope you can give it to me. Of course, I will offer you a satisfactory price. The ring itself is not valuable, as the gemstones used are ordinary and the ring was made by an unknown craftsman. But... it has some sentimental value to my family. If I can get it, I will be very grateful to you."

Pausing for a moment, Weldon continued,

"Of course, if you're not willing to help, then let's just forget I ever made this request today."

After breaking up with Weldon, Tina's mind was still in a bit of a mess.

Giving birth... was actually for the placenta, which could be used as medicine to completely get rid of the parasites in Chandler's body.

That's why Mr. Hunter mentioned the idea of having a child! He said that only by having a child could Chandler survive!

As Weldon said, she was the one being used.

But why didn't she feel angry after hearing what Weldon said?

All she felt was a kind of heartache that she couldn't even explain to herself.

Chapter 4104

She felt heartache for all the suffering Chandler had gone through. Originally, she was supposed to marry him when she became an adult. At that time, the elders on Hunter's side thought they should get married as soon as possible.

But Chandler insisted on getting married after she graduated from college.

At that time, she simply thought that Chandler wanted her to be clearer about her feelings before marrying him.

But now she realized that it wasn't that simple.

Chandler gave her time, which meant that he would suffer for a longer time.

And what if she changed her mind? What if she decided not to marry Chandler? Has he not thought about what he would do?

Thinking about this, Tina felt even more pain in her heart!

Maybe she should go find Chandler today and have a good talk with him!

As Tina passed by a certain alley, she saw several girls blocking a few people and shouting, "Wow, we really blocked them!"

"Let's take a group photo! And we want your autograph too!"

"Hey, don't leave! We've been waiting here for so long, how can you just leave like that?"

"Yeah, you have to sign and take a photo with us before you go!"

"That's right, we're your fans! As an idol, you can't treat your fans like this!"

Kit was protected by several bodyguards and assistants, so these fans couldn't get close to him.

He was already feeling unwell, but he had to attend the event. because it had been arranged in advance.

After the event, he came out from a small side door of the mall and was surprised to find fans waiting for him.

But at this moment, he really didn't have the energy to sign autographs and take photos with fans. He even felt a little dizzy.

One of the bodyguards blocked a fan who was trying to rush towards Kit.

The fan stumbled and fell on the ground.

Suddenly, the fan shouted, "Wow, Kit hit a fan! We came to support him, but the bodyguards hit us!"

The fan's friends also spoke up, "You're just an idol, why are you acting like a big shot? We just want your autograph and photo, and you treat us like this?"

"That's right! You have to give us an explanation, or we'll expose this and let others judge!"

Kit frowned. If the situation escalated, it wouldn't be good for him. At this point, it would be better to appease these fans.

It's just a signature and a photo, if he can hold on a little longer and handle these fans, he can finally go back and rest!

Just as he was about to speak, suddenly, a voice spoke up faster than him, "Let me set things straight. I clearly saw that this fan insisted on rushing over, was stopped by the bodyguards, and then fell down because she couldn't stand steady."

Suddenly, everyone's gaze turned towards Tina, who had walked into the alley.

Kit was stunned when he saw Tina.

Chapter 4105

"Who...who are you?" the women shouted at Tina.

"Me? I'm also a fan of Kit!" Tina smiled and said, "As a fan, we should have the integrity of a fan. We should understand and respect our idols. We shouldn't just demand that our idols satisfy our own desires. For example, Kit doesn't look well now. Shouldn't we let him leave early and rest?"

Kit was surprised. Except for his assistant, no one else knew that he wasn't feeling well. Even the organizers and fans at the event didn't notice, but Tina did.

"You just want to say something pleasing to gain attention from Kit! What do you mean by stepping on us to get close to Kit?" The woman who fell down first was angry and embarrassed.

"Something pleasing?" Tina sneered, "I'm just telling the truth. Besides, I recorded the scene when you fell down and what you said. If you really feel dissatisfied, I can post this video online and let everyone judge!"

As she spoke, she shook the phone in her hand.

The women causing trouble looked ugly and left in a hurry.

Other fans didn't say anything anymore. Kit walked up to Tina and said, "Thank you."

"I didn't expect to see you here, but your complexion really doesn't look good. Get in the car and rest."

"Okay." Kit agreed, trying to take a step forward, but stumbled and fell to the side.

"Be careful!" Tina, who was closest to him, instinctively reached out to grab Kit.

But due to the momentum of the force, it ended up with her pulling Kit into her arms!

Around them, there was a sudden gasp of surprise.

Tina herself was tall and had a somewhat androgynous style among the girls. When Kit leaned into her arms, it didn't give people a sudden feeling, but rather looked like a beautiful picture.

"Are you okay?" Tina asked.

"I'm...I'm fine, sorry!" Kit straightened up, and the assistant next to him also hurried over to support him.

“Good thing you’re okay, be careful when you walk,” Tina reminded him.

“Okay!” Kit replied.

The group got into the car, and Tina left with them. The fans who had originally gathered in the alley also scattered.

In the nanny car, the assistant said to Kit, “Are you feeling unwell? Do you want to go to the hospital?”

“No, it’s okay. There’s medicine in the apartment. I’ll take two and be fine. Let’s just drive back to the apartment first,” Kit said.

The car slowly drove off, and Kit slowly closed his eyes.

When Tina appeared just now, he inexplicably felt relieved. And when she supported him and leaned into her arms, it made him feel like he suddenly became comfortable.

Why is that?

He and Tina have only had a few brief encounters.

Or is it because they worked together and she became his fan after watching his performance in his music video a long time ago, as she once mentioned?

She could see his efforts when no one else did.

Similarly, she could notice when he wasn’t feeling well.

Tina...the number of times he thought of that name seemed to have increased unconsciously!

Chapter 4106

Instead of going back to the Stephenson family, Tina went straight to Chandler’s place.

Chandler hadn’t returned yet, but she could unlock the door with her fingerprint and come and go freely.

Tina sat on the sofa in the living room, waiting for Chandler while thinking about what Weldon had said to her today.

A child...

If the placenta of a child could really be used as medicine to completely get rid of the worms in Chandler’s body, should she have a child earlier?

Although she originally wanted to be mentally prepared enough to become a mother before having a child.

But if it was for the sake of solving Chandler's health problems, then it would be good to have a child earlier.

Anyway, it would be her and Chandler's child, and she would love this child very much!

"Tina? Why are you here?" Chandler's voice suddenly sounded in the living room.

Tina suddenly snapped out of it and realized that Chandler had already come back.

"I missed you. I'm staying at your place tonight," Tina said.

"Your parents will worry," Chandler said. "Let's have dinner at my place and I'll take you back later."

"No, I want to stay at your place," Tina pouted. "And I've already talked to my parents about it."

Chandler looked at her indulgently. "Alright, it's up to you. What do you want to eat tonight?"

"Anything is fine!" Tina said.

The dinner was cooked by Chandler himself.

Tina was also very impressed with Chandler's cooking skills.

Hmm, her fiancé was simply a jack of all trades, and he was like a fierce dragon in bed...

Okay, she got a little carried away! Tina's face turned slightly red.

"Why aren't you eating? Not hungry?" Chandler asked because she had been sitting there without eating much.

"No...it's delicious! I'm just thinking about something," Tina hesitated and tentatively said, "I ran into Weldon today and he gave me the final photos from our last shoot."

Chandler frowned, seeming to dislike her meeting with Weldon.

"You don't need to pay attention to him," Chandler said.

"But the favor he asked me for was to give him a ring with a red and blue gemstone if I ever saw one at the Hunter family's place. He also said that the ring wasn't worth much, he just wanted it as a keepsake," Tina said. "Have you seen this ring before? Does it have any special meaning?"

To Chandler's surprise, his face changed when he heard this. "Did he say anything else?" he asked.

Tina pursed her lips and replied truthfully, "He also mentioned the issue of the gu worms and why I have to have a child."

Chandler's face turned pale and his eyes were fixed on Tina. "What did he say exactly?" he asked, his voice trembling.

At that moment, Tina felt like his voice was shaking.

"He said that I have to have a child and that the placenta can be used as medicine to completely get rid of the gu worms in your body," Tina said.

Chandler's face had turned gray and defeated.

She now knew all of this.

He had planned to explain everything to her when the time was right.

But now... everything had happened so suddenly.

Chapter 4107

"Don't you have anything you want to say to me?" he avoided eye contact, afraid to look at her.

Tina blinked. "I think it's better for us to have a child sooner rather than later. If I get pregnant, I can take a break from school and continue my studies after the child is born. Besides, I'm already of legal age to get married and have children. It's all good!" she said eagerly.

Chandler was stunned, looking at Tina with surprise. He never expected her to say something like that after learning the truth about having a child. She didn't seem angry at all, but rather... eager to have a child with him!

"Do you know what you're saying?" he asked.

"I know," she nodded. How could she not know when she had said the words herself?

"Now that you know the truth, aren't you angry? Aren't you furious? Why aren't you blaming me?" Chandler yelled, suppressing his emotions.

"Because I'm really not angry or upset," Tina said. "When our families arranged our engagement, it was because I'm a curse breaker and Ilunter can save me and my mom. So it was a mutually beneficial transaction from the start!"

The terms of the deal were clear from the beginning, so she didn't feel like she was being used.

"And you've been so good to me all these years," Tina continued. "Besides my parents, you've been the person who's been with me the longest!"

“That was just using you!” Chandler said hoarsely, avoiding her gaze again. “I just... wanted you to like me, wanted to slowly cultivate a relationship with you, wanted you to not be able to leave me...”

She didn't say anything.

There seemed to be a silence in the air.

He laughed bitterly, “You must think I'm despicable, wanting to use your feelings to tie you down since before you were even born...”

“But I don't think it's that despicable,” Tina's voice rang out again. “Although you wanted to use feelings to tie me down, the feelings you put in were not fake!”

She knew better than anyone how he had treated her over the years.

She could tell whether it was true or false!

“On the contrary, I think it's pretty good. Fortunately, you could sense me when I was still in my mother's womb, fortunately I have this constitution, so my mother and I could be saved, and I could survive! And then there's you, accompanying me all the way...”

She spoke sincerely, every word like a warm current, flowing into his heart, extinguishing his anxiety, panic, and pain....

Chandler stared at her in a daze. He had imagined many times what her reaction would be when she found out the truth.

Even if she wanted to cut ties with him now, to leave him forever, he was mentally prepared for it!

But he never expected her to describe his purpose as “pretty good,” to describe this deceitful relationship that had a purpose from the start with those words!

“In my opinion, there is no such thing as liking or loving someone for no reason in this world. Just like how my parents love me because I am their daughter, and I love them because they are my parents,” Tina continued, “If you are good to me because I am the one who can remove the parasites from your body, then I think by now, there must be more than just that reason. If you don't have any other feelings for me, then you should be thinking of finding a way to marry me soon and have children as soon as possible!”

Instead of postponing the wedding date again and again!

Chapter 4108

Chandler's lips trembled, “Do you...blame me for deceiving you?”

Tina said, “I don't think it's deception. You were planning to tell me the truth in the future, and not to use other lies to cover up this truth, so...um, it can only be considered that you didn't tell me earlier.”

The warm current surging in her chest accumulated more and more, as if it was about to overflow.

“Moreover, I am happy that if we have children, we can save you. You won’t have to endure that kind of pain all the time in the future.”

Tina said, a smile unconsciously appeared on her lips, she was really happy about this.

Chandler suddenly hugged Tina.

“Tina...” His hoarse voice, with a hint of choking, escaped from his throat.

How could he not love such a woman?

He had been by her side since she was a baby.

Even though his initial purpose was just to survive in the future, her cheerfulness, her brightness, and her frankness gradually attracted him.

To the point where he was addicted and unable to extricate himself.

If his life was supposed to be dark and painful, then her existence was like a beam of sunlight, shining into his world.

“I’m here,” she said, raising her hands to hug him back.

“Tina...Tina...” he murmured her name over and over again.

It turned out that she was really his redemption. Not just because she could keep him alive, but because she made him “want” to live, to spend a longer future with her.

That night, Chandler held Tina tightly, even when they went to sleep, they were still embracing each other.

Of course, for Tina, the regret was probably...they only hugged all night and didn’t do anything else!

In the following days, Tina felt that since she knew how to relieve Chandler’s pain, she should put childbirth on the agenda.

“Pfft!” Eugenia sprayed her milk tea out of her mouth in the campus cafeteria.

Tina looked disgusted, “Come on, do you have to be so exaggerated?”

Eugenia wiped the milk tea stains with a tissue and said, “That’s because you’re being too exaggerated. You’re planning to have a baby with Chandler? How old are you? You’re not even married yet.”

“We can take our time with the marriage, having a baby is more important.” Tina waved her hand nonchalantly. “Besides, I’m already 20 years old, my body is capable of having a baby!”

“...” For a moment, Eugenia felt speechless, as if this friend of hers always made her unable to speak.

“How can we increase the chances of getting pregnant? I read online about the ovulation period and timing.” Tina muttered.

“Come on, I haven’t even had a baby yet, why are you asking me this?” Eugenia rolled her eyes. She had no idea about these things!

“Right.” Tina nodded in agreement, realizing that she had asked the wrong person. She stood up and said, “Well, I’m leaving now. See you.”

“Hey, where are you going?” Eugenia asked quickly.

“Of course, I’m going to find someone who has given birth to ask,” Tina replied.

Chapter 4109

“What?” Eugenia was surprised. “Do you really want to have a baby so early?”

“Did you think I was joking earlier?” Tina waved her hand, made a goodbye gesture, and turned to leave.

Watching her friend’s back, Eugenia couldn’t help but whisper, “What is Tina thinking?”

She wants to have a baby now? She hasn’t even graduated from college yet!

Tina originally planned to ask Veronica, after all, she was already a mother!

But then she thought again, it seemed that Veronica and Mason’s child was also accidentally conceived, so asking her wouldn’t be of much reference value.

What she wants to know now is how to get pregnant as soon as possible!

So, Tina went directly to the hospital and made an appointment.

She originally planned to make an appointment with a regular gynecologist, but then she thought, what if she has a difficult pregnancy? So she made an appointment with the infertility department.

To be safe, she also made an appointment with a specialist, which cost 200 yuan.

While waiting in the rest area, Tina was amazed by the number of people there.

Most of them were women, with a few accompanied by men.

Tina finally found an empty seat and sat down to wait for her turn. A woman next to her struck up a conversation.

“Young lady, are you here for infertility treatment?” The woman was surprised to see someone as young as Tina.

“Yes,” Tina replied calmly.

“You don’t have to worry so much at your age. If you still haven’t had a child in a few years, it’s not too late to come back then,” the woman said.

Tina thought to herself, “Not too late? If I wait a few more years to have a child, it will be too late. I want to get pregnant tomorrow!”

“Or maybe you want to have a child quickly to win a man’s heart!” The woman looked Tina up and down. “You...are you unmarried and hoping to use a child to secure your future?”

Seeing that Tina didn’t respond, the woman thought she had guessed correctly and continued, “If that’s the case, you might end up regretting it. I have a friend from my hometown who did the same thing. She thought that if she had a child, the man would marry her out of obligation. She even secretly poked holes in the condoms to get pregnant. But in the end, even after she had the child, the man still didn’t marry her. He married someone else instead...”

The woman was trying to tell Tina that having a child doesn’t guarantee marriage.

But Tina’s attention was focused on the idea of poking holes in condoms!

Why hadn’t she thought of that before?

If Chandler really refused to let her get pregnant early, she could use this trick!

But for now, the most important thing was to learn about getting pregnant as soon as possible from the doctor.

Finally, it was Tina’s turn. The doctor was surprised to see someone as young as 20 seeking infertility treatment.

It was rare for someone so young to seek infertility treatment.

However, in response to Tina’s concerns, the doctor patiently answered her questions and ordered some tests for her.

After Tina completed the tests, it was confirmed that she was in good health and should be able to conceive quickly as long as she pays attention during the pregnancy period. Of course, this also requires cooperation from her partner and no issues with fertility.

Tina was actually quite relieved about Chandler's health condition.

If Chandler did have any health problems, then Hunter would have treated him already!

Chapter 4110

However, Tina never expected that two days later, her visit to the infertility clinic would become a hot topic on social media. Along with this, the poster she shot with Kit and the photo of her helping Kit in the alley also became trending.

Rumors online started to spread that Tina and Kit had a close relationship and were secretly trying to conceive. Some even speculated that Kit was infertile, which was why Tina went to the clinic.

In short, there were all kinds of rumors online.

Tina felt helpless and frustrated about all the speculation. Come on, why do people have to guess like this? She's engaged to someone else!

Of course, some people also found out about her engagement to Chandler, and the rumors online turned into her cheating on him and Chandler being cuckolded.

However, the Stephenson family and Hunter quickly suppressed the rumors.

Tina was called back home to face her parents' questioning, and Chandler was also summoned to the meeting.

Hadwin looked back and forth between his daughter and son-in-law, "What is going on here?!"

"Um, I am sure you that Kit and I have no inappropriate relationship. I'm just his fan, and helping him in the alley was just a small gesture!" Tina quickly explained.

Hadwin rubbed his forehead and stared at his daughter. "I'm not asking about you and Kit. I want to know why you went to the infertility clinic. What's going on?"

Tina was quick to respond. "Of course, it's to have a baby!"

"A baby? You want to have a baby now?" Hadwin stared at his daughter, and even Lina looked surprised.

"Yes," Tina replied.

Hadwin was taken aback. In his eyes, his daughter was still a little girl. How could she be thinking about having a baby?

Lina quickly patted her husband's chest and turned to her daughter and Chandler. "You two didn't accidentally cause a pregnancy, did you?"

Tina thought to herself, "If I did get pregnant, why would I need to go to an infertility clinic, Mom?"

Exactly! Lina looked at Chandler suspiciously. Could her son-in-law have some hidden issues in that area?

As for why she didn't think about her own daughter, it was all due to the filter of a mother's love.

Chandler blushed slightly. He knew exactly what his future mother-in-law's gaze meant, but he couldn't explain this kind of problem!

In fact, he was just as shocked when he saw the news trending!

When he saw that Tina had gone to the infertility clinic, he even choked on his coffee.

"Mom, Chandler doesn't have any problems in that area!" Tina quickly clarified.

Chandler was a bit speechless. This kind of clarification always made him feel strange.

"How do you know he doesn't have any problems?" Hadwin's voice suddenly rang out.

"Of course it's because I'm always with Chandler..." Tina's words suddenly stopped.

Oh no, she let it slip!

And there was a tense atmosphere in the air, Hadwin's expression changed!
