

Ex-Convict! 4339

Chapter 4339 The Most Suitable Person

A faint smile suddenly played at the corners of Harley's mouth. It was a shallow one, tinged with a hint of self-mockery and a touch of loss. Then, without saying a word, she simply passed by Lornell's side.

Lornell's brow furrowed slightly, a strange feeling spreading in his heart until he watched Harley's figure disappear from his sight.

"Lornell, what are you doing here..."

Ursula's voice, tinged with a hint of panic, echoed behind Lornell.

Lornell turned around, his gaze falling on Ursula.

why should you be trapped in it?"

"What does my happiness or lack thereof have to do with you?" Lornell said coldly, his gaze falling icily on the hand clutching his sleeve. "Let go!"

Ursula shivered, finally letting go of Lornell's sleeve.

Lornell's words were so indifferent as if she had no connection with him at all.

However, Ursula couldn't accept it. Lornell had always treated her well before, even letting her stand by his side, taking Harley's place and chatting with others. Why was he so indifferent now?

Was it because of what she had just said? Or was it because of Harley?

"So, do you really think I would fall in love with you?" Lornell said.

A look of embarrassment flashed across

Ursula's face!

Ursula, of course, felt that Lornell had a fondness for her. Even if it hadn't reached the point of love, she believed that as long as they continued, he would eventually fall in love with her.

But how could she possibly have said such a thing herself!

And so, Ursula could only have awkwardly said, "I know, you don't love me, but..."

However, before she could finish her words, Lornell interrupted her, "You're because she's the daughter of the Hart family? So you think she's suitable? If she wasn't the daughter of the Hart family if she didn't have the Hart family backing her, would you still feel the same way?"
