

Ex-Convict! 4349

Chapter 4349 Willing to Let Go

Harley was stunned, "Really?"

"Yes, I agree to break off the engagement. The official date for the termination of the engagement will be communicated to the Hart family by the Quentin family in due course," Lornell said.

Harley pursed her lips slightly, "Thank you."

"Thank you?" Lornell raised an eyebrow. "What are you thanking me for? For agreeing to break off the engagement? The Quentin family isn't at a loss. On the contrary, it's the Hart family that's going to pay a hefty price."

I couldn't make you fall in love with me. I hope in the future you can truly meet a woman you can love, and I wish you happiness."

The corners of Harley's lips lifted in a slight curve, a smile as refreshing as a spring breeze. It was as if she was telling everyone that she had truly let go!

Lornell was a bit dazed. Could he really meet a woman he could fall in love with?

So from now on, he and Harley would just be two people with no special relationship. Would he really not regret this?

At this moment, he suddenly felt a sense of doubt.

Although the Quentin family and woman. We're calling off the engagement simply because we feel we're not right for each other."

"Not suitable?" Karen asked curiously,

“You two are a good match in terms of social status, what’s not suitable about that?”

Although the Quentin family was a member of the Crypt families, not many people were aware of this fact.

However, the Snee family was also part of the upper crust in Emerald City, so they knew a thing or two about the Quentin family’s affairs.

“Does being from the same social class guarantee compatibility?” Harley said with a laugh. “Don’t you think that sharing the same values and loving each other, I have plans tonight,” Harley said.

“An appointment?” Karen was taken aback, “Who is it?”