

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes by Yvone Zabielski Chapter 156

Jaylin's mother, Karissa Haworth, came downstairs slowly.

Viola and the others had already entered the garden. There were so many people that the entire courtyard was filled to the brim.

The bodyguards at the door originally wanted to stop them, but under the pressure of this large group of people, the bodyguards seemed weak and helpless. They couldn't do anything,

Viola got someone to get the lounge chair in the garden and sat in the middle of the garden

Orlando picked some tangerines from the tangerine tree in the backyard of the Haworth's home. He stood quietly to the side and peeled them for her.

When Karissa came out of the villa, she was dumbfounded.

But she had been in charge of the Haworth Group for many years, and she was used to being calm and mentally strong

"Everyone, what is.

Before she could finish her words, she suddenly noticed the tangerine in Orlando's hand. Her face went pale. "Ouch! Orlando, stop it! This is our fortune tangerines. You can't touch it!"

"Can't he?"

Viola smiled charmingly. Her slender fingers took the peeled tangerines from Orlando. Her red lips parted slightly as she gracefully tasted a piece.

She smiled brightly, "You must have taken good care of them. It tastes good."

Karissa saw Viola finish the whole tangerine with heartache.

Karissa had sent someone to transport it back from Europe. It was very valuable. She believed the tangerine tree would bring good luck Every tangerine on that tree was very expensive.

Orlando picked more than one!

Karissa clenched her fists, suppressing the anger in her heart.

She said with a smile, "You really are an amazing woman. You got divorced and occupied the Caffrey Group in such a short time. There are not many women that can get my praise. You are one of them. If you want to visit my house, I will welcome you at any time. But what do you mean by bringing so many people with you?"

Viola didn't even look up as she waited for Orlando to peel the tangerines and eat another one. She lazily said, "You are overthinking. I'm not here to visit your house today. I'm here to settle the score with Jaylin."

"Settle the score?"

Karissa was stunned,

Jaylin happened to walk out of the stairs. When she saw Viola, the hatred in her eyes was obvious.

However, she soon noticed the group of men behind Viola. They were dressed in black suits, tall and straight. Each of them had a solemn expression on his face, as if they wanted to kill someone, extremely terrifying.

She walked to Karissa and stood side by side with her as she glared at Viola.

“You brought so many people to my house in broad daylight. I can sue you for trespassing and maliciously harassing.”

Viola waved her hand indifferently. “Mrs. Haworth just said that she would welcome me to visit the Haworth’s home at any time, so I came. Is this considered trespassing?”

Jaylin and her mother gritted their teeth and did not reply

The men behind Viola all shouted, “No!”

This voice was loud, deep, and majestic,

Jaylin and her mother were shocked by this sudden roar, and their faces turned pale.

Viola was very satisfied with their reactions. She sat up in a composed manner. “Two days ago, after I attended the charity party, my car actually exploded on my way home. And suddenly, forty people rushed out to kill me.”

Javlin shorted coldly.

“What does it have to do with me? You were clearly the one who didn’t believe properly. You’re too hateful! Unfortunately, they didn’t kill you.”

Viola had no expression on her face. “Yeah, thanks to you, I won’t die for the time being. I just suffered some minor injuries, so I came today to settle the score. Otherwise, I wouldn’t feel happy.”

When she said that she was injured, the faces of the men behind her became gloomy and horrible.

Orlando still lowered his head and seriously peeled the tangerines for Viola, as if it had nothing to do with him.

There were a total of fifty-nine people standing in front of Jaylin and her mother. If they were not mentally strong, they would have been scared to death.

Feeling threatened, Jaylin subconsciously grabbed Karissa’s arm and stared at Viola warily. “What do you want?”

Viola just smiled, her eyes extremely charming.

She gently raised her hand, and a group of bodyguards took a step forward.

Jaylin’s face turned pale. She subconsciously retreated and looked at Viola with her teeth gritted.

“The regulations in the United States are very strict. You don’t dare to kill me! And I didn’t do anything! You don’t have any evidence. What right do you have to settle the score with me?”

“Who said I’m going to kill you? It’s not fun if you die. But there will be evidence sooner or later. I can just vent my anger.”

At the end of her sentence, Viola stopped smiling. Her beautiful eyes were cold as she ordered, “Hold her down.”

The bodyguard immediately rushed forward to catch Jaylin.

The men behind Viola all rushed over. Jaylin felt helpless as she could do nothing to resist,

She was frightened. The memory of being slapped by Viola’s bodyguard last time was aroused, and her whole body was shaking Karissa was more experienced. She quickly reacted and shouted to her bodyguards, “Why are you still standing there? Call all the bodyguards and servants to protect Jaylin!”

The bodyguards of the Haworth’s home moved quickly.

However, they were no match for Viola and her people. In less than a minute, everyone in the Haworth’s home was under control

Seeing the situation was not good, Jaylin wanted to run. But before she could move, her shoulders were held.

Viola's people did not show any mercy and did a heavy blow. Jaylin was forced to kneel on the ground by brute force,

Her facial features twisted in pain. Jaylin shouted at the top of her lungs, "You bitch! If you dare to hurt me, I won't let you off! I will let you die a miserable death! Ouch! Let go!"

"You are too much! My family is influential in Washington, and we can't let you bully us as you please!"

Karissa was also controlled by the bodyguards, she could only complain and threaten Viola.

Viola ignored her and continued eating.

She stared at the two of them without blinking with her beautiful eyes. The corners of her mouth curled up, and her cheeks were bulging

Her playful and ruthless appearance made Orlando's heart tremble. He had the urge to quietly poke her fair and bulging cheeks.

He was staring intently at Viola.

But Karissa was looking and shouting at him, "Orlando! Lawrence is your family! He is not at home, and you let your ex-wife bully my family like this?"

Orlando was pale, and his tone was cold.

"Karissa, Jaylin should have told you that I signed an employment contract with Viola. I'm her man and can't help you.”

“You! You hold the candle to the devil! We are your family!”

Karissa was still complaining. Viola felt a little noisy and frowned. “Noisy. block her mouth.”

The bodyguard immediately went to find a rug and covered Karissa’s mouth. Because Viola wanted to ask Jaylin some questions, Viola didn’t block her mouth.

Viola took the dagger from Todd and played with it. She got up and walked to Jaylin.

She gently lifted Jaylin’s chin with the tip of the knife.

Jaylin felt a slight pain coming from her chin and was so scared that she didn’t dare to breathe. She trembled, helpless.

She said in a pleading tone, “Viola, it really has nothing to do with me. It’s useless for you to take revenge on me.”

Viola sneered, “I know that you have someone behind you. If you can get that person and Anaya for me, I will let you go. Our previous debts can be written off. How about it?”

This meant that Viola would no longer cause trouble for the Haworth Group.

And the Haworth family would have a peaceful life in the future.

Jaylin was a little hesitant.

However, Viola slapped her in front of everyone, causing her to lose all face. Jaylin would not forget that!
