

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 289

Who was helping Rebecca?

Max's face appeared in Viola's mind for no reason. That woman seemed to know clearly what had happened to Viola in Washington before...

Seeing that Viola didn't say anything, Rebecca was very proud. "What do you think, Viola? Are you flustered to find that your harsh tactics are useless to me?"

Instead of being intimidated by Rebecca, Viola looked even more aggressive.

Viola smiled. "I like challenging things the most. Since you don't take it seriously, I'll make this party a big fuss. But I think your parents and brother can't be as indifferent as you."

Viola looked at her watch and continued, "There are still eight minutes left. A birthday party will be held. If it becomes a laughing stock of rich and powerful families, let's see how your parents are going to talk about it."

"You! You are really not letting it go, are you?"

Under the delicate makeup of Rebecca, her face was gradually distorted with anger.

The two sides were in a stalemate, and their attitudes were very tough.

In front of the assistant of Angle Group and Irene, Rebecca felt embarrassed.

Suddenly, Stanley's voice came from afar in the corridor.

"Rebecca, Viola, what happened?"

Viola leaned against the door with an indifferent expression.

Stanley looked at Rebecca again, but Rebecca didn't say anything.

Finally, Irene took the initiative to explain to Stanley.

After hearing what had happened, Stanley smiled amicably and looked gentle and elegant.

"It's not a big deal. Today is Rebecca's birthday. Why do you have to make a fuss?" I remember that in the storeroom, there were also some performance clothes that Rebecca had ordered to store before."

Stanley turned to the servant and ordered, "Go to the storehouse and change all the members' clothes. Hurry up."

"Yes, Mr. Falcon."

Annoyed, Rebecca rolled her eyes and left.

With a gentle smile on his face, Stanley apologized to the girls in the room, "It's the Falcon family's fault. I'll apologize to you in person at the banquet later."

“Thank you, Mr. Falcon. Mr. Falcon, you are so kind.”

All the girls except Sherlyn nodded shyly. They liked him very much.

Since Stanley was the peacemaker, Viola had nothing to say. She turned around and left.

Stanley followed her silently and walked beside her. “Viola, it’s so nice to talk to you alone for a while.”

Viola ignored Stanley and walked faster.

The Falcon’s villa was large, and the corridor was wide and quiet, echoing the footsteps of the two.

Stanley took a deep breath and stood in front of Viola.

“Viola, I swear this is the last time. I’m just not reconciled. Even if you really want to refuse me so cruelly, you should give me a good reason.”

“I think I’m not as good as Ormand in terms of power and position. My personality and family background are no less than his. Why did you choose him instead of me after you got divorced?”

Viola didn't like Stanley's pestering, not to mention that she had talked to Stanley many times.

Then today, she decided to let Stanley give up completely.

"Stanley, I don't think there is anything you can compare with Ormand. Besides, I don't love you! You don't love me either!

"You know very well that you only have a sense of obsession and familiarity with me when you were a child. You have been lying to yourself. Moreover, even without Ormand, you and I will never become a couple. If you continue to pester me like this, we won't even be friends."

Stanley looked at Viola in a daze. He was devastated, but he didn't say anything to refute it.

Viola saw the expression on Stanley's face. There was no other emotion in her eyes except indifference.

Viola turned her head and was about to leave when a burst of rapid footsteps came from far to near. It was a male servant called Chad Scobell, who was helping around in the main banquet hall.

"Ms. McGraw, Mr. Hobson is looking for you. He seems to have something urgent to tell you. Please follow me!"

Viola stood still and looked at Chad from head to toe. The smile in her eyes became more evident.

If Ormand had something to talk to Viola, he would never assign anyone from the Falcon family to her.

What does Rebecca want to do to me in the Falcon's villa?

Viola put on a playful smile on her beautiful face, which was extremely sexy. She turned around and looked at Stanley. Stanley was still standing there, sad.

“Okay, lead the way.”

Chad lowered his head, bowed slightly, and reached out to make a gesture of welcome. “This way, please.”

Viola gracefully lifted the hemline of her long dress and took the lead.

Behind Viola, the aura of threat was approaching.

Viola sneered in her heart and remained untouched.

Chad walked quietly and grabbed Viola’s neck with his long arm. The white silk handkerchief stained with an overpowering drug covered her mouth and nose tightly.

After struggling for only two seconds, Viola fainted.

Stanley, who was still sad, saw with his own eyes that Chad was trying to drag Viola and take her away. Stanley immediately rushed forward to save her. 1

“What are you doing? Let her go!”

Chad heard that and ignored Stanley.

Stanley was going to snatch her away.

Rebecca suddenly appeared behind Stanley and stopped him. “Stanley, I did it. You can’t stop me.”

“Rebecca, are you crazy? If something happens to Viola in the Falcon’s villa, do you know what serious consequences it will bring to our family?”

Rebecca said calmly, “I know, but I won’t kill her in our house. Stanley, don’t be nervous. I know you like Viola very much. Don’t you want to get her?”

Stanley was stunned and had a bad feeling. “What do you mean?”

“I asked someone to make Viola faint. I’m going to send her to your bed.”

“You! How could you do that!”

Stanley looked at Rebecca in shock.

How can my sister be so vicious

“You are also a girl. How could you think of such a thing as rape?”

Rebecca sneered, “Otherwise, you can’t get her for the rest of your life! If you sleep with her and ruin her reputation, Ormand won’t want her anymore. If the scandal is spread out, no one from those rich and powerful families would dare to marry her, so she would only be yours.”

Stanley was shocked, unable to look straight at his sister who he had loved for many years.

“You are unreasonable!”

For the first time, his eyes turned red because of anger.

He raised his hand and wanted to slap Rebecca.

Rebecca didn’t dodge. Instead, she raised her chin and said provocatively, “Stanley, can you do it? I’m doing it for your own good. Is that how you repay me? Slap me then!”

Stanley’s aura was completely suppressed by Rebecca. He couldn’t let his hand fall on her face for a long time and could only watch Chad take unconscious Viola upstairs.

Rebecca pressed Stanley’s shoulder and said in a soft tone, “Stanley, I know you are kind-hearted. If you can’t do that when you are sober, I can help you!”

Rebecca said as she took a glass of champagne from a maid passing by.

În front of Stanley, Rebecca put a white pill into the champagne and stirred it well. The powder disappeared without a trace. Chapter 289 Viola Falls for the Trap

Then, Rebecca handed it to Stanley and continued to persuade him. “Stanley, trust me. I’m doing this for you. This is your last chance! As long as you take this step, Viola will be yours!

“Viola looked down upon you, let alone the Falcon family. You have loved her for decades, but she is so heartless to you. Are you really willing to give it a try, brother?”

Stanley stared at the champagne in Rebecca’s hand with a complicated look in his eyes. He was a little hesitant.
