

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 314

"Mr. Hobson, Ms. Zumthor is here." While hearing the familiar voice outside, Todd was the first to panic.

"Block the door and don't let Viola in."

Ormand instructed as he took a wet tissue from the table and hurriedly wiped the marks on his body.

His eyes looked brutal as he rubbed his skin, and he wished he could directly tear off this layer of skin.

"Orin, open the door." Viola's voice sounded from outside the door.

"Mr. Hobson, I feel I can't hold on much longer," Todd said with his back against the door.

LI

"Just hold on no matter how you feel." Ormand was getting more and more panicked, and he almost lost an idea about what to do. "How strange. Why can't it be wiped clean?"

What would Viola think of Ormand if she saw it?

With the obvious evidence, could she believe Ormand's innocence?

Shit, Ormand couldn't help but curse inwardly. He thought that he was not innocent and that he was already dirty, so he was sure that Viola would not accept him.

He was so anxious that his eyes turned red, and his entire person was on the verge of mania.

Ormand seemed to collapse, and Todd saw this while silently mourning for Ormand in his heart.

“Mr. Hobson. I can’t take it anymore.”

Todd threw himself forward and staggered a few steps before standing firmly as if someone was kicking the door behind him.

The moment the door opened...

Ormand’s mind went blank, and he anxiously focused his gaze on the small bathroom in the private room.

The moment Viola entered...

The man, who was originally on the couch, quickly slipped into the bathroom and locked the door.

The speed was so fast that Viola only saw an afterimage.

She was amused and pretended not to know. She asked Todd, "Where's Orin?"

Todd scratched his head and pretended to be confused while showing his spy skills.

Gre Bona "Strange. He was still here just now. Maybe I was wrong. He might have already gone out."

Viola raised her tone slightly. "Really? Why didn't I see him on the way here?"

"Maybe he went to the bathroom and went in the opposite direction," Todd continued.

Viola asked again, "Isn't there a bathroom in the private room?"

At that time, Ormand, who was in the small bathroom, heard this and immediately held his breath.

His back was against the door, and he was still quietly wiping the lipstick marks on his face and neck.

His skin was red, but the lips' marks were just a little lighter.

He couldn't help but think, shit.

Which brand is this bloody lipstick? Why can't I wipe the marks away?

I will let this unscrupulous manufacturer go bankrupt tomorrow.

Just as he was thinking angrily, the sound of the door handle turning came from outside, and it was followed by knocking.

"Is the door locked? Orin, are you inside?" Viola asked.

Ormand did not make a sound, and he did not dare move his hand that was wiping the lips' marks because he was afraid of being heard.

But Viola pressed against the thin glass door and felt the rapid breathing in Ormand's chest. Even Ormand's back was moving up and down while causing the door to tremble.

Viola wondered if Ormand was panicking.

She chuckled silently and calmed herself down before saying in a serious tone, "Todd. Did Orin drink a lot tonight? Will he be drunk in the bathroom?"

"Well..."

Viola said seriously again, "I saw a drunk person on the Internet a while ago. He pressed his head into the toilet to drink water. Orin has a big head. Could it be that his head was stuffed into the toilet and couldn't be pulled out? Could he be choked by the toilet water? What if he fainted?"

Todd burst into laughter.

It seemed like he couldn't hold it in, so he covered his mouth to prevent himself from laughing out loud.

He thought Viola's words were hurtful.

Ormand couldn't do such a thing even if he was beaten to death. But the scene that Viola described was so amazing, and it was hard for Todd not to imagine it.

Todd looked at Viola, who was pretentious, and he gave the latter a thumbs up.

Viola motioned to Todd, and she seemed to be saying that she could do more than that. Then, she continued to speak anxiously, "Hurry up and call the bar staff to open the lock. A minute later is a great threat to Orin's life."

Before Todd could reply, a cough came from the bathroom.

"I'm fine. I won't drink this much. I'll go back later. You don't have to wait for me," Ormand said coldly.

Viola said, "I especially came to pick you up and bring you back to the Viorin. You don't even dare come out to see me? Don't you appreciate my kindness?"

What responded to Viola was a long silence, which seemed to be silent consent.

“All right, I’ll go,” Viola said with a nonchalant smile.

After hearing this, Ormand heaved a sigh of relief.

He waited for a few more minutes until the sound of the door closing came.

It seemed to be quiet outside. He then asked in a low voice, “Viola left?”

“Yes.”

After getting a positive answer, Ormand tentatively opened the door.

After seeing Todd standing outside the bathroom, Ormand completely let go of his guard and walked out of the bathroom.

In the end, he was pressed against the wall by a beautiful figure who was hiding in the corner.

Viola pinched Ormand’s lower jaw and looked at the lipstick marks on his face and neck. Viola teased, “I see. No wonder you don’t dare see me. Look at these lipstick marks. They’re so beautiful. The party seemed to be so fancy, Ormand.”

“Viola, I...”

Ormand’s eyes were red, his face was pale, and he couldn’t say a word.

Viola originally wanted to tear off Ormand’s clothes and ridicule him again. But after thinking about it, Viola was still afraid that she would go too far and provoke Ormand.

Thus, she did not say anything and turned to leave the private room without looking back.

“Mr. Hobson, don’t worry. I’ll help you persuade Ms. Zumthor back.” Ormand was about to chase after Viola when Todd stopped him.

After saying that, Todd ran out and caught up with Viola.

The two walked to the safe passage where no one was around before they could barely hold back their laughter and laughed loudly.

Laughter echoed in the safe passage, and it was particularly presumptuous.

Todd covered his belly with his hands because he couldn't stop laughing

He had lived for decades, but this was the first time he had tricked Ormand like this. It was so much fun.

But even if it was fun, it seemed like Todd was still a little worried.

“Ms. Zumthor, how do you plan on explaining it? Mr. Hobson has a stubborn personality. If he can't handle it well and loses his mind from anger, he may make extreme decisions.”

Viola also knew that she should stop in time.

But when she thought of the handcuffs and leather whips that she had seen at the online shopping mall during the day, she felt that she could not let Ormand go so easily.

Anyway, it was impossible to use those things on her.

It was just the right time to teach Ormand a good lesson.

She wanted to be the queen of Ormand.

She knew Ormand wanted to counterattack. And she was clear that Ormand wanted her to surrender first.

LI

But that was not possible.

Her red lips curved up in a mischievous smile that was bewitching. Her little finger beckoned to Todd.
“When you go in later, tell him this...”

After listening, Todd took a few deep breaths.

He silently gave Viola a thumbs-up while admiring the latter from the bottom of his heart.

“Ms. Zumthor, you’re impressive.”

The joys and sorrows of a person might always not be understood by others.

When Todd returned to the private room, he saw Ormand, who was sitting on the couch with a decadent expression. But Ormand still looked handsome.

Get tomus There was not a hint of hope left in Ormand's eyes. "Will she not forgive me? That's right. I'm dirty, and I can't forgive myself."

"It's not dirty, Mr. Hobson."

Todd hurried over and sat next to Ormand. He took out a pack of cleansing wipes from his pocket and helped Ormand remove the lipstick marks on Ormand's face.

"Ms. Zumthor gave this to me. So you can become clean again," Todd said.

Ormand remained unmoved. There was still not a hint of hope in his eyes.

"Mr. Hobson, I just used all my strength to explain to Ms. Zumthor that you didn't betray her. And I said that you were tricked by someone."

"Really?" Ormand finally reacted.

"Of course," Todd answered firmly.

But he suddenly said, "But, she is still very angry. She was angry because you didn't tell her when you came out to drink. You dared be alone with other women when you were drunk. You deserve to be schemed against. You are a fool."

Ormand pursed his lips and remained silent. He was seriously reflecting on Viola's criticism.

Seeing that Ormand was reflecting on what he said just now, Todd held back his laughter and continued earnestly.

"See? If you had given in earlier, wouldn't all these things be gone? But after all this, she now has another reason to be not on speaking terms with you. A woman should be comforted immediately if she is angry."

"Do you have any ideas?" Ormand raised his eyes.

"Of course, I have the most devious ideas. I guarantee that I will make Ms. Zumthor cool down tonight," Todd said while patting his chest.
