

Ex-Wife 1828

Chapter 1828

Xavier's displeasure was obvious. "I don't think that's necessary." "Why not? She has the right to know your thoughts. If you choose to forgive Shirley, Lei can think about whether she wants to forgive you since she's your current girlfriend.' Previously, she couldn't understand why Leia felt so conflicted and hurt in her relationship with Xavier, but now she did— Xavier's hesitation and fickleness filled Leia with insecurity. What a despicable man! On one hand, Xavier shamelessly and constantly pursued Leia, but on the other hand, he faked generosity and tried to reconcile with his first love. He was clearly fooling around. How could such a disloyal man make Leia happy? Renee wanted Leia to know the truth.

"This is between her and me. You don't know the situation, so stop meddling in our relationship." Xavier had always been casual and indifferent, but his relationship with Leia had made him frustrated and miserable. He would easily get upset when someone brought up Leia.

"What are you going to do if I don't?" Renee fiercely rebuked Xavier. "Stop dragging things out. Two women are waiting for you to make up your mind! Or, are you trying to have the best of both worlds while leading them on?" "No, of course not!" Xavier frowned and said icily, "Why do you care about others' romance so much? Is it because your own relationship is disappointing? You should try to fix your own relationship instead of meddling in others' affairs. Do you think your relationship with Stefan is very good?"

Renee's heart ached, and she smiled bitterly in realization. "You're right. I already have my own problems, but I'm still trying to worry about you and Leia. I must be overestimating my capabilities." She felt that her current situation was crazier than Xavier and Leia's.

"Alright, let's stop arguing," Xavier said finally, realizing that his words had been quite harsh. He had always had a soft spot for Renee since she was the first woman he was serious about, and he couldn't bear to hurt her." Are you sure you want to make this guy famous?" Xavier changed the topic and glanced at Jeffrey, who had timidly watched them all argue with each other.

"Yeah, I would like to add some pureness into that lousy entertainment circle." Renee leaned against the chair, her tone confident.

"His looks are pretty good, and his natural charm is quite rare. He looks wild and bold, and as long as he has some experience, it'll be easy to make him famous," Xavier sized Jeffrey up and said objectively. As the head of Universal Entertainment, Xavier was confident that he could make Jeffrey a star, since he had done the same with many others.

"Okay, I'll leave him in your capable hands." Renee got up and patted Jeffrey's shoulders. "Kid, listen to Xavier from now on. He'll make you famous."

Xavier looked at Renee, feeling slightly pressured. "Umm... Well, the crew of The Heart of the Grassland is currently searching for a male lead, so why don't we let him audition for it?"
