

Ex-Wife 1878

Chapter 1878

He..." The others exchanged glances, looking hesitant.

Anxiety filled Renee as she watched them.

She was about to push away her blanket to get up, ignoring her IV drip.

"What's wrong with Adie? Tell me now.

If not, I'll go and see him!" "Ren, don't!" Leia gently stopped Renee, who was very agitated.

"The most important thing for you right now is to get better.

Don't worry about the other things for now." "What do you mean?" Renee looked up at Leia, her eyes watery.

"You think my Adie is just some 'other thing'? Nothing is more important than him.

If anything happens to him, I'll kill myself too!" "Sis, calm down.

Lei didn't mean that." Quinton frowned and said solemnly, "Your body is your treasure.

If you ruin your body, how can you protect the people you care about?" "But I have the right to know about my son's condition, right?" Renee was no fool.

Given their reactions, something must have happened to Adie.

It didn't matter what happened to her body for now, she just needed to know that Adie was okay.

"Adie should be fine." Quinton cleared his throat and said slowly, "We don't have any news about him yet, but based on my experience, no news might be the best news." "What are the details?" Renee demanded.

"There are no details." Calmly, Quinton explained, "Our men are searching the island inside and out, and the rescue team will inform US immediately if there's any news.

Any speculation other than that is just unnecessary trouble." "Is that so?" Renee clenched her fists, trying to control her rage.

If Quinton wasn't her brother, she would have made a scene.

Had he just been wasting time? He had no useful information to offer her.

"Yeah, you should feel lucky that there's no bad news." Quinton shrugged. "Lucky?" Renee closed her eyes, feeling pained.

She felt worthless right now, not being able to do anything other than worry.

"Mommy..." Abby was heartbroken to see her mother that way, and held Renee's hand.

"Don't be sad.

I'm sure Adie will be sad if he knows that you are.

I'll be very sad too " Renee opened her eyes and fixed her gaze on Abby eagerly "Abby, you know what happened to Adie, right? Tell me.

You're closest to me, so you wouldn't lie to me, right. T... abby's eyes were full of tear as she looked at The

Leia, Quinton, and the others hesitantly.'

Abby, just ignore them.

Tell me what happened to Adie.

I can only help him if I know what happened to him." Renee urged Abby.

Children did not know how to tell lies so her daughter would surely tell her the truthThe content is on