Ex-Wife 1881

Chapter 1881

Suddenly, Chase, Quinton's subordinate, rushed into the room.

"I have clues! Adie, he..."

He stopped when he realized Renee was awake, and glanced at Quinton uncertainly.

"What's wrong with Adie? Tell me now!"

Renee ignored her injured wrist and leaped out of bed to go to Chase.

"Tell me the truth! I'm his mother; I have the right to know!"

The bandage around Renee's wrist was red with blood because she had moved too quickly, and when Leia noticed that, she hurriedly held Renee and said soothingly, "Ren, calm down.If not, your wound will open again..."

"Til get the nurse!"

Justin said anxiously and immediately ran out of the room.

A nurse quickly entered a few moments later, and was shocked to see the bloodstained bandage.

"Stop moving around. Are you trying to make it worse?"

"I'm fine!"

Renee snapped, determined to get an answer from Chase.

"Tell me about Adie's condition now!"

"Adie, he..."

Chase turned to Quinton hesitantly, unsure if he should tell Renee or not.

"We'll deal with your wound first,"

Quinton ordered.

"I said I'm fine!"

Renee turned around, scowling at Quinton angrily.I don't understand. All of you have been hiding something from me since I woke up, and nobody wants to tell me the truth...Do you all even respect me as Adie's mother?"

"Ren, don't be like that.Quinton is just concerned about you. He doesn't want you to worry because it might affect your recovery," Leia said gently. "Do I look like an idiot or a worthless piece of trash? Do you think I'd recover faster watching my son get kidnapped and doing nothing about it?" Renee's eyes became watery as she spoke, feeling desperate and helpless.

"Do you all think I'm worthless? I can't keep my husband and protect my son so i'd better just stay in this cage you all made and be an idiot who does nothing

Annoyed, Quinton replied, "What's so bad about being an idiot at least you won't get hurt and worry others.An idiot, at least, won't keep torturing themself pining after a scumbag!"

He stroked Renee's head, feeling sorry for her.

"Look at what you've become, Renee.Sometimes, I just wish you'd be an idiot and let me protect idiot and fetus E bean!

you. That way, you wouldn't get hurt!"

Helplessness washed over Justin.

"You both really are siblings. Well.... think Chase can update us while the nurse treats Renee's would right? I'm sure s someone like Pheonix can take the news!"
