

Ex-Wife 1889

Chapter 1889

The wind calmed a little half an hour later, but the downpour kept worsening.

Stefan quickly docked the yacht, then got onto the island in the pouring rain.

"Mr. Hunt, slow down...

Wait!" The captain ran after Stefan with an umbrella, trying to shield him from the heavy rain.

"This island is remote and undeveloped, and people don't dare to come here.

We have to be careful in case we run into undercurrents or hidden caves." "I don't care about any of that!" Stefan snapped, "Get more manpower.

I have to find my son!" Even a second of delay in this weather would be risky for Adie, and Stefan couldn't afford that.

"But there's no signal here.

We can't get in touch with the others!" The captain held the walkie-talkie up in the air, but there was no response or signal.

It was impossible to get more manpower, and it was also dangerous because they couldn't contact a rescue team if needed. "Keep trying, or go get the yacht and sail back to get some men.

I'll look around on the island." "No, I can't do that!" The captain shook his head vigorously.

"You're an important person, Mr. Hunt; I can't let you take that risk.

If anything, you should go back to get help.

I'll stay here." "It doesn't matter.

It's up to you if you want to go back or stay here.

Everyone knew how dangerous the island's terrain was, and it was very dangerous to be there during a hurricane.

Stefan didn't want anybody to get hurt, so he didn't force the captain to stay.

"Mr. Hunt, please don't say that.

I owe Hunt Enterprise, so of course I'll follow you.

We'll find Adie!" The captain took a deep breath and made up his mind.

"Let's go.

We'll find Adie no matter how dangerous it is!" The two of them moved forward in the rain, carefully scanning their surroundings.

Soon, they found the cave where Adie and others were hiding.

"Mr. Hunt, there's a cave here!" The captain spotted the cave and exclaimed, "The plants at the Gave entrance look like they've been stepped on recently, which means someone must have just entered the cave." "Let's go in and check it out!" Stefan hurriedly bent down and carefully entered the cave.

The captain hesitated briefly, then loyally followed Stefan into the cave.

Adie and the others, who were in the inner part of the cave heard noises

coming from the entrance

"Listen! Someone's coming!" Adie warned Madelyn and Tiffany.

"That can't be.

No one would dare come to the island during a hurricane Madelyn said casually but looked concerned when she heard footsteps getting closer.

"Come here, you two!" Madelyn quickly grabbed Adie and Tiffany.

At that moment, Stefan appeared, looking furious.

"Let go of my son!"