

Ex-Wife 1891

Chapter 1891

"Calm down!" Stefan said nervously, his eyes growing wide. "We can talk it out... just don't hurt him. I don't think there's any reason for us to fight." As far as he knew, he hadn't met Madelyn before, so he figured she didn't kidnap Adie for revenge.

"Oh, we're definitely not enemies. I'm actually a fan of yours, Mr. Hunt. I admire you very much..." Madelyn gazed at the handsome Stefan from afar, feeling excited and flustered like a young girl again. "I know that you're a noble rich heir, and an excellent president. I even watched the movie you filmed with Shirley... It's said that the movie is about the romance between you and your wife."

Stefan frowned, not expecting this at all. He had wanted to kill Madelyn and save Adie, but it seemed like she was his fan. "I did shoot a movie, but it was many years ago. Did you target my son because of that?" Stefan asked Madelyn in confusion. Although it sounded silly, there had been cases of fans attacking celebrities like Nolan Hart, the lead singer of the indie band from Varangia, and Jose Katz, a martial arts movie star. Both of them had been killed by their fans. Stefan had only made that movie to win Renee back, and if that was the cause of this woman kidnapping his son, he had to be one of the unluckiest people in the world.

"No!" Madelyn shook her head firmly. "It has nothing to do with that. I'm just jealous of your feelings toward your wife. After watching that movie, I started to believe in love, and long for marriage. I thought love could overcome everything."

Stefan was speechless. He wanted to scold Madelyn but was forced to be patient because she had Adie with her. "If it has nothing to do with me, why did you kidnap my son? Am I to blame for you becoming a love-struck fool after watching that movie? Also, it's not like that movie was so great either-my marriage with my wife hasn't been good from then until now. What was the point of it all anyway?" The movie had been from Renee's point of view, and included all the grievances that she had suffered in the marriage as well as his regret. It was a rather melancholic story, not at all like a pure and innocent romance.

"You might not like it, but I'm very jealous of it." Madelyn sighed and said, "I thought my husband and I could lead such a wonderful life too, but reality gave me a fatal blow..."

*So, you chose to take revenge on society and kidnap my son?" Stefan clenched his fists, struggling to suppress his anger.

"Since you're here, I'm sure that your wife will also be here soon. So..." After a pause, Madelyn gave Stefan a meaningful look. "I'm waiting for an answer."
