

Ex-Wife 1892

Chapter 1892

"What answer?" Stefan asked coldly.

"We'll know once the heroine is here," Madelyn said cryptically.

"Renee?" Stefan snorted.

"You'll be disappointed then.

She won't come, and I won't let her come either." At that moment, Renee was still lying in the hospital, weak from blood loss.

Stefan knew that Quinton and Leia wouldn't let her leave the hospital until she was fully recovered.

"why not?" Madelyn demanded.

"Her son's life is in my hands, and her most beloved man is trapped in a cave.

She's the only one who can rescue the both of you, so I'm sure she'll come." "She won't come.

If you wait any longer, the oxygen in the cave will run out, and we'll all die here!" Stefan tried to suppress his rage, and ordered Madelyn, "Let Adie go.

I won't hold you accountable as long as we come out of this disaster safe and sound.

oy "I don't care about that." Madelyn looked up and laughed hysterically.

"I didn't plan to go back alive, so it's better that I've got two more people to die with me, especially one who was once my admired idol." "You're crazy!" Stefan finally realized that there might be something wrong with Madelyn; nothing he said was getting through to her.

He turned to Adie and discreetly winked at him, trying to get him to kick Madelyn's leg and escape.

Adie, however, ignored Stefan's wink and said indifferently, "Don't worry about me, Daddy-Tiffany's mother won't hurt me.

If she wanted to, she would have done it ages ago.

She's a little scared now, so she needs me to give her courage.

Just leave me be and go back.

When the hurricane is over, I can have fun on the island!" "Adie, I know she's out of her mind, but are you too?" Stefan asked in bewilderment.

"I came all the way here to find you and take you back, so don't even think of staying here any longer to have fun.

Don't you know that everyone is worried about you?" "You're the only one who's worried about me." Adie shrugged nonchalantly.

"If not, why didn't Mommy come? She isn't worried that I'm all alone on this island, so you don't have to be worried either." "What are you saying?" Stefan groaned helplessly.

For the first time, he realized how difficult it was to deal with Adie's tantrums.

However, he couldn't tell Adie that Renee was hospitalized and couldn't come even if she wanted to. Suddenly, they heard a rumbling at the entrance of the cave.

"What happened?" Stefan turned around in alarm, asking the captain behind him.

"I don't know.

I...

"I'll go and check it out." The captain held a torch and went back the entrance

To his shock, it was blocked by huge rocks, and rain kept seeping into the cave through the cracks.

Frightened, the captain collapsed on the ground, staring at the darkness ahead in despair

"Oh no...

It's terrible!"
