

Ex-Wife 1894

Chapter 1894

"The news said that this is a powerful hurricane-it's almost a category three. Also, the center of the hurricane is only sixteen thousand feet from that island, so Adie's in grave danger right now!" Leia clenched her fists in agitation, wanting to rush to the island to rescue Adie. "There's no time to lose. Adie needs us!"

"I know that!" Quinton sighed in frustration. "I've sent Chase there to check things out. We can't panic at a time like this... If Ren finds out about this, she'll want to go there, and we can't afford that."

"But we can't keep hiding it from her!" Leia tried to calm herself down by rubbing her hands, but it didn't work. "No, I can't sit here and do nothing. I've got to save Adie. If anything happened to him, I wouldn't be able to face Ren." Leia was a woman too, and although she didn't have children, she knew how important a child was to their mother. If something happened to Adie, it would crush Renee, and Leia didn't want to see that happen.

"You'd only make things worse." Justin leaned against the wall, looking unusually serious. "You're weak, and you can't carry anybody or run fast. You'll only get yourself killed if you go there... It's a waste of manpower."

Leia scowled and stamped her feet in anger. "Hey, what's your problem? Do you have something against me? I'm no weaker than you, and I'm not as lousy as you say I am. I don't even know why you're here actually... Maybe you're the mastermind behind Adie's kidnapping."

"Me?" Justin pointed at himself in disbelief. "Are you out of your mind? Since we're at a hospital, why don't you get your brain checked?"

"Excuse me?" Leia was a hot-tempered person, and she rolled her sleeves up, wanting to beat Justin up. "I was just teasing, so why are you so mad? Did I guess it right? You're guilty, aren't you?"

"What's there to feel guilty about? Don't be ridiculous!" Justin scoffed angrily.

Quinton rubbed his temples and said icily, "Don't you both have anything better to do? If your bickering wakes Renee up, I'll teach both of you a lesson!"

Both Leia and Justin immediately went silent. They didn't dare provoke the legendary Night Demon.

"Forget it. I'll go check on Ren!" Leia glared at Justin, not wanting to be in the same room as Justin. However, the second she opened the door, her face turned pale. "Oh no..." Leia turned to Justin and Quinton in despair and shouted, "Ren... She's gone!"
