

Ex-Wife 1900

Chapter 1900

Time seemed to have stopped at that moment.

"Mommy!" Tiffany screamed, trying to crawl to the cave.

"Don't go there!" Renee quickly stopped Tiffany.

"It's too dangerous.

Your mommy...

Maybe she's already..." "No, I want to save Mommy.

She's still alive, I'm sure of it!" Tiffany shook her head stubbornly, her face wet with tears.

"Mommy is still waiting for me to save her.

I can't leave her behind.

It's my fault...

If I hadn't said all those things, Daddy wouldn't have given my brother up...

It's all my fault.

I want to say sorry to Mommy.

I want her to forgive me!" Tiffany kept crying as she spoke, her love for Madelyn clear.

However, it was too late.

The landslide had covered the entire cave, and Madelyn's chance of survival was very slim.

1 Holding a compass, the captain looked around before glancing at the cloudy sky.

He turned to them and urged, "Mr.

Hunt, Ms.

Everheart, we have to go.

If we don't leave now, we might not be able to get out of here!" Renee bit her lip and carried Tiffany, who kept struggling.

"We have to go!" "No, I don't want to.

Let go of me! I want to save my mommy.

Let me go!" Tiffany refused to cooperate, and struggled in Renee's grip.

"If nobody wants to save her, I will.

I can save her, so let go of me!" Renee winced as the little girl kicked her.

"Kid, do you understand what I'm saying? We can't save her.

Why are you being so stubborn? Maybe I should just leave you there to get buried!" "Go ahead.

I'm not afraid of you.

Let go of me!" Tiffany spat at Renee, her eyes blazing with hatred.

In her mind, Renee was the one who had killed Madelyn.

"No wonder Adie refused to go back— you're a horrible person! You can save my mommy, but you refuse to.

You're very bad!" Stefan was carrying Adie and walking behind them, and his expression became thunderous when he heard that.

"Shut up! Adie's mommy is the best in the world.

Don't compare her to your crazy mommy.

If you keep on saying that, I'll beat you." Tiffany glared at Stefan.

"You all watched her die and didn't save her.

You're bad people.

Beat me up and kill me if you can! If not, I won't let you go when I'm out of here. The content is on conte

I'll ask the cops to catch you.

I - "Suddenly, her eyes rolled back in her head, and the little girl fainted.

Stefan's hand was poised over

Tiffany's back and Renee's eyes grew wide when she realized he had knocked her out.

"What are you doing, Stefan? Are you out of your mind? She's still a kid!" So she has to bear the consequences of her words stefan scoffed and hugged Adie tighter, then continued, "Isn't it quieter now?"m "Umm.. "Renee took a deep breath, feeling her headache subside and her body relax.

"Yeah, it's more peaceful now."

"That's good then Stefan raised his chin proudly and strode forward

He followed the captain's lead and went to the yacht they had docked by the island.

The interior of the yacht was water-resistant, so it had survived the hurricane.
