

Ex-Wife 1903

Chapter 1903

"I've never misunderstood you." Stefan avoided Renee's fierce gaze and whispered, "You've always been perfect to me..."

I'm the one with the problems.

I'm not a good husband or a good father." "I don't need your flattery..." Renee's eyes turned watery, and she punched his chest.

"What are you hiding from me? Even after all this, why are you still unwilling to tell me..."

Stefan, I chose you, so I know and trust your character.

You're not the kind of guy who would abandon your wife and family for another woman.

There must have been another reason for it, right?" "No, there wasn't." Stefan grabbed Renee's wrist and stared at her coldly.

"You're very confident in yourself.

I'm not a good guy.

If I were you, I would stay away from men like me.

You only ever got hurt when you were with me." "I don't think I was hurt..." Renee raised her head and said stubbornly, "I've got two cute kids and a memorable romance, and you saved my life.

I wouldn't be here if you didn't risk your life to gather those herbs." "You're being stupid!"

Helplessness overwhelmed Stefan, and he teared up as he said hoarsely, "If it weren't for me, you would have had an easy life. You might have found a good guy and led a good life, and you would have been happier without me.

I cheated on you, and there are pictures as proof of it.

Just know that I don't want to hurt you anymore, okay?" "I can understand why you cheated on me..." Renee took a deep breath and pretended to be indifferent.

"An energetic young man like you would easily get distracted when faced with a sick wife like me.

I can overlook it.

I know that you just saw her as a tool to satisfy your desire.

I don't care about that at all, and I'm no longer sick, so...

you can start over with me." Renee didn't know why she was throwing away her pride like this.

She held his hand and placed it on her face.

"I can do what she can.

We can be happy together too..." "Don't do this..." Stefan took a step back, feeling sorry for Renee.

"You used to be free, independent, and strong.

You never took men seriously!"

"People change especially when they Le

get a second chance

I'm not what you think I am; this is the real me.

I just want to follow my heart and have no regrets.... Renee whispered the stood on tiptoe and kissed him.

She would never try to please him that way in the past but all hatred towards him disappeared when he almost died.

She just wanted to be with him, and show him that she still cared.

"How could you..." When Stefan felt her lips on his, he stiffened.

He knew that he should turn her down, but his body refused to listen.

Unable to stop himself, he cradled the back of her head and deepened their kiss.
