

Chapter 34 Accident

Theo searched the living room but couldn't find Cecilia anywhere, and his brows furrowed tighter. In an instant, various speculations surged in his mind. He could no longer bear the possibility of Cecilia leaving him.

He ascended a few steps to the second floor and opened the door, only to find Cecilia softly consoling Jace. The child had been crying incessantly, most likely frightened by the fight between him and Luke. Theo approached them with deep remorse, hesitating as he gazed at her.

As Cecilia lifted her head and saw Theo's scarred face, an inexplicable emotion entwined her heart.

"Why do you endure such suffering?" Cecilia couldn't fathom what of her deserving Theo's devotion to her.

"I am not deserving of your sacrifices." Cecilia placed the child on the bed and turned to fetch the medicine kit.

"No, you deserve everything. You are worth my utmost devotion." Theo raised his hand and firmly clasped her hand.

Cecilia paused. Faced with his kindness, her resistance waned. His arrival today had already startled her. She had made herself clear yesterday, yet Theo remained unwilling to give up. This unwavering determination softened Cecilia's heart.

"Luke, he..." She attempted to explain for Luke, but Theo sealed her lips with his, preventing her from speaking.

"I know, you don't need to explain for him." After a prolonged silence, Theo released her and said in a subdued tone.

He simply didn't want to hear Cecilia utter another man's name. "That guy went too far." Theo couldn't help but furrow his brow in pain, murmuring to himself.

Cecilia couldn't help but chuckle at his words. Actually he was the one who made the first punch!

"Cecilia, I know I was wrong. From now on, let's live a good life together. I will protect both of you!"

Theo's sincere and determined demeanor moved Cecilia, and she nodded in agreement. Perhaps, he truly wanted to cherish her now. Cecilia decided to give herself a chance and also give Theo a chance. She raised her hand and firmly held his hand, looking up at him with a radiant smile.

The next day, Theo moved into Cecilia's villa, saying that it would be more convenient for him to take care of them. Cecilia watched him placing his belongings in the room, smiling silently. Then their happy life started and soon Theo won the heart of little Jace.

One day, Theo received a phone call, saying there's an emergency, so he immediately drove to the company. Cecilia knew that career was something Theo highly valued, so she didn't inquire further. After preparing dinner, she waited for his return, but he didn't come back. Cecilia made several calls to him, but there was no answer. Unbeknownst to Cecilia, Theo was currently entangled in an unexpected situation and didn't hear his phone ringing at all.

After waiting at home for a while, Cecilia started to worry if Theo had encountered a conflict with Luke. After much hesitation, she grabbed her clothes, held her child, and decided to go out to find Theo. Just as she was turning to close the door, a hand suddenly covered her mouth and nose. Cecilia struggled and turned to see a familiar face looking at her with a sly smile.

"Maeve!" She exclaimed, and then she lost consciousness.
