

Expert Down The Mountain by Summer Chapter 21

Chapter 21

Cyrus smiled. "Of course. Even though you guys have been beaten up pretty badly, I think... you all did the right thing." "I'll go back to the company and help you all to apply for one week's leave" Talia felt grateful as she nodded vigorously. After he asked Alda to look after Ekialde and the rest, Cyrus headed back to the company.

After he arrived, he helped them apply for one week's leave.

After he got off work, he went back to Thousand Medicine Pharmacy. With his help, Ekialde and the rest recovered really quickly.

At least their injuries were not as visible. Their family would not find out when they returned home. Of course, Ekialde's injuries were more severe. He still needed to stay in bed for a couple more days.

The next day, Cyrus returned to Team Four's office. Talia and a few of the team members' eyes lit up when they saw him. They felt excited and idolized him. "Cyrus!" She called out. Nigel and the few of them stood in a row like they were in the military. Cyrus said gloomily, "What are you guys doing?" "We will listen to you from now on. We will follow your lead!"

Talia's words were sonorous and stern.

Nigel chuckled excitedly, "Cyrus, you're our savior! We will be working for you from now on!" Cyrus laughed. "I was wondering what was going on... Well, do whatever you want." 'I'll only be here temporarily, anyway. It's good that these rich second generations are happy.' "Did you change your style?" Cyrus looked at Talia. Talia blushed as she asked nervously, "Do... Do I look good?" "Well, yes. You look much better this way, instead of your previous hooligan style." Indeed, Talia had changed. She no longer wore teenage girl make-up. She put on some decent make-up and dyed her hair black.

She changed her outfit to formal attire, and looked like a young secretary. She was overjoyed when she heard this. At this moment, someone knocked on the office door. She hurriedly said, "Come in!"

A decent-looking woman entered and looked around the office. "Tell Mr. Long to go to Meeting Room 3 for a meeting once he's here!". Just as Talia was about to say okay, she suddenly remembered that Ekialde was still in bed. She then said, "Mr. Long is on leave today. Can the assistant team lead go?" When the woman heard this, her gaze turned sarcastic. 'It's still the same even if all of you go. All of you are useless!' But all of them were the company directors' children. She can only nod formulaically. "Of course!" After the woman left, Cyrus clicked his tongue and said, "I'm surprised that they want you guys to attend the meeting." Talia said embarrassingly, "It's just the standard operating procedure... Although we can't do anything else, we can still run errands and serve them drinks..." After she said this, Nigel and the rest looked a little embarrassed. "This won't do..." Cyrus sighed as he shook his head. 'I don't intend to sit around idly. I must lead this team! I can't just receive money and do nothing. Mr. Gardner will be very disappointed.'

Chapter 22

The moment Cyrus entered Meeting Room 3, most of the people paid attention to him.

However, the look they gave him was strange. "Who are you?" A man looked at him arrogantly. "I'm Cyrus Salazar, the assistant team leader of Team Four. Mr. Long is on leave today. I'm here today on his behalf," Cyrus said. "Team Four?" The man smiled contemptuously, "Mr. Salazar, don't you think Team Four is such a waste of space? The company needs to pay for the mineral water, you know?" The others lowered their heads and laughed unabashedly when they heard this. Mr. Flores frowned. He quickly relaxed. "Mr. Blanke is in charge of the company's finances. I understand that you want to save the company's money. "But could it be that our company's funds are so tight that you need to care about the cost of one mineral bottle?"

The chief financial officer snorted. "I just don't want to waste our resources! Mr. Salazar, don't be out of line!"

Mr. Flores smiled and did not reply. He then talked to Cyrus. "Quick, take a seat, Mr. Salazar." Cyrus was poised and smiled at him gratefully before he sat down. A tall figure emerged. Cyrus could not help but turn to look.

Korah instantly saw Cyrus when she entered the meeting room. She frowned. He was the last thing that she wanted to see.

"Since everyone is here, let's start."

Korah's clear, cold voice resounded in the meeting room. "All departments should actively operate in the near future, and make sure your projects are beyond reproach. "You should also keep an eye on the ongoing projects. Don't make any mistakes, be especially careful of safety conditions! "Also, those in the Project Department, quickly complete the projects that have not been connected before." A silence followed. Korah was a practical person. She had done her homework. After each order was issued, the head of each department would not have any objections. Cyrus noticed a slight change in Korah's outlook. She acted differently when she was at the company compared to when she was at home. At the end of the meeting, Mr. Blanke suddenly raised his hand. "Ms. Gardner, the fund for the Deluxe Parkside Project has never been recovered. May I know how you want to rectify this issue?"

Korah frowned a little and looked at Alfred Cook, the Project Department's team leader for Team One. "What is going on, Mr. Cook?" The Deluxe Parkside Project was the first project she was responsible for when she joined the company after she graduated. Alfred's expression changed and he smiled bitterly. "Ms. Gardner, the team leader in charge of quality inspection, Mr. Zuniga, said that there was a problem with the quality of the project..." The expressions of many people in the meeting room changed, and then they all looked at Korah.

"Nonsense!" Korah's expression turned sour. "I have been following up with the Deluxe Parkside Project from the start. We never cut any corners throughout the whole project!" Stefano then said sarcastically, "Ms. Gardner, you're the one who's responsible for the project. You better think of a solution to rectify this issue.

"Without Mr. Zuniga's quality inspection report, we would lose the balance payment of twenty million dollars."

"Haco Corporation is currently keeping an eye on us and is waiting for us to make mistakes. If this news spreads tomorrow and the business owners drop by and make things difficult, Ms. Gardner, things will get really ugly." Korah was stunned. She then glared at Alfred. Alfred anxiously lowered his head and did not dare to meet her gaze.

“Ms. Gardner, I don’t think Mr. Cook is an alarmist. The Internet is developed, and the influence of public opinion has a huge impact!” said Hamilton Scott, the head of the Human Resource Department.

Victor frowned and said, “The Deluxe Parkside Project is the first project that Ms. Gardner has led. She, more than anyone else, hopes that this project can be completed perfectly. “Everyone, don’t worry. Ms. Gardner will settle this issue.”

Stefano looked disdainful and sneered. “Oh, really? We’ll see.”

Korah’s gaze was cold. Stefano’s father was the second-largest shareholder of the company. Originally, he was supposed to be the chairman.

However, with the Deluxe Parkside Project in her hands, she bested him.

It seemed like Stefano still had not moved on from it.

Alfred, Team One’s leader, and Hamilton, the head of the Human Resource Department had sided with him.

“Mr. Blanke, Mr. Scott, don’t worry. I will settle this matter.”

Korah instantly calmed down. Alfred said in a soft voice, “Ms. Gardner, tomorrow is the deadline Mr. Zuniga gave us...” Korah’s expression changed. She was furious. She wanted to ask why he had not informed her earlier. However, when she noticed Stefano’s cunning gaze, she immediately controlled her emotions. ‘He must have hidden it from me on purpose! ‘He’s just waiting for me to lose my temper and make mistakes! “Alright, noted,” she replied as she suppressed her anger. When Stefano saw that she did not lose her temper, he felt sorry for her. He took a glance at Cyrus. “I heard that the members in Team Four caused trouble outside the company again. They fought in a bar, right?” He laughed and said, “Team Four’s performance has always been substandard. They have always caused trouble. They discredit the company’s reputation.” “I don’t think this group is effective anymore. Why don’t we abolish it!?”

Korah was so angry that she gritted her teeth. ‘Is he threatening me with Team Four?!’

At this moment, Cyrus, who had been listening quietly, spoke up. “You’re Mr. Blanke... right?” Stefano looked at him indifferently. Cyrus smiled. “Mr. Blanke, you’re pretty nosey, aren’t you? Since you said this, let’s make a bet.

“I’ve read the company’s rules and regulations. The minimum performance standard for a team is to have a twenty-million-dollar project.” “In one month’s time, Team Four will have projects that cost twenty million dollars and above. I don’t think you’ll have a problem with us then, right?” After Stefano heard this, he was stunned for a while. Then, he was overjoyed. This brat thinks God sides with him! He laughed and said, “Of course. Mr. Salazar, it looks like you’re very confident in the team that you just joined. I’m looking forward to your performance, then!” Korah glared at Cyrus fiercely. She felt extremely annoyed. ‘Why is this b*stard causing trouble?!’

Expert Down The Mountain by Summer Chapter 22

Chapter 22

The moment Cyrus entered Meeting Room 3, most of the people paid attention to him. However, the look they gave him was strange. “Who are you?” A man looked at him arrogantly. “I’m Cyrus Salazar, the assistant team leader of Team Four. Mr. Long is on leave today. I’m here today on his behalf,” Cyrus said. “Team Four?” The man smiled contemptuously, "Mr. Salazar, don't you think Team Four is such a waste of space? The company needs to pay for the mineral water, you know?" The others lowered their heads and laughed unabashedly when they heard this. Mr. Flores frowned. He quickly relaxed. "Mr. Blanke is in charge of the company's finances. I understand that you want to save the company's money. "But could it be that our company's funds are so tight that you need to care about the cost of one mineral bottle?"

The chief financial officer snorted. "I just don't want to waste our resources! Mr. Salazar, don't be out of line!"

Mr. Flores smiled and did not reply. He then talked to Cyrus. "Quick, take a seat, Mr. Salazar." Cyrus was poised and smiled at him gratefully before he sat down. A tall figure emerged. Cyrus could not help but turn to look.

Korah instantly saw Cyrus when she entered the meeting room. She frowned. He was the last thing that she wanted to see.

"Since everyone is here, let's start."

Korah's clear, cold voice resounded in the meeting room. "All departments should actively operate in the near future, and make sure your projects are beyond reproach. "You should also keep an eye on the ongoing projects. Don't make any mistakes, be especially careful of safety conditions! "Also, those in the Project Department, quickly complete the projects that have not been connected before." A silence followed. Korah was a practical person. She had done her homework. After each order was issued, the head of each department would not have any objections. Cyrus noticed a slight change in Korah's outlook. She acted differently when she was at the company compared to when she was at home. At the end of the meeting, Mr. Blanke suddenly raised his hand. "Ms. Gardner, the fund for the Deluxe Parkside Project has never been recovered. May I know how you want to rectify this issue?"

Korah frowned a little and looked at Alfred Cook, the Project Department's team leader for Team One. "What is going on, Mr. Cook?" The Deluxe Parkside Project was the first project she was responsible for when she joined the company after she graduated. Alfred's expression changed and he smiled bitterly. "Ms. Gardner, the team leader in charge of quality inspection, Mr. Zuniga, said that there was a problem with the quality of the project..." The expressions of many people in the meeting room changed, and then they all looked at Korah.

"Nonsense!" Korah's expression turned sour. "I have been following up with the Deluxe Parkside Project from the start. We never cut any corners throughout the whole project!" Stefano then said sarcastically, "Ms. Gardner, you're the one who's responsible for the project. You better think of a solution to rectify this issue.

"Without Mr. Zuniga's quality inspection report, we would lose the balance payment of twenty million dollars."

"Haco Corporation is currently keeping an eye on us and is waiting for us to make mistakes. If this news spreads tomorrow and the business owners drop by and make things difficult, Ms. Gardner, things will get really ugly." Korah was stunned. She then glared at Alfred. Alfred anxiously lowered his head and did not dare to meet her gaze. "Ms. Gardner, I don't think Mr. Cook is an alarmist. The Internet is developed, and the influence of public opinion has a huge impact!" said Hamilton Scott, the head of the Human Resource Department.

Victor frowned and said, "The Deluxe Parkside Project is the first project that Ms. Gardner has led. She, more than anyone else, hopes that this project can be completed perfectly. "Everyone, don't worry. Ms. Gardner will settle this issue." Stefano looked disdainful and sneered. "Oh, really? We'll see."

Korah's gaze was cold. Stefano's father was the second-largest shareholder of the company. Originally, he was supposed to be the chairman. However, with the Deluxe Parkside Project in her hands, she bested him. It seemed like Stefano still had not moved on from it.

Alfred, Team One's leader, and Hamilton, the head of the Human Resource Department had sided with him.

"Mr. Blanke, Mr. Scott, don't worry. I will settle this matter."

Korah instantly calmed down. Alfred said in a soft voice, "Ms. Gardner, tomorrow is the deadline Mr. Zuniga gave us..." Korah's expression changed. She was furious. She wanted to ask why he had not informed her earlier. However, when she noticed Stefano's cunning gaze, she immediately controlled her emotions. 'He must have hidden it from me on purpose! 'He's just waiting for me to lose my temper and make mistakes! "Alright, noted," she replied as she suppressed her anger. When Stefano saw that she did not lose her temper, he felt sorry for her. He took a glance at Cyrus. "I heard that the members in Team Four caused trouble outside the company again. They fought in a bar, right?" He laughed and said, "Team Four's performance has always been substandard. They have always caused trouble. They discredit the company's reputation." "I don't think this group is effective anymore. Why don't we abolish it!?"

Korah was so angry that she gritted her teeth. 'Is he threatening me with Team Four?!' At this moment, Cyrus, who had been listening quietly, spoke up. "You're Mr. Blanke... right?" Stefano looked at him indifferently. Cyrus smiled. "Mr. Blanke, you're pretty nosey, aren't you? Since you said this, let's make a bet.

"I've read the company's rules and regulations. The minimum performance standard for a team is to have a twenty-million-dollar project." "In one month's time, Team Four will have projects that cost twenty million dollars and above. I don't think you'll have a problem with us then, right?" After Stefano heard this, he was stunned for a while. Then, he was overjoyed. This brat thinks God sides with him!' He laughed and said, "Of course. Mr. Salazar, it looks like you're very confident in the team that you just joined. I'm looking forward to your performance, then!" Korah glared at Cyrus fiercely. She felt extremely annoyed. 'Why is this b*stard causing trouble?!'

Expert Down The Mountain by Summer Chapter 23

Chapter 23

"Mr. Salazar, you have no right to speak here!" Korah said sternly in a cold voice. Stefano smiled and looked aggrieved for Cyrus. "Ms. Gardner, I don't think that's the case. Since Mr. Salazar attended this meeting, he has the right to speak. "Ms. Gardner, aren't your words too harsh?" Korah clenched her fist. She was fuming! 'Team Four is infamous, even outside the company. Who would want to sign a contract with them? 'What do you know, Cyrus?!' "Ms. Gardner, I think Mr. Blanke is right. Team Four needs to show some results to prove its capability."

Cyrus did not seem to notice what Korah was trying to do as he spoke seriously. Stefano smiled broadly. "I truly admire such an ambitious person like you. If Team Four is able to sign projects worth twenty million dollars and above..."

"I will acknowledge the team and never again ask to abolish the team.

"However, I want Team Four to win this bet on their own. They must not seek any help in secret."

Cyrus nodded and said plainly, "Deal." Stefano jested, "Deal." Korah's expression was dark as she glared at Cyrus furiously. She looked like she wanted to stab him a thousand times. When Stefano saw Korah's expression, his mood became better. He asked with a smile, "Ms. Gardner, are we dismissed?" Korah took a deep breath.

"Everyone is dismissed!"

Everyone collected their belongings and left the table.

Before Stefano walked out, he turned and looked back at her mockingly, "Ms. Gardner, remember, tomorrow is the deadline given by Mr. Zuniga." After saying this, Stefano walked out of the meeting room triumphantly. "Do you have a screw loose?" Korah was fuming as she lashed out at Cyrus. "No, I'm fine," Cyrus said. "You're fine? I think you're pretty sick! Cyrus, do you know that no matter how arrogant Stefano Blanke is, he can never abolish Team Four?!"

"The company created Team Four! Stefano is just using Team Four to threaten me!

"And you made a bet that cannot be retracted. Team Four will get disbanded because of your impulsive action. The chairmen won't do anything to Stefano! "They will only attack you, you brainless b*stard!" Of course, other than that, if Team Four was disbanded, another issue would arise too.

However, she could not speak of this.

Cyrus decided not to argue with her anymore when he noticed how angry she was. He smiled cheerfully. "That's good. If Team Four is disbanded, I can leave the company. You won't need to see me here anymore."

Korah was stunned when she heard this.

Cyrus, on the other hand, walked out of the meeting room with a calm expression. Korah only came back to her senses after some time passed. She cursed under her breath. That b*stard just keeps making me angry! She went back to her office and said to her secretary, "Make an appointment with Mr. Nathan Zuniga for the quality inspection! Tonight!"

In the office of the Chief Financial Officer, Stefano sat in his chair, smiling broadly.

Someone knocked on his door. Stefano said cheerfully, "Come in." ;

Hamilton, the head of Human Resource entered. He asked doubtfully, "Do you think that bright guy will be able to settle Korah's problem?"

Stefano smiled plainly. "Of course. He has someone supporting him from behind the scenes."

Hamilton frowned and said, "The chairman will back her up."

"Haha, Hamilton..." Stefano suddenly burst out laughing. "Once Team Four is disbanded, there will be no one to protect Korah."

"I'm glad Cyrus bet with me on this. If not, I won't be able to disband Team Four!"

'Team Four has always been considered useless and idle. There's no excuse not to disband Team Four!

'At least, now I don't need to worry about how to disband Team Four.'

When Cyrus entered Team Four's office, Talia instantly poured him a drink. "Thanks," he said.

Talia, Nigel, and the rest of the team members surrounded him and asked curiously, "Cyrus, what did you all discuss in the meeting?" Cyrus simply explained it to them. Their faces became pale. "Cyrus... Twenty... twenty-million-dollar project?" Nigel stuttered. "Yes." Cyrus nodded.

The six rich second-generation employees who were called "trash" and "garbage" fell to the ground. Their legs had all turned numb at the same time. All of them were grief-stricken as if they had just lost their parents. "Twenty-million-dollar projects...? That's impossible..." Nigel murmured blankly. Cyrus noticed their expressions. He could not help but ask curiously, "Is it that difficult? We just need to work hard, no?" Talia cried out, "Cyrus, it's not as easy as you think. Project Department's Team Four in Gardner Corporation is infamous..." "Everyone knows that our team is full of useless rich second generations. No one will hand over any project to us..."

Cyrus frowned slightly. 'I see. No wonder Stefano was so sure that I would not be able to hit the target at all.'

"Good God... If I can't even stay in Team Four, my father will definitely say I'm more useless than trash."

One of the members, Lucas Duncan, looked as if he was dead.

Everyone looked as if they had just seen a ghost. Cyrus comforted them when he noticed how depressed they looked. "Don't worry. Team Four will not be disbanded. I will take responsibility for it.

"If we don't hit the target by then, I will ask Mr. Lufian Gardner to protect Team Four." When they heard this, they raised their heads and their eyes lit up. "Are you being serious?" Cyrus nodded. "Yes. Don't worry, okay?" The team members cheered up. They looked as if they had survived a disaster. They did not worry about how Cyrus would achieve the target. With Mr. Gardner backing him up, no one would dare to do anything to him!

Chapter 24

Nigel and the other Team Four members were relieved when they heard that Cyrus had promised to protect them. But Talia was still worried about this matter. Cyrus flipped through Team Four's work records. Hmm... It was just like what Ekialde had told him. The Team Four members were just running some errands, like sending documents and contracts that had been finalized.

"Cyrus... Why don't you just surrender to Mr. Blanke? I think he is a generous man, and he won't make things hard for us." While flipping through documents, Cyrus smiled and said, "Your father is one of the shareholders, but you're scared of Mr. Blanke?"

Talia showed a gloomy expression and said, "I'm just an insignificant person in the family, and my words do not carry much weight. My father just ignores me. The company will only judge you based on your abilities. How can we compete with Mr. Blanke...?"

"Besides, Mr. Blanke's father is the second-largest shareholder in the company. So, his words carry more weight than my father's at the board of directors meeting."

Cyrus smiled faintly and said with a relaxed tone, "Just take it easy. I'll think of something."

Talia immediately understood that Cyrus would not give up or seek forgiveness from Mr. Blanke.

Suddenly, Talia gritted her teeth and said with a quivering voice, "Cyrus, just let me know if there is anything I can do to help!" Cyrus was shocked, but he still smiled and said, "Sure."

Cyrus left the company during his lunch break and headed to Thousand Medicine Pharmacy. Ekialde was still resting there, and he wondered how he was faring.

At Thousand Medicine Pharmacy...

"Cyrus... Thank you!" Ekialde had already regained consciousness. He recovered very quickly from his injuries because of Cyrus. "You're welcome." Cyrus nodded. Then, he used Truman's needle to promote blood circulation and remove blood stasis in Ekialde. "By the way, I went to a company meeting on your behalf." Ekialde immediately replied, "You can make any decision when it comes to Team Four! Don't think of it as going on my behalf!" Ekialde was grateful to Cyrus because he saved his life yesterday. When Cyrus thought about today's meeting, he asked, "Is Stefano on bad terms with Ms. Gardner?"

Ekialde was startled and nodded. "They do not get along well at all. Stefano should have become the company's general manager, but Ms. Gardner assumed the position because of the Deluxe Parkside Project. "So, he holds a grudge against Ms. Gardner!" Ekialde's expression changed slightly. "Did Stefano put Ms. Gardner on the spot in the meeting?"

Cyrus nodded. "Stefano pointed out that the Deluxe Parkside Project had some problems, saying that the quality is not up to standards and cannot be accepted."

"Bullsh*t!" Ekialde was a little agitated. "Ms. Gardner has been supervising this project, and there is no problem whatsoever!

"Scr*w the person who did the quality check! I'm going to tear him to pieces!" "It was someone called Zuniga," Cyrus said. Ekialde's expression became dreary when he heard that. "It was that useless man, Nathan Zuniga?" Cyrus asked curiously, "Do you know him?" "Of course!" Ekialde said coldly, "I often went to the red-light district in the past, and that's where I heard of Nathan.

"Cyrus, Nathan is not a good person. You can't let Ms. Gardner meet with him alone! He always uses dirty tricks to take advantage of beautiful women!

"I also know that Nathan has a close relationship with the chairman of Haco Corporation..." Cyrus' eyebrows flew up when he heard that. Haco Robinson? Korah was Lufian's most beloved granddaughter, so Cyrus would not let anything happen to her.

In that case, it seemed that he needed to get rid of Nathan and Haco Corporation...

Truman walked toward Cyrus while he was lost in thought. He smiled and said, "Cyrus, the medicine you used last night was so effective! Ekialde's wounds have recovered so much overnight."

Cyrus smiled and said, "If you like this, I can write down the prescription for you." "Ah..."

Truman was stunned. He looked a little excited because he was interested in such a helpful prescription. Although Cyrus was generous, Truman was a little embarrassed to just take it. "Alda, bring me a pen and paper." When Cyrus saw Truman hesitate, he smiled and asked Alda to bring him pen and paper. "Okay!"

Alda smiled. She looked so attractive.

She was not an indecisive person like her grandfather!

When Truman saw that, he felt a little excited, but also resigned. He sighed and said, "Fine, I won't act like a pretentious snob anymore. If you need anything in the future, just let me know."

Cyrus nodded.

Truman was amazed when he looked at the prescription. "Can we prescribe the medicine in such a combination..? It's my first time seeing it!"

Cyrus had a calm disposition because his master's medical skills were superb, and he only learned a few skills from his master. But even so, his medical knowledge was better than most doctors.

At this time, Cyrus' phone rang. It was a call from an unknown number.

Cyrus picked up the call. "Hello, who am I speaking to?"

"Cyrus, it's me. Zedekiah Penn."

Cyrus was a little stunned. "Mr. Penn, how can I help you?"

Cyrus wondered how Mr. Penn got his phone number.

"Ah, my body has recovered, and I will be leaving Fliton City.

"You left because of urgent business last night. So, I would like to treat you to another meal tonight and introduce you to someone. Are you available?"

Cyrus felt bad for rejecting Zedekiah again. He thought for a while and said, "Sure, but I may be a little late."

"No problem. See you in Room 2101 of Ember Hotel." "Okay."

After Cyrus hung up, Truman smiled and said, "You had to leave early yesterday night, so Zedekiah asked me for your number." Cyrus finally understood how Zedekiah got his number. "I'm going back to the company first."

He was just on his lunch break at the moment. Cyrus still needed to clock in at work.

After Ekialde's reminder, Cyrus wanted to meet with Korah when he returned to the company. However, he had not gotten a chance to meet her.

So, he could only go to the parking lot after work to wait for Korah.

"I have other plans tonight. Go back on your own."

Korah thought that Cyrus wanted to hitch a ride home.

"Nathan has connections with Haco Corporation. Let me go with you." Korah rolled her eyes when she heard that. "Are you insane?! Bringing a dog would probably benefit me more than bringing you!" – After saying that, she got into the car, started the engine, and left. Cyrus felt helpless because Korah left him standing alone in the parking lot.

Expert Down The Mountain by Summer Chapter 24

Chapter 24

Nigel and the other Team Four members were relieved when they heard that Cyrus had promised to protect them. But Talia was still worried about this matter. Cyrus flipped through Team Four's work records. Hmm... It was just like what Ekialde had told him. The Team Four members were just running some errands, like sending documents and contracts that had been finalized.

"Cyrus... Why don't you just surrender to Mr. Blanke? I think he is a generous man, and he won't make things hard for us." While flipping through documents, Cyrus smiled and said, "Your father is one of the shareholders, but you're scared of Mr. Blanke?"

Talia showed a gloomy expression and said, "I'm just an insignificant person in the family, and my words do not carry much weight. My father just ignores me. The company will only judge you based on your abilities. How can we compete with Mr. Blanke...?"

"Besides, Mr. Blanke's father is the second-largest shareholder in the company. So, his words carry more weight than my father's at the board of directors meeting."

Cyrus smiled faintly and said with a relaxed tone, "Just take it easy. I'll think of something."

Talia immediately understood that Cyrus would not give up or seek forgiveness from Mr. Blanke.

Suddenly, Talia gritted her teeth and said with a quivering voice, "Cyrus, just let me know if there is anything I can do to help!" Cyrus was shocked, but he still smiled and said, "Sure."

Cyrus left the company during his lunch break and headed to Thousand Medicine Pharmacy. Ekialde was still resting there, and he wondered how he was faring.

At Thousand Medicine Pharmacy...

"Cyrus... Thank you!" Ekialde had already regained consciousness. He recovered very quickly from his injuries because of Cyrus. "You're welcome." Cyrus nodded. Then, he used Truman's needle to promote blood circulation and remove blood stasis in Ekialde.

"By the way, I went to a company meeting on your behalf." Ekialde immediately replied, "You can make any decision when it comes to Team Four! Don't think of it as going on my behalf!" Ekialde was grateful to Cyrus because he saved his life yesterday. When Cyrus thought about today's meeting, he asked, "Is Stefano on bad terms with Ms. Gardner?"

Ekialde was startled and nodded. "They do not get along well at all. Stefano should have become the company's general manager, but Ms. Gardner assumed the position because of the Deluxe Parkside Project. "So, he holds a grudge against Ms. Gardner!" Ekialde's expression changed slightly. "Did Stefano put Ms. Gardner on the spot in the meeting?"

Cyrus nodded. "Stefano pointed out that the Deluxe Parkside Project had some problems, saying that the quality is not up to standards and cannot be accepted."

"Bullsh*t!" Ekialde was a little agitated. "Ms. Gardner has been supervising this project, and there is no problem whatsoever!

"Scr*w the person who did the quality check! I'm going to tear him to pieces!" "It was someone called Zuniga," Cyrus said. Ekialde's expression became dreary when he heard that. "It was that useless man, Nathan Zuniga?" Cyrus asked curiously, "Do you know him?" "Of course!" Ekialde said coldly, "I often went to the red-light district in the past, and that's where I heard of Nathan.

"Cyrus, Nathan is not a good person. You can't let Ms. Gardner meet with him alone! He always uses dirty tricks to take advantage of beautiful women!

"I also know that Nathan has a close relationship with the chairman of Haco Corporation..." Cyrus' eyebrows flew up when he heard that. Haco Robinson? Korah was Lufian's most beloved granddaughter, so Cyrus would not let anything happen to her.

In that case, it seemed that he needed to get rid of Nathan and Haco Corporation...

Truman walked toward Cyrus while he was lost in thought. He smiled and said, "Cyrus, the medicine you used last night was so effective! Ekialde's wounds have recovered so much overnight."

Cyrus smiled and said, "If you like this, I can write down the prescription for you." "Ah..." Truman was stunned. He looked a little excited because he was interested in such a helpful prescription. Although Cyrus was generous, Truman was a little embarrassed to just take it. "Alda, bring me a pen and paper." When Cyrus saw Truman hesitate, he smiled and asked Alda to bring him pen and paper. "Okay!"

Alda smiled. She looked so attractive.

She was not an indecisive person like her grandfather!

When Truman saw that, he felt a little excited, but also resigned. He sighed and said, "Fine, I won't act like a pretentious snob anymore. If you need anything in the future, just let me know."

Cyrus nodded.

Truman was amazed when he looked at the prescription. "Can we prescribe the medicine in such a combination..? It's my first time seeing it!"

Cyrus had a calm disposition because his master's medical skills were superb, and he only learned a few skills from his master. But even so, his medical knowledge was better than most doctors.

At this time, Cyrus' phone rang. It was a call from an unknown number.

Cyrus picked up the call. "Hello, who am I speaking to?"

"Cyrus, it's me. Zedekiah Penn."

Cyrus was a little stunned. "Mr. Penn, how can I help you?"

Cyrus wondered how Mr. Penn got his phone number.

"Ah, my body has recovered, and I will be leaving Fliton City.

"You left because of urgent business last night. So, I would like to treat you to another meal tonight and introduce you to someone. Are you available?"

Cyrus felt bad for rejecting Zedekiah again. He thought for a while and said, "Sure, but I may be a little late."

"No problem. See you in Room 2101 of Ember Hotel." "Okay."

After Cyrus hung up, Truman smiled and said, "You had to leave early yesterday night, so Zedekiah asked me for your number." Cyrus finally understood how Zedekiah got his number. "I'm going back to the company first."

He was just on his lunch break at the moment. Cyrus still needed to clock in at work.

After Ekialde's reminder, Cyrus wanted to meet with Korah when he returned to the company. However, he had not gotten a chance to meet her.

So, he could only go to the parking lot after work to wait for Korah.

"I have other plans tonight. Go back on your own."

Korah thought that Cyrus wanted to hitch a ride home.

"Nathan has connections with Haco Corporation. Let me go with you." Korah rolled her eyes when she heard that. "Are you insane?! Bringing a dog would probably benefit me more than bringing you!" – After saying that, she got into the car, started the engine, and left. Cyrus felt helpless because Korah left him standing alone in the parking lot.

Expert Down The Mountain by Summer Chapter 25

Chapter 25

“Korah is...”

Cyrus frowned. He wondered if everyone simply disliked him. “I need to ask Lufian how big of a favor my master owes him... It’s too difficult to serve Korah.”

Anyone who got married to Korah would be unlucky! After sighing, Cyrus immediately followed behind her.

At Ember Hotel...

After Korah parked her car, four strong and fit bodyguards stepped out of the Cadillac beside her car.

“Ms. Gardner!”

The four bodyguards bowed politely. “Let’s go.” Korah’s expression was dreary. She certainly would not be attending this meeting by herself. She had asked the bodyguards to arrive earlier and wait for her at the hotel’s parking lot. She carefully chose these four bodyguards, and they all had great skills. If Nathan dared to attack Korah, these four men would deal with him immediately. Korah huffed coldly as she thought about Cyrus’ advice. She wondered if Cyrus thought that she did not know how to protect herself and needed him to be involved in her business.

In one of the private rooms of Ember Hotel... A young man with dark circles under his eyes was making a phone call. “Mr. Robinson, don’t worry, I will settle Korah Gardner for you!” “Haha, I will let her reputation get destroyed tonight. I’ll record the video and send it to you!” “Let’s not talk about money. Mr. Robinson, you’re too kind. It’s my duty to do things for you!” “Sure! Then, I won’t be so courteous with you!” The man hung up. He opened the gallery app on his phone and kept scrolling through the photos that were secretly taken. He got turned on when he was looking at the beautiful woman on his phone.

The beautiful woman on the phone was Korah. And the man who was looking at the photos was Nathan Zuniga.

“She is so beautiful...” Nathan looked aroused. Korah, the CEO of Gardner Corporation and daughter of the Gardner family, was famous not because of her capability but her beautiful looks. Many men wanted to date her but failed.

But now, Nathan got a chance to lay his hands on the most famous and beautiful woman in Fliton City.

As he thought about it, he felt that all the blood in his body was flowing toward his head. He was so excited that he started trembling.

He normally would not dare to do anything to Korah. But now, he had Haco’s support! He now had Haco as his backer, so why did he need to hesitate to lay his hands on Korah? Knock, knock, knock!

As Nathan was thinking about how he would handle Korah, someone knocked on the door of the private room.

He immediately got up, straightened up his clothes and composed his expression. He said faintly, “Come in!” When Nathan saw Korah in her professional suit, he could not take his eyes off her. “Ms. Gardner, finally you came!” Nathan showed an arrogant smile. Korah said politely, “Mr. Zuniga, sorry to keep you waiting. There was a little traffic congestion along the way.” “I understand that.” Nathan nodded and glanced at the bodyguards Korah had brought. He snorted and felt that Korah was a wary person.

Korah had pre-ordered all the dishes. She had informed the hotel to serve her food before she arrived.

So, although she had just sat down, all the dishes were served.

After all the dishes were served and they had a quick chat, Korah smiled and said, "Mr. Zuniga, I'm young and inexperienced. If I have offended you, please forgive me." "I'll drink three cups of wine to show how sorry I am. If I have offended you in the past, please forgive me!"

After she finished, Korah drank three cups of wine in succession.

Nathan smiled when he saw Korah drinking, "Ms. Gardner, you're being too polite! Actually, there are some flaws in the Deluxe Parkside Project, but those flaws are not very serious."

"I have admired you for a long time and I always wanted to have a meal with a capable woman like yourself. But, I think you don't like people like me, so you turned me down even though I invited you out a few times."

After hearing that, Korah frowned and said, "Mr. Zuniga, you must be kidding. If you invited me for a meal, how could I reject you? I'll find time for you even if I am busy!"

"However... I heard nothing of the sort from my secretary..." "Ah?" Nathan frowned.

"Didn't Mr. Ansley mention it to you?"

When Korah heard this, she suddenly realized what was happening. Jack Ansley, the assistant manager of the Human Resource Department, was Stefano's subordinate. So why would he inform her about Nathan's invitation?

"Perhaps Mr. Ansley forgot," Korah said with a frown. He had forgotten?

Nathan sneered. He felt that all those in upper management shared the same behavior. They would just put all the blame on their subordinates.

However, Nathan was still smiling. "I think so... Ms. Gardner, don't just drink. Please try some of the dishes too."

Korah was not scared at all because she had brought bodyguards with her and she had picked all the dishes. So, she took her time to see what Nathan was up to.

After drinking for three rounds, Korah mentioned the Deluxe Parkside Project again.

"Mr. Zuniga, I'm not sure what issues have arisen with regards to the Deluxe Parkside Project. I have very little experience and I am not knowledgeable. Hopefully, you can guide me on this..." As she spoke, Korah felt that the images in front of her had split into multiple versions of themselves and overlapped with each other. She could even see Nathan blurring into several images. Korah felt very dizzy all of a sudden. She was frightened. How could it be... She had ordered all the dishes before she arrived. She barely pushed over a wine glass. Clink! The wine glass fell and broke into small pieces. Korah used all her strength to get herself off the chair and faced the door. She wanted the bodyguards to save her.

She could roughly see that all her bodyguards were fighting with other people...

Suddenly, she felt despair creep in. Even though acted carefully, she still fell into Nathan's trap! When Nathan saw Korah lie down weakly on the floor, he panted heavily and gulped.

He ran toward Korah excitedly.

"Ms. Gardner, are you trying to fool me? I'm much smarter than you! I bribed all the staff who served the dishes and wine. Do you think you can run away from me?"

Nathan walked toward Korah and grabbed her chin hard. He was so excited as he stared at Korah's beautiful face.

Bang! The private room door was closed. Korah's bodyguards were overpowered by Nathan's men. Nathan quickly stood up, took out his phone, and set it up so that it pointed toward the sofa.

Then, he carried an unconscious Korah to the sofa. At this moment, a loud noise could be heard outside the door. Nathan did not care and quickly took off his shirt! When he was about to jump onto the sofa, the door was pushed open. Nathan was startled. He turned and shouted, "D*mn you, who gave you permission to come in?!"

Cyrus walked into the private room and saw that Korah was unconscious. He said helplessly, "I reminded you, but you refused to listen..."

Nathan also came to his senses and was shocked. He scolded, "Who the h*ll are you? Get out of here right now!" Cyrus looked at the phone and pointed at the sofa and Nathan who was topless. He frowned slightly. Cyrus immediately responded coldly, "You guys are much more vicious than I thought."