

F.D Emperor 151

Chapter 151: The Lucky Fool (Finale)

After coughing for a few minutes without stopping, Long Aotian proceeded to carefully remove the spiritual herb known Blood Yang Peony based on the method described by Fang Lijuan.

After that, he took out a talisman with a grin on his face as this was the method he planned to use that allows him to feed this spiritual herb to Huang Min.

Then Long Aotian suddenly slap himself in the face before muttering, "How stupid am I? Why didn't I use this invisible talisman to hide from that demonic beast?"

After that, Long Aotian proceeded to climb the cliff he had just fallen off. There he saw the demonic beast not far from him. So, he activated the talisman, turning him completely invisible before he secretly approached the Tier 4 Demonic beast.

However, as soon as he reached more than a few meters from the beast, it suddenly reacted and started looking around. However, the beast did not find anything around him.

Meanwhile, Long Aotian frowned after seeing this. He realized that this talisman was not all powerful and some people will notice him if he gets close enough, for example Huang Min.

However, he did not care since his plans can still be executed despite this flaw. Furthermore, he realized that this talisman was not as simple as it seemed; there seemed to be some kind of seal on him, preventing it from showing its full power.

After thinking about this, Long Aotian then had a fierce battle with the Tier 4 Demonic beast. Well, to be precise, he hid with the talisman then sneak attacked the beast. When the bird was in its last dying breath, Long Aotian promised to save it if it surrendered to him, becoming its slave.

Although unwilling, the Tier 4 Thunder Eagle signed a Beast Contract with Long Aotian, becoming his pet.

After that, Long Aotian rode the Thunder Eagle towards the direction of the Huang Divine Dynasty. It took him a while to learn about the current situation, which made him even more furious towards Huang Min.

Especially when he learned that his Savior Coalition was actually on the verge of destruction. Long Aotian's urge to kill Huang Min suddenly increased dramatically.

After hearing this news, he rushed straight towards the border where Huang Min was located. With the use of the invisible talisman, he secretly infiltrated the barracks. Of course Long Aotian learned his lesson and did not rush to confront Huang Min, nor did he meet with any powerful cultivator.

He spent a few days observing all of Huang Min to determine his daily routine. Then, he found the perfect opportunity.

One night, Huang Min was drinking wine with one of his favorite concubines in his hand. He was in a very good mood as he will soon conquer the territories of the Savior Coalition, so he decided to reward himself.

With one inside her blouse, he held his wine cup on the other. Once he finished a serving, his combine would immediately refill the cup again for him. Huang Min was very happy with how submissive she was.

After drinking a few dozen cups, Huang Min suddenly felt a little dizzy. At first he thought that he might have drunk a little too much, however, things suddenly took a different turn when he spat a big mouthful of black blood.

Realizing the severity of the situation, he immediately mobilized his origin qi to try to remove the poison in his body, however, it turned out to be useless. On the contrary, this poison seemed to spread throughout his body even quicker.

Afterwards, Huang Min fell on the ground breathing heavily, black blood started coming out his eyes and an intense pain suddenly assaulted him. He tried to scream for help, however, no sound seemed to be coming out of his throat.

So, he looked in the direction of his concubine, hoping that she would go quickly to ask for help. Unfortunately for him, when his eyes locked onto his concubine, all he saw were eyes full of hatred looking at him.

Then, the concubine spit at Huang Min before starting to kick him in his private area. Huang Min tried to scream again, but it was of no avail.

Meanwhile, the concubine had tears streaming down her eyes as she screamed while still kicking Huang Min:

"You took everything from me, my body, my soul, and even my family. You defiled my purity by making me do these horrible things. I wished that your death was even more miserable than it is now."

Meanwhile, Huang Min who was struggling down in the floor managed to gather some strength to activate his bloodline power, then with a wave of his hand, a powerful shockwave hit the concubine, throwing her away.

However, Huang Min's situation suddenly aggravated. The poison seemed to have discovered something very appealing to it, so it rushed straight inside his bloodline, destroying everything in its path.

As such, Huang Min's face became even more ugly than it was. Without hesitation, he bit the tip of his tongue to draw some of his blood essence and used it to open his space ring.

After taking out a talisman, he immediately crushed it, then a space crack appeared and swallowed him.

Meanwhile, Long Aotian, who heard a thumping sound from the outside, immediately rushed in. He was just in time to see Huang Min disappearing into the space crack or passage.

Without hesitation, he rushed to the concubine lying on the floor with blood all over her body. He injected his origin qi inside her body, noticing that most of her internal organs have been liquified.

Although he knew that it was impossible to save her, he still tried. He took out the clear water that helps his injuries and fed it to her. After a few sips, she regained consciousness, however, Long Aotian could tell that she would not last long.

"Why did you have to confront him? If you had followed the plan and stayed close to the door, you could have just watched the bastard slowly die," said Long Aotian with a little guilt in his face.

"I had to confront him, for myself," replied the concubine after spewing out a mouthful of blood. "Watching this bastard dying was very satisfying."

"Was it worth you dying in the process?"

"Yes, it was," she responded with a smile on her face. "F-f-f-furthermore, to me, death is probably a relief."

After that, she raised her feeble hand to caress Long Aotian's face, before saying, "Thank you for giving me a chance to avenge myself." Then her hand dropped to the floor, never moving again.

Long Aotian looked at her in his arms, he looked at her smile before she died. Despite the fact that her mouth was still full of blood, her smile was still full of brilliance and vigor. More importantly, it was peaceful.

He sighed. The original plan was for her to just wait for Huang Min's death after putting the poison in his drink. Long Aotian promised her that afterwards, he would take care of her as one of his wives.

And if she did not want that, he would give her enough wealth to live a life of luxury, without worrying about anything.

After finding a place to make a proper grave for her, Long Aotian sighed again. However, thinking about the fact that he could finally be with his Goddess, he rushed straight back to the Fang Divine Dynasty.

After getting back, he saw Fang Lijuan waiting for him, so he rushed to hug her, explaining to her in great detail how he killed Huang Min. Meanwhile, Fang Lijuan just smiled and nodded happily.

Then, Long Aotian suddenly said, "Juan'er, now that no one can prevent us from being together, how about we consummate our marriage early?"

Fang Lijuan blushed shyly before answering with her head down, "Now? Aren't we moving too fast?"

"Of course not. You love me and I love you, that's all that matters."

After hearing this, Fang Lijuan nodded shyly before she was led by Long Aotian to her room in the Manor they live in.

There, Long Aotian started kissing Fang Lijuan with great passion. However, when he was about to remove her clothes, she stopped him and said, "Wait, give me a few minutes to prepare."

After that, she went to change her clothes, while Long Aotian removed all of his clothes. After a few minutes, Fang Lijuan came back wearing bright dark rouge in her lips with a very thin veil on her body that could be removed by the slight breeze of the wind.

Afterwards, she slowly walked towards Long Aotian before removing her thin veil. She leaned on him in the bed and gave him a deep kiss. An act which greatly excited Long Aotian.

After a long, deep and passionate kiss, Long Aotian wanted more. So, he rushed out to touch her two peaks and forbidden zone. However, midway though, his head suddenly became dizzy, and before he could react, he passed out.

Meanwhile, Fang Lijuan looked at this with cold eyes and without any surprise, she muttered, "You are the only man who saw this Goddess divine body. Unfortunately, you will take this knowledge to Samsara."

With a wave of her hand, numerous circles with strange writing or runes appeared all over the room: this was a formation.

This array had only the purpose, to absorb the Qi Luck of one person and transfer it to someone else. This array was designed solely for Sons of Destiny.

Fang Lijuan had this idea or plan the moment she realized that Long Aotian was the Son of Destiny of this Warring Kingdom World. As for Huang Min's death, it was just because she wanted a reason to annul their marriage, thus gaining her freedom.

After thinking for a brief moment, Fang Lijuan finished activating the array. A massive golden energy from Long Aotian suddenly entered her body, then she looked at how her Qi Dragon changed from purple to the peak of Purple-Gold.

After her transformation was done, Fang Lijuan dressed herself before taking the space ring off of Long Aotian's mummified corpse.

Since he was already dead, Long Aotian's connection to the ring was cut off, so Fang Lijuan easily managed to browse through it. In there she found many strange and rare things, but one thing in particular caught her attention: it was a talisman.

After checking it out, she muttered, "Is that the..."

However before she could say anything, her Minister of War barged into the room bringing terrible news.

Chapter 152: Temporary Chaos

The Minister of War looked at the mummified corpse of Long Aotian on the bed and she was not that surprised. Although many people were worried that their Goddess had fallen in love with a native in a Small Thousand World, she never worried about this.

Although she did not know the reason that the Divine Child was acting lovey dovey with this Long Aotian, she did not believe even for a second that she had actually fallen in love with him.

As the person who watched Fang Lijuan growing, the Minister of War knew how deep the pride and arrogance the Divine Child had inside her. In her opinion, Fang Lijuan is the kind of woman who looks down on all beings--both women and men.

She also knows that the Divine Child is also very ambitious. So, unless there was a reason, she would never get close to someone without a reason.

As such, after entering the room and seeing the dead Long Aotian, she just glanced at him before reporting to Fang Lijuan.

"Goddess Empress, we just received an emergency news that the people of the Great Xia have long bypassed our blockade and have already taken over the capital. Now, they have already infiltrated this city and are now headed to this Manor."

After hearing this, Fang Lijuan did not show any emotions in her face, then she looked directly at the mummified Long Aotian and sighed.

"Worthy of a Son of Destiny," she muttered under her breath.

In fact there is a reason that Fang Lijuan had to get intimate with Long Aotian, having to go as far as showing her naked body.

Sons of Destiny are very tricky individuals to kill. According to the research she read back home, there are three ways to kill a Child of Destiny of any world: One is to use overwhelming strength to instantly kill them, cut off their powerful luck or destiny, and lastly, use emotional manipulation.

The first two methods are very straight forwards, but very difficult to accomplish. As long as you give a Son of Destiny the slightest of breathing room, they will find a way to escape as they are harder to kill than cockroaches.

As for cutting off their luck, only a few special individuals or techniques can do such a thing. And often, one has to suffer from backlash after executing these techniques.

The last method is more effective, but requires more planning. Another way to get rid of a Son of Destiny is to overwhelm his mind or spirit through emotions like anger or lust--just like Fang Lijuan did.

During these intense emotions, the Son of Destiny's judgement are at all time low, thus easy to fall into traps like poison, sudden attacks, or trapping formation. However, during these scenarios, the Son of Destiny has to be quickly executed or some random event will occur that facilitates his escape.

Just like this sudden attack on this city. Fang Lijuan knew that if she wasted a few more minutes that maybe the attack of the Great Xia would be the catalyst that allowed Long Aotian to wake up and escape.

After thinking about this, Fang Lijuan waved her hand, then Long Aotian's body turned into a blue crystal, following which he dispersed into crystallized particles that scatter into the air.

After that, she took out her Conferred God List and Imperial Seal to check the Qi Luck of her dynasty. And as expected, her Qi Dragon was on its last breath and on the verge of dying.

Normally speaking, as soon as the people of the Great Xia stepped into the capital, as the dynasty's ruler, she should have been notified, and yet she was not.

Fang Lijuan guessed that the Heavenly Dao of this world hid the movement of her dynasty's luck in an attempt to save Long Aotian. If she had known about the movement of the Great Xia army, she would have reinforced the city she was currently located in, thus preventing any chances that this Son of Destiny had to escape.

Meanwhile in the brief moment that Fang Lijuan took to do all these things, loud sounds could be heard coming near the Manor she was in.

She knew that time was running out, however, she did not care about such a thing given the fact that she had accomplished her task in this trial. So, without hesitation, Fang Lijuan crushed a talisman that swallowed both her and the Minister of War.

In the Endless Void, as soon as Fang Lijuan appeared, she saw the furious face of her Dao Protector.

"Are you happy now?" asked the True Monarch Dao Protector of the Divine Dao League.

"I don't know what you mean," replied Fang Lijuan with a calm look on her cold and beautiful face.

"Do you know how much impact your little scheme has on our family? And even the Divine Dao League?"

Fang Lijuan frowned after hearing this. She noticed that there was only one True Monarch of the Divine Dao League left floating around here.

"Your poison did not kill Huang Min, however, you should have expected that given that your true objective was actually to ruin his bloodline. With us around, you probably guessed that he would not die, so you chose a herb that specifically targeted bloodline powers."

"Without a powerful bloodline, Huang Min can no longer hold the position of Dao Child, and of course, you do not have to marry him."

Fang Lijuan did not say anything, however, she did not also apologize. She never regretted her actions.

"Now, the Huang Min family has demanded that our Fang Family give them an explanation. Worse, they have even threatened to go to war with us if necessary."

"Our Fang Clan does not fear their Huang Clan," replied Fang Lijuan calmly.

"That may be so. However, have you ever thought about the consequences of internal friction between the two most powerful families of the Divine Dao League?"

"The status of our Divine Clans has always been precarious in the Myriad Emperor World. So, what do you think will happen to us if we start a civil war?"

Fang Lijuan further frowned after hearing this. She did not think that fat. All she knew was that she did not want to marry Huang Min, so she found a way to get rid of him.

She thought due to the fact that she did not "personally" do something to him that she could get away with it. But now, things seemed more complex than she imagined.

If the situation escalated like her Dao Protector said, the Huang family might ask that she be handed off as a peace offering between the two clans. Then, she would still be forced to marry some random person.

However, Fang Lijuan suddenly thought of the talisman she discovered in Long Aotian's space ring. If this talisman is the one she believed it to be, then not only would her clan 100% support her from the pressure of the other Divine Clans, she will have a powerful boost for this generation's Heaven Will.

As such, Fang Lijuan instantly removed the little regrets she had due to her actions and remained firm by her decision.

After seeing the stubborn look in her grand-niece's face, the Dao Protector sighed before taking out a Void Boat, placed her and her companion on it before opening a space channel and leaving this world to head back home.

Meanwhile, back in the Warring Kingdom World, the Great Xia Dynasty had just finished conquering the Fang Divine Dynasty, when they received a sudden news.

Both the leaders of the Savior Coalition and the Huang Divine Dynasty have been killed, thus leaving these territories without a proper leader.

Chancellor Yan Liling--who is the de facto ruler of the dynasty while Wang Wei was in retreat---ordered all the dynasty's legions to try to occupy as much territory as possible as quickly as possible.

Unfortunately, the Great Xia was not the only dynasty that received this news. The Great Zhou--who had just started stabilizing the territories that they occupied from Great Wu--also sent their military to occupy these leaderless lands.

Meanwhile, in the Great Shu Dynasty, Fang Heng was also having some troubles. After the assassination attempts of the Fate Shadow Guards, a few of his officials were killed, however, the impact was not enough to affect the entire dynasty.

Unfortunately for Feng Heng, someone took the opportunity to create more chaos in his dynasty. Many more officials and generals were assassinated again, and with great success.

After investigation, he realized that it was the spy of his competitors that did these things. He could guess that these people wanted to sabotage his trial.

Despite all that happened with these spies, this was not Feng Heng's most urgent problem. After his teacher returned from the Secret Realm, he noticed that the disappearance of the Incense Power in the temple dramatically increased.

So, he guessed that these spies must be stepping up their plan, so he needed to speed up the speed of catching them.

However, weirdly enough, the Great Shu Dynasty did not receive the information about the situation of the Savior Coalition or the Huang Divine Dynasty.

Chapter 153: Another New Player

Snow Tiger Mountain, inside the chaotic space left by the explosion of the Secret Realm, Wang Wei finally opened his eyes during his retreat. He exhaled out a long breath before checking the result of his seclusion.

The biggest gain he accomplished during this retreat was the fact that his skin seemed to tempered to another level. After close observation, Wang Wei discovered that on top of being very dense, his skin has an additional innate aura or magnetic field automatically protecting him.

So, if someone wanted to break through his defense, they first had to go through the aura or magnetic field, then pierced his skin and muscles.

As for his actual skin, Wang Wei easily noticed that the density of it is heading in the direction of a neutron star--which was considered one of the densest materials in the universe in his previous life.

Although Wang Wei knew that his skin did not reach that level yet, he was still rapidly approaching. In order to check his progress, he took out a High Grade Earth Tier sword and tried to pierce his skin.

Before the origin artifact could even touch his skin, Wang Wei felt a powerful resistance preventing the sword from penetrating. Knowing this, he smiled and used more force, then the sword pierced the innate aura surrounding him before hitting his skin.

After a few seconds of resistance, the sword then went through his skin before cutting the muscles. After seeing this, Wang Wei smiled and removed the origin artifact.

This test has proven that his defense has reached the bare minimum level of the Primordial Spirit Realm.

Of course Wang Wei could tell that only his skin has reached that level and his strength has only increased a little, but he was still happy. As long as he does not die during a battle, everything is fine as he can always find a way to victory.

Of course Wang Wei also knows that his defensive ability is not absolute. In this cultivator world where there are attacks that focus on the soul, or weird curses that ignore all defenses, or attacks on the conceptual level, his defensive ability can only buy him time to figure out counter-measures to these weird techniques.

After checking his skin, Wang Wei started to check his bones. The next part of his body that needs to be tempered through the [Ancient Desolate Body Refining Scripture].

With this retreat, all the early tempering has been done. So, as soon as he returns to the sect, all he has to do is immediately enter the Body Refining Secret Realm for a few years, then inject the material necessary to complete the process.

After checking all of his gains in this retreat, Wang Wei still kept the formation to isolate the chaotic space, then he flew straight back to the Great Xia Capital, where he called all his officials to come attend a meeting.

While Wang Wei was sitting in his Dragon Throne waiting for the arrival of the other people, the first person to arrive was in fact Empress Dong Lifen as she was the closest.

After seeing her, Wang Wei's eyes lit up and he said, "It seemed that you have succeeded."

Dong Lifen--who was now in the Divine Sea Realm--bowed before taking her seat, "It was all thanks to his majesty!"

Wang Wei just nodded while secretly sighing. Right before he entered seclusion, Dong Lifen discovered a way to use Qi Luck to improve her foundation.

The method was actually quite straightforward as all she had to do was absorb the Qi Luck of the dynasty, but instead of using it to increase her own luck, she used to acquire a Dao Foundation instead.

And with Dong Lifen's years of accumulation, she directly entered the River of Origin after entering the Divine Sea Realm.

The reason that Wang Wei sighed was due to the fact he had encountered a major problem in his study of Qi Luck. Through Dong Lifen, he has managed to find a way for his black Qi Dragon to turn into purple up to 99.99%, however, the remaining 0.01% seemed to be a terrible chasm that prevented Wang Wei's success.

As a result, he was quite frustrated for a while as he could feel that something important would happen to him once he succeeded. However, no matter what he did, he could fill in the last remaining percentage.

As such, Wang Wei was forced to use the tactic of just slowly wearing it out through the passage of time, otherwise he would have to wait until a plan came to him.

After a few hours of waiting and chatting, all the high levels soon arrived. With the flying construct of Great Xia, these people can arrive in the capital in just a few hours at a moment's notice. In the meantime, Wang Wei also learned that his seclusion only took a little over 6 months.

As a matter of fact, many of the native officials were very happy to see Wang Wei's back. During his absence, Yan Liling as the Chancellor was in charge of the dynasty, something which many people did not particularly back. So, they were happy to have their majesty back.

Of course, whether Yan Liling, Li Jun, or Wang Ju all knew about the crooked idea inside these officials' heads. However, none of them care about this.

Although many of these officials were capable people, sometimes their visions were too low; they could not see beyond the petty court politics of this world.

.. .

After everybody arrived, Wang Wei started the meeting with Wang Ju reporting from the moment he entered seclusion.

"Your majesty, after you entered seclusion, we cleaned up all the noble clans in the dynasty, leaving no heirs. However, according to the information that the Fate Shadow Guards gathered, these nobles still have a few illegitimate children scattered throughout the world, but all of them seemed to be people without [Leakless Bodies], so we did not know whether to place them in the executing list."

Wang Wei waved his hand as he did care about these people that could not even cultivate, let alone be a threat to him. Not to mention that he was soon leaving this world, even if these people somehow managed to come back for revenge, he still had total confidence in himself.

Wang Ju nodded and continued to explain the development of the Fate Shadow Guards during the past few months. Then, it was Yan Liling's turn.

"A few weeks after your retreat, we managed to conquer the Fang Divine Dynasty, however, Fang Lijuan was gone right before we took over all her territory. I am assuming that she crushed her talisman and left the trial."

"Soon after we conquered the Fang Divine Dynasty, some random people suddenly sent us news that both the Coalition Leader and Monarch Huang Min were dead, thus leaving their territory in chaos and for the taken."

"So, I quickly rallied our army to conquer as much land as possible. Unfortunately, the same news was also sent to the Great Zhou Dynasty. Currently, we have managed to conquer three-fourth of the territory of the former Huang Divine Dynasty, while the Great Zhou got the entire Savior Alliance and the remaining quarter territory of Huang Min's territory."

Wang Wei had a pensive look on his face after hearing this before asking, "So our borders finally touch with the Great Zhou?"

"That is correct."

"Has there been any fighting between the two of us?"

"No," replied LI Jun. "Currently, there is an unspoken truth between the two dynasties as we focus more on digesting the territory that we have occupied."

Wang Wei nodded when he heard this before asking, "Do you know the people who sent the sudden information?"

"According to our investigation," replied Wang Ju, "We discovered that the information came from a group of people from the Great Shu Dynasty."

"Oh, how come?"

"The Fate Shadow Guard discovered a special group of people determined to undermine the stability of the Great Shu Dynasty. More importantly, Feng Heng seemed to spend a great amount of time and resources hunting down these people."

"According to our analysis, these people are most likely sent by his competitors from the same sect to disturb his trial."

"It seems that Feng Heng's position in the Taiyi Profound Gate is not completely secured," replied Wang Wei with a pensive look on his face."

After hearing the most important events that occurred during his absence, Wang Wei then began to take care of the little details in his dynasty.

For example, due to the large area of the dynasty, the concept of city, county, and states was not enough to govern all the territory. So a new system of Prefecture was added.

A group of states was called a Prefecture, then a governor was chosen as the leader of said Prefecture. The tenure of the Governor position was only after a few years, then based on the person's performance, he will either be promoted or move to another prefecture.

This method was used to prevent one Governor from amassing too much power and prestige due to being stationed in one place for a long period of time. Although Wang Wei did not care about this kind of thing, he began to plan for the future of his dynasty after he left this world.

After everything was over, Wang Wei began to prepare with his clash against the Great Zhou Dynasty--or Ji Song to be precise.

Unfortunately, before these two giants could clash, something happened that affected the entire world and all the Heaven Chosen still remaining.

Chapter 154: The Tide

A few days after Wang Wei left his seclusion, in a city far from the Great Xia Capital.

This day was supposed to be an ordinary day like every other day. The people woke up, prayed for blessings for his majesty, had breakfast then went to work.

The kids were sent to the free schools created by the Great Xia. Some went on their own family's Flying Horse Carriage, while others took a public one. As for the less wealthy one, the school designated a special Flying Horse Carriage to take them from their home to school.

This was supposed to be a normal or average day. Unfortunately, it was not. At around noon, the entire city suddenly started trembling. At first people thought that it was a dragon moving to its back or using modern terms, an earthquake.

However, the trembling was different from that. Instead of shaking everything, the trembling seemed to be rhythmic. To be precise, it sounded like countless hoof stampeding at the same time.

Before the people of the city could react, the alarm of the city sounded, alarming the people that the city was under attack. Unfortunately, before anyone could react, the sky suddenly turned black.

When the people raised their heads, all they saw was a black mass rapidly enveloping the entire city, obscuring the clouds above them. No, it seemed to be obscuring the Heavens itself.

After closer observation, some people realized with horror that this so-called "black mass" was actually a horde of flying demonic beasts.

Before anyone could react, the flying beasts suddenly attacked all the citizens of this city. The sky then rained fire, ice, thunder, swords, and winds. Any derivations of the Five Element attacks were used by these flying beasts.

As a result of that, countless people died instantly. In just a few breaths, the casualties of this city were 100,000. On top of that, some special beasts actually used poison with a large area of attack, further increasing the casualty of the people.

The City Lord acted swiftly and had the City Guards attack these flying birds, but there were too many birds. What's even worse, another beasts horde in the millions suddenly destroyed the city gate, then started to slaughter all the people of the city.

The City Lord sighed after seeing this as he realized that this city would not survive this attack. The City Lord regretted that his city was not one of the cities equipped with formation, otherwise the situation would not have reached such a dire strait.

However, the City Lord did not complain for long as he knew that the Great Xia could not place a City Covering Array in all the cities of its territory. The amount of resources needed for something like that is simply not possible.

So, with its last strength, the City Lord decided to send the information of what happened in his city, hoping that his majesty would send a legion to avenge him and the common people.

Unfortunately for this City Lord, he did not know that this beast tide was actually happening throughout all the territory of the Great Xia Dynasty. No, to be precise, it was happening all over the world/

Whether it was Great Zhou, Great Xia, or even the Desert Kingdoms of the Western Region, they were all suddenly attacked by hordes of demonic beasts. Obviously, this was a premeditated attack.

In the Great Xia Capital, on top of the city wall, Wang Wei looked coldly at all the millions of demonic beats lying in front of the capital.

A few hours ago, he suddenly sensed countless soul fluctuations approaching the capital, so he rushed to the city gate to watch what happened. Then, to his surprise, he saw a horde, no, an endless army of demonic beasts rushing towards the capital.

So, without hesitation, he used his True Will ability to completely killed all these beasts. Unfortunately for him, the number was so large that it still took him a few hours to kill all of them--even with the aid of the Royal Guard Legion.

Meanwhile, while Wang Wei was thinking with a frown on his face, both Li Jun and Yan Liling--who had blood of different colors all over them--walked next to him.

"It happened all over our territories, didn't it?" asked Wang Wei without even looking at the two of them.

"Yes," replied Yan Liling with a look of sorrow in her face. "I have just received news from all over our territories that basically, the majority of cities were attacked."

"How were the casualties?"

After sighing, Yan Liling answered, "The cities that had protection arrays were relatively fine, however, the others were hit pretty hard. With the help of the flying constructs, we managed to reach certain places in time, but we still lost entire states of population, not to mention the countless towns that did not even have proper city gates."

Wang Wei did not say anything, but Li Jun sighed before saying, "I should have known something was wrong with the demonic beasts when they suddenly attacked our armies during my first first fight with Fang Lijuan."

"There is no need for you to blame yourself as even I ignore the sign of the constant activity of the demonic beasts," replied Wang Wei, before continuing, "Go called Dong Lifan."

A few minutes later, Dong Lifan and many other officials arrived on top of the city wall. Without hesitation, Wang Wei took out the Conferred God List and his Imperial Seal before saying to her:

"I need you to use the Qi Luck of the dynasty to activate all the arrays scattered in different cities in our territory."

As soon as he finished saying that, many officials were shocked before hurrying to persuade him:

"Your majesty, you can't. If you do that, the Luck of the dynasty will run out and disperse rapidly, thus creating instability everywhere."

"Yes your majesty, do not make such agitated decisions."

Many people disagreed with Wang Wei's decision, and they were right to be worried. If a dynasty's luck is scattered, many problems could arise.

For example, countless national disasters could happen. Whether it was drought, rivers overflowing, insect tides...etc. On top of that, with scattered luck, the people are more easily prone to revolt, and government officials are more easily corrupt.

In general, it is easy for a dynasty to have countless problems, then eventually reverse to a kingdom, before being permanently destroyed.

After hearing these officials, Wang Wei looked at all of them with a terrifying killing intent before saying coldly, "Do you think the dynasty's luck is important or the people's safety? Do you think that without a vast population, the Dynasty's Qi Luck would be so prosperous?"

After finishing screaming at these officials, he ignored them and continued to talk to Dong Lifan:

"After you activate all the arrays, you will discover that they can all fit together, so use the Dynasty's Luck as both an energy source and a catalyst to fit them together."

"Afterwards, do not attack the demonic beasts, but use spiritual suggestions to have all of them relocate there."

Wang Wei then took out a map and showed her the place that she needs to move all the demonic beasts to. It was a vast and inhabited plains in the northern territory of Great Xia.

As a matter of fact, Wang Wei knew that these officials were partially right, but as usual, they could not see the overall situation. If things remain the way they are, it is only a matter of time before the Great Xia Dynasty falls.

At the same time, Wang Wei also knew that he could not use all the Qi Luck of the Dynasty. That is the reason that he did not use this opportunity to kill all these demonic beasts with these powerful arrays as that would use too much Luck.

So, his plan is to gather them all in one place, then gather his army to kill all them.

Meanwhile, Dong Lifen was a little confused as for the reason that his majesty asked to do such a task instead of doing it himself, but she did not ask during such an emergency.

After connecting with the Dynasty's Qi Dragon, in her mind, she suddenly saw a map of Great Xia with countless red dots. She gasped as he realized that these endless dots were actually the demonic beasts in the territory,

After taking a deep breath to calm herself down, she also noticed many green dots in the map. She instantly knew that these green dots were actually the array in different cities.

With a focus of her spirit, she activated all the green dots, then they formed a strange pattern covering the entire map in Dong Lifen's mind. Afterwards she started to influence the red dots that have suddenly become agitated.

Dong Lifen suddenly realized the difficulty of her task. The difficulty did not lie in the activation of the formations. No, it was to slowly guide all these red spots in the designated place without allowing them to cause any more trouble--like attacking the cities in their path.

Meanwhile, Wang Wei looked at the sweat coming on Dong Lifen's head and did not say anything. This is the reason that he did not ask either Li Jun or Yan Liling to do this task.

He knew how difficult it was to control the Dynasty's Qi Luck with such precise control. Only him and Dong Lifen, who have spent months studying Luck in detail could do such a thing.

Meanwhile, all over the territory of Great Xia, a powerful dome of energy appeared covering all the remaining cities. Then, a Golden Dragon appeared traveling around the territory.

Afterwards, millions upon millions of demonic beasts started a journey heading north. The sound of their hoof running at full speed echoed throughout the Heavens.

Countless people cuddled up in their homes with their loved one, praying that they can be the lucky few that see the dawn of the next day.

Nevertheless, no matter the end result, tonight will be a sleepless night for many people of Great Xia, no, of the Warring Kingdom World.

Chapter 155: Crazy Plan

Dong Lifen spent the entire night guiding all the demonic beasts to the Hidden Master Plain in the north. Then, Wang Wei had many cultivators use Earth Spells to form a barricade around the entire plain to prevent these demonic beasts from escaping.

As for the ones that were able to fly, he personally killed all of them to prevent them from causing more troubles.

On top of a giant wall more than a few kilometers high, Wang Wei looked at all the demonic beasts inside the Hidden Master Plain, which was the place chosen by him to place these beasts.

He sighed as he could not see the end of these beasts. He wondered how many of them were? Billions? Trillions? Well no matter the actual number, the answer would always be too much.

On top of the wall, Dong Lifen was also looking at these endless amounts of beasts with a pale complexion in her face. The reason for that was due to all the work she did the previous night, and also because of intense fear.

As the person who led this horde to this plain, she personally experienced their horrors. These beasts seemed to have lost their mind, making them powerful killing machines that only know slaughter and destruction.

"Who would do this? And for what reason?" asked Dong Lifan with a frown on her pale face.

"It is easy to guess the person," replied Yan Liling. "Only the people of the Herd Raising Valley can have the ability to raise so many demonic beasts."

"Herd Raising Valley? Another Sect from your home world?"

"Yes. the Herd Raising Valley is an Emperor Lineage with only one Great Emperor," replied Yan Liling. "However, they are famous in our world because more than 70% of business involving selling demonic beasts is in their hands. Of course, as a result, they have a terrible relationship with the Demon Race in the Northern Continent."

"Things are not as simple as it seemed," said Li Jun with a frown on his face. "There is no way that the Heaven Chosen of the Herd Raising Valley can control so many demonic beasts. More importantly, this world should not have so many demonic beasts, otherwise the balance between them and human beings should have long been broken, leading to war."

"So, you are saying that this person used some secret method to increase the breeding rates of all many demonic beasts? Where would they find such a large number of them? More importantly, how could such heaven defying techniques exist?" asked Dong Lifan.

"It is easy to find these beasts in the Southern Region, as this was their habitat to begin with," replied Li Jun. "As for the excessive breeding, it only requires these beasts to sacrifice their lifespans in exchange for fast breeding, then it should be possible."

"You may be right, but there are still many questions left unanswered. How can that person control so many Demonic Beasts? More importantly, what purpose does he or she have to do such a thing?" asked Yan Liling with a frown on her face.

"The answers to these two questions are in fact related to one another," suddenly said Wang Wei.

"Oh big brother, did you find the motive of this Heaven Chosen?"

"Let me ask you, did any of you remember the other methods someone could actually increase their luck?"

After hearing this question, many of them started thinking to themselves. Then, Wang Ju--who remained quiet during most of the conversation--suddenly thought of something before saying, "Saving a world in danger."

Wang Wei looked at her and nodded in satisfaction. As a person trained as a Shadow, her job also involves going through information that seemed useless and random, then extricating the important ones and putting the puzzle pieces together into a uniform whole.

Afterwards, Wang Wei continued to explain to the still confused others.

"One of the ways to actually acquire Qi Luck is to actually save a world on the verge of dying or extinction. Whether it is due to external forces or internal struggles between the native inhabitants, as long as someone saves the world, Heavenly Dao will reward such a person with abundant luck."

"As such, many factions in the Myriad Emperor World will find these worlds to allow their Heaven Chosen to go and gather luck. Of course, these factions will also manufacture the situation in which a world needs to be saved in order to acquire luck."

"Wait, manufacture? Your majesty, your saying that..."

"Yes, some factions will purposely bring these worlds on the verge of destruction, then send their own people in the name of saviors to help the inhabitants of these worlds."

"There is a high probability that the Heaven Chosen of the Herd Raising Valley is using the same method. With this vast beast tide, they plan to bring this world on the verge of destruction by these out of control demonic beasts, then kill all of them to receive a blessing of luck from Heavenly Dao."

As a matter of fact, this method was actually quite popular near the end of the Faith Era. The Buddhist Sects during that time placed many worlds in danger, then came in to rescue them in order to better gather Incense Power.

In these moments of despair, ordinary people and cultivators are more susceptible to religion. Unfortunately, at this point of time, the Buddhist Sects had detoured greatly from their beliefs and philosophy, which then eventually led to their complete destruction, and the end of the Incense or Faith Era.

Meanwhile, the faces of these people instantly become ugly after hearing this--with the exception of Wang Ju as he already deduced as much when Wang Wei asked her that question.

"With this method, this person does not need to control all the demonic beasts. All he needs is for the majority of them to just cause death and chaos," replied with an ugly look on his face.

"That also means that this person has also installed a method that allowed them to quickly kill all these demonic beasts," said Yan Liling. "What's worse, if that person succeeds, all of us will fail this trial."

Yan Liling took a glance at Wang Wei when she said that. As astute as she was, she could feel that something was wrong with Wang Wei's Qi luck. Previously, she only guessed this possibility, however, yesterday, when Wang Wei asked Dong Lifen to use the dynasty's luck instead of doing it himself, Yan Liling knew that her conjecture was correct.

At this point of time, the Great Xia Dynasty's territory is vast enough that both her and Li Jun have already achieved a Purple-Gold level of luck. However, it seemed that the same could not be said for their big brother.

So, this is the reason that she said that they would fail this trial if the Heaven Chosen from the Herd Raising Valley succeeded in this crazy plan.

"Is all you guys care about is this trial? My world is about to be destroyed?" roared Dong Lifen suddenly. An act which greatly embarrassed Yan Liling, making her lower her head.

"Your world will be fine as things have not reached this point yet," said Wang Wei. Of course Wang Wei did not just say this because his trial was not finished.

He is the kind of person that likes to finish anything he starts, and he also likes to do it to the best of his ability. This is the reason that he spent so much time modernizing the lives of the citizens of Great Xia.

Since his job as king is to make the lives of his subject better, then he will provide them with the best method possible. So, he went above and beyond with this trial.

Not only did he provide the people with food, clothes, and lands, he also educated them, he provided them with free healthcare, enough wealth to not only meet their needs, but also to have a little over to spend on whatever they want.

Once the citizens reached the standard where they would not have to worry about daily necessity for survival, Wang Wei invented all kinds of entertainment that met the spiritual needs of his people.

Compared to the other dynasties, the Great Xia is like a modern country while the others still remained in the ancient era.

After the brief awkwardness passed by, Li Jun asked a question that came to his mind:

"Big brother, if what you said is true, then how does that person plan to deal with the Karmic Backlash of creating the destruction of the world in the first place?"

Wang Wei shook his head when he heard this question before saying:

"You overestimate this world too much. In a Small Thousand World like this, the Laws of Karma are extremely weak to begin with, so it is not as much of a problem as you might think. Otherwise, how could we come here and steal luck from this world?"

"On top of that, after that person 'saved' the world, Heavenly Dao will bestow upon him both luck and countless merits. With the merits, that person can easily wash away the little karma they suffered from, and have plenty of merits left to accomplish many things."

All the people around Wang Wei secretly sighed as they realized that this was in fact a brilliant and well-thought out plan. Whoever came up with this plan is not only ruthless, but also has a very tactical mind.

After a few seconds of silence, Wang Wei then said, "Okay, let's end the chit chat and start killing these demonic beasts. However, afterwards, found a way to preserve the corpses as I have a plan for them."

Chapter 156: Response

Under Wang Wei's order, Li Jun, General Tie Gang, The Five Number General, and Yan Liling started to kill all the demonic beasts with all their strength. Countless attacks flew from the high walls and headed for the beasts below.

Archers got their bow ready, then shot in different volleys. Cultivators prepared their spells or origin abilities before using them. As for the weak one in the Body Refining Realm, they used special methods to combine their blood qi in order to cast spells.

On top of that, many ordinary people also helped. These people used talismans in order to fight. All they need to do is crush or tear up these talismans, then throw them to the demonic beasts and they would activate by themselves.

Powerhouses like Li Jun and Tie Gang rushed into the horde of beasts below, then unleashed a slaughter on these demonic beasts. In fact, even Dong Lifen participated in this battle.

She jumped high from the walls and landed inside the barricaded plain, then her eyes turned black. Following which, all the demonic beasts that looked at her started screaming, then they threw a mouthful of blood before lying on the ground dead.

This was her using her Dream Manifestation Soul's innate talent to create a terrifying nightmare to these beasts, so when they died in the nightmare, they also died in real life.

And just like that, Dong Lifen started her first real battle in her life. Of course, there are reasons that she was so bold. One of them is due to the fact that her master Yu Siyu came to support in the battle.

Another reason was that Wang Wei was floating in the air, overseeing the entire situation. Every time someone was in trouble of being surrounded by the demonic beasts, he would intervene and rescue them--whether it was the soldiers or inexperienced people like Dong Lifen.

Of all the people, besides Wang Wei that used his True Will ability to kill the most demonic beasts, the person with the highest body counts was actually Yan Liling.

The reason for that is because she used the Bloodline Enchanting Pill that turned these demonic beasts against each other, forcing them to kill one another in a burst of madness. Adding to the fact that these beasts had already lost their minds, the efficacy of this pill was greatly increased.

After this pill was used against the cavalry of the Barbarian Wolf Kingdom, Yan Liling thought this pill might come in handy in the future, so she refined more in her spare time. It turns out that she was right about that.

While the Great Xia was dealing with this beast tide in their own way, the same problem actually plagued the people of Great Zhou.

Inside the Great Zhou Imperial Palace, Ji Song had an ugly look on his face. So many cities and people have died due to this sudden disaster.

Besides, unlike the Great Xia that has a powerful array that can surround the entire territory, the Great Zhou did not have this kind of method as neither Ji Song nor Ji Su were actually proficient in runes and arrays like Wang Wei.

Although many cities also had their own arrays, they could not fit perfectly into a whole like the ones in Great Xia. On top of that, the Great Zhou does not have flying constructs that allow them to send reinforcements throughout its territory.

As such, the casualties were extremely high in just a single day.

Inside the Throne Room, all the ministers and officials had an ugly look on their faces as they could not come up with a better plan besides using soldiers to fight directly with the demonic beasts.

In the end, Ji Su sighed and said, "Little Song, in this case, it is better to abandon this trial and leave this word. After all, your Qi Luck has already reached the peak of Purple-Gold."

Many officials' faces became even more ugly after hearing this, but they did not dare say anything and just lowered their heads.

Luckily for them, Ji Song shook his head in denial of his big brother's suggestion before saying, "You and I both know that absorbing the luck of the entire world can allow a Heaven Chosen to reach a Rainbow colored luck."

Ji Su remained silent after hearing this. He knew that on top of the Purple-gold luck, there is still the multicolored level. However, this level of luck is only available to Great Emperors. As a result, there is a level between the purple gold and the multicolored luck, the Rainbow level or 7 colored luck.

The ultimate winner of this trial will be able to accomplish this level, depending on how prosperous the dynasty they created is. However, even the worst of them will still have a 2 color Rainbow Luck.

After pondering for a few seconds, he said, "You can still achieve the Rainbow Qi Luck through Luck Stones."

However, Ji Song still shook his head as he knew what kind of thing the Luck Stones were. As the name implies, they are stones born between Heaven and Earth that contain absorbable luck.

However, there are downsides to these stones. For one, they are very unstable and volatile. One stone can have a 99% chance of containing luck, with 1% chance of containing negative luck or misfortune. Or 99% chance of containing misfortune, while 1% contain positive luck.

So, what happens when someone absorbs a stone that contains misfortune?

Well, all kinds of terrible things. You might be walking outside, then a meteor suddenly drops on top of you, an enemy you thought you had killed might suddenly pop up and become more powerful than you, or a sudden accident that made you have Qi Deviation during cultivation.

That's not even the worst parts of the Luck Stones. A lot of them actually contain powerful curses on them. After absorbing them, many terrible things like a cultivator's blood being instantly drained, the soul was tarnished, or unable to use one of their body parts.

There even weird curses like making a man impotent, turning people from one sex to another against their will, or constantly vomiting insects without stopping.

In general, the Luck Stones are not a good thing. What's worse is that a person's luck or destiny has no effect on the Luck Stone. So, even if a Son of Destiny were to choose a Luck Stone, he still has a high probability of being screwed over.

Because of this, there has been a profession trained to identify the probability of acquiring good Luck Stones, however, Ji Song never believed in those people as he thinks that they are nothing but scammers.

After a few seconds, Ji Su continued, "Even if you do not use the Luck Stones, our Great Zhou Imperial Dynasty can still find a Luck Condensing Artifact from an already destroyed dynasty for you to absorb."

"That way, you did not have to be affected by karma since these dynasties have long been gone in the annals of history."

However, Ji Song still remains determined in his decision, so he said, "You and I both know that acquiring a Rainbow Level of Luck through these methods are only temporary. After breaking through the Supernatural Realm, my luck would instantly return back to purple-gold."

"But, I accomplish it through this trial, the Rainbow Luck will be permanent, thus bringing me another advantage for my Path of Emperor."

Ji Su sighed as he knew that his little brother was right, and he could guess the real reason that he did not want to leave the trial, so he did not continue to persuade him again. However, Ji Song looked deeply at his big brother before saying, "I know you must have a way out of this situation, so just say it."

Ji Su nodded and said, "The only solution that I can think of is to use the dynasty's luck to directly kill the majority of the demonic beasts."

"But, if we did that, the entire dynasty's luck would be consumed. Isn't that the same as letting the demonic beasts destroy it?" replied Ji Song with a puzzled look on his face.

"Yes, however, we can take some unorthodox measures to quickly recuperate afterwards."

"What plan do you have?"

"We can do this..." explained Ji Su.

Meanwhile, in the Great Shu Dynasty, the people there also faced the ravage of the demonic beasts. However, of all the remaining powers in this world, they faced the least casualty.

The reason for that was due to all the temples located throughout the territory. When the demonic beasts attacked, the temples activated themselves and protected the territory.

The reason for that is the fact that Taoist Temples are the nemesis of both demonic beasts and the Demon Race. Their power naturally restrains these beasts, even if they are currently mindless.

When these beasts reached near the temples, the Taoist Sages that were enshrined in the Temples suddenly manifested to either kill or seal all the demonic beasts. Fueled by the prayers of billions of people, the Taoist Sages unleashed unimaginable powers.

As such, although a few places were hit hard, but, it was nothing compared to the casualties suffered by both the Great Xia and Great Zhou.

Inside the Main Taoist Temple, Feng Heng was reviewing documents about the situation throughout the dynasty when someone came in and handed him a new piece of information.

After reading it, he muttered, "The Western Region, huh? It seems that I will have to borrow some power from my master."

Chapter 157: Enlightened

In the Endless Void, the few remaining True Monarchs looked at one person who had two demonic beasts beside him: one tiger and one lion. These demonic beasts exuded the pressure of Supreme, meaning they were in fact Tier 9 Demonic beasts.

This person was the True Monarch of the Herd Raising Valley

"Shouldn't you explain yourself," said Retired Prince Ji Han, the current Dao Protector of Ji Song.

I have nothing to explain as there were no rules that stated that this method could not be used during this trial," responded the Herd Valley True Monarch, who then readied his demonic beasts for battle before continuing:

"I will not let anyone intervene in this trial," he declared boldly.

As a matter of fact, the people that remain there are only here to see the result of this trial as their Heaven Chosens have long been eliminated. They only stayed here just to spy on news or information about the final winner.

Despite the fact that Wang Wei never actually met them, a few more Heaven Chosens actually participated in this trial. However, the majority if not all of them were in fact eliminated by Fang Lijuan and Huang Min as these Heaven Chosens actually occupied territory near the two of them.

As for the rest of them, they were so weak that they were in fact eliminated by the few Supernatural Realm cultivators in the Warring Kingdom World.

As such, despite Ji Han's argument, no one around him actually cared about the result of the trial since they no longer have any stakes in it. So, after noticing this, Ji Han looked at Yan Chen and the Dao Protector of the Taiyi Profound Gate.

However, both of them were not as worked up as Ji Han. The reason that Feng Heng's Dao Protector was unbothered by the whole thing was because he reached the ultimate state of inactiveness in taoism, referred to as Taishuang Indifference--which was named after the Absolute Beginning Emperor.

To this True Monarch which was named Wu Ming, very few things can actually bother him. Even if Heaven and Earth were to be destroyed, he would see it as a natural cycle of the Dao, and accept it with peace of mind.

So, he did not care for the actions of the Herd Raising Valley's Heaven Chosen. If his own Dao Child found a way to survive this catastrophe, that would only prove that he was capable. If he failed, then his ability could only go so far.

No matter the result, in the grand scheme of things, the result only matters to the individual. If Feng Heng succeeds, he will be granted a brief moment of joy and happiness. If he fails, he can either wallow in his sorrow, or he can learn from the experience.

As for Yan Chen, the only reason he did not really care was because of his undying confidence in Wang Wei. During this entire trial, he watched how mature, intelligent, and far sided his young master was.

Throughout the trial, he always used the right method exactly when necessary. When he needs to use his overwhelming strength, he does so. When he needs to use his wisdom to solve a problem, he does so. His young master always used the optimal and most efficient method for any given situation.

What delighted Yan Chen the most was the fact his young master was not perfect, acknowledge such a fact. His young master can always admit when he makes a mistake and learns from it, he is always willing to learn anything new from anyone in order to improve himself.

A perfect example of that is the Martial Arts in this world. Many of the Heaven Chosen actually ignored or discard its significance or importance to this trial, but Wang Wei used it to its utmost advantage in the army and the citizens.

The only exception was the Great Zhou Dynasty, and that was only because of Ji Su. Despite this, they did not place as much emphasis on it as they should.

As a result of this, the Great Xia armies are way more powerful than other dynasties. The people are way more healthy and strong as they practiced martial arts specially designed for them.

In the end, Yan Chen also did not care about the current situation of the world. Although he did not like the methods of the Herd Raising Valley people, he will not intervene.

To him, this was a great opportunity to temper Wang Wei. As this was one of the original purposes of the trial, so why would he intervene?

Of course Yan Chen was still worried about something. He also noticed that something was wrong with Wang Wei's luck. He knew that this was probably due to his action of breaking the 13th Wall Barrier, however, Yan Chen still believed that his young master will find a solution to this problem.

After seeing that the remaining True Monarchs were not siding with him, he snorted coldly without mentioning the topic again.

Meanwhile, back in the Great Xia Dynasty, in the Hidden Master Plain, Wang Wei and his team were killing demonic beasts for days without stopping.

Countless resources were used to sustain such a prolonged battle, however, something happened that quickly changed the tide of the battle.

On top of the tall walls, Wang Wei looked in one particular direction of the wall. There, he saw the demonic beasts concentrated their attacks in a specific part of the wall. It seemed that they wanted to breach the walls there to escape.

'Finally caught you,' thought Wang Wei secretly to himself.

A few minutes afterwards, someone came to him and said, "Your majesty, everything is ready."

Wang Wei then nodded before saying, "Go ahead and begin."

Immediately afterwards, a few holes appeared in the Walls surrounding the plain, then water started to fill the entire plain like a basin. Afterwards, all the cultivators received the order to use water or rain based spells to fill the basin.

Wang Wei had a reason that he chose this specific plain to lead all the demonic beasts. Not far from here, there was a deep and long river. So, Wang Wei had many cultivators use Earth based spells to create many routes connecting the river to the plain.

His plan was very simple. Barricade all the demonic beasts in one place, then flood the place drowning all of them.

After a few hours, the water level had actually risen to a very high level. As a result many beasts were instantly drowned. As for the few that still had the ability to swim, they were killed by the army.

Meanwhile, Li Jun who was looking at the dying demonic beasts started thinking to himself.

'Is this the meaning of slaughter? Using or having the ability to kill large numbers of people with different methods. Since I cultivate the Dao of Slaughter, I should have the ability to kill anything and everything between Heaven and Earth, but is this enough? Is this my path?'

'The purest form of Slaughter Dao should be one that kills only for the sake of killing, a slaughter without any purpose. Unfortunately, such a pure form of slaughter makes it easy for a person to become mad or a killing machine without emotions or desire.'

'No, my Slaughter Dao is different. To be precise, it should have a purpose, a guidance, some goals to guide it.'

After thinking about this, Li Jun looked at Yan Liling first, but shook his head before looking at Wang Wei. Then, his eyes lit up.

'I once made a vow that in this life, I would fight for big brother Wang Wei til my last dying breaths. So, my Slaughter Dao should be to eliminate all the enemies in my big brother's Path of Emperor.'

'With my limited ability, I may not be able to accomplish such a task, but I can die trying. I will become the Slaughter Blade in big brother Wang Wei's hand.'

While Li Jun was thinking about these things, a giant red blade suddenly manifested between Heaven and Earth. The blade had countless souls wailing on it, then the sky around a few hundred meters also turned red, and an intense killing intent was released from the blade.

The many mortals that were around were forced to kneel on the ground. As a matter of fact, even a few weak willed cultivators started having illusions.

"Enlightenment?" muttered Wang Wei after seeing this, then his eyes lit up and he took out a few formation flags to set up an array around Li Jun. He did not want anyone or anything to interrupt his little brother during this rare moment of enlightenment.

A few seconds after Li Jun entered the state of enlightenment, someone suddenly appeared and whispered something in Wang Wei's here. He nodded before motioning for both Yan Liling and Wang Ju to protect Li Jun, then he flew straight into the sky without any explanations.

Chapter 158: Liu Meixiu

Wang Wei flew in one direction with all his strength. With his rapid movement, he almost reached the speed of sound. After a few minutes, he saw a forest not far from, so he activated his True Vision without hesitation.

There, he saw a Purple Qi Luck Dragon lazily lying there, happily swimming around as if this was its lair.

"Caught you!" muttered Wang Wei before rushing straight towards the person that this Luck Dragon belonged to.

However, midway through, he was intercepted by a bunch of flying demonic beasts.

With just a few punches, these demonic beasts exploded into millions of drops of blood, before scattering on the ground. However, there were just too many of them. No matter how many he killed, they kept on coming for him.

What's worse was the fact that Wang Wei noticed that the person he was chasing suddenly started running away. So, without hesitation, he landed on the ground, then rushed after that person.

In just a few seconds, a burst of clouds suddenly appeared.

Boom!

Wang Wei broke through the speed of sound, traveling at a speed of 343 meters per second.

Despite his newfound speed, the demonic beasts kept coming at him. However, Wang Wei did not care nor stopped to engage them in battle. He straight up just rammed his powerful fleshly body into these demonic beasts.

When these beasts hit the Innate Aura that surrounds his skin, they just explode into countless flesh and blood, while Wang Wei just continues passing by them without even looking back at them. As such, he just left a path of carnage in his wake.

After a few seconds, Wang Wei saw a hooded person waiting for him. It seemed that person knew that they could not outrun Wang Wei, so they stopped.

Standing a few meters from the Heaven Chosen of the Herd Raising Valley, Wang Wei then said, "So, you dare to do such an atrocious thing, but you do not dare to show your face."

"Sacred Son Wang Wei, are you angry that your people actually suffered or that they suffered while under your care?" responded a beautiful and melodious voice.

Then, the person removed their hood, revealing a beautiful woman. This woman had a wild and savage temperament, yet she still dressed like an aristocratic lady that has never worked a day in her life. What's more, her wild temperament and noble dress seemed to blend perfectly together, adding a touch of charisma to her.

What's more noteworthy about this woman was her eyes. In her eyes, Wang Wei saw countless beasts roaring together; there were even mythical beasts like dragons, phoenix, and pixiu. Then, all the beasts seemed to blend together.

"I'm curious, how did you find me so quickly?" she asked.

"It was the trap beast in the plain. At first, they were mindless and rushing around with any purpose, but suddenly, they started working together to break the walls that caged them."

"Immediately, I knew that someone was actively controlling them, so I had my Shadow Guards searched around for anything suspicious as I knew that you could not be too far in order to provide such detailed order."

"It turns out like this. Given that your Great Xia is currently the most powerful dynasty, I wanted my little babies to do some more destruction. However, it seems that I was a little too rushed with my action."

Wang Wei did not say anything more. The reason he even answered her in the first place was to observe her, after which, he suddenly said, "Myriad Beasts Physique?"

"That is correct."

"No wonder you can control so many beasts with your cultivation level," replied Wang Wei with a sudden realization. He always wondered how this person could control so many demonic beasts.

Even with the idea that this person did not have to control all the beasts to enact her plans, she still would need the ability to somehow influence all the demonic beasts and give them a general direction to do things.

After all, only a person with high cultivation in the Herd Raising Valley could actually influence all the demonic beasts of an entire world.

Now, he finally understood the reason. This Heaven Chosen possessed the number 30 Heavenly Physique, the Myriad Beasts Body. This physique is actually very special.

It provides the owner with the ability to control and communicate with demonic beasts through the soul, it brings its owner a great affinity with demonic beasts, thus preventing them from rarely getting attacked by them even as mortals.

And more importantly, it allows the owner to be able to upgrade the bloodline of low level demonic beasts until they reach the point of being called Demon Race.

As such, another name for this physique is Lord of Demons. Of course, as a result, the Demon Race loathed this name and has hunted down anyone with this physique since ancient times. Unless the owner of the Myriad Beasts Physique takes refuge in a powerful Emperor Lineage, their fates are always dead at the hands of the Demon Race.

Of course, all of these abilities are not the reasons that this physique is special. The real reason is due to the fact that it allows its owner to absorb the blood essence or source blood of any Demonic Beast or Demon Race and acquire not only their bloodlines talents, but also cultivate a very powerful fleshly body.

Because of this, people with the Myriad Beasts Physique have also hunted the Heaven Chosen of the Demon Race with Imperial Bloodlines in order to absorb their source blood and steal their talents.

This resulted in the long feud between the Myriad Beasts Physique and the Demon Race.

In fact, one of the most powerful owners of this physique actually acquired a few drops of blood essence from a phoenix in a Secret Realm. This was a rare thing since Innate Lifeforms like Dragon and Phoenix have never appeared in the Myriad Emperor World.

From records and a few remaining Secret Realms, cultivators know that these powerful Demon Race existed before the Null Era, however, they did not survive through modern times.

After taking a moment to review the information he knew about the Myriad Beast Physique, Wang Wei came back to his senses and prepared to deal with the current situation.

"Let me introduce myself," suddenly said the Heaven Chosen of the Herd Raising Valley. "My name is Liu Meixiu, this generation's Young Beast Lord of the Herd Raising Valley."

"Normally speaking, It would be my pleasure to know any beautiful woman. But, do you think I care about your identity in this situation?"

"Haha, you are indeed right," replied Liu Meixiu, then she waved her hand. Following which, all the beasts around instantly became bloodlust and started attacking Wang Wei.

No, to be precise, they started a suicide bombing attacks against him. Countless demonic beasts started exploding together, forming a massive chain reaction.

Booooooooooom!!!

All the explosions blended together to form a massive mushroom cloud explosion with Wang Wei in the middle. The radius around a few kilometers in the forest was caught in the explosion.

Meanwhile, on top of a flying bird, Liu Meixiu watched all of this, then she rapidly made a few movements with her hands while chanting something. Following which, a special energy wave emanating from traveled to all the demonic beasts still alive in the forest.

Then, the wave traveled through the bloodline of the demonic beasts, instantly reaching every corner of this world. Whether it was the Great Xia, Great Zhou or Great Shu Dynasty, or the Western Desert or Northern Frozen Land, the energy wave reached all the demonic beasts there. The only place that remained unaffected was the Southern Region.

Following Liu Meixiu's origin ability, all the demonic beasts suddenly roared together in the sky, then they exploded themselves. Every single one of them. Just like that, the Beast Plague that ravaged this world ended.

Countless people all over the world watched this happen with a puzzled look on their faces, not knowing what exactly happened--except for Wang Wei.

After the explosion, he was completely fine. This attack did not even break his Innate Field that protects him. However, he was still pushed a few hundred meters away.

After the more 5000 degree heat subsided along with all the dust clouds, Wang Wei looked in the direction of Liu Meixiu. He suddenly felt something was wrong, so he rushed towards her. However, he was instantly repelled by a golden shield that manifested in front of her.

Then, Wang Wei sensed a powerful will manifesting around him, then countless golden lights suddenly rushed inside Liu Meixiu's body.

"Heavenly Dao's Blessing?" muttered Wang Wei, who then activated his True Eyes Vision. He saw how after absorbing the golden light, Liu Meixiu's Qi Dragon turned from purple to purple-gold.

Afterwards, a tiny golden spot came from the sky and landed in her hand. She looked at it with a frown before saying, "So little merit? Well, given the situation, it could not be helped."

According to her original plan, she should have killed all demonic beasts a little later, after they had caused more destruction. Unfortunately, Wang Wei's arrival forced her to advance her plans to an earlier time.

After her transformation was finished, Liu Meixiu absorbed the merit in her body, then crushed the talisman in her hand. Then, a space crack appeared and swallowed her.

Meanwhile, Wang Wei who noticed her escaping, rushed towards her, however, she had already entered the space crack by the time he arrived. Nevertheless, he did not give up.

He plunged his hand inside the space crack and grabbed something. Without hesitation, he used all his millions of jin of force and yanked something out.

Wang Wei suddenly heard a terrible shrill, then he took out a beautiful and fair arm from the space crack. He looked at it with a frown, then he looked in the sky before muttering, "Liu Meixiu? You should know that I'm the kind of person who can hold a grudge for a long time." Then, he placed her hand in his space ring, hoping he could use it in the future.

Chapter 159: Revenge Rematch

Wang Wei looked at his own hand that he had just removed the space crack. Besides his clothes that were cut into many pieces, he was perfectly fine; his skin was not even cut in the process.

He nodded in satisfaction before flying back to the Hidden Master Plain. By the time he arrived, Li Jun had already finished his enlightenment. Wang Wei observed closely.

The only difference from before was the fact that the killing aura his body naturally emanated was gone. He looked completely like a normal person. However, Wang Wei could still feel the slaughter aura hiding deep in his body, it is just that Li Jun could control it at will now.

After nodding to Li Jun, Wang Wei ordered all the people to guide the water back to the river it originated from. The majority of these demonic beasts were killed by drowning, while others died mysteriously. Wang Wei guessed that they died to Liu Meixiu's origin ability.

After the entire plain was drained, Wang Wei ordered that the body of these demonic beasts be preserved as he had a major plan that needed to use them. This plan could be what finally helped him achieve the last transformation of his Qi Luck.

While Wang Wei was doing damage control back in Great Xia, in the Endless Void, Liu Meixiu appeared in front of her Dao Protector with one hand missing, and blood spilling all over the void.

Her Dao Protector waved her hand to seal the bleeding empty arm socket before saying, "You do not need to worry. With the sect's help, it is only a matter of time for you to regrow another arm."

Liu Meixiu nodded, but a look of hatred could be seen flashing in her eyes. Once she has the chance, she will take her revenge.

Meanwhile, Yan Chen and Ji Han were looking at Liu Meixiu's Dao Protector with a smirk on their faces. As a result, she snorted before opening a space channel and heading back to the Myriad Emperor World with Liu Meixiu.

Meanwhile, back in the Great Zhou, Ji Song had an ugly look on his face as his officials started reporting what had occurred to their dynasty in just a few days.

"Your majesty, in the past few days, there had been countless natural disasters that plagued the dynasty. From drought, to earthquakes, river overflowing and even insect tides."

"Many of our crops were destroyed creating a famine. Luckily, there were still a lot of grains in reserve, but it can only last us a few months."

"Just a few days after using the dynasty's Qi Luck to kill all these demonic beasts, so many disasters have hit us all at once," said Ji Song. Then, he crushed the edge of his throne before saying, "Why did all of these demonic beasts have to die after we used our Dynasty's Qi Luck?"

"This is likely the plan of the Heaven Chosen of the Herd Raising Valley," replied Ji Su. "Although I did not figure out the exact plan, I have a feeling that person was forced to advance her plan earlier than anticipated."

"None of that matters now. What's important is how to fix the current situation of our dynasty and prevent its eventual collapse."

"Well, this is my plan to fix our problems," replied Ji Su.

A few days later, in the Great Shu Dynasty, Feng Heng was walking with a happy smile on his face. The reason for that was because he finally caught the spies from his competitors.

After spending so many years and resources, he finally caught all of them. Finally, Feng Heng can rest in peace as he does not need to worry about the whereabouts of the Incense Power.

Midway through, someone came to hand him a letter. He opened to read it, before saying with a frown:

"Ji Song wants to have a duel with me? The winner gets all the territory of the loser?"

After a few seconds, Feng Heng sneered before saying to the person that handed him the letter, "Just reply 'no' to him."

After saying that, Feng Heng placed everything behind him as he entered a prison. This was the place where all the spies were locked up.

After approaching one the cell, he saw more than five people who had bruises all over their body. A powerful seal was placed on their cultivation to prevent them from escaping.

Without hesitation, he said, "I do not have time to play around with you guys, so tell me where you place them?"

"What are you talking about?" said one of the prisoners. However, immediately afterwards, another one butt headed the one that spoke.

"I'm talking about the Incense Power. Where did you guys put it?"

All the prisoners frowned after hearing this, but this time, no one actually spoke to him this time, an act which made Feng Heng's face very ugly.

This was very rare for him as a taoist that always strived to reach a state of inactive, not to be bothered by the people or things around; to always let nature take its course.

He then took a deep breath to calm himself down, then he said, "Do not force me to use the Soul Search Method on you guys. As you know, since I'm still in the Divine Altar Realm and have not opened my Divine Consciousness yet, this process will 100 percent result in severe damage to your souls."

All these spies shuddered after hearing this. Although they were trained not to fear death, however, being Soul Damage is worse than death for them. However, despite their initial fears, they still chose to remain silent.

Except for one person. This person did not want to die, nor did he want to become a Soul Damage cultivator. So, he immediately said, "I can tell you anything you want, but I have one condition."

"What!"

"I want to become your subordinate."

The remaining five were instantly shocked and began to call this person a traitor. However, he just ignored them. He valued his life more than his loyalty to his previous master, who he considered a loser after his defeat at the hands of the current Dao Child.

Meanwhile, after pondering for a while, Feng Heng said, "I accept your offer."

The traitor nodded in satisfaction before saying, "The truth of the matter is that we did not take the Incense Power."

Instantly the traitor noticed a sudden change in Feng Heng's face, so he clarified.

"We all know how severe the Profound Gate is when it comes to Incense Power, so how could we deal with that kind of thing? Our mission was simply to sabotage your dynasty's order and prevent you from passing this trial."

"Furthermore, with Supreme Celestial Elder Wu Ming observing the entire trial, how would we dare to play with Incense Power? If you do not believe me, you can check our space ring. If that is not convincing enough, you can check the souls of the other four."

Feng Heng's eyes lit up after hearing. How could he forget that a True Monarch was observing this trial? And this person was also his Dao Protector.

With him as a witness, the sect will believe his innocence. After thinking about this, Feng Heng suddenly felt like a heavy burden had been lifted off his shoulder. However, in order to be safe, he decided to follow this traitor's advice.

Personally, Feng Heng would never truly trust such a person who easily betrayed their master in order to save their lives. However, he can still use this person as a way to gather more information about his competitors back in the Taiyi Profound Gate.

Meanwhile, in the Great Zhou Dynasty, Ji Song was sitting on his throne leading a court meeting, then he asked his brother, "What did he say?"

"He declined our challenge," replied Ji Su with a sigh. However, Ji Song was not surprised, as if he anticipated this, so he asked, "What's next?"

"We go to Plan B," replied Ji Su with a sigh in his face. He knew that this was inevitable, but he still tried to stop it from happening.

A few days later, in the Great Xia Imperial Throne Room, Wang Wei was holding a letter with a smile on his face as he muttered:

"A challenge to determine the fate of our dynasty? That sounds like an excellent idea to me."

The same day, an urgent letter was sent back to Ji Song through a Soaring Phoenix Construct with a few simple words:

"Name the time and place."

Ji Song started laughing out loud after seeing this letter. In some ways, he and Wang Wei are the same kind of person. They are quite militant by nature and are always up to a challenge.

And Ji Song was particularly excited as he's been waiting for a rematch that allows him to exact his revenge for what happened to him in the Spirit Road, and the sacrifice of his great-uncle, Ji Xiang.

After choosing a time and date, Ji Song waited with excitement as he could foresee that this would be the epitome of Heaven Chosen Battle in this current generation.

Chapter 160: Peak Battle (1)

The Northern Region of the Warring Kingdom World is an inhabited frozen land. As a result of this, there are only a few people or demonic beasts that actually live there.

Of course, countless cultivators will still travel there in search of rare medicinal herbs or ores. Due to the special nature of the north, there are many materials based on either extreme cold or extreme yin. So, it can be considered a treasure trove for many cultivators. Well, at least for the ones that can survive there.

The Northern Region is usually calm and tranquil, however, today was destined to be different, to be extraordinary. The reason being the fact that a battle that will determine the fate of the entire world is about to take place.

In vast frozen land, Ji Song stood up straight with his arm crossed in front of him. His bulging muscles could be seen even under his clothes. He closed his eyes in order to stay in the best shape possible. As such, he ignored everything around him.

He ignored the howling the wind around him, the whistling of the few birds that could survive in this environment. He ignored the frozen and icy breath coming from him every time he exhaled, the dry trees with little to no leaves on them.

All Ji Song cared about was the next battle he was about to face, so waited. And he did not have to wait long.

Ji Song suddenly opened his eyes and he saw someone rapidly flying towards him. With his powerful visual prowess, he easily recognized that the person was Wang Wei.

'What a terrible control of spiritual energy between Heaven and Earth,' thought Ji Song with a frown in his face. Although he also had 365 Divine Veins in his altar, thus having a Dao Foundation, but his foundation was not perfect.

After he inscribed the last Divine Veins on it, a crack appeared. As such, he had to use secret method to fix it.

As such, Ji Song knew how difficult it would be to be able to control spiritual qi to such a degree to fly with a normal Dao foundation--especially in a small world like this with low level of spiritual energy. At the very least, the current him did not have this ability.

However, Ji Song was not fazed by such a thing as spiritual energy control was not all determine the outcome of a battle; it only proves that his opponent has a slight advantage and the battle will be more intense than previously imagined.

Wang Wei landed not far from Ji Song and looked at him up and down. The last time he saw him, he was convulsing on the ground with blood all over him.

But now, Ji Song was completely fine, no, he was more than fine. Wang Wei' sensitive soul could feel a strange power hidden deep inside Ji Song's body. What's more, this power seemed familiar to him, as if he had seen somewhere before.

However, the feeling was quite vague, so he could not pin-point what exactly it was. However, Wang Wei was sure that this battle will not be so simple.

After the two of them checked each other out, Ji Song was the first to say something.

"I have been waiting for this battle for more than 50 years. Finally, I have a chance to avenge what you did to me back in the Spirit Road Trial."

Wang Wei remained calm after hearing this before answering, "Back then, I was as weak as a mortal and I still managed to beat you. Do you think you still have a silver of chance now?"

Ji Song cracked his knuckles and stretch his upper body before replying, "We will soon know the answer to that question, won't we?"

After saying that, he rushed straight towards Wang Wei and threw a powerful punch. This single punch created whistling sound in the air, signaling the desire and strength to destroy anything in its path.

However, Wang Wei was not about to let anyone outmatch him. He mobilized all the strength of his fleshly body and met Ji Song's punch with one of his own.

Boom!

A powerful explosion occurred after the two fists clashed, however, after a few seconds, Ji Song had to take one step back to negate the force of the attack.

He became angry at this fact, so he increased his strength and continued to punch aggressively; unfortunately, it was to no avail.

No matter, how many punches he threw, he will be overpowered by Wang Wei. After a few dozens punches, Wang Wei got bored with with warm-up and increased his strength and speed.

Boom!

With one powerful punch, Ji Song was send flying more than a few dozens meters away. Fortunately for him, he managed to cross his arms to block the attack, otherwise, he might be severely injured just in the beginning of this battle.

After landing on his feet a few meters away, Ji Song looked at both his hands that had actually turned red due to bruising. He could feel an intense pain coming from his arms as even a few of his bones actually cracked.

However, after just a few seconds, his bones healed by themselves. However, Ji Song was not happy.

As a person born with the Heavy Axe Physique, he is naturally gifted when it comes to cultivating fleshly body. Adding to that the Emperor Tier techniques that he cultivated that contained a powerful body refining method, he should never lost in a direct confrontation with fleshly body.

However, today, he did.

More importantly, Ji Song suddenly thought about the Spirit Road Trial. At that time, his current opponent did not even dare to allow himself to be hit even once during their confrontation.

But now, not only did Wang Wei clashed head on with him, he was even the winner. To Ji Song, this was a shame; a shame to his Number 2 Heavenly Physique.

However, he did not act rush. He took a deep breath to calm himself down. Then, the frozen grounds under his feet turned into rocks and flew towards his body forming a giant rock armor. Ji Song's nearly 3 meters body became a more than 10 meters Rock Golem or Giant.

He looked at Wang Wei and rushed instantly towards him. The odd thing was that his newfound size did not decrease his speed. On the contrary, he became even faster.

Ji Song roared, "[Earth's Might]" after throwing a powerful punch.

Meanwhile, Wang Wei suddenly felt that he was not facing Ji Song's alone, but the earth beneath his feet. He seemed to be facing the might of the entire Northern Region, the might of Mother Earth.

Wang Wei's eyes lit up and he did not hesitate to clash with that punch headed on.

Boom!

The air exploded, frozen pieces of land could be seen flying everywhere. A powerful shockwave traveled thousand of kilometers from the epicenter of the clash. The few individuals that were located in the Northern Region suddenly felt a powerful earthquake and they were shocked.

Countless animals suddenly started to riot. Without hesitation, they all started to migrate from their natural habitat and headed south to the Central Region.

As for Wang Wei, he was pushed back a few meters after the clash, however, there was not even a single scratch of him. Something that Ji Song took noticed of.

After being pushed back a few steps, Wang Wei instantly became excited and rushed towards his opponent and threw a punch.

This time he used all of his millions of jin of force.

With another explosion, the two of them clashed again. However, the two of them were evenly matched for now.

After seeing this, Wang Wei's eyes lit up as he finally met an opponent that can match his fleshly body. So, he became excited and threw punches after punches.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Countless explosions occurred one after another. At first Ji Song could keep up with Wang Wei, however, after a few hundred punches, he was forced in the defensive. He placed his hands in a "X" position to defend himself.

Meanwhile, all the lands in a few hundred kilometers circumference around the battle was completely destroyed. Pieces of frozen land could be seen lying everywhere. The few frozen trees were destroyed into countless pieces. Even the clouds in the sky were dispersed by the shockwaves generated by these two people's clash.

After a few minutes of using Ji Song as a punching bag, Wang Wei became bored again. So, he used a technique to attack instead of normal punches.

He controlled all the part of his body to rapidly vibrate, then he controlled the vibration to travel through his fist before punching.

"Earthquake Fist"

Ji Song suddenly felt everything around started trembling, then, before he could react a powerful vibration suddenly attack him.

His rock armor was instantly shattered and he was thrown away a few kilometers away. What's even worse was the fact that this vibration started to destroyed every part of his body.

Whether it was skin, muscles, bones, and even a few internal organs. As such, he threw a big mouthful of blood after landing.

However, Ji Song acted quickly. As soon as he landed, he opened his mouth and inhaled. Suddenly, countless green lights suddenly entered his mouth from the ground, then immediately started to heal his injuries.

After a few seconds, Ji Song got up from the ground, all healed up and ready to battle again. However, he knew that he had just used a lot of his origin qi to use this technique.