

F.D Emperor 171

Chapter 171: Heart Demon

After the battle, Wang Wei was sitting on his Dragon Throne with a pensive look on his face. After a few minutes, he said, "What do you think?"

After a brief silence, Li Jun opened his mouth. "Something seemed wrong."

Everyone then looked at him, so he further elaborated, "This guy Feng Heng seemed very weak for a Heaven Chosen."

"Weak?" asked Dong Lifen, as she did not totally agree. In her opinion, the only reason that the battle ended so quickly was because of his majesty's strength.

"Not weak per se," Li Jun tried to find the right words to express his feeling. "More like he could not use all his strength. It was as if it was difficult to control his power."

Wang Wei nodded in agreement. After seeing this, Yan Liling then asked, "Big brother Wang Wei, did you think of something?"

"Yes, I just find this guy very suspicious," he replied.

"Because of the Yin-Yang Eyes?"

"Yes."

"Why would he hide such a thing?" asked Yan Liling with a confused look on her face. In fact, not just her, but everyone in the room who knew the importance of such a powerful physique had the same question.

"Do you all remember what happened when Heavenly Dao acknowledged my physique and the Heavenly Physique List appeared, what was the name after the Yin-Yang Eyes?"

"I remember that there were a bunch of question marks instead of a name," replied Li Jun with one arm crossed and another on his chin.

Wang Wei nodded before continuing:

"At that time, many people believed that it showed that the Yin-Yang Eyes did not appear in this generation, but what if that was not the case."

Everyone--except Dong Lifen--had a frown on their face, contemplating the meaning of these words.

"Young Master, are you saying that the Yin-Yang Eyes appeared in this generation, however there were some complications in the process? And that Feng Heng knows something about it?" asked Wang Ju, who was always very astute when it came to analyzing information.

Wang Wei nodded in acknowledgment, an act which did not disperse the frown on everyone's face.

If that was true, it meant that all the top 6 Physiques in the Heavenly List appeared, making this Glorious Age even more turbulent. Not to mention what kind of secrets that this Heaven Chosen of the Taiyi Profound Gate was hiding.

Meanwhile, back in the Great Shu Dynasty, Feng Heng used some secret methods to return on the same day after the battle. Even his injuries were partially healed.

After entering his temple, he activated all the formation inside to isolate from the outside. Then, he started to freak out.

"Master, master, master, come out!" said Feng Heng in a rushed voice. Soon after, Shi Fuyu's Primordial Spirit appeared in front of him.

"Master, do you think he knows the truth?"

"Disciple, you need to calm down."

"But master, he clearly noticed something wrong."

Shi Fuyu sighed before saying, "I warned you not to use the power of your eyes in front of this Wang Wei, but you did not listen."

"I had no choice, otherwise, I would not even be able to even touch even once during the fight. What's more, it was you who told me to agree to his last condition."

"If you did not agree, he would have become even more suspicious of you. Based on what happened in the Secret Realm, you can see how cunning this Wang Wei actually is."

Feng Heng clutched his fist, then he started walking back and forth in the room while muttering, "We are screwed...We are screwed. People will find out what we did, and the sect might even instantly kill us."

Shi Fuyu looked at the state of his disciple, then he patted his shoulder. Suddenly, Feng Heng sensed something traveling throughout his mind, then he returned to his calm mood.

Feng Heng sighed in relief, while Shi Fuyu asked, "Have you calmed down now?"

"Yes."

"That's good. Do you still have it with you?"

Feng Heng nodded before taking out something from his body. However, that thing was covered by formation. After making a bunch of signs with his hand, the formation was lifted.

There lied, a human body that had a look of horror on its face--despite the fact its two eye sockets were actually empty. What is worse is the fact that this child looks nothing but a 5 year old boy.

Both Shi Fuyu and Feng Heng looked at the body, however their reactions were different,

Feng Heng's body trembled slightly after seeing it, and a look of regret could be seen in his eyes. However, his master just looked at the body with indifference.

Shi Fuyu then said, "In order to properly get the Yin-Yang Eyes as a physique, just taking the eyes is not enough. We need to find a way to swallow both the soul and source blood of the true owner. By then, no one will be able to tell the difference, and all the evidence will also be destroyed."

"So, all you have to do until then is to actually deny that you have any relationship with the Yin-Yang Eyes."

Feng Heng was silent for a few seconds before taking a deep breath. Since he had already done so much, there is no turning back for him. He will bear this sin for the rest of his life as it was his decision to make--no matter the consequences.

Furthermore, as long as he can become a Great Emperor, who dares speak ill about his actions?

After thinking about this, Feng Heng suddenly felt that his mind became more clear, then his peaceful mood turned into an indifferent one. Just now, his state of mind has reached a higher level.

Shi Fuyu noticed his disciple's change, then he nodded in satisfaction. Even without a special physique, his disciple's talent can be ranked top notch, and there was a reason he was chosen.

Meanwhile, back in the Great Xia, while dealing with all the affairs of his territory, Wang Wei was planning another expedition. This time it was to the Southern Region, and he was leading it personally.

The reason for doing this was one because he wanted more habitats for his people to live in, so taking control of the territory of the demonic beasts--that is full of resources--is the perfect place.

Secondly, and the most important reason, was because he did not trust the demonic beast left in that area. Wang Wei always asked himself why Liu Meixiu actually left so many demonic beasts alive in the Southern Region after leaving the trial.

However, he could not think of the reason. So, he decided to kill all of them so he did not have to worry about it again in the future.

Under the leadership of Wang Wei, the Great Xia army started to ravage all the demonic beasts in the Southern Region, and Wang Wei was always at the head of the attacks.

He used his True Will ability to destroy the cultivation levels of all the demonic beasts in a large area, then these beasts were taken and stored for his future plan.

Wang Wei used the [Wind Calamity] attack, thus ravaging all the demonic beasts in a few hundred miles radius.

While watching all the cut up corpses of these demonic beasts, he started to think to himself:

'Am I being too harsh in killing all these demonic beasts? After all, they are still living beings and part of the natural flow of nature, so why should I kill all of them? Just because of my suspicions of Liu Meixiu? My method seems too radical and maybe I..."

"Wait a minute," suddenly muttered Wang Wei out loud. "Since when did I start to question myself like that? As a person who seeks to be free and unfettered, I should be able to do anything I please, whenever I please. I should have the freedom to base my actions solely based on my desires, so why would I care about the balance of Heaven and Earth by killing a few demonic beasts? Even if their number is in the millions?"

After saying this, Wang Wei suddenly felt a veil uplifted from his mind, making his thinking more clear.

Despite this positive benefit, Wang Wei was not happy which was evident by the frown on his face. He realized that a Heart Demon had just attacked him.

Technically speaking, this was an impossible thing to happen as Heart Demons only occurred to Primordial Spirit Cultivators that have to go through Heart Tribulation.

What's worse was the fact that Wang Wei knew that this was not the first time that this had happened to him.

The first time he suffered from Heart Demon was when he first killed a person when he was a mortal. Back then, according to normal situations, after all he had gone through in the Pagoda Trial, he should have only suffered from discomfort after killing someone. However, he had nightmares for days instead.

The first time that such a thing happened, Wang Wei might have considered it as a rare thing, but twice showed that something is wrong, so he started thinking of the reason for this to happen to him.

Chapter 172: United World

The first thought that came to Wang Wei's mind was that someone was actually using some means to actually influence his state of mind, however, he quickly denied that idea.

Back then he did not offend anyone. Well, given his status, maybe he did not need to.

Nevertheless, he spent most of his time in the sect surrounded by some of the most powerful people in the world. If someone tried to deal with him. Whether it was his mother, father, grandfather, or other Elders of the sect they would notice something wrong.

And in this world, with the protection of his Dao Protector Yan Chen, this situation is unlikely.

The second possibility that Wang Wei thought of was that this was the hand of Heavenly Dao. However, he still denied that possibility.

When he first had his Heart Demon, he had not offended Heavenly Dao yet. Additionally, with him passing the Divine Punishment Thunder, he and Heavenly Dao were somewhat even.

Wang Wei knew that because of his Transcendent Dao Foundation, when he broke through the Supernatural Realm, his Heavenly Tribulation will not be a joke. However, that was still for the future.

Not to mention the fact that Heavenly Dao could not interfere with him all the way in this Small Thousand World. So, it could be eliminated as a suspect.

So, the last possibility that he could think of was that this has something to do with his reincarnation. Maybe something happened to him when he was going through the process of going through Samsara. After all, his massive soul power was gone during the process.

Unfortunately, his memory of the experience was completely wiped out, so there was nothing he could currently do with his little strength.

After thinking about this, Wang Wei realized how insignificant he truly was in the grand scheme of things. So, he decided to reign in the little arrogance he had after defeating Ji Song.

After taking a few moments to regain his bearings, Wang Wei then continued his expedition of the Southern Region. This time, he was even more brutal as he wanted to end this war as soon as possible.

Meanwhile, Myriad Emperor World, Central Qilin Continent, Herd Raising Valley:

Liu Meixiu's arm was already regrown back. However, upon further examination, it is easy to see that one of her arms had a different shade of color than the other.

This was due to the fact that she still needed some time to train the regrown arm to be as strong as the other one.

While cultivating, Liu Meixiu suddenly opened her eyes with an ugly look on her face. The reason for that was that she felt that all the demonic beasts that she left in the Warring Kingdom World were slowly dying.

So, she yelled with gritted teeth, "Wang Wei!" After this, her hatred for Wang Wei had dramatically increased. However, immediately afterwards, she calmed herself down and started thinking.

She had made great plans for these demonic beasts in the Southern Region. As for the reason she left there, it was because she did not want her plans to attract the attention of certain people in the Herd Raising Valley.

She thought that Wang Wei would just ignore these beasts, then her plan could continue in secret; however, her thought was completely wrong as she underestimated Wang Wei's careful nature and his ruthlessness.

After thinking about it for a few minutes, she whispered to herself, "In that case, let's execute the plan and move the experiment to the Northern Black Tortoise Continent as there are plenty of demonic beasts to use."

"However, I need to be very careful not to draw the attention of any Demon Race Imperial Family, otherwise things will escalate out of my control."

After thinking about this, she took out a token and notified her loyal servant to come meet her: they had things to do and needed the utmost secrecy.

Back to the Warring Kingdom World, Wang Wei took a few months to destroy the majority of the demonic beasts in the Southern Region.

After everything was over, he focused on his deal with Feng Heng. Under the cooperation of the two, the entire world was finally conquered and became peaceful in just two years.

On this day, Feng Heng was standing on top of a Taoist Temple in the Great Xia Capital--which was moved in the past two years.

In just two years, many of such temples were actually built, thus spreading taoism throughout the whole world. So, Feng Heng's mission in this world was over. After using a secret technique to check his luck, he looked at the two colors Qi Dragon swimming on top of his head, then he sighed.

Afterwards, he crushed a talisman and was swallowed by a space crack. Soon afterwards, Feng Heng found himself in front of his Dao Protector, Wu Ming.

Immediately, Feng Heng bowed to him before saying, "I'm sorry."

"Why are you apologizing? You did your best, and your results are among the best in this trial." replied Wu Ming with a calm look on his face.

"I know this. I am apologizing regarding the disappearance of the Incense Power."

"Oh, you did not need to hurry about the sect's punishment as I already knew that you did not absorb it. Furthermore, I scanned the entire world in search of it, and I did not even discover where it disappeared to."

"So, the likely possibility is that this world's Heavenly Dao absorbs this kind of power to test it as this was the first time it appeared."

Feng Heng nodded after hearing and was also relieved. However, he had a feeling that things were not as simple as his Dao Protector said. In the past two years, many temples have been built throughout Great Xia, however there has been no case of Incense Power going missing.

He always felt something fishy was going on. It was as if the person responsible for stealing the Incense Faith was scared to absorb that power under the eye of Wang Wei.

However, Feng Heng placed all these thoughts on the back of his head. All he cared about now was the fact that he was heading home.

Meanwhile, back in the Great Xia, Wang Wei noticed that Feng Heng was gone, so he was relieved to go about his plans. He did not trust that guy a single bit.

Although in the last two years, he used the excuse of using Feng Heng's Innate ability to observe this guy in person, he did not discover anything. Luckily for him, he managed to remove all the tiny flaws in both his Innate Field and his skin. However, he did not do so for his muscles; he did not trust Feng Heng to this extent.

After giving his orders to his subordinate, Wang Wei flew straight into the sky. When he reached the edge of the world, he used his token to send a message. Soon, True Monarch Yan Chen appeared in front of him.

"Young master, what can I do for you?" asked Yan Chen with a smile on his face.

"Supreme Elder, I need you to send me to the sun," replied as he pointed in a direction. The reason that he needed help was because the sun of this world was located in a void place without spiritual energy, so he could not fly there by himself.

Yan Chen's eyes lit up after hearing this as he thought of something. So, he complied with a smile on his face.

Standing on the surface of the sun, Wang Wei sat down and started refining his bones with the [Ancient Desolate Body Refining Scripture], as fire was the element needed to temper the bones.

Furthermore, Wang Wei was preparing for when he needed to refine his heart in the future as fire elements will also be needed.

Just like that, Wang Wei spent another two years in the sun. In the process, he has reached the core of the sun with a temperature of millions. At this time, simple temperature has no effect on him. Only flames with special nature can still burn him.

During the entire process, he had to burn or melt all 206 of his bones over and over, then regrow them again. The most dangerous part was when he had to melt his skull, almost frying his brain into paste.

Luckily for him, there are many records of similar experiences in the scripture.

After opening his eyes, Wang Wei felt that his strength had greatly increased again. Furthermore, as long as he absorbs the Heavenly Silver Ore into his bones, the tempering of his bones will be over, and his strength will increase again.

Wang Wei then woke up after finishing checking his bones, then he felt the beating of his heart. The beating was strong and steady, even more than before. Blood was rapidly traveling throughout every part of his body, thus increasing his regeneration ability.

So, Wang Wei nodded in satisfaction as he knew that he would save himself a lot of time in the future.

Afterwards, he crushed a talisman that instantly teleported him back to the Great Xia capital, where he sent a notice to all his officials to come meet him for a meeting.

Soon, all the officials--including the member of his team--and a court meeting took place. The first thing he said when the meeting started was, "Is everything prepared for my plan?"

Chapter 173: Western Desert

Many of the officials looked at Wang Wei with a happy look on their face as they could not help themselves. The past few years have been the most fulfilling time of their lives.

As high-ranking officials of Great Xia, they have slowly watched how a powerful and prosperous dynasty that covered the entire world took place--even in the Southern Region.

With Wang Wei's clean up of the demonic beasts four years ago, the entire Southern Region was opened to humans. As such, countless cities were built and many people migrated there under the incentive of the court.

As a matter of fact, it was not that difficult to motivate the people as the Southern Region was full of fertile land, and was home to numerous spiritual herbs and ore. Many people suspect that the south was even richer than the central region when it comes to resources.

Although the Northern Region was completely destroyed, no one really cares about this due to its barren nature. And now, with the return of his majesty, the last place was about to have Earth shaking change: the Western Region.

While these officials just noticed Wang Wei's return, people Li Jun and Yan Liling noticed the subtle difference and changes that occurs to him. They could see his long breath, and if they focused hard enough, they could even hear his heart beating.

They all sighed as they realized that Wang Wei had gotten even stronger than before.

While these people were observing him, Wang Wei was also doing the same thing. With his True Vision Ability, he easily noticed how both Li Jun and Yan Liling had acquired 5-color Rainbow Qi Luck.

As a matter of fact, even people like the Five Number General and the Iron Fist King, Tie Gang, had increased their luck to the beginning of Purple-Gold.

Of course the person that surprised him the most was actually Dong Lifen. In the past four years, not only did she manage to reach the peak of the Divine Altar Realm with 350 Divine Veins, she also reached a peak of Purple-Gold Qi Luck.

Wang Wei was not surprised by her cultivation level given her talent and the blessing of being the Empress of Great Xia, however, the Qi Luck level did surprise him.

In order to achieve such a level, she must have contributed a lot to the dynasty in the past few years. However, he was also puzzled by the constant frown on her face.

Then, Wang Wei secretly sighed as he looked at his black Qi Luck that was 99.99% turned back into purple.

No matter what he did in the past few years, he did not make any progress at all. However, Wang Wei was not worried as he already had a plan that guaranteed his success, hence the question he previously asked.

Wang Ji--who noticed that many of the officials were too excited to answer the previously asked question--stepped up and replied, "Your majesty, according to your instruction, all the arrays have been set up."

Wang Wei nodded as he also checked out his head maid, no he should call her his Shadow from now on.

He could see that Wang Ju has also benefited greatly from the Qi Luck of the dynasty. Her Divine Body Realm cultivation was more stable than before, and she seemed to have used the increase of comprehension brought by her position to understand the techniques she cultivated.

He guessed that her cultivation would increase dramatically after returning home.

After receiving a full report from Wang Ju, Wang Wei spent a few hours checking the situation of the dynasty during his absence. After checking that everything was normal, he headed straight for the Western Region.

Once there, Wang Wei stood in the air, then waved his hand. He used all his 720 Divine Veins to control all the spiritual energy in the western region, then countless circular runes appeared in the air, surrounding the entire region.

Under Wang Wei's control, these arrays started to absorb powerful energy from something buried underneath the soils or desert of the Western Region.

If one person could observe closely, they would find out that the arrays were absorbing the blood, souls, and cultivation power of countless demonic beasts. And there were billions of them buried underneath the ground.

After the array absorbed all those powers, something magical happened. The desert--that has existed in the western region for millions of years--suddenly started to turn into normal land.

Mountains and rivers then started to appear in many different places, many fertile and cultivable lands also manifested themselves. Then, the temperature of the desert started to cool down until it reached the normal level of the other regions.

Following which, rain--which was a very rare thing--suddenly to fall everywhere. As a result, many trees suddenly grew widely in different places, creating vast and luscious forests.

The last transformation to occur was the increase in spiritual energy from Heaven and Earth. As a matter of fact, the reason that such tremendous changes occurred was due to the resurgence of spiritual energy.

What Wang Wei was doing was to essentially create and repair the spiritual veins located under the Western Region using the vitality of all the demonic beasts that were killed due to the Beast Tide a few years ago.

By doing so, Wang Wei can rejuvenate the barren land of the Western Region. He got this idea from a Great Emperor of the Di Clan.

At some point of time, the Western White Tiger Continent suffered a devastating catastrophe that left all the spiritual veins there completely destroyed, resulting in the spiritual energy in the Western Continent to become even less than the Northern Continent.

Due to this, at some point things got so bad that the Devil Cultivators in the West wanted to wage a war against the Demon Race in the North to take over the continent.

However, before things escalated to this point, a Great Emperor was born from the Di Clan. Using his amazing ability, he single handedly fixed all the spiritual veins to the point that the spiritual energy between Heaven and Earth was recovered, but it even briefly surpassed the Southern Vermilion Bird Continent and almost reached the level of the Eastern Azure Dragon Continent.

Of course Wang Wei did not have the power of that Great Emperor, nor did he have such a deep understanding of feng shui to easily repair spiritual veins.

So, he used the blood, soul and vitality of demonic beasts as an energy source, then attached a powerful Spirit Gathering Formation where the spiritual veins are located.

As for the already existing spiritual veins, the Spirit Gathering Array was attached to them as an aid to help them produce more spiritual energy. Due to this, the Great Xia Dynasty had to spend countless resources and more than two years to set up these formations.

And why did Wang Wei go through such great lengths to do such a thing?

It was for the same reason that the Great Emperor of the Di Clan did: Merit.

Merit is a mysterious and almost omnipotent thing, so Wang Wei knew that this was the perfect thing to help with the problem of his Qi Luck.

Soon after all the transformation of the Western Region finished, many people marveled with excitement on their faces. Then, many people kneeled on the ground with tears in their eyes while chanting:

"Long Live his Majesty."

As a matter of fact, the lives of the western people have dramatically improved over the last few years as members of Great Xia. They never had to worry about food, water, or shelter. Even the horrible temperature of the desert was no longer a problem with constructs specially designed by the Refining Hall of Great Xia.

However, compared to the lives of the other regions, the people of the western people still felt a little inferior. After all, they live in a vast desert. As a result of this, it is very difficult to build roads or Crawling Dragon Construct.

They convinced themselves that everything was fine since they could still use the Soaring Phoenix Construct to travel by air, but they always felt like their region was backwards.

But now, things are different. They finally have the chance to modernize themselves completely, to become more like the central and eastern regions.

As for Wang Wei, after finishing controlling the arrays, a sudden will suddenly manifested around. Then, golden clouds suddenly enveloped him as he could feel that this will was showing its good will towards.

Wang Wei knew that the Heavenly Dao of this world was happy by his deed, and the golden lights that fell from the Heaven and into his hand further proved his feeling.

As such, Wang Wei looked in excitement at the golden lights in his hand. This amount of merit was a few times larger than the ones Liu Meixiu received.

Meaning, that even if he used it to change his Qi Luck, there should be more than enough as a reserve.

Chapter 174: Rainbow Qi Luck

After receiving the golden merit, Wang Wei did not absorb it directly in order to change his Qi Luck, but instead used it to increase his comprehension.

After absorbing some of the merit, Wang Wei found that his mind started to work a hundred times more rapidly. Adding on to his previous comprehension, Wang Wei could feel that his mind was working faster than a quantum computer.

Many things that he did not previously understand instantly became clear, however, he quickly reigned in his mind to focus on understanding his Qi Luck.

"So, that's how it is?" muttered Wang Wei after a few seconds. He finally understood why his transformation was not complete after so long.

Wang Wei had confused the Qi Luck of a person and the one of a nation. As a matter of fact, there are different kinds of Qi Luck.

There is the Human Qi Luck or Innate Qi Luck. This one the luck that everyone is born with; this luck to an extent determines your talent, the amount and kind of opportunities you will get during your life, and the chances you are to escape certain dangerous situations based on luck alone.

This kind of luck rarely changes and can only go all the way through purple-gold.

After realizing this, Wang Wei then suddenly realized how precious the Spirit Road Trial actually was as it allowed people to change their Innate Luck.

The second kind of luck is actually called Heavenly Luck, and it is granted by Heaven itself. The Qi Luck color of these people does not really matter as they are blessed by Heaven themselves. The highest level of Heavenly Luck is in fact the Son of Destiny.

The third kind of luck is referred to as Earthly Luck, and this is the category that a dynasty's Qi Luck falls under. This luck is created by gathering a small portion of destiny or luck from myriad things: people, lands, emotions, desires...etc. This kind of luck is somewhat similar to Incense, however, it is not as poisonous due to being more restrictive through karma.

As for Wang Wei's black Qi Luck, this was the result of him being rejected by Heaven and Earth. And this kind of thing is not as bad as it sounds because it means that it is very difficult for Heavenly Dao to plot against by using fortunate encounters as bait.

More importantly, for Wang Wei who desired to become free and unfettered, it means that he has the chance to control his own luck, and he succeeded.

The process of him turning his black Qi Luck back into purple is a transformation that occurs due to him slowly grasping his fate when it comes to controlling luck.

And now that he finally understood all the knowledge needed about Qi Luck, his transformation was complete, and Wang Wei also developed a new ability.

This ability is called [Destiny's Son], and as the name implies, Wang Wei could forcibly become the Son of Destiny of any world he is in. Then, his luck would be as legendary and scary as Long Aotian.

Everything would become easy for him to achieve. If he wanted some rare herb or material, just follow his instinct and he would eventually discover it. His chances of escaping true mortal dangers would increase dramatically.

In general, this ability is heaven defying, however, Wang Wei was not happy and he will not use it blindly.

As a person who truly understands Qi Luck, he knew that Heavenly Luck was actually a big pit. Do you think that Heavenly Dao would bless someone with luck for no reason?

Of course not. Heaven and Earth revolves around the concept of balance, of cause and effect. If something extraordinary happens to someone, then there must be a reason.

For example, the title of Son of Destiny sounds very appealing, however, Wang Wei knows that each Son of Destiny of any world is born or chosen for a reason.

And it is usually because the world sensed that a catastrophe is about to happen, so it chose someone as a Son of Destiny to cultivate in order to fight or prevent the disaster. So, those lucky bastards usually have a rough life despite being lucky as they have to go through countless trials and tribulations.

A perfect example of that was Long Aotian. The Heavenly Dao of the Warring Kingdom World chose him as the Son of Destiny in a desperate attempt to prevent all the participants of the trial from truly taking over the world.

Despite the fact that the Heaven Chosens mostly brought positive changes to the world, it did change the fact that they were foreigners, outsiders. So, the world's plan for Long Aotian to rise up and become the one to conquer the world. And maybe in the process, form an alliance with a few Heaven Chosens and use the advanced resources of their world to better this one.

According to the information that he learned from studying Qi Luck, and after watching the life of this world previous Son of Destiny, Wang Wei guesses that there was a reason that Long Aotian was teleported to Fang Lijuan after the explosion of the Secret Realm.

In all likelihood, Heavenly Dao wanted Long Aotian to seduce Fang Lijuan, then with her unreserved support, Long Aotian would have a better chance of conquering the world. And maybe found a way for this world to evolve from a Small Thousand World to a Middle Thousand World.

Unfortunately, Heavenly Dao greatly underestimated the Heaven Chosen of the Myriad Emperor World. More importantly, it underestimated Fang Lijuan's ruthlessness. It probably thought that with her arrogance, she would not do such a thing,

However, as a person who aspires to become Great Emperor, how could Fang Lijuan not swallow her pride when necessary? No matter how arrogant a person is, in front of endless power and immortality, who can resist?

So, after seeing the death of Long Aotian, Wang Wei has a newfound respect for this member of the Divine Clan. Unlike other members of her clan, she knows when to be arrogant, and when to reign in.

Of course Wang Wei is more interested in the talisman that was in Long Aotian's hand. If he guessed correctly, this talisman is very precious. And now that it has fallen into Fang Lijuan's hands, her threat level for the future has greatly increased.

After taking a brief moment to think about these things, Wang Wei reigned in his mind. Then, he used his secret method to convert Earthly Luck into Innate Luck.

His Qi Luck rapidly changed from purple, then to purple-gold. After a few minutes, a second color appeared, then a third.

Wang Wei spent a few minutes absorbing the luck. He checked his Qi Dragon, and it had 7 colors, signifying that he reached the 7-color Rainbow Qi Luck, so he smiled.

Wang Wei knew that the reason that he reached the maximum level of 7 colors was because of the transformation of the Western Desert. Otherwise, he would only reach 6 colors.

One thing that caught Wang Wei's attention was the fact that the 7-color Rainbow Qi Luck is also referred to as Immortal Luck. Given that more than 7-color of Qi Luck is referred to as Emperor Luck, he guessed that Immortal Luck has something to do with Immortal Venerables and Dao Ancestors.

Unfortunately, he only learned the title of that level of luck, but nothing about what Immortal Venerable actually is. He guessed this has to do with the fact that this world's level is too low, so it does not have any information besides just a name.

After absorbing the Qi Luck, Wang Wei felt that his strength had suddenly increased dramatically. It reached the point that he could kill his previous self with just one punch.

Wang Wei knew that this was actually another function of Earthly Luck. The king of any dynasty can bless himself with the power of the dynasty's luck, thus increasing their strength dramatically.

Unfortunately, this kind of ability is only available in Medium Small Thousand World and above. And it requires the dynasty to refine a Luck Condensing Artifact in order to be able to use Qi Luck in such a way.

Wang Wei knew that every Emperor Lineage back home actually has a Luck Condensing Artifact, and it is usually one of their Emperor Artifacts that served that role--just like in the Dao Opening Sect.

The Emperor Artifact of Wang Wei's ancestor, Emperor Qiyuan, served as the Luck Condensing Artifact of the Dao Opening Sect.

As a matter of fact, Wang Wei is a little lucky that this ability was not available in the trial, otherwise he would have to suffer.

When all the other Heaven Chosen could use this ability in desperation, he would not be able to do the same as his Qi Luck was still black. And if Ji Song had that ability in the final battle, then Wang Wei would have suffered greatly.

As a last result, he probably would have to ask Dong Lifen to control the dynasty's Qi Luck and channel it through him. However, Wang Wei guessed that even if that method succeeded, there would still be some repercussions. Not to mention that she would actually have to be close to him, thus risk being a liability during battles with her weak strength.

After thinking about this, Wang Wei sighed, then he returned to the capital. Now that he has accomplished everything he came for in this world, the trial is officially over.

So, it was time to head back home as he missed his family greatly.

Chapter 175: The End of the Trial

After returning back to the capital, Wang Wei spent a few days making sure everything was fine, then prepared to leave.

Of course many turbulence occurred throughout the territory when the news that the Wise Sage, His Majesty Wang Wei was actually leaving soon to the Higher Realm.

Many people cried, many people begged for him to stay, while some blessed him on his journey.

As for the officials, they seemed to have organized a protest asking for Wang Wei to reconsider his decision. Even since he announced the news, many of them have been kneeling in front of the Imperial Palace claiming that they would not leave until his majesty changed his mind.

However, Wang Wei ignored them. More than four years ago, he had already warned these people so that they would be ready.

On the last night before leaving, Wang Wei was standing on top of the Imperial Palace looking at the vast territory that he ruled.

Then, he took a little trip down memory lane. He remembered how insignificant he was in his previous life compared to now.

Back on Earth, he used to slave daily in order to climb up the ladder in his company. And compared with the people of his age, he did not have some success. However, all of these are nothing compared to ruling a dynasty with billions of people.

His every word, actions, and slight insinuation could determine the fate of so many people, the fate of an entire world.

Not to mention his strength. With his current ability, he could probably destroy the entire Earth with just one punch. Forget the Earth, he doubts whether the entire Solar System could survive his [World Breaking Fist].

And that was far from his limit. When he one day manages to prove the Dao, not just one Small Thousand World will bow to him, but thousands of them. Especially after absorbing the power of merit, Wang Wei's plan after becoming Emperor was finalized.

As a result of this plan, his Will will be spread to myriad worlds and races in the Endless Void. His name will bring both despair and hope to trillions of lives; he will control the fate of so many people and worlds.

This is one of the reasons that he was not so homesick after reincarnating into this world. Compared to his possible future in this world, his life back on Earth was too insignificant.

Although he sometimes missed his family back on Earth, he did not mind that much as he believed that as long as he reached a certain level of strength, he might be able to see them again.

As for the passage of time?

Well, Wang Wei believed that as long as his strength is high enough, time will never be an obstacle for the things he wants to accomplish.

While Wang Wei was thinking about his past and future, he heard the sound of someone walking towards him. From the soul fluctuation, he knew that it was Dong Lifan, so he was puzzled why she came to see him this late at night.

Dong Lifan came next to Wang Wei, but she did not say anything for a few minutes: she just watched over the beauty of the capital fully lit during the night.

Then, she seemed to have made a decision, so she ran into Wang Wei's arm and kissed him on the lips, to his complete surprise.

After waking up from his shock, he removed his lips from hers and asked, "Why are you doing this?"

Dong Lifan lowered his head before looking him straight in the eyes: "I want to spend the night with his majesty before you leave."

Wang Wei's eyebrow was raised after hearing this, then he said, "You should know that this will not change anything between us."

"I know, but this is my choice, and I'm willing to live with it."

Wang Wei looked at the confident and stubborn look on her eyes, then he smiled. He lifted up, then headed straight for his Dragon Bed.

The next morning, Dong Lifan woke up. Immediately, she winced a little, then blushed when thinking about how crazy the two of them were last night. She finally understood how powerful his majesty's fleshly body was.

After turning her head to the side, a flash of sadness passed through her eyes when she noticed that there was no one beside her. She sighed, then looked at the blood stain in the sheet. With a wave of her hand, she places it in her space ring, then gets dressed.

However, as soon as Dong Lifan finished dressing, Wang Wei walked in to her slight delight.

"Have you made a decision of what you are going to do?" asked Wang Wei calmly.

After a few seconds, she replied, "I decided to stay in this world, after all, it is my home. However, I hope your majesty can take my master with you. Her dreams and aspirations are not the same as mine."

Wang Wei nodded, not too surprised by her decision. Then, he took out the Conferred God List and the Imperial Seal before saying, "In that case, let me give you a departing gift in order to help you achieve your goals."

Dong Lifan looked at these two things with a look of shock on her face. She understood the meaning of these two things; it means that she is the legitimate successor of the Great Xia Dynasty.

After pondering for a few seconds, she reached out and took both of them. "Your majesty, you knew of my plans?"

Wang Wei smiled before answering, "I always knew that you were an ambitious woman. However, I have to warn you, although I hand over the dynasty to you, whether you can keep it is another matter."

"Now, technically speaking, this world belongs to the sect I'm from, so no other people have the right to intervene. However, nothing is set in stone. So, you have to watch out for possible interference from people in my world.

Dong Lifan nodded, knowing that her future was full of challenges, however, she was ready for it.

Then, she suddenly asked, "Your majesty."

"You can call me Wang Wei."

Dong Lifan hesitated for a while before saying, "Young Master Wang Wei, did you hand over the dynasty as a way to pay off the karma of what happened last night?"

Wang Wei was a little caught by surprise by this question, then he answered: "You are partially right. However, the real reason for me doing this is because I want to see how far you can go."

After saying this, he took a deep look at her, then held her face and gave her a kiss on the forehead. Afterwards, he left the palace without hesitation.

After flying for a few seconds, he saw Li Jun, Yan Liling, Wang Ju, The Five Name General, Tie Gang and Yu Siyu, who sighed after seeing Wang Wei coming alone.

"Is she really not coming?" she asked, fully knowing the answer.

"You know her better than any of us, so you should have anticipated this outcome," replied Wang Wei calmly. Afterwards, he looked into the sky.

Soon afterwards, a space crack appeared and swallowed everyone, transporting them in the Endless Void in front of True Monarch Yan Chen.

"Excellent trial, Young master. You complete it even better than the sect anticipated. Not just him, all of you did an excellent job," praised the True Monarch.

While most of the people had a calm smile on their faces, both Tie Gang and Yu Siyu had a look of shock on their faces as this was their first time being teleported.

Furthermore, they were told of how powerful this smiling elder actually was. This was a Supreme Realm powerhouse, the being closest to the Great Emperor, so they were in awe after meeting. As a result, both of them remain quiet and try to reduce their presence.

Unfortunately, this was not possible as Yan Chen started addressing them next.

"When you reach our world, something extraordinary will happen to you both. All you need to remember is not to panic, afterwards, you will be greatly rewarded.

Wang Wei smiled after seeing this. He expected this kind of behavior from Yu Siyu, but it was odd to see Tie Gang also act this way.

After all, the impression this guy gave him was that he did not fear nothing between Heaven and Earth. This was proven after he decided to challenge him right after watching his battle with Ji Song.

Wang Wei looked at True Monarch Yan Chen before asking, "Supreme Elder, are we leaving the same way we came?"

"No," replied Yan Chen while shaking his head. "Since we are the winners of the trial, the Great Wu Imperial Dynasty handed over the Ascension Teleportation Array."

Everyone then nodded, so Yan Chen activated the array after everyone was ready.

After a few seconds, the entire group only saw the world twisted up and down, then they found themselves leaving the desolate void.

Wang Wei immediately realized that he was in the Heavenspan Domain, where the Dao Opening Sect was located. He took a deep breath, thus absorbing a vast amount of spiritual energy between Heaven and Earth.

"Oh, the sweet smell of home," said Wang Wei with an excited look on his face.

Chapter 176: Home

Wang Wei was not the only person that was happy to be back home. All of the members of his group were. After entering the world, a feeling of euphoria suddenly overcame them; it was as if a mother (the entire world) was welcoming its children back home.

While the group was rejoicing of finally going home after 15 years, a supreme and powerful will suddenly appeared around them. Then, the will started to invade Tie Gang and Yu Siyu's body to their horrors.

Luckily, they remember what True Monarch had said to them a few minutes ago. So, they each took a deep breath to calm themselves down. However, they were just calm on the surface.

That supreme will scan everything part of their bodies. Whether it was their soul, spirit, and even their memories.

Of course that supreme will was the Heavenly Dao of the Myriad Emperor World. Every time some foreigners enter the world, it is his job to check out these intruders to ensure that they are not a danger to the world.

As such, as soon as it noticed these two, it started to check. It checked their bodies and souls to ensure that there were no curses implanted on these people by some powerful being from the Endless Void.

Then, it checked their memories to ensure that these two were not vanguard sent by other powerful worlds in order to acquire the world coordinate of the Myriad Emperor World.

Just by how meticulous Heavenly Dao was, it is obvious that it knows from experience what to look for; so it was very thorough. An act which made Tie Gang and Yu Siyu suffer greatly as it was not a pleasant experience having all their deepest secrets seen through by someone.

However, the process did not last long. After a few minutes, the process was finished. Then, a vast amount of spiritual energy started to enter the bodies of Tie Gang and Yu Siyu.

"Sit cross-legged and begin to cultivate. This is the reward of Heavenly Dao," instantly yelled Supreme Elder Yan Chen.

The two then immediately reacted and followed the instructions.

"Why are these two getting rewarded?" asked Li Jun to the Supreme Elder. In fact, it was not just him who wanted to know this answer. Everyone else also wanted to know.

They can understand the necessary precaution to check the identity of these two, why would Heavenly Dao reward them?

"Because of their talent," suddenly said a beautiful voice. However, it was not that of Yan Chen.

Everyone looks in a direction of the voice to see Yu Yan--Wang Wei's mother--suddenly appearing next to the group with them even noticing.

Meanwhile Yu Yan smiled happily at the group, before embracing Wang Wei and caressing his face without caring of the weird look the people were giving her.

However, unlike previously, Wang Wei was not embarrassed nor did he smile wryly. He just laid in his mother's arms while also embracing her. As a person who has lived two lives, he knows the importance of spending time with family.

Especially in this cultivating world where seclusion can take thousands of years. More importantly, the cultivation world is more dangerous than anyone can imagine. No one knows for certain what can happen. So, he cherished his family greatly.

"Aunt."

"Sect Madam"

All the people who recognized Yu Yan saluted her, to which she just nodded.

"Mother, what do you mean by talent?" asked Wang Wei, who was still curious about the previous topic.

"Heavenly Dao will reward certain foreigners that enter our world based on how their talents are. This is an incentive for these people to stay in the world and contribute to it in any way possible."

Wang Wei understood what she meant. This was the way that the Heavenly Dao of this world poached talented people from other worlds through promises and bribing. Some countries in his past life did a lot of this in order to quickly develop both their science and technology, but also their economy.

The process of breakthrough lasted only a few minutes. However, from the smile on these two's faces, they were more than happy with their rewards.

Yu Siyu managed to inscribe more than 300 Divine Veins on her altar, making her foundation and strength dramatically increase.

As for the former Iron Fist King, Tie Gang, his Divine Veins reached 330. But more importantly, he managed to figure out what Qi of Good Fortune is. As such, as long as he has the proper technique and head into seclusion, he can break through the Supernatural Realm at any time.

After these two finished their transformation, the entire group left for the direction of the sect. As soon as they arrived at the entrance, they saw Sect Master Wang Tian and a group of elders waiting for them.

As soon as they arrived, Li Jun's mother started to cuddle her son. In fact, even Yan Liling was not spared in this large embrace. Unlike Wang Wei's calm look, these two were completely shy.

Great Elder Li Jiang patted his son on the shoulder with a smile on his face, while Great Elder Yan Mei smiled at her niece.

As for Wang Tian, he looked at his son up and down, "Good, Good, you did better than during my trial." Then, he proceeded to imitate his wife and played with Wang Wei's grey hair.

Wang Wei looked at his father with a speechless look. His eyes seemed to be saying you are a grown man, why are you acting so weird? He could understand his mother's behavior, but he did not understand why his old man started to act more childish.

However, Wang Tian just ignored his son's gaze as he continued to mess up his hair with great pleasure.

As a matter of fact, there is a reason that Wang Tian behaves so child-like. It is because he is nearing the Supreme Realm. So, he started to return to a more simplistic nature of himself.

He behaves childlike because he is in-tuned with Heaven and Earth, his state of mind is returning to a very simple and innocent one so that he can better understand the Laws of Heaven and Earth.

Wang Wei decided to ignore his father, so he asked him, "What did you do for your trial?"

After pondering for a while, he responded, "Well, I created the Supreme Sword Sect, then spread the Dao of the Sword throughout the entire world."

"How was the result?"

"Of course I succeeded, however there were a few setbacks in the middle."

Wang Tian looked at his wife, "Your mother rallied all the people in the world to encircle me and my sect. Unfortunately, she was no match for me and my loyal sword followers."

Meanwhile Yu Yan snorted, "The only reason that you survive that battle so easily was because all the Heaven Chosen at that time were infighting for control over the alliance."

"It doesn't matter how I survived," snickered Wang Tian. "Furthermore, wasn't it you that said that only the result matters, not the process."

Yu Yan stared at her husband before saying, "Do you want to sleep outside today?"

Wang Tian smiled leisurely, but he did not say anything else. However, Wang Wei was intrigued as he wanted to know how things ended in the end.

"So, who was the final winner in the end?"

"There was no final winner, or we both were as me and your father eventually formed an alliance," replied Yu Yan.

"What alliance, you basically blackmail me that if I did not ally with you, you would spread Saber Dao to fight with me."

Wang Wei became puzzled after hearing this, "How is that a threat?"

Wang Tian looked at his son, "Practicing the sword was not the same as practicing the saber. It is very hard to start practicing the sword but easy to master.

"As for the saber, it is easy to start practicing, but hard to master. It can take even the most powerful genius of the sword more than two years of training in order to become proficient in using the sword and have certain combat power.

"However, the saber was different. Even a normal person holding a saber can easily use it after a few weeks of practice. If your mother had managed to spread Saber Dao throughout the entire world, I would have to spend countless years before Sword Dao can reign supreme in the entire world, thus prolonging the time I'd have to spend to reach the rainbow Level of Qi Luck.

"So, it was simply not worth it to fight for her for so long when an alliance would allow the two of us to benefit."

Wang Wei nodded, however he guessed that things were not that simple. He guessed that his father probably had developed a little crush on his mother back then, so he easily accepted her deal.

Wang Wei knew that he would never accept such a thing. He is open to negotiation, never being forced.

This can be seen in how he reacted to Feng Heng's deal. Instead of just accepting, he used the excuse of a fight to slap him straight in his face, showing that Wang Wei has a very petty side.

However, this can't be helped. As a person who pursues freedom, nothing he hates more than being forced to do something--even if that thing is good or beneficial to him.

Chapter 177: Family Reunion

While all these people reunited with their families, True Monarch Yan Chen bid goodbye to all of them. He was in a hurry to discuss the details of the trail with the other old guys.

In this trial, he watched how the young sect master slowly transformed the entire world into something, something better, something more efficient. According to the information he heard, this process was called "modernization" by the young master.

Yan Chen suddenly remembered the conversation that he had with Wang Wei after the Spirit Road Trial. At that time, he thought that the young master only had a preliminary plan on how to change the world, but after seeing what happened in the Warring Kingdom World, Yan Chen knew that Wang Wei was not simply talking; he actually had a thorough plan.

And he used this trial to test some of his ideas. So, Yan Chen watched how Wang Wei had to first force these cultivators to integrate the power of cultivation into everyday life.

However, as time passed, using incentive and the satisfaction of slowly changing the world, these cultivators were more than happy to help slowly build the Great Xia according to Wang Wei's vision.

Many of them came up with ideas of their own, some talked to mortals in order to figure out their needs and create specific origin artifacts for them.

In general, the majority of the cultivators were more than happy to help mortals with their ability as it gave them a sense of accomplishment.

And what was the result?

A very prosperous dynasty, dramatic increase in population and more importantly, a rapid development of professions like alchemy, talisman and refiner.

With so many professionals working together, sharing their knowledge and experience, these professions develop at an alarming rate.

So, Yan Chen started to envision what it would be like if the entire Myriad Emperor World started to develop so rapidly under the young master's guidance.

Just like he said back then, their civilization will flourish so much that even the Ancient Emperor Era would not be able to compare.

And who would benefit the most from such fast development? Of course it is their Dao Opening Sect.

Yan Chen can foresee that in the beginning of such an era, many of the powerful sects will hesitate to side with the young master. However, at that time, their Dao Opening Sect will provide their whole support.

And as the saying goes, the early bird gets the worm. By doing so, their Dao Opening Sect will have a large amount of head start before the others so that when they join down the line, the other factions will never be able to catch up to them.

Yan Chen hundred percent believed that these factions will change their mind once they start to see the benefit that their sect receives.

As for how he knows how these sects will behave?

Simple, just by looking at the way they reacted to all the changes that happened in the trial. To them, the changes that happened in the Great Xia Dynasty was simply a marvelous idea to them, a good idea that gave the Great Xia a little edge over the other dynasties.

Nothing more, nothing less.

And many of them thought that Wang Wei had done too much to mix cultivators with mortals. To them, this was a simple disrespect. So, Yan Chen sneered at how low the vision of his peers actually were.

As a matter of fact, they did not even discover the benefit of the Warring Kingdom World's martial art to low level cultivators; their understanding of spirit is a great help people break through the Divine Altar Realm.

Their snobbish and prideful attitudes has simply blinded them, resulting in their Dao Opening Sect benefiting greatly.

"Supreme Elder, thank you for your hard work."

"Sect Master, there is no need to thank me. Protecting the young master is my duty. And I would gladly die to accomplish it," replied Yan Chen with a smile. Afterwards, he left and returned to the Supreme Elder Cottage.

Wang Tian and his family returned to Wang Clan Mountain in order to have dinner with his grandfather, who had a happy smile on his face.

After the meal, Wang Chang looked at his grandson with satisfaction. "Wei'er, according to the report of Yan Chen, you did a terrific job in this trial. However, many of your plans cannot be exposed as of yet."

"Oh, why is that?"

"Simple, the Emperor Lineages are similar to the noble clans you had to deal with. Things like holding knowledge to a privileged few is how they maintained their strength. So, they will never allow anyone to change the status quo.

"So, if you want to do the exact same thing you did in the trial in this world, your strength has to reach a certain level."

Wang Wei sighed as he expected this, "In the end, it all about whether I can prove the Dao in the end."

However, Wang Chang shook his head, "Being a simple Emperor is far from enough. You have to be stronger than an average Emperor, you have to become an Eternal Emperor."

"Eternal Emperor?"

"This kind of knowledge is too early for you to know. Just remember that an Eternal Emperor is the highest of caliber among all Great Emperors. Throughout the billions of years of this world, throughout the countless Eras, among the thousands upon thousand of Emperors that walk this world, the number of Eternal Emperors can be counted in two hands."

Wang Wei's eyebrow was raised after hearing this, but he could probably guess the meaning of an Eternal Emperor. Among all the Great Emperors cultivated in this world, some of them were simply more extraordinary than others.

The feats that they accomplished are simply legendary, leaving an eternal myth regarding their existence.

Wang Wei guessed that his grandfather meant that only by being one of these kinds of Emperor will he have a chance to accomplish his plans. So, he nodded in acknowledgement.

"What are you going to do with the two people that you brought back," suddenly asked Wang Tian.

"Well, I plan to train Tie Gang to be my left arm man, so the sect can provide him with the highest of treatment. However, his loyalty cannot be a hundred percent guarantee, so sent someone to monitor him for a while," replied Wang Wei after pondering for a while.

"As for Yu Siyu, she seemed to have no ambition besides the desire to cultivate peacefully. So, just provide her with the resources she needs and leave her be."

Wang Tian accepted his son's recommendation. As for Yu Siyu not being required to contribute, it does not matter. Their sect has more than enough resources to raise anybody. Furthermore, Wang Tian could guess the reason that his son made such a decision.

After dinner, Yu Yan grabbed her son and started asking him about the trial. "So, why did you not bring that girl Dong Lifan? You know I was ready to hold a big fat grandson!"

Wang Wei looked at his mother with a speechless look. "Dong Lifan is not the girl for me, and she chose to remain in her world in order to accomplish her ambitions.

"As for grandson? I'm afraid that you might not hold one for the remainder of your life."

"What! You do not plan to give me grandchildren? Ever?" asked Yu Yan with a visibly surprised look on her face. This was current news to her.

"Well, not never, but I do not plan to have children until I succeed in my pursuit of the end of the Dao. That way, I will not be distracted and my children will be born with terrifying talent. I wonder if it's possible to give birth to a Great Emperor?

"Back to the topic. By the time I am ready to have children, how long do you think will pass?"

Yu Yan looked at her son with her mouth open, then she said, "So, you are going to watch your mother and father slowly die of old age without giving us a fat grandson to hold?"

"Mother, you do not need to worry about such a thing. With me, it is only a matter of time for our family to become immortal. And Even if something were to happen to you, dad, and grandfather, when I become so powerful, it will be an easy matter for me to reverse Samsara and bring all you back to life."

Yu Yan sighed as she knew she could not change her son's decision as he can be stubborn when it comes to certain decisions that he makes. So, she decided not to bring the topic up again.

After returning home, Wang Wei spent a few months hanging out with his family. He needed to relax both his body and mind after the trial.

Then, he entered seclusion in order to reach the Supernatural Realm.

Chapter 178: Supernatural Realm

Inside his seclusion chamber, Wang Wei did not immediately break through the Supernatural Realm, but took both the [Origin Path Scripture] and the [Overlord Fist] in order to review all the information he needed. Afterwards, he then started his breakthrough.

The first he did was to enter a deep state of meditation, then blend into Heaven and Earth.

The first step Wang Wei's breakthrough is to capture a wisp of Qi of Good Fortune?

And what exactly is Qi of Good Fortune?

Well, it is the breath or special vibration exuded by Heaven and Earth. Whether it was the ground, a rock, animals, or plants; all of them have a unique breath or rhythm.

After capturing this unique breath, Wang Wei used a special technique to turn them into a Qi or energy.

Suddenly, a silver energy suddenly appeared in front of Wang Wei; this was the Qi of Good Fortune. Immediately after capturing it, he controlled it to enter his altar that was in the shape of the "Temple of Heaven".

The Qi of Good Fortune rushed straight into the top of the altar, then an ancient lamp suddenly manifested itself. The Qi of Good Fortune entered the ancient lamp, then a multicolored-fire appeared.

To be precise, the fire had 13 colors exactly. Wang Wei knew that this was the Good Fortune Flame, and it is extremely precious for cultivators in both the Divine Body and Primordial Spirit Realm.

According to normal standard, the maximum number of color a Good Fortune Flame has is 12, but Wang Wei has one more due to his Transcendent Dao Foundation.

After the flame appeared, Wang Wei knew that the first step of his breakthrough was over, then he continued to the second step.

Well, in this time, Wang Wei has to do things differently. According to a normal breakthrough, he should have combine all his Divine Veins into Origin Pattern, then opened his Niwan Aperture to create his Sea of Consciousness.

However, many of his Divine Veins were inscribed in his souls, so Wang Wei decided to open his Niwan Aperture first.

So, he controlled the Good Fortune Flame to move to the place in the middle of his forehead. Then, Wang Wei felt like his head exploded; it was like the big bang that created the universe.

However, instead of creating an entire universe, only his Sea of Consciousness was opened. There, Wang Wei saw his massive purple cloud-like soul with grey edges, and many Divine Veins inscribed on them.

As soon as Wang Wei opened his Sea of Consciousness, a terrifying pressure from his soul suddenly enveloped the entire Dao Opening Sect.

All the disciples and elders--including the True Monarchs--felt a terrifying and heavy pressure on them; it was as if their souls were under heavy pressure. Their thinking became increasingly slow, and many weak disciples even passed out.

What's more, the soul pressure seemed to want to expand beyond the sect. And with its power, it might even spread throughout the entire world. However, Wang Wei remembered the warning that the Battle Maniac Emperor gave him, so he quickly controlled his soul pressure and did not allow it to spread beyond his cultivation room.

This act was a relief to many of the disciples of the sect. Knowing that the Sacred Son was in the midst of a breakthrough, many people looked in the direction of the Wang Clan Mountain with awe and envy.

Meanwhile, in the Supreme Elder Cottage, Wang Chang felt the mighty pressure that his grandson release, so he muttered, "It seemed that Wei'er was not a simple person in his past life."

Yes, Wang Wei's family has already guessed that their son was actually reincarnated, and that he even woke up to the memory of his past life at an early age.

After all, many of Wang Wei's actions and random sayings are just weird or not normal--especially after the things he did in the trial. Many of the ideas and concepts he used were not something that can be just attributed to "genius". These ideas came from an entirely different civilization. Adding to that his powerful soul, his parents already guessed that he was reincarnated.

However, they did not care about such a thing. After many years of observing, they can see that their son truly loves and cares for them. More importantly, Wang Wei displayed no great attachment to his past life, which greatly relieved his family--especially his mother.

Yu Yan did not want to compete for her son's affection with another mother.

Back to the cultivation room, after controlling his soul, Wang Wei continued his breakthrough.

All the 720 Divine Veins in both his soul and altar combined into one pattern, then the pattern relocates itself on the ancient lamp.

Wang Wei knew how important this Origin Pattern was as it will be used to cultivate in the Supernatural Realm. In order to reach the peak of this realm, a total of 50 Origin Patterns is needed.

More importantly, the Origin Pattern is used as a fuel source for the Good Fortune Flame. The more there are, the brighter that the flame burns.

After checking that everything was over, Wang Wei then proceeded to the last and easiest step: turning origin qi into origin essence.

By controlling the Good Fortune Flame, Wang Wei slowly burned his origin qi, thus further refining and processing his origin qi, turning into a higher quality of energy.

After an unknown amount of time, his vast origin qi was left with only a quarter of its original volume, however, the quality was more than hundred times more than before.

Moreover, Wang Wei knows that origin essence is not a simple transformation of origin qi. Origin essence allows cultivators to have many weird or uncommon abilities.

If origin qi was still in the category of Martial Arts, then origin essence reached the level of Immortal Arts. With it, cultivators can use all kinds of strange, powerful, and inexplicable spells or origin abilities.

After the transformation was finished, Wang Wei watched how his Infinite Divine Sea only produces origin essence now instead origin qi, he knew that his breakthrough was over.

Then, he opened his eyes while looking at his floating body that was in the air. Unlike his previous ability to fly due to control of spiritual energy of Heaven and Earth, now flying was like a natural ability that did not require any learning or practicing.

To be more precise, flying in the Divine Altar was like Wang Wei created a few invisible jet packs on his body, but now, flying was as natural to him as a bird, it was like another one of his limbs.

Wang Wei left his seclusion, then he flew straight into the sky.

Boom! Boom!

Instantly, he broke through the speed of sound and reached Mach 5 while flying. However, Wang Wei had a frown on his face after checking his speed.

According to information he knew, typical Supernatural Realm cultivators will only have a speed of Mach 1, meaning his speed was 5 times that of them. However, he was not satisfied.

You should know, back in the trial, Ji Song used his gravity control technique to reach the speed of Mach 5 for a brief moment. And Wang Wei himself can reach Mach 7 while running on his feet with his powerful fleshly body. So, he was not satisfied with this speed.

One downside of the [Ancient Desolate Body Refining Scripture] is that only after finishing refining the organs can a cultivator use the fleshly body to actually fly, otherwise one has to jump very high in order to travel.

However, he did not pay too much attention to this problem. All he has to do is cultivate a technique specially designed for speed and everything will be fine. Furthermore, the sect had an Emperor Scripture by the name of [Rainbow Escape Art] that perfectly fit his requirement.

After checking his flying ability, Wang Wei then checked his Divine Sense. With a wave of his thought, his consciousness exited his body and started to spread all around.

As a result, Wang Wei could see everything in the circumference of several thousand kilometers. Whether it was an ant on the ground, or the wing of an insect a few kilometers away, he could observe it.

The only places that he could not scan were the places where powerful formations were placed. However, Wang Wei could still sense a few secret spaces, dimensions, or Secret Realms around the sect that he never existed before.

While Wang Wei was having found his newfound ability, his rampant scan of the whole sect brought the attention of his father and many Elders of the sect.

They all flew in the air watching Wang Wei extending his Divine Sense without any end, and they all marveled at his talent.

"What a powerful Divine Sense," said Great Elder Li Jiang.

"It is not worse than any of us," commented Great Elder Yang Mei.

While the other people were talking, Wang Tian had a frown on his face, then he used his Divine Sense to communicate with his son.

"You better stop spreading your Divine Sense. Although it is as strong as a Saint, you have still not reached that realm. Without a primordial soul and the Power of Law, it would be difficult for you to sustain such a large spread without injuring your soul or spirit."

Wang Wei then suddenly woke up after hearing this. His father was right as he was a little too impulsive. Although his soul is strong, he should not abuse it as he sees fit.

Furthermore, after his breakthrough, he discovered that his soul was not as powerful as he imagined, however, the quality of it was beyond his understanding.

After reigning his arrogance, Wang Wei looked to the sky. There, he saw massive dark clouds starting to gather. He knew that his Heavenly Tribulation was coming.

Chapter 179: Heavenly Tribulation

While the cloud in the sky brewed, Wang Wei went to the Tribulation Peak as he did not want his Heavenly Tribulation to spread out and harm other people.

Furthermore, the Tribulation Peak can be a back up plan for him in case an emergency occurs. Although Wang Wei did want to use foreign aid to help cross his Tribulation, however, given his relationship with Heavenly Dao, he needed to be cautious.

After a few seconds of brewing, a white flame suddenly appeared from the cloud and headed straight towards Wang Wei, who had a frown on his face after seeing this.

Although he knew that his Heavenly Tribulation was going to be hard, he did not expect it to be that hard.

Wang Wei recognized this white flame as the Cleansing-Purifying Flame, and this flame is usually used by Heaven to punish Devil Cultivators that have committed too many sins when they crossed Heavenly Tribulation.

Wang Wei knew that he did not do anything to deserve such treatment. Even his extermination of the demonic beasts in the trial was not enough for Heaven to treat him as a sinner.

So, there was only reason for this: it was because of his Transcendent Dao Foundation when he broke through the 13th Layer Barrier of the Body Refining Realm, she muttered to the sky:

"How petty can you be? That was a long time ago?"

The tribulation seemed to have heard what he said, then the clouds in the sky suddenly increased again. The clouds that were only covering the entire sect suddenly expanded to cover half the Heavenspan Domain where the Dao Opening Sect was located.

Wang Wei's corner of the mouth twitched a little after seeing this. In fact, he wanted to say a few more things to taunt Heaven, however, he kept his mouth shut.

As a person who pursues being free and unfettered, he did not like to restrain himself, however, he is also aware when not to provoke unnecessary trouble for himself--especially now that he is still weak

However, his pettiness made him mark Heavenly Dao in his dark book. When he is strong enough, he will deal with it.

As for the dark clouds in the sky, it seemed to be furious that Wang Wei did not take his bait, thus giving it a chance to increase the power of the Heavenly Tribulation.

As for Wang Wei, he did not really care about the Cleansing-Purifying Flame. Not to mention that this flame is not strong enough to break through his defense, he did not have to worry about the most threatening part of this flame: its purifying effect.

Wang Wei did not commit any sins. In the cultivating world, sins are described as cultivators doing terrible things to large numbers of mortals with any reason, or for selfish benefit.

So, those Devil Cultivators that like to kill mortals to absorb their blood, flesh, and souls to cultivate strange techniques are considered sinful.

Furthermore, Wang Wei did not really care about whether he was a sinner. As a person who pursues ultimate freedom, if one day he decided to kill millions of people, then he would do so. He does not need any justification.

Just because he always kept somewhat of a bottom-line does not mean that he is a good person. Everything he does has a purpose, but Wang Wei never places any moral restraint on himself.

After the Cleansing-Purifying Flame reached him, Wang Wei actively opened his defense, allowing the flame to actually reach inside his body.

The reason is that he wanted to purify his body of any hidden dangers, and also tempered his bones.

So, as soon the flame entered his body, Wang Wei groaned due to the intense pain, then started to use the [Ancient Desolate Body Refining Scripture].

Few minutes after the white flaming started to burn Wang Wei, a bunch of dark and stinky puss or impurity were removed from body and stuck on his skin.

Suddenly, Wang Wei felt that he could breathe more easily, and even felt that his life span might have increased a little. So, he smiled knowing that his plan worked

So, he went further and introduced the Cleansing-Purifying Flame into his Sea of Consciousness, hoping to remove the impurities from his soul. However, it seemed to be useless.

To be precise, the flame seemed to be terrified to even come close to his soul. So, he gave up trying.

Next, Wang Wei took out a bunch of sand that shone with a grey luster. This material was known as Silver Sand, and it was the Supreme Tier material needed to tempered his bones.

Normally, it would have taken him a very long time to absorb this material into his bones, but now, he was going to use this Heavenly Tribulation to increase the speed.

During his retreat, Wang Wei had also already found the Dao Rhyme of the Silver Sand, so he easily absorbed it into his bones. Then, he absorbs more Cleansing-Purifying Flame into his body to speed up the process.

The Heavenly Tribulation seemed to be angry at Wang Wei's action, so the white flame was replaced by a deep red and dark one.

Wang Wei knew that this flame was called Heavenly Destruction Flame, and its purpose was implied in its name: destroy everything between Heaven and Earth.

Wang Wei frowned after seeing this, but he did not care. After the Heavenly Destruction Flame hit him, his Innate Field was destroyed, then his skin and muscles were burned, leaving only a skeleton with organs inside.

Then, many of the bones melted, leaving only the spine. Despite this, Wang Wei did not panic as he knew that he was not dead.

He used the method of the [Ancient Desolate Body Refining Scripture], then the melted bones part grew back, an act which angered the Heavenly Destruction Flame.

So, a battle of destruction and rebirth took place. As long as the Heavenly Destruction Flame burns Wang Wei's bones, it will regrow rapidly.

In the process of constant destruction and regrowth, his bones became more and more powerful. And the Silver Sand started to take its effect as it was rapidly refined.

After a few hours, Wang Wei's bones could no longer be burned by the Heavenly Destruction Flame, so he allowed it to burn his spine next. Then, he repeated the same process that his other bones went through until his spine reached the same standard as the other bones.

Afterwards, he regrew his muscles, skin, and Innate Field.

After tempering his bones, Wang Wei suddenly felt a magical transformation occurred in his fleshly body.

His strength increased dramatically. Right now, his punch could probably reach a few 100 million of force. More importantly, his Innate Field seemed to have become even more powerful and it seemed that he could remove it from his body and allow it to protect other people or things around him.

More importantly, Wang Wei felt that his regeneration had reached a new different level, so he tested out to see.

He took out a Low Grade Heaven Tier sword from his space ring and chopped one of his fingers without hesitation.

The reason that he chose a Heaven Tier weapon was because they are considered Law Weapons, and only used by Void Shatter Realm cultivators. Only this level of weapon can actually easily break his defense.

A Top Grade Earth Tier weapon--which is used by Primordial Spirit cultivator--would take forever to cut off even one of his fingers.

After cutting his finger, Wang Wei watched how after a few seconds, the bone in his hand regrew back, followed by the muscles and skin. The whole process did not even take 3 seconds, however, it looked very creepy.

Wang Wei smiled as he did not care about how things looked. He was genuinely happy as he knew that his fleshly body had reached the realm of regenerating limbs.

Now, the only weakness in his body was actually his internal organs, however, that problem will also be fixed in the future.

After finishing checking his body, Wang Wei looked at the Tribulation Clouds in the sky. The Heavenly Destruction Flame was still falling on him, however, they had no effect.

Wang Wei's plan was to use this Heavenly tribulation to also start tempering his heart, however, he knew that Heavenly Destruction Flame was not suitable to do so. The Cleansing-Purifying Flame was way better for the job.

After thinking about this, Wang Wei realized that this Tribulation was useless to him, so he clenched his hand before throwing a punch.

Boom!

A massive shockwave traveled from Wang Wei's hand, then the sky exploded. All the Tribulation Clouds that covered millions of miles were scattered. An angry roar could be heard from the Heavens, however, there was a hint of unwillingness in that voice.

No matter what, the outcome was that clouds were dispersed, and the Heavenly Tribulation was finished.

Wang Wei then looked inside his Sea of Consciousness where he saw three lights of different color hanging there.

Chapter 180: Innate Talent

Wang Wei put on a new robe before looking at the destruction caused by his Heavenly Tribulation. To his surprise, the entire mountain was completely fine. There was nothing destroyed, no burn marks. Nothing.

This was probably because of all the formations that were arranged in this mountain. So, Wang Wei nodded before flying back to his cultivation room.

Meanwhile, all the disciples of the sect had a look of shock on their faces. All they saw was massive dark clouds covering the entire sect, then massive pillars of white and dark-red flames kept falling on the Tribulation Peak.

Many people wondered whether a devil cultivator had infiltrated their sect, but they heard news that the young sect master was actually going through tribulation.

As a result, many people became worried for Wang Wei when they saw how powerful that Heavenly Tribulation was. They wondered if he would be able to pass this tribulation.

If it was not the formations in the Tribulation Peak that prevented both the Cleansing-Purifying Flame and the Heavenly Destruction Flame from spreading outwards, Heaven knows what kind of destruction this Heavenly Tribulation would have caused.

Wang Wei returned to his cultivation room to finish the final step of his breakthrough; acquiring his Innate Talent.

Wang Wei looked at the three floating lights in his Sea of Consciousness. These three represented three different talents, which was a surprise to Wang Wei.

He concentrated on these three lights, then his 7-color Rainbow Qi Luck Dragon flew straight into these three lights, which further intensified their brightness. As such, Wang Wei's Sea of Consciousness, which was purple in color shone an additional three colors: grey, black and white, and green.

After his Qi Luck baptized his new talents, the three lights spots turned into three different runes--signifying that these talents have been concocted. According to Wang Wei's calculation, the whole process took him three days.

Then, a message was sent into his mind telling him the name of the talents, what they are capable of and what grade they are.

According to Wang Wei's knowledge, Innate Talents are divided into four grades: Normal, Growth, Extraordinary, and Taboo.

Normal talents are the worst of the bunch. These talents usually accompany the owner only during the Supernatural Realm, then become useless. Of course, a normal talent is still better than no talent at all.

Growth Talent--as the name implies--is a talent that can slowly grow and develop by the owner. Although the starting point of Growth Talents are low, they have the possibility to reach terrifying heights. It is all based on the ability of the person who holds the talent.

Extraordinary Talents are very powerful and can accompany the owner throughout their entire cultivation path. Furthermore, they can also grow and develop, although it is often unnecessary to do so.

As for taboo? Well, they are extremely powerful, mysterious, and often heaven defying. It is not impossible for a Taboo Innate Talent to grant a cultivator the power to bring back the dead back to life.

However, Taboo Talents always have a price to pay. More often, these talents are a one time ability. Meaning, after using it once, the owner will not be able to do it again and the talent will be gone.

Another possible side effect of taboo talents is they require lifespan to use, or a part of the user's body, or to even sacrifice their entire lives. So, although Taboo Talents are powerful, they are very unstable.

As for Wang Wei, he received two Growth Talents and one Extraordinary talent.

The green rune in his Sea of Consciousness represents his Pain Talent. Wang Wei was speechless after knowing the effect of this talent.

For once, this talent allows him to increase the pain that his enemy feels when he attacks them. According to his guess, this talent's purpose is to make his attack so painful that it renders his enemies incapable of fighting. Or at the very least, weaken them greatly due to pain.

Another ability of this talent is that the more pain that Wang Wei endures, the stronger his battle strength can increase.

Well, Wang Wei guessed that the reason he has such a talent was probably because of the 18 Level of Hell that he experienced in the Third Pagoda Trial. And probably because he cultivated the [Overlord Fist].

His second Growth Talent is called Life and Death Wheel. Although this talent has a cool name, it is not as powerful as it sounds. This talent allows Wang Wei to absorb any form of energy to heal himself.

For example, by absorbing the spiritual energy between Heaven and Earth, he could heal a lot of his injuries. To Wang Wei, this talent was a little wasted due to his powerful regenerative ability granted by his powerful fleshly body.

However, Wang Wei could use it to superpose to his regeneration. For example, it would probably take him a few minutes to regrow his arm in a battle. However, with the addition of this talent, it would only take him a few seconds if not instant.

In the level of battles that Wang Wei will have to participate in the future, the difference between a few splits of seconds can decide life and death.

As for the reason that he has this talent, it was because of his understanding of Death during the Second Pagoda Trial.

The last talent was actually the one tailored specifically for his Fate Puppeteer Physique. And to be honest, Wang Wei was surprised.

This talent was simply too terrible to be just an Extraordinary One. The amount of power that this Innate Talent grants him is simply unimaginable that it was a taboo one.

In order to ensure that he did not make a mistake, he had to check for a few minutes. He sighed as he knew that his strength had dramatically increased. He was looking forwards to meeting a worthy opponent that would forced him to use this talent

After checking his talent, Wang Wei did not immediately exit his seclusion, but took out a bunch of records about [Ancient Desolate Body Refining Scripture] in order to solve a puzzle he had for a while now.

According to his previous understanding, he was not supposed to wake up with an ability like the Innate Field. What's more, after finishing tempering his bones, another ability was awakening.

So, he was curious about the reason. He was also curious why he did not awaken one after tempering his muscles.

After checking the records, Wang Wei discovered that this was the result of refining a certain body part to the realm of Great Perfection. The reason that his muscle did not produce an ability was simply because it did not reach Great Perfection.

So, Wang Wei finally understood. He used chaotic space to temper his skin, Heavenly Flame to temper his bones. Only his muscles used ordinary methods.

After figuring out the answer, Wang Wei then checked his new ability. To be honest, this ability was also heaven defying.

This ability which is referred to as [Bone Clone Substitution] allows Wang Wei to create a clone of himself from his bones and use that clone as a substitution for a deadly attack.

In order, if Wang Wei received an attack so powerful that it could instantly kill him, he could use the bone clone to die in his stead; Essentially, Wang Wei has another life granted to him by this ability.

Moreover, this clone can also substitute for Wang Wei if he received strange, powerful and unnoticeable curses or cause and effect spells like wishing spell, karma backlash, or reality erasure. Although these kinds of spells or origin abilities are rare, they still exist.

So, with this ability, once these hard to guard against attacks reach Wang Wei, they will kill the Bone Clone first, giving him enough time to react or defend himself.

What's more, this clone ability is not a one time thing. All Wang Wei needs to do in order to recreate one is to absorb very precious and High Tier metals like the Silver Sand or Deep Copper.

If it was any other normal cultivators who received this talent, they would be anxious about where to find these rare minerals. However, all Wang Wei has to do is ask and someone from the sect will hand the materials he needs to him. This is the benefit of being a second-generation rich in the cultivating world.

Well, technically speaking, his family has been rich for countless generations. But, that's not important.

After checking that everything was alright, Wang Wei started thinking about how he is going to temper his muscles to the realm of Great Perfection.

The best method would be to wait until he breaks through the Divine Body Realm and goes through Heavenly Tribulation again, however, that would take too long.

However, soon, an idea came to his mind as he knew that the opportunity he wanted would soon arrive in front of him, so he muttered with an evil smile, "Let's see if the fish was hooked by my bait after so many years."
