Chapter 76

Sabrina's POV:

Every inch of me.

He grasped my ankle and lifted my leg up. His eyes burning into mine, he kissed my ankle. His lips warm and soft against my skin. His fingertips skimmed my skin and goosebumps broke out all over my skin.

Panting softly, I lowered my hands to my pussy. His eyes moved to my hands and he clicked his tongue.

"Pin your hands over your head. Now."

Normally, I would be annoyed. I would snap back. I hated being commanded and bossed around with every fiber of my being. I'm supposed to be annoyed right now

Instead, my skin felt too hot, my breath caught in my throat. I raised my hands, very slowly, and held them above

He smirked, his eyes twinkling with amusement. "So obedient." He said head.

I bit my lower lip hard. He pressed an open mouth kiss to my ankle, and I saw his fangs elongated and glinting in the low light of the room. They looked so sharp, and dangerous. Excitement prickled my skin and I shivered. I wonder what his fangs will feel like on my skin.

"Do you know,"

I inhaled sharply. "Know what?"

He looked up at me. "A bite, one bite from me, and you'll be dead."

My heart skipped a bit. "What?!" I gasped, panic zapping through my leg back and attempted to scamper away from him. But he both sides of my head, his knee pushed between my legs. "What's the matter?" He mused.

bite and I'll be dead?! His bite can kill?! I yanked He crawled over me, his strong arms planted on

He grabbed my wrists and pinned them over my head, pushing them firmly into the bed. "I'm not going to bite you, you can relax."

"You...you won't?"

"Yes. I won't bite you. But if you move again without being ordered to, I'll have to punish you."

I nodded. I won't die tonight, no no. He won't bite me. I'm sure of it.

"You're so obedient today," He leaned down and kissed me deeply sucking on my bottom lip hard. His long hair draped down his shoulders and fell on my chest.

He kissed my jaw, and down to my neck. His tongue darted out and licked my skin. I giggled softly, the feeling tickling. He chuckled and did it again.

"That tickles," I said, squirming under his hold.

"Does this tickle?" He sucked in my skin, his teethe ever so lightly grazing my skin. My back arched off the bed, the pleasure of his mouth, the thought that if he bit me I would die, everything felt too much. "N-no..." I moaned, my eyes fluttering shut. He sucked harder and I gasped, my body shuddering with pleasure. I was sure that when he was done, there'd be a bold mark on my neck for the world to see.

He kissed down to my chest, the heat of his mouth engulfed my nipple. He rolled his tongue over it, his lips sucking harshly. I moaned loudly, my back arched high..

"You're awfully sensitive here," he said, the tip of his tongue hard and flicking over my nipple. My eyes squeezed shut and I inhaled through my teeth. He switched nipples and did the same thing. "You like this?" "Yes!"

A thrill ran through me. The danger of it all. It made my skin burn even hotter, my pussy gushed and fluttered around nothing.

My body felt on fire as he played with my body. My moans increasing in intensity. His movements were completely unhurried, as if he had all the time in the world to explore my body.

"Please..." I gasped. I had no idea what I was begging for. Anything. Anything at all. My core aches for something to the point that I felt physical pain.

"Please?" He chuckled darkly. He kissed down my stomach, inching closer to where I needed his touch the most. "Please what?"

"...."

He pushed my legs open, baring me for his eyes alone. I turned my head to the side, embarrassed and yet so excited.

"Don't stare...please..."

"I'm sure that's not what you wanted to ask." He kissed my inner thigh, soft and gentle. He's so close to my pussy that I can feel his hot breath on my folds. "Fucking hell. You smell so fucking good.... I might devour you." He husked out and I whimpered, my head spinning and body trembling. He moved down, grabbing the back of my thighs and lifting my legs himself between my legs, his face directly in front of my pussy.

My heart stopped beating.

How....how can he be so handsome?! And between my legs nonetheless!

To his shoulders. My eyes flew wide as he positioned

His eyes focused solely on mine, he slowly lowered his head. His tongue darted out and licked my clit. A deep growl rumbled in his throat, going straight to my throbbing core. My entire body trembled, and I instantly grabbed his head.

"Hands above you. Now."

I did as he commanded, my hips bucking. "Oh god...."

"Is this where you want me to touch you?" He licked me again, longer, harder.

"Yes! Oh yes please!"

He grabbed my ass and pulled me closer to him. "Then all you had to do was ask."

My next words died in my throat. His mouth felt heavenly on my pussy. It felt strange, unlike anything I've ever felt before. but it felt so damn good! My thighs clamped around his head as tight as I could, my back arched high off the bed. The sounds of him eating me out filled the air, adding to the haze of lust that had settled over us.

"You taste so good," He said, his words muffled. He sucked on my clit hard, his tongue pressing hard circles.

I felt like my blood had turned to liquid fire. That familiar feeling of an approaching orgasm brewed in my lower belly.

was different. I could feel it. That coil that tightened and tightened in my lower belly.

He was staring at me. He hadn't looked away for once. Those red eyes that I had grown so fond off, watching me come undone as his mouth ravaged me like I was a meal of the gods, my thighs holding his head firmly in place, his strong arms holding me and preventing me from squirming away

I threw my head back and screamed. "My king! I...."

I felt a smidge of fear. Something was coming. Building by the second.

He flattened his tongue over my folds, his teeth grazing my clit slightly. That was all it took.

The coil snapped, and snapped hard. I screamed as I came. My body trembled and convulsed, pure pleasure washed all over me and I felt like I would cry, or die, or both. My core clenched and clenched, and the feeling was further amplified by his tongue rolling over my clit. My thighs trembled, my entire body shook like leaf in winter. Unable to hold still any longer, I brought my hands down and grabbed his head, trying to pull him off me and close my legs.

"Please..." I gasped, but he didn't stop. I couldn't pull him off me. The feeling of being on clouds felt like it would last forever. "Oh please...no more please..."

So this is what an orgasm felt like? It was wonderful, more than wonderful. This is what I've missed out on my entire life?!

The king lifted himself off my folds with a loud and obscene pop.

told you to keep your hands up,"

I gaped at him. He grinned at me, his lower face shiny with my fluids. My cheeks burned.

"You never listen, do you?" He wiped his chin with the back of his hand shook his head slowly.

"I...I'm sorry," I said breathlessly. My body still trembled. I could

I nodded. "Did you...did you like it?"

more core contracting.

He leaned closer to my face. "Yes, very much. You taste like nectar. I could get addicted to you."

My core came alive with a pulse. I wanted that feeling again. And again. And again.

"I... I would like that."

He chuckled. "Wicked." He lifted himself and grabbed my hips.

Before I knew it, he maneuvered me around. "Arch your back now, like a good girl."

My entire body flushed. I did as he said, pushing my face into the bed with my back arched high.

He leaned over me, his large body pressing into mine, his hand roaming the back of my thighs and all over my ass. I shuddered, but my hips gained a life of their own and pushed back into his hand. "You look good like this, do you know?" He whispered into my ear.

I gasped softly and nodded.

His finger stroked my folds, teasing my entrance every so slightly

Chapter 76

"You're sucking me in, and haven't even done anything," He chuckled.

He's enjoying this too much!

But, so am I.

I pushed my hips into his hand and whined. "Please...please..." The only words I could get out.

"Yes yes." He tutted. His finger sank inside me, slowly. "Ah fuck! You're so hot I could get burned inside you."

"My king...." I whined, on the verge of a sob. "Please stop saying those things!"

"What things?" He pumped his finger slowly, and I moaned. It felt so good. Better than my own fingers. "Those...those things..." www.NovelWorld.com

"You're cute when you beg." He said. "And you're wet enough, so you can handle this now."

He added another finger inside me and my eyes flew open. Is it possible to feel this full on two fingers alone?! I knew he had large hands but this...this feels better than I've ever imagined.

He move his fingers in and out of me, reaching places I hadn't even been able to graze when I touched myself. I pushed my hips back into his hand urging him to go faster.

"So greedy," He chuckled darkly, and my core fluttered around his fingers. He moved his body back from mine, his finger still burrowed inside me.

The next thing I felt was his mouth on my pussy. I shrieked and tried to move away. That was impossible.

"Stay still, and don't move." He commanded.

This angle was...it was so revealing!

I gripped the sheets hard, and tried not to think about the fact that he could see all of me.

He sucked my clit and fingered me, the two sensations adding to my impending orgasm. It had been barely a minute since I last came, and I was about to again.

Ah, it was no wonder I couldn't make myself climax. how could I ever hope to replicate the feelings and sensations he was giving me right now? That was impossible.

His fingers picked up speed inside me, his fingertips brushed a spot inside me that had me screaming in pleasure. "That's the spot huh?" The king said. And he processed to attack it.w\(w\)w.n\(ov\)l\(w\)ld\(w\)rd\(m\).com

It took seconds. Seconds and I was coming all over his fingers and mouth. I cried out, trying to warn him but unable to form any coherent sentences. I felt a warm liquid gush out of me in spray. My mouth hung open in soundless scream and I whimpered. What the actual fuck was that?

"I'd be damned. You squirt?"

My nerves felt like they had each been detonated. My eye lids felt drippy, and exhaustion wash all over me.

I didn't get to finish my sentence before I blacked out. Completely.
