Chapter 1071: S Competition, Battle for Revenge!

If everything went smoothly, Mist City Central Hospital would have completed the pre-surgical preparation for Director Qi Chunsheng within a week.

Then, about another week later, they would 3D print the biological tissue organs needed for the surgery based on Director Qi Chunsheng's genetic profile.

With a surgical team and the matching biological tissue organs ready, they could arrange the surgery at an opportune time.

That afternoon.

Ding Yue had just finished a call with President Jiang Zhongbo of Mist City Central Hospital, discussing Director Qi Chunsheng's condition, and it was almost time to leave work.

"Xiao Wen, let's call it a day."

Ding Yue checked the time and then said to his secretary, Ruohan.

Recently, Ding Yue hadn't needed to travel far for work, so he had been dealing with various matters in his own office at the Principal's Office every day.

Except in special circumstances, he generally did not work overtime. Leaving work on time was a form of respect for himself.

"Okay."

Ruohan nodded, began packing up her things, and then prepared to head to the canteen for dinner, meanwhile asking Principal Ding, "Principal Ding, are you coming to the canteen for dinner too?"

Now, Ruohan had essentially become a girl who enjoyed her meals after work.

"Sure."

Ding Yue nodded. He had been working all afternoon and it was indeed time to eat.

However.

Just at that moment, Ding Yue received a phone call.

It was from Director Jian Zihao of the E-sports Game College. Seeing that it was Director Jian's call, Ding Yue had mostly guessed that it must be about the S Competition.

Because during the National Day Holiday, the S Competition had officially begun.

At that time, it was the qualifying rounds. Mist City Arts and Science University's FY team did not need to participate in the qualifiers, so Ding Yue hadn't paid much attention.

It was only when the group matches began that Ding Yue started to keenly follow his FY team's performance.

"Hello, Director Jian, what's up?"

Ding Yue answered the phone and asked.

"Principal Ding, our FY team's first group match is going to start today. Do you know who our opponents are?"

Jian Zihao's excited voice came through the phone.

"Oh? For the group match, surely we aren't in the same group as Korea's Big Tiger team?"

Ding Yue asked.

"Exactly, it's Korea's Big Tiger team!"

Jian Zihao excitedly said, "This time, the Big Tiger team entered the S World Championship as the second seed from the LCK region, so they are in the same group as our FY team."

According to the group division rules of the S World Championship, the number one seeds from each region would not be in the same group. Generally, each group would include the number one seed, the number two seed, the number three seed, and teams like wild cards from various major regions.

Unexpectedly, in the group matches, Korea's Big Tiger team ended up in the same group as his own FY team.

"Oh? Which group are we in?"

Ding Yue asked.

"Principal Ding, we are in Group C. Group C includes our FY team, Korea's Big Tiger team, along with the European and American AP team, and one team that advanced from the qualifiers," Jian Zihao replied.

"Oh, so when does the match against Korea's Big Tiger team start today?" Ding Yue then asked.

Since it was his FY team playing against the Big Tiger team, he definitely had to watch it. During this year's midseason championship, his FY team had lost to Korea's Big Tiger team and painfully missed out on the championship.

This time, at the S World Championship stage, he didn't expect to meet his nemesis so soon.

"Principal Ding, the match is about to start," Jian Zihao replied.

"Oh?"

Upon hearing this, Ding Yue immediately turned on his computer, logged into Bilibili, and indeed saw that the S World Championship group stage match between the FY team and the DLH team was about to commence.

"Alright, tell Xiong Jiahao and the others that I will be watching this very important match online. Whether or not we can avenge our defeat at the Mid-Season Championship depends on today's first encounter!"

Ding Yue spoke decisively to Director Jian Zihao.

Although this match was only a group stage game and the win or loss would only accumulate group points, and not bear too much on elimination, since it was against Korea's Big Tiger team, it was tantamount to a battle for revenge.

After all, at the S World Championship, whether or not they could face the Big Tiger team in the finals was still a big question mark.

Because each team participating in the S World Championship was the top from their respective global regions, especially since Europe and America had two particularly strong teams, and Korea also had an impressive KT team this year, even defeating the Big Tiger team, allowing the Big Tiger team to become the second seed in the LCK region.

Besides, Dragon City LC team from the LPL region was also a very strong contender for the championship, along with several other teams. If they performed well, they all had the potential to compete for this year's S World Championship.

So rather than expecting whether or not they could meet and take revenge against the Big Tiger team in the finals, it was better to deal with the revenge in today's group match first encounter since they were up against the Big Tiger team!

"By the way, Director Jian, since our first match is against the Big Tiger team, how is the morale of our players?"

Ding Yue asked about the condition of Jiahao and the other four players.

"Principal Ding, everyone is very spirited, all wanting to defeat the Big Tiger team in the first battle. Moreover, we've made very detailed strategic preparations for the S World Championship. Even facing the Big Tiger team, we are confident that we can beat them!"

Director Jian Zihao spoke with full confidence.

"Very well, then let's see your performance," Ding Yue said expectantly, then turned to his secretary, Wen Ruohan, and said, "Xiao Wen, the match is about to start. I guess I won't go to the canteen."

He had initially planned to go to the Fifth Canteen to have a meal with Secretary Wen Ruohan, but now watching the match was more important.

"Ah, is it the FY team's match? Then Principal Ding, I'll go to the canteen and bring something back for you," Wen Ruohan replied after thinking for a moment.

"That works."

Ding Yue patted his stomach; frankly, he was a bit hungry, so watching the match while eating was indeed a good choice.

The reason for not going to the canteen was firstly that he might miss the start of the match, and secondly, watching it on a mobile phone in the canteen just wasn't quite the same.

In his own office, not only could he watch it on a computer, but also on a projector screen, which would make the viewing experience much more enjoyable.

"Okay then."

Wen Ruohan immediately stood up and left the office, heading towards the Fifth Canteen.

Fortunately, the Fifth Canteen wasn't too far from the Administration Building. Considering the round trip and the time to get the food, it should take roughly ten minutes.

Meanwhile, Ding Yue began watching the live broadcast of the match.

At this moment on the stage, players from both teams had already stepped onto the platform.

Since this year's S World Championship was held in Korea, as the home ground for the Big Tiger team, the Korean audience's cheers for their own team were immensely loud.

This was something Ding Yue didn't really mind—it was normal, after all, they were on their home ground.

Once his FY team took the world championship title this year, it would be Xia Country's turn to host the World Championship next year.

The rules for hosting the World Championship had changed, now determining that the region whose team wins the championship gets to host the next year's S World Championship.

At this time at Mist City Arts and Science University, Ding Yue wasn't the only person watching the FY team's match.

The vast majority of Mist City Arts and Science University students were watching the League of Legends match, especially today's match, which was a clash between their school's team and the Big Tiger team from Korea.

Any student who had seen the Mid-Season Championship knew this was a battle for revenge!

"FY team, obliterate the Big Tiger!"

"Revenge is upon us!"

"FY team, charge for me!"

In the dormitory area of Mist City Arts and Science University, a series of cheers from students echoed.

Chapter 1072: The 360° Big Screen of the Fifth Canteen

Mist City Arts and Science University, Fifth Canteen.

As the newly rising most popular school canteen, every mealtime saw the Fifth Canteen packed with diners bustling in and out.

Before, this kind of "grand scene" used to happen at the Second Canteen.

But now, the Second Canteen's status had been replaced by the Fifth Canteen, and there was no helping it since the Second Canteen was indeed a bit too small.

Moreover, the Fifth Canteen was newly built, and the original chef team from the Second Canteen, the core canteen chef team of Mist City Arts and Science University, had all moved over to the Fifth Canteen.

Students at Mist City Arts and Science University all knew that the school's core canteen chef team, formerly the Second Canteen's and now the Fifth Canteen's, was nurtured by Principal Ding's mother, Aunt Zhang, along with some outstanding faculty and students from the school's Culinary Arts department, together forming the ultimate chef supergroup!

Wen Ruohan made her way from the Administration Building to the Fifth Canteen and picked a window to line up for her meal.

And just at that moment.

Suddenly, a voice echoed throughout the canteen hall, immediately recognizable to any student who had watched League of Legends matches as Guan Daxiao's.

In addition, there was a female commentator's voice, as well as another commentator's.

"Is a match being broadcasted?"

"Wow, even the canteen is airing the match?"

"Looks like it's our FY team up against Korea's DLH team!"

Students who were either queuing for food or already eating their meals couldn't help but look up upon hearing the match commentary.

Sure enough, the multimedia screen in the center of the Fifth Canteen's first-floor hall lit up, displaying the League of Legends match live stream from Bilibili.

Even Wen Ruohan was drawn to the spectacle.

This multimedia screen at the center of the Fifth Canteen's first-floor hall had caught Wen Ruohan's attention the first time she visited the Fifth Canteen.

Although, at that time, the multimedia screen hadn't been in use.

The multimedia screen was huge, much larger than the projector screen in Principal Ding's office, and featured a 360-degree all-around view.

Which means,

anyone sitting in any corner of the first floor of the Fifth Canteen could see the content displayed on the large screen.

"Manager Zhang, the multimedia screen is all set up and is now broadcasting the live match," a staff member said to Manager Zhang Yuping inside the administrative area of the Fifth Canteen.

Since it was the day of Mist City Arts and Science University's FY team match, Zhang Yuping had taken the advice of the canteen staff to use the Fifth Canteen's multimedia screen to broadcast the live match.

Because the young college students were very fond of League of Legends, and an S World Championship match attracted even more viewers.

And it just so happened that the FY team's match against the DLH team was scheduled during this mealtime.

Therefore, the decision was made by the canteen to let students enjoy watching the match while eating, creating a fantastic communal atmosphere.

"You can watch the match while eating in the canteen?"

After murmuring to herself, Wen Ruohan quickly took out her phone and called Principal Ding.

"Hello, Xiao Wen, what's up? No food left? That can't be, it's still early, could all our foodies at Mist City Arts and Science University have already finished the food?"

Ding Yue, who took the call, initially thought Wen Ruohan was calling to say there was no food left in the canteen.

That seemed unlikely to him.

Even if there was really no food left, she could always ask his mother, Zhang Yuping, to whip up something special.

"No, Principal Ding,"

Wen Ruohan quickly clarified, "Principal Ding, why don't you come to the canteen for a meal? You can watch the match here too."

"Oh?"

Ding Yue asked, puzzled, "Watch the match in the canteen?"

"Yes, Principal Ding, there's a 360-degree screen in the canteen broadcasting the match right now," Wen Ruohan responded promptly.

"Are you referring to the multimedia screen in the Fifth Canteen?"

Ding Yue suddenly remembered.

The multimedia screen was unforgettable; when he first visited the Fifth Canteen, he had noticed the all-encompassing large screen, which was indeed very eye-catching.

However, during Ding Yue's past visits to the Fifth Canteen, the multimedia screen hadn't been formally in use.

"Right, right, Principal Ding, that's the one. Many students are here watching the match while they eat. Principal Ding, why don't we join them for a meal and watch the match? The atmosphere is really good," Wen Ruohan suggested.

Wen Ruohan preferred watching the match here over his office as the atmosphere was indeed better, although he wasn't sure if Principal Ding liked this kind of setting with many people watching together.

"Sounds good!"

Ding Yue readily agreed.

As the principal of Mist City Arts and Science University, he had always come across as approachable and personable to his students. Moreover, he too preferred watching the matches with a crowd, and what better than doing so at the Fifth Canteen while enjoying a meal? It was perfect.

Without further thought, Ding Yue agreed, then switched off his office computer, stood up, and left the Administration Building, headed for the Fifth Canteen.

Chapter 1073: The 360° Big Screen of the Fifth Canteen

The students who were dining and watching the game in the Fifth Canteen could never have imagined.

That their Principal Ding would actually come over at this time to join them for a meal and to watch the game.

"Hello, Principal Ding!"

"Principal Ding, you came to watch the game too?"

"Is that Principal Ding? He's so handsome."

"I can do it, Principal Ding!"

"What do you think? Principal Ding was the first-ever heartthrob of Mist City Arts and Science University!"

"Good evening, Principal Ding."

Upon seeing Principal Ding, many students greeted him proactively.

Some freshmen, upon seeing Principal Ding up close, couldn't help but marvel at his incredibly high attractiveness.

The freshmen had only seen Principal Ding at the Military Training Mobilization Conference and the Military Training Closing Ceremony, and even then, they had only looked at him from a distance on the sports field.

This time, being able to see him up close in the canteen was naturally a different sensory experience.

Especially for the girls, who already liked handsome young men, seeing such a handsome and youthful guy as Principal Ding really made their hearts flutter.

"Hello everyone, do you think the food here in the Fifth Canteen is still tasty?"

Ding Yue asked with a smile as he interacted with the students and inquired about the food in the Fifth Canteen.

"Delicious!"

"It's still the same old Second Canteen flavor."

"The food in the Fifth Canteen is forever divine!"

"As a foodie, the Fifth Canteen is my favorite."

The students shouted out one after another.

Seeing the students so satisfied with the canteen food, Ding Yue was reassured. With more than eighty thousand people living and studying at Mist City Arts and Science University, their dining needs definitely had to be met.

And that's why the canteens at Mist City Arts and Science University offered a wide variety of dishes from all eight major Chinese cuisines as well as various regional snacks and delicacies – they truly had everything.

"Do you guys enjoy watching the game broadcasted in the canteen?"

Ding Yue asked if the students liked watching the League of Legends games that were being shown in the canteen.

"Of course, we love it."

"It feels lively with so many people."

"This match is a fight for revenge, we must watch it!"

"FY team will win!"

"Principal Ding, the design of this big screen in the canteen is simply amazing."

"Principal Ding, the matches are broadcasted today, but does this big screen also show other programs on normal days?"

The students responded enthusiastically.

The majority of them agreed it was great to watch the games on the big screen in the canteen, as it made mealtime less boring and allowed them to watch while eating.

Beyond that, some students suggested that the big screen could also display other programs during mealtimes on regular days.

"We can consider this student's suggestion at the school."

Ding Yue noted down the student's suggestion, planning to discuss it with his mother later. Perhaps they could even organize a program voting system.

For example, students could apply to watch certain shows or TV dramas during mealtime at the Fifth Canteen. The canteen could then arrange the programming based on the number of applications or votes.

In this way, it might add some fun to the students' dining experience.

After all, having "dine-in dramas" is a treat, even when eating in a canteen.

"The match has started; let's enjoy the game."

Ding Yue saw that the game had officially begun on the big screen.

On his way to the Fifth Canteen, the hero banning phase had already started, and by the time he arrived, the players had entered Summoners Rift.

Ding Yue quickly glanced over his FY team's lineup.

Top lane Gnar!

Jungle Udyr!

Mid lane Ryze!

The bot lane duo, Xiong Jiahao chose Kasha, and support Feng Jin chose the Sun Goddess Leona!

That's a pretty popular combo these days.

Once the match officially began, Ding Yue sat down at a dining table, seriously watching the game.

The students around him were eating their meals with relish, but Ding Yue's stomach couldn't help rumbling. Unfortunately, his secretary Wen Ruohan was in line getting his meal, so he had no choice but to wait.

About three minutes or so passed.

Wen Ruohan finally brought over the food.

Seeing this, Ding Yue immediately stepped forward, took the plate from Wen Ruohan's hands – it was filled with several homemade dishes he liked to eat.

Now that Ding Yue had the smart robot assistant Big White and his personal secretary Wen Ruohan, he no longer needed to lift a finger for the mundane tasks of daily life.

A secretary's got to do what a secretary's got to do.

Ding Yue felt that Wen Ruohan was even taking good care of his personal life, working diligently, and doing a pretty good job. He would have to give Xiao Wen a raise later.

"Thank you, Xiao Wen."

When Ding Yue sat down to eat, he thanked Xiao Wen for getting him the meal from the canteen.

"Heeheehee."

Wen Ruohan grinned and then started to eat her meal while watching the game.

The S World Championship garners attention both nationally and across the globe, and as this match was FY team's opening game, and they were facing their archrivals, the Big Tiger team, the interest in this game was particularly high.

On Bilibili, the livestream's popularity quickly broke a hundred million!

Although popularity doesn't directly correlate to the number of live viewers, with a hundred million popularity on the livestream, the number of live viewers must be at least over a million.

Mist City Arts and Science University alone could contribute at least tens of thousands or even more live viewers, not to mention players and audiences from across the country.

The match started with both top global teams playing extremely cautiously.

But very quickly, the Big Tiger team made its move by having their jungler gank top lane and target Wang Shilin's Gnar.

At the same time, FY team's jungler Qian Yu was hovering bot lane, ready to make a move on Big Tiger team's bot lane.

The battle was about to explode!

As expected!

Soon, FY team's jungler Qian Yu, controlling the jungle champion Udyr, struck first, catching out Big Tiger team's bot lane duo.

In the end, Big Tiger team's bot lane sacrificed their support, and Xiong Jiahao's ADC Kasha secured the first blood.

"Nice!"

"Awesome!"

"Beautiful catch in that skirmish."

"666, guys, type 666 in the livestream chat!"

"Well done, that move really established dominance in bot lane."

In the Fifth Canteen, when FY team's Xiong Jiahao got the first blood, students instantly erupted into cheers.

This is the atmosphere when there's a crowd. Ding Yue could distinctly feel the passion and excitement of the students on-site, especially when their FY team gained an advantage, the students were even more ecstatic.

As the fight broke out in bot lane, top lane's Big Tiger team jungler also made his move.

At that moment, Wang Shilin's Gnar was controlling his rage quite well.

Under the commentator's tense narrative, and with Wang Shilin's 666 play, Ding Yue almost held his breath watching the game.

If the Big Tiger team managed to take out top lane, then the advantage gained in bot lane wouldn't be as significant overall, especially since they had also given up a kill.

However!

The brilliant play arrived.

As the most steady top laner of FY team, Wang Shilin, sandwiched between two enemies, displayed incredible maneuvering. Along with sacrificing his own Flash, Gnar charged his rage to the max and transformed, battling and retreating against the two enemy champions and ultimately surviving with a sliver of health and making it back to his tower.

Since both sides weren't too high in levels, the enemy duo clearly didn't dare to tower dive for the kill, or else they would've paid a heavy price.

With no other option, Big Tiger team's jungler could only retreat along with their top laner, watching Gnar limp away.

Wang Shilin immediately retreated to the second tower and safely recalled to base.

As the students witnessed this scene, their enthusiastic cheers once again resounded throughout the Fifth Canteen.

Even Ding Yue couldn't help but inwardly praise, the top lane's gameplay, absolutely stellar!

Chapter 1074: Hey, Brother, Wanna Buy a Cheat?

The match continued until it neared the thirty-minute mark.

The economic advantage between the two teams wasn't significantly large, but FY team still maintained the lead.

From this pinnacle showdown, Ding Yue could see that the five young men of his FY team had truly put in a lot of effort before the game, or perhaps they had grown tremendously over the past half year.

Now, facing the Korean Big Tiger team they had once been unable to defeat, they could handle it with ease and had even managed to carve out their own advantages right from the start.

"As long as we keep steady this game, then a win is certain."

"Yes, yes, just avoid mistakes later on, and taking down the Korean Big Tiger team shouldn't be a problem."

"We have the economic lead and the dragon BUFF advantage, our advantage is still significant."

"Push, try not to engage in large-scale team fights with the opponent."

"The revenge battle is finally seeing the light of victory."

"Just push down the second tower on the bottom lane."

In the Fifth Canteen at Mist City Arts and Science University, many students watched the critical moments of the match, all sweating for the FY team.

It wasn't because the situation for FY team looked grim.

Rather, because the situation was looking good, everyone was worried that FY team might not stabilize and might eventually give the Big Tiger team a chance to find an opening.

Everyone was familiar with the Big Tiger team, known for finding opportunities in adversity, who had turned the tables against strong European and North American teams in the past.

If their opponents showed the slightest vulnerability, the Big Tiger team would immediately seize it and counterattack, even potentially turning the game around in one go.

This underscored the terrifying aspect of this team.

Ding Yue also thought to himself that Xiong Jiahao and the other four must stabilize at this critical moment.

They just needed to leverage their current advantages, slowly and steadily devour the Big Tiger team, starting with the jungle resources, then pushing towers and minion waves, taking the Baron, and then continuing to advance into the high ground.

This strategy, once executed, would essentially leave the Big Tiger team powerless to recover.

Very quickly.

On the battlefield, the five players of the FY team gathered at the Big Tiger team's second bottom tower, preparing to bring it down.

However, the five players of the Big Tiger team also rapidly assembled at this location.

It seemed that the Big Tiger team was not willing to easily give up this second tower, as losing it could jeopardize their high ground towers later, and it would also impact their advantage when fighting for the Elder Dragon due to the lack of minion waves and defensive towers.

Thus, the Big Tiger team's strategy for this wave was likely to try to save the bottom second tower as much as possible.

At that moment.

Xiong Jiahao harassed the enemy fiercely around the outside of the bottom second tower, landing a Kasha's Q skill successfully on the opposing ADC, Jinx.

"Guys, the opportunity has come, I can kill Jinx instantly, get ready to team fight!"

Xiong Jiahao quickly announced this in the team voice chat, then activated his ultimate!

And so.

On the S World Championship stage, a moment that would become famous around the world was born.

While Xiong Jiahao's four teammates were still dismantling the tower below, Kasha's ultimate flew him to the bottom right corner of the five Big Tiger team members, as if one man was chasing five enemies, declaring war on them—"You five, are surrounded by me now!"

This scene truly stunned all the spectators and even the commentators.

The viewers watching the broadcast were utterly dumbfounded.

What is this ADC doing?

He's using his ultimate against five people by himself?

How dare he?

In that moment, he seemed like a hacked ADC, instantly flying right in front of the five enemy players and then cheekily asking, "Hey, guys, buying cheats?"

Just at this critical juncture, Xiong Jiahao's teammates also quickly sprang into action, as this was a tower dive, so the bottom second tower had to be taken down first.

Thus, the remaining four members of the FY team had clear roles: those demolishing the tower did so, and those who needed to follow up on Xiong Jiahao's move did so swiftly.

The five players from the Big Tiger team were almost dumbfounded when Kasha flew in.

Especially the ADC Jinx, who had already been marked by Kasha's Q, was clearly not in good health, which caused him huge panic.

After all, with the match at this stage and Kasha's equipment being very strong, she had the capability to instantly kill him.

And so.

The ADC of the Big Tiger team was quick to react with a flash, pulling back.

However.

You are a world-class professional player, quick to react, did you think I am not a top-class professional player, that I am not quick to react?

Almost at the very moment the Big Tiger team's ADC Jinx flashed back to pull away, Xiong Jiahao's Kasha had already followed up with a flash.

This was almost simultaneous—a flash followed by a flash.

When Xiong Jiahao's Kasha ulted over, he had already 'Attack' the Big Tiger team's ADC Jinx, and it was because of this 'Attack' that Jinx, with his critically low health, had flashed away.

But unfortunately for him, Xiong Jiahao followed with a flash, catching up after his flash, and then another 'Attack', directly eliminating the Big Tiger team's ADC, Jinx.

Chapter 1075: Hey, bro, want to buy cheats?

All ten players on the field were top professional players with naturally quick reactions.

After Jinx was instantly killed, Xiong Jiahao's Kasha was now in a very bad situation. The remaining four members of the Big Tiger team quickly focused on Kasha, instantly taking him down.

But crucially, Xiong Jiahao's Kasha had already finished his Guardian Angel after the last recall.

As the saying goes, "believe in the Spring, gain eternal life!"

The Kasha with activated Guardian Angel was pressed down by the four Big Tiger team players, but at this time, the other members of the FY team had already caught up.

And the second tower had also been taken down, quickly sparking a team fight.

The FY team already had a slight lead, and now the Big Tiger team was caught off guard by an ADC initiating battle, especially since their own ADC, Jinx, had been instantly killed.

Suddenly, their formation was in disarray. Taking advantage of the chaos, the FY team players charged in, buying time for Xiong Jiahao's Kasha to respawn with the Guardian Angel.

At this critical moment, the Big Tiger team's mid laner originally wanted to limit Kasha's ability to stand up after reviving, as the health after revival wasn't high and could be instantly taken out.

Unfortunately for them, the Big Tiger team's mid laner failed to suppress the revival, and Kasha stood up once again.

Under the charge of the FY team, the players from Big Tiger team were like crumbling walls, being killed one by one by the FY team, until only the mid laner who tried to suppress Kasha was left, using his own Flash to retreat backwards.

But the remaining three players had already met their doom.

In contrast, on the FY team's side, only the jungler had died.

In such a situation, Xiong Jiahao, as the captain, unhesitatingly said to his teammates, "Brothers, let's go for one push. We have a chance for one push, we can do it!"

"Oh my god! It's hard to believe, Kasha he flew in alone, instantly taking down the enemy's Jinx!"

"Yes, we can see that this should be a push for victory."

"The enemy is left with only one mid laner, Syndra, a push should be no problem."

"We've got the minion wave too!"

The three commentators were extremely excited at this moment.

However, it wasn't just the three commentators who were excited; all the viewers watching the match were also stirred up.

In the Fifth Canteen of Mist City Arts and Science University, Principal Ding saw the students cheering.

Even Secretary Wen Ruohan was thrilled: "That solo invade just now was absolutely cool!"

To be fair, that solo flight indeed painted a world-renowned masterpiece. Principal Ding also felt very proud and pleased for the five players of his FY team in his heart.

He could only say that they played that game exceptionally well.

Principal Ding had thought that they needed to stabilize and gradually leverage their advantage, guessing it would take about ten more minutes to finish off the Big Tiger team.

But he had never anticipated that Xiong Jiahao would choose such a tactic.

This battle could be said to showcase the momentum of Xiong Jiahao as an ADC. The title of the world's number one ADC was, perhaps, rightfully his?

After all, Xiong Jiahao's daring move was a risk that gambled on his career. Had it failed, the game would have swiftly shifted, giving the Big Tiger team a great opportunity to turn the tables.

But Xiong Jiahao was just that confident.

He chose to dive in, he chose to believe in his teammates, and primarily, he believed in the Guardian Angel he wore. At that crucial moment, Xiong Jiahao made the right choice.

That was to use his Guardian Angel to trade for the enemy ADC Jinx's life. If the trade was successful and his teammates could protect him from being easily suppressed upon resurrection, then it would be a success.

And indeed, Xiong Jiahao's decision and execution proved to be very successful.

Now, the Big Tiger team was left with only one mid laner, who simply couldn't defend against the onslaught of four FY team players.

Even though Gnar had recalled back, once the minion wave reached the Nexus turrets, top laner Wang Shilin teleported back in, and at this point, the Big Tiger team's mid laner had no choice but to make a last stand.

But, unfortunately for them.

Under Xiong Jiahao's Kasha's assault, the mid-lane did not manage to trade kills, and was quickly overwhelmed by four enemies and was taken down as well.

At this point.

FY Team successfully achieved a team wipe against the Big Tiger team and smoothly destroyed the Nexus towers, then the Nexus itself!

"Congratulations to FY Team for securing their first victory and defeating their archrivals, the DLH team. Congratulations to them!"

The match is over!

In the opening battle of Group C, FY Team lived up to everyone's expectations, avenged their mid-season championship defeat, and beat their nemesis, the Korean Big Tiger team.

At that moment, Xiong Jiahao, Feng Jin, Yao Jing, Qian Yu, and Wang Shilin's eyes were filled with excitement.

Even Xiong Jiahao stood up and embraced his support, Feng Jin, celebrating the victory of the opening group match and also celebrating his own revenge at the S World Championship!

In Mist City Arts and Science University's Fifth Canteen, students' cheers were already erupting.

When Ding Yue saw the moment of victory, a smile also appeared at the corner of his mouth.

This win not only avenged the regret of the mid-season championship finals but also raised Ding Yue's anticipation for his FY Team to continue advancing triumphantly in the remaining matches, reach the grand final, and eventually become world champions, regardless of who their final opponent might be.

If they could take home the champion title of the S World Championship.

Then Mist City Arts and Sciences University E-sports Game College would become famous in one fell swoop, setting a benchmark in the global e-sports industry!

Because.

At Mist City Arts and Sciences University, to have cultivated a top-tier world champion team is an indescribable honor in the e-sports realm?

The match ended, and Ding Yue also finished his meal in the Fifth Canteen.

There's no denying that the meal was quite satisfying.

After eating and watching the match, Ding Yue took out his phone and immediately called Jian Zihao, the coach of the FY Team in Korea and the director of the E-sports Game College at Mist City Arts and Science University.

"Hello Principal Ding."

"Director Jian, congratulations to you all, this opening group match was a successful act of revenge. I hope everyone continues to strive in the upcoming group matches and make a smooth appearance, then show their style in the knockout stage. I look forward to seeing you standing on the champion's podium," Ding Yue instructed over the phone to Director Jian Zihao.

"Alright, Principal Ding, we will definitely keep working hard!" Jian Zihao replied.

Jian Zihao, once a professional player, never clinched the world championship, and this time, as a coach alongside FY Team, he aimed for the S World Championship title.

The Korean Big Tiger team, which once defeated him, could not stop them from securing a victory today, so from now on, nobody else would be able to hinder their march towards the championship.

Even if Korea's top seed player KT came, FY Team would give it their all and do their utmost to defeat the opponent!

Ding Yue knew the group matches and knockout rounds, leading up to the final match, would continue until the end of October, leaving some time.

During this period, Ding Yue would be quite busy, so he might not be able to watch some of the matches.

However, if FY Team did make it to the finals, Ding Yue would not hesitate to buy a plane ticket to the competition site in Korea to cheer for his FY Team!

"Keep it up, I'll be following your matches all along."

After saying this, Ding Yue hung up the phone.

Just as Ding Yue ended the call, another phone call came in.

Ding Yue glanced at the caller ID; it was a call from Song Wankong, the director of Aeronautical and Astronautical Engineering.

"Hello, Director Song."

Ding Yue answered the call.

"Principal Ding, good news, such good news!"

Chapter 1076: The Taishan Beidou of the Aerospace Industry

As soon as Ding Yue heard Director Song Wankong on the phone saying there was good news, his nerves immediately tensed up.

A moment later.

Ding Yue's tense nerves relaxed a bit, and a smile appeared at the corner of his mouth as he asked, "Director Song, what's the good news?"

If Ding Yue remembered correctly about the recent affairs of the School of Aeronautics and Astronautics, it should have been the collaboration between his own Feiyue Group's graphene batteries and the Aerospace Bureau's Zhu Rong Mars Rover.

Afterward, Ding Yue had asked the professors from the Xia Science Institution's Solar Energy Research Institute to help him contact the Aerospace Bureau, as he wished to invite aerospace experts and professors from the bureau to his Mist City Arts and Science University.

Could it be that the good news is concerning this matter?

"Principal Ding, the Aerospace Bureau contacted our School of Aeronautics and Astronautics and said that several experts and professors from the Aerospace Bureau are willing to come to our school for inspection," said an excited Song Wankong.

Such an opportunity was of utmost importance for Song Wankong, the dean of the School of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Because the future development of the School of Aeronautics and Astronautics depended on whether Principal Ding's investment was significant enough.

And if the experts and professors from the National Space Administration were to come, it would indeed be a huge boon.

"Oh?"

Upon hearing this, Ding Yue pondered and thought that it wasn't unexpected.

Indeed, there was news from the National Space Administration. Ding Yue had always been waiting for news from the bureau, hoping that their experts and professors would come to his Mist City Arts and Science University's School of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

It was unexpected that there were professors willing to come.

It seemed the collaboration between Mist City Arts and Science University's graphene batteries and the Xia Science Institution's Solar Energy Research Institute had quite a significant impact.

"Principal Ding, Professor Qian Jianlin, Professor Zuo Tinghui, Professor Wang Shi, and others from the National Space Administration may soon come to our school for an inspection. Principal Ding, do we need to prepare in advance?"

Director Song Wankong still sounded thrilled.

"Professor Qian Jianlin? Professor Wang Shi?"

Ding Yue's eyes widened when he heard these names.

Good fellow!

Ding Yue had initially thought that the experts and professors coming from the National Space Administration might not be the top tier.

But he never expected!

That it would be exactly the top tier!

Professors like Qian Jianlin, Wang Shi, and Zuo Tinghui were the backbone of the National Space Administration, indeed the towering figures in the field of aerospace.

"Director Song, there's no need for intentional preparation in advance. Just maintain the normal daily teaching activities of our School of Aeronautics and Astronautics,"

Ding Yue contemplated. Since the professors like Professor Qian were coming to visit the School of Aeronautics and Astronautics at Mist City Arts and Science University, there was no need for pretense.

Showing the most authentic side to the top professors from the National Space Administration was the most important thing.

When it came to reception, Ding Yue naturally would instruct Huang, the head of the logistics department, to do the appropriate work.

"Alright, Principal Ding," said Director Song Wankong, understanding what Principal Ding meant.

"By the way, Director Song, is there a list for the delegation from the National Space Administration that is prepared to visit our school?"

Ding Yue asked eagerly.

If there was a list, they could make a good promotion. After all, having the big shots from the National Space Administration inspecting the aeronautics and astronautics academy at Mist City Arts and Science University would create a significant momentum and greatly benefit the institution.

"Principal Ding, there's no list sent over yet. The National Space Administration only contacted me, saying that after preliminary discussions and research, Professor Qian and others are willing to visit our school,"

Director Song Wankong promptly replied.

"Alright, I understand. Director Song, as soon as you receive the confirmed list from the National Space Administration, remember to tell me right away,"

Ding Yue instructed.

"Okay, Principal Ding,"

Having hung up the phone, Ding Yue felt very pleased.

Though he had already finished dinner, Ding Yue still went to the sweets counter at the Fifth Canteen and ordered a dessert to eat a bit more because when Ding Yue was in a good mood, he liked to eat something sweet.

"Principal Ding, it's not good to eat dessert after dinner in the evening," muttered Wen Ruohan, the secretary following behind Ding Yue.

"Hahaha, I know, but I'm in a good mood." Ding Yue couldn't help but laugh out loud, then walked toward the administrative area of the Fifth Canteen with his dessert in hand.

He planned to discuss with his mother the use of the 360-degree multi-functional media screen at the Fifth Canteen. He wanted to use the large screen to broadcast TV dramas or other programs that students liked during meal times in the future.

"Where is Manager Zhang?"

Upon reaching the administrative area, Ding Yue saw a staff member and asked where his mother, Zhang Yuping, was.

"Manager Zhang is over at the office," the staff member replied.

"Thanks."

With that, Ding Yue headed to the office.

"Mom, tonight's live broadcast of the game was good," Ding Yue said with a smile as he entered the office and approached his mother, Zhang Yuping.

"Although I don't quite understand these games of yours, the people below suggested this, so I had Xiao Li and the others handle it. This big screen is really good. In the future, I'll play the news broadcasts for the students during meal times, right?"

Chapter 1077: The North Star of the Aerospace Industry

Zhang Yuping said to her son Ding Yue with a smile.

My goodness!

Prime time news broadcast at exactly 7 p.m.?

Upon hearing this, Ding Yue felt that this was a good suggestion and immediately nodded, "Okay, then from now on, let's broadcast the news at 7 p.m., and during regular meal times, I suggest we play the TV programs that students love to watch."

This stumped Zhang Yuping, who spread her hands and said, "How would I know what TV programs those students like to watch?"

That is true indeed.

After all, Zhang Yuping, being a middle-aged person, sometimes found it hard to resonate with the younger generation, especially regarding TV programs.

Zhang Yuping liked watching the news, but young people were different.

The reason why they broadcasted the League of Legends S World Championship FY team's live match this time was also based on a suggestion from a young student staff member in the cafeteria.

In the Fifth Canteen, aside from the older chefs, there were actually quite a few culinary arts students working and cooking as well.

"That's simple,"

Ding Yue laughed and then said to his mom Zhang Yuping, "Let the school's public account conduct a program broadcast vote, let the students vote for what they like watching, and then we can just arrange the broadcasts based on the order of TV program votes."

"That's indeed a good idea."

Upon hearing this, Zhang Yuping immediately nodded and said, "That's my son for you, smart!"

Ding Yue shrugged his shoulders and continued to stay in the administrative office of the Fifth Canteen where he chatted with his mom for a while. He then mentioned that some big shots from the aerospace sector would be visiting the school soon and asked his mom Zhang Yuping to cook a meal of home-style dishes to host these big shots.

Naturally, Zhang Yuping agreed.

After that, Ding Yue left the Fifth Canteen and returned to his own apartment room, retiring early for the night.

The next day.

Ding Yue received a phone call from Academician Zhao Jianwang of the Xia Science Institution Solar Energy Research Institute, saying that there was good news from the National Space Administration and several Taishan Beidou-level expert professors planned to visit Mist City Arts and Science University.

That afternoon.

Ding Yue received a list of inspection delegates sent by Director Song Wankong, which was organized by the National Space Administration, and their expert professors' inspection team was set to visit the Aerospace College of Mist City Arts and Science University the following week.

"Xiao Wen, call Director Huang over immediately," Ding Yue said after reading the list, planning to summon Huang to properly arrange the logistics for the visitation by the National Space Administration inspectors, "Never mind, I'll just call him."

Having said that, he picked up his phone, found Huang on Whatsapp, then made a voice call to him.

"Hey Yue, what's up? We're at the courthouse today,"

The voice of Huang Youjie came over the phone, sounding quite busy.

"What are you doing at the courthouse?"

Ding Yue curiously asked.

"It's about suing those netizens who defamed and spread rumors about Mist City Arts and Science University last time; we have some procedural work to do here today,"

Huang Youjie explained.

That reminded Ding Yue that previously, due to some issues, many people online were rhythmically spreading rumors to slander his Mist City Arts and Science University, and most were paid to do so, involving several companies from America.

At that time, Ding Yue had responded decisively by resorting to legal actions.

But handling legal processes was not something that could be resolved quickly, so even up till now, matters related to lawsuits and judgments were still proceeding normally.

"Oh, it's about that, then okay, you go ahead with your work. For the logistics department, recommend someone else who can handle things for me, I have some tasks to hand over."

Seeing that Huang was busy, Ding Yue didn't want to bother him with this matter, letting Huang focus on leading the team from the law school to handle the lawsuit properly.

"Ah, come on Yue, it's not like I'm too busy. Just tell me whatever it is for logistics, I'll sort it out once I'm done here today,"

Huang Youjie suddenly said.

"I've noticed you're quite busy, so, alright, this matter isn't urgent. It's just that in about a week, a team of experts from the National Space Administration will be coming to visit our Aerospace College at Mist City Arts and Science University. This is a very important matter, so I'm assigning you to take care of the logistics."

Ding Yue briefly explained the situation to Huang.

"Got it, since there's still a week left, I can definitely arrange it. By the way, Yue, now that the National Space Administration's team is coming for an inspection, does our college's aerospace program have a future?"

Huang asked, excitedly.

Although he studied law, Mist City Arts and Science University felt like home to him. If the Aerospace College could be given significant attention and developed, it would be beneficial not just for the Mist City Arts and Science University, but also for the aerospace industry in Xia Country.

"Aerospace is the leading edge of science and technology, not just in our country but around the world. If Mist City Arts and Science University is to become one of the top universities globally, how can we not develop the Aerospace College?"

Ding Yue said confidently.

"Wow, Yue really has a visionary outlook!"

Huang couldn't help but admire his Yue, who had always aimed very high. Over the years, he had often heard Yue talk about making Mist City Arts and Science University one of the top universities in the world, and initially Huang had been skeptical.

After all, he thought, no matter how well a private university develops, it could only go so far.

But what Huang truly hadn't expected was that, with Yue's efforts, and the support of the entire staff and student body at Mist City Arts and Science University, as well as the backing of Feiyue Group, the university had achieved its current level of success in just a few years.

From this height, looking back at Yue's high ambitions to make it a top world-class institution suddenly seemed within reach!

"Alright, enough chit-chat and boasting, go back to your tasks."

After discussing the logistical arrangements, Ding Yue let Huang get back to his busy schedule at the courthouse.

"Alright, see you later, Yue."

Dudu dudu~

After hanging up the phone, Ding Yue asked his secretary Wen Ruohan to reorganize his upcoming schedule.

After all, Ding Yue was due to attend a new energy vehicle launch event hosted by Chang'an Group, and afterward, he had to visit the Mist City Government.

Besides, there was Director Qi Chunsheng's surgery and the impending visit from the team from the National Space Administration.

And it has to be said, during this period, Ding Yue felt incredibly busy.

"Xiao Wen, please make sure to organize my upcoming schedule properly, and ensure all major events are clearly planned, okay?"

Ding Yue reminded his secretary Wen Ruohan.

"Yes, Principal Ding, I'll review it once more right now."

Principal Ding's schedule had been prepared a few days ago with all important events accounted for, but with the sudden news of the expert team from the National Space Administration coming for an inspection, she needed to check the specific timings once more.

Thus, Wen Ruohan quickly opened a document on her computer titled "Principal Ding's Schedule."

Just then,

At the door of the principal's office, there came a voice.

"Secretary Wen, is Principal Ding in?"

The voice sounded somewhat familiar to Ding Yue.

"Director Cao, Principal Ding is here." Wen Ruohan, hearing the voice, looked up and saw the person was the director of the Mechanical Engineering Department and now also the director of the Academic Affairs Office, Cao Guowei.

Beside Director Cao Guowei was another person Wen Ruohan recognized, the head of the Forestry and Agriculture Department, Director Jia Nong.

"And Director Jia too,"

Wen Ruohan also greeted Director Jia, essentially notifying Principal Ding that Directors Cao Guowei and Jia Nong had arrived.

"Director Cao, Director Jia, what brings you here? Please, have a seat..."

Chapter 1078: Keeping a Giant Panda in the School?

Director Cao Guowei and Director Jia Nong both came to see me; could it be that the Mechanical Department and the College of Forestry had some matters to discuss?

Ding Yue looked at the two department heads and asked, "What brings you two here to see me?"

Director Cao Guowei and Director Jia Nong exchanged glances, and with a look, Director Jia Nong signaled Director Cao to speak up.

"Principal Ding, it's like this. Director Jia came to me today and mentioned that the school had previously considered providing a giant panda to the College of Forestry. Now, the Northern Bamboo Forest Natural Reserve at the College of Forestry has been completed. He wanted to know when we might be able to get a giant panda?"

Director Cao Guowei was the first to speak up.

Goodness!

Bring over a giant panda to raise?

Ding Yue remembered this matter. After the Sunny Grassland had become popular the last time, he had gone to see it and also noticed the bamboo grove to the north. The environment was well-maintained, and at the time, he thought if they could bring a national treasure like the giant panda, it would definitely increase the popularity of the College of Forestry.

However, Ding Yue had merely mentioned it at the time. Bringing a national treasure like the giant panda would be extremely difficult.

Unexpectedly,

Director Jia Nong had taken it seriously and even prepared the bamboo forest base, just waiting to bring over a national treasure giant panda?

"Director Jia, does our school have the facilities to raise a national treasure like the giant panda?"

Ding Yue turned and looked at Director Jia Nong, asking.

After all, giant pandas are highly revered national treasures, not something one can simply decide to raise. First, obtaining a giant panda is already very challenging, not to mention the high standards required for the breeding environment and staff.

"Principal Ding, currently our Mist City Arts and Science University does have the favorable environment for raising giant pandas. Furthermore, our College of Forestry also has trained personnel to care for giant pandas."

Director Jia Nong answered very seriously.

"Oh?"

Seeing Director Jia Nong's response, Ding Yue thought it appeared that the College of Forestry was fully prepared this time. Everything was ready; they were just missing a giant panda.

"If that's the case, then I will try to see if I can manage to get a giant panda for our school to raise."

Ding Yue muttered, already having some plans in mind.

After all, Ding Yue had been in frequent contact recently with Governor Li, and their relationship was fairly good. If he spoke with Governor Li, who could then communicate with Shu Province, perhaps there was a chance to obtain a giant panda for the school?

"Principal Ding, do you have a way to obtain a giant panda?"

Upon hearing this, Director Cao Guowei became immediately curious and asked.

"I can only try; I don't have the capability to guarantee one hundred percent that I can get a giant panda for us," Ding Yue shrugged and muttered in response.

After all, the giant panda is a supreme national treasure, not something anyone can simply decide to raise.

Even if Mist City wants a giant panda, Shu Province will have to consider it carefully multiple times.

However, in recent years, as Shu City and Mist City have been developing a twin city economic circle and their cooperation has become quite frequent and close, it might not be impossible to persuade Shu City to send a few giant pandas to Mist City.

But such matters would need to be handled by someone like Governor Li.

Ding Yue thought it over and decided that the next time he met with Governor Li to discuss matters, he would take the opportunity to bring up this topic, although he was unsure if Governor Li would be willing to help.

However, Ding Yue pondered that if Mist City Government was interested in making Mist City Arts and Science University rise as a renowned institution, then with the university already having the facilities to raise them, increasing the attraction, influence, and prestige of Mist City Arts and Science University by establishing a national treasure cooperative research base might not be an impossible idea.

"Then I'll leave this matter in your hands, Principal Ding. Our Faculty of Forestry's faculty and students were thrilled to hear that the school might be getting a giant panda," Director Jia Nong said excitedly.

"Does our College of Forestry have many students who are fond of giant pandas?" Ding Yue turned towards Director Jia Nong and asked.

"Of course," Director Jia Nong nodded in response.

Giant pandas, who wouldn't be enchanted by them?

Everyone adores them, naturally.

"In that case, how about we establish specialties dedicated to national treasure research in our College of Forestry at Mist City Arts and Science University, focusing on breeding and caring for giant pandas? Director Jia, what do you think?" Ding Yue suggested.

With this appeal, requesting one or two giant pandas from Shu City for breeding or professional training might have a chance.

"Eh, that's an excellent suggestion," Director Jia Nong replied, as if he had an epiphany.

"Then, Director Jia, you go back and organize this, and leave the matter of getting the giant pandas to me," Ding Yue nodded slightly and said to Director Jia Nong.

"Okay, Principal Ding, I won't bother you anymore.," Director Jia saw that Principal Ding had already decided, so he would just wait for the news from Principal Ding.

With Principal Ding's incredible abilities, getting a giant panda should not pose much of a problem, right?

Chapter 1079: Raising a Giant Panda in School?

After all, Principal Ding had even invited an expert professor team from the National Space Administration to visit the school, a piece of news that Director Jia Nong only heard this morning. It must be said that Principal Ding's capability is truly significant.

Not only could he speak his mind to Governor Li of the Mist City Government, but he also had connections with the National Space Administration?

Thinking back several years ago, when Mist City Arts and Science University had just been established and the heads of various departments had just taken their posts, everyone privately discussed the young Principal Ding, wondering if someone so young could successfully run a private university.

Now no one discusses that anymore because Principal Ding has proven himself with his ability!

After Director Cao Guowei and Director Jia Nong had left, Ding Yue immediately included the panda matter in the items he planned to discuss with Governor Li afterwards.

Very quickly.

Among the students at Mist City Arts and Science University, rumors started spreading that the school was going to keep a giant panda.

"Did you hear? Our school is going to keep a giant panda."

"Damn, really?"

"Our school is going to keep Gungun? That's so awesome!"

"I heard it's the Forestry College that will keep it at the bamboo forest base in the north."

"Are they starting a zoo?"

"Dude, can they even bring a giant panda here? That's a national treasure!"

"I heard it from the students in the Forestry College."

"Usually, only large city zoos get the chance to keep giant pandas, right?"

"Damn, if our school can keep a giant panda, that would be unbeatable."

For the students, having a giant panda at Mist City Arts and Science University would be incredibly cool, as many students from all over the country had never seen the adorable giant panda in person.

Gradually, the news that Mist City Arts and Science University wanted to keep a giant panda spread wider and wider, and it was even written about by some independent media accounts.

And far away in Sichuan at the Wolong Giant Panda Base.

One of the staff members saw an article online claiming that a private university in Mist City was attempting to keep a giant panda.

After reading the article, the worker couldn't help but laugh: "Heh, a giant panda is not something your shabby university can just decide to keep?"

...

Three days later.

Before planning to meet Governor Li, Ding Yue had another important matter to attend to: attending the Chang'an Group's new energy vehicle launch.

Today at the Mist City National Exhibition Center, Chang'an Group was set to hold their new energy vehicle launch.

After having breakfast early in the morning, Ding Yue, along with his friends and Miss An, went to the Mist City National Exhibition Center.

There, Ding Yue met the current general manager of Chang'an Group, Liu Pei.

"Principal Ding, I've heard so much about you."

Liu Pei was very enthusiastic when he met Ding Yue, coming forward to shake hands and greet him.

This was their first meeting.

Since previously, all the dealings of Feiyue Group's cooperation with Chang'an Group had been handled specifically by An Yujia; as the behind-the-scenes boss, Ding Yue naturally would not personally involve himself in these matters.

"Hello Mr. Liu, let me wish in advance that Chang'an Group's new car sells well."

Ding Yue said with a smile after shaking hands with Liu Pei.

The best scenario for Chang'an Group's new energy vehicles would be a strong sale, as that would mean consumers highly recognize the endurance and charging capability of Chang'an Group's new energy vehicles.

And these two aspects were the significant advantages provided by Feiyue Group to Chang'an Group.

Hoping that Chang'an Group could utilize this advantage, to enhance and strengthen their new energy vehicles, it would naturally be better if it could also boost a major local enterprise in Mist City, solving the livelihood problems of many people.

"Hahaha, thank you for your good words, Principal Ding. With your graphene batteries, I believe it will definitely be highly competitive!"

Liu Pei said with a laugh.

Ding Yue, looking at Liu Pei, always got an ominous feeling from this middle-aged man.

All in all, judging by looks, Ding Yue did not like Liu Pei much, a rare sentiment for him.

Moreover, since Ding Yue left the house this morning, his right eyelid had been twitching.

As the saying goes, "Left is good, right is ominous." Did a twitching right eyelid mean that some unfavorable event was about to occur?

"Principal Ding, after the last release of the Dami 1 series by Dami Technology Group, the presale situation seemed quite good,"

Walking in the National Expo Center, An Yujia reported some details to Principal Ding behind her.

"Was it a huge hit?"

Ding Yue asked.

"Not exactly a hit, but the presale numbers were quite good," An Yujia shook her head as she answered.

Since the launch event, the Dami 1 series from Dami Technology Group had maintained a decent level of popularity, but to say it was a blockbuster hit would be an overstatement.

"That's quite normal, after all, Dami Technology Group has a large number of fans."

Ding Yue found this unsurprising.

After all, having developed over many years, Dami Technology Group had indeed accumulated a substantial fan base through its products.

These fans, referred to as Rice fans, greatly enjoyed using various products from Dami Technology Group, and with this being their first time launching a new energy vehicle, why wouldn't these Rice fans choose to buy a vehicle they liked from Dami Technology Group, if they were planning to buy one at all?

"Exactly, I know someone who always uses products from Dami Technology Group, and this time they also reserved a Dami 1 series new energy vehicle,"

Huang Youjie nodded in agreement as he spoke.

Therefore, the release of Dami Technology Group's Dami 1 series new energy vehicles was not particularly successful, merely attracting the attention of Rice fans.

For the broader market of consumers needing new energy vehicles, the appeal of Dami Technology Group's Dami 1 series new energy vehicles was not very high.

After all, domestic new energy vehicle brands were increasing, and more products were expected to be released this year, providing a broader range of choices.

Thus, the majority of consumers still held the thought of comparing several options, planning to wait and see if any better and more cost-effective new energy vehicles would be released soon.

"I wonder if the release of Chang'an's new energy vehicle today could cause a sensation,"

Ding Yue mumbled to himself.

"That's definitely possible, we are providing the graphene batteries with such strong endurance!" Huang Youjie said, pounding his chest.

"Miss An, what's the official range data released by Chang'an Group?"

Ding Yue turned around and asked An Yujia.

"I asked about that earlier, but Mr. Liu didn't tell me, saying it would be unveiled at today's launch event. According to our engineers here where the graphene batteries are made, based on the typical consumption of new energy vehicles, the full-load endurance capacity can easily exceed 1200 kilometers," An Yujia explained to Principal Ding.

"Oh oh,"

Ding Yue nodded slightly upon hearing this.

Feiyue Group's graphene batteries, in providing standards for Chang'an Group, had at least a full-load endurance capacity of 1200 kilometers, which indeed was quite impressive.

"What about the charging time?"

Ding Yue asked again.

Since the standard of graphene batteries Feiyue Group was supplying to Chang'an Group differed from those they would use later, Ding Yue was not clear and thus asked again.

"Principal Ding, the charging time is around half an hour," An Yujia answered again.

In fact, the highest standard graphene batteries could be charged in a few minutes and had a full-load endurance capacity of over 5000 kilometers without any issues.

But Feiyue Group definitely wouldn't offer their top-standard graphene batteries to Chang'an Group.

"Such data, in the current new energy vehicle market, already possess very strong competitiveness."

After learning the data, Ding Yue felt that today's Chang'an Group new energy vehicle launch event would undoubtedly become a highlight if everything went as expected.

Speaking of which.

Compared to Dami Technology Group, Chang'an Group was much weaker in marketing.

After all, Dami Technology Group was initially an internet technology company with strong internet marketing capabilities, unlike Chang'an Group, who could only spend money to buy some advertisements to stir up some pre-launch buzz.

Chapter 1080: Disappointing, So Disappointing

Penguin Auto Group Building.

As the chairman of Penguin Car, Kuang Xuejin paid close attention to the new energy vehicle launch of Chang'an Group today.

Just like the last Dami 1 series new energy vehicle launch by Dami Technology Group, as the leading figure in domestic new energy vehicles, Kuang needed to pay more attention to these newcomers and competitors.

However, despite this.

Kuang didn't really take these competitors seriously.

According to Penguin Auto Group's development strategy, Tesla was their real rival, as Tesla's domestic sales were increasing day by day. If it weren't for the recent braking incident, it's likely their expansion would have been unstoppable.

Luckily, during the braking incident, Kuang had pushed a wave, and this had helped cause a downward trend in Tesla's new energy vehicle sales over the past six months.

Now was the perfect time for Penguin Car to take back the market.

Yet, it was also at this time that multiple domestic brands launched their new energy vehicles one after another, such as the Dami 1 series by Dami Technology Group a few days ago, and the Chang'an New Star that Chang'an Group was releasing today!

Exactly.

The new energy vehicle from Chang'an Group was called Chang'an · Nova.

The reason why Kuang was paying special attention today, aside from being a competitor in the new energy vehicle market, was that Chang'an Group seemed to be cooperating with Feiyue Group.

It's said that Chang'an Group's New Star new energy vehicle uses the graphene battery from Feiyue Group.

Originally, according to the previous plan, Penguin Car, as well as Dami Technology Group, Huawei Technology Group, and even all domestic new energy vehicle brands, might have used the graphene batteries from Feiyue Group.

However, it was precisely because Kuang and some of the top executives at Penguin Group had past grievances with Ding Yue, the president of Mist City Arts and Science University and the power behind Feiyue Group.

Ultimately, Penguin Auto Group chose the new energy batteries from Europe's Mantech Group.

After all, it's better to trust a well-established European company like Mantech Group which had a long history of cooperation and was renowned worldwide, rather than a domestic company with little foundation.

Consequently, Penguin Auto Group brought together a series of companies including Dami Technology Group and Huawei Technology Group, ultimately turning to Mantech Group for support.

"Today I really want to see if Feiyue Group's graphene battery is truly as miraculous as they claim," Kuang muttered while puffing on a cigar.

"Kuang, in my opinion, this graphene battery from Feiyue Group is just like those PPT new energy car companies before, all hype with no substance," said a special person in Kuang's office.

He wasn't a high-level executive of Penguin Auto Group, but he was a well-known figure within Penguin Group, namely Chen Xueming, the chairman of Q Entertainment Media.

The reason Chen Xueming was with Kuang today was not only due to their previous friendship but also for another purpose.

That was because Kuang had invited Chen over to discuss promotional matters for the latest Penguin 6 series new energy vehicle, which was a perfect fit for Q Entertainment Media to handle.

With numerous popular stars and even superstars under Q Entertainment Media, as well as the various movies, TV series, and variety shows they produced each year.

All of these served as opportunities and platforms to advertise the Penguin 6 series new energy vehicles.

This year's Penguin 6 series new energy vehicles had made leaps and bounds over previous models, thanks to the new energy batteries from Mantech Group, which greatly improved both the range and charging speed.

In addition, Penguin Auto Group had specifically established more networks for its new energy vehicles, building a vast network for battery replacement and charging.

And this time, the Penguin 6 series new energy vehicles would also be equipped with the cloud intelligent control system from Penguin Cloud Computing.

Penguin Cloud Computing's cloud intelligence platform was quite reputable in the industry.

"Chen, we can't just say that, it's not certain, not certain at all. Who knows, maybe Feiyue Group's graphene battery does have some merit," Kuang did not quite agree with Chen's opinion.

Kuang had looked into graphene batteries, as he was in charge of Penguin Group's car division and had to be knowledgeable about the batteries in the new energy sector.

If the graphene battery was indeed perfected, it could be much more powerful than what was rumored.

Yet the information released by Feiyue Group didn't seem all that impressive, but since they claimed to have the ability to manufacture graphene batteries, that meant they must have something up their sleeve.

"Then, if Feiyue Group truly has a graphene battery, why didn't you cooperate with them in the first place?" Chen asked, puzzled.

"We have our old partner, Mantech Group, which is strong and reliable. Why take a risk by choosing Feiyue Group?" said Kuang with a shrug.

Kuang had indeed considered using Feiyue Group's graphene batteries for the Penguin 6 series new energy vehicles, especially when Mist City Arts and Science University made breakthroughs in graphene technology, and the battery was popular.
