16: Chapter 16 E-sports Game College Online_1

16 -16 E-sports Game College Online_1

But in fields like Engineering Physics, Biomedical Sciences, and Aerospace, Mist City Arts and Science University has no choice but to develop.

The system demands that Ding Yue builds “Mist City Arts and Science University” into a world-class top-ranking university.

All these areas of specialization must achieve accomplishments.

Ding Yue pondered.

Perhaps ten or twenty years from now, when Mist City Arts and Science University has developed into a strongly comprehensive university, these seemingly high-end majors could also develop.

Apart from these majors related to technology.

Ding Yue also found some specialized media fields that many students registered for.

Some want to become actors.

Others wanted to become singers.

Some aspired to be broadcast hosts.

And some wanted to be live streamers

But they couldn't qualify for the relevant artistic majors at schools such as the Xia Country Drama Academy and Yancheng Films Academy.

They couldn't even pass the lower-tiered art universities.

So, they came to Mist City Arts and Science University to pass the time.

“This time, the majority of our new departments will cater to those whose hobby is gaming, so why not just establish an E-sports Game College?”

Ding Yue pondered.

Certainly thousands of students who love gaming can't all study gaming?

Perhaps some job markets related to gaming would be perfect for them.

Say game planning, game operations, game development, eSports agents, and eSports operators.

Now that Ding Yue recruited, it's his duty to take responsibility for the students of Mist City Arts and Sciences University; those who are good at gaming may become professionals after they graduate.

But what about those who are not good at gaming?

Mist City Arts and Science University also needs graduate rates and employment rates.

Graduate and employment rates are among the big tasks in the system, rewards are very generous.

"E-sports Game College, not bad!"

Huang Youjie, being a game lover, was very interested when he heard about the E-sports Game College.

"Yue, this is a good idea, as the majority of students are enthusiastic gamers."

Xu Bin also agreed with Ding Yue's idea.

Simply setting a new eSports major wouldn't accommodate the thousands of students.

The establishment of E-sports Game College could set up many related majors.

"Come, help me think, what majors can our E-sports Game College set up?"

It should combine with market needs, ensuring that our E-sports Game College students have corresponding jobs after graduation."

Ding Yue encouraged Huang Youjie and Xu Bin to brainstorm.

After all, three heads are better than one.

"Professional eSports player."

The first thing Huang Youjie thought of was an E-sports professional player, which could be set up as a major.

“Hmm, good.”

Ding Yue nodded, in agreement, and noted it on the computer; the major name would be [Professional eSports Player].

This major is necessary because Jian Zihao, whom he planned to invite as a lecturer, is a former professional eSports player.

“If there is an eSports professional player, then there must also be eSports commentary.”

Xu Bin supplemented.

“eSports commentary, good.

Ding Yue typed this major on his computer.

However, in the next second, he added to it and changed the major name to [eSports commentary host].

“How about game planning?”

Huang Youjie suggested.

“Yes, but let’s combine game planning and game operation as a single major.” Ding Yue suggested and added the [Game Operation and Planning] major.

“I think a gaming analyst is a new type of profession?

We can set up a related major.”

Xu Bin proposed, while stroking his chin.

“So it’s [eSports Game Analyst].” Ding Yue agreed with Xu Bin’s suggestion.

The three of them not only set up the general majors of the E-sports Game College, they also thought of other hobby-related majors, then Ding Yue requested Xu Bin to post an announcement on the official website.

The notification was mainly for the students wanting to choose their majors based on their hobbies.

In fact, besides these majors in E-sports Game College, Ding Yue’s Mist City Arts and Science University also set up National Arts.

It was set up especially for those students who loved National Arts.

They also set up a soccer major.

There were not a few students who loved to play soccer.

But Ding Yue thought, what would be the use of graduating from a soccer major?

Would they make it to the World Cup?

The country's top-notch soccer team is at that level, let alone soccer which is usually trained from a young age.

The students' hobbies are simply categorized as: sports, entertainment, creation, food, tourism, tea, cinema, books, clothing, etc.

Many of the hobbies lined up with the original 69 majors of Mist City Arts and Sciences University.

For instance, students who liked entertainment, cinema, and music could go straight to studying Mist City Arts and Sciences University's cinema major.

Aside from E-sports games, National Arts and Soccer, Mist City Arts and Science University has also added niche hobby majors like fashion design, gourmet cuisines, and food creation.

A few people would see the announcement on the official website.

Fortunately, Ding Yue asked Huang Youjie to create groups for students with the same hobbies during enrollment.

Just for these gaming enthusiasts, there were three chat groups.

[Hobby Gaming Group 1]

Principal Ding: "@Everyone, notice: Our college established the E-Sports Game College, based on your interest of gaming.

The related majors are officially posted on the school's official website, please check and according to your situations, rationally choose the major you like related to future job prospects!

[Official website www...]

Zhang Chengzai: There is really an E-sports Game College?

Huo Yang: I actually thought it was just a promotional stunt by the school.

Lan Zhixin: Ha-ha, awesome!

Finally, we can choose the gaming major we like.

Duan Xiaoqing: What majors are there?

Zhang Siqin: Mist City Arts and Science University is literally a gaming enthusiast's paradise!

Zhao Wenzhen: Is there a major for E-sports commentary?

I want to become an E-sports commentator after graduation.

All the students in the group were thrilled when they saw the announcement Ding Yue posted.

They rushed to check the website to see if their favorite majors were included.

Many students, seeing that there is a [Professional E-sports Player] major, chose it.

Because many young people who like to play games, have dreams of playing professionally.

Unfortunately, they have to study and don't have much time to enhance their gaming skills to a professional level.

However, if they can play and train while in college, it's a different story.

Even if they don't become professionals after graduating from the [Professional E-sports Player] major, it doesn't matter.

Many people are aware that their skills are far behind those of professional players.

The reason why they still chose [Professional eSports Player] as their major is just to fulfill a significant psychological need.

This kind of fulfillment, combined with the desire to go to college, is simply perfect.

17: Chapter 17: Became a Trending Topic_1

17 -17: Became a Trending Topic_1

Following the launch of the new E-sports Game College and other majors such as National Arts and Gastronomy at Mist City Arts and Science University, students signed up enthusiastically.

Over 1,500 students registered for majors at the E-sports Game College, which includes programs such as [Professional E-sports Player], [E-sports Game Commentator], [Game Operations and Planning], and [E-sports Game Analyst].

Next in popularity were the National Arts and Gastronomy majors, which also drew a significant number of applicants.

Originally, Ding Yue wanted to set up an independent National Arts college just like the E-sports Game College.

However, considering that only about two to three hundred students might be interested in the National Arts major, there was no need to establish an independent college for it, so it was initially set up as a major.

It's not too late to establish a National Arts College once the University admits more students who love National Arts.

Naturally, the purpose of the National Arts major is to teach students traditional Chinese martial arts, also known as Kung Fu!

As for who would teach Kung Fu.

Ding Yue figured that it would not be possible to hire the martial arts teacher Ma.

It would be better to invite actual masters of National Arts, but inviting them to teach students would not be so easy.

Classes on National Arts such as Tai Chi, Xingyi Fist, Bagua Palm, and Bajiquan are obligatory.

Besides the hand and fist forms, National Arts also include weapon training, such as staves, spears, swords, and the Nine-Section Whip.

To teach students all these, teachers who are proficient in each style and weapon must be hired.

Just for the National Arts major, quite a number of teachers have to be hired.

"How much reputation points would I need to exchange for the [College Education Qualification Card]?"

Ding Yue looked at his 10 reputation points, shivering with dread, knowing it would not be enough.

Ding!

“Task Generated: [Hot Search in College]”

“Task Content: Mist City Arts and Science University must appear on the Twitter Hot Search Trending list at least once within three days!”

“Task Reward: +20 reputation points!”

Just as Ding Yue was worrying about his low reputation points, the system sent him a new task.

Getting the college on the trending list.

There’s a time limit, within three days.

Ding Yue, with his hand supporting his chin, couldn’t help but wonder what topic could he get to trend.

While Ding Yue was thinking about the Hot Search task, the mobile phone on his office desk suddenly lit up.

The notification showed a message on Whatsapp.

Ding Yue picked up his phone, unlocked it, entered Whatsapp, and saw that the message was actually from Jian Zihao.

Jian Zihao: Principal Ding, my girlfriend and I are planning to stay in Mist City for a while.

I think I can try the thing you mentioned last time.

Seeing Jian Zihao’s message, a smile appeared at the corner of Ding Yue’s mouth.

“That’s great, our Mist City Arts and Sciences University is looking forward to your arrival, and the students of the E-sports Game College must be excited too.”

Ding Yue expressed sincere gratitude for Jian Zihao’s agreement to act as a teacher at the E-sports Game College of Mist City Arts and Science University.

He didn’t expect that he would have succeeded in recruiting Jian Zihao just by giving it a try.

While delighted with the development.

Ding Yue suddenly remembered the Hot Search task he had just received.

That's it!

The smile on Ding Yue's face grew even brighter, and he immediately sent another message to Jian Zihao: "Could you help us make the official announcement on Twitter with the official account of Mist City Arts and Science University?"

A moment ago, Ding Yue was still worrying about how to get Mist City Arts and Science University on Twitter's Hot Search Trending list.

And now Jian Zihao had just come to him with a timely solution.

Since Jian Zihao had agreed to teach at the E-sports Game College of Mist City Arts and Science University, it wouldn't be too much to ask him to collaborate on an official announcement on Twitter, right?

Jian Zihao: Okay, should I prepare a text or should I do it freestyle?

"You take the liberty to express yourself, making the announcement will do, much appreciated."

Jian Zihao: Okay, I'll make the announcement on Twitter right away.

About five minutes later.

On Twitter, Jian Zihao's account posted a new tweet.

[Jian Zihao]v: Since retiring, life has been going well.

Driven by my hobbies and interests, I've decided to accept the invitation from Mist City Arts and Science University to serve as a lecturer for their newly established E-sports Game College.

There might even be live-streamed classes, so stay tuned #E-sports Game College#

This tweet from Jian Zihao also included the topic #E-sports Game College#.

Jian Zihao, being a very popular former professional player of 'League of Legends' with a lot of fans, caught the attention of many netizens as soon as the post was published.

Comment Section (2394)——

Funny Netizens: Woah!

This news is kind of explosive!

Xiao Wang: I only just saw that Mist City Arts and Science University had started an E-sports Game College.

Who would have thought that Jian Zihao would announce his joining so soon?

Yusheng Canxin: Has he become a teacher now?

Dragon Feathering: 666666, Mist City Arts and Science University was actually able to invite Jian Zihao over, that's something!

DanTengXia007: Hello, Teacher Jian, how can we take your class at the E-sports Game College?

Three-Flower-Paint: Teach people to game?

To go pro?

Fengqi666: (Raises hand) Excuse me, Teacher Jian, I want to go pro!

CHW-Weiyue: What kind of university is this?

It has an E-sports Game College and can even invite Jian Zihao to be a lecturer?

Flying Wheat Cake: So, does the E-sports Game College teach students how to game?

Sounds awesome?

JuanNiaoLuoJiuLin: Can someone explain, what is this E-sports Game College?

After Jian Zihao's tweet began to gain some traction,

Ding Yue immediately followed up with an official announcement on the official Twitter account of Mist City Arts and Science University and tagged Jian Zihao.

Jian Zihao also cooperatively commented on the official announcement from Mist City Arts and Science University.

After these operations,

The topic #JianZihaoE-sportsGameCollege# under various discussions from netizens, directly made it to seventeenth place on the Twitter trending list.

"Is there really such a good university?"

“E-sports Game College, it’s the first time I’ve heard of such a college in a university?”

“Holy shit!

Mist City Arts and Science University really set up an E-sports Game College?”

“Does the Mist City University of Arts and Sciences still recruit students who want to play games?”

“Awesome, running an E-sports Game College and inviting Jian Zihao as a lecturer, this move is very nice!”

“Hahaha, although Mist City Arts and Science University is just a non-mainstream private university, this idea is really good.”

“The principal of Mist City Arts and Science University is truly talented!”

“What should I do?

I’m kind of starting to like this university, I heard they also have a Food Tasting and Making major, this is making me laugh.”

“Culinary majors?

Isn’t this just a boon for foodies?”

“Can someone explain, what the hell is Mist City Arts and Science University?

And what exactly is this E-sports Game College?”

From the comments under the trending topic, it’s clear that netizens are really praising Mist City Arts and Science University’s latest move.

Although Mist City Arts and Sciences University is considered mediocre in traditional domains, their establishment of various novel majors has received great approval from many netizens, earning them quite a bit of favorability and popularity.

Ding!

“Congratulations Host for completing the [Trending Topic Task], reward of 20 points!”

Ding!

“Congratulations, your Mist City Arts and Science University has gained 1.0236 million popularity points.”

18: Chapter 18: 2020 School Flower and Grass Election Contest_1

18 -18: 2020 School Flower and Grass Election Contest_1

In the few days after the recruitment.

Ding Yue was very busy.

There were too many things that needed to be done.

First, Ding Yue formally signed a campus purchase agreement with Liu Changwen from Siyuan Group, and successfully bought this campus at a price of one billion yuan.

After the establishment of various new majors and the E-sports Game College, Ding Yue had to recruit lecturers in related specialties from all over the place.

Due to the generous benefits offered by Mist City Arts and Science University, the recruitment of external teachers for the existing 69 undergraduate majors went relatively smoothly.

However, recruiting teachers for the newly established majors was not that simple.

For the National Arts major, Ding Yue contacted masters from various boxing and palm schools, as well as masters in various weapons, and offered them very generous terms, but only a few came.

One of them was a Tai Chi Master.

A swordsmith.

A successor of Mantis Boxing.

A Master of Wing Chun Gym.

There was no other way.

If, for now, these were the only people who could be hired as teachers, then the National Arts major would temporarily only have these classes.

Next came the Food Tasting and Production major.

There were quite a few food-loving students who had signed up for this major, so Ding Yue invited a Chinese chef and a Michelin-star western chef from Mist City to be the lecturers for the Food Tasting and Production major.

Administration Building.

Inside the President's Office.

Ding Yue was busy making various phone calls, inviting professionals related to the newly established majors to serve as lecturers.

But the majority rejected Ding Yue.

Some people even treated Ding Yue as a fraud.

"Mr.

Ji, yes, yes, it is Mist City Arts and Science University, did you see today's trending topics on Twitter?

Yes, yes, Lynx Arts and Science University cordially invites you to be a lecturer."

The man on the phone, Mr.

Ji, was quite easy to talk to.

"So, you agree Mr.

Ji?

Great, when you have time, come to our Mist City Arts and Science University, and we can discuss the contract signing in person, OK, goodbye."

After hanging up the phone.

Ding Yue continued to call the next person on his list.

However, the call had barely started when the other party hung up.

Ding Yue was used to such situations.

It's not so easy to recruit teachers for various hobby-related majors.

Ding Yue then made three more calls, which all ended in failure.

"Principal Ding, how is the recruitment of lecturers for the new majors going?"

Huang Youjie entered the office quietly with a thermal mug in his hand.

The mug was steaming.

He even blew on it with solemnity.

“Not so good, huh, Huang, you seem pretty free, have you finished recruiting support staff?”

Ding Yue, Huang Youjie, and Xu Bin each have their own tasks, which makes them more efficient.

Ding Yue is responsible for recruiting lecturers for the new majors.

That’s almost the hardest part.

Huang Youjie is responsible for recruiting support staff and subsequent arrangements.

Liu Changwen gave them contact channels, so the recruitment went smoothly.

Xu Bin is responsible for recruiting external teachers for the 69 traditional undergraduate majors, and he has also completed his task quite successfully.

Only Ding Yue said, it’s too hard for me.

“Almost done, they are all assigned.” Huang Youjie took a sip of his freshly-brewed wolfberry tea and said calmly, sitting on the sofa.

“Well, your efficiency is not bad.”

After complimenting Huang Youjie, Ding Yue prepared to make another phone call.

Huang Youjie swayed into his office and leisurely drank tea.

It’s obvious that he was here on purpose.

However, Ding Yue knew better than to take the bait.

A simple praise would suffice.

“Ding, don’t you think I’m here to show off, do you?” Huang Youjie glanced at Ding Yue.

“Aren’t you?”

“Of course not.

I have something to tell you.

Our students have organized a Beauty and Handsome Contest for the class of 2020 on the school forum.

Do you think I should participate?"

Huang Youjie asked with vanity.

"You?"

Ding Yue slightly furrowed his eyebrows, then laughed, "Are you going to compete in the beauty contest?"

"Ahem, that's not impossible." Huang Youjie's face changed instantly, throwing a foxy glance at Ding Yue just like a nine-tail fox.

Hiss!

Ding Yue felt goosebumps all over his body: "Get out, get out, stop looking at me with that seductive look!"

Huang Youjie was a cross-dresser!

Normally he was alright, but once he got into his cross-dressing personality, he became really seductive.

And that's without him even wearing a mini-skirt, a wig, or makeup, just his gaze was enough to give Ding Yue goosebumps.

"Damn!

You're not seriously considering that, are you?" Ding Yue was shocked.

Was Huang Youjie really going to dress up as a woman and compete for the title of Beauty in Mist City Arts and Science University?

"From the moment he started cross-dressing, he's been crazy!" Xu Bin's voice came from the office door at this point.

He also sat down on the sofa, "But I do think it's interesting if Huang competes for the beauty contest...hahaha."

Hearing this, Huang Youjie gave Xu Bin a thumbs up.

"Huang, if you have the guts to compete for the beauty contest, I salute you!

And should I also compete for the handsome contest?"

Ding Yue turned off his phone screen, held it up as a mirror, and evaluated his looks.

Well, one word.

Handsome!

“Given your looks, Yue, you could definitely compete for the handsome contest.

Honestly, of all the days I’ve been at school, I haven’t seen anyone more handsome than you!”

Xu Bin supported Ding Yue to compete for the title of the Handsomest of Mist City Arts and Science University in 2020 because he was confident in Ding Yue’s good looks.

“Okay, how do I sign up?”

Ding Yue just heard from Huang Youjie about the Beauty and Handsome Contest for 2020 at Mist City Arts and Science University, organized by the students themselves.

“There’s a dedicated thread in the forum.”

Xu Bin got up and operated on the computer on Ding Yue’s desk, opening the official forum of Mist City Arts and Science University.

“And then upload a selfie, right?”

Huang Youjie, holding his phone, had already logged into the official forum of Mist City Arts and Science University.

After Ding Yue had filled in his information, Xu Bin told him to upload a photo.

“Just upload one?” Ding Yue asked.

“You can upload from one to nine.”

“I’ll upload a few more then.” Ding Yue muttered to himself, found a few selfies from his phone’s album that he was somewhat satisfied with, and uploaded them to the 2020 Beauty and Handsome Contest thread in the school forum.

Then, Ding Yue looked curiously at the selfies uploaded by other female students.

“Wow, there are quite a few beauties in our school.”

As he scrolled down, the registration section for the beauty contest was filled with photos of female students, all of which were full of youthful vigor, with nice looks and different characteristics.

Zhang K'e [image.jpg], Liu Yuran [image.jpg], Chen Xin [image.jpg], Lin Zhirou [image.jpg], Jiang Hua [image.jpg], Yang Shan [image.jpg], Gao Qin [image.jpg]...

Some were petite and delicate.

Some were mature and sexy.

Some were cute and adorable.

And some were sexy and seductive.

Mist City Arts and Science University.

On the sports field, there are students leisurely strolling on the plastic track, and some sitting in the middle of the field chatting.

Ding Yue and his buddies are also on the field.

"Does this pose look good?"

"Damn!

This pose is so seductive!"

Camera in hand, Ding Yue is photographing a beautiful "girl", who is wearing a long white dress and has long hair draped over her shoulders.

"Huang, sit on the ground, let Yue take a few more shots of you."

Xu Bin suggested next to him.

Hence, Huang Youjie straightened his dress, sat on the ground, stretched out his long legs, and struck another provocative pose.

Click, click, click

Although Ding Yue was an amateur photographer, taking beautiful shots was not a problem.

This “beauty” in the lens, if you don’t know behind the scenes, would be attracted by the enchanting charm.

“Legs, ninety degrees, put your hand on your knee, lift your hair with the other hand, yes, keep this pose.”

Ding Yue directed the pose of Huang Youjie.

Huang Youjie, this guy, insists on taking new feminine photos and participating in the 2020 campus beauty pageant of Mist City Arts and Science University.

He’s crazy and completely shameless.

The crucial point is.

After uploading his previous feminine selfies on the forum, nobody could tell Huang Youjie was cross-dressing.

They all thought he was a beautiful goddess!

So what if he’s cross-dressing?

When dressed and with makeup, he looks like a girl and indeed attractive.

As a result.

Huang Youjie gained a high number of votes, earning him a spot in the finals of the beauty pageant.

The University will eventually select three campus beauties.

Lin Zhirou presently leads with the most votes.

Lin Zhirou has an innocent beauty.

Her skin seems flawless, just like a beauty filter in a camera.

Ding Yue, who has seen Lin Zhirou on campus once, thought she was like a fairy descending from the heavens at first sight.

Ding Yue is not far behind.

After signing up for the campus hunk competition, he uploaded his photos, gaining the fancy and votes from many female students.

Moreover, everyone is aware that Ding Yue is the Principal of Mist City Arts and Science University.

The principal is personally participating in the campus hunk competition.

How can they not vote for the Principal?

On the official school forum——

[2020 Campus Hunk Election – Exciting!

Our principal is also participating in the campus hunk competition!]

[The principal is handsome.

When he signed up, it was the first time I saw him.

I thought, such a handsome school elder?

I later found out, he is actually our principal!]

[Ah!

The looks, I love it!]

[Everyone, vote for Principal Ding!]

[Haha, interesting.

The principal is also competing to be the campus hunk.

It's the first time I'm seeing this.]

[I'm voting for Li Xun, Li Xun is so handsome!]

[The principal (Ding Yue) has to be the school hunk.

Let's vote for him, guys!]

[Zhao Zhifan is also very handsome.

I like handsome guys like Zhao Zhifan, I'm voting for Zhao Zhifan!]

Apart from Ding Yue, there are others like Li Xun, Zhao Zhifan, and Liu Yuhao, who also amassed a decent number of votes.

The campus hunk competition, like the beauty pageant, will select three winners as well.

Ding Yue's popularity and vote count is indeed high.

After all, he is the principal and he's handsome too.

Highly favoured by the female students and many male students also support their principal.

In just half a day.

Ding Yue's votes shot him to first place.

[2020 Campus Beauty and Hunk Competition of Mist City Arts and Science University]——

At night, the final round of voting ended for the 2020 Campus Beauty and Campus Hottie competition.

The university's official forum and Twitter account officially announced the 2020 list of Campus Beauties and Campus Hotties of Mist City Arts and Science University.

The three Campus Hotties were Ding Yue, Zhao Zhifan, and Liu Yuhao.

The three Campus Beauties were Lin Zhirou, Huang Youjie, and Yang Shan.

In the [Campus Beauty] vote ranking, some students found the name of the second-place winner "Huang Youjie" to be quite strange.

This is obviously a boy's name, isn't it?

Then, Ding Yue officially unveiled the true identity of Campus Beauty Huang Youjie on his personal Twitter account, even tagging the topic of "National University Campus Beauty and Campus Hottie".

[Principal Ding Yue of Mist City Arts and Science University]v: Hahaha, the Campus Beauty Huang Youjie, who you all voted for, is actually your logistics director and a cross-dressing king!!!

Surprised or not?

Expected or not?

After Ding Yue revealed the identity of the second-place Campus Beauty Huang Youjie, the students at Mist City Arts and Science University were all boiling over.

In the boys' dormitory building, there were all sorts of laughter that sounded like pig squeals.

In the girls' dormitory building, the girls were about to laugh till they cried.

The "girl" in the picture was so beautiful, with long, white, slender legs, a wonderful figure, a pretty face, and you're telling me he's a man?

This news immediately spread in various Whatsapp and QQ groups of Mist City Arts and Science University, then it spread to other universities' groups, and then it went online, causing quite a discussion.

On Twitter, because Ding Yue used the #National University Campus Beauty and Campus Hottie# topic when he posted, it caught the attention of many university students, thus creating a new hot topic #Male Campus Beauty#.

Twitter Topic #Male Campus Beauty#—Discussion Area

"I've seen the nine photos, he's really beautiful, but damn it, you're actually telling me that he's a man?"

"Cross-dressing King, truly terrifying!"

"Uhm, a male Campus Beauty?"

"You are telling me he's a man after I've taken off my pants?"

"Hahaha, damn it, this university is awesome, they actually voted a man as a Campus Beauty?"

"A male Campus Beauty!"

You guys voted!

I wonder how the students of this university feel at this moment?"

"Again, Mist City Arts and Science University?"

"Hahaha, I'm dying of laughter, Mist City Arts and Science University is the source of my happiness!"

"Isn't this the Mist City Arts and Science University that established the E-sports Game College?"

"There's nothing wrong with the photos, if you didn't say it's a man, I wouldn't have noticed!"

“Damn it, I just saw the photos of this Campus Beauty, and as I was about to tell mom that I’m in love, you’re telling me we’re talking about a man?”

As more and more netizens joined the topic discussion.

The heat of #Male Campus Beauty# kept rising.

It even made it to the top of Twitter’s trending list for nearly half an hour.

A few days ago, Mist City Arts and Science University just made it to trending list for “E-sports Game College hires Jian Zihao as a lecturer”.

Now it’s back on the trending list due to the male Campus Beauty.

It has to be said that since the opening of universities nationwide in September, Mist City Arts and Science University might be the biggest winner.

20: Chapter 20 Brother’s Secret is Discovered _1

20 -20 Brother’s Secret is Discovered _1

“Happy Garden Community.

After finishing her evening self-study, Ding Xiaoyou returned home tired, and went to her bedroom to rest after eating the dinner her mother had prepared.

As usual, before going to sleep, Ding Xiaoyou took out her phone to check out the current news.

However.

When Ding Xiaoyou was reading the Xia Country Daily News on Twitter, she found a trending topic that aroused her interest.

#SchoolHunk#

“Huh?”

Out of curiosity, Ding Xiaoyou clicked on this trending topic, and found out that it was about a school hunk from Mist City Arts and Science University.

Mist City Arts and Science University?

Isn’t that where her brother studies?

“Eh?”

Isn't this ...

my brother's friend Huang Youjie?”

With just one glance at the “school hunk's” photo in the trending topics, Ding Xiaoyou instantly recognized that this cross-dressing marvel was her brother's good friend, Huang Youjie.

“Hahaha!”

Ding Xiaoyou couldn't help but laugh out loud.

The cross-dressing good friend of her brother, surprisingly, was chosen as one of their school's hunks, how interesting that was.

“Xiao You, what are you laughing at?”

Recognizing that Ding Xiaoyou's laughter was too loud, her mother Zhang Yuping, who was in the living room, asked curiously.

“It's nothing.”

Ding Xiaoyou answered, then discreetly covered her mouth again, unable to resist laughing.

Then, Ding Xiaoyou opened Whatsapp and called her brother's video line.

Calling~

Calling~

“Hey, little sister, what do you want calling me this late?”

In the video, her brother Ding Yue laid in bed, dressed in pyjamas, obviously ready to fall asleep.

“Brother, I saw it on Twitter.”

Xiaoyou said earnestly.

“What?”

You saw what?

Why are you neglecting your studies and surfing Twitter?”

Ding Yue immediately panicked.

His sister Ding Xiaoyou was on Twitter too?

That was bad news!

Mist City Arts and Science University was frequently trending on Twitter these days.

Discovery was imminent.

And Xiaoyou just said she saw something on Twitter?

Was the lie he told to their mother about getting admitted to university, when he had actually failed his College Entrance Examination and started a false university, about to be exposed?

“Brother, your friend Huang Youjie is too funny.

He was actually chosen as a school hunk at your university.

It’s really hilarious, hahaha~”

Seeing his sister falling over with laughter in the video.

Ding Yue finally relaxed.

It turns out that Xiaoyou had discovered the story about Huang Youjie’s cross-dressing and being selected as the School’s hunk.

That startled me.

“Huh?”

Abruptly, Xiao You, who was on the video call, made a strange sound, and her brows furrowed slightly.

“What’s the matter, little sis?”

At this moment, Ding Yue experienced a sense of foreboding.

The fact that he had founded Mist City Arts and Science University might not be concealed any longer; after all, the university had been trending on Twitter for a few days, it was bound to have some loopholes.

“The Principal of Mist City Arts and Science University, Ding Yue?”

Ding Xiaoyou looked inexplicably at her brother Ding Yue in the video call, then back at her phone screen on Twitter which reported that Ding Yue had just been elected the School’s hunk.

There were comments below by students of Mist City Arts and Science University, saying that Ding Yue was the principal!

Ding Xiaoyou was confused.

What’s all this?

Wasn’t the brother declared the School’s hunk at Mist City Arts and Science University?

How come he is the principal now?

At first, Ding Xiaoyou thought the netizens had mistyped, mistaking the campus hunk for the principal.

But after a closer look, she realized that it was not the case.

Ding Xiaoyou saw the Twitter account [Mist City Arts and Science University President Ding Yue].

It was even verified and listed as “Founder of Mist City Arts and Science University, President Ding Yue”.

“Brother, why are you the founder and president of Mist City Arts and Science University?”

Ding Xiaoyou hurriedly asked her elder brother Ding Yue with curiosity.

Phew!

As expected, his sister had found out, but Ding Yue breathed a sigh of relief.

After all, she would find out at some point, better explain early than later.

“Xiaoyou, let me explain this to you...”

...

Ten minutes later.

“What?”

You mean...

Brother...

you actually are the founder and president of Mist City Arts and Science University?

You established a private university?"

Ding Xiaoyou's face was filled with disbelief.

After all, it sounded too absurd, even a novel wouldn't dare to write such a thing, would it?

"Ahem, sis, it's enough that you know about this.

Our parents' hearts, if they knew..."

Ding Yue pondered, since his secret was discovered by his sister, all he could do now was to come clean.

But as long as his sister knew, he didn't want his parents to know for the time being.

"So, brother, you want me to keep this a secret for you?"

Ding Xiaoyou rolled her eyes playfully.

"What a smart little sister."

"But brother, it's impossible to keep this a secret, isn't it?

Dad and mom will find out sooner or later, why don't you just be honest with them?"

Ding Yue originally thought his sister would obediently help him keep the secret.

But he didn't expect this.

This little girl was actually advising him to confess!

"If I told mom and dad, wouldn't I be doomed!" Ding Yue shook his head and said, "Unless...

Xiaoyou, you help me explain things to them, so they won't be too hard on me."

"No problem...wait, brother, last time you borrowed money from me, was it really for your ex-girlfriend's..."

Ding Xiaoyou was cut off by Ding Yue before she could finish her sentence.

“Alright, actually it’s for this school, not for any abortion of an ex-girlfriend, I’m not a jerk, really.”

“To set up a university...the campus is so huge, it’s all yours?

Or rented?”

“Yes, it’s mine, not rented, but bought for a hundred million yuan.”

“A hundred million?

Oh my god, where did you get so much money?

Did you rob a bank?”

“It’s the school fees collected from the students.”

Ding Xiaoyou’s eyes widened, giving her brother a thumbs up: “Impressive, isn’t this like getting something for nothing?”

First collect the admission fees, then buy a campus, it indeed sounded like getting something for nothing.

But Ding Yue couldn’t tell his sister and parents that the hundred million was actually a reward from the system, could he?

He should be able to explain this to his sister and parents.

Ding Yue began to quickly think of how to explain this to his mom and dad.

“Brother, what you did was really crazy, but it seems so exciting, even more thrilling than any novel or movie.

I wonder what mom and dad will think when they find out?”

“Hmm, I guess I should come clean with mom and dad.”

After thinking for a moment, Ding Yue decided to confess.

Because Ding Yue had come up with a fairly good reason, and his Mist City Arts and Science University had all the necessary paperwork, being a legitimate private university recognized by the education authorities.

After telling his parents, apart from being shocked, what else could they say?

There's no choice, who made this hurdle something that he must eventually have to cross.

Because for Ding Yue's Mist City Arts and Science University to upgrade, it needs the popularity exchange experience, and to get popularity, more people need to know about Mist City Arts and Science University.

How to make more people aware of it?

Of course, by constantly trending on Twitter.

Just like Jian Zihao joining the E-sports Game College, and the recent school hunk trending, all planned by Ding Yue.

With those two trending, Ding Yue harvested millions in popularity.

If his Mist City Arts and Science University is known by more and more people, his parents are bound to find out too.

Sometimes, Ding Yue felt perplexed.

Why, when others time travel, they always become orphans?
