26 -26 Highly commended canteen food_1

In the morning after she arrived at the school, mom Zhang Yuping busied herself cleaning up the cafeteria building, then took the time in the afternoon to interview the chefs and staff who had come for the recruitment.

In addition to that, she also procured groceries such as firewood, rice, oil, vegetables, and fruits for the cafeteria.

She was already tired enough.

If she had to prepare dinner for the thousands of students in the school, the workload would be incredibly huge.

It would be better to just prepare food for about a hundred people from the Mist City Military Art College, and then rest well tonight.

The cafeteria can officially open for all school faculty and students tomorrow.

After briefing his mother Zhang Yuping about the dinner plans at the second cafeteria, Ding Yue returned to his office in the Administration Building.

He prepared to finish writing the final part of his speech.

Huang Youjie went to coordinate with Xu Bin on the arrangement of accommodation for the newly recruited teachers.

Mist City Arts and Science University has 69 undergraduate majors, plus the newly established E-sports Game College and other majors, the number of recruited teachers now exceeds 200 and still needs to expand.

Of these more than 200 recruited teachers, Xu Bin, as the administrative director, still had to allocate counselors for each class of the major.

At his office desk.

Ding Yue revised his speech over and over again until it was finalized.

Ding Yue was quite satisfied with the final draft.

After appreciating it for a while, he put it in the drawer.

The passionate speech tomorrow will count on it.

“Ah~”

After putting away the speech, Ding Yue shrugged and stretched his body.

Ring Ring!

Suddenly his cell phone rang.

He glanced at the caller ID, and it read “Mom”.

“Hello Mom.”

Ding Yue picked up the phone and answered the call.

“Son, the dinner for the more than a hundred people you asked me to prepare in the cafeteria is ready.”

“OK.”

So Mom called just to inform me about dinner.

After hanging up the phone and looked at the time, it was already five fifty, indeed it's about dinner time in the university campus.

So Ding Yue opened WeChat, and sent a message to Chen Yan, the instructor who was recently added: “Instructor Chen, the dinner is ready at the cafeteria, let's go to eat?”

Very quickly, Instructor Chen replied.

Chen Yan: OK, I'll let everyone know immediately.

“Okay, I'll wait for you at the bottom of Liyuan Apartments.”

Ding Yue thought to himself, they have just arrived at my school to help with the military training for students, so tonight's dinner can serve as a welcome feast for them.

Though the dinner is not very luxurious and it is in the school cafeteria, it would be delicious and abundant, because Ding Yue believes in his Mom's culinary skill.

After sending the message to Chen Yan, Ding Yue turned and headed towards the office door.

As he reached the door, he suddenly remembered his two buddies.

So, while Ding Yue was going down the stairs, he called Huang Youjie.

“Hello, Yue brother, what do you need?”

Huang Youjie has already taken for granted that Ding Yue only calls him when there is something to be instructed.

“There’s not much going on for now, but it’s dinner time, my mom made dinner at the second cafeteria, I invited over a hundred military instructors from Mist City Military Art College to eat, and I thought of asking you and Bin, do you want to come over for dinner?”

If not, just order food for yourselves!”

“Your mom’s cooking?”

I must come!

Wait for me!”

Beep Beep Beep~

The call ended quickly.

At the moment, he might still be busy arranging the teachers’ accommodation with Xu Bin.

When he arrived at the bottom of the Liyuan Apartments, Ding Yue saw that Chen Yan had already gathered the hundred female military school students at the entrance.

“Instructor Chen, you really didn’t have to be this serious, do you have to line up even just to go eat?”

“Since we are the military instructors, we must lead by example.

This is also a reflection of our military training style at Mist City Military Art College.”

“Oh, oh, sure.”

Ding Yue is the principal of Mist City Arts and Science University, naturally he can’t manage the affairs of the Mist City Military Art College.

That being said, the hundred female military students standing in line looked quite impressive and vigorous.

Once they arrived at the cafeteria, Chen Yan let the hundred female military students go and get their food.

Even when they lined up to get their food, they all stood straight and tidy.

At the entrance of the canteen, Huang Youjie and Xu Bin walked over shoulder to shoulder.

“Let me introduce, this is the head of the Logistics at the Mist City Arts and Science University, Huang Youjie, and this is the head of Administration, Xu Bin.”

Ding Yue briefly introduced Huang Youjie and Xu Bin to Chen Yan.

“Nice to meet you.”

“Hello, you...

you’re the internet sensation “male school beauty”, right?” Chen Yan frowned slightly and turned to ask Huang Youjie.

A few days ago while scrolling through Twitter, Chen Yan saw the trending topic and found out that the “male school beauty” was the head of logistics at Mist City Arts and Science University.

Now meeting him in person, she thought he did indeed resemble his feminine appearance on the internet.

Only now, he was dressed normally and there was nothing feminine about him.

But if he were to dress up as a woman.

You probably wouldn’t recognize him as a man.

“So even Instructor Chen knows me?” Huang Youjie beamed upon hearing this.

He must indeed be famous.

Even the teachers from the Mist City Military Art College knew him.

Hahaha!

“You indeed seem popular.” Ding Yue commented before indicating the cafeteria window, “Feel free to get your food.”

Hence, Huang Youjie and Xu Bin went to get their meals.

Upon seeing them, Zhang Yuping quickly grabbed two large dishes and piled them high with food, "Eat more."

"Thank you, auntie.

It's been a while since I've tasted your cooking."

Huang Youjie took a moment to recall.

The last time he had a meal at Ding Yue's house was on May 1st of the first half of the year?

Now it was already September.

Gazing at the hearty meal before him, Huang Youjie picked up his chopsticks and couldn't help but take a bite.

The taste was as delicious and appetizing as ever!

Given the way cafeteria food is prepared in large quantities, one would expect the taste to drop a bit, right?

But Zhang Yuping's dishes still tasted just as scrumptious.

As for Ding Yue, sitting across from him, Chen Yan looked at the dish in front of her with eager anticipation.

After just two bites, she added it up in mind and it was far superior to her own school's canteen food.

"Principal Ding, the food in your school canteen...

is really delicious!" Chen Yan couldn't help but express her true feelings to Ding Yue.

"Hehe, the food in the school canteen is prepared by my mom.

This kind of homemade food, she excels at it." said Ding Yue with a proud smile.

Ding!

"The school canteen food received favorable comments from Chen Yan, [Praised Cafeteria]+1!"

Ding!

“The school canteen food received favorable comments from Huang Youjie, [Praised Cafeteria]+1.”

In Ding Yue’s mind, there were constant refreshes of people’s praise for the school canteen food.

If he could accumulate a thousand [Praised Cafeteria] comments, he could successfully complete the task.

Those female military students from the Mist City Military Art College, once they tasted the delicious canteen food, showed brighter smiles on their faces as they chatted.

“The food at this school is quite delicious.”

“Yes, the taste just suits me.”

“It reminds me of the food my mom would cook, it has a taste of home.”

“The canteen food here is actually better than the restaurants I have been to!”

“Do you guys also feel that the principal of this school is very handsome?”

“Yes, yes, yes, super handsome.”

A few female military students couldn’t help but steal a few glimpses at Ding Yue.

27: Chapter 27: Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting_1

27 -27: Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting_1

Mist City Arts and Science University Administration Building.

In the Principal’s office.

Ding Yue stands in front of the window glass, in front of which he adjusts his tie again.

A neat black suit makes Ding Yue look a bit more mature.

Today is the grand opening of Mist City Arts and Science University and the Military Training Mobilization Meeting, a very important day.

As the principal of Mist City Arts and Science University, Ding Yue naturally dresses more formally.

“Yue, don’t you think I look quite handsome in this suit?”

Huang Youjie, donning a deep blue suit, walks into the office from the doorway.

Ding Yue turns around.

Huang Youjie glances at Ding Yue, who in his formal attire dazzles even more, consequently feeling inferior.

Dispirited, he gives up comparing himself with Ding Yue.

Only if there was a competition in cross-dressing, Huang Youjie could confidently claim to win!

“Yue, are you ready?”

Xu Bin, upon entering the office, inquires.

Ding Yue nods: “Mm.”

Next, Ding Yue comes to his desk, pulls out the drawer, takes out the speech written yesterday, and puts it in his pocket: “Let’s go.”

At the first and second cafeterias.

Students finish their breakfast in the cafeteria in succession and then head over to the sports field.

Since the cafeteria formally opened for business this morning, many students came for breakfast upon seeing the notice last night.

Students rate this morning’s breakfast pretty highly.

Many students deem the cafeteria’s buns to be juicy and flavorful, noodles also tasty with a plethora of varieties, soy milk and deep-fried dough sticks amongst other dishes are also well-crafted.

Without a doubt, the breakfast cooks interviewed by Mother Zhang Yuping are certainly skillful.

In just one morning, Ding Yue received more than five hundred positive reviews from the students about the school cafeteria.

Following this trend of glowing reviews, by lunchtime, once the students have finished their lunch in the school cafeteria, Ding Yue is likely to complete the [Praised Cafeteria] task.

Upon leaving the Administration Building with Huang Youjie and Xu Bin, Ding Yue also stops by the second cafeteria to grab some breakfast.

As it happens, his father is also having breakfast in the second cafeteria.

“Dad, Mom, would you like to attend the Opening Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting later?”

Ding Yue extends an invitation to his parents to participate in the Opening Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting shortly.

“Sure.”

Ding Jianjun nods.

The Opening Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting is quite significant for a University.

Now that Ding Jianjun is essentially a part of Mist City Arts and Science University, he obviously needs to attend.

“Alright, I’ll come over once I’m done with all the chores.”

Zhang Yuping also agrees.

However, she has to manage various tasks in the cafeteria, which makes her considerably busier than Ding Jianjun.

On the sports field.

Chen Yan has already assembled the hundred female cadets she had brought along.

They sit uniformly in lines.

However, since there is still some time before the Opening Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting, Chen Yan allows everyone to rest on the field for a while.

The students of Mist City Arts and Science University steadily flock to the sports field.

Liu Yuhao and his friends also walk into the sports field together.

As soon as they enter, they spot the team of beautiful military training instructors resting in neat rows not too far away.

“See that, Principal Ding has said, those are our military training instructors.” Liu Yuhao tells his friends beside him.

Zhou Xingjiang gazes over, his eyeballs almost ready to pop out: "Wow!

They are all so pretty."

"Look at that, look at that, the seventh from the second row, isn't she too beautiful?" Zhang Ziming points towards her and exclaims excitedly.

"Second row, seventh one, let me see..."

Chen Yang counted and then his gaze settled on the seventh drill instructor in the second row as pointed out by Zhang Ziming.

In the next second, he seemed to be electrocuted, his gaze unable to move away.

"Mom..."

I...

I've fallen in love."

"Damn!

Yangzi, who have you fallen for?

Was it love at first sight?" Liu Yuhao asked in surprise.

"Uh-huh, absolutely love at first sight!" Chen Yang nodded and then took Liu Yuhao's hand excitedly, "Yuhao, what do you say?

Got any skills to woo the girls?"

"She is good looking, but not my type.

Yangzi, she's all yours.

Can you handle it?"

Zhou Xingjiang also looked at the seventh one in the second row.

She was really good looking with fair and delicate skin.

What a goddess of the military academy.

"Guys, who can get her Whatsapp for the sake of Yangzi's happiness?

It can't be Yangzi himself, he's too chicken." Zhang Ziming looked over at Liu Yuhao and Zhou Xingjiang.

Liu Yuhao shook his head, "I can't do it.

I only have eyes for my Xiao Yu.

I can't do anything that would hurt her, including asking for another girl's Whatsapp."

"So it's up to me then?"

Zhou Xingjiang got the idea.

Liu Yuhao couldn't do it, Chen Yang was even less capable as he was timid and weak; same goes for Zhang Ziming – all talk and no action.

In the end, it's up to him to take the plunge for the good of the bros!

Among the sports field, the hundred beautiful drill instructors from Mist City Military Art College became the biggest spotlight.

As more and more students arrived at the field, they couldn't resist gazing around and chatting about these beautiful drill instructors.

Many students took out their phones to take pictures and posted them on Twitter.

Gradually.

A photo of the hundred drill instructors in uniform began to circulate in Twitter and Mist City University's freshman chat groups.

[Mist City University of Technology Freshman Group 9] ——

"@all Look at their drill instructors [photo.jpg]."

"Damn, are you sure these are drill instructors?"

Aren't they students experiencing military training?"

"They look about our age.

They can't possibly be drill instructors, right?"

"What a joke.

How can all drill instructors be female?"

“Exactly, think a little.

If they are drill instructors, I will shit standing on my head, live!”

“I heard that it’s the drill instructors from the neighboring Mist City Arts and Science University.”

“That Mist City Arts and Science University that trended on Twitter a few days ago?

If it’s their school, it’s definitely possible!”

“They say even Jian Zihao is working as a lecturer at Mist City Arts and Science University.”

“This must be a class in the Chinese department, or early childhood education major.

Those majors are almost all female.”

“The mechanical engineering guys are crying...”

[Mist City University Freshman Group 3] ——

“[photo.jpg] Is this what the drill instructors at other universities look like?

I’m in love!”

“I have a friend at Mist City Arts and Science University who says these are their drill instructors.

Damn, I’m so jealous!”

“Mist City Arts and Science University’s Principal is a genius.

Where did he find all these gorgeous drill instructors?”

“I heard it’s a collaboration with the Mist City Military Art College, with students from there acting as drill instructors.”

“Damn it, why does our university invite drill instructors from the army?!”

“To be straight to the point, I also want these beautiful drill instructor sisters 0.0”

At first, the photos of the beautiful drill instructions at

Mist City Arts and Science University were only circulating amongst local university freshman groups.

Gradually.

The photos started to make their way into various college freshman groups nationwide.

Then, they gradually spread on to platforms like TikTok and Twitter.

Internet spread information so quickly.

More and more netizens ate up their lemons after seeing the pictures of these drill instructors.

Many people thought back to their own drill instructors and compared them with the stunning instructors at

Mist City Arts and Science University...

they couldn't help but cry out!

28: Chapter 28 Principal Ding Yue's Speech_1

28 -28 Principal Ding Yue's Speech_1

It was almost nine o'clock in the morning.

On the playground, over 9600 students were already grouped by department and class, lined up facing the podium.

On the podium.

Principal Ding Yue, Support Director Huang Youjie, and Administrative Director Xu Bin of Mist City Arts and Science University were sitting before a table, impeccably dressed.

The table was set with bottled water, nameplates for the school leaders, and other items.

All these arrangements were made by the school's support staff.

In front of this row of tables stood a slightly taller lectern, where a staff member was adjusting the microphone.

The sky over the sports ground began to echo with the familiar "March of the Athletes."

When he heard "March of the Athletes," Ding Yue couldn't help but recall his own college military training, also accompanied by this familiar music.

The “March of the Athletes” can be said to be the unified background music for National Sports Events, military training, and other activities.

However.

The situation now is different from the world he had known.

Back on his original Earth, Ding Yue was a university student standing on the playground, but now, he is a principal sitting on the stage.

Looking at the students on the playground standing block by block, Ding Yue found his emotions swelling.

At the same time, he also felt the great responsibility on his shoulders.

The system tasked him with building a world-class prestigious school, and this task isn't a simple one.

Till now, Ding Yue has only managed to form the blueprint of Mist City University of Arts and Sciences.

There is still much work to be done in regards to teaching, development, and construction.

Ding Yue considered.

As the Principal, he should quietly build his Mist City Arts and Science University behind the scenes.

As for some schooling work, Ding Yue doesn't need to do it himself.

With the gradual recruitment of department staff and with both Huang Youjie and Xu Bin under him, both of whom are efficient workers as seen in the enrollment following the university's regularization, many things can be delegated.

One manages logistics, the other administrative work.

As the Administrative Director, Xu Bin's subordinates will also be responsible for work like personnel, auditing, and finances.

For other works like the propaganda department and the organization department, corresponding talents can be recruited for these positions.

And Ding Yue's job is to coordinate the development plan for Mist City Arts and Science University behind the scenes, allowing this current unknown private university to gradually grow into a powerful and prestigious institution of higher learning!

Until it becomes one of the world's top prestigious universities!

"Brother Yue, shall we start?"

While Ding Yue was plotting the future development plan for his Mist City Arts and Science University in his mind, he heard Xu Bin's voice.

"Hmm, is it time?"

"It's nine o'clock."

"Then let's start."

According to the process, the commencement ceremony was to be held first, with the most important part being Principal Ding Yue's speech.

Then it would be the Military Training Mobilization Conference.

During the Military Training Mobilization Conference, Principal Instructor Chen Yan would give a speech.

After the Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting, over 9600 students of Mist City Arts and Science University would officially embark on their more than 20-day journey of military training.

Typically, military training would finish just before National Day.

"Huff, huff."

Xu Bin blew some air and tested the microphone on his desk.

"Director Xu, the microphone is working fine."

A staff member responsible for adjusting the microphone next to the podium quietly told Xu Bin.

At this point, the "March of the Athletes" that was being played paused.

Xu Bin nodded slightly, then, holding the microphone in one hand, he announced: "Now, I declare the Mist City Arts and Science University 2020 School Opening Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting officially begins."

Clap, clap, clap~

The students on the playground below the stage clapped cooperatively.

For the students, the Ceremony and Military Training Mobilization Meeting could be considered quite boring, but it was seen as a necessity.

Later.

There might also be a more boring speech from the principal, right?

“Now, please welcome our president of Mist City Arts and Science University, Mr.

Ding Yue, to make the opening speech for the start of the school year.”

The applause rose again.

At this point, Ding Yue stood up, made an effort to hold himself steadily, and walked to the podium at the front.

“Look, there’s our Principal Ding.”

“He’s so young, looks about our age.”

“Yes, indeed.”

“How can such a young man be the president?”

“Mist City Arts and Science University is a private university he founded.

This is normal, he’s probably the son of the company that backs this university.”

“Just look at what he is doing at this age...and then look at me, failing the College Entrance Examination and having to resort to studying in this private university, sigh.”

“Did anyone notice how handsome our Principal Ding is?”

“He’s so handsome!

I approve!”

“I approve too!”

The students chatted amongst themselves as they saw Principal Ding Yue standing at the podium.

Today was the first formal appearance of Ding Yue in front of all the teachers and students.

It was also the first real opportunity for the teachers and students to learn about him.

He naturally had to present himself appropriately, at least not like the somewhat juvenile young man he was before.

Ding Yue laid his speech notes flat on the podium.

Then he swept his gaze over the more than 9,000 students on the playground, almost completely filling the entire sports field.

Thankfully, Ding Yue did not suffer from a fear of crowds.

Before he started his speech.

With a slight mental movement, Ding Yue pulled up the system panel.

“Use Junior Focus Scroll, use Junior Scroll of Wisdom Light.”

Ding!

“Successfully used Junior Focus Scroll, successfully used Junior Scroll of Wisdom Light!”

Probably only Ding Yue could see this, the two junior scrolls turned into blue and orange mists that floated above all the students, covering them from above before disappearing.

These two scrolls purchased from the mall could improve students’ ability to concentrate on studying and stimulate their intellectual development.

Ding Yue aimed to turn Mist City Arts and Science University – deemed a “Trashy Diploma Mill” in the eyes of others – into a world-class prestigious university, a goal seemingly impossible with the current “underperforming” students.

However, these students were not inherently bad learners.

The two junior scrolls that Ding Yue just used could considerably enhance the students’ learning abilities and intellectual development to varying degrees.

The effect varied from person to person.

The Junior Focus Scroll might only improve poor students by 100%, but it could increase some students’ learning abilities by 500%.

Once the students’ learning abilities and intellectual development have improved, they might be able to excel in their respective fields, even create miracles.

Of course.

It seemed a bit difficult to create a miracle with only this junior scroll.

Ding Yue wondered if he would have to give the students higher-level scrolls for them to create miracles, but those were genuinely expensive!

Besides, Ding Yue currently does not have the Prestigious School Level qualification to buy high-level scrolls from the mall!

If Mist City Arts and Science University could attract top students like those entering Qinghua University in the future, and then use higher-level scrolls, wouldn't the effect shoot up dramatically?

After using the two junior scrolls, Ding Yue closed the system virtual interface.

Then Ding Yue began his opening speech according to the script: "Respected teachers and dear students, hello."

The applause thundered across the playground again.

"As the hot summer gradually fades, this is a season full of harvest.

On behalf of the entire leadership of the Mist City Arts and Science University, I welcome everyone to step into this campus."

"After enduring the trials of the College Entrance Examination, we have finally stepped into the university campus and started our university learning and life.

Here, I'd like to wish all of you a happy university life in advance, success in your studies, and hope you would be able to realize your self-worth after graduating and stepping into society..."

At the beginning, almost all the students thought Principal Ding Yue's speech would be boring and not worth listening to.

But somehow.

At this moment, every student was unconsciously listening intently.

Even those students who had trouble keeping their attention focused were able to dedicate their full attention to Principal Ding's speech...

His speech seemed to be filled with magic.

PS: Thank you to the readers who gave suggestions in the book review area, the author would consider some good ones~ Also, thank you for your recommendation votes, please remember to vote every day, the author is sincerely grateful to everyone.

29: Chapter 29: Reward One Science and Technology Card_1

29 -29: Reward One Science and Technology Card_1

Liu Yuhao was the type of person who finds it hard to concentrate.

Since yesterday, he had been muttering that the opening ceremony and military training mobilization meeting would definitely be boring.

He would rather go straight to military training led by the beautiful instructors.

However.

At this moment, even Liu Yuhao didn't know what was happening, he found himself able to listen attentively to Principal Ding Yue's opening speech.

Even though the speech from Principal Ding Yue is not very interesting and is filled with official jargon.

This feeling was shared by Zhou Xingjiang, Zhang Ziming, Chen Yang, and others near him.

The over 9,600 students on the field were all quietly and attentively listening to Ding Yue's impassioned speech.

"Teachers, students, let us sow hope, shed genuine feelings, contribute wisdom on the fertile land of Mist City Arts and Science University.

We firmly believe that with our sincerity, with our efforts, our college life will be better, and the future of Mist City Arts and Science University will be more brilliant and splendid with you all!"

Ding Yue's prepared speech finally comes to an end.

Actually, Ding Yue's speech was quite formal, but he thought that although the official speech had ended, as the principal, he could still use some informal words to encourage the students.

However, Ding Yue thought about it and felt that he has said everything he intended to in the speech, so he only added one sentence: "Here, I sincerely hope that all of you can gain solid knowledge during your academic life at Mist City Arts and Science University, while also having a happy college life.

We have set up new majors out of interest, I hope you all learn skills in your own preferred majors, instead of wasting your time.”

Having said that, Ding Yue picked up his speech and returned to the principal’s seat.

After Ding Yue’s opening speech.

The applause was like a tidal wave, one wave higher than the other.

About twenty seconds later, the applause ended.

“Yue, your speech just now was quite impressive.

I saw that the students were quite seriously watching you and listening to your speech.”

Huang Youjie turned his head and said softly to Ding Yue.

Ding Yue nodded with a smile, “Perhaps it’s because I’m too handsome.”

Little did he know that the reason the students were so serious and focused during his boring speech was because Ding Yue gave them the buff of a [Junior Focus Scroll].

Otherwise, it’s estimated that they would be yawning one by one.

Standing next to the platform, Ding Yue’s parents, Ding Jianjun and Zhang Yuping, were moved by their son’s powerful speech and thought they must help their son manage Mist City Arts and Science University well in the future.

On the field.

After listening to Ding Yue’s speech, the students each gained some insights.

“I felt so enthusiastic after listening to Principal Ding’s speech!”

“Yes, I can say that my desire to study is unprecedentedly high.

I will not play games when I return to my dormitory after military training today.

I will read more books.”

“You know, my attention has been hard to concentrate since I was a child, that’s why my grades are poor.

But listening to Principal Ding’s speech just now, I was able to concentrate.”

“Principal Ding is truly charming!”

“Principal Ding is so handsome, my heart is pounding non-stop.”

“Pounding heart?”

Cut it out, you are just lusting over Principal Ding’s body!”

Over 9,600 students, most of whom failed the College Entrance Examination and had poor academic grades, entered Mist City Arts and Science University.

And now.

During the opening ceremony of Mist City Arts and Science University, after listening to the passionate speech by Principal Ding Yue, the majority of students found a burning impulse to study emerging from within them.

After Ding Yue’s opening speech, Xu Bin announced the invitation to Instructor Chen Yan from Mist City Military Art College for her speech at the Military Training Mobilization Meeting.

Chen Yan, holding her prepared speech, also came to the podium.

Just like before, the students listened attentively to Instructor Chen Yan’s speech at the Military Training Mobilization Conference and were fully confident to complete the military training under the leadership of the instructor.

They even aimed to win the title of the best military training class at the final military training summary meeting.

After the Military Training Mobilization Conference speech was completed, Chen Yan began to order the military training instructors to go to the classes they were assigned to, according to the previously arranged list.

For a while, hundreds of beautiful military training instructors from Mist City Military Art College, dispersed from their neat line-up in front of the podium, each going to their assigned class.

The military training of Mist City Arts and Science University officially started.

The stunningly beautiful military training instructors became the focus of the students’ attention.

The students listened attentively to each word their instructors uttered and could not take their eyes off them.

There’s no choice.

Who can resist when the instructors are too beautiful!

“Align to the right, forward, stand at ease, stand up straight...”

On the field, one instruction after another from the beautiful military training instructors could be heard.

“Finally, military training starts.”

Ding Yue let out a long sigh of relief.

The opening speech was also completed, and the two Junior Scrolls had also been used during the opening speech.

The students received the buff effects of [Concentration] and [Light of Wisdom].

Ding!

“Congratulations to the host for completing [Opening Speech], rewarded with [Science and Technology Card (Random)] +1.”

“Hmm?”

Hearing the system prompt in his mind, Ding Yue slightly frowned.

He originally thought that after completing the [Opening Speech], he would receive a cash reward or something.

Instead, he just got one [Science and Technology Card (Random)]?

“Check.”

Ding Yue checked the rewarded [Science and Technology Card (Random)].

[Science and Technology Card (Random)]: After use, the school's science and engineering major will randomly receive one technological achievement.

“It seems pretty good?”

Ding Yue got a bit excited when he saw the words “technological achievement.”

“Use!”

Without a second word, Ding Yue directly used the [Science and Technology Card (Random)]

Ding!

“Congratulations to the host for using a [Science and Technology Card (Random)], acquired “Drone Flight Control Technology” (applicable to drone application technology specialist).”

Huh?

Ding Yue was dumbfounded when he saw the technological achievement he received.

He originally thought he would get some amazing technological achievements, but it seems he thought too much.

Or perhaps he is just unlucky?

This is like getting a whiteboard equipment.

Drone flight control technology is obviously used in the field of drones, but given the mature drone technology in Xia Country, flight control technology is not considered a cutting-edge thing because DJI's technology is already formidable.

Oh well.

He'll just let the students in the drone application technology major learn about it.

Although the students of this major are supposed to learn these, including basics of electronic technology, C language programming, microcontroller technology, drone assembly and maintenance, drone control, map science, measurement science, principles of geographic information system, remote sensing overview, remote sensing digital image processing, photogrammetry, GIS software application, etc.

After graduation, perhaps students of this major can join DJI Company with their excellent professional knowledge and become a professional talent in drone research and development.

30: Chapter 30: Can't Beat This, Can't Beat _1

30 -30: Can't Beat This, Can't Beat _1

“One, two, one, one, two, one, one, two, one, attention!”

“Look right, look forward, at ease...”

“Roll call!”

“One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine...”

On the training field, a group of stunning female military instructors are leading the students of Mist City Arts and Science University in vigorous military training.

As time progressed, the sun became hotter and hotter.

The weather was becoming unbearably hot.

Sweat slid down everyone’s cheeks and forehead.

Even though September marked the beginning of autumn, the autumn heat in Mist City was no less harsh than the summer heat, unless it rained to cool things down.

However, the weather report showed that there did not seem to be any rainy weather in Mist City for the next twenty days.

Every day the temperature hovered around 32-35°C, sometimes even exceeding 37°C.

The most they could hope for was an occasional strong convective weather, followed by a short-lived heavy rain.

While the students were enduring the “hardship” of military training, Ding Yue could not possibly stay with them 24 hours a day.

Would it not be better to stay in his office in the Administration Building and enjoy the air conditioning?

Besides, Ding Yue had a lot of things to arrange.

After all, his Mist City Arts and Science University had officially started classes.

As the principal, Ding Yue had to coordinate the teaching plans and development plans for the school this semester.

The main thing was that Mist City Arts and Science University had gained a lot of popularity after making it to the trending list twice.

After converting the Popularity Value into experience, Mist City Arts and Science University could already be upgraded from [Unknown] to [Minor Achievements].

At the [Minor Achievements] stage, Ding Yue could buy more and better items in the system’s store.

And the rewards for upgrading to the [Minor Achievements] stage are also very generous.

He would get ten billion yuan!

With this sum of money, the operating funds for Mist City Arts and Science University wouldn't be a problem at all, he could even expand the campus.

Expansion was indeed necessary.

Because this year they enrolled more than nine thousand six hundred students, the available accommodation like apartments and dormitories were already a bit tight.

By the time they enroll next year, Mist City Arts and Science University might be more well-known and attract more people to apply.

Then the dormitory and apartment supply would be tight, and they would need to prepare in advance to build new dormitories and apartments.

But building apartments, dormitories, even teaching buildings, or constructing a grand new library, would require a large investment.

Although Ding Yue still has more than two hundred million in tuition fees, the operation of a school requires money.

Thus, Ding Yue needed to get the ten billion yuan reward from the school's promotion to the [Minor Achievements] level.

Using this money for school construction would be great.

But if he wanted to upgrade Mist City Arts and Science University to [Minor Achievements].

In addition to exchanging Popularity Value for experience, he also needed to achieve a certain achievement.

Ding Yue was pondering what achievement his Mist City Arts and Science University at this stage could possibly achieve?

After all, they were all newly admitted students.

And they were still undergoing military training.

They won't officially start classes until after the National Day holiday.

Even though the students' learning abilities and intelligence have been enhanced due to the two parchment scrolls used by Ding Yue.

But in a short period of time, he certainly wouldn't see any big effects.

Unless there were students who were already exceptionally intelligent.

Ding Yue looked at his over nine thousand six hundred students at Mist City Arts and Science University, but it was really hard to pick out a top student.

Top students would certainly do well in the College Entrance Examination and would go to their dream universities, like Qinghua or Yancheng University, or at least one that is 985/211 ranked.

How could a top student possibly come to a private university like Mist City Arts and Science University?

Just like Ding Yue's younger sister, Ding Xiaoyou, she clearly wouldn't come to Mist City Arts and Science University after she takes the College Entrance Examination next year.

Her goal is Qinghua!

"It seems that upgrading the university to [Minor Achievements] could be a bit difficult."

Ding Yue couldn't help but sigh.

"System, to upgrade to [Minor Achievements], what achievements can Mist City Arts and Science University accomplish?"

Ding Yue thought about it and decided to ask the system.

Ding!

"Querying..."

"National University Student Robot Contest, win the first prize, can achieve an achievement."

"National University Sports Games, win a gold medal, can achieve an achievement."

"National University Mathematics Competition, win the first prize, can achieve an achievement."

"National Challenge Cup University Student Extracurricular Technology Academic Works Competition, win the first prize, can achieve an achievement."

"National College Student English Speech Contest, win the first prize, can achieve an achievement."

“National University Students’ Music and Art Competition, win the first prize, can achieve an achievement.”

...

The system directly listed many national university student competitions for Ding Yue, where winning the first prize in these competitions would be considered an achievement.

Then Mist City Arts and Science University can upgrade to [Minor Achievements].

However.

These national university student competitions were quite challenging for Mist City Arts and Science University.

They had to compete with the outstanding students from universities all over the country.

Could Ding Yue’s students at Mist City Arts and Science University really compete?

Although the “Drone Flight Control Technology” scientific achievement that Ding Yue recently obtained could quickly enable students of the relevant majors to master this technology,

This technology could not be used in any of the competitions.

For the National University Student Robot Contest...

Robotics research is a branch of engineering.

It involves mechanical engineering and automation, mechatronics, control science and engineering, etc.

While Mist City Arts and Science University indeed offers these undergraduate majors,

Xia Country dominates in this field with universities like Ha City Industrial University, Xia Country University of Science and Technology, East Mountain University, University of Electronic Science and Technology, etc.

They...

won’t stand a chance, won’t stand a chance at all.

After considering the national university student competitions listed by the system, for the engineering competitions, unless he could get some slightly underhand technology from the system, there was no way they could compete with those strong universities.

As for the liberal arts competitions.

The National College Student English Speech Contest, maybe they had a shot.

It all depends on whether he could find a few students who are strong in English among the more than nine thousand six hundred students at Mist City Arts and Science University.

“Yue, are we going back to the Administration Building?”

Just as Ding Yue was pondering how to get Mist City Arts and Science University to achieve an achievement so as to upgrade, a shout from Huang Youjie came from behind him.

“Hmm, are you guys going back?”

Ding Yue turned around and saw Huang Youjie and Xu Bin approaching.

“Yes, Bin and I will go back to the office first to discuss the logistics support and his staffing arrangements.

By the way, Yue, have you seen the trending topic?”

“Trending topic number one?

What, has our school made it to the top of the trending list so soon?”
