Administration Building.

Inside Xu Bin's office.

He was in the middle of conducting an interview with a candidate for the position of Director of Academic Affairs.

The candidate is named Qi Chunsheng, the former Director of Academic Affairs at Wu City Xiguang University, who was forced to resign due to conflicts with the president of the college.

It is said that Qi Chunsheng is very talented in education management.

Wu City Xiguang University is also a private college, and among all the directors of academic affairs in private colleges in Mist Province, Qi Chunsheng's abilities can be said to be top-notch.

Upon learning about the vacancy for the post of Director of Academic Affairs at Mist City Arts and Science University, Qi Chunsheng promptly submitted an application.

He received a notice today, asking him to come for an interview.

"I didn't expect that the leaders of Mist City Arts and Science University would be so young.

You are certainly young and promising."

Qi Chunsheng was quite surprised upon seeing Xu Bin, the administrative director.

"You're too kind, you were the Director of Academic Affairs at Wu City Xiguang University, right?" asked Xu Bin with a serious expression on his face.

In reality, Xu Bin looked more mature, not at all like an eighteen-year-old.

At first glance, he could even pass for someone in his mid-twenties.

This might have something to do with his long-term exposure to computers and technology.

Perhaps Qi Chunsheng perceived Xu Bin as being in his mid-twenties.

After all, Qi Chunsheng was already fifty-one years old, and a man in his twenties would certainly be considered young in his eyes.

“Yes, I served as the Director of Academic Affairs at Wu City Xiguang University for twelve years,” said Qi Chunsheng.

“Then why did you leave?” Xu Bin continued to inquire.

“Well, private universities are essentially private businesses.

I had a good relationship with the previous president and chairman of the board, but due to his severe health problems, he could no longer oversee the management of the school.

He turned over all school and company affairs to his son, who is the current president.”

Qi Chunsheng shook his head slightly and sighed, continuing, “Later, because of differences in our educational management philosophy, I...

left.”

After listening to Qi Chunsheng’s story Xu Bin’s first impression was that Qi Chunsheng probably had difficulty fitting in with younger people.

“So what is your educational philosophy?”

Suddenly, a lively voice echoed at the entrance of the office.

Ding Yue appeared, stepping into Xu Bin’s office, followed closely by Huang Youjie.

Upon hearing the voice, Qi Chunsheng turned his head to look at Ding Yue in confusion.

Another two young men.

It was rumored that the president of Mist City Arts and Science University was a young man.

Perhaps it was a case of a son inheriting his father’s business?

With such wealth, why bother starting a private university?

Nowadays, many private colleges no longer prioritize teaching; they are only concerned about making money at the expense of students.

If not for financial difficulties, Qi Chunsheng wouldn't have come to apply for the position of Director of Academic Affairs at Mist City Arts and Science University.

"This is Principal Ding of our Mist City Arts and Science University."

Xu Bin gave a brief introduction to Qi Chunsheng.

"Principal Ding, how do you do."

Qi Chunsheng stood up deftly, extending both his hands to shake hands with Ding Yue.

"Hello."

Upon closer inspection, Qi Chunsheng's appearance gave Ding Yue the first impression of...

well...

Suddenly, Ding Yue couldn't find the right words to describe his feelings.

In any case, looking at Qi Chunsheng reminded him of a Director of Academic Affairs.

"Principal Ding, I believe that the management of education in a university is extremely important.

A private university is very different from a public one.

Many people think that as long as they have the money, they can join a private college, which breeds a complacent mindset compared to public colleges.

Over time, the academic outcomes of students are foreseeable.

After graduation, they cannot find a job, blame the university for its quality, lack of employment rate, and lack of highlights.

If it continues this way, who will want to join us?

At that time, we will have to rely on "scamming" students to enroll.

So, my philosophy is that if you want to run a school, educational administration is of the utmost priority!"

While speaking, Qi Chunsheng would instinctively make some gestures.

He clearly has the mannerisms of an experienced Director of Academic Affairs.

He spoke with passion.

Ding Yue stepped to Xu Bin's side and glanced at Qi Chunsheng's application.

There was no doubt about his qualifications.

Furthermore, his educational management philosophy was sound.

For Ding Yue's aim of transforming Mist City Arts and Science University into a world-renowned higher education institution, emphasizing education management is indispensable.

Without producing top talents in various fields, how can the University compete?

The most important task for Ding Yue for a long period in the future is to improve the teaching quality of Mist City Arts and Science University so that students can truly learn something while at the university.

When they graduate, they should be able to find good jobs, and perhaps even become top talents in their respective fields.

Such a period might last for five years, maybe ten, or even twenty years.

Ding Yue couldn't be certain.

Nevertheless, Ding Yue felt the responsibility is significant and the road is long.

After all, Mist City Arts and Science University is still in its early stages.

"Tell me about the way the dean of Wu City Xiguang University managed the school when you were there?"

Ding Yue asked Qi Chunsheng a question.

Qi Chunsheng shook his head: "The new dean of Xiguang University, who is the son of the former dean, solely considers the college as a money-making machine.

In terms of students' life and study, compared to your Mist City Arts and Science University, it's like heaven and earth.

And Xiguang University represents the current state of many private universities.

From the bottom of my heart, I sincerely hope that you, Principal Ding, will operate Mist City Arts and Science University seriously and conduct education, not just for money-making."

"I see."

Upon hearing this, Ding Yue couldn't help but smile.

Many private colleges indeed treat students as walking "RMB", regardless of whether students can learn any real knowledge at school, leading to students wasting four years of their lives.

The road that Ding Yue's Mist City Arts and Science University chooses will not lead to destruction.

Although Ding Yue regards every student as walking "RMB," he values educational management.

Not to mention the system requires Ding Yue to transform Mist City Arts and Science University into a world-renowned college.

Therefore, a suitable Director of Academic Affairs can make a big difference in the educational management of Mist City Arts and Science University.

"Once you join our Mist City Arts and Science University, I hope you can hold yourself to the words you said just now and regard them as your working principles for educational management in our university.

Can you do that?"

Deep down, Ding Yue was almost certain that the position of Director of Academic Affairs would go to Qi Chunsheng.

Whether it was qualifications or attitude, Ding Yue was rather satisfied.

What else was there to discuss?

"Principal Ding...

you mean...

I've passed the interview?"

Qi Chunsheng asked with some disbelief.

Ding Yue responded with a smile, "Yes, I admire your educational management philosophy.

Henceforth, you will serve as the Director of Academic Affairs of Mist City Arts and Science University."

Qi Chunsheng immediately became serious: "As long as I have Principal Ding's endorsement of my work in educational management, I will not let you down!"

37: Chapter 37: Encouraging People to Study Law (Voting for Recommendation)_1

37: Chapter 37: Encouraging People to Study Law (Voting for Recommendation)_1

Qi Chunsheng has signed a job contract with Mist City Arts and Science University.

Then, Huang Youjie, the director of logistics, immediately called on the administrative department staff and prepared an academic affairs office for Qi Chunsheng on the third floor of the Administration Building.

Half an hour later.

Huang Youjie returned to Xu Bin's office.

"Everything is basically arranged for Qi."

"What about accommodation?" Ding Yue asked.

"Qi has a house in the city, he also has a car, and unlike young teachers, he doesn't need the school to provide accommodation."

"That's true.

Alright, you two come over here, let's have a meeting."

Ding Yue called over Huang Youjie and Xu Bin for a meeting.

"If we're having a meeting, shouldn't we go to the conference room?"

"It's just the three of us, it's not necessary." Ding Yue shook his head, sitting down on the sofa.

There was even a set of tea ware on the coffee table: "Bin, aren't you making tea?

Has the milk tea lost its charm?"

“They’re just decoration, hehe.”

“Let’s get down to business.

I am now the principal of Mist City Arts and Science University.

You two are vice-principals, the leadership of the school.

Shouldn’t we enhance our credentials as leaders of the school?”

Ding Yue said seriously.

“What do you mean, Yue?” Xu Bin asked, looking confused.

He did not quite understand what Ding Yue meant.

“Bin, what Principal Ding means is that we should also apply for a major to study in order to improve our qualifications and credentials, and conveniently, we can study right here at our Mist City Arts and Science University.

Convenient, isn’t it?”

Huang Youjie explained to Xu Bin.

“Oh~ so that’s what it is.

But Yue, I think you make a good point.”

Xu Bin seemed to be quite enlightened.

Ding Yue saw that Huang Youjie and Xu Bin both agreed with his suggestion.

Since that was the case, it was now time for them to choose their majors.

“Huang, Bin, what majors do you guys plan to study?

Bin, you don’t need to say, I assume you’re majoring in Computer Science?”

Ding Yue believed Xu Bin’s major did not need to be thought about.

Computers!

Firstly, computers were Xu Bin’s hobby, and secondly, he had a high talent in this field.

If he studied this subject systematically in college, coupled with the extra benefits Ding Yue would give him from the scroll cards, he might become a computer guru in the future.

“Yes, if I have to choose, then I’ll study Computer Science and Technology.” Xu Bin nodded.

“What about the second major?”

Ding Yue asked again.

“What?”

I have to study a second major?” Xu Bin was stunned.

Ding Yue laughed out loud, “The more skills you have, the better.”

“Come on, Yue, if I can excel in Computer Science and Technology, that is already very good.”

“Yeah, Yue.

With my average grades, if I can complete one major, I would already be amazed.” Huang Youjie also joked.

“Oh come on, you two, you’re not confident at all.

You need to believe in yourselves.

The reason your grades were bad in high school was because you didn’t put your heart into studying.

Actually, you two are not dumber than those students who study well.”

Ding Yue spread his hands and continued, “Alright, start by studying one major, then if you have time and energy in the future, you can study a second major.”

“Alright, I’ve decided, I’ll study Computer Science and Technology.

Huang, what about you?”

Xu Bin had decided on his major, then he looked at Huang Youjie and asked.

Huang Youjie suddenly looked like a deer in the headlights: “I...

I haven’t thought about it.”

During his high school years, he knew that his grades were beyond redemption, so after the College Entrance Examination, he never thought about what major he would want to study.

If Huang Youjie had to say what his hobbies were...

They would be dressing in skirts, hehe...

"You...

sigh." Ding Yue couldn't help but sigh.

This guy liked to dabble in cross-dressing and cosplay.

Apart from that, he didn't have any other special skills, unlike Bin, who could at least shine in the field of computers.

"Yue, I...I feel so ashamed." Huang Youjie was rather self-aware.

"Alright, how about you study law?

Once you graduate, you can manage the legal department of Mist City Arts and Science University."

Ding Yue's mouth curled into a smile, as he made the suggestion to Huang Youjie.

"Hahahaha, Yue, you're too savage!" Xu Bin burst into laughter as soon as he heard this.

Huang Youjie: ?????

"That's it."

After Ding Yue finished talking, he moved his thoughts and pulled up the system mall interface.

[Junior Diligent Inquiry Scroll (Individual)]: 10 reputation points.

[Junior Never Tired of Learning Scroll (Individual)]: 10 reputation points.

Ding Yue had it all planned.

The [Junior Never Tired of Learning Scroll (Individual)] was for Huang Youjie, allowing him to study law tirelessly.

Once he became proficient, Ding Yue really planned to let him manage the legal affairs of Mist City Arts and Science University.

As for the [Junior Diligent Inquiry Scroll (Individual)], of course it would be for Xu Bin, allowing him to study Computer Science and Technology diligently.

The aim was for him to become a computer guru as soon as possible.

Ding Yue discovered that the scroll items in the system mall, which could increase learning buffs, were actually more expensive for individuals than for groups.

Ding Yue looked at his reputation points.

He still had to buy the [University Teacher Qualification Card] for teachers to teach in the new specializations, so the reputation points would only just be enough when calculated.

“So Yue, what are you planning to study?”

Huang Youjie suddenly asked a challenging question.

Even though Huang Youjie and Bin had been assigned, Ding Yue himself had not yet decided what to study.

Previously,

Ding Yue had looked at a set of data.

There are currently 42 Double First-Class Universities in Xia Country in this parallel world.

The so-called Double First-Class Universities refer to world-class universities and world-class disciplines.

The fields of research of the principals of the 42 Double First-Class Universities in Xia Country cover five major fields: Science, Engineering, Life Sciences, Medicine, and Social Sciences.

And out of the 42 Double First-Class University principals, 26 are academicians, accounting for 61.9%.

Of these 26 “academician” principals, there are 12 “Academicians of the Xia Country Academy of Sciences” and 14 “Academicians of the Xia Country Academy of Engineering.”

The achievements of these Double First-Class University principals are Ding Yue's future goals.

As for which field Ding Yue will choose...

The principals of Double First-Class Universities had –

10 principals specialized in “Science”, accounting for 24.39%.

22 principals specialized in “Engineering”, accounting for 53.66%, which amounted to almost half of the principals of Double First-Class Universities.

“Life Sciences” and “Medicine” each had one principal, accounting for 2.44% each.

There were 7 principals who specialized in “Social Sciences”, accounting for 17.07%.

Looking at it this way, Ding Yue might have to choose between Science and Engineering, or he might even choose both.

Actually, Science and Engineering are often combined into the category of Science and Engineering.

Ding Yue believed that with the system at hand, whatever he decided to study, he should be able to grasp it quickly.

38: Chapter 38 – The longest leg is mine, any objections?_1

38 -38 – The longest leg is mine, any objections?_1

The field of science and engineering is vast.

It includes various applications and combinations of mathematics, physics, chemistry, astronomy, geography, biology, and engineering.

In essence, science and engineering is a fusion of natural sciences and engineering technology.

In this parallel world's Xia Country, most of the presidents of the 42 Double First Class Universities majored in science and engineering.

In this case, for Ding Yue, a traveler grappling with a slight selection dilemma, it made sense to pick the crowd favorite.

Study science and engineering!

But here comes the question, within such a big field as science and engineering, what specifically to study?

Math?

Physics?

Oh, it really makes one's head spin!

As for astronomy, Ding Yue actually finds it somewhat interesting.

Geography is fine too.

Ding Yue has never considered chemistry, biology, or engineering.

Eventually, Ding Yue didn't immediately make a decision.

Instead, he planned to use the learning BUFF from the system store to study hard right after school starts.

He decided to sample all the specialized courses in science and engineering, and then determine which specific specialization he is most efficient in learning.

After all, each subfield has different professional directions.

Take physics as an example.

The physics field at Mist City Arts and Science University has four majors: Physics, Applied Physics, Optical Information Science and Engineering, and Material Physics.

Each major has different professional study directions.

Actually, these four majors offered in the physics field represent theoretical physics, experimental applied physics, computational physics, and material physics.

"Yue, Yue, what major are you planning to study?"

At this point, Huang Youjie's voice came through.

Coming back to his senses, Ding Yue shook his head and responded, "I still haven't decided.

However, since I'm the principal, I think I should learn a little about administration management.

For the rest, I guess I'll focus on science and engineering, and I'll see later which specific major I'm better suited for."

"Science and engineering rock!"

Huang Youjie gave a big thumbs up.

He had no interest in science and engineering, so Ding Yue had arranged for him to study law.

Xu Bin is somewhat better.

At least the computer science and technology he is learning has a bit to do with science and engineering.

"Alright, Bin, you go ahead and declare your majors.

There'll be a brief break for National Day after military training, then it'll be busy work time.

You two need to perform well in your own jobs and also study your majors diligently, got it?"

Ding Yue instructed them earnestly.

"We understand, but will there be enough time?"

"Yeah, Yue.

There are classes to attend and school matters to deal with."

Huang Youjie and Xu Bin both worried that they wouldn't have enough time.

One is in charge of logistics, the other administration; they are already quite busy.

Additionally, they will have to attend professional courses.

"You can find assistant secretaries to help with school work.

I am going to find one myself, from among our own students."

Ding Yue laughed and explained to the two in front of him.

Hearing Principal Ding say this, Huang Youjie's eyes lit up immediately, and he chuckled, "I looked at the registration information.

There are not a few secretary majors, and some are pretty attractive...”

“Look at Huang here.”

Seeing the smile on Huang’s face, Xu Bin knew what Huang was thinking.

Ding Yue immediately turned serious and told Huang Youjie: “Huang, please behave yourself.”

“Ahem.”

Huang Youjie cleared his throat softly, stood up straight and said, “Alright, I’ll do as Principal Ding arranges.”

“What do you mean by my arranging?”

If you want to find assistant secretaries, go find them in the secretary major.

For me...

I just want the prettiest one in the secretary major, with the biggest chest and longest legs.

You two “vice” principals don’t have any objections to that, right?”

After finishing his sentences, Ding Yue looked at Huang Youjie and Xu Bin with a deep meaning in his eyes.

The two guys were stunned.

“None, no objections.

Whatever Yue says!” The two shook their heads unanimously.

“Very well.” Upon hearing that, Ding Yue, quite satisfied, reached out, patted the two on their shoulders and said, “Good buddies!”

“The prettiest one in secretary major, with the longest legs and the biggest chest should be Wen Ruohan.”

While fiddling with his computer, Xu Bin spoke.

“How did you know?”

Ding Yue leaned in, curiously asking.

Xu Bin pushed his computer screen towards Ding Yue and pointed at it, saying, "Look, they took a group photo for the new secretary majors before military training.

Wen Ruohan stands out quite a bit."

Ding Yue, following Xu Bin's direction, took a look.

Indeed, Wen Ruohan was the most attractive among the nearly one hundred students in the secretary major.

The major draw was her long legs.

Whether her chest was the biggest, Ding Yue couldn't tell as she was wearing clothes.

However, she had good looks and long legs, which satisfied Ding Yue.

Since she was supposed to be the principal's secretary, of course, she needed to have a good image, and Wen Ruohan fitted the mould.

Ding Yue plans to have a chat with Wen Ruohan another day to see if she was willing to be his intern secretary.

"Wow, Wen Ruohan is really pretty.

Why didn't she make it to the campus belle?"

Huang Youjie also leaned in sneakily, and, after seeing Wen Ruohan in the group photo, couldn't help but compliment.

"That just shows the campus belle looks even better." Xu Bin said.

"You two are so shallow!" Ding Yue cast a contemptuous look at the two, "We just started Mist City Arts and Science University, and we have a long way to go.

Who cares about women?"

Ding Yue had a look on his face that very clearly indicated he was fully committed to building the university.

"Yue, you're even losing interest in pretty women?" Xu Bin sucked in a breath of cold air, astounded, and asked Ding Yue.

"Let's be upfront here.

Right now, I just want to build the university and work on educating people!" Ding Yue stood firm with hands on his hips.

Given that he was looking to establish a world-class university, he couldn't spare too much energy to spend on pretty women.

If it were in the past, Ding Yue would still be quite fond of pretty women.

But now, as education is the top priority, where would he find the time and energy?

The usefulness of a beautiful woman?

Isn't that to serve as his secretary and work for him?

"As expected, Yue's level of consciousness is high.

His thought process has elevated to making great contributions to our country's education!"

Huang Youjie held up his thumb to Ding Yue.

"Stop it, just look at Yue, he's barely holding it together." Xu Bin saw right through Ding Yue.

"Hahaha!

Damn!"

Ding Yue finally couldn't hold back, and burst out laughing.

Ding Yue, just now, did indeed play a serious act, but he wasn't wrong.

If he were to focus his main energy on building the university, and on top of that still needed to study his discipline to gain knowledge, he would have to squeeze time from somewhere.

Where would he find the energy to spend on a pretty woman?

Having weighed the pros and cons, Ding Yue still had a good sense of priority, so he chose the latter.

39: Chapter 39 Fountain_1

39 -39 Fountain_1

In the afternoon.

Ding Yue had Huang Youjie arrange for the logistic staff to prepare a dormitory in Liyuan Apartments.

“Yue, why did we specially prepare a dormitory?”

Huang Youjie curiously asked.

“My sister finished her classes this afternoon and gets a day off for the weekend, so she’s coming to visit us at Mist City Arts and Science University.”

After Ding Yue finished speaking, he picked up his car keys and left the Administration Building.

His Audi A8 was parked right downstairs, next to Huang Youjie and Xu Bin’s Mercedes-Benz S-Class and BMW 7-Series.

“Xiao You, I’m leaving the school now.

If there’s no traffic, it should take me at most forty minutes to get to your school.”

After he got in the car, Ding Yue picked up his phone and sent a voice message to his sister Ding Xiaoyou on WhatsApp.

Then, he slowly drove his Audi A8 out of the Administration Building area and proceeded along Xingzhi Road towards the school gate.

Since all the students were undergoing military training on the sports field at this time, there weren’t many people on the main roads of the campus, only occasionally seeing some school staff.

Ding Yue drove the Audi A8 to the school gate.

When passing by the fountain in front of the gate, he stopped the car.

He had noticed this fountain the first time he came to rent a venue.

It was shaped like two crescents wrapped in a large circular pool, and in the protruding center was a winding oriental dragon, quite a nice design and full of grandeur.

However.

The fountain was completely dry, without a drop of water, with even some withered leaves scattered inside.

A waterless fountain completely loses its visual appeal, doesn’t it?

When you walk into the school from outside the gate, the first thing you see is this iconic Dragon Fountain.

It can be said that the gate of Mist City Arts and Science University and this Dragon Fountain, are key to the first impression.

But, the fountain isn't spraying water and it also looks abandoned.

That's just not right, is it?

Does Mist City Arts and Science University lack water?

A fountain should spray water all year round to symbolize that the inflow of students to Mist City Arts and Science University is also unceasing, and its educational efforts are strengthening year by year!

Uh, that seems a bit superstitious.

Thinking about this, Ding Yue quickly took out his phone and made a call to his father, Ding Jianjun.

"Hey Dad, are you busy?"

Oh, okay, I'm here at the gate.

Could you come over?"

Ding Jianjun said he was free on the phone, so Ding Yue gave him a job.

The water and electric maintenance team was best suited for this task.

About five or six minutes later.

Ding Jianjun, his father, came to the gate.

"What's up, son?"

Anything I can help with?"

Ding Yue pointed to the huge fountain beside him and asked, "Dad, don't you think this looks a bit off?"

"You mean this fountain?" Ding Jianjun turned his head to look at the fountain, then nodded and said, "It's nice, quite large."

Ding Yue was both amused and frustrated, and said straightforwardly: “Dad, there’s not a drop of water in this fountain, doesn’t that make it just a decoration?”

“So, shall we dismantle it?” said Ding Jianjun with widened eyes, hastily adding, “What a waste, we can just connect the water supply, repair or replace some of the broken water-spraying devices, right?”

Ding Yue was stunned on the spot.

The way his father interpreted it was on a whole different level.

When did he ever say anything about tearing it down?

“I mean, we should make use of it, let it spray water.

Dad, do you think your water and electricity maintenance team can handle it?”

“Of course, no problem at all.

I’ll call Zhang and the others right now.” As Ding Jianjun spoke, he took out his mobile phone, ready to call the water and electric maintenance team to get them to work.

“Alright, Dad, I’ll leave the fountain to you guys.

I’m going to pick up my sister.” After instructing, Ding Yue returned to his car.

Thump thump thump!

Dad Ding Jianjun knocked on the car window.

Ding Yue rolled down the window and asked, “What’s up, Dad?”

“Drive slower on the road, be safe,” Dad Ding Jianjun cautioned.

“Got it.”

...

An hour later.

In a milk tea shop outside Mist City First Middle School.

“Hmpf, you said forty minutes, it’s been an hour.

Don’t tell me there was a traffic jam, I don’t buy it.”

With a pout, Ding Xiaoyou was miffed as her brother's tardiness made her wait alone for almost half an hour.

"Hehe, there was no jam, but I saw the fountain at the school gate was broken when I just left the campus, so I called Dad over to fix it and got delayed a bit.

Here, what milk tea do you want to drink, sister?

It's my treat!"

Ding Yue scratched his head, chuckling as he explained.

"Then I want a Snowy Fairy Milk Tea!"

"Boss, a Snowy Fairy Milk Tea, and also a pearl milk tea for me...

Oh right, sis, how does it feel being in senior year?"

"Um, no special feeling." Ding Xiaoyou seemed relaxed.

For many students, senior year is filled with pressure.

They need to be on high alert all year round for the College Entrance Examination, hoping to achieve high scores.

But Ding Xiaoyou is different.

As a top student, all she needs to do is finish the College Entrance Examination smoothly.

Then she can think about whether to apply for Qinghua or Yancheng University.

Of course, being a science student, she, obviously, will not choose Yancheng University.

The difference between Qinghua and Yancheng University, the two top universities in Xia Country, is quite clear.

Qinghua is known for its science and engineering courses, while Yancheng mainly focusses on humanities.

"True, for you, it's easy to get into either Qinghua or Yancheng.

Tell me, we're both born to the same parents, why are you such a genius and I such a dud?"

“Hehe, big brother, who asked you not to take your studies seriously in junior high and high school?”

You are not stupid.”

“True, so if I study hard now, is it too late?”

“Shouldn’t be, but big brother, you’re already running a university as a principal.

Why study anymore?

Just focus on making money from the school.”

“No can do.

Sure I need to make money, but also need to improve myself.

Don’t want to end up as a dropout when you become a doctorate, that would be embarrassing, right, haha.”

“That kind of makes sense.

So, what will you study, brother?”

“Humanities are definitely out, just looking at the many lines of words give me a headache, I’d rather look at formulas.

As for science, I haven’t yet figured out what major to choose.”

As the siblings talked, their milk tea was ready.

Happily holding her milk tea, Ding Xiaoyou got into the car with her brother Ding Yue, who then drove towards the Arts and Science University of Mist City.

The siblings chatted a lot along the way.

Ding Yue told his sister that he would decide which major to study once the university officially began classes.

He plans on earning a Bachelor’s degree in his major from his own university, the Arts and Science University of Mist City, before considering going for a postgraduate degree.

Forty minutes later.

Ding Yue drove his sister to the Arts and Science University of Mist City.

The moment they reached the school gate, Ding Yue saw the big fountain, which had been fixed by their dad Ding Jianjun and his team.

The sound of rushing water echoed around them, and the main jet in the middle surged straight into the sky, with water shooting up over five meters high.

It was quite a sight, with a small rainbow even forming around the fountain.

Looking at the constantly spraying fountain, Ding Yue couldn't help but exclaim, "Wow, that's a lot of water."

"Huh?"

What did you say just now, big brother?"

40: Chapter 40: Holding the First Work Meeting_1

40 -40: Holding the First Work Meeting_1

"No biggie, no biggie."

Looking into his sister's innocent eyes, Ding Yue quickly shook his head and cleverly changed the subject: "Xiao You, you see, this fountain has been mended pretty well, even though it was abandoned before.

But you know, our dad has managed to fix it up in no time, which is impressive."

"Hmm~ Dad's the expert in plumbing and electrical repairs after all, right?"

I think this fountain would be even better if the water pressure system was a bit stronger."

"This is already shooting water up five or six meters, isn't that strong enough?"

"Bro, look at this big fountain, based on its surface area data and the number of small jets around it, the main pump should be calculated to spray about ten meters to be the most perfect and coordinated."

Truth be told.

Listening to his sister's analysis, Ding Yue looked at the water shooting up to five or six meters, and suddenly felt the grandeur he initially admired was gone.

“Then, let’s ask dad to change the pump and get the water to spray up about ten meters,” Ding Yue muttered as he drove his Audi A8 to the school gate.

The guards at the security booth of the entrance saw this Audi A8 and by the license plate number, they knew it was the principal’s car.

The guard standing at the gate immediately stood at attention and saluted as he saw the Principal’s car.

Guards and other school staff like them were all recruited by Huang Youjie.

The recruitment turned out to be a pretty good value in every aspect.

“Speaking of which, bro, doesn’t your school provide free watermelons for military training students every day?

It must be interesting to see more than nine thousand six hundred students eating watermelon together, right?”

Ding Xiaoyou propped up her chin with both hands, looking forward to witnessing the grand scene of a large-scale watermelon-eating event.

Ding Yue lit up his mobile screen, checked the time, and nodded, “Yeah, it’s about that time now.

I’ll park the car under the Administration Building, and then take you to the playground to see the military training.”

“Great!

Hehe, I’m also going to have military training this time next year, and I hope then I can encounter one with good benefits like yours.”

“That’s most unlikely, hahaha.” Ding Yue shrugged and laughed, “There is only one school that provides such benefits to its students for military training.

Unless you come to our school for military training next year.”

“Forget it, your school...

actually, everything is fine, just the teaching level is not that good.” Ding Xiaoyou shook her head.

Ding Yue was just joking.

With her sister's academic performance, there's no way she would attend his Mist City Arts and Science University.

"It's just at the beginning now.

Believe in the future, in ten or twenty years, our Mist City Arts and Science University will make a difference.

By then, we might not be any worse than the key universities."

"Big bro, keep it up!"

"Of course.

Do you know what my goal is?"

"What?"

"To punch Mass, and kick Harvard!"

Ding Xiaoyou: "emmmmm...

Blow, keep blowing."

Ding Yue drove to the Administration Building, parked his car, and then took his sister to the playground.

At this time the school's logistic staff had brought the watermelons to the playground, and the students were lining up orderly to get their watermelons during the rest period of the military training.

Ding Yue and his sister silently arrived at the playground and found a high point in the stands to sit down.

From this high vantage point, the whole scene of more than nine thousand students on the playground was entirely visible.

Ding Xiaoyou curiously took out her phone and started taking pictures with a click, click, click.

After watching the students finish their watermelons and observing their military training for a while, Ding Yue then took his sister to tour other parts of the school.

The library, the dormitory buildings, etc.

After much wandering around, they ended up in the second canteen at mealtime.

“Sweetie.”

Just as they walked into the second canteen, they heard their mother calling out to his sister.

“Mom.”

Ding Xiaoyou cheerfully approached, and saw her mother Zhang Yuping at the cafeteria window: “I want braised pork, I haven’t eaten your braised pork for so many days.”

“Alright, braised pork~”

Zhang Yuping had been busy these past few days in her son, Ding Yue’s cafeteria.

Upon seeing her daughter, her face overflowed with happiness.

“Daughter, are you just coming over now?”

Isn’t it the weekend starting from this afternoon?” While serving her daughter’s meal, Zhang Yuping chatted and asked.

“My brother picked me up from school around three in the afternoon, then I went to the campus with him.

“Is that so.”

“Mom, I want a portion too.” Ding Yue came forward, it was mealtime, he also wanted a serving of his mother’s braised pork set meal.

“Alright, alright, I’ll also serve you one.”

Just as Ding Yue and his sister got their meals, their father Ding Jianjun and the employees from the water and electricity maintenance group, also came to dine in the second cafeteria.

Quite a coincidence.

After dinner, his sister loitered around Ding Yue’s office, and in the end, Ding Yue took her to a prepared room in the Liyuan Apartments to rest.

The next day, he sent her back to school to continue her classes.

In the following period,

Ding Yue focused his work on building the school leadership and teaching team of Mist City Arts and Science University.

The school leadership has significantly expanded, besides Ding Yue, the principal and chairman, there are Huang Youjie and Xu Bin, who are both logistic and administrative directors and vice principals.

Then, Ding Yue also appointed the Academic Affairs Director Qi Chunsheng, who manages teaching, as vice principal.

The Propaganda Department has Director Liu, who is responsible for various school activities promotion, press media copywriting, video, poster and promotional item production, etc.

The Cultural and Sports Department also appointed a director named Xiong Yang, who is mainly responsible for a range of cultural performances, such as welcome parties, New Year's Day performances, organizing sports events, sports competitions, and managing the school's basketball, football teams, etc.

At the same time, Ding Yue, Huang Youjie, and Xu Bin filed their Party Membership Application.

Once officially becoming party members, they will form the Party Committee.

The student union and youth league committee have also basically been formed.

After expanding the school leadership, on September 22, Ding Yue chaired the first management meeting.

The meeting established the duties of each department and handed over the preparation for the Military Training Closing Ceremony to the Cultural and Sports Department.

Once the Military Training Closing Ceremony is held successfully, Ding Yue can receive his 'Complete Military Training' task and the reward for 'Five-Star Military Training'.

Aside from the appointments of department directorships,

The directors of all departments (sections) of Mist City Arts and Science University were also appointed at this first meeting.

Mainly, the best-qualified teachers recruited for each specialty were selected for appointment as directors of their respective departments,

Since Mist City Arts and Science University is in its initial stage, the appointment of department directors can only be done temporarily.

After the development of Mist City Arts and Science University, the directors of departments will be the most capable.

At the meeting, Xu Bin also reported the teacher hiring progress to Ding Yue.

The recruitment process is now in the final stages.

Ding Yue looked at Xu Bin's report.

Since the students started school, Mist City Arts and Science University had recruited a total of 502 teachers and staff.

318 of them are teachers covering different specialties, which include the directors of various departments, such as Qi Chunsheng, Xiong Yang and others.

The others, totalling 184, are staff responsible for maintenance, sanitation, logistics, dormitory management, security, cafeteria, supermarket, and others.

The number of recruited teachers and staff is essentially the same as the 500 people suggested by the system.

These 502 teachers and staff members will, in the next year, progress together with over 9,600 students at Mist City Arts and Science University under the guidance of Principal Ding Yue.
