Chapter 101: Chapter 75.2

Little Orchid peered at the sky. After that, lowered head to peer at the flower petals in the palm of her hand. Inside the head, there suddenly passed a scene. That scene she saw inside the dream before—in a simple courtyard, there was a male that kissed on the edge of female's lips and whose face matched the owner of the demon market. Little Orchid rubbed forehead, so it was he from before.

So he was "A Hao" in the dream, but the bewildering inquisitive thing was that if he were A Hao, then the female that she saw inside his dream ought to be Chi De woman. Yet, the appearance of Chi De woman in the dream was different than the ice sculpture that she saw in Kunlun Mountain from before...

But...currently she should not care about these matters...

She was already a person that will not live long. Has to think how to live the remaining days. Thinking closely, can Dong Fang Qing Cang find her within this final period of time or not...

Little Orchid lowered head to peer at her hand. She moved the fingers and felt that her five fingers were strangely stiff.

In reality...in Little Orchid's heart there suddenly surface a thought. If [she] had slept forever like before, it was not something bad. Secure and warm like that was better than worry and fear in this world.

Little Orchid sighed and tilted head to lie down. She peered one by one at the clouds floating by in the sky. The eyelids slowly grew heavy and consciousness did not stop reminding her. Don't sleep. If continued sleeping, cannot know how many days have passed when woken up or that fundamentally, she did not have a day to wake up.

But when reasoning was disregarded, inside Little Orchid's mind there was a voice that was whispering to her. Go sleep, it will be already be like that anyway.

In the end, Little Orchid closed eyes.

The darkness in the dream was still very warm. She drifted in this darkness and does not know how long as she suddenly saw a flickering rays of starlight. She then lifted head to examine and discovered that it was Chi De woman. She has appeared in her dream with a complete figure. Perhaps the soul of Chi De woman has almost been restored completely, while she [Little Orchid] right now...

Little Orchid spread out her fingers and peered at her hands that were crystal-clear and deep-blue* pale.

"You can see your disciple again." Little Orchid said to Chi De woman this sentence, but saw that Chi De woman was furrowing her brows tighter. Little Orchid felt it was strange, "Previously, Chi Lin has said that you did not want to return to the three realms. It seemed that was true, how come?"

"I am still not done with predestined fate."

"Predestinated fate?"

Chi De woman hesitated for a bit then recalled, "In the battle with the demon king during the ancient times, in order to win, I have used a secret spell formation to change the body. It caused the appearance and figure to change. This formation made my strength measurable to Dong Fang Qing Cang's strength in a short period of time, but the cost was my life. In that battle, if not for A Hao ambushing Dong Fang Qing Cang, I was determined to die with Dong Fang Qing Cang, but A Hao came..." Chi De woman lowered her eyes, "A Hao ambushed Dong Fang Qing Cang successfully, but he was inflicted with heavy injuries. I do not have the heart to continue attacking and was able to rescue A Hao, but allowed Dong Fang Qing Cang to escape."

The various things Chi De woman said to Little Orchid, she knew. She has saw in the hostile formation at Qian Yin Mountain when Chi De woman at that time stabbed Dong Fang Qing Cang and charged forward to follow after A Hao's silhouette. While Dong Fang Qing Cang took the opportunity to escape. After that, the various bodhisattvas and deities used that time when he was injured to kill off...

"A Hao received one round of strike from Dong Fang Qing Cang and meridians in the entire body have snapped. The soul has slackened and was near the chance of the soul scattering. I tried to keep the destroyed soul in the body and used orchid to make medicine in order to mend A Hao's soul. But orchids are scared of living energies. I have attempted many years, but there were no results. When I cannot keep the soul, then you have appeared." Chi De woman said, "You are the only orchid that was not scared of living energies that I was able to plant. You can restore A Hao's soul."

Little Orchid was dazed.

"At that time I was still quite young and I did not dare to arbitrarily use. Thus, I nurtured you at the bedside of A Hao. This day would passed and then another. The soul of a Hao slowly restored and only waited for you to mature and will make you medicine for him to drink, but at this time, the Heavenly Emperor knew about my actions. He grew angry.

Little Orchid nodded, "I can also guess." Remembering the scene at the heavenly palace, the heart of Little Orchid was still a little bit cold, "At that time, the Heavenly Emperor must have said that you have went against the natural order."

Chi De woman nodded, "The Heavenly Emperor ordered me to immediately destroy you and at the same time, told me to scatter A Hao's soul. But I have used so much effort so how can I... At that time, my body after I have transformed, endure through the battle with Dong Fang Qing Cang, and having to exhaust for many years, my strength that I have was not the same. If the Heavenly Emperor wanted to force then I fundamentally could not protect A Hao. Therefore, I hid you at a wilderness in the mortal realm and hid A Hao in an ice cave under Kunlun. Brought Shuo Feng sword besides him and let the sword energies protecting him eternally. After that... the Heavenly Emperor captured me. He ordered that I hand over A Hao and tell your whereabouts. I did not want to. The Heavenly emperor immediately punished me into experiencing thousand predestined fates and tribulations. Forced me in each life to be betrayed by the one I love."

"Hah..." Little Orchid understood, "Therefore Xie Wanqing was killed by that male..."

Each life would be betrayed by the one I love, it was really... Little Orchid said, "From before and until now, the family of the Heavenly Emperor has been there never has been a good person."

Chi De woman laughed but was not care much as she continued to speak, "Chi Lin was discontented when seeing the injustice of mine and grew angry. Forced to fall in the devil magic and ultimately was trapped in Hao Tian tower."

Chi De woman talked about the past and even though the face did not display anything, but Little Orchid heard such and was startled. Even though it was a matter related to her, but currently she did not remember any at all.

Chi De woman has hid her at a wilderness in the mortal realm. She also did not know how coincidental that Siming found her and brought her to the heavenly realm. Therefore, Siming also did not know the real use of hers and it's no wonder that with one bit, has threatened to pluck her for pigs to eat...

"If that is so." Little Orchid peered at Chi De woman, "Then currently, A Hao has caused you to live again. You should be happy ah. How come you don't want to carry your old memories to meet him?"

"Little Orchid, currently the period of time that separated the ancient times is quite long, long to the point of causing A Hao to wake up from the Kunlun ice cave and even he has lived alone in this world for so many years. The predestined fates that I have experienced cannot be counted on the amount and how much has remained. In a period of time like now, he still cannot find me, cannot probe my soul, and cannot find my whereabouts. Do you know why?"

Little Orchid shook her head.

"In truth, what the Heavenly Emperor said was not wrong. It's true that I have gone against the Mandate of Heaven. Therefore, this was a heavenly punishment. Besides heaven's and earth's outlier like Dong Fang Qing Cang, there's no one who can bring together again the fates of he and I. It's due to the appearance of Dong Fang Qing Cang that he and I have this situation today."

Little Orchid was silent.

"He and I were foreordain that life after life and fate after fate will miss out one another. Before I have experienced the thousands of life fates and tribulations, even if [we] met each other, also cannot be sure there is a good result. I have endured sufferings due to going against Mandate of Heaven. Truly, does not have the courage to face the result that one does not know ahead anymore. Can only continue like so—I reincarnating while he continues to find me in the mortal realm. Continuing to find, finding forever, and then inevitable there will be a day where he will give up, and there will be a day when he begins a new life. Unexpectedly, I do not want...to let him be in a dangerous situation anymore."

"But he...has already provoked Dong Fang Qing Cang."

What Chi De woman said was not wrong. Big devil was the heaven's and earth's outlier of the world. Can be said that his life will be in danger as he [DFQC] was precisely the representation of the word "danger".*

"You have disappeared at Qian Yin Mountain. At that time, the people of the demon realm who attacked from outside of Qian Yin Mountain, Dong Fang Qing Cang will not predict that A Hao made a move."

Little Orchid briefly pondered as it seemed this was correct, "But if you take the xi rang body and then live again, at that time Dong Fang Qing Cang will finally know that the owner of the demon market has went behind his back..."

"Therefore." The expression of Chi De woman became solemn, "I cannot live again."

Little Orchid was silent. She pondered for a bit. How come [she] felt a bit peculiar as other people want to snatch the chance to live, yet how come at her place [situation] each person want to snatch the chance of dying...

Such feeling felt really subtle ah...

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 102 - Chapter 76

Chapter 102: Chapter 76

Before returning to the heavenly realm and being pushed down to Zhuxian Terrace, regardless of what, Little Orchid wanted to live because at that time, her heart still remembers and still was concerned as there was master, and there was heavenly realm. Still waited for the bitter, difficult days to pass and for life to become better.

But currently, it's different.

Her master has disappeared with no whereabouts. The heavenly realm has abandoned her. The various bitter, difficult days have passed, and after that there would be different bitter, difficult days. She can only quietly stay by Dong Fang Qing Cang's side, but he has tricked her so many times and she cannot truly trust him anymore.

To Little Orchid, that big devil did not let her die because it's not the time for her to die. Even though he would occasionally displayed mercy for her to continue living that is merely a brief moment. When she has to sacrifice, Dong Fang Qing Cang will definitely not speak a word and has no hesitation as he kick her away. She cannot in any way trust anyone anymore.

Therefore, there is nothing in life to wait and hope for, a day passed is good enough for that day.

Chi De woman unexpectedly said she does not want to return to the three realms. Thus, she [Little Orchid] will listen to her [Chi De woman] and try her best to continue living for a few more days, but...

"Sooner or later my soul will dissipate in this xi rang body. I cannot resist for long in this body anymore. Currently, at owner of the demon market's place, sooner or later this body will become yours." Little Orchid continued speaking, "Although the Heavenly Emperor is not a good person, but thinking back, his determined decision to push this body down Zhuxian Terrace was perhaps the best decision. Allowing everyone to avoid competing and disputing back and forth recklessly."

"Go to the underworld." Chi De woman said, "Bring my soul into the reincarnation cycle. When entered into the underworld, your soul do not need to rely on outside force and naturally can leave this xi rang body. You can also follow me into the reincarnation cycle and reincarnate."

After hearing it, it was not a bad suggestion. Previously, Sansheng gugu (aunt) has said to her, one bowl of Bittersweet Broth of Oblivion from Meng Po (Lady of Forgetfulness) can wash away every memory. At that time, she felt that the bowl of Bittersweet Broth of Oblivion from Meng Po was quite scary, but after pondering, forgetting every matter was not something bad.

"Okay, we will go to the underworld." Little Orchid promised right away. After that, she blinked her eyes and asked Chi De woman, "But right now I am trapped inside the illusory scenery of the owner of the demon market. Do you have a method to help me?"

Chi De woman faintly smiled, "Of course has. The powers of A Hao were taught by me." Chi De woman waved hand, "Wait after waking up, I will let the bone orchid lead you away."

The figure of Chi De woman slowly disappeared. The darkness of the surroundings slowly withdrew. Little Orchid then smelled the floral fragrance once more and she opened her eyes. She hugged her chest; heart jumped quite fast. She wiped the sweats on the forehead and supported oneself to stand up.

Little Orchid knew that her period of time was not long. Being able to help a matter was a good thing.

The bone orchid gently pierced her chest once. Little Orchid took the bone orchid out and it produced a rattan vine that wrapped around her hand. Then it sprouted. At that same time, in the scenery with flowers that filled the whole sky, in front of a simple courtyard, the owner of the demon market silently peered at the butterflies that flew everywhere. A female in purple clothing slowly approached his side. He did not turn around and only faintly sighed as he said, "Die Yi, you say, when master has woken up and sees the existence of you guys, will be happy or not?"

Die Yi was slightly staring blankly and did not respond. The owner of the demon market's facial expression suddenly turned cold and flapped the sleeves in the atmosphere. A peacefully gentle breeze rose up, but when the breeze has blown into the sky, has turned into various blades and ravaged every butterfly wings that were fluttering everywhere like tearing shreds, leaving behind the mournful shrieks that reverberated.

Within a few moments, the mournful shrieks and cries disappeared.

The remaining butterflies that were from up high with broken wings would collectively fall to the ground, exactly like the colorful, strange petals.

Clearly were wild flowers everywhere, but in the sky was filled with hostile energies and an austere smell of deathly stillness.

Die Yi stood behind the owner of the demon market and peered at the butterflies with broken wings that fell and shook on the ground. The pair of eyes contained no moving feelings. The owner of the demon market turned around to look at the person behind him. After that, extended hand out to her. Die Yi lowered body and let him gently caress and stroke her cheeks.

"Die Yi, you caused me to feel a little bit unwilling to do something."

She has followed him for a millennium, but in return was just a sentence of unwillingness...

Die Yi's eyes lowered and there was no feeling as she said, "Die Yi is fortunate."

The owner of the demon market let go of her, "Speak, what is the matter?"

Die Yi stood up, "Dong Fang Qing Cang, due to finding the orchid spirit, has tossed and turned the entire demon realm. Currently has killed up to the heavenly realm."

The owner of the demon market laughed, "His body can endure quite well. Several days and several nights have fought and kill without resting." His eyes grew cold, "The injury of Shuo Feng sword still has not healed."

She nodded, "The news of the scouts of the demon market have come and said that with the appearance of the demon king at demon realm, it was definite that the injury has not healed completely and affected his health significantly."

"Oh." The owner of the demon market pondered, "Perhaps that body wants to go to heavenly with only two possibilities. One is that extremely wants to die, two is that..." The fingers of his lightly knocked on the wheelchair twice, "He wants to find the heavenly mirror*." The owner of the demon market lightly smiled, "Wanting to borrow the heavenly mirror to see in the end who was the one that took orchid spirit away..."

*Technically the original text refers to this as an heavenly eye, but since most xianxia dramas depict this as some sort of magical hole or mirror, I opt for mirror. -
ChocolateCosmostranslatornotes

Die Yi slightly furrowed her brows, "Owner, if Dong Fang Qing Cang is able to find the heavenly mirror..."

"No worries." The owner of the demon market waved his hands, "I have prepared for many years. The boundary of the demon market is not that useless to that point. Let Dong Fang Qing Cang come." He lowered his eyes and voice was extremely sly, "After he has come, master will have returned. While he cannot do anything anymore."

He would speak and would rub hands. A white flower appeared in the palm of his hand. In that flower seemed to have surprisingly hid a world and when peering inside will see flowers flying across the mountains, a boundless and immense endlessness of wilderness.

In that immensely boundless wilderness, Little Orchid was running toward the front.

The owner of the demon market was silently watching her and continued to peer at her march for forever. The gaze then turned deep, "She has...meet master already."

Die Yi from behind heard him muttered and cannot avoid being dazed as this time, the shadow of the owner of the demon market suddenly disappeared. On the wheelchair there was only that white flower.

She has stood besides and silently peered until after a while, she stepped forward and lifted the flower then hugged it with the chest. She sat on the wheelchair of the owner of the demon market and closed eyes while she let out a sigh.

In the world evident inside the bud of the white flower...

The owner of the demon market suddenly appeared and caused Little Orchid to become startled. Before she can respond, he has already stood up and used powers to wrap the two legs while charging forward to grab her hands, "You have met that person right?!"

The gaze of his was frenetic. Translations brought to you by Chocolatecosmos

Little Orchid was extremely terrified from his appearance and she wanted to retreat to the back, but was grabbed. The fingers of his used strength as if wanting to break her arms.

"You have met that person already, the person has appeared or what, currently that person can see me or not?"

"You let...let go of me first!" Little Orchid tossed his hand, but could not move it away. The owner of the demon market did not let go of the hand and even pulled her into a tight embrace, "I will not let you go anymore." His voice was like madness, "Master, master..."

"I am not your master!" Little Orchid shouted and the two hands supported up against the chest of the owner of the demon market and pushed strongly. The bone orchid on Little Orchid's hand suddenly sprouted out a sharp branch and pierced through the chest of the owner of the demon market.

He groaned out a sound and then let go.

Little Orchid used that opportunity to escape the area. The voice of Chi De woman rang inside her head, "Run! Quickly run Little Orchid!" She said, but the voice was heaving out unstable emotions.

Little Orchid frantically followed the direction the bone orchid pointed.

The heart has beat rapidly to the point as if it was not hers anymore. Little Orchid did not dare turn around and peer at the owner of the demon market to see whether he is chasing after her or not.

Then suddenly she seemed to have knocked against a wall and unexpectedly stopped. The bone orchid slice a path in the sky and the surroundings immediately collapsed. After the feeling of unsteadiness, Little Orchid suddenly fell on the ground.

She lifted head to look up. In the front was the simple courtyard of the owner of the demon market and beside is the wheelchair of his and a...female in purple clothing.

It's the person of the owner of the demon market!

She bent her legs and wanted to run, but Die Yi has awakened and how can she let Little Orchid escape in front of her.

Only see her [Die Yi] waved her hand and immediately the flowers on the ground transformed into vines that wrapped the legs of Little Orchid. She fell to the ground and despite how much she struggled, she cannot stand up.

A bout of breeze flew by and the owner of the demon market appeared again on the wheelchair. On his chest there were several blood traces from the place that the bone orchid has pierced.

Die Yi saw such and gaze trembled, "Owner..."

The owner of the demon market waved his hand, "It is fine." He turned his head to peer at Little Orchid on the ground and slightly shifted gaze to peer at the bone orchid on her hand.

"Dong Fang Qing Cang has placed the soul of that person inside there?" The owner of the demon market said, "It has guided you away, therefore master also wanted...to leave me?" The owner of the demon market hugged the injury on the chest and facial expression was a bit pale, "It was also master that injured me?"

Little Orchid peered at him and does not know what he wants to do anymore.

The owner of the demon market has become insane. After waiting for so many years, has been so stubborn to the point of craziness.

"But I will not let you go." He said, "Die Yi, lock her away."

Seeing the female in purple clothing coming closer, regardless of how much, Little Orchid cannot struggle anymore. She was tied up by the various flowers on the ground and pulled up. She panted as she said to the owner of the demon market, "I have met Chi De woman. I have met her many times. Unexpectedly, she does not want to meet you. She does not want to return to the three realms. You forced her to live. How come you don't ask her if she is willing? Yet, you said you love your master, how can you do this..." Little Orchid cannot speak anymore as the blossom sprigs of the vines sprouted up to her neck and bounded her mouth.

The owner of the demon market peered at Little Orchid, "Therefore, it's not love, but strong attachment." He waved his hand, "Lock her up carefully."

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 103 - Chapter 77.1

Chapter 103: Chapter 77.1

In the small and simple house, the gaze of Little Orchid can pass through the window and see the spring grass and wildflowers outside. She does not know which part of the illusory scenery the owner of the demon market created.

The atmosphere inside carried the wafting floral fragrance that caused others to feel joyous. Little Orchid felt that if she was not tied up by vines, this was definitely a good place for her to quietly spend her remaining period of time.

The owner of the demon market did not speak wrong. Following besides Dong fang Qing Cang everyday would have to face with killing, and scrambled to crawl through challenging experiences with the dangerous circumstances of you dying while I live. But at this time when lying on the bed and seeing the clouds passing idly outside the window, she suddenly missed Dong Fang Qing Cang a little bit. Remembering his appearance as he stood besides her a taunting expression and criticized her inferiority. After that, with one snap of the fingers, can easily resolve her plight.

Little Orchid felt that it seemed she was a prisoner of Dong Fang Qing Cang for so long and has forgotten about his hegemonic habits. Yet, after changing to another prison, she was not used to mild manners like this...

Burying face into the soft blanket, Little Orchid sighed profoundly.

This sigh was too long and great. Little Orchid felt that her heart suddenly beat chaotically. She stabilized the energies, but at this time, she heard the clattering sounds of a wheelchair besides her.

Little Orchid is very cautious of such sounds. She lifted her head to peer at the bedside and subconsciously withdrew inside. It's hard to stir a few as it has cost her much strength. Little Orchid felt that her head was buzzing and humming. She saw that the owner of the demon market was moving his mouth to speak, but cannot hear his voice in time.

After a good long while, the voice of the owner of the demon market finally entered her head, "Still has consciousness?"

From yesterday up until now, he has asked three to four times already. The tone each time would get colder. It seemed that he was a little anxious...

Little Orchid breathed in several breaths, but did not respond.

The owner of the demon market brought hand to grab one strand of her hair and stroke it twice inside the hand, "Orchid spirit, you have caused me difficulties in understanding. Up to now, you still persist for what anymore?" He said, "Don't tell me that in your heart you're still waiting for Dong Fang Qing Cang to come and rescue you?"

The heart of Little Orchid was empty as if being pierced a deep hole by this sentence of the owner of the demon market.

Correct ah, even she herself also does not want to admit, unexpectedly. She was waiting for Dong Fang Qing Cang ah.

"It's true that Dong Fang Qing Cang has come." The owner of the demon market peered at the slightly brightened eyes of hers and dimly said, "But this place of mine, there are countless changes. In the illusory scenery there is another illusory scenery. Even if it was Dong Fang Qing Cang, cannot find this place. I had Die Yi transformed into me and struggled with him in different illusory scenery. Can you guess if he can save your or not?"

Little Orchid did not respond. TranslationsbroughttoyoubyChocolatecosmos

"Will not. He came to find me in order to demand master." The owner of the demon market let go of Little Orchid's hair, "He said this body is his and told me to return it to him. Although it's cruel, but it's not him coming to save you." The finger of the owner of the demon market lightly pointed in the atmosphere. She saw in a different illusory scenery that Dong Fang Qing Cang was speaking with a different owner of the demon market sitting on a wheelchair, "The body that ben zuo has raised for so long, a small thief like you dared to steal something from ben zuo?"

The facial expression of Dong Fang Qing Cang was gloomy, and the black robe was wet thoroughly. The marks on the ground have formed a long trail of blood. Does not know whether it was dyed with the blood of someone else or his blood has soaked it.

This big devil really has no peaceful living day.

Little Orchid peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang in the scenery and does not know why as she suddenly moved her lips and smiled.

"Return ben zuo's stuff. Perhaps you can keep your fading soul." Return stuff then still kill that person ah...Sure enough is the manner of big devil.

The smile on the corners of Little Orchid lips grew bigger each time and even the facial features also smiled along. The owner of the demon market did not peer at her expression and merely looked at the scenery, "The matter that Dong Fang Qing Cang really wants to achieve with each moment he will not forget."

Correct ah, the purpose of big devil from the past to now was always clear. The matter that he wants to do, how can he forget?

He wants to resurrect Chi De woman. He wants to make up for the regret from his ancient times. From the attitude he showed to this xi rang body; he and the owner of the demon market are alike. They hoped that Chi De woman would live again.

While an orchid like her was merely medicine.

From an earlier time, she knew...

The heart suddenly tightened. Little Orchid felt that there was a force from deep within the depths of the bones that spread and captured her soul, tearing her.

This body is swallowing her.

Little Orchid felt clearly that pain. As if it was like the beginning when she crawled inside this xi rang body and competed with the living energies of xi rang. That's correct, but besides the pain, she also felt that her heart has become colder than ever before.

Previously, there were times where she was complained about Dong Fang Qing Cang, but this cold feeling inside the heart today was merely acceptance of one's misfortunes decreed by fate.

Moving and transferring, she was simply a medicinal ingredient.

The owner of the demon market that Die Yi has transformed into did not respond to Dong Fang Qing Cang, but merely said, "The thing that demon king desires to find is not here."

The eyebrows of Dong Fang Qing Cang stiffened and he coldly laughed, "Not hand over ah..." The fiery sword in his hand flashed flames brightly. Not speaking a word, the blade of the sword illuminated and suddenly sliced in the direction of "the owner of the demon market". The places that the flames have passed, every creature were being destroyed. The shadow of Die Yi disappeared in the sky. The wheelchair that she sat along with the patch of grass and flowers from behind immediately burned in a split second. The land that previously produced thriving living energies suddenly, in a moment, turned into a sheet of burnt blackness.

A purple butterfly soared in the sky. Dong Fang Qing Cang sneered, "Prey has miniscule skills." His five fingers transformed into claws and he waved his hand. As if there was an enormous force that rolled from the palm of his hand, the butterfly was immediately captured by him and its wings were crushed by Dong Fang Qing Cang. Within a blink of an eye, the butterfly body crumbled into pieces and Die Yi's neck was squeezed by him.

He coldly threatened, "Hand it over."

Die Yi peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang and appeared as if there was no feeling of being threatened by him as she merely said, "No need to become temporarily impatient, you will inevitably see her. With the appearance that you has wanted to see the most..."

The gaze of Dong Fang Qing Cang was cold, "Who ben zuo wants to see, at what time, does not need you to plan." When he finished speaking, the raging flames inside the hands flared up and immediately enveloped her inside.

Die Yi did not struggle in the slightest bit. She appeared as if she was someone who was not a part of this world as she did not feel any pain and disregarded the flames of Dong Fang Qing Cang that enveloped her entire body. The flames were burning the skin blazingly hot and caused her face to withered old. Dong Fang Qing Cang tossed her aside without any care.

Die Yi collapsed on the ground. The flames on the body still burned. She peered at the door of the simple courtyard and calmly looked at it until she turned to ashes.

The owner of the demon market saw such scene, but eyes did not change and merely said nonchalantly, "What a pity..."

Little Orchid sat on the bed and was still in pain inside the body with unspeakable tormenting pain. Does not know what matter he pitied.

Dong Fang Qing Cang over there would never show mercy to the one who died at his hands.

Chapter 104: Chapter 77.2

He peered around and facial expression was colder. Previously when he made a move, the still un-healed injuries at the chest were covered by ice crystals. He used his hand completely without care and brushed away. He said in a high voice, "You thought this constantly-changing illusory scenery can obstruct ben zuo until when?"

The owner of the demon market smiled and peered at Little Orchid, "A little bit is enough." He did not get to finish speaking as Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly flapped his sleeves and immediately razed the small courtyard in front.

He advanced forward and came to the place that he said was the small courtyard. He lifted foot and kicked the earth that was burning under his feet away. Then used the raging fiery sword to cut a line on the hand. The fresh blood from the palm of the hand mixed in red raging flames of the blade of the sword, and caused the flames on the sword to flare vividly red and more eye-catching.

But Dong Fang Qing Cang then wielded the sword in his hand, and firmly inserted the sword's blade edge into the ground under the feet.

Within this moment, the ground seemed to have tremble.

The owner of the demon market faintly shifted eyes at this scene. He also could feel the trembling and gaze immediately darkened.

The surrounding grass and flowers suddenly appeared to have received orders indirectly and suddenly rose. They passed through the bare region that Dong Fang Qing Cang has burnt. They wrapped the long sword like snakes, but the moment of contact with the sword were burnt into ashes by the flames.

On the sword's blade, the fresh blood that has not been burnt dry by the flames would flow down to the ground. The flames also followed to the ground.

Immediately, the vines that have wrapped around Dong Fang Qing Cang then suddenly, like snakes with 7 heads knocking each other, were all softened. He placed the palm of his hand on the raging fiery sword hilt and held into the sword tightly. The blood on the hand followed the sword hilt to the blade edge and caused it to flow down to the ground.

His lips slightly moved and lightly chanted spells.

The ground slowly began to tremble.

Little Orchid also felt such trembling.

Dong Fang Qing Cang has rush over to save her...

She gritted her teeth and attempted to open eyes with great effort to peer at Dong Fang Qing Cang in the scenery, but she felt that her vision would got hazier each time.

The five fingers of the owner of the demon market withdrew, causing the scenery to disappear. He peered at Little Orchid and facial color gloomy. Suddenly, there was a "bang" sound and the ground abruptly stopped trembling. The owner of the demon market subconsciously stretched hand and wanted to grab Little Orchid on the bed in order to pull her to the side for control.

But did not expect that in the moment he brought his hand out, the bone orchid on Little Orchid's hand moved and cut off the vines that tied her.

Little Orchid got off the bed staggeringly and was about to run. The owner of the demon market once more raised hand and captured her. Little Orchid's arm was grabbed. She wanted to throw it off, but at this time, her other arm was suddenly being pulled by someone else. While the wheelchair of the owner of the demon market suddenly was kicked and collapsed to the side. The owner of the demon market cannot react on time and has fallen to the ground.

Little Orchid was held tightly by a pair of warm hands and supported her body that appeared to have almost fallen to the ground.

The surrounding scene changed. The house disappeared. Little Orchid recognized that she was standing unexpectedly at the previous scenery she has seen Dong Fang Qing Cang. At this place was a barren slope, but under it was grass and flowers everywhere in the mountains. The flowers flew from afar and followed the warm breeze inside this illusory scenery that floated besides her ears.

The fiery sword was inserted on the side.

Dong Fang Qing Cang...has found the eye (hole) of the formation and joined the universally changing illusory sceneries together.

Little Orchid lifted head and peered at the excessively beautiful face of his.

Dong Fang Qing Cang has a pair of eyes that can see through all the formation spells in the world, but this fresh red pair of eyes has caused her to feel that she couldn't get out anymore each time when she looked.

If there is a wish, she thought she was willing to sleep in his pair of eyes.

"Big devil..." She uttered out these three words* exhaustingly.

*It's three in the original text – Chocolatecosmostranslatornote

Dong Fang Qing Cang peered at her and eyebrows furrowed, "I bring you..."

The word "away" was on the tip of the mouth...

Little Orchid seemed to have used all of her final strength as she hugged his neck and pressed her lips onto his lips.

Dong Fang Qing Cang was foolishly stared.

From the ancient times to now, Dong Fang Qing Cang alone have went through the five elements and the three realms. Has drank several fresh blood, and was cold and detached in front of a sword blade's rays. Regardless of what, he did not expect, that there would be a day where he was kissed by someone on the "battlefield" in front of the enemy.

He still can keep the silence like water, but due to this person who is Little Orchid, the usual pair of excessively beautiful and sharp eyes of his slightly opened wider.

Surprised that he did not push her away, but he has opened a boundary in the lair of the enemy and at a place whose dangers have not ended. After separating from danger, he immediately did not wait as he hugged her waist and locked the nape of the neck as he contained her into an embrace and kiss.

The kiss was where the tongues fought and was in constant seizing of control...

He wanted to harmonize the embraced person into the body, enclosed, locked up and not allowed others to easily take away anymore.

These days, he has searched enough.

From today until later, unexpectedly he does not want to search anymore.

Carrying worries, uneasiness, and indescribable fright in a strange way. Merely fearful that if another day was prolonged, he cannot find. Missing one day and he will miss (the opportunity) forever.

Little Orchid stopped kissing him. She pressed against his cheeks and quietly listened to the chaotic breathing of his. After that, she felt the mountains and flowers from afar grew closer infinitely. She heard the rapid beating of her heart to the point of sticking together and cannot feel the strange pain in the body anymore.

In the end, before her eyes it has turned into a sheet of bright, dazzling, wretched whiteness.

The sounds beside her ears have disappeared, and she cannot smell the grass and flowers in the sky anymore.

Little Orchid hugged Dong Fang Qing Cang tightly like hugging a log that is floating. She pressed against his cheeks and rubbed against him as she whispered into his ears, "Big devil, you are so hateful like this..."

She does not know how he will respond and even does not know whether Dong Fang Qing Cang was next to her or not as her fingertips and cheeks have lost sensation.

"...But I love you."

She felt that she had said everything she has held inside...

In this moment, her world seemed to have completely disappeared.

Or rather, it's said that she from this world...

Has disappeared.

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 105 - Chapter 78

Chapter 105: Chapter 78

The "Love" that Little Orchid spoke was still lingering beside the ears, but the body with the heart, suddenly grew limp.

Breathing grew still and heart stopped beating.

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not get to do something and only felt that his heart has fallen. His hand subconsciously hugged Little Orchid tighter as if doing so can fish his heart up.

But Little Orchid would not wake up because of him.

She closed the two eyes and was greatly determined to never wake up anymore. The two hands drooped straight to the side, appearing as if he has tightened to a breaking point of the arms.

"Little flower demon." He called, but no one responded, "Little Orchid."

Dong Fang Qing Cang solemnly called the name of Little Orchid in order to wake her up. It was forever until this moment when he discovered that this person even has a name that was arbitrarily named as one wishes. Therefore, previously he has treated her like so, as one has wished.

Despite how she has gotten her name, she didn't deserve such treatment from you >.> -

It seemed to compensate from when he has previously treated her very arbitrarily, right now her figure and appearance suddenly dropped strength and fell into his embrace. This caused him to not know what to do.

He was disoriented to the point of even being a little...flustered.

Dong Fang Qing Cang brought his hand to pull the eyelids of Little Orchid and attempted to see if she putting on an act, but after a while, he abruptly became clearheaded and suddenly felt that his actions were really laughable.

He was doing what...

He wanted the little flower demon to wake up, really wanted for her to open eyes and glare at him, and then pout while complaining, "Big devil, how can you come so late like this?!"

But there's none. This little flower demon will not wake up anymore. This was a matter that he himself has calculated from the beginning. Therefore, he was clearer than anyone. Even if went all over the heavenly realm or the underworld, will never find this little flower demon anymore...

His chest suddenly tightened and his heart that was beating inside the chest arose a pain that was like being pulled by someone to trample.

Such discomfort he was caught off guard. The breathing grew heavier, but even if he attempted with great efforts to breathe more than usual, in the chest there was still the feeling of suffocation.

Suddenly, the eyelashes of the person in the embrace slightly trembled.

Dong Fang Qing Cang subconsciously halted breathing and the hand that held the shoulders of Little Orchid subconsciously tightened.

A pair of black eyes opened and was still dazzling like before, but the calm gaze was something Little Orchid never has. She quietly peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang and used hand to push him away. She withdrew toward the back several steps then stood steadily.

She peered at her hand and the five fingers tightened then let release. After that, sneered and expression was cold.

Dong Fang Qing Cang peered the body of the heavenly God whom he was familiar with. He knew that this body, the owner has already been exchanged.

Chi De woman lifted head to peer at Dong Fang Qing Cang and examined his expression for a while, "Happy or not, demon king?"

Not happy. Dong Fang Qing Cang peered at Chi De woman silently and did not respond, but the sounds inside his heart were very clear. It wasn't just merely unhappiness; he was in pain and was sad.

"You have attained your goal."

Correct ah, he has reached his goal. Previously, that was the only goal of his until now, but this time when seeing the result in front, his long-cherished wish in the end was achieved, yet the stiff corners of Dong Fang Qing Cang's lips could not shift up for a smile of his successful scheme.

"Didn't you woke me up to end your attachment? Come forward, defeat me..." The words did not get to end as not waiting for Dong Fang Qing Cang to respond, the waist of Chi De woman was suddenly tightened. A warm arm circled her waist. Chi De woman felt that flowers appeared before one's eyes and then disappeared.

In that last moment, the gaze of Chi De woman landed on the face of Dong Fang Qing Cang and only saw that his face was staring blankly at the body that someone is bringing away.

He did not move. He was absent-minded and staring blankly.

When the surrounding scenery has halted, Chi De woman saw a meadow, but the silhouette of Dong Fang Qing Cang has disappeared.

The warm hand on the waist still remained. Chi De woman slightly leaned head and saw that the owner of the demon market was using powers to support the pair of feet to stand behind her, "Master..." He said, the arm that hugged her waist has tightened the grip, "You saying so, he will harm you."

Hearing that, Chi De woman was quiet for a long while then said, "Let go." She said, "I still have something to say to Dong Fang Qing Cang."

The owner of the demon market did not let go of hand. His face pressed tightly against the cheeks of Chi De woman and used every part of his body to feel the existence of her as if only needed him to loosen hand and she will run away.

Chi De woman was briefly silent, "The matter of you and I will be slowly talk about later."

The owner of the demon market heard such and held Chi De woman even tighter, "I do not intend to listen to what master will say. I know you don't want to return unexpectedly and also knows that you don't want to see me. But master, I can listen to you for everything except with the matter of finding you and meeting you. Such wish is not in my control. I know, you want to meet Dong Fang Qing Cang and borrow his strength in order to avoid me once more. I cannot promise."

Chi De woman was silent and peered at the flowers that fluttered from afar. After a very long while, her hand was placed on the back of the owner of the demon market's hand and patted, "You let me meet him and after entrusting the matter, I will go with you."

The owner of the demon market was dazed and eyebrows softened, "How does master know that I will bring you away from here?"

"With your behavior and actions, preparing for so many years, how can (you) let the prey be taken away after reaching goal? This universally changing illusory scene was merely the beginning. If wanted to escape Dong Fang Qing Cang, then you will definitely have another secret place."

"Master." The owner of the demon market lightly smiled, "Only you understand me the most."

"A Hao, the time." Translationsbroughttoyoubybananachocolatecosmosandnowhereelse

These two words to owner of the demon market was like a devil spell as he turned his face away and hand slowly inched away from the waist of Chi De woman. Really was unwilling. In the end, after letting go of her, he shielded the front of Chi De woman. After that, waved hand in the atmosphere and the silhouette of Dong Fang Qing Cang appeared in the scenery.

Dong Fang Qing Cang still has not left. The raging, fiery sword was inserted to the side. Looking at the atmosphere, it was empty and there was a clammed silence. There was no hostile energy or plan. He merely stood there as if still contemplating ever since. Finally, what he was doing, in the end...he has lost what...

"Master, the strength of demon king is unfathomable, after three sentences, to avoid him following, I have to bring you away from this place."

"Perhaps at present the demon king does not have the mind to follow us."

The owner of the demon market peered at Chi De woman, "Master said that demon king was moved by heart?" He felt that was extremely laughable, "He? Dong Fang Qing Cang?"

"Who knows?" Chi De woman ordered him "Let him see me."

The owner of the demon market was briefly silent and in the end still listened to her words. He pointed up to the scene and the scenery undulated. Chi De woman spoke up, "Dong Fang Qing Cang, do you regret any bit?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang inside the scenery lifted head up. The pair of fresh blood eyes peered attentively at Chi De woman and in the eyes there was a bit loneliness and depression despite utter concealment, but clearly still appeared, "Ben zuo is mostly vexed with the thick, preaching faces of your heavenly realm people." Finished speaking, the pressed center of the eyebrows flared dazzling red and the pair of eyes seemed to have almost dripped blood, "Regretting is what, ben zuo's actions were never regretful. Before was not, right now is not, and later on will not be."

Finished speaking, the hostile energies surrounding his body got heavier, "Ben zuo only need to kill, whether it's you, the heavenly soldiers of the heavenly realm, or even the chirping bunch of the demon realm. Regardless if it's the universally changing illusory scenery or the heavenly palace or underworld, the bones of you lot will become a whetstone for ben zuo."

His fiery sword that was inserted into the ground on the side immediately flared up into the heavens and slowly burned into black flames, causing the entire illusory scenery to suddenly crumbled in pieces.

The owner of the demon market furrowed his eyebrows and peered at the havoc wreaking ice crystals on Dong Fang Qing Cang's chest that sealed together like a shield. It quickly covered the entire chest and stomach of his. He hugged Chi De woman and was about to go, "Dong Fang Qing Cang is crazy."

Chi De woman halted the owner of the demon market and took off the bone orchid down from the hand, "If you're not regretful, then this strand of the last ruined soul of Little Orchid I do not need to keep for anyone anymore." She said, "Her departure from the world is a good matter. At the very least, will not see the hoodwink and lies of each other and also will not love a person that each time and each moment would calculate and betray her."

The gaze of Dong Fang Qing Cang briefly peered closely at the bone orchid and the silver hair that fluttered due to the hostile energies would slowly drop down. His expression displayed a little bit of not daring to believe, "Ruined soul?"

"Before Little Orchid has left, I have used the strength of the soul to try to keep the ruined soul of hers." Chi De woman clasped the bone orchid up, and the bone orchid slightly glimmered, "At times, it can be regarded as not a ruined soul, but merely a weak, last strand of energy."

The owner of the demon market was startled and tensely said, "How can master do this haphazardly? If there is a mistake, you..."

Chi De woman stopped him, "It's fine, I owed her." Her gaze peered attentively at Dong Fang Qing Cang, "It simply seems demon king, that if you have regretted, then I keeping this ruined soul is useless. Can only release it as in the end Little Orchid has died and turn ash-like."

Finished speaking, Chi De woman retreated one step and leaned into the embrace of the owner of the demon market. He was dazed and immediately understood the intent as he hugged her.

Chi De woman raised hand and tossed the bone orchid into a cluster of flowers. The eyes of Dong Fang Qing Cang in the scenery widened and the sentence "You dare..." were not finished as the surroundings of the owner of the demon market suddenly arose a hurricane. The flowers and grass were immediately whirled across the whole sky. Even the bone orchid that Chi De woman has tossed previously, does not know where the hurricane has pulled in the illusory scenery.

When the hurricane has stopped, Chi De woman and the owner of the demon market have already disappeared for a while.

Dong Fang Qing Cang cannot refrain from becoming angry within the heart. Following the hurricane, there was a violent flame that immediately whirled up in frenzy. The flowing red flame soared straight into the sky and burnt the universally changing illusory scenery of the owner of the demon market with a humongous hole, revealing the sky outside from the illusory scenery.

At this time, outside of the illusory scenery pulled by chance a strand of rays of light stars across the day sky. The owner of the demon market peered below. Although it's quite distant like this, but cannot obstruct the views of the two people. The four eyes intersected. The owner of the demon market did not turn look back while Dong Fang Qing Cang did not chase.

"He really is not chasing. I thought that in this world anyone has a heart and only Dong Fang Qing Cang does not. It seems that I have thought wrong." The owner of the demon market said, "Master wants to help Little Orchid. How come [you] do not give the bone orchid to him, but have to do such action, is it because...of helping me leave?"

Chi De woman was briefly silent, "I merely wanted him to know, once something is lost, wanting them back will not be easy anymore."

The owner of the demon market heard such and was briefly silent, "Such reasoning, perhaps I...understand that the most than anyone."

The illusory scenery shifted and trembled as if collapsing, but before the universally changing illusory scenery completely collapsed, Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly withdrew hand. His face darkened and peered at the endless and boundless meadow afar. While restraining emotions, [he] slightly closed his eyes.

After that, there were several flames that flared up and coiled into a dragon shape that hissed and charged toward the sky. Yet at this time, the flames appeared like huge pillars in the sky of the universally changing illusory scenery and supported this entire illusory scenery.

Supporting this shaky and almost collapsing illusory scenery.

On the chest of Dong Fang Qing Cang, the injuries that Shuo Feng sword have tear previously still remained. The period of time from before, he has searched for the person without rest and used powers without restrain, causing the ice crystals in front of his chest to have the opportunity to form armor, but Dong Fang Qing Cang hardly cared.

He stepped forward one step. Under the feet shone bright rays of light was like a lake ripple of raging flames as layer-by-layer, boiled under his feet like a washing. When almost done burning through one region, Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly halted. "A bit of final energy remaining" that Chi De woman has said suddenly passed through his head.

The flames on the ground suddenly extinguished. Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed his brows, suppressed any impatience in the heart, and continued to step toward the front. This time, he used all strength to control the anger and went with his best forte—slowly searching little by little.
