Chapter 21: Chapter 13.1

The battle between Dong Fang Qing Cang and Shuo Feng sword soul has caused the mountain rocks in the cave to tremble, and continue to fall incessantly. Many of the rock debris knocked against the female general statue in the middle, but when the rock debris landed on the statue, they immediately became frozen. It can be seen that the statue was extremely cold.

Little Orchid looked at the vague five features [on face] of the woman, and softly muttered, "I do not remember if there was a female immortal in the heavenly realm with such a mighty stance like this ah. They would wear loose clothing and step lightly like clouds; no one can have such stance energy like this."

Dong Fang Qing Cang used his right hand to support himself up and coldly said with a bit of a mocking tone, "The heavenly realm has no God of War?"

Little Orchid froze, and then remembered the past to realize, "This is Chi De[1] woman..." The God of War in the legends, a hero that has defeated Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Dong Fang Qing Cang paid no attention to Little Orchid anymore, and his right hand congregated flames. Those flames burned into a rope and crawled like a snake—wrapping around the sword besides Chi De woman. The fiery snakes burned the frozen ice on the sword. The extreme hotness and extreme coldness collided and battled against each other. The white energy gushed out and caused the frozen cave to become hazy. Gradually, the fight between fire and ice became more intense as the energy in the cave was like sharp blades—tugging back and forth, slicing the rocks. Little Orchid was scared as she stared at the ground sliced into paths with no ends by the heat of the flames appearing from the fight. The tips of the blades suddenly froze in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang by three steps and abruptly disappeared without a trace as if dispersed.

At that time Little Orchid remembered, in front of her there was already a clear boundary from a while ago. It stopped any stirring energy from outside. Dong Fang Qing Cang still stood towering over the trembles and across from Chi De woman. At that moment Little Orchid realized, when master told the story, the battle between Dong Fang Qing Cang and Chi De woman that caused the sky to overturned and the earth and moon to be affected were not magniloquent. With just the battle between two energies that have not used all their strengths was already horrifying like this. If there was a day when they truly go against each other...

When Little Orchid continued to worry, a sudden gigantic sound rang, and the layer of frozen ice on the outside of Shuo Feng sword was finally burnt away cleanly by the raging flames of Dong Fang Qing Cang. The frozen wall cracked.

Dong Fang Qing Cang raised his hands and the fiery snakes wrapped around Shuo Feng sword and pulled it down. Dong Fang Qing Cang grabbed the hilt of the sword in his hand. Little Orchid can sense clearly that it was resisting quite strongly, but the five fingers of Dong Fang Qing Cang barely used strength as the end of the sword was wrapped in flames. The sword immediately went silent.

Little Orchid was horrified and spoke, "You killed Shuo Feng sword soul?" If the soul died, the sword will become scrap.

Dong Fang Qing Cang placed Shuo Feng sword on his waist, "Only forced it to obey."

Losing Shuo Feng sword, the frozen statue of Chi De woman lost within a blink of an eye its surrounding glow. The mountain rocks up top fell and crushed the head of the statue. Dust blew everywhere, the ground shook, and Little Orchid knew— this place cannot withstand the battle before and was already collapsing.

"We must find the exit quickly."

"Why look?" Dong Fang Qing Cang said condescendingly and the energy around the body stirred and moved toward the ceiling of the cave. It broke the mountain rocks and tear open a path in the middle of the mountain and [they] flew out. After leaving the cave, Little Orchid suddenly turned and looked back. The statue of Chi De woman was completely buried under the collapsing mountain. The sounds produced were loud and the mountain snow behind had a round of collapsing. Surely, the frozen cave inside no longer existed.

Little Orchid looked at the sword on the waist, looked at the mountain snow beginning to form a landslide, and said, "You caused destruction like this, the heavenly realm will surely punish you."

Dong Fang Qing Cang laughed and was not bothered, "Ben zuo already has thousands of crimes, and am not scared of one more. Now in heavenly realm there is no one that can do anything to me."

Little Orchid pouted, "I am a person of the heavenly realm ah."

Finished speaking, the response to her was the silence of Kunlun mountains after the snow dropped.

"Also ah." Little Orchid felt that right now Dong Fang Qing Cang cannot do anything to her and so she was determined to continue speaking, "You are so powerful, yet when [we] entered the frozen cave your soul was still pulled out ah. With one bit already disappeared, and cannot withstand as long as I did."

Dong Fang Qing Cang originally did not want to pay any attention to her, but Little Orchid continued to harp incessantly and caused him to feel annoyed. Thus, he responded, "In the world there are no fewer openings/cracks. Your master informing you about various places was correct. To many people this place is death. One, it's the cold that acts as a shield. Two, there's the opening to tear apart the soul from the body. Chi De woman froze the sword here so that no one can look/desire Shuo Feng."

"Yet, you still took the sword out. Total disregard for the will of another person."

Dong Fang Qing Cang coldly sneered, "You can blame that Chi De woman was incompetence and did not concealed the sword carefully."

Little Orchid shot a glance, "Your soul was tear from the body while not being able to return and actually called people incompetent."

"If not you wouldn't have to compete for half of ben zuo's body..." Dong Fang Qing Cang gritted his teeth and restrained the rage inside, "Nevermind. Already has taken Shuo Feng. Lead the way for ben zuo to the demon market under Kunlun to buy a sword sheath."

Footnotes:

[1] Forgot to mention before but her name means Red Ground, but Red Ground woman sounds quite weird since she doesn't even wear red at this point nor was her skin reddish either... I capitalized the Chi De part since she's a prominent figure/person in the story.

Chapter 22: Chapter 13.2

Little Orchid was dumbfounded and turned around to looked at the collapsing mountain peak, "Causing trouble like this, if we went to the demon market and our two souls one body situation was found out... Later on the heavenly realm will know when you caused trouble I was also there, I will be involved..."

"Then that's great." Can hear that Dong Fang Qing Cang really felt rejoice.

Little Orchid pouted. Her mind was unsatisfied, but was not angered because she knew that right now she and Dong Fang Qing Cang are enemies. They only hoped misfortune for the other.

Dong Fang Qing Cang and Little Orchid—each person was calculating as they went down the Kunlun mountain range. Because of this, they did not know that after they left, within the layers of falling snow was a purple butterfly slowly flying elegantly toward the sky. The demon market under Kunlun mountain was crowded and busy. Buyers and sellers of various people change and intermixed [idiom: fish and dragons mixed in together]. Besides various kinds of demons, occasionally would see mortals and immortals wore conical bamboo hats to conceal as they purchased weapons. Little Orchid has heard from what master has said that the demon market was bustling, but she did not know that the demon market has reached beyond what her master had described. From the moment when they stepped into the demon market, Little Orchid shifted her eyes endlessly. In this place flowers along the roads have teeth, and over there was a house constructed into the shape of the character "#*" . A female demon walking in the front with a revealing chest noticed the gaze of Little Orchid and gave back coquettish eyes...

* Means along the lines of a bow, or something curvy.

The heavenly realm was peaceful and so has not left to the point of this*. This has really caused Little Orchid to truly be astonished.

*Originally there was an idiom [lanterns red, wine green] and it's basically along the lines of a person not having to travel far or having to go to the extent of this to the point of being pointless. In the story context it's basically saying that Little Orchid has never stepped foot outside the heavenly realm to this extent.

Dong Fang Qing Cang was never interested in such bustle and was only searching for the weaponry stalls. However, the gaze of Little Orchid would venture off constantly and caused the left leg of Dong Fang Qing Cang to lose its foot rhythm occasionally. Not for long there was a demon getting close to Dong Fang Qing Cang and introduced, "Hey big brother, need a crutch?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang coldly shifted his eyes and the other bewildered person retreated back gloomily. The owner of the stall brutally hit his head, "It's not easy to spot a crippled. Worry about selling instead?!"

"Owner...It's a disabled person but not unable... Ow, don't hit!"

After strolling around the demon market one round, but could not find the weapon store, Little Orchid did not walk anymore and sat down in the roadside inn, "Let us ask instead rather than groundlessly searching for it ah."

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not speak up. It seemed like an acceptance of Little Orchid's method because he cannot feel fighting energy from the weapons in this demon market.

In the inn there were not a lot of people and when Dong Fang Qing Cang sat down, the inn owner used her snake tail to come over. Looking at the bright red crown on her head, Little Orchid determined that this was a thousand-year old snake demon. The green snake did not speak about the various dishes. Its irises glanced at Dong Fang Qing Cang's face, and then the snake began to smile, "This little brother looked unfamiliar ah. Is this your first time to the demon market?" Finished speaking, she poured a cup of tea for Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Dong Fang Qing Cang was used to not paying attention to anyone. Thus, rather let Little Orchid deal with this. She drank a mouthful of the tea and said, "This is the first time coming here, thus wanted to ask you ma'am whether there are any places in this demon market that sell swords?"

"Little brother wants to buy sword?" The snake demon smiled and said. She analyzed Dong Fang Qing Cang from top to bottom. Her gaze landed on the double-edged sword held on his waist. The bottom of her eyes displayed a bit of surprise, but within a moment, has felt hostile energy piercing through the skin. She discovered that the surrounding atmosphere became heavier and quickly withdrew her gaze while her back sweated. She smiled and said, "This is the first time little brother has come here and thus will not know that the demon market of ours sell messy. But after that person came, regular items and weapons that can kill have been sold separately. If one wanted to purchase a sword one has to cross the grove at the back and go under the frozen lake."

"That person?" Little Orchid blinked and asked, "Who is that person?"

"Outsiders do not know. Only people who sell here annually know who the master of the demon market is. We called him Your Majesty." The fingers of Dong Fang Qing Cang tapped twice on the table and was about to leave as [he] stood up. The inn owner quickly said, "Little brother has not finished the tea." Little Orchid felt that since this inn owner has already provided information, wasting it was not good and thus, she tilted her head and drank empty the cup of tea. She thanked and was pulled away by half of the body. The snake demon saw that Dong Fang Qing Cang has left and hurriedly went upstairs. She pushed the door of the room and shouted, "Daughter, daughter, this time mother has chosen for you an attractive fellow with a strong body."

The female on the bed immediately sat straight up.

"Mother cannot look at his cultivation; he must be someone who has abilities." Within the curtains carried a bit of a husky voice of a female, "If his cultivation powers are high... what if the medicine has no effect?"

"Do not worry, that is Ye Ye Sheng Ge[1] lotus mother has produced recently. Immortals drinking it will not be able to withstand it. The mind would become chaotic and even souls will have to work for it."

[1] Means something like Every Night Music and Song. Doesn't really sound that great in English so I left the name in pinyin.

Within the curtains carried the rustling sounds of a snake tongue sticking out and hissing.

"You have to remember to restrain yourself a bit and not killed off another again. These recent times His Majesty has began to notice mother."

"Daughter knows."

"Mother has mislead him with the grove at the back of the demon market. Smell the Ye Ye Sheng Ge and you can go there."

"Whoosh" one sound and within the curtains there were no more movements.

Little Orchid said, "Dong Fang Qing Cang... it seems like someone wants to molest you."

Dong Fang Qing Cang said, "Are you referring to yourself ah?"

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 23 - Chapter 14.1

Chapter 23: Chapter 14.1

While walking to the forest outside of the demon market, Little Orchid would walked a bit and then stopped.

Dong Fang Qing Cang was impatient and looked, but after that one time, the left foot got entangled with the right foot. Dong Fang Qing Cang could not endured it anymore. With darkened face, he spoke coldly, "What's the problem now? This forest you also felt it's novel or something?"

Little Orchid felt uncomfortable and pulled on the collar, "Big devil, you don't feel a little hot?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang coldly laughed, "A bit of that drug already made your mind chaotic. Is it true that you cultivate?"

"Drug?" Little Orchid spoke as she was about to pulled on the collar. Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed his brows and pushed the left hand off. He was yet to criticize as Little Orchid anxiously said, "You let me open the collar a bit ah. I'm almost getting heated to death here."

Obviously, Dong Fang Qing Cang was indifferent, "Then you go die."

Little Orchid gritted her teeth in anger, "It's only taking off a shirt. You are a male so what embarrassment. If something was seen, it's only me who receives damage!" Little Orchid paused and then added, "Also, where else on your body have I not seen before!"

Hearing such sentence from his own mouth, Dong Fang Qing Cang no longer has any energy left to hit his forehead.

He did not want to compete on pointless dispute with Little Orchid. He started to walk forward, but the left foot planted itself on the spot and refused to move. The rage congregated within Dong Fang Qing Cang and leaped up to the surface. His voice became ice-cold, "You really think that ben zuo can't do anything to you?"

Not waiting for him to finish, Little Orchid has used his mouth to breathe rapidly, "Not really... I felt very strange." She bitted the lips and used the left hand to rubbed the stomach, "Right here..." Obviously, it was using Dong Fang Qing Cang's hand to touch his body, but when the left hand rubbed the stomach, a warm type of feeling rose to the head momentarily. It's a feeling that has never appeared before as it screamed within her soul, "Big devil, your body... is very strange."

Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed his brows.

Cultivation and strength of this Little Orchid were really weaker than what he had thought. It only took a bit of the arousal drug to cause her to become disorderly. Dong Fang Qing Cang was rather resentful of the master who had nurtured and taught this being. But with the current situation, Dong Fang Qing Cang felt that if he did not take action, while ignoring the drug component wreaking havoc inside the body, it's feared that Little Orchid will cause troubles that he will not anticipate.

His face darkened and slowly spoke, "Stabilize the mind. The feeling from the five points of the body is merely an illusion. Guard steadily the whole mind, throw..." Not finished speaking, Little Orchid had already taken off the outer shirt/robe.

"Let's go back to the Kunlun snow mountain where it's nice and cold."

Dong Fang Qing Cang choked his words and his current mood was not as happy when compared to how he usually spoke with Little Orchid, "Ben zuo has spoken about the technique of stabilizing one's mind and that's a miracle that so many people have wished for, but cannot attained. You listening to ben zuo's words is even more advantageous than ten Kunlun mountains."

Little Orchid felt increasingly impatient and was not speaking with Dong Fang Qing Cang anymore. She can only used the hand to rub the stomach. Feeling of happiness arose from the body and also a feeling of emptiness that has caused Dong Fang Qing Cang to be a bit surprised— this was not simply an aphrodisiac from the demon realm.

He transferred the energy from within and was about to force the drug out from the body, but at that time, he suddenly heard one "sssh" sound coming from the side. On the left leg there was an object that swept by and the feeling of smoothness has even caused Little Orchid to feel it. It began to screech into sounds.

"Gentleman, why [are you] alone in this forest? Does not know the way forward?"

The husky voice was seductively ringing in the ears and the breathings blew into Dong Fang Qing Cang's ears. It carried a feeling of itchiness and discomfort. The left leg of Little Orchid could not hold it anymore and began to tremble.

Dong Fang Qing Cang was still coldly standing there up to the point when the snake demon poked her head in front of his head. She stuck her tongue out and wanted to kiss his mouth. Dong Fang Qing Cang's mouth curved and displayed craftiness and brassiness. He raised his hand and took off the half-human head and snake body lady who had coiled around his body. The five fingers turned into a pan and whacked the female as if hitting a ball, causing the flesh on her face to change.

The snake demon ai ai and cried in pain. Its snake body did not dare to wrap around Dong Fang Qing Cang anymore and painfully curled in the air. Its snake tail flung back and forth. It struggled on the ground, "Gentleman, gentleman... Aiya, gentleman... This humble one is in pain."

*nú jiā: your servant; humble way of addressing oneself by a young female

"Dare to look such way at ben zuo, truly deserving praise for one's courage".

Through the fingers of Dong Fang Qing Cang, the snake demon can see that the left side of the face and the right side of the male in the front displayed differently from one another. The left side of him was completely red and the gaze was hazy like the normal males who were drugged by her mother's concoction. But the other half was absolutely different; the right side was distinct and the gaze was sharp and held hostility with a smile as scary as a soul reaper of the underworld.

Chapter 24: Chapter 14.2

Such contradictory reaction has caused the female demon with human head and snake body to be alarmed endlessly. Yet, what caused her soul to be terrified was the strength of the hand that was squeezing her head. Not needing to interact much with one another and relying on the truth that despite using all her strength to struggle yet she cannot escape, she knew that her strength versus that person was far as the sky,

"Big god (da ren)! Big god! This humble one/servant... little demon knows the wrongs..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang nodded and said coldly, "Good, if you admitted that you were wrong, then try to tell me what punishment you deserves."

"This..."

"You don't say..." Dong Fang Qing Cang's face got colder, "Then let ben zuo directly punish you." After he finished speaking, a red flame burst from the five fingers of Dong Fang Qing Cang. Only heard the sounds of "chi chi"* ringing and a burnt mark of five fingers immediately appeared on the snake demon's face. She screamed intensely and the voice seemed to echo up to the blue clouds while causing the birds in the forest to scatter disorderly everywhere.

* jeering sounds

Dong Fang Qing Cang tossed her aside. The body of the snake demon in pain curled into a dumpling. She does not have hands and so, used her tail to cover her face as her whole body shook. She did not dare to look up at Dong Fang Qing Cang. However, despite lowering her head, she can still see Dong Fang Qing Cang used one foot slowly to step in front of her. The snake demon could not laugh and only felt that, according to the short distance between her and Dong Fang Qing Cang, the atmosphere around her began to become both hot and heavy as if almost tearing apart her flesh. She has never felt such imposing manner before. She only knew to prostrate her head low and crawl on the ground. Even crying in pain she did not dare and was silent to display her surrender.

Dong Fang Qing Cang spread his hands, "The antidote."

"Big...big god, this is a new drug that my mother has created. This drug... has no antidote."

Dong Fang Qing Cang raised his eyebrows, "So, what's the point in keeping you?"

"No no no!" The snake demon hurriedly asked for mercy, "This little demon can go tell my mother to create drug, and will now ask mother to create an antidote immediately! Please spare me big god! Please spare me big god!" She was terrified as she sobbed. But the crying has caused Dong Fang Qing Cang to wrinkle his brows, "Recently, ben zuo finds the most vexing is sounds of crying."

The fire from Dong Fang Qing Cang's hands began to ignite, but at that time, the left hand of his suddenly moved and abruptly struck the stomach. After that, it would grabbed!

The entire body of Dong Fang Qing Cang went stiff. Within that moment of scared, his mouth produced a weeping, heavily hoarse, low-lying, and dense voice. After that there were additional sounds of gasping for breath.

The flames in the hands immediately extinguished. Dong Fang Qing Cang seemed to be bewildered by himself and paused his body.

The snake demon who crawled on the ground also did not know the situation. Her eyes would shift around and her heart really did not understand. The situation of this male... ultimately how, ultimately...was affected by the drug ah...

Such expression of his... why does it seem like an illness ah?...

The spectacle was silent for a while, all the way up until when sounds of wind from afar would whoosh whoosh came. A female shouted as she ran, "Don't you dare harm my daughter!" A demonic strength sliced toward Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Dong Fang Qing Cang unconsciously created a boundary and squashed the demonic energy. The cultivation power dispersed in four directions and caused the surrounding tall trees to be sliced in half.

The demonic energy dispersed in assorted directions. The news of the forest that there was someone battling definitely brought forth many people. The green snake demon who was standing in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang had a lower gaze that sized up Dong Fang Qing Cang, "We have eyes but fail to recognize Mt Tai and had offended big god. Hope that big god will forgive. Ye Ye Sheng Ge has an antidote. The antidote is the blood of this servant. This servant willfully use blood to atone and hope big god does not pursue anymore."

idiom that in context with this story illustrates how the mother snake demon did not realize how big of a threat and how powerful Dong Fang Qing Cang is. They have messed with the wrong person.

Dong Fang Qing Cang pursed his lips as if scared of himself from before and thus, did not carelessly speak.

The magnificent mo zun, unexpectedly does not dare to speak! Dong Fang Qing Cang felt that during this time he has truly done everything that he had never done before.

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 25 - Chapter 15

Chapter 25: Chapter 15

Dong Fang Qing Cang pulled on Little Orchid's hand that was grabbing tightly the stomach. For precaution that she would zone out, the ten fingers of the right hand to fastened with the ten fingers of the left hand. In the end, Little Orchid did not do any improper movements..o.o.o.o.o.o.o.o.o..

But like this cannot disperse the burning heat within Dong Fang Qing Cang's body. The finger on the left hand scratched the right's hand wrist of Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed his brows and finally, returned toward the direction of snake demon as he spoke, "Bring it."

The snake demon hurriedly tear the forefinger and used magic/power to create a porcelain cup. She dropped the blood into the cup and when the blood filled half of the cup, the snake demon enclosed the mouth of the wound and cautiously while solemnly brought forth the cup for Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Dong Fang Qing Cang received it and stirred the blood in the cup. The snake blood was cold, but did not affect the fishy smell diffusing. After smelling, the desire within Little Orchid's soul diminished a bit.

"Green skin that's three thousand years old is expectedly nutritious." Within one gulp, he drank empty the cup, licked the remaining blood strings on lips and his eyes looked up. Such gaze caused the snake demon to be frighten coldly and unconsciously retreated one step.

Seeing the hostility within Dong Fang Qing Cang's eyes carried several additions of heaviness. The snake demon tugged on her daughter as they retreated, "The boundary of demon market values keeping promises. Regardless of what type of buying and selling, it's like this. Before, big god has promised to let go of us. Now has broken the promise. Doing so will result in inconvenient."

"Eh?" Finished drinking the snake blood, Little Orchid's soul in Dong Fang Qing Cang's body seemed to have both strength and spirit exhausted away, becoming completely silent. It's because of Little Orchid's resistance at first that half of the body has become paralyzed. Dong Fang Qing Cang from within felt unhappy. He remembered often that even he himself has to used all his efforts to compete in a battle of wits and strength against this little flower demon. Now, she has been defeated so easily by medicine/drug X like this, does that mean that he has no skills?

Dong Fang Qing Cang pondered as his heart did not feel happy.

Somebody once told I ain't the sharpest tool in the shed.

But he hid this unhappiness deep within his heart. While on the outside, his face was still smiling and indiscreetly said to the snake demon, "But ben zuo want to get rid of trouble, then what?"

Finished speaking, snake demon felt the pressure that wrapped around became much heavier as if there was an invisible hand in the air. Regardless of how much she has resisted, that hand still dragged her back to Dong Fang Qing Cang's direction.

Dong Fang Qing Cang raised his hand and the sharp fingernails shined as if polished with poison. The fingernails of his gently fell on the snake demon's neck like an energy force nipping into her flesh and refrained her from struggling.

Endlessly until that moment, she has finally realized that she has become roped with someone who should not be provoked.

The snake demon felt quite frustrated. It's clear during the tea pouring conversation that the words spoken from this person has caused her to not completely realized that he was a monster like this ah!

If that was known earlier, even if there were ten livers* given to her, she wouldn't dare take action on him!

*metaphor for courage

From the bottom of her heart, the snake demon felt she was deceived, but at this time it was too late to considered the frustration within her. She quickly begged, "Big god big god, please spare this little demon. Little demon miserably cultivated for three thousand years and overcame several immortal obstacles. Big god can easily kill this little demon, but little demon is afraid that will only harm your virtue sir!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang coldly sneered, "When you meet the God of Death, go ahead and tell him to subtract ben zuo's virtue. Only afraid his record books that will filled the underworld cannot even count all of ben zuo's sins/crimes." "**"

Finished speaking, his finger cut lightly on the snake demon's neck. The wound was small and the fresh blood slowly trickled. The snake demon was scared to the point of her complexion becoming pale. Dong Fang Qing Cang was not in the least bit sympathetic toward the snake demon's fear. He placed the finger covered in snake blood on his lips, but did not wait for him to taste as he felt besides him there was a gust of wind twirling strongly. The leaves transformed into knives like blades and slashed the strength that entrapped the snake demon of Dong Fang Qing Cang. It caused the snake demon to successfully struggle out.

Dong Fang Qing Cang's gaze grew colder and turned around to look. From there in the forest appeared specially clear rustling sounds of someone stepping on dried leaves.

Not for long, a figure of a person appeared from the passage between the forest and the frozen lake.

Seeing that someone has come, Dong Fang Qing Cang wrinkled his eyes. It's because the person who came was merely a disabled person in a wheelchair and also completely due to a mysterious energy attached to that person. Self is a demon king (mo zun) but he unexpectedly cannot see clearly the origin/power of this person.

As for the snake demon who struggled out from Dong Fang Qing Cang's grip, it seemed that she has fallen into an even more terrified state. The person who came has rescued her, but she did not hide behind that person and only hid besides her daughter while prostrating on the ground and hugging her daughter tightly, "Your majesty..."

The owner of the demon market?

Dong Fang Qing Cang's pair of eyebrows slightly moved.

"Recently, the demon market often has males disappearing. Indeed it was you two who have caused it." The daughter of the snake demon trembled within her [mother's] embrace and did not dare look at that person. The male covered his mouth to cough several times, "Go under the frozen lake to receive punishment."

"Your majesty..." The snake demon wanted to plead, but after meeting the ice-like gaze from the owner of the demon market, she immediately lowered her head and agreed [said yes]. She closed the wound on her neck and was about to leave quickly.

Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly snorted coldly and a wave of murderous energy instantaneously grazed across the snake demon's face. It sliced down the ground in front of her.

"Food of ben zuo, thought you can just leave?"

The snake demon did not dare to respond and only glanced quietly toward the owner of the demon market.

The owner of the demon market sat on the wheelchair and there were no servants behind him. Across from Dong Fang Qing Cang he was attempting to suppress the energy and faintly smiled, "Mo zun da jia", excuse me for not going out to meet you. Hope you do not mind this crime."

 Let's just say this is an even more formal way of addressing someone in imperial way.

The snake demon heard this and her eyeballs felt like falling out.

Demon... demon king?

Today she has given the mo zun/demon king from the legends what?

Dong Fang Qing Cang squinted his eyes, "How can you recognize my identity?"

"To say is rather shameful. I have a bit of friendship with the demon realm. It can be considered to be knowledge of the demon realm situation. Now in the mortal realm, a person who has such strong demonic strength like this, who else besides mo zun who has destroyed Hao Tian tower a few days ago? The owner of the demon market smiled and said, "Can only blame for not regulating strictly and has caused underling to conduct disrespectfully with mo zun. In order to compensate, mo zun can casually stroll around the demon market and take any item that one desires."

Dongfang Qing Cang pointed at the snake demon, "Then take her life first."

"Mo zun is surely joking, how can life possibly be brought."

"Does not give." Dong Fang Qing Cang smiled, "Let ben zuo take it myself."

The snake demon heard the words exchanged and was scared that she did not move. She can feel clearly the change in the surrounding energy with her whole body. The two people, one front and one back, did not say anymore words, but the surrounding leaves in the forest began to move bizarrely. When the snake demon thought that the two would make a move, Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly groaned several times as if feeling extremely uncomfortable/ill.

The battling energies from nearby momentarily vanished.

The snake demon risked her life and turned around. She only saw Dong Fang Qing Cang closed his mouth while his face was blacken and lowered. She found it difficult to understand. Before was rather well and suddenly mo zun seemed to be sulking...

"Whether people in the demon market are right or wrong, punishing however is determined by I and will not troubled mo zun." While Dong Fang Qing Cang was silent, the owner of the demon market raised his voice, "As for other matters... In a few days, the crystal city under the frozen lake will sell and auction off a large amount of weapons and treasures. Mo zun can choose as you wishes."
