Chapter 26: Chapter 16

Hearing the suggestions of the owner of the demon market, Dong Fang Qing Cang was not in the least bit moved. He let go of the hand closing the mouth and found back his condescending manner from before, "There never has been someone who dare to disrespect ben zuo and was still whole...ugh ugh..."

Hearing the last two sounds coming from his mouth, the blue vein on Dong Fang Qing Cang's temples [on the sides of his face] jerked, and he raised hands to press them, "...Never has a person retreated while whole... ugh en!"

Little Orchid's soul was sleeping soundly in Dong Fang Qing Cang's body and seemed to be disturbed by his voice, incessantly produced groaning and humming sounds. Dong Fang Qing Cang cannot help but closed the mouth once more. His actions and manner have caused the three people on the side to stare foolishly. The blue vein on Dong Fang Qing Cang's forehead cannot endure anymore and convulsed. When he was enduring, the scene was silent. The snake demon suddenly thought of something and hugged her daughter as she was about to run away. The snake tail that pounded on the ground let out a brief sound.

Did not know where the demonic flames of Dong Fang Qing Cang release, and after hearing such sound, he looked up. In all four directions hostile energy soared and the owner of the demon market could not halt it. A wave of energy cut "swoosh" in the air and sliced a length as wide as a hand on the snake demon's tail!

The snake demon screamed out one sound of pain as the end of the tail was drenched with blood, and she felt the agonizing pain several rounds on the ground.

The gaze from the owner of the demon market slightly congealed.

Dong Fang Qing Cang's face darken and used the hand to grab part of the demon tail, "Ben zuo shall give you face and spare her life. Ben zuo has no interest in the treasures of demon market; find a maker of treasures." The commanding tone was spoken very fast as if adding a bit more will cause him to not control himself.

The snake demon was crying out pitifully while her daughter was curled around her mother and cried in panic. Within these sounds, the owner of the demon market silently gazed for a while at Dong Fang Qing Cang, but was not one bit angered. His gaze swept across Shuo Feng sword placed on Dong Fang Qing Cang's waist and he spoke mildly, "If so mo zun can go to crystal city first under the frozen lake." The owner of the demon market gently raised his hand and a white light suspended in the air, fluttering toward the frozen lake.

Dong Fang Qing Cang closed his mouth tightly and did not speak as he followed the white light under the frozen lake.

It was not until the energy of Dong Fang Qing Cang was completely submerged by the lake water that the black eyes of the owner of the demon market suddenly lighted up and looked at the snake demon who was still weeping in pain on the ground, "Both of you have killed more than a few people. Actions became even more frequent and experienced, courage began to grow even more, and even dare to make a move on the demon king."

"Little demon is senseless, little demon's senseless..." The snake demon crawled shakily on the ground while her daughter did not dare to look up at the owner of the demon market.

"You both have known that I do not usually like to punish, but rules must be kept."

The snake demon's face paled and did not dare make a sound.

"Three thousand years of venomous snake demon is nourishing..." The gaze of the owner of the demon market fell at the sky and in a far away direction— in the direction of Kunlun mountain, "Then let's keep it."

He gently called, "Die Yi." A purple butterfly immediately flew from behind his wheel chair and landed on the right side behind the wheelchair. A ray of light changed and transformed into a purple clothed female who was lowering her head.

 Her name means butterfly clothing. Fudge you aggregator sites, go rot horribly.

"Squeeze out all of her blood and store it." He spoke quite lightly and the female besides him also responded in a squeaky clean manner. Regardless of how much the snake demon on the ground struggled and begged for forgiveness, the purple clothed female coldly stepped in front of her and spread out her hands.

"Your majesty! Your majesty, little demon does not beg for mercy, and only wants Your Majesty to spare my daughter..."

The owner of the demon market's gaze fell dimly on the female demon with a human head and snake tail, "Her ah, she will get to temporarily live, and still has some usefulness."

Little Orchid did not know how long she was hazily sleeping in the darkness. It was not until she slowly recovered her spirit did the surroundings completely changed.

The bottom of the water did not have a single ray of light and only a strange flame floated in the front while swinging as it guided the way.

"Where is this?" Little Orchid spoke up while the eye moved around. Not waiting for Dong Fang Qing Cang to respond, Little Orchid's gaze suddenly fell on his right hand. He was holding the sliced piece of the green snake demon's tail as the tail was incessantly moving and the mouth of the wound was still covered in fresh blood. Little Orchid jerked back and subconsciously wanted to throw away the tail, but the right hand was not subjugated under her control. She can only attempt with her strength to turned her head toward the back, "What is this? This is very disgusting! Dong Fang Qing Cang, don't go picking up messy things carelessly!" Translated by Chocolate Cosmos

Dong Fang Qing Cang shifted the head back with great efforts and when he opened his mouth he had to restrain his rage, "Be quiet for ben zuo."

Little Orchid continued to moved the neck toward the back, "You throw away that then!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang closed the eyes and breathed in as if wanting to die with her, "If you continued to be making a scene, ben zuo will make you drink drug X."

Little Orchid was stunned and then became anxious, "Your heart is really evil."

"Don't believe?"

Little Orchid gritted her teeth and felt with Dong Fang Qing Cang's personality, it can be said that [he] will really do it. Little Orchid did not remembered the main part of what she did after she drank the drug X, but that heated feeling of not being able to dissipate was really uncomfortable for her. She did not want to endure it for the second time. Thus, she did not dare to be stubborn anymore and resentfully turned back head. Her mouth was still muttering, "You are holding the snake tail to scare me off huh, so mean!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang snorted one sound and did not pay anymore attention to her.

When they stopped arguing with one another, the floating flame in the front abruptly halted and only heard "creak" one sound. A ray of light leaked and shone within the darkness and a door opened up. The bustling sounds filled the ears and outside the city there was a wave of extremely strange energy surging forward. Little Orchid's cultivation powers was not enough and has never felt this wave of energy, but Dong Fang Qing Cang knew that it was a grudging energy.

They are the cold and powerful energies from weapons that have been dyed with blood.

The entire blood in Dong Fang Qing Cang's body seemed to be subconsciously flowing faster, "The owner of the demon market said correctly. Here truly has many treasures."

Little Orchid has heard from master a long time ago, Demon King Dong Fang Qing Cang like to battle. In the past would battle against with those in the demon realm and then battle against the heavenly realm. Every single general with little reputation, there hasn't been a person who was not defeated by Dong Fang Qing Cang. It was until he proclaimed that there was no challenger in the three realms and went to Yan mountain to become Dugu Qiubai ("Loner Who Seeks Defeat") that he was finally defeated under Chi De woman.

Little Orchid does not understand why Dong Fang Qing Cang was like this until she felt the surging energy bubbling within his body right now. Little Orchid thus knew, there was something called naturally born.

The crystal city under the frozen lake really was only a palace underwater and the palace seemed to be made out of crystals. Barriers were erected and prevented the inside of the palace from becoming soaked by even a single drop of water.

In the large hall there was a plethora of various demons selling and buying. It was like the demon market on the surface, but this place was demand heavier—very few used gold and silver for the exchanges and only used shark pearls and plenty of soul pressing jade with countless of rare treasure found everywhere. Little Orchid completely gaped.

The white flame was still floating in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang and guided him toward a place where people created treasures, but Little Orchid became captivated by the treasures along the road and was not easily following the floating white flame.

In the stalls besides there were shiny, eye-catching jewelries and inside the store in front there were sophisticated concealed weapons that were especially perfect for females to carry for self-protection. There was also that!

Little Orchid's gaze was suddenly enchanted by a store that sold various attractive dudou (often worn as undergarments). As if she was forced, half of Dong Fang Qing Cang's body limped forward to be beside the store. She rubbed on the red dudou embroidered exquisitely and displayed a gaze of "wanting".

The owner of the store's actual appearance was that of a catfish demon. Her two long whiskers hung down and she saw the sparkling eyes of Dong Fang Qing Cang. She immediately, in an enthusiastic way, used her whiskers to take down the hanging dudou from the stalls and gave it to Dong Fang Qing Cang while her mouth started negotiating, "Little fellow, buy to wear or buy for a lady ah?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang heard such words and his face darkened one half while the other half was Little Orchid who was oppositely clear, "Buy to wear..." Dong Fang Qing Cang closed the mouth and the "bop" noise caused the surrounding people to be alarmed.

The owner smiled indifferently, "Little fellow, having to do business for many years, I understand. Today, man or woman I have sold no less. I will say ah, nowadays can only buy this fragrant dudou I weaved at crystal city. Cannot blame little fellow for being attracted ah. My dudou is a good product as with a look can see the vibrant colors and after a touch, the materials are satisfactory ah. The most importance ah is that this dudou on a regular day cannot smell anything, but after the warmth of the body, within this fabric is an overflowing fragrance, oh my! Truly is enchanting the soul! But what's also more important is that ah..."

The owner poked on the clothing and immediately a rare fragrance permeated. Little Orchid smelled and it's obviously enchanting the soul. Even Dong Fang Qing Cang can smell the pleasant fragrance as evident with his brows.

The owner smirked, "Little fellow only need to apply a bit of heat and already become enchanting. If pressed harder then will lose the life of another. Crystal city of ours only sell weapons and this dudou is also a weapon for self-protection!"

Little Orchid's face cannot hide the brightness and despite how tightly Dong Fang Qing Cang's right hand closed the mouth, she still hissed out a word from the opening, "Buy!" She said, "Buy, buy!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang's face completely darken.

He's the demon king/mo zun, if he bought dudou of the female's at this demon market, then it will spread and what else! He attempted with great efforts to pull the left side of his. Little Orchid risked it and halted while standing at the dudou stall. The two souls fought over the body that was nearly shredded into halves.

But at this time, a seductive aroma suddenly traveled to Little Orchid's nose—it was the smell of food!

Little Orchid tilted the head to the side and saw an owner was using a spatula to stir white pills on a pan while loudly shouting, "Eat one pill and blood in entire body will become poisonous ah! This protective weapon that no one dares to touch and bite ah! Another use is to emphasize largely the beautiful chest and nourish the skin ah! Buy one get one free!"

Emphasize beautiful chest and skin!

Little Orchid's face once again shone and within the moment, vigor surged as [she] pulled on the entire body of Dong Fang Qing Cang to stand in front of the pill stall. She spiritedly pounded on the table and copied the tone of Dong Fang Qing Cang, "Sell ben zuo one pill!"

Seeing the shocked expressions of the surrounding people, Dong Fang Qing Cang did not know how many times it has been of wanting to die, shameful-type of mood...

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 27 - Chapter 17

Chapter 27: Chapter 17

After all, Little Orchid was still not allowed to eat that pill. Dong Fang Qing Cang's face darkens and was using the almost limping leg to jump out from the most crowded area of Crystal City.

Following closely the white flame that was still floating in the front, Dong Fang Qing Cang at that moment did not bother about the surroundings having people, and began to coldly reprimand Little Orchid, "Ben zuo was very benevolent with you and thus, you increasingly did not know propriety?" And I know the avatar will come back.

Not being able to buy the dudou, also cannot buy the pill, Little Orchid was already a bit unhappy, but after hearing the heavy words from Dong Fang Qing Cang, Little Orchid then realized that she was still using the body of Dong Fang Qing Cang, she...

Remembering what happened before, Little Orchid swallowed her saliva. From the looks of outsiders, it seemed that she did do something very dreadful... Somebody once told me

"If matters such as those have another one! Ben zuo will definitely return to Ye city and destroy the Three Realm seal. Wait until there is an opportunity, ben zuo will certainly go to the heavenly realm and cause your master and the other immortals wanting to die, but cannot." The last five words he gritted his teeth and seemed as if understanding deeply, "Does your stubborn head remember ben zuo's words?"

Little Orchid knew she did wrong, drowned out by logic, and only listened silently as she was scolded. She obediently followed the walking pace of Dong Fang Qing Cang.

It was until the flame guiding the way halted that the rage inside Dong Fang Qing Cang was relieved.

Little Orchid looked up and saw a small darkly-lit house that hung two words on the gate "Craftsman house". Inside carried sounds of poking, and Dong Fang Qing Cang stepped in. The house was not large and had 2-3 craftsmen working. The backdoor was opened wide and outside was a sturdy male blowing on the fire to forge a double-edged sword.

When Dong Fang Qing Cang stepped in, the gazes of everyone were in his direction. Dong Fang Qing Cang merely used his condescending eyes to sweep around the room. Afterwards, took the snake tail hung on the waist from before down and tossed it in front of a slow-witted mouse demon who was shaving wood at that time amongst other things.

Suddenly seeing a snake tail that was dripping with blood and still struggling, the mouse demon was scared and cried "ji*". After that, anxiously and panicky looked up at Dong Fang Qing Cang. *imagine a mouse crying in pain fudge you aggregator sites go rot

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not look even once at the mouse demon and removed Shuo Feng sword from the waist, "swoosh" one sound, and planted it on the ground. In a moment, that area of land "ka ka" froze into a thick layer of ice. The coldness spread to two chi of the surroundings and then stopped.

*Che is a measurement that is around one-third of a meter.

"Take the snakeskin to make a scabbard for this sword. How many days will be done?"

All the craftsmen looked at Shuo Feng sword. Their gazes were momentarily fascinated as everyone's displayed a ray of light with a gasp of admiration while they encircled closer to inspect.

As for Little Orchid, she exclaimed Dong Fang Qing Cang's extraordinary powers. Before Shuo Feng was on Dong Fang Qing Cang's body, it did not diffuse out a single bit of coldness. Dong Fang Qing Cang's body was continuously using powers to suppress it. The sword has a sword soul and was also the immortal sword used by Chi De woman along with its attribute opposing with that of Dong Fang Qing Cang's, but when he suppressed it, not a single strength was expended much.

Little Orchid felt that these past days, perhaps it was that she was in an absolutely safe place and thus, the things she has done were becoming too excessive. Thus it's time for her to repent deeply on her recent actions. She has to think of a way when they do separate; a way so that she won't have to die under the claws she had used before...

During the time Little Orchid's mind was pondering all around, the craftsmen have responded to Dong Fang Qing Cang and said the scabbard will probably be done in a few days.

Dong Fang Qing Cang was not skimpy on time. He only threatened and scared craftsmen a bit, demanding that they do it well. They can only create the scabbard and cannot look greedily at Shuo Feng. After, he left the craftsman room.

Little Orchid was not at ease, and turned around to look, "Leaving the sword there, what if they steal the sword?" She said, "That is the sword that we laboriously acquired."

Hearing the two words "we", Dong Fang Qing Cang was not happy and snorted coldly, "Basing on them they will not get close to Shuo Feng past one che. Leaving the sword there for them to measure."

*It was two words in the original text, but when translating it doesn't need two words to specify "referring both speaker and person spoken to". Chocolate Cosmos' translations

Little Orchid pouted at the Dong Fang Qing Cang's haughty words. Dong Fang Qing Cang was already used to her action of pulling on his face muscle and was not sad;

thus, he changed the topic, "Ben zuo has been away from life for several tens of thousands of years and am very unclear on the matters of the mortal realm."

Dong Fang Qing Cang saying such words has truly caused Little Orchid to be somewhat startled. Within the time they interacted, Dong Fang Qing Cang always appeared as omnipotent. The truth was evident. He was able to say anything and dare to do anything. With the matters of being defeated by Chi De woman and "dying" in the ancient times, Dong Fang Qing Cang has never mentioned them before as if that matters have never influenced his life after his resurrection.

But this statement has made Little Orchid discovered that Dong Fang Qing Cang really took it to heart the past event. During the time he came back, he always avoided mentioning that matter. It seems like he really cared about the matter...

"Before has heard you said that your master knew every matter of the world. Has [master] ever mentioned the owner of the demon market's background?"

Little Orchid blinked, "Has never mentioned before ah. I came to the demon market and then knew about its owner." I ain't the sharpest tool in the shed but i got morals~

Dong Fang Qing Cang casted his eyes lower in silent to contemplate.

The exchanges in Crystal city were still continuing. Little Orchid standing in front of the craftsman shop entrance was very bored. The eyes began to follow the bustling sounds. Dong Fang Qing Cang also detected that and he looked in the direction of the market while briefly pondering, "Can go look around but! Must listen to ben zuo!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang spoke, his voice sounded as if he was talking to children, "Cannot go jumping around recklessly, nor shouting out loudly."

In regards to Dong Fang Qing Cang allowing her to stroll around the market, Little Orchid felt incomparably astonished. After the surprise, she repeatedly nodded, "Well good. Listen to you on everything."

After, Dong Fang Qing Cang began to step forward and before Little Orchid's eyes can see what was in the stalls on the side, Dong Fang Qing Cang has stepped on a large ice chunk inside the store.

Little Orchid was silent...So it's Dong Fang Qing Cang himself...who wanted to look around.

The grudging energy inside the room was quite strong compared to outside by a lot. It caused Little Orchid to feel that this store was very dignified. In the corner, there were two to three demons with gorgeous hats and coats selecting swords. The shop assistant said, "This sword has sword evil energy, dark energy, resentment energy, energies of all kinds. The only thing missing is murderous energy. If go to a battleground in the mortal realm then can collect a lot..."

Little Orchid turned head to examine one round around the store. It was no different from the weapons outside, yet the ones inside were more unusual.

The owner of the store was an elder with a grey beard and was sitting in the corner calculating the accounts. When Dong Fang Qing Cang just entered through the door, the elder man's face lighted up, and after that let go of the golden abacus in hand to step forward.

"What does gentleman need?" Looking on the outside, Little Orchid does not know what was the actual appearance of the store owner and thought his cultivation powers must be very high.

Dong Fang Qing Cang paid no attention to him and arrogant gaze circled around the store then landed at a bouquet of flowers on the wall.

"Ben zuo wants that." Dong Fang Qing Cang spoke up and it was the gaze of rigorous schemes and deep foresight from the elder with the grey beard that flashed nothing.

"Gentleman, that is only fake flowers on the wall of my store, will not sell."

Dong Fang Qing Cang sneered, "Ben zuo asked if you sell or not?"

The store owner changed complexion, "What does gentleman mean?"

"Does not make sense of what one is hearing?" "Ben zuo wants it, does not need to know your opinion."

The store owner silently looked at Dong Fang Qing Cang for a while, "Gentleman, my place is a place of buying and selling."

Dong Fang Qing Cang smiled and slightly rotated the right hand's palm. A small stone of gold was tossed by him in front of the elder. Little Orchid knew that was a crystal that the demonic strength of Dong Fang Qing Cang condensed into. A small, puny stone like this probably does not consume a lot of Dong Fang Qing Cang's power, but according to this demon market or with the Three Realms, it was a rare treasure ah!

Having the essence crystal of mo zun can use the power of mo zun, can practice the magic powers of ancient demon race. Even if one does not practice, only need to absorb it was enough for power to increase tremendously within a moment. At that point, immortality will no longer be a pipe dream and even traveling between the Three Realms is no longer a dream.

Little Orchid wanted to take back the lump of crystal since it was something that can disrupt the order of the mortal realm.

But before Little Orchid makes a move, the elder man with the grey beard grabbed the crystal of Dong Fang Qing Cang. He looked at the stone and then looked at Dong Fang Qing Cang. The red face complexion paled and in the end only knew how to speak in shudder, "Mo zun? mo zun?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang glanced at the wall, "Take it down."

The elderly man's attitude immediately changed. He nodded head and bow while bending to take the bouquet of flowers on the wall. Placed it in Dong Fang Qing Cang's hands. Dong Fang Qing Cang grabbed the left hand that Little Orchid controlled and placed the flower on the left hand wrist. Only heard rustling noise and echoing burst. The flower has completely disappeared without a trace and only left one vine winding around the wrist.

Not bothering to look at the wildly joyful expression of the store owner after acquiring the crystal essence, Dong Fang Qing Cang turned around to leave the store.

"Wait... big devil..."

"This is bone-orchid." Dong Fang Qing Cang said, "It really protects the owner. Carry it with you, when there is danger, only need to raise the left hand up. Ben zuo does not want to let the other half of the body unguarded."

"Ah...thank you, but big devil..."

"Wear it well, the demon market is strange. The owner of the demon market is mysterious and hard to guess. Perhaps there is sinister intent. Despite ben zuo having an immortal body, right now does not want to waste laborious time here."

"Eh...but big devil..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed brows, "What is it?"

Little Orchid said, "Was it not you who was looking for someone named Xie Wanqing. I just heard the two people buying swords in the store said that Xie Wanqing is in a battle..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang's steps halted and turned around to look at the store. Eyes suddenly shone several parts and Little Orchid immediately felt it. This was the feeling of burning with anger that had appeared once again in the body.

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 28 - Chapter 18.1

Chapter 28: Chapter 18.1

Little Orchid never expected the Shuo Feng sword that Dong Fang Qing Cang has boundlessly and laboriously took back, said would toss and did tossed...

He tossed the sword in Crystal City at the demon market for the craftsmen to make the scabbard and then rode the clouds to Lucheng.

Lucheng is one of the key military region of Great Jin. The city tower has been built in rain and wind for three hundred years, but now it's wobbly. The reason is not anything else—Great Jin collected high, burdensome taxes and every three year there would be a drought. While the people's sufferings were untold, the emperor did not care for imperial politics and each night would enjoy lavishly. In the end, it has caused the citizens to raise the flag and revolted.

The rebel army met the corrupted government army and like slitting a hot knife through butter, they killed all the way to Lucheng.

But Lucheng was still an key, strategic town for the military. The rebel army did not attack with success, and dug around the city to besiege. They intended to confine the army of Lucheng to death and forced the general in charge of the city to surrender. But over the years, Lucheng has stored supplies and the general guarding the city refused to surrender.

Until today, the rebel army has camped in front of Lucheng's city walls for eight days. Continuing like this, only afraid that the army provisions of the rebels would have problems.

"The day after tomorrow they will definitely siege the city." Little Orchid stood on the walls of Lucheng and lowered head to look at the army outside from afar, "Often master will write siege after ten days."

Dong Fang Qing Cang was naturally uninterested with this and he turned around to walk on the wall that was guarded strictly. He has already performed the hidden body spell and whooshed past in front of the guarding soldiers' faces without slightest amount of detection from them.

Dong Fang Qing Cang's eyes shifted around the faces of the soldiers guarding the city, "Xie Wanqing's not here." Finished speaking, he jumped off the city wall and went inside the city.

Inside the city was the night curfew and not a single person was on the streets. Even a dog barking cannot be heard and such scene has caused Little Orchid to feel constrained. She brought up a topic to resolve her feeling, "Big devil, you hurriedly searched for Xie Wanqing because you love her ah?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang paid no attention to her.

Little Orchid pouted, "I guess that's not it." Little Orchid said, "Following my observations over time, you ah, is petty and terrible. Remembering someone like this is definitely not because you love the person. It's more like a thief remembering the wealth, and like a dog remembering a meat-bun..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang, "..."

Little Orchid responded, "I feel that it's definitely you seeking out the other person for revenge."

Dong Fang Qing Cang laughed coldly, "How ben zuo goes about does not need you to ask? When ben zuo killed her, you go take her body to use then..." oo

"You want to kill her!" Little Orchid cut off Dong Fang Qing Cang's words and widened eyes, "How can that be! If her longevity did not end yet, you killing her will break the Heaven law. When I do go into her body, it's considered stealing another's stuff. This matter is completely different from waiting for her longevity to fade then pick up the corpse."

Dong Fang Qing Cang only snorted disdainfully at Little Orchid's allegations. He was about to refute her, yet he suddenly saw a team of soldiers that were hurriedly walking past. The person in charge was a female wearing armor with a graceful figure.

She ordered people to guard at the alley's head and only brought along a famous doctor into the alley. After passing two to three houses, she pushed the gates to go in the courtyard. lololol

Dong Fang Qing Cang's line of vision followed the female's silhouette and then without hesitation, caught up to her as she stepped toward the courtyard.

"That's Xie Wanqing ah?" Little Orchid asked, "How do you know her?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not responded, but Little Orchid can feel that Dong Fang Qing Cang's emotions were secretly boiling.

Stepping in the little courtyard, the heavy smell of medicine gushed out. Dong Fang Qing Cang did not go through the door, but passed directly through the walls. Inside the house, a paled-face male was sitting on the bed and armored-wearing female was standing beside him. Her lovely figure was straightened adeptly which was rarely seen in an ordinary female, but at that time, between her eyebrows was tinged with melancholy.

The doctor checked the male's pulse. Afterwards, he stroked his beard and shook his head.

The female did not respond and only let the doctor outside to prescribe medicine. She sat next to the male and lightly held his hand. She gently stroked his palms.

The male opened his eyes and quietly peered at her. The paled-face grew a smile and then held the female's hands. He wrote several words on the palm of her hands and the female saw. She was quiet for a while and then wrote several words onto the palm of his hands. But in the midst of writing, she seemed to not want to continue. She lowered head and was motionless as if extremely dejected.

The male held her hands and the ten fingers stuck to one another as if silently encouraging her.

The atmosphere between the two was congealed, but was filled with deep emotions. This has caused Little Orchid to be really moved, "It turned out to be an ill, deaf male with a female general; the two definitely loved each other very much... Hey hey hey! Dong Fang Qing Cang! What are you doing?!"

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 29 - Chapter 18.2

Chapter 29: Chapter 18.2

[She] only saw the right hand of Dong Fang Qing Cang's hand transformed into a claw and the fingernails shone with a cold ray. It was about to grab the female general's back. Little Orchid was startled and pulled back Dong Fang Qing Cang's right hand. She squeezed it tightly into his chest, "At this time you want to kill her?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang obviously was impatient, "Soon enough she has to die. Isn't ben zuo helping her by freeing her a good thing?"

"Nonetheless early or late she will die. You waiting a few days for her isn't bad!" Little Orchid said, "If she was Xie Wanqing, then will not live past a few days. Anyway, Shuo Feng sword is not finished yet, you wait here."

Dong Fang Qing Cang's face was unhappy, "Let go."

"Won't let go."

"Causing another mess and ben zuo will make you drink drug X."

Little Orchid was being foolish and then said, "If you gave it for me to drink then I will find that male."

Dong Fang Qing Cang's entire body was billowing with hostile energy.

"Who's there?" The armored-wearing female suddenly stood up and took out the sword from the sheath. She stared toward the direction of Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Little Orchid was startled and almost believed the female really saw Dong Fang Qing Cang. But she soon found out that the female merely looked in the direction of Dong Fang Qing Cang and cannot really see his body form.

Thinking like so was of course, how can a mortal see the hiding spell of mo zun, but being able to feel hostile energy was no easy matter. This female was unordinary... Little Orchid furrowed her brows and the candlelight flickered. She suddenly felt that the figure of the female was rather familiar, but did not remember when [they've] met.

The atmosphere was quiet for a bit. The ill male from behind pulled on her hand and the female turned around. She smiled with him and slowly said, "It's because I was too cautious." Recognizing the lip outline, the male silently pardoned her and held her hands while smiling gently.

The female put the sword back and sat next to the male for a while. When Little Orchid thought they would remained sitting and silently looking at each other for the entire night, the female suddenly lowered head, "In a few days the people moment of approach will be quite torrential. As for my side that are guarding, [they] have become so weary...Perhaps cannot withstand much longer."

She said a lot and very quickly. The male cannot read the outlines of her, but he was not in a rush. He was smiling gently at her because the female was also smiling gently. The steadfast eyes looked at him as if speaking loving words instead of farewells.

"The Xie family owes the late emperor. Even if it was a war death, I cannot surrender to the rebels. Today will go and I will likely not return." She gently stroked the outlines of the eyes, tip of the nose, cheeks, and lips' edge of the male, "I know, without me you will still drink medicine. Will see live wonderfully and does not dwell in the past. Will not throw away yourself to despair, right?"

The last two words she said slowly and clearly. The male nodded.

She was silent for a bit and then hugged the male. She rubbed the head against the hollow neck for a while then let go, "Within the army there are still matters. I will leave then."

She left the room and Dong Fang Qing Cang was about to follow. Little Orchid turned around to glance at the male in the room. After the female left, it seemed that he has depleted all his strength and wearily closed eyes. The breathing weakened and appeared to be almost dying.

Little Orchid cannot bear to, but thinking again, this is the matter of mortals and she cannot intervene.

"You sympathize with them?" Dong Fang Qing Cang spoke.

His eyes peered toward the dresser mirror on the shelf. In the mirror appeared two faces, one is his and the other was Little Orchid.

Little Orchid in the mirror was lowering head and rarely had a moment of silence, "Master said, sickness, aging, and death are through the cycle of reincarnation. The previous lifetime has a reason and then next life has a result. The matters of the world has nothing to sympathize with or not."

Dong Fang Qing Cang mocked, "But you still sympathize with them." The tone was rather assertive.

Little Orchid was quiet.

"If you did not prevented ben zuo from killing her, ben zuo can let the two of them die happily together for a bit."

Little Orchid looked up and the shiny eyes gazed at Dong Fang Qing Cang's arrogant expression in the mirror. She pretended to worry for him, "But doing so will violate the Heaven law..." somebody once told me

Dong Fang Qing Cang appeared to be condescending and said a sentence that Little Orchid wanted to hear, "Ben zuo has already broken a plethora of Heaven laws and lacks nothing like this matter."

Thus Little Orchid was jubilated, "I prevented you, but cannot prevent enough. Master will not fault me."

Dong Fang Qing Cang sneered.

Little Orchid was joyful. In the mirror, she used the face to rub against Dong Fang Qing Cang's cheek, "Big devil, you still have a conscience."

In actuality, after being rubbed on the face by Little Orchid, Dong Fang Qing Cang only saw but cannot feel anything. Yet, looking at Little Orchid rubbing against his cheek while laughing giddily, Dong Fang Qing Cang was suddenly in a daze. He turned the head and did not look at the two shadows in the mirror anymore, "Do not attempt to prevent ben zuo from taking action. If not, then after you leave ben zuo's body, ben zuo will definitely cause your soul to disperse."

Reminded of this, Little Orchid became deeply worried and sick at heart, but after pondering on Dong Fang Qing Cang's words, she blinked and asked, "Saying so, if I do not prevent you from taking action, later on I leave this body, you won't kill me, right?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang snorted and did not respond.

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 30 - Chapter 19.1

Chapter 30: Chapter 19.1

In the demon realm and inside a completely dark room, Shang Que speaking as he stood besides the bed, "Intelligence gatherers have passed the news and the day before yesterday, has seen mo zun at the demon market of Kulun."

The person drinking medicine while on bed faintly paused, "Mo zu going to the demon market of Kunlun?" Even though the person speaking was a male, but the voice has caused those hearing to feel a strange seduction, "Why did he came there?"

"Went to Crystal City. Perhaps was for purchasing weaponry. But there was something strange." Shang Que furrowed brows, "Intelligence gatherers have said, before he went to Crystal City, already hung a sword. In addition, after arriving at Crystal City, speech and actions of mo zun...were rather suspicious."

"Oh? How suspicious?"

"He...seemed to be interested in dudou and growing-chest pills of females..."

Shang Que rubbed the area between the eyebrows, "Kong Que, was that really the ancient mo zun? The days after he had woken up, gestures at the demon realm were truly peculiar. All day would whispered and muttered to oneself, and...also like male appearance..."

"Ancient mo zun cannot avoid having a bit of devilish nature, but these matters do not affect the great goal, however..." Kong Que placed the bowl of medicine down and eyes grew cold, "Hao Tian tower, Kunlun mountain, he also wanted to find a female mortal."

"Is there something bizarre?"

"Shang Que, in order to restore mo zun, we had gone through so many books. Have you forgotten, the common similarity of those three things?" Kong Que got down from the bed and went toward the bronze mirror to look at himself. He rubbed the paled lips, "There was an ancient immortal, before disappearing was coincidentally related to these two matters." Allstar~~~~

Shang Que was in a daze, "Chi De woman..."

"In the ancient books, there were none that recorded where she was before she disappeared. But following my prediction, a person like her was also like mo zun. Immortal and remained existing. After mo zun died, there was really no one else that can defeat her. Within the Three Realms and five elements, she went to the underworld and undergo from one reincarnation to another. If not then will not completely disappeared like this." Kong Que used the finger to rub lips until red, and the colors became easy to look at for a bit, "Perhaps mo zun is searching for Chi De woman."

Shang Que was shocked, "He...he has become separated from life for so long, how can he know the places she went when Chi De woman was alive?"

"Mo zu loves to battle, from the ancient times, as long as it's a prey he has targeted, will definitely be found out. Furthermore, that is Chi Di woman who has defeated him." Kong Que paused, "Like we who restored mo zun, he wants to restore Chi De woman."

Shang Que was alarmed, "Restoring Chi De woman is definitely disadvantageous to our demon realm."

Kong Que's appearance congealed, "Maybe not even waiting for her to cause disadvantage toward the demon realm, we wouldn't have collect sweet fruit." He turned to look at Shang Que, "The battle between Dong Fang Qing Cang and Chi De woman has caused stars to turn upside down and the space-time to become chaotic. That was not something exaggerated from the legend. The Heavenly realm cannot bear another battle of theirs and we also cannot ah."

Shang Que swallowed saliva, "Now how to persuade mo zun..."

"An arrogant person like that will not be persuaded by anyone." Kong Que sighed heavily, "If mo zun does not minded the matter of ancient times and was a bit less aggressive, then that would be great." He raised the hand and placed it on the bronze mirror. The mirror that appeared ordinary suddenly shook out a bizarre wave. Kong Que's hand slowly reached inside and seemed to touch something. His expression in a split second was in pain. Translations by BananaChocolateCosmos

He withdrew the hand. Before the bronze mirror restored back to tranquil state, a surge of black energy followed his fingertips and flew out. Only a bit of energy has already caused Shang Que who was standing by to become rigid. It seemed to be a strange feeling of resentment flowing out. Shang Que hurriedly suppressed mental state, "What is that?"

"This is something that will make Dong Fang Qing Cang listen to us."

At that time, Dong Fang Qing Cang was thousand of miles away and suddenly halted steps. The left leg of Little Orchid stepped forward, but did not see the right leg following. She also halted and strangely asked, "What's the matter?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang looked at the sky for a while then paid no attention to Little Orchid. He continued to walk forward.

Little Orchid could not restrained curiosity and asked Dong Fang Qing Cang, "In the end, what way will you make them happy ah?" Chocolate Cosmos translated this

Dong Fang Qing Cang responded coldly in a simple answer, "Solve their trouble."

"What?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly jumped in the middle of the city wall. At this time, the gate of Lucheng was closed tightly. Several meters outside were camps of the rebels. Eight thousand soldiers were gathered here and it seemed that they were about to siege. The warhorses were pulled to go out and the troops were formed properly. The hostile energy on the battlefield rolled and burst into face. This caused Little Orchid to feel somewhat constrained.

Dong Fang Qing Cang's eyes were condescending and he slowly raised the right hand.

Little Orchid suddenly flashed an ominous premonition, "Big devil, the trouble you said is it not..."

Not finished with the words and as if lightning struck in the middle of the sky, a forceful spell congregated into a protective screen that enveloped ten zhang* in front of Lucheng's gate. The protective screen of power sliced deeply into the ground and caused the ground concaved into a moat that was one zhang!

* zhang: around 3.3 meters

Little Orchid stared until dumbstruck.

The ground shook and not only caused the rebels to become terrified, even caused the gate soldiers to stagger. As for the soldiers stationed above Lucheng walls also felt the shaking and were curiously looking in the far distance. They did not understand what was happening.
