

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 66 - Chapter 43

Dong Fang Qing Cang has threatened Little Orchid with one statement and then went unconscious.

He unexpectedly slept quite soundly, but Little Orchid was alert so much to the point of being extremely bored.

On this isolated island, as far as the eye can see, there are just reef rocks. Even a blade of grass was not able to grow. Little Orchid went one round around the island and had to return back to Dong Fang Qing Cang's side. She looked Dong Fang Qing Cang's excessively handsome face to the point of boredom and got sick of it. So she lied down besides Dong Fang Qing Cang and fell asleep peacefully.

After one night and in the morning afterward, Little Orchid woke up from the bright sunlight. She opened her eyes, and was almost blinded by the sunlight.

The surrounding dark-colored reef rocks also began to heat up following the sun each time as sun rose up higher.

Little Orchid turned her head around to look at Dong Fang Qing Cang who was lying straight down on the rock. She felt that this wouldn't work. If Dong Fang Qing Cang was heated up on the ground here, when he does wake up, he will become a dried corpse big devil.

This kind roaming the street would scare people...

Little Orchid briefly pondered that the sunlight will pass by toward the direction of the reef rocks on the island. After examining carefully, in the end she found a rock cave that can block the intense sunshine from all directions.

She returned and supported Dong Fang Qing Cang's arms up. She pulled and dragged him toward the rock cave. When finished moving Dong Fang Qing Cang to the shady area, Little Orchid was exhausted and panted heavily like a puppy. Dong Fang Qing Cang's clothes were tore at various spots.

Little Orchid arbitrarily tossed him on the ground, disregarding the strange position and the silver hair that covered up the face, like a corpse that was tossed away...

Naturally Dong Fang Qing wouldn't know such matters, and Little Orchid didn't bother paying attention to.

She was bored to death as she watched over Dong Fang Qing Cang for a long time. She saw that the sky outside the sun has formed two rings, but Dong Fang Qing Cang still hasn't woken up. She stared at Dong Fang Qing Cang's pair of closed eyes so closely and then felt the faint breathing on his nose. A thought rose that perhaps he would never wake up.

Little Orchid looked at the reef rocks outside and secretly pondered, the mind of Dong Fang Qing Cang was really filled with calculations. On this island if she wanted to dig a plot of land out to bury him, would not be possible.

The entire day of being bored as she watched over Dong Fang Qing Cang was not a solution. Thus, Little Orchid began to think of things to amuse.

She wanted to go near the ocean to fish, but does not have a fishing rod and thus, she used the scariest pair of eyes to look intensely at Dong Fang Qing Cang's left hand. After that, made the movement of wanting to squeeze Dong Fang Qing Cang's neck and waited for the bone orchid around his hand to sprout out a dried rattan vine. Alas, no matter how much she scared Dong Fang Qing Cang for a long time, the bone orchid still wouldn't move. Little Orchid grew angry and stood up to kick onto the stone in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Yet after [she] kicked, the bone orchid on Dong Fang Qing Cang's wrist suddenly moved and sprouted out a long dry rattan vine that halted in front of Little Orchid's eyes as it almost pierced through her eyeballs.

Little Orchid was startled and stood in bewilderment. After a while she then retreated one step and crouched body to snap "ka" the dry rattan vine off. Then she picked several long hair strands of Dong Fang Qing Cang and "plucked both the roots and tips" to carefully knot and tied onto the top of the rattan vine.

A snapping sound.

She carried the fishing rod that she self-made out from the cave and selected a stone on the ground that was filled with reef rocks. She exerted effort in sharpening it during the entire morning and was able to make a fishing hook to attached onto the rod.

The fishing rod that Little Orchid has self-made was a successfully accomplished. Little Orchid went to the place with reef rocks near coast to catch several crabs and placed them on the ledges of the rocks to smash and then scattered the bait across the ocean. She grabbed a few to put on the hook and then sat by the ocean coastline as she yawned and waited for the fish to bite the hook.

Does not know whether the heaven has pitied her or Little Orchid was extremely lucky as she was able to catch three fish that bit onto the one hook of hers.

This body of Little Orchid does know hunger and truly doesn't need to eat. However, at this time she is really bored and really wanted to cut open these fish and placed on the ledges of the rocks to dry, but did not find anything like a knife after looking around.

Thus, [she] peered toward the direction of Dong Fang Qing Cang and then hugged fish as she jolted to [his] side.

Little Orchid sat next to Dong Fang Qing Cang, and picked up his fingernails. She used the sharp fingernails of his to tear open the fish belly and the belly of the fish immediately ripped in one opening.

Little Orchid looked until her body grew trembling cold and then followed the old method as she courageously "executes" the second fish.

When Dong Fang Qing Cang woke up, he looked at his hands reeking of blood and was stared blankly. After leaving the cave and just when he swept with his eyes, he can see Little Orchid who was fishing and dozing off. Besides her were several cut opened fish hung dry. Even Dong Fang Qing Cang was not able to contain the twitch from the corner of his mouth.

This...

This little flower demon really does not regard him as anything.

He came behind Little Orchid who was still nodding off into sleep. Seeing the fishing rod in her hand, Dong Fang Qing Cang's forehead grew green veins and looked in the water to see the demonic snake was biting the fish on Little Orchid's fishing rod. The hook floated back and forth, not knowing how long it was hanging below...

Dong Fang Qing Cang had no trace of politeness as he kicked onto back of Little Orchid's head, "The fish has bitten onto the hook."

Little Orchid was quivered and subconsciously pulled up the fishing rod. Dong Fang Qing Cang raised hand to grab the fishing rod string made from his hair and expression did not change as he took the fish down.

At this time, Little Orchid suddenly remembered, "Big devil, you woke up!"

The color of her face was a rosy red, and her eyes were shimmering. It seemed the fact that he has awakened made her very joyful.

Dong Fang Qing Cang glanced at her and then eyes shifted, "These days can considered that you have done what you're told."

Little Orchid pouted, "Having came here, where else would I go."

Dong Fang Qing Cang looked at the fish that she hung dry on the ground and asked, "You're hungry?"

Little Orchid shook her head, "Just hanging dry." She examined Dong Fang Qing Cang from top to bottom, "Have you stopping feeling painful?"

" [Is still] Painful. But has already somewhat suppressed. The curse has also somewhat weakened." Dong Fang Qing Cang sneered, "This curse is quite difficult to deal with as it was able to persist to now and can be considered to have the capability. Continuing on any longer and the person who has casted the curse will suffer a backfire."

Little Orchid looked at the Dong Fang Qing Cang's pair of fresh-red eyes flickering murderous energy and secretly pondered that after he returns to demon realm he will perhaps ignite a battle of bloody rain and smelly wind...

Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly spoke up, "Big Yu.*"

*Technically this creature can also be called Great ... but I'm linking the creature to Dong Fang Qing Cang who is called big devil (he can also be called Great Devil, but I personally feel that Little Orchid doesn't consider him as great lol).

The reef rocks under the feet stirred and Little Orchid turned head around. The demonic snake has once again appeared and it obediently placed its head on a boulder and prostrated under Dong Fang Qing Cang's feet while bowing its head and following with its eyes.

Little Orchid suddenly felt that this gigantic snake that is seemingly majestic, yet toward Dong Fang Qing Cang is displaying a bit of...flattery...

Dong Fang Qing Cang stepped onto the demonic snake's head and then stepped on its back while saying, "Go to demon market in Kunlun mountains."

Little Orchid was motionless and vision followed his shadow. Dong Fang Qing Cang who walking in front suddenly halted and turned around to frown at her, "What are you calculating*?"

*Actual idiom used: Counting on a narrow abacus; suggesting the person calculating or planning out something.

Little Orchid quickly waved her hands and she also stepped onto Big Yu's head. After that she climbed askew on top and was struggling when a hand suddenly held in front of Little Orchid. Little Orchid was in a daze and lifted head to look. The shadow of Dong Fang Qing Cang's back was lighted and the pair of fresh red eyes did not contain any emotion, yet has a reflection of her figure.

Little Orchid lowered her eyes and placed her hand onto Dong Fang Qing Cang's hand.

The hollow of the palm grew warm and then was grasped strongly. She was pulled onto Big Yu's back.

Little Orchid sat in the back and looked at his shadow and the long silver hair that was fluttering in the breeze. Occasionally there would be a few strands that flew in front and lightly brushed against her cheeks as if gently caressing. Little Orchid suddenly felt if Dong Fang Qing Cang knew how to be gentle then perhaps he would be a perfect lover...

Little Orchid startled herself and was in a daze at her thought.

She...from a moment ago has...placed Demon King next to the word "lover"?

She...is crazy?

When Little Orchid was still surprised with herself, the voice of Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly rose up, "Little flower demon."

"Ah?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang slightly leaned, "Give your hand to me."

Little Orchid stared blankly and repeated, "Ah?"

As if losing patience, Dong Fang Qing Cang grabbed her right hand and after that Little Orchid felt achy as the bone orchid from Dong Fang Qing Cang's wrist crawled across and turned into bracelet that clung onto her wrist.

Dong Fang Qing Cang let go of Little Orchid and did not appeared to say anything.

Little Orchid dazed out as she looked at the bone orchid on her wrist and then bewilderedly asked him, "Why give to me?"

If it was not due to this object, then during the time Dong Fang Qing Cang lost his powers, does not know how pitiful he would become. Yet, he has given such an important, protective object to her?

"Ben zuo has retreated powers. Even though the curse remained, but cannot be easily used. Naturally, self-protection is not a problem and does not need anymore, But you need it."

Little Orchid was briefly silent then nodded, "That's right, this xi rang body is quite valuable, cannot let it be damaged."

Dong Fang Qing Cang heard such and head slightly tilted to glance at Little Orchid who was playing with the bone orchid on her hand. Dong Fang Qing Cang turned around and was briefly silent until he said, "Not only the xi rang, you also need to be protected."

Little Orchid was stumped for words.

"Ben zuo has promised to find you a different body. Thus, until then will not let something happened to you." Dong Fang Qing Cang did not turn around and only left Little Orchid a cold shadow of the back, but the words he has spoke were not the usual apathy, "Therefore, you can be at ease by ben zuo.'s side."

The meaning behind Dong Fang Qing Cang's words were said before, but at that time Little Orchid heard such and did not feel anything...

Yet, at this time hearing such has caused her state of mind to become chaotic.

She lowered head, pulled hair behind ear, and then nodded, "Oh."

The speed of Big Yu was quite fast.

When arriving at the Kunlun demon market it was still the afternoon and after coming across the main street of Kunlun demon market ashore, Big Yu flew quite low.

The people underneath felt the heavy demon energy ushering toward and one after another lifted head to consecutively shout in panic. Little Orchid looked under and saw the various heaven cultivators and demons that were selling. There were also various people from the demon realm that mixed in and were intensely peering at them.

Little Orchid felt a bit embarrassed, "Like this isn't it too ostentatious..."

Sentence was not finished as the frozen lake has appeared within view.

"Hold tightly onto the snake scales." As Dong Fang Qing Cang's voice was lightly spoken, Little Orchid has already seen the head of Big Yu knocking down onto the frozen lake and broke the ice to move. When Little Orchid felt that she was about to be thrown, a hand suddenly grabbed her waist to hold tightly. After that she could only see around her were bubbles that constantly emerged. When closed eyes and then opened once more, Dong Fang Qing Cang has already brought her into the demon market boundary at the bottom of the lake and has landed right in the middle of the demon market.

The bustling noises from the surroundings immediately grew dead silent. The demon that sold the Heavenly Fragrant duduo was still there, and the elder that sold medicine was still there. Everyone was peering at the two.

Little Orchid lifted head to look. Big Yu was obstructed outside by the boundary, but it was not in a hurry as it leisurely swam back and forth in the lake, causing the demon market ground at the bottom of the lake to completely consist of his shadow swimming. Its body was gigantic like a dragon and caused those to feel an indiscernible pressure.

Little Orchid felt embarrassed and she scratched her head, "Everyone...continue. We came to pick up something."

Finished speaking, she was pulled by Dong Fang Qing Cang toward the weaponry stalls.

Author's Preview: Shuo Feng sword has been taken away? Who?

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 67 - Chapter 44

Chapter 67: Chapter 44

As you read along, there will be people addressing Dong Fang Qing Cang as Da Ren Mo Zun, which most know mo zun is demon king. Da Ren can take slightly differences in meaning depending on who they are using that term when addressing someone.

Translating literal for da ren, you would get big god or big grown-up, which is quite a weird translation for addressing a demon king. Thus, I opt to use "great demon king" instead. Also, occasionally, they will say da ren only to refer to DFQC, and thus, I translated that as "your greatness" to keep the consistency. Hope none of the readers mind this and if anyone does, I'll simply revert to da ren (pinyin) again since it's commonly used in other Chinese novels.

After walking the path halfway, Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly paused.

Little Orchid did not halt in time and slammed into his back. She lifted head to look and saw that Dong Fang Qing Cang turned back to peer at a store on the side of the path. Little Orchid recognized this store. That place was the one where Dong Fang Qing Cang used a crystal congregated from his powers to "buy" the bone orchid.

"Big devil?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not bother listening and turned around to walk straight toward the direction of that store.

At this time, the owner was still fiddling with the abacus and sensed someone getting closer. He immediately lifted head up to look and then become dazed. He quickly withdrew the abacus and the paralyzed facial expression from before immediately grew a smile, "The great demon king, what has your lordship come to this store for ah?" He rubbed his hands, "Just by chance, was calculating about the sold crystal that your lordship have used your powers to congregated from before. Your lordship take a look to see if there is anything else you need in this store, the items in this store you may chose to your pleasing ah!"

His waist curved and his buttocks swayed. Little Orchid felt that if it were possible, perhaps this owner would crawl on the ground and lick Dong Fang Qing Cang's shoe...

It seemed the crystal congregated from Dong Fang Qing Cang's powers has sold more than a few money...

"Ben zuo this time only wants to sell you one thing." Dong Fang Qing Cang spoke.

"Sell?" The owner was in daze and then hurriedly smiled, "Your greatness, if you want to sell something, how can this lowly one buy your item?"

"Selling you information and used money to trade will be sufficient."

"Alright!" The owner was quite joyful and agreed without any thinking needed, "Matters that involved using money to solve are quite simple. This lowly one believes that the information the great demon king will definitely, hehe..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang laughed with the smile that was treacherous and crafty, "Going from Lin Hai city, head southeast, there is an island on Qian Yin mountain..." Little Orchid was shocked and turned around to look at Dong Fang Qing Cang and heard him coldly laughed, "On that island there are countless of treasures, even more than the demon market."

The owner heard such and within the pair of muddy eyes immediately flashed light.

Dong Fang Qing Cang looked at him and continued speaking, "Ben zuo can give you a map to go on boat to Qian Yin mountain."

Little Orchid's mouth twitched.

Dong Fang Qing Cang is really...he cannot seek revenge thus set someone up to help him take revenge...Really, regardless of what, does not let someone who has offended him to live peacefully ah...

Indeed, petty and narrow-minded to the top of the realm...

"Your greatness!" The owner looked outside several times, and after that, closed the place as he did not want to continue selling. He lifted hands to welcome Dong Fang Qing Cang into the room, "Please come in."

Dong Fang Qing Cang went inside, and Little Orchid was naturally held outside.

After finished negotiating the trade deal, when Dong Fang Qing Cang came out, in his hands already held a stack of paper money. Little Orchid peered at the stack of paper money that printed the words "Demon market money" and could not help wonder, "You need the demon market money to do what..."

He did not halt his steps but head straight to leave and merely shot a glance at Little Orchid, "To buy stuff."

Little Orchid was obediently following Dong Fang Qing Cang's footsteps, " You buying stuff by using money... Big devil, you speaking of such reasoning and logic is quite rarely seen..."

Hearing Little Orchid's mocking words, Dong Fang Qing Cang seldom didn't darken his face, and only curved his lips to respond, "Occasionally ben zuo also wants to follow the rules of the world once."

Little Orchid pouted, "In truth you only wanted to use the hands of the greedy merchants at the demon market to create trouble with Qian Yin langjun..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang happily smiled and this can be considered him admitting to it. The two has already come to the weaponry stall when they were talking. Dong Fang Qing Cang lifted the curtains to go inside, Little Orchid followed from behind and yet, once again has slammed into his behind after he suddenly halted. Was angered, but then she felt that his entire body was emitting murderous energy.

Little Orchid looked from behind Dong Fang Qing Cang and poked head to look inside. The people in the weaponry store were also lifting their heads to look at him and her. While the Shuo Feng sword that he has stuck here when he left has disappeared, only leaving on the ground a large hole that was still frozen.

Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed his brows and eyes swept across every person in sight, "Who was capable of touching Shuo Feng sword?"

Each of the blacksmiths was oppressed by the murderous energy on Dong Fang Qing Cang. Their facial expressions were somewhat unsightly.

After a while, in the end a burly chap who was forging ironware replied, "That sword was taken by his majesty..."

His majesty, the owner of the demon market? Dong Fang Qing Cang recalled the male who sat in a wheelchair that he has met before. He furrowed his brows, "Where is the owner of the demon market?"

"Ah..." That big male was a bit hesitant and did not dare reply. He looked around and no one seemed to reply.

Dong Fang Qing Cang narrowed his eyes and at this time, Little Orchid suddenly heard from behind a voice of a female, "Great Demon King."

Translator Note: The store owner used a formal way of addressing DFQC but it's not the same as saying da ren. It's more of addressing someone using "you" but in a way more formal and polite manner. Thus, I used the term "your lordship" to distinct from when the owner using da ren with "your greatness". Hope this addresses any possible confusion to why there is "your lordship" and "your greatness".

Little Orchid turned around. A female in purple attire was calmly lowering her head and standing to the side, "Your greatness, know that your greatness has returned to demon market, my master has ordered me to greet and welcome you to Lu Xue* palace hall to discuss matter."

*Lu: record, copy | Xue: Snow

Dong Fang Qing Cang turned around to look at her. At that time, Little Orchid also turned around and pulled on his arm. After taking few small quick steps, she moved to the back of Dong Fang Qing Cang. Like what was done from before, also stared attentively at the female.

"Ben zuo has never discussed with anyone."

Facing the cold words of Dong Fang Qing Cang, the female wearing purple attire did not show undulating mood and merely lowered head while speaking, "Master is afraid that the cold energy from Shuo Feng sword will harm others and so, has come here and took the sword. Currently, is kept in Lu Xue hall. If your greatness want to take Shuo Feng sword then has to shift steps to over there."

Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed his brows, "Want to threaten ben zuo?"

He smiled coldly, "Can considered to have a bit of courage."

The female wearing purple attire slightly leaned body and displayed deference, "Inviting demon king."

If Shuo Feng sword is there, then naturally Dong Fang Qing Cang has to come there.

Little Orchid and Dong Fang Qing Cang followed the female with purple attire passed the demon market underneath the bottom of the lake. When arrived at gate of demon market, the boundary the enveloped the bottom of the lake opened up five doors. The four doors from left and right have people coming in and out. Only the middle door was closed tightly. It was until the female with purple attire walked toward the front that the reddish brown door then slowly opened up.

The female with purple attire lead the way and stepped into the pathway shrouded in complete darkness in the front.

After coming to Qian Yin mountain, Little Orchid suddenly felt averse subconsciously with such darkness and she unexpectedly stood there while not taking a step.

Dong Fang Qing Cang halted and turned around to ask, "What is it again?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang was quite sharp and noticed the hesitation of hers, causing Little Orchid to feel a bit surprised, "Nothing..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang looked down, "Then why are you pulling ben zuo for?"

Little Orchid was dazed and lowered head to look down. At this time, she discovered ever since the female with purple attired appeared, she was always pulling Dong Fang Qing Cang's sleeve... Cannot blame when she halted her steps, he also halted after...

Little Orchid promptly waved hands, "I only...hands are itchy*!"

*To itching to do something

Dong Fang Qing Cang swept a glance at her mockingly and then grabbed her hand and pulled toward the darkness.

Yet, cannot expect that the scenery of the door filled with darkness was not a deep, lengthy, narrow path, but the inside of the door was fragrant flowers and birds chirping songs. The sunlight shone radiantly, the ground sprouted spring grass and the swinging wildflowers hid themselves in interstitials of stones. From above are the blue sky with white clouds, and the warm, gentle breeze...

They...have unexpectedly came to dry land?

After meeting Dong Fang Qing Cang, Little Orchid constantly traveled and ran everywhere, was trapped in the middle of the underworld, and from before has overcome the largest matter of "a buffalo overturning itself" and "big wave large wind" in life. She has not seen such beautiful, harmonious scenery in a long time. Furthermore, in the scenery of fragrant flowers and birds chirping seemed to have some sort of attractiveness that is seemingly there and not seemingly there, alluring her to go further in.

Momentarily Little Orchid's mentality was being attracted and let go of Dong Fang Qing Cang and walked toward the front several steps, but was immediately pulled by him with the collar back.

"Don't run around haphazardly, this is an illusory scene."

Such statement has caused her to wake up. Little Orchid dazedly looked from behind. Over there is the door where the demon market was clearly still clamoring. Only apart by one door and the difference was unexpectedly large. Aside from illusory scene using magic powers to create then there is probably no other explanation.

Using reasoning to ponder a bit and will know, how can there be such a lovely, radiant, spring like scenery at Kunlun? He has definitely used power here to cause her to lose her mind.

She was tormented enough by the scenery, and immediately tossed her head in order to become clear-headed.

The female with purple attire saw the two people entered, and lowered head as she led the two people walked across the green grass.

After crossing a hill, Little Orchid looked around and everywhere was pleasantly smooth grass. On the ground there was a stream running and from afar there was a house that appeared to be extremely simple, like a house that can see any wild desolated area of the secular world.

The owner of the demon market has unexpectedly created such illusory scene in order to live in a simple place?

Little Orchid was in disbelief, yet suddenly she felt the bone orchid on the right wrist slightly moved. Little Orchid lifted her hand to look and the bone orchid did not appear any different, as if from before was an illusion of hers.

After walking for a while on spring grass and wildflowers, has finally came to the small courtyard.

Little Orchid saw the simple courtyard and secretly thought that this was rather strange. How come a freezing cold name such as Lu Xue hall was given for such a place...

The courtyard has no door and so, Little Orchid and Dong Fang Qing entered inside. From the main room came only one person and that person sat on a wheelchair.

The moment Little Orchid saw the owner of the demon market, perhaps was an illusion of hers, the first gaze of his was placed on her body. The four eyes intersected and she seemed to see an intense brightness within his eyes.

At this time, Little Orchid's wrist was pained.

The bone orchid has pierced her once.

Little Orchid "hiss" out a cold breath. Dong Fang Qing Cang turned around to look at her, but within his eyes did not have any precaution. She knew that the surrounding do not have any hostile energy. Thus, just now bone orchid did not detect any hostile energy and displayed defense, it's just...

Has she subconsciously pressed onto the bone orchid and was pierced...

Little Orchid muttered in in a low voice, "Bone orchid, you have pierced me a little."

Dong Fang Qing Cang heard this and did not pay attention to her as he turned around to look attentively at the owner of the demon market and straightforwardly asked, "Where is Shuo Feng sword?"

The owner of the demon market coughed several times, "Shuo Feng sword's cold energy was too heavy. Leaving it behind at the weaponry will cause harm to others. I have taken it away. Has waited long for demon king to take it back." The female with the purple attire that helped him pushed the wheelchair to Little Orchid looked exactly like the female with purple attire that led them here. He would speak and would wave hand. The two females with the purple attire in the courtyard both transformed into two purple, shiny butterflies fluttering away from the yard.

The owner of the demon market did not make it difficult for Dong Fang Qing Cang at all and hand pointed to the next room, "Temporarily placed the sword there. Demon king can remove it."

Dong Fang Qing Cang heard such and slightly furrowed brows. He does not really believe it was easy for him to take the sword. Yet, when Dong Fang Qing Cang went into the room, the owner of the demon market has never said anything.

Yet, his gaze seemed to have not stopped landing on Little Orchid's body. In the beginning, Little Orchid felt nothing was strange. Only when Dong Fang Qing Cang has taken the sword out, the owner of the demon market would shift his gaze. She suddenly thought why such feeling was a little familiar.

It's because...

From before Qian Yin langjun would also look at her like this...

Chapter 68: Chapter 45

Little Orchid felt that ever since she has gotten this xi rang body, she was like a bull's-eye board. Whenever she went there would be someone who would point an arrow and waits for her to neglect, piercing her immediately to death.

Little Orchid quietly inched toward Dong Fang Qing Cang's back and lowered head to look at the ground, not glancing once at the owner of the demon market.

The scabbard of the Shuo Feng sword that used snake scales was created. The blacksmith's of the demon market workmanship was quite good. Each layer of snakeskin was polished to extreme glossiness.

But the cultivation of the one thousand year old snake demon was too low and was not suppressing to the frozen energy of Shuo Feng sword. In the gaps of the snakeskin layers were still the frozen energy that diffuse out, causing the outside of the scabbard to form ice crystals.

Dong Fang Qing Cang pulled out the sword from the scabbard and assessed it for a bit. After he returned the sword to the scabbard, the owner of the demon market said, "In this entire world, there is no object that has frozen energy like Shuo Feng sword. Demon king has thought much." Finished speaking, he [owner] pushed the wheelchair toward the outside of the courtyard, "I will lead you two out."

Little Orchid hid behind Dong Fang Qing Cang and secretly assessed the owner of the demon market. She discovered that he did not avoid her gaze. When passing by Dong Fang Qing Cang would lift head to peer at her. Immediately, the five facial features of his softened and smiled gently with her.

The smile was as gentle as the blooming spring flowers outside.

Little Orchid was slightly dazed.

The owner of the demon market pushed the wheelchair outside the courtyard and went a fair distance on a small path and then stopped on the side, "I want to gaze at the flowers here for a bit more. The two of you can follow this path and go straight to return to Crystal City under the bottom of the lake.

Dong Fang Qing Cang heard such and slightly furrowed brows.

The owner of the demon market lifted head to look at him, "Demon king want to stay here and gaze at the flowers with me?"

"Ben zuo is not that idle."

"If so, then I will not force." The owner of the demon market turned around. Within a snap of the fingers, the purple butterflies produced a soft light and immediately flew across the sky like spring flowers, "It's a pity, has forsaken the sunny, vibrant spring."

Seeing the gaze of owner of demon market not on the two, Dong Fang Qing Cang did not linger and steps followed the small path.

After a distance, Little Orchid pulled his sleeve and said in a lowered voice, "The owner of the demon market feels quite peculiar. Does he have malicious intentions ah?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang snorted coldly, "Soldiers come and resistance is used. IS not afraid of insignificant ones."

During the walk on the small path, Little Orchid could not restrained and turned around to look. She saw on the carpet of spring grass, the owner of the demon market has lifted head upward to let the purple butterflies between his brows.

This far apart, following Little Orchid's reasoning, cannot clearly see his face, but strangely the face of the owner of the demon market seemed to become evident in her mind. She can clearly feel the layer of lashes shaking and the gentle, slow breathing of his nose...

Little Orchid has blankly realized that on the face of the owner of the demon market possess an extremely alluring beauty like the scenery illusions that he has created and has the strength to mysteriously attract one's mind.

"Big devil." Little Orchid was naturally a little absentminded. This illusory formation was completely different from the formation underneath the bottom of Qian Yin mountain. There, it was completely dark in hostile energy while here was like a wonderful dream, causing others to not want to step out, "It's too gorgeous here, I unexpectedly do not want to leave..."

"After that wait for death, no?"

The words of Dong Fang Qing Cang was like an iron block, beating Little Orchid to wake up from the allure of the birds chirping and the fragrant flowers. After that, she was dragged by Dong Fang Qing Cang outside with the lapel.

The bustling noise of the demon market echoed in the ears and the fragrant flowers and birds chirping completely disappeared. In front of Little Orchid was only the pitch-black door.

Little Orchid suddenly returned to consciousness, "Staying long there...can die?"

"You want to return and try it?"

Little Orchid quickly shook head. Dong Fang Qing Cang did not bother with her and turned around to leave. Little Orchid hurriedly followed after.

The two people went at rapid speed and no one can see that from behind them was a purple butterfly that wanted to follow and travel across the black door, but was only able to reveal a pair of wings and within a blink of an eye, was sucked by a humongous force and disappeared.

The pitch-black door was still dormant like usual and the demon market were still bustling like before.

"You wanted to run?"

The fragrant flowers were still there and butterflies elegantly dance everywhere across the whole sky. Within the palm of the owner of the demon market's hand was a butterfly perching. He gently blew a breath on the butterfly and the butterfly wings flapped intensely and fell to the ground, slowly it produced human sounds and screamed in horrific pain.

Its wings grew big and were gradually changing into a human figure.

A female was exactly like the females the other butterflies transformed into, and has the exact same face like them. The body was naked and lies on the grass. [She] fearfully looked at the owner of the demon market sitting on the wheelchair.

Within the indifferent eyes of the owner of the demon market printed the shadow of the female body and examined carefully for a bit then sighed heavily, "Many days and you still haven't learn to be like so. She will never show such expression like yours." The owner of the demon market dully said, "Collect those tears."

The body of the female shuddered fiercely and she hurriedly used hand to wipe away the tears and lowered head while biting down teeth in which no sound was produced.

The owner of the demon market looked at her and after a while would shake head "Die Yi". When he called, immediately a female in purple clothing appeared by his side, "Yes." The face of this female wearing purple clothing was exactly like the female lying on the ground. Yet, the eyes have several lines of wrinkle and caused her to appear somewhat older than the female on the ground by many parts.

"She does not learn to emulate." The owner of the demon market waved his hand, "Squeeze blood dry like her mother."

"Yes."

Die Yi came forward and grabbed the body of the female who was scared and struggling to escape like a snake on the ground. When about to drag her away, the owner of the demon market suddenly said, "Die Yi, how long have you follow me?"

Die Yi lifted the female with the exact same face that was still floundering and expression was emotionless as she replied, "Has been eight thousand years."

The owner of the demon market looked at her and lips curve to smile, "Cannot blame you have aged." He turned around to look afar while saying with sorrow, "But she will not age. Even if the she was still alive, she will never age. Nonetheless...you aren't her ah."

Die Yi heard such, and hand shook. She squeezed more tightly on the female who was crying out in pain.

The owner of the demon market waved his hand, "Take her away, her crying makes one agitated."

"Yes."

The owner of demon market raised his hand. A butterfly with purple head perched on his finger and he waved his hand. The butterfly immediately transformed into an image of someone who was standing quietly in front of him. He looked at the person in front of him and raised hand to grab that person's hand, "If Demon King can be a bit faster, only a bit faster...then I can see you."

He lifted his head to look at the person in the front, "It's really strange, can clearly see you everyday..." The owner of the demon market peered at the female's face, but seemed to go through her and looked at someone else. After that the gaze slowly turned hazy, "Can clearly see you everyday, but it seemed that I cannot remember your figure more and more...Teacher..."

At this time, Little Orchid returned to the front of the weaponry stall and suddenly took in a cold breath, "Hiss..." She lowered head to look at the bone orchid on the hand and then lifted head to ask Dong Fang Qing Cang, "Big devil, weren't you pierced by bone orchid from before ah? Today it has pierced me all day, it's painful."

Dong Fang Qing Cang indifferently said, "It's merely sensing murderous energy in the weaponry store."

He lifted the flag that was the shop sign and entered the door. Little Orchid caught up, "You took back Shuo Feng sword already. Why are you returning to the weaponry stalls for?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang turned his head to look at her, "Has your master ever taught you to use weapon?"

Little Orchid was dazed and then understood. She could not believe he would ask, "You want to buy a weapon for me?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang furrowed his brows, "Does not want?"

Little Orchid went one round around the various weapons in the store and then eyes landed on Dong Fang Qing Cang's face, "My...my master was a literary official in the Jiu Chong Tian (Nine Heavens) and is someone who reasons. Master did not teach me to raise spear and wield the sword."

Dong Fang Qing Cang appeared to show contempt toward this explanation, "It's no wonder that you're stupid. It turned out to be a flower demon raised by a scholar*."

*The three words in the Chinese text for male and female is read the same. Thus, Dong Fang Qing Cang does not know that Ximing, Little Orchid's master, is a female. It's the same characters that refers to a male in another story featuring a flower demon...

"I am an immortal spirit!" Little Orchid stalled, "In addition, my master is also not a scho..."

The sentence did not get to finish as Dong Fang Qing Cang on the side brought forth a single-edge sword in front of Little Orchid. She subconsciously took it. When he withdrew his hand, the blade "dong" one sound as it fell down to the ground.

Dong Fang Qing Cang looked at her. Little Orchid grew very red, "Heavy...so heavy..."

Thus, Dong Fang Qing Cang switched out the sword with a spear that has a red tassel and placed it in Little Orchid's hand. Little Orchid's two hands held the spear and placed it on the ground. Dong Fang Qing Cang narrowed his eyes as he discovered that when the spear was fits inside his hand, but when given to Little Orchid, the spear was higher than her head by a lot. With her holding the spear, she does not look like someone who is going to fight at close quarters, but rather was like someone who was climbing a pole...

Thus, Dong Fang Qing Cang once again switched out the spear with a double-edged sword for her.

Little Orchid grabbed onto the double-edged sword. This time it was fitting as it was not too big or too small, and was not too long or short. Dong Fang Qing Cang pleased with a nod, "Perform some swordplay for ben zuo to see."

Little Orchid appeared to display a bitter expression.

Little Orchid is a Heaven spirit and Little Orchid is an immortal spirit born from (outside) help. The most that she has done in life was crawl onto the balcony to sunbathe and secondly, watch master write fates. Even the celestial foundation was not self-cultivated. Everything was due to the immortal energy of master and she was produced.

She did not have an opportunity to learn any sort of swordplay ah.

Little Orchid looked around the room. The various blacksmiths did not continue to wrought iron anymore. All were looking at her as if watching a bustling scene.

The people who came to purchase weapon at the demon market were largely males. Even if they were females, would be coarse hands and round waists or it would be those who cause others to feel cold when looked at. They have truly never seen a flower immortal walking by or lie on one's stomach like Little Orchid.

The smiles on each male couldn't avoid being partly wretched.

Little Orchid returned the sword to Dong Fang Qing Cang, "I do not know."

The surroundings immediately arose sighs from the males.

Little Orchid was somewhat embarrassed. Dong Fang Qing Cang heard such sounds and coldly rolled his eyes. After that, he inserted the sword into her hands. Stepping from behind Little Orchid, he grabbed her hand and said, "Ben zuo will teach you."

Finished speaking, he pulled Little Orchid's hand to wield the sword. The sword energy was intense and when it produced "bang" sounds, the roof of the weapon store was overturned.

Little Orchid's stiff face peered at the room that suddenly turned bright.

The facial expression of the males who enjoy watching a bustling scene in the room was stiff.

Dong Fang Qing Cang tossed the used sword that was broken in his hand and coldly said, "Product is low quality. Take out the highest quality item for ben zuo."

Immediately no one dared to enjoy watching the scene and all hurriedly hid the swords that one has finished forging.

Chapter 69: Chapter 46

Dong Fang Qing Cang's eyes swept around the room. All of the men were trembling with fear and protected one's sword. After that, a lively discussion with everyone who began to form an idea, "Your greatness, I think this young lady here does not fit welding the spear or dancing with the sword. Perhaps she can get a whip."

The person who makes whips immediately darkened the face, "Whip is difficult to learn ah. This young lady might hit herself. Perhaps a flexible double-edge sword."

The person making flexible double-edge swords hurriedly waved hands, "Flexible doubled edged sword will not do ah! The mouth is sharp and does not have any scabbard. It's because this young lady is rather lean and spiraling it twice would be loose. If the neck ends up being cut then what, perhaps dagger."

The person making daggers became startled, "Dagger will be of no help! People say that lengthier it is, the strong it goes. If the young lady put the dagger on body, turn around and people would cause harm to her before the dagger can be taken out. I think purchasing concealed weapon is better."

The suggestion was unanimously agreed upon because... in this store there were no concealed weapons, only the outside has....

Dong Fang Qing Cang was silent. During the time everyone waited on Demon King to speak up, Little Orchid has spoken first, "Concealed weapon is good ah." She turned head around and eyes passionately peered at him. She tiptoed and pressed against his ears, but Dong Fang Qing Cang was standing straight; thus, Little Orchid tiptoed straight with her legs. Yet, she stilled missed a bit and his eyes tilted to the side to peer at her. After that, unexpectedly bent his waist slightly, and let Little Orchid's mouth to be besides his ears.

"Big devil, you will still want to buy weapon for me. I think weapon that doesn't fight but can threaten is the best." Little Orchid spoke, "I've been looking at the Heavenly Fragrant duduo sold outside for quite a while, see that it is good enough, perhaps..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang bent waist and also spoke besides her ears, "In a little while, ben zuo is about to return to the demon realm. The people of the demon realm dare to perform a curse on ben zuo. Definitely cannot avoid a fierce battle."

His voice was not good or bad (tone-wise), "Little flower demon, you want to wear a duduo and bare the buttocks to accompany ben zuo while fighting at close quarters?" Dong Fang Qing Cang curved his lips, "You are unexpectedly braver than ben zuo!"

Little Orchid's face was dazed and appeared to harden as she looked at Dong Fang Qing Cang while already standing straight and she spoke with shock, "You,you want...you want to go to demon realm with me...to fight?"

"Ben zuo has already said that this period of time you have to be by ben zuo's side. Naturally, where I go you will also have to go. If ben zuo goes to the underworld (prison), how can you possibly live by yourself in the mortal realm?"

Little Orchid felt that such words were really familiar, but from before she has only seen them in several fates of master's book. It was in a situation where someone would say to another person, "Wherever you go, I will go. If you go to the underworld (prison), how can I possibly live by myself in the mortal realm..."

This statement...was from Dong Fang Qing Cang's mouth, and has merely changed the positions of the two words "you, I", but already caused Little Orchid's feeling from being moved to becoming alarmed.

She hurriedly shook her head, "Cannot, cannot, you will battle each other and will definitely not attend to me. I will pierce to death by another there."

Dong Fang Qing Cang withdrew his teasing expression, "Therefore, ben zuo told you to pick a fitting weapon."

"...I will not let the bone orchid pierce me again. After that, will wait for you to finish fighting and then come get me..." Receiving disdainful gaze of Dong Fang Qing Cang,

Little Orchid gestured finger to vow, "I will never ever cause a prank and take the opportunity to escape..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang snorted coldly, and then walked next to the large person making daggers and with bare hands, he held loosely onto the black iron that was fiery from baking in the oven.

Everyone looked to the point of being dumbstruck. Dong Fang Qing Cang touched the mouth of the iron to examine left and right. Immediately his eyes flashed red. The raging flames in the hand immediately burst out and burnt the mouth of the lump of black iron very red. He then placed the melting iron back, "Ben zuo will take this dagger."

"Hey...it hasn't finish forging."

Dong Fang Qing Cang gave all the silver money obtained from the store to the man forging the dagger, "Ben zuo will wait at the inn outside Crystal city of the demon market for one night. Bring it to ben zuo tomorrow."

Seeing the stack of "demon market money", the male's eyes immediately dazed out. After that, he grabbed all and forgot about accepting those words. He was only concerned about counting twice until he looked up to see the Dong Fang Qing Cang grabbing Little Orchid and leaving the weaponry stalls.

Little Orchid was still struggling, "You gave too much! It's definitely is too much! You look at the gazes of the people on the side! You've definitely given too much!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang carried Little Orchid outside of Crystal city and did not allow any protesting, "Ben zuo is happy."

Little Orchid said hatefully, "If given a lot then should have given to me ah! I definitely need the money more than him!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang heard this and finally shot a glance at her, "Use money to buy duduo?" Little Orchid's pair of eyes glistened and looked at Dong Fang Qing Cang. He smiled, "Fine, ben zuo will buy for you, will buy all for you." Little Orchid's gaze became luminous, but the smile on Dong Fang Qing Cang's genial smile gradually turned sinister, "But from now on, every day can only wear a duduo. Each day is one piece, cannot be repeated."

"Want to buy?"

"...Don't want anymore,"

Seeing Little Orchid wilt like an eggplant with frosted dew, and walk without strength and dropping head, Dong Fang Qing Cang, whom one does not know what he's thinking, unexpectedly curved the corner of his mouth to smile. At this time, he was walked finally came to the boundary of Crystal city and on the boundary seems to have or have not reflected his face.

Seeing the smile on the corners of his mouth, Dong Fang Qing Cang slightly stare blankly and then blinked eyes, which immediately hid the smile in a snap and did not let anyone detect it.

Has left Crystal city to go to the surface. The frozen lake from behind suddenly shifted "hua (clamoring)" one sound.

Little Orchid turned around to look. Unexpectedly, it was Big Yu that poked its head out from the lake and was still like before. It placed its head on the surface and solemnly lies down to prostrate as if waiting for Dong Fang Qing Cang to tread on its head.

But Dong Fang Qing Cang did not bother to look at it, and only walk toward the direction of the demon market in the front with his head not turning around once.

Da Yu waited for a while and then heard the footsteps of Dong Fang Qing Cang getting far away. It confusedly lifted its head to look and followed the back of Dong Fang Qing Cang. A bit...

Pitiful?

Little Orchid thought such...

It seemed that not treading on its head has caused it to feel very hurt...

"Tomorrow we will leave." Little Orchid can't help saying to Da Yu, "You go play under the frozen lake first."

Da Yu heard such and was not resentful. It peacefully retreated under the frozen lake. Looking at its shadow on the water surface, Little Orchid knew it has swum far.

Legends have said that when demonic creatures appeared would cause a bloody and smelly wind-like battle... unexpectedly, in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang it was obedient like a clever puppy that next door neighbor xianjun* has taken care of. This has truly caused Little Orchid to be a little surprised.

* Immortal lord

Dong Fang Qing Cang found a tavern in the demon market to stay. It was not long until the sky has darkened. Little Orchid felt that today was very exhausting and after washing, quickly climbed onto the bed and slept.

Little Orchid did not sleep long when she began to dream, but the strange thing was that she has realized clearly that this was a dream as the scenery she saw has caused her to feel alienated in a peculiar way.

She seemed to be trapped inside a transparent cage. Inside this cage, she saw the scenery she has seen today.

It was the scenery illusion of the owner of the demon market.

Wildflowers and spring grass, warm sunlight and gentle breeze.

But this scenery illusion was different from the scenery illusion she has seen today. Here, it did not cause her to feel strangely enchanted. Everything was natural and was closer to the real world than the scenery illusion.

She saw inside the simplistic, unadorned house was a purple-clad female walking out. Appearance was exactly like the female with purple clothing that they have met when meeting the owner of the demon market. Yet, the facial appearance was more quick-witted and between the brows exuded heroic spirit that people cannot copy.

She stretched her hands and eyes peered at a direction afar. Does not know what [she] has seen as a smile suddenly bloomed from the lips and hands waved toward that direction as if mouth was saying, "...Come over."

Calling someone to come here...

From afar would see a silhouette that slowly approaches her and the smile on her face would become increasingly gentle.

"A Hao..."

"Stand up."

The cold-like call has cut the dreamlike scenery of Little Orchid. She opened her eyes and outside the window was bathed in bright sunlight. Dong Fang Qing Cang was standing next to the bed and peering at her indifferently, "People at the Heavenly realm would also sleep all the way to the afternoon?"

Unexpectedly, it...has been the afternoon....

Little Orchid bewilderedly sat up, "I clearly have slept for only a while ah.... Has dreamt a strange dream too."

Dong Fang Qing Cang's eyes shifted, "Oh, dreamt what?"

Little Orchid recalled back and then scratched head, "Just now was called by you and I have forgotten it..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang assessed Little Orchid for a while and did not say anything else. He merely tossed the newly dagger on the bed, "This dagger is yours, take it."

Little Orchid was dazed. Face was anxious as she held the dagger up, "You really are forcing me to kill enemies along with you ah..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang immediately responded, "Does not hope for you to help with anything. It's merely that the demon realm is not easy to deal with like Qian Yin mountain. It's not definite that the bone orchid will protect you safely. On this dagger has ben zuo's power. When you're in danger, it can help you find an opportunity to fight and live." He turned his body away to leave, "Later on, don't say that ben zuo did not protect you."

Hearing such words, Little Orchid was a bit stupefied.

This dagger...was unexpectedly like the bone orchid—used to protect her.

"Go change clothes, today will depart to the demon realm."

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 70 - Chapter 47

Chapter 70: Chapter 47

While sitting on the back of Da Yu, the afternoon sunlight was quite intense when traveling to the demon realm and Little Orchid's face was bright red when basked under the sunlight. She peered at shadow of Dong Fang Qing Cang in the front and noticed the various silver hair strands of his fluttering messily across her face. Little Orchid said, "Big devil, can you let me take shade from the sun?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not get to turn his head around as Little Orchid lifted up Dong Fang Qing Cang's hair and put her forehead against his back. After that, she spread the silver hair on her head and sighed in relief, "I think continuing to sunbake and my face will cracked into blocks like dry land."

The movements of Little Orchid were too fluid like moving clouds and flowing water and were even to the point of natural, causing Dong Fang Qing Cang to become momentarily dazed and then he was able to respond—this little flower demon dared to use his hair and shadow to shield from the sun...

Really is unbridled!

But in the end Dong Fang Qing Cang merely snorted coldly and did not push the Little Orchid away. He ignored her who was leaning on his back and was seemingly sleeping as the breathings slowly turned stable.

"Big devil."

When Dong Fang Qing Cang thought she was sleeping at the moment, Little Orchid raised her voice to ask, "How come you have to resurrect Chi De woman by all means?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang slightly turned his eyes and only looked at the clouds on the side. He did not look at Little Orchid. He hasn't response.

"When you were resurrected, you already thought about going to the underworld to find the reincarnation of Chi De woman. After that, went to the demon realm and impatiently had someone find her sword. Then from demon market would not stop thinking about going to the mortal realm to get her soul. After that..." Little Orchid paused, "And fooled me by saying want to mold a body for me, in reality it was because of her..."

This statement of Little Orchid was still filled with indignation that did not dissipated, but Dong Fang Qing Cang did not consider such indignation important. Thus, she can only calm such feeling herself slowly and continued to speak, "Is it perhaps...in ancient times you purposely let off leniently and was ambushed successfully by the person and then lost to her?"

"Went lenient on her?" Dong Fang Qing Cang laughed, "Why should ben zuo have to be lenient."

"Because you like her ah..."

Little Orchid did not hear him reply and secretly thought that he was silently admitting. The feeling from inside surfaced, but Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly said, "What is love." His words were condescending, "Don't use feelings of the humankind to measure ben zuo."

Hearing such response, Little Orchid was briefly silent. She opened her mouth, but did not know how to continue.

Little Orchid silently reflected, and also felt that she has some sort of illness. Does not expect that she would attach to Dong Fang Qing Cang with a pleasant word like "love"...

Her brain must have some sort of hole in there.

Weren't words befitting Dong Fang Qing Cang are terrible words like crafty, treacherous, and bloodthirsty?

Little Orchid was silent, and the surroundings began to have whipping wind.

The two people were quiet during the entire journey all the way to demon capital Jiu You.

With no one to lead the way, Little Orchid originally did not see the entrance to the demon world. The xi rang body of hers was only a mortal and even so cannot feel the various strange demonic energies. When Da Yu landed on the ground, Dong Fang Qing Cang stood up and stepped onto Da Yu's head to step down from its back, and then instructed it to "protect her".

Da Yu nodded and its tail wrapped around to protect Little Orchid.

Have both bone orchid and the dagger, and right now has told demonic snake to protect her. It seemed that this time returning to the demon realm, Dong Fang Qing Cang's mind has definitely predicted that there would be a great, difficult battle...

Da Yu took Little Orchid back a few distances. She poked her head out and saw that Dong Fang Qing Cang was standing in front of a forest and raised his hand. The atmosphere surrounding him transformed due to his whole body emitting energy and caused it to tremble with leaves on the ground encircling the leg. The speed would go from slow to fast and finally, transformed into a strong wind following the wave of his hand as it charged toward some place in the sky.

The ground immediately shook and the atmosphere carried a "ka" sound.

This sound was fairly familiar. From before, [she] would come to the underworld to find Dong Fang Qing Cang, and used Dong Fang Qing Cang's body to destroy the three realm seal. At that time, the atmosphere also carried such sound.

Little Orchid was dazed for a moment. After that, she suddenly remembered that the seal of demon realm that the people of the heavenly realm created was used to prevent demons from invading into the mortal realm. At this time, demon king is tearing the seal of the demon realm. Wouldn't that be unfavorable for the world?!

Granted that she has followed and experienced things with Dong Fang Qing Cang for a while, but Little Orchid has never forgotten her own position. She immediately shouted, "Do not tear! This is the seal that the heavenly realm has made for the demon realm!"

Dong Fang Qing Cang paid no attention to her. Only heard more crackling noises carried through each time and in the atmosphere appeared a black colored crevice. Little Orchid saw that the crevice seeped out black murky energy. After that, as the crevice would get larger and larger each time, a wave of light shone and a door opened up in the air.

He calmly went inside the door.

Da Yu followed closely behind.

Little Orchid lied on her stomach while on the back of Da Yu and bewilderedly looked at the door getting closer and closer. She was completely carried by Da Yu into the darkness.

Dong Fang Qing Cang unexpectedly... was really not going to tear the seal that the heavenly realm has made for the demon realm?

After he used his powers, the body will be in great pain...But it doesn't seem so as Dong Fang Qing Cang has used his powers regardless of the pain. He will most definitely pick a method that would be more completely thorough. Little Orchid looked at his back and suddenly thought that perhaps the people of the demon realm has used a trick toward Dong Fang Qing Cang. With his personality of being narrow-minded, he would not let the people of the demon realm to have any benefit from him...

Thinking about the petty and narrow-minded personality of Dong Fang Qing Cang, Little Orchid felt that it was so...

After walking in the forward direction for a while in the darkness, the hazy sunlight of the demon realm appeared within Little Orchids' view.

When Dong Fang Qing Cang entered the ground of the demon realm, the surrounding darkness immediately disappeared. Little Orchid turned her head to look back and the places they have walked past has turned into a pitch-black river that went through the barren land of Jiu You.

AS Dong Fang Qing Cang went forward, there appeared the four to five soldiers of the demon realm wearing armor who saw Dong Fang Qing Cang appearing. Everyone was shocked and then seemed to react as [they] immediately pointed the tips of their spears toward him, but their mouths still called, "Great...Your greatness..." They were seemingly cautious and tensed.

Suddenly there was someone on the side who blurted out, "How can [he] possibly return on his own..."

Those words did not finished, as Dong Fang Qing Cang has understood the intent. His face shone and mouth curved into a cold smile, "How can [I] return on my own...ah. How did you guys think ben zuo should returned?" After the last words ended, wind picked up from the land and blew at those people who staggered. There was even a person who knocked straight to the ground.

Dong Fang Qing Cang withdrew his smile and expression became cold. His steps were gone forward to the front and everyone hurriedly retreated back, but duties still remained and thus, have to get back to block the path. Of course, they did not have time to make a move on Dong Fang Qing Cang as Da Yu from behind him immediately stretched out the neck and stuck his tongue out. It proceeded forward and then hiss out a long sound.

Little Orchid did not hear anything, but several soldiers covered their ears and collapsed to the ground. Their facial features bled, and their body became convulsed in pain.

She was shocked and was in a daze, originally...this huge snake that likes others treading on its head...was unexpectedly powerful ah!

Dong Fang Qing Cang continued to walk toward without shifting his eyes.

Da Yu coiled Little Orchid from behind and lifted head to stretch out its neck with brimming ferocious energy. The bone orchid on Little Orchid's wrist sprouted out several dry rattan branches while the dragger on her waist began to heat up.

Everything was in a position of preparation against war, and only Little Orchid seemed to still be out of that state.

Because of being highly protected and sealed tightly, she was feeling less of the crisis ah!

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not bother to avoid the people of the demon realm. He would step on the main street and entire body was filled with murderous energy that attracted even more soldiers.

Of course, the various soldiers simply looked at Da Yu and were already terrified. Each and every one would retreat back and formed a siege arc-shape in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang and Da Yu. It was plainly clear that Dong Fang Qing Cang has not done anything, but no one dares to approach him.

The whole journey would move forward while others recoil until after arriving at the path that leads to the ritual palace hall of the demon realm that Dong Fang Qing Cang then halted.

He used his eyes to survey. At the end of the expansive, smooth path was the most magnificent, highest towering palace that the people of the demon realm have built for him. In the main hall consecrated a gold figure of him. It was the place that the people of demon realm would perform the sacrificial ceremonies to swear an oath of allegiance.

Dong Fang Qing Cang peered at the main hall and suddenly laughed which revealed his sharp canine teeth/fangs, "Has been away from the three realms for a long time. The next generations thought that ben zuo is merely consecrated gold figure that is worshiped at ritual hall. Really is ignorance."

He finished speaking and the surrounding soldiers stir restlessly.

Little Orchid did not feel anything, but Da Yu who carried her has lowered his head and bended his head on the ground as if an imposing force pushed its head.

Immediately after that, Little Orchid heard the sounds of spears falling in clatter on the ground. The soldiers that surrounded Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly tossed their spears from their hands to the ground in turns. It did not look like they're willing to do so but seemed to be oppressed by some sort of force.

Everyone would kneel on the ground like Da Yu.

At this whole spectacle, Little Orchid was still lifting her head to peer at Dong Fang Qing Cang who was suppressing every single person like the highest, noblest sovereign king of the world.

Little Orchid has met the emperor and that was the heavenly emperor who was the owner of the three realms, but at this time she cannot rummage through her memory of whoever has more general-like energy than Dong Fang Qing Cang.

This kind of attitude is unorthodox in this world. If another person displayed such attitude then it would be a laughing matter, but if placed on Dong Fang Qing Cang...then this unexpectedly turns into something innate.

He has absolute confidence and also absolute strength.

Even if Dong Fang Qing Cang was cursed, and even when using his powers he will be in pain to the point of his facial features pouring out blood and spirit is delirious.

But in front of others, he will not let anyone know.

Dong Fang Qing Cang went one step forward and under the ground carried roaring oppressive, low-pitched noises. The smooth stone path seemed to push from the ground and abruptly swelled. The strength of Dong Fang Qing Cang was like a dragon strolling under the ground and flying straight toward the main hall. After several loud sounds under the ground, the main hall from afar collapsed in rumbles.

The highest stairs that were like a mountain broke apart inch by inch. Within a moment's time, the entire main hall shattered into pieces.

The main hall collapsed and yet, the gold figure of Dong Fang Qing Cang inside the hall was still standing. He waved his sleeves and the gold figure also shattered into pieces.

Inside the rows of houses on both sides carried panicking cries. The people of the demon realm were extremely alarmed about the collapse of the ritual hall.

But Little Orchid saw such scene and was very calm. Anyway, she has already witnessed in person the scene of Dong Fang Qing Cang causing eight thousand soldiers to disappeared within seconds, causing the surface of the sea to split into two, and also causing an entire island to submerged to the bottom of the ocean. Compared with those things, knocking over a palace was not worth seeing...

There are matters that just need to be forgotten.

At the time that Little Orchid was peering calmly at demon realm's dogs barking and the chickens chirping, a group of people galloped from the murky dirt as they ran in panic.

Little Orchid looked there and it was the Prime Minister Shang Que of the demon realm and.... an ill man with a beautiful appearance.

She subconsciously furrowed her brows. This man indeed has beauty, but demonic energy and demeanor fell short in comparison to Dong Fang Qing Cang.
