Chapter 71: Chapter 48

There were several military officers behind Shang Que and Kong Que. Looking at the way they're dressed can know that they do not have lowly positions.

Seeing those people, Little Orchid felt a sense of familiarity. When she was inside Dong Fang Qing Cang's body, and has just arrived in the demon realm where people have prepared a feast for Dong Fang Qing Cang, it was these people who have come to toast and spoke celebratory words.

Several high ranked officials were all in one place. Can quickly see that [they're] definitely conspiring something unfortunate.

Little Orchid saw them so naturally Dong Fang Qing Cang also saw them. His mouth turned into a smile and he stepped forward.

At this time, the bricks on the large path have been crushed by strength of the earth underneath. The mud became dug out and the demon realm soldiers retreated on both sides of the path. They were oppressed by the strength of Dong Fang Qing Cang and could not lift their heads up. Following the steps of Dong Fang Qing Cang toward the front, complexions of many people at the other end of the road changed.

Shang Que was extremely shocked and turned around to ask the person next to him whose expression was pale-stricken, "Wasn't he cursed, how can he still be uninjured..."

A military official supported Kong Que and his eyes peered unwaveringly at Dong Fang Qing Cang, "Correct, he was afflicted by the curse..." The atmosphere surrounding Dong Fang Qing Cang's body stirred strongly and caused his shadow to be a bit hazy. But Kong Que was still sharp and noticed that his ears were bleeding. It followed along his chin, flowed down the neck, and then sinks into his front piece of his black shirt.

Kong Que produced difficult to hear sounds, "Right now, demon king is merely putting on a pretense." He commanded the person to the left of him, "General Lu Qi, the five facial features of demon king are extremely sharp. Use sound to create chaos to his mind and then call all the assassins here. If this battle does not cause demon king to surrender then afterwards he definitely will not contribute to our demon realm."

"Military counselor..." General Lu Qi was somewhat hesitant, "Right now the power of demon king stills remains. Fighting him will only..."

"Scared of what!" The voice of Kong Que was solemn, "Right now he is being plagued by the curse, is there even an ability that can overturn the heavens? [He] is merely trying to endure and put on a display of bravado. Only need this time to subdue the demon king. After that, the long-cherished wish of returning to the three realms of our demon realm will definitely be imminent."

Lu Qi was briefly quiet and solemnly cupped his fist into the other hand (as a sign of respect) in response.

His shadow next to Kong Que disappeared and soon, the hostile energy on the main path turned heavier.

Kong Que turned head around to look at Shang Que and said in a small voice, "Even if cannot win against demon king, this battle must definitely kill the female on the demon snake over there."

Shang Que was startled, "That is..."

"If I predicted correctly, that is the body that demon king has found for Chi De woman." The expression of Kong Que darkened, "Regardless, cannot let demon king succeed."

On the roofs, there were several moving black shadows disappearing and appearing. They went along the eaves on the both sides of the path and followed along Dong Fang Qing Cang's steps.

The atmosphere suddenly turned slightly strange.

The hostile energy wafted out a peculiar fragrance and within the flash of an eye, Little Orchid seemed to see many males wearing revealing clothes that bare their sturdy chests clearly on the front path. They attentively peered at Little Orchid and then used their hands to gently stroke their chests.

Little Orchid bewilderedly peered at them and then felt that their faces began to transform into...

Dong Fang Qing Cang...

As if there were hoarse sounds ringing in her ears, "Little flower demon, you go stroke ben zuo's chest to see if it's sturdy or not?" Such words caused the face of Little Orchid to turn red, "You want... to touch a bit lower no? Come..."

Save...

Save my life...

Little Orchid felt that her head was about to explode. Even if the face blushing to the point of burning hot, she still felt the clear desire inside her head. She felt that inside of her head there was a sound that was saying, "Yes, I want to touch, take hand out..."

"Hah, using an insignificant charm of enticing sounds to cause trouble for ben zuo's consciousness."

Suddenly the cold laugh like winter biting-cold winds has dispersed the whispering voices in Little Orchid's ears. She shook her head and saw that she was still on Da Yu's back while Da Yu was still following Dong Fang Qing Cang toward the front.

Up ahead, Dong Fang Qing Cang was mocking the people of the demon realm, "Ignorant juniors."

Little Orchid was momentarily silent.

After that [she] was reminded of the things she has seen and heard. She quickly used two hands to cover her head. Oh heavens ah, this is a battlefield and she was unexpectedly in the illusory spell of the enemy where she has seen...

She's crazy!

At the time Little Orchid was burying her head in the illusion, Da Yu who was carrying her suddenly sped up. Little Orchid became dazed and immediately sobered up (awaking). Even if she does not know what Da Yu has seen, but she still felt an unusualness of Da Yu. It has gone very fast to the point that its head almost passed Dong Fang Qing Cang.

This is not reasonable.

After all, this flattering snake... how can it dare to go in front of its master...

She patted Da Yu's back and called its name for it to become clear-headed, but Dai Yu was still indifferent until its head has passed Dong Fang Qing Cang. He suddenly shifted his vision to the side and then flapped the sleeve straight at Da Yu's face.

The direct force was strong to the point of causing its head to askew and spins around at one spot two to three times until it has awaken/return back.

It frustratingly shouted out a sound and then realized that it has fallen under the enemy's scheme and so Dong Fang Qing Cang has hit it. It immediately grew strangely angry and used the tip of its tail to wrap Little Orchid. It cried out one sound and half of its body pressed on the residences at both sides of the path while its mouth bit into the atmosphere.

Little Orchid thought that it did not bite anything, but within a split second there was fresh blood splashing out. Little Orchid looked again and discovered in Dai Yu's mouth unexpectedly, there were two shadows!

So all the surrounding assassins were using hiding spells.

The hands and feet of the black shadows were still struggling and Dai Yu lifted its head to swallow the two people.

Little Orchid inhaled a cold breath and she immediately patted Da Yu's back while saying, "Extremely dirty, extremely dirty. Do not eat arbitrarily, immediately spit it out!"

The swallowing movement of Da Yu paused and then it lowered its head. It shook its neck and then spit out the two motionless shadows to the ground.

After that, as if waiting to be praised, it turned its head to peer at Little Orchid.

Little Orchid did not encourage it.

Little Orchid looked toward the front of Da Yu. The black clothed males in all four directions knew that the illusory charm spell did not affect Dong Fang Qing Cang and they immediately switched strategy. There was someone who unexpectedly jumped down from the eaves to block Dong Fang Qing Cang's path and took out the sword to slash toward him [DFQC].

These people were not affected by the imposing energy of Dong Fang Qing Cang. Can assume that [they're] a lot more formidable than the regular soldiers of the demon realm.

Dong Fang Qing Cang narrowed his eyes and the cold, thick lips uttered out two words, "courting death". When he finished speaking, the billowing murderous energy of his entire body surged. It ripped the people who were coming down into scraps.

Their blood spread across the ground and dyed the ground in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang red.

But the murderous energy of Dong Fang Qing Cang cannot halt the steps of the assassins as several other people jointly charged toward. It's not one bit surprise as [they] became a different puddle of blood on the ground and people from the back then charged toward again.

Dong Fang Qing Cang discovered that something was not right, but at this time, the place that he stood was littered with fresh blood of the assassins.

Even the stomach of Da Yu rubbed on fresh blood.

The assassins seemed to be executing out orders and surrounded Dong Fang Qing Cang in neat-shaped square. Inside the hand of each person was blood for sealing as each mouth began to chant.

Little Orchid suddenly and strangely felt there was a force that was there and not there, pulling her. The bone orchid on her wrist immediately stirred and it suddenly sprouted out several branches, which covered the front of Little Orchid's chest. After that, it quickly sprouted branches that were like arrows, piercing toward the nearest assassins. But before the rattan vine can pierce the chest of the assassin, there appeared to be a protecting screen that halted it.

The bone orchid was unsuccessful and its branch began to sprout from two sides, but all of the branches were limited. It then rose toward the sky, but was halted in the atmosphere.

Seeing the movements of bone orchid, Little Orchid seemingly discovered that they were trapped inside an invisible box.

It was not like a boundary as boundary would only protect and not contain hostile energy that would prompt bone orchid to sprout in all four directions like this.

"It's a...hostile formation?" Little Orchid peered at the surrounding assassins that chanted incessantly and was extremely helpless as she said, "Big devil..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang laughed, "Insignificant talents."

He tapped one step toward the front and the ground shook. The silver hair of his dance wildly. The moment his hair flew, Little Orchid seemed to see that on a few locks of his were dyed in fresh blood.

Little Orchid was dazed. Did not get to question as she already heard the rumbling sounds and the screen that the surrounding assassins condensed was being pushed from inside. The assassins outside fell like sheets and each one would hug the stomach while spitting out blood.

But Little Orchid did not felt joyful as she saw that Dong Fang Qing Cang rubbed the corners of the eyes. Before he let go of his hand down and hid the palm inside the wide sleeve, she saw blood on the back of his hand.

So it's the curse...

Has to fight fast and win fast.

Little Orchid lifted head and saw that prime minister Shang Que was gently supporting the disabled male toward the side of the path as if wanting to escape.

The gaze of Dong Fang Qing Cang turned cold. At this time, in front of them, a plethora of assassins suddenly appeared and wanted to attrite the power and strength of Dong Fang Qing Cang.

The tail of Da Yu wrapped Little Orchid and can only howled while using mouth to tear and rip those black clothed people. The large and strong tail was completely used as decoration.

Little Orchid silently pondered. She patted the tail of Da Yu and wanted to tell it to release her, but Da Yu didn't want to. Thus, Little Orchid had to reach out her finger and scratch on its softest scale. Da Yu seemed like it could not stand being tickled and immediately released Little Orchid.

This time, the tail of Da Yu was freed. It howled and swept the tail toward the front, striking a bunch of assassins that are falling to the ground.

In order to avoid being injured accidentally, Little Orchid firmly held the dagger Dong Fang Qing Cang gave. She will evaluate the situation and then quick-mindedly hide to where there is no one.

Everything was focus on Dong Fang Qing Cang and Da Yu and so, there was no one who can stop her. At the time that Little Orchid felt her urgent and important moments were at the peak, bone orchid suddenly moved on her hand and only heard a "ka*" sound from behind her.

*Imagine a snapping, crackling sound

Little Orchid became rigid and turned around to see that the bone orchid has halted a frost-energy sword. The person who is holding the sword is none other than military counselor Kong Que who was previously in the front!

Within a moment he has come over here...

Not having the time to ponder about the problem, Little Orchid bent her legs and ran toward Da Yu, but after running for a distance, Kong Que from behind immediately used the sword to entwine around the rattan branches that poked out from the bone orchid on her wrist. The tip of the sword pierced the ground and caused the steps of Little Orchid to be halted.

In an instance, Kong Que has already halted the sharp tips of the rattan vine from the bone orchid and turned around to pierce Little Orchid's shoulder.

Little Orchid became pained, but there was no blood flowing out from her body. Kong Que saw this and faintly narrowed his eyes. Little Orchid endured the pain, gritted her teeth, and unsheathe the dagger in sleeve that she nimbly used to slash Kong Que's wrist.

Kong Que was hurt and withdrew his hand. Little Orchid took that opportunity to escape, but after turning around, she has knocked against a chest.

She was secretly terrified. At this time, bone orchid seemed to have lost its spiritual response and did not push away the person in front. It also did not transformed into a circle to protect her. Little Orchid thought that today she would become a dumpling of ash here. Yet, suddenly her hands were stretched and that person used strength to pull her to the back.

Little Orchid felt her eyes perked up as the shadow that pulled her hands from before carries strong vicious energy that went for the kill at Kong Que.

She was surprised and turned around to see that she has knocked against big devil's chest at that time!

Dong Fang Qing Cang at this moment was holding his long fiery ancient sword as it pierced through Kong Que's stomach, pinning him on a pillar in the back. After that, the pillar was lit on fire by Dong Fang Qing Cang's sword.

Dong Fang Qing Cang stood prominently in front of the flaming fire and the movement inside the pair of pupils was murderous blood red.

"Demon realm's military counselor?" When Dong Fang Qing Cang muttered these four words as the sword in the hand swirled in Kong Que's stomach and caused the expression of his to pale. Dong Fang Qing Cang darkly said, "Do you know how much skill ben zuo has to put in in order to create a body for her?"

Hearing Dong Fang Qing Cang say that, Little Orchid really was distracted, "Hey..." Perhaps [he] should say, "You have truly caused ben zuo to waste quite a bit of skill ah." Why such language, why say about... her body first....

"Aside from ben zuo, no one can touch her." What shady words lol...

Even if Little Orchid knew that in this sentence perhaps Dong Fang Qing Cang should say, "the body of hers", but at this time, Dong Fang Qing Cang did not add those three words*.

*It's three words but I went with adding four additional words to make it more obvious... Tell me if you feel I should switch to "her body" which is only two words.

Thus, even if Little Orchid's shoulder was still pierced by the rattan branch to pain, but the heart suddenly rose up...

Something that even she does not know clearly...warmth.

"Hah" Kong Que laughed and spat out a mouthful of blood, "Demon king, unexpectedly...care about the matter of Chi De woman...to that much?" Kong Que said in a hoarse voice, "The matter of ancient times, demon king... the emotional attachment is too deep ah..."

The double-edged sword in Dong Fang Qing Cang burned even stronger.

A mouthful of fresh blood flowed out of Kong Que's mouth.

The inner corners of Dong Fang Qing Cang's eyes also flowed blood down.

Kong Que saw that and was still smiling, "You cannot kill me..." Finished speaking, he suddenly raised his hand.

Dong Fang Qing Cang frowned and drew the sword out, but it was not in time as he has seen the mirror inside Kong Que's hand that flashed at his eyes. The feet of Dong Fang Qing Cang moved and immediately transformed into a wave of black energy that sucked into the mirror.

Little Orchid saw such and was astonished. She immediately chased after without thinking "Big devil!" She spoke up to call and saw her face inside the mirror. After that, she immediately went to sleep as the sky and earth turned.

After the painful feeling of being shredded into pieces, she has sunk into unconsciousness.

Love Between Fairy And Devil (Completed) Chapter 72 - Chapter 49

Little Orchid felt that she seemed to have fallen into a dream.

She clearly knew that she has closed her eyes, but the strange thing was that she could still see the peculiar scene inside the head.

There were butterflies and fluttering flowers. There were green grass and a stream. The door that overcame the rain and winds has become old-fashioned and there was water that gleamed under the sunlight in the courtyard. There was a female that rested on the corner of a pear tree in the yard and was quietly relaxing. At this time, pear blossoms bloomed and draped on the female like snow.

The female was not beautiful, but on her body there was a strength that caused others to be at ease and also caused others to feel an indescribably warmth in a strange way.

"Master." Little Orchid heard someone at the courtyard door lightly calling. After that, the purple clothed man walked inside. He saw that the female was fast asleep in the corner of the tree in the courtyard. He faintly looked distracted then immediately came to her side and squatted down in front of her.

"Master" He called.

She did not respond.

Just by chance, a pear blossom petal on the female's head fell down and landed on the edge of her lips. Before the gentle wind can blow away the petal, the purple clothed male suddenly moved his body and bent down in front of the female. He got closer to the female's face. He slightly opened his mouth and took the petal on the female's lips. The pair of red lips slightly touched the corner of the female's soft pink lips.

He withdrew from the female's face and used his hand to grab the petal that he has taken. It was inconvenient to toss it to the ground and he has placed the petal on the palm of his hand. After that, he quietly stored it away.

In the period of time after that he did not do anything and was merely staring quietly at the female who was fast asleep. He solemnly kneeled on the side as if he was attentively tracing her appearance.

Suddenly, the female furrowed her brows and woke up. In the pair of clear eyes printed the outline of the male's appearance.

"A Hao has returned, did the matter go smoothly?"

The purple clothed male nodded and lowered his gaze as he softly replied, "The rat demon has been solve, master can be at ease."

The female's lips curved into a gentle smile and then raised hand to rub the male's head as she spoke, "A Hao handling affairs will naturally put master at ease."

The purple clothed male silently peered at the female and did not speak. His gaze was as gentle as water.

Little Orchid looked to the point of being dazed. One point was that she felt the face of the male was rather familiar and two, the male toward his master was unexpectedly...

"Bang" sound vibrated on the sides of Little Orchid's ears.

Little Orchid was quivered and opened her eyes. At this split second, she was immediately shocked and became stupefied at the scenery in the front. At this time, she was hovering in the endless sky and afar was many colorful stars that were strangely beautiful. They were more beautiful than the starry skies she has seen in her lifetime until now.

Little Orchid peered at her feet below and saw that under her feet was the starry sky as well. She was surprised and turned around to discover she was enveloped entirely by the starry sky!

"So beautiful..." She muttered into sounds and figure turned to the back. After that, she discovered that was a shadow of someone appearing within her view.

Little Orchid was dazedly looking at him for a while then released the feeling of being strangely stupefied by the surroundings, "Big devil!" Right, from before they were still battling against the people of the demon realm... after that, there were pulled in by the strange mirror in military counselor Kong Que's hand. If saying so, then here...

"Is this place inside the mirror?"

She spoke, but did not see Dong Fang Qing Cang responding.

Little Orchid withdrew the gaze that peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang, but saw that he used his hands to press on the chin and was using his eyes in a way she has not seen before to look at her.

Little Orchid was unease after being looked at by him and hurriedly touched the clothes on her body as she was scared the clothing would disappeared in front of Dong Fang Qing Cang. But after touching for a bit, Little Orchid really did not feel that there was anything strange on her body.

She lifted her head to look at him, "What is it?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang narrowed his eyes, "Why are you here?"

Little Orchid was looking distracted, "I follow you in."

"How come you followed me?"

Little Orchid was dazed, "I did not grab you in time and was pulled in by that mirror."

Dong Fang Qing Cang laughed, "Oh, then why did you have to grab me?"

Little Orchid opened her mouth, yet the three words "wanting [to] save you" were stuck in the throat. She foolishly peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang for a while and then mouth moved again. She felt that she shouldn't say such words. She is a flower spirit of the heavenly realm. This is the demon king of the demon realm. The fate of the two of them is to be enemies, but right now she has wanted subconsciously to save him.

Really was unreasonable...

In the end, Little Orchid shifted her eyes and expression to look at the stars in the four directions. She was not planning to continue the matter with Dong Fang Qing Cang, "That one...speaking so weren't we pulled in by the mirror, how come it's like this..."

Not waiting for her to finish speaking, Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly raised his hand and used his index finger to lift Little Orchid's chin up, forcing her to lift her head and look at him.

Little Orchid peered at him. She was 1/3 alarmed, and 1/3 surprised. At the bottom [of the heart] has congregated and surfaced many unclear embarrassments that caused her face to redden and the body to freeze up. She felt that her ears were like little explosions, but the clear voice of Dong Fang Qing Cang was still able to crawl inside the head.

"Little Orchid, you have defied your stance and defy your own safety to subconsciously come and save me..." He brought his eyes closer to her face and the breath was like a soft brush that swept across her cheeks.

At that moment, Little Orchid thought immediately of scenery from before—the cautious, solemn, surreptitious kiss of a male that caused females to redden their faces.

Dong Fang...Dong Fang Qing Cang...was also planning to do that to her?

Little Orchid was completely stupefied and has forgotten to move. She only heard the voice of Dong Fang Qing Cang that spoke besides her ear like a magical spell, "Little Orchid, in heart, perhaps you have already love me deeply? You really caused me to be very moved."

Dong Fang Qing Cang's lips slowly went from the ears and moved toward the edge of her lips. His body that was warmer than a regular person several times and so, the breathing was also warmer. It was only the hot breath of his that has sufficiently caused Little Orchid to feel a burst of wanting to move.

"Wait! Wait...Wait up!"

When Dong Fang Qing Cang opened his mouth and was about to bite her lips, Little Orchid suddenly moved and used her hands to push him away. Even though face was still very red, but the eyes turned even more alert, "You...you're Dong Fang Qing Cang?"

With the way Little Orchid distancing from Dong Fang Qing Cang using her arm, Dong Fang Qing Cang looked at her and smiled gently, "Am I not?"

"You've called me Little Orchid..."

"Is that not right?"

"You did not arrogantly self-proclaimed yourself as ben zuo...Only when you pretend in front of others you would be like that. Right now it's not liked that at all."

"Oh, is that so..."

"You smiled at me like this...Usually whenever you criticize or scheme against me you would then smile at me..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang pouted his lips and eyes appeared sympathetic, "Unexpectedly, I treat you like that."

"You hated pouting the most..."

Speaking out frankly those sentences, Little Orchid suddenly realized that she has unconsciously understood Dong Fang Qing Cang so much to this point.

She would speak and would examine Dong Fang Qing Cang in front. After that she slowly discovered that his pupils were still red, but was darker than usual and face was pale in somewhat an abnormal manner while lips were faint bluish black, causing his face to be somewhat peculiar under the star-filled sky.

"You're not Dong Fang Qing Cang." Little Orchid said, and she retreated toward the back, but discovered that her waist has been hugged by "Dong Fang Qing Cang". His wrists were like steel and caused her to not be able to get out.

"Dong Fang Qing Cang" narrowed his eyes and smiled. His grin revealed an entire mouth of sharp teeth. Dong Fang Qing Cang clearly has only canine maxillary teeth that were sharper than regular people, but this person's entire teeth were like a carnivore and caused others to feel cold.

From before he was also opening his mouth like this and almost bite onto her mouth.

Little Orchid's heart still has lingering fear.

She heard the person in front smiled and said, "You're quite smart. I am indeed not Dong Fang Qing Cang, but saying so is not right as I am Dong Fang Qing Cang. I am a part of him."

"You...You're which part of him?" Little Orchid said in a trembling voice.

The male heard this and furrowed his brows to briefly ponder, "How come hearing your words is strange?"

Little Orchid did not speak.

The male continued, "I can answer you, but you have to beg me first."

Hearing such sentence, Little Orchid felt that she does not have to harrow her conscience on which part of Dong Fang Qing Cang this person is as he is as vile as Dong Fang Qing Cang...

Little Orchid did not respond, but that did not affect the male as he naturally spoke by himself. He lifted his head to look at the starry sky, organized his words, and then responded, "If speaking from the beginning, I was originally an energy inside Dong Fang Qing Cang's body. I have been residing in his body since the ancient times. Previously, I did not feel my existence. After he was defeated by Chi De woman, and was beheaded by the gods, his eternal consciousness wandered throughout the sky and earth. At that time, I probably have slowly grown larger."

"Did you know that Dong Fang Qing Cang has disappeared in this endless sky, where he was, and what sceneries he has seen?"

The male raised his hand and pointed at the vast stars, "You go look. It is so." He disregarded whether Little Orchid was willingly to or not as he pulled her hand and began to rotate in midair. At times would be fast and at times would be slow, endlessly rotating passed the stars as he said, "Each day he was like this."

"Did you know why he was like this?" The male grabbed Little Orchid who was being spun in rounds, and wanted to vomit "It's because he only has eternal consciousness and has nothing else."

"Staring from there, each day and night, each hour and moment I can see a sound in nothingness. In that sound there was no words, but I can feel his discontentment, anger, and resentment that slowly accumulated. His voice has made me very happy. He and I would go through each day and each night inside the void of nothingness. I have slowly turned large, slowly grown, and then turned into such appearance presently."

He peered at Little Orchid, "You see, currently I am exactly like Dong Fang Qing Cang right?"

"You..." Little Orchid looked at the person in front and shakily produced out several words in fear, "You're...the resentment spirit of Dong Fang Qing Cang."

Chapter 73: Chapter 50

"Resentment spirit?" That male rubbed his chin to ponder and then a moment later he broke into a laugh, "If you say so then you can consider me as his resentment spirit."

Little Orchid peered at his teeth and couldn't refrain from shaking.

Hearing the words that the resentment spirit has spoken from before, he was born from resentful energy inside Dong Fang Qing Cang and then slowly developed for ten millions years while drifting in the void of Dong Fang Qing Cang. Looking at the appearance of the current resentment spirit, it's obvious that when the consciousness of Dong Fang Qing Cang has wandered about, he was not content and developed a hatred for the matter of his defeat by Chi De woman.

Born from resentment energy, [it/he] grew larger due to hatred. Thus, this "Dong Fang Qing Cang" was difficult for Little Orchid to predict and hard to fathom. Likes to slice, fight and also...reveals feelings way more than the Dong Fang Qing Cang that Little Orchid knew.

"You're...you're capturing me for what?" Little Orchid said in a quiet, trembling voice. She was merely scared that if she was loud by a bit then would anger the resentment spirit, "I am only a little orchid celestial spirit. I am a celestial spirit that the earth has given birth to, right now... even the body I am using was also molded from clay. You eating me...will not digest properly."

The arm of the resentment spirit used strength and even if the two hands of Little Orchid have used force to push him away, but all her current efforts in front of the resentment spirit was extremely miniscule. In only a brief moment, he has captured Little Orchid in front of the chest and then wrapped two hands around her waist tightly, "Little Orchid, your words have really caused me to be hurt. Why do you feel that I will eat you?"

Little Orchid arduously pulled her head from the arms of the resentment spirit and placed head on his shoulder to breathe, "If...if not, then you will...kill me..."

The resentment spirit laughed, "Because you saved "me", and was not regretful when putting yourself in danger. In the entire life of Dong Fang Qing Cang, there has never been anyone who has done this for him." His palm hugged the back of Little Orchid and lovingly stroked her long hair, "I only want to cherish you carefully."

Little Orchid heard this and her body immediately felt foolish.

"This...this person, who was born from resentment energy, was saying what?"

Cherish?

Feeling that the body of Little Orchid was being stiff, the movement of the resentment spirit was even gentler. He slightly bent his back and placed mouth adjacent to Little Orchid's ears, "Seeing you scared like this, the time spent with Dong Fang Qing Cang definitely has been tormenting of no less, but that is of no matter. Later, I will replace Dong Fang Qing Cang and will love and cherish you."

His finger sprouted a sharp fingernail, but he only used the back of the finger to gently stroked Little Orchid's cheeks, "Will you say that it's fine?"

Little Orchid was dazed for quite a while and finally was able to catch the key point, "You want...to replace Dong Fang Qing Cang?"

The resentment spirit laughed and pulled Little Orchid out from a distance. After that, he blew on her nose, "You're really clever. Truly makes others like."

Seeing that facial expression and hearing such words, Little Orchid still cannot adapt nor find it fitting. Previously Dong Fang Qing Cang only scolded her as a fool and has not praised her clever ever.

Little Orchid said, "But you...but you...you are not Dong Fang Qing Cang. You're only a part of him..."

Resentment spirit heard this and eyes slightly flickered a dark red light. The bone orchid that was still quiet on Little Orchid's hand suddenly moved!

It immediately separated into several sharp branches and pierced toward the heart of the resentment spirit like an arrow, but each sharp arrow that got close to the resentment spirit even a bit was halted by some kind of force and cannot go through.

Resentment spirit shifted his eyes and looked at the bone orchid worn around Little Orchid's wrist.

"Treasure that move according to hostile energy ah." The resentment spirit laughed, "Was it Dong Fang Qing Cang who gave it you?"

When he laughed, the surrounding hostile energy withdrew and the bone orchid shrunk.

Little Orchid did not dare respond and resentment spirit has considered that she has tacitly agreed.

"It's quite rare, Dong Fang Qing Cang gifting an object to a female." He narrowed his eyes, "Did not expect that inside his body there was still lust."

"What...does that mean?"

"Dong Fang Qing Cang is warlike and has journeyed inside the void for many years. He has an attachment with the matter of being defeated in ancient times. When the people of demon realm resurrected demon king, the consciousness of Dong Fang Qing Cang only carried along this attachment. Lust, greed, and power that were not a lot inside his body were being tossed back inside the void. Naturally, also included me. I have absorbed those of his. Thus, I have become the person that you see now. I used all [my] powers, when Dong Fang Qing Cang resurrected and when he was battling against another, to condense into piece of fragment in the corner of the void and has fallen into the sleeve of Kong Que when he fell.

The resentment spirit laughed and said, "Therefore, even if I am a part of Dong Fang Qing Cang's body that was cut off, right now I am more complete than him. He has swept widely across his body. He is the demon king, but does not have desires to fill up the inner emptiness and can only relied on the emotional attachment on how to prop up his superior immortal body."

Little Orchid looked at the resentment spirit in shock, "You are...the one who perform the curse on him?"

"Yes." The resentment spirit smile gently, "He has abandoned many great things and is no longer the true Dong Fang Qing Cang. I have collected every desire and feelings of his. Therefore, if right now want to say who is really Dong Fang Qing Cang, then it is me. I replace him is not a natural matter."

"You want to replace him... for what?"

The resentment spirit heard this and laughed with beaming smiley eyes as he peered at Little Orchid, "Take power and give or take away life, enjoying paramount of reverence, and do every happy thing in the world..."

If he replaced Dong Fang Qing Cang, afraid that the three realms at that time will really be unlucky...

"Little Orchid, you admire Dong Fang Qing Cang to this point, but he is ruthless and cannot achieve for you. At that time, I will definitely achieve it for you..."

Finished speaking, there was suddenly a wave of hostile energy that sliced toward.

The resentment spirit immediately retreated back to a far distance.

A flaming long-sword suddenly appeared and blocked in front of Little Orchid. Little Orchid bewilderedly lifted her head to look. It was the shadow of someone in black and long flowing silver hair. The back stood straight in front of Little Orchid without turning around, and did not bother to give Little Orchid an expression to confirm. Standing in front of her and facing the resentment spirit as [person] coldly laughed, "Replace ben zuo, relying on you?"

Only with such short words, within a moment the low beating and insecurity of Little Orchid's heart due to the words of the resentment spirit have settled down.

The resentment spirit laughed, "Dong Fang Qing Cang, I wanted to meet you for such a long time." His gaze that peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang was crazy and obsessive.

Little Orchid quietly pressed behind Dong Fang Qing Cang and then pulled on his gown, "When the body is being coveted by others, people will use such gaze to look at you. But do you feel such craziness..."

At this time, Dong Fang Qing Cang then turned around and shot a cold glance at Little Orchid.

In contact with such gaze, Little Orchid immediately felt relaxed like getting sick from something....

Yes! This is really the gaze that Dong Fang Qing Cang ought to look at her. The bizarre gaze that caused discomfort to her and did not allow her to speak into words was being momentarily quilted by such cold gaze.

Little Orchid honestly and obediently retreated behind Dong Fang Qing Cang.

"Dong Fan Qing Cang, you have always encumbered by the matters of the ancient times. Cannot easily be resurrect, but still wanted to pull Chi De woman to fight another battle. Such narrow-minded warlike vision of yours has caused me to feel anxious for you. If you do not know how to use the strength of your body, then should give it to me. I can help you utilizes effectively its ability more than you can imagine."

Dong Fang Qing Cang turned around to look at the resentment spirit attentively and did not appeared one bit flustered and exasperated as he merely smiled gently in a mocking manner, "You're merely a scrap that ben zuo has tossed away, yet dare to hoot?"

The double-edge sword in Dong Fang Qing Cang's hand flared up flames and was even more dazzling than the star-filled sky.

"In this entire world, does not need another Dong Fang Qing Cang." Finished speaking, he lifted the sword up and sliced toward the resentment spirit's direction.

The resentment spirit was also not scared and smirk revealed sharp teeth while laughing voice turned high-pitched, "You have tossed away emotions, but did not toss away conceit! At this time, you dared to battle with me?"

Finished speaking, the resentment spirit shook his body and avoided the chop of Dong Fang Qing Cang's sword that was slicing toward.

He stood three steps away from Dong Fang Qing Cang. Only needed for Dong Fang Qing Cang to lift hand once more and can slice the resentment spirit, but at this time Dong Fang Qing Cang halted his movement.

Little Orchid stared and saw that Dong Fang Qing Cang used his right hand to cover the left side of his chest where his heart is. Little Orchid shifted her eyes and surprisingly discovered, did not know when, in the hands of resentment spirit was a heart unexpectedly.

But the strange thing was that the heart was not complete and only has one half...

"The heart that makes the owner feel, Dong Fang Qing Cang, you have tossed desires and thus, have tossed one half of the heart. One half of your heart is in my hand. What can you do anymore? You should obediently give the body to me."

Little Orchid was greatly alarmed. It's no wonder that the resentment spirit can place a curse on Dong Fang Qing Cang and it's no wonder that Dong Fang Qing Cang was in so much pain, it's because...

Little Orchid was inwardly worried and attentively peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang, but does not know what she can do.

But at the time that she and resentment spirit thought that Dong Fang Qing Cang cannot stand up straight, he suddenly sneered, "Half of the heart is insignificant..." His voice seemed to be repressing extreme pain, "...and want to control ben zuo?"

Hearing such words, resentment spirit was shock. Little Orchid seemed to have predicted what he wanted to do. She widened her eyes, yet did not get to say "don't" as she already saw Dong Fang Qing Cang squeeze the blood, plump flesh in his hand.

Little Orchid was largely astonished.

Resentment spirit was stunned and cannot speak out words.

Dong Fang Qing Cang tossed the bloody heart from hand and did not seemed to care. His pale expression did not appeared to display any emotion, "If it was not due to being unable to find the origin of the curse, ben zuo would not allow you to curse ben zuo for such a long time like this..."

The right hand that was filled with blood dripping held the sword. [He] did not seemed to feel that his heart was bleeding as he peered at resentment spirit while smiling vilely like malicious spirit from the inferno, "If has the ability then go ahead and come take ben zuo's body."

Little Orchid felt that when compared to resentment spirit, inside Dong Fang Qing Cang's head seemed to exist the most malicious evil in the entire world...

But... that's your bloody damn* heart ah!

**translator note: Original text mentioned arrogant idler, which is cursing, but since it sounds awkward, I've inserted "bloody damn" instead.

Chapter 74: Chapter 51

Not waiting for the resentment spirit to return back to reality, Dong Fang Qing Cang held the sword and sliced toward [it].

The resentment spirit panicked and tried to avoid, but Dong Fang Qing Cang still cut off the sleeve of his robe and [spirit] transformed into a black energy that roam across the void.

Dong Fang Qing Cang temporarily halted and narrowed his eyes as he peered at that black energy. At this time, resentment spirit has awaken and continued to match wits as the corner of his mouth curved, "Dong Fang Qing Cang, you cannot kill me." Then he continued, "I am a part of you, and is the energy you have congregate during the period in the endless void. I am incorporeal and figureless. Even if your sword of flames can slice everything in the three realms, but you cannot behead me."

The resentment spirit grinned and revealed his sharp teeth. He tossed away the other half of the heart that has no use by placing it alongside the heart that Dong Fang Qing Cang has tossed before, and then disappeared into the void. The resentment spirit said, "I am also you, who does not belong to the three realms. I am you."

The blood red pupils of Dong Fang Qing Cang watched the resentment spirit attentively. He was not suppressed and limited by the curse and so he used his powers without become afraid of the consequences. "You are ben zuo?" Dong Fang Qing Cang sneered, "Really is wanton."

As Dong Fang Qing Cang became angry, his flames of anger have caused Little Orchid, who was currently like a mortal, to feel the raging energy within the void. Her ears were experiencing episodic ringing and even [she] felt chest tightness. Ever she has entered inside the clay/xi rang body she has never felt such feeling before.

She looked afar. Perhaps it was an illusion of hers as she seemingly saw the stars in the sky tottering. The bone orchid on her wrist silently sprouted out dry, rattan branches and wrapped around the body of Little Orchid. It even crawled up her head and used small branches to wrap around her head, covered her ears, and even covered her eyes.

Little Orchid couldn't suppress her curiosity. Pushing out a branch in the front, she has a curiosity that could not be suppressed toward the appearance of Dong Fang Qing Cang when angered...Even though she often angered Dong Fang Qing Cang, but such anger of his at this time, seemed to be...different than the times he was angry with her?

The resentment spirit clearly has felt the energy of Dong Fang Qing Cang and the smile on the lips couldn't stop its diminishment. Yet, [he] did not have the opportunity to open mouth as the sword energy on the fiery sword of Dong Fang Qing Cang flared up. Inside of the rays of light shone to the point of blinding and the murderous energy of Dong Fang Qing Cang stirred. The resentment spirit closed his eyes and moved sideways to avoid. The energy inside the hand also moved and a wave of black energy transformed into a double-edged sword in resentment spirit's hand.

The resentment spirit did not opened eyes and relied on the senses to lift hand and defend. The black-colored sword halted the fiery sword of Dong Fang Qing Cang, but within a moment, the flames burned the tip of the sword and only heard "ka" as the sword of resentment spirit stopped congregating energy and was immediately sliced into pieces by Dong Fang Qing Cang!

Yet, this sword was like the robe sleeve from before as it immediately transformed into a black-colored energy that still surrounded the sides of Dong Fang Qing Cang and the resentment spirit. Dong Fang Qing Cang originally did not peered at the surrounding energies as the gaze grew colder and did not waste time for resentment spirit to avoid as he sliced resentment spirit's shoulder.

The black-colored energy flowed out from the wound on resentment spirit's shoulder like blood on the neck of a mortal after being slashed by knife. The resentment spirit groaned a sound and retreated to the back in order to avoid, but Dong Fang Qing Cang has experienced many battles and would not let his opponent continue retreating. Only heard Dong Fang Qing Cang coldly smiled and said, "Your bones are quite hard."

Finished speaking, Little Orchid, who was still assessing the fight outside, suddenly saw the rays of light from the sword of Dong Fang Qing Cang dimmed. In the beginning, she still couldn't recognize what has happened until she closely saw and discovered that Dong Fang Qing Cang has unexpectedly pierced the sword into the opponent!

The burning flames flared inside the body of the resentment spirit. Little Orchid heard Dong Fang Qing Cang snorted coldly. Briefly later, the rays of light on the sword illuminated once more and brightened the eyes of Little Orchid.

Dong Fang Qing Cang has sliced the resentment spirit into two pieces.

It like...chopping gourd for a food dish.

Nonetheless, is a person who looks exactly like you...yet big devil can still take action, this matter...Little Orchid pondered, towards the heart of his body he has said tossed and did tossed, should not hope on how he treats other anymore...

Thinking to that, Little Orchid dazed the body, if...there is a day when she returns to the heavenly realm and stood in opposition against Dong Fang Qing Cang, then when standing opposite, will he not show mercy like before...

Will she be chopped into two pieces...or so?

Little Orchid did not get to indulge in flights of fancy as on the face of the resentment spirit who was "beheaded" by Dong Fang Qing Cang curved into a strange smile.

The smile was cold and also terrifying, "Dong Fang Qing Cang...give the body to me."

The gaze of Dong Fang Qing Cang darkened. The body of the resentment spirit suddenly exploded and transformed black-colored energy that filled the sky, enveloping Dong Fang Qing Cang inside.

Little Orchid was far away and she was surprised to discover that the black energy that surrounded Dong Fang Qing Cang has unexpectedly turned into a skull. While Dong Fang Qing Cang was standing right in front of that skull's opened mouth! The pupils of Little Orchid shrank. She heard herself who can't contain as she shouted out, "Big devil! Be careful!"

However when her voice finished, the skull suddenly closed its mouth and Dong Fang Qing Cang was swallowed inside. The surrounding black colored energy immediately congregated into a sphere and completely obscured the silhouette of Dong Fang Qing Cang.

Little Orchid subconsciously wanted to run toward the front even though she does not know what she can do if she charged forward...

At this time, the bone orchid on the wrist has finished enveloping her. Little Orchid could not budge and can only shift eyes to stare blankly at the sphere of black energy condensing and rotating very fast.

At the time when the energy stirred, Little Orchid would occasionally see bright flames crawling out from inside the black colored energy. Sometimes the bright flames resembled a sword piercing through the surface of the black colored energy, but when she thought that Dong Fang Qing Cang was about to become victorious, the bright flames were sunk by the black energy.

The storm of the flames and black energy colliding was intense. Even if [she] could not see the fight between the two people inside, but Little Orchid can imagine how vehement the two "Dong Fang Qing Cang" are fighting.

Little Orchid's heart was racing as she peered and waited for the result, but the black energy and the flames were still fighting endlessly. Little Orchid waited for a long time and felt that her eyes were getting a little bit exhausted. After that she yawned. Waited for a while and still did not see any result. She smacked the lips and slept under the protection of the bone orchid. Zzzz*

*The author indicated huhu for the sound of someone breathing when sound asleep, but that doesn't fit well when translating so I opt for "zzz"

Living together with Dong Fang Qing Cang for a long time, it seemed that her mood when seeing the various bewilderingly odd fights was more at ease in an unusual way...

When Little Orchid slept for a bit and then woke up, the scene was still like before...

She felt downright insipid and smacked her lips while shooting a glance and saying, "In the end how long are you guys planning to fight..." When she finished speaking the sentence, the rotation speed of the black energy over there slowly slowed down.

Knowing that it was almost the end, Little Orchid got back her spirit and she blinked her eyes to watch attentively. She saw that the sphere from the black energy slowly reduced and became smaller. After that, the silver hair of Dong Fang Qing Cang was revealed and then, the head and the feet. After, it was the feet and the neck. Finally, the body surfaced when the black energy completely disappeared inside Dong Fang Qing Cang's body.

The surroundings were silent for a while.

Little Orchid was dazed and peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang's body that was hovering in the atmosphere. His entire body seemed to have lost all its energy and closed its eyes while floating quietly like fallen dead leaves.

The bone orchid that surrounded Little Orchid slowly retreated. Little Orchid knew that in the atmosphere there was no hostile energy anymore. She walked several steps toward Dong Fang Qing Cang.

"Big devil?"

She softly called his name, but did not hear any response back. Who won? Inside Little Orchid's heart, it would not stop guessing. Such silence, perhaps...all have died? Died together?

Little Orchid was dazed. Inside her heart she knew clearly that even if it was the resentment spirit of Dong Fang Qing Cang or the real Dong Fang Qing Cang, the existence of them was a threat to the heavenly realm. It was best that the two people here battle each other where they would perish and die together. Like that, the three realms would restore its peace and the ambitious people of the demon realm would temporarily stop.

But...at this time Little Orchid tossed her stance to the side.

She wanted Dong Fang Qing Cang to live, wanted Dong Fang Qing Cang to leave here, she...did not want Dong Fang Qing Cang to die.

"Big devil." Little Orchid called loudly and stood besides him.

He still kept his eyes closed. The facial features that were so delicate to the point of causing to the country and people, were still like before. The eyelashes were still long like the first time she has seen them. On the body of his, besides the wound when he took out the heart, there was no other place seen with distinct trickling blood.

Like this...perhaps will be okay? Little Orchid cautiously and solemnly reached out with her hand to probe the breathing from Dong Fang Qing Cang's nose. It's quite weak, but still remains. Not dead, is still alive. The boulder inside her heart suddenly fell to the ground, but in a short period of time, the boulder was hung up. The body still lives, but the person inside...who is that?

She peered at face of Dong Fang Qing Cang. Then lightly called several times. There was really no response from Dong Fang Qing Cang. Little Orchid briefly pondered. In the end, gathered the courage and the shaking hand reached out to squeeze his nose.

En...nose is really beautiful and squeeze felt quite comfortable.

She waited until Dong Fang Qing Cang cannot hold breath anymore and then will release hand, but she squeezed for a while and did not see him consciously waking up. Thus, Little Orchid began to become frightened about whether she has squeezed the ancient demon king to death.

But when she loosen her grip and did not probe the breathing in Dong Fang Qing Cang's nose anymore, the power still remained and the breathing, after she squeezed it for a long time, became faster.

Like this can consider that he still lives right? However...living like a corpse...If Dong Fang Qing Cang continues to sleep forever like this...then what to do?

Little Orchid peered at the surroundings. Aside from the starry sky, there was nothing else. After reaching a peace of mind, she heard her heartbeats were oddly quiet. Furthermore, his breathings were weak to the point of losing oneself out of breath.

Really is too peaceful...

Seeing the stars turned, Little Orchid suddenly begin to become scared. If continued to turn, turn forever, Dong Fang Qing Cang disappeared, then what should she do if she's here alone? Thus, she hugged his head and placed him who was peacefully sleeping inside her bosom. Does not know how long [she] has experienced, the patience of Little Orchid seemed to become almost abraded all by the endless stars.

Suddenly, she remembered from before what the resentment spirit has told her. Dong Fang Qing Cang has turned and moved inside the void of nothingness for ten million years.

Ten million years...was a very long period of time. Little Orchid originally has no conception of that. But she stayed here for a while and has already felt extremely bored. Cannot blame Dong Fang Qing Cang here to produce so many grievances that congregated into the resentment spirit, really cannot blame...

It's no wonder... that he's strongly attached to the battle from the ancient times.

The period of time when he would roam here was certainly without a missed moment of regretting his own defeat. Furthermore, Dong Fang Qing Cang was narrowed-minded like this, and certainly dreamt about wanting to claim the debt from Chi De woman.

Perhaps...this was the reason he wanted to resurrect Chi De woman.

It's no wonder that at the time Dong Fang Qing Cang wanted to mold the body of Chi De woman into a male...Perhaps did not want to battle with a woman anymore. Little Orchid peered at her own hands. In the end, [she] finally felt that at this time it's better that she still occupies this body. After all, the grudge between Dong Fang Qing Cang and Chi De woman is not related to her. She should demand him to find a body for her and then leave.

When she was thinking in circles, Little Orchid suddenly heard the breathings of Dong Fang Qing Cang become heavier within the peaceful period of time. Little Orchid immediately vanished her thoughts and peered at Dong Fang Qing Cang's eyes. She saw that he has slowly opened them. It was still the bloody red pupils that did not darkened and also were not terrifying. Little Orchid knew that he would not lose and definitely has won over his resentment spirit.

Dong Fang Qing Cang opened eyes, but did not look at Little Orchid and only peered at the star-filled sky. Little Orchid did not get to speak up as he closed his eyes. After that, lips curved and produced a hazy, cold sneer.

Little Orchid stared until becoming dazed.

This is the first time she has seen on the arrogant, ever-unchanging expression of Dong Fang Qing Cang...

To display such dejection like that.

It was like accepting one's fate, helpless, and was even like... Losing all of one's hope with oneself, impotent.

"Big...big devil?" Little Orchid gently called. Hearing her voice, Dong Fang Qing Cang opened his eyes and this time, the gaze landed on the face of Little Orchid. He peered at her and there were several parts of surprise that [he] forgot to hide. It was like asking how can you be here.

"Cannot expect..." Dong Fang Qing Cang said while staring blankly, "It's not a dream..."

Little Orchid was startled, "It's not what dream?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang shifted his eyes and peered at the star-filled sky, "I thought that when I have left this damnable place was merely a dream."

Little Orchid did not expect that Dong Fang Qing Cang would answer her question and also did not expect he would respond like that. Such response has caused her to feel that Dong Fang Qing Cang seemed to...have forgotten to wear a protective mask in front of her. Even took off his outer coat filled with thorns. He spoke from his heart.

After that, Little Orchid reflected on that sentence. Unexpectedly, the heart began to feel something indescribable...does not know what flavor it is...

So when Dong Fang Qing Cang roamed inside the void, unexpectedly he was in despair with himself to that much, so Dong Fang Qing Cang...

Also can sometimes be weak and caused others...to feel ache/sympathetic.

Chapter 75: Chapter 52.1

Looking at Dong Fang Qing Cang's expression, Little Orchid does not know where she has gotten the sudden courage as she pinched the face and widen out his mouth.

Dong Fang Qing Cang lifted head to look at the stars-filled sky and expression was solemn. Yet, suddenly his face was pinched by Little Orchid and his expression immediately darkened. The gaze was inclined and peered coldly at her, "Little flower demon, want to die, huh?"

"Big devil. Don't be scared."

Little Orchid let go of his face and said, "Indeed you have resurrected."

Dong Fang Qing Cang became dazed.

"Of course, the current surroundings are still like so, but we can certainly leave...right, probably..." Little Orchid scratched her head, "But granted after taking one step back, if we cannot leave...then...then, there is still me who is here with you."

On Little Orchid's face, it appeared to have no countenance of joking and was serious to the point of causing Dong Fang Qing Cang to become absent-minded.

"You will not be here alone."

He heard such and was still silent, but the blood-red eyes of his imprinted the silhouette of Little Orchid. The stars behind her illuminated her silhouette and twinkles like the stars from afar.

Little Orchid finished speaking and vision shifted. She began to reflect upon everything. At times her eyebrows would furrowed and other times she would muttered out sounds, "If we do not escaped outside, then has to stay forever with wide, flattened eyes that stare at one another to old age. Can this body of mine withstand a long period of time? You are immortal and eternal. Then what about me? Although it seems that I do not need to eat...But what if this xi rang body lose its living energy, then I..."

"Will not." Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly said, "The xi rang body will not lose living energy. We shall not remain forever here."

Hearing such words from Dong Fang Qing Cang, Little Orchid immediately became dazed and was not due to another matter, but merely due to him saying the two-word "we".

*It's in two words in the original context. The English equivalent is only one word. – ChocolateCosmos translations

This was the first time that Dong Fang Qing Cang included her and him into "we". Did not wait for Little Orchid to ponder more as the body of Dong Fang Qing Cang suddenly moved. His chest immediately seeped out a lot of blood. His covered his chest with a pale expression. Little Orchid saw that his hand shone red light as it seemed that he was treating the wound on his body.

"Go find it."

Little Orchid bewilderedly asked, "Find what?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang closed his eyes and indifferently said, "The heart of ben zuo."

Hearing this tone of his, Little Orchid knew that he has tossed away the brief memory from before. He has stepped out of the void and has transformed a unwavering demon king that kills and cut down.

But... BananaChocolateCosmostranslations

Little Orchid rubbed her head once and then asked Dong Fang Qing Cang with wide eyes, "Where would I find the heart for you?"

"Here" Haha, that's great, hearing such was really easy, located here.

"You still want to find this heart. At that time why did you pull out it out so confidently and with ease ah?!" Little Orchid grew furious and bashfully scolded Dong Fang Qing Cang. After that she saw that Dong Fang Qing Cang who has a pale expression ignored her words. She snorted several times, and tone unexpectedly calm down, "Furthermore, does not need to say about the north east west south north here as even the left and right I cannot differentiate. Yet, you want me to find your heart? Even when [one] found it, there's a chance I will not have a method of returning to you. You are planning to cover your chest to find me like how I find the heart for you?"

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not opened eyes and only used one hand to hold Little Orchid's hand. Then intertwined with the five fingers of hers.

The ten fingers fastening to one another was really an ambiguous action. Little Orchid was surprised from the sudden action. Her face grew red and struggled as she wanted to pull back out, but was grasped even tighter by Dong Fang Qing Cang, "You you.... what do you want?"

When Little Orchid used strength, he let go of her hand.

"Using the seal of ben zuo on your body." Dong Fang Qing Cang said, "So that you're not lost." Little Orchid lifted head to look up and the palm of the hand naturally has small flame seal. After peering at it for a while, Little Orchid discovered that the flame seal was still producing faint red light unexpectedly. The red light halted its congregation into a red string and pointed toward the direction of Dong Fang Qing Cang's hand.

This was the power of Dong Fang Qing Cang. But was like the red string from Yue Lao's hall and was the red string Yue Lao tied for mortals.

Previously, Siming has informed Little Orchid that every mortal would have one's own red string. At that time she has greatly admired and asked master where is her red string. Siming laughed and said that she was a plant and only needed sunlight, not needing a red string. Up until now, Little Orchid still did not understand such statement, but before understanding she has...

Master ah, it appeared you have spoken wrong. Little Orchid can have her own red string.

"Following this string and you can find the path to return. Go find it."

Dong Fang Qing Cang used ice-cold words that pulled Little Orchid back to reality. She pouted, responded one sound, and then turned around to leave. After flying for a bit, she was not assured and turned back, "Big devil, if there is any danger you must pull me back."

Dong Fang Qing Cang did not respond. Little Orchid waited for a while, knew he will not bother to respond to her, and she angrily scolded, "Not bothering to look at me, a closed gourd*, a miser."

*Literally a closed gourd. Something along the lines of someone being closed off from others, keeping to himself or herself -ChocolateCosmos

In the end she still had to turn around and leave. Little Orchid pulled the red string and went far. Finally, she disappeared within the darkness. At this time, Dong Fang Qing Cang opened eyes and peered attentively at the red string inside his hand while looking at the stars from afar. Using another hand to cover over his chest that has lost the heart, he furrowed his brows.

"Quite unusual..."

Dong Fang Qing Cang closed eyes and suppressed every emotion/thought he was not familiar with. He stabilized his mentality, allowed the mind to be empty, and silently breathe. Finding emotion and desire that were lost from a long time ago have caused him to not become very adaptive. The energies within the body collided and caused every inch of his bone and tissues to be in pain like being tear apart.

But his expression showed no waver from this pain.

Did not know how long [he was] stabilizing the mind as the seal on the hand suddenly moved faintly. Dong Fang Qing Cang opened eyes and saw Little Orchid was hugging the blood-filled heart toward him. The blood dyed her clothes and emphasized the terrified expression of hers. From before she was still like so, scared of pain and death. Meeting any situation [she] will not stay calm and even a bit of fear have caused her face to pale.

Dong Fang Qing Cang from before always despises those who are weak. From his beliefs, those who are weak naturally should be trampled underneath the feet, but toward Little Orchid, he can tolerant for her to stand besides him in a strange way, while carrying reservation and caution. Using alarmed, uncertain eyes to predict his feeling. After that, in the life and death boundary [referring to crack/portal between the underworld and mortal realm] would have deviant thoughts at times. Regarding Little Orchid, he has become used to tolerating her to the point that even himself felt quite astonished.

"Big devil, heart heart heart..."

Little Orchid ran and came next to Dong Fang Qing Cang. She hurriedly let go and tossed the heart on his chest. After that, the panicked spirit wiped the hands onto the sleeves, "Scared to death, how come still beating after being pulled out ah. On the way to here it beat incessantly and caused my heart to not know what to do as it also beat along too..."
