

Fall for You 101

Chapter 101

The other person was a girl of about eighteen or nineteen years old. Seeing that she had caused trouble, she quickly crouched down, apologizing while helping Briana pick up the scattered things on the ground.

"Miss, I'm sorry, I didn't mean to!"

Briana looked indifferent, and after tidying up her things, she looked at the apologetic girl and said, "Be more careful next time, don't run so fast, you can easily get hurt."

The girl's eyes flickered with guilt, and she lowered her head, saying, "Um. I understand."

Briana didn't say anything else and went straight to the underground parking lot.

After leaving the parking lot, Briana noticed that a car had been following her.

A coldness flashed in her eyes, and she immediately made a phone call to Maxim.

"Mr. Yoder, have your people leave immediately, or I will call the police!"

There was a few seconds of silence on the phone, followed by Maxim's cold voice, "I didn't send anyone to follow you. Where are you now?"

A hint of surprise flashed in Briana's eyes, and she immediately hung up the phone.

Since it wasn't someone sent by Maxim, could it be Scorpion?

At this moment, Briana stepped on the gas pedal and the red Lamborghini raced towards the outskirts of the city.

However, not long after, Briana suddenly felt dizzy and gradually lost strength in her body.

Was she drugged by someone?!

But when was it?

Suddenly, Briana thought of the girl who had bumped into her at the restaurant entrance.

Her eyes quickly grew cold, and she reluctantly picked up her phone and dialed Melody's number. "Help me call the police!"

After saying these four words, Briana had completely lost her strength. Her phone slipped from her hand weakly, and the car veered out of control towards the roadside...

In the villa, Maxim heard a loud bang from the phone and his face turned extremely ugly. He immediately called Rayan and said coldly, "Track Briana's phone! Find out where she is now!"

When Briana woke up again, she felt pain all over her body. She looked down and realized that she was tied to a worn-out chair. Her body was covered in wounds, big and small, some of which had already scabbed over.

She looked around and found herself in an abandoned warehouse.

The entire warehouse had several small windows around it, except for a door located about ten meters away from her.

She had intended to untie the rope tied around her body, but when she tried to move, she found herself weak and unable to do so. Not to mention untying the rope, she would definitely have fallen to the ground if it weren't for the support of the chair.

Just as Briana was pondering who had kidnapped her, the warehouse door was pushed open and two figures walked in.

After recognizing that it was George and Sammy, anger flashed in Briana's eyes.

"George, it was you all along!"

George sneered, "It was me, Briana. If it wasn't for you suppressing me in the company, not giving me any opportunities, and forcing me to leave, I wouldn't have reached this point!"

"Enough, stop wasting time talking to her! Quickly bring the contract over for her to sign!"

Briana looked coldly and said, "What contract?!"

"What contract? You would know it immediately."

Sammy's subordinate came over with a contract. Briana glanced at it and immediately recognized it as the one George had given her a few days ago.

"Untie the rope for Ms. Schneider."

A hint of worry flashed in George's eyes. "Mr. Ware, what if we untie her and she takes the opportunity to run away?"

Sammy looked confident and said, "Don't worry, the medicine's effect lasts for twenty-four hours. She must be feeling weak and unable to escape now. Besides, we have hundreds of our people outside the warehouse. How could a woman possibly run away?"

Last time at the restaurant, he was unprepared, which is why he got beaten up so badly by Briana.

This time, Briana was drugged and she brought hundreds of subordinates. Even if Briana had wings, she couldn't escape!

"Okay."

After instructing his subordinates to untie the rope for Briana, Sammy looked at her with a smug expression and said, "Ms. Schneider, if you obediently sign the contract, I might consider sparing your life."

Chapter 102

At first, Sammy thought Briana was a public relations officer, but he didn't expect her to be the founder of MY Corporation, Anna. This made him look at Briana in a different light.

There was no warmth in Briana's eyes. "You're dreaming! There's no way I could sign!"

Sammy had a sinister smile on his face as he said to his subordinate, "It seems like you prefer punishment over drinking your toast!"

After speaking, he gave a signal to the two followers behind him. Immediately, the two of them stepped forward and forcefully twisted Briana's left hand.

"Click!"

Briana's left hand was directly fractured, the excruciating pain made her unconsciously frown, and cold sweat formed on her forehead.

Sammy handed the documents to Briana and said, "Ms. Schneider, I am a compassionate person. Seeing you in such pain breaks my heart. Please don't push me any further. Just sign the papers quickly, or I don't know what I might do."

Briana coldly looked at him and gritted her teeth, saying, "Fine, give me the pen."

Sammy smiled and said, "That's right, as long as you behave and listen, you won't suffer..."

Before finishing his sentence, Sammy suddenly felt a sharp pain in his left eye.

"Ah!"

He let out a scream and unconsciously took a few steps back, falling to the ground.

George and Sammy's subordinates looked at him in horror. The pen he had just handed to Briana was now stuck in his left eye, and blood was pouring out from it.

Sammy's face turned pale with pain, mixed with bloodstains on his face, making him look extremely grim and resembling an evil spirit crawling out of hell.

"Don't let her escape! I want to personally kill this bitch!"

Briana picked up the nearby chair and threw it fiercely at the approaching person, then turned around and ran towards the outside of the warehouse.

The medicinal properties in her body were still taking effect, and throwing that chair just now had already consumed nearly half of the energy she had painstakingly accumulated.

But she would rather die than sign that contract!

Seeing the direction Briana was running, Sammy sneered and gritted his teeth, saying, "Go after her! Whoever catches her will be rewarded with two million!"

Briana couldn't escape, even if she managed to escape, there was dense forest surrounding the abandoned warehouse, and she had no way out!

At this moment, Sammy no longer had the intention of getting Briana's signature, but only wanted to kill her.

This bastard destroyed one of his eyes, and he wanted her to pay with her life!

Briana ran out of the warehouse and saw that indeed all of Sammy's henchmen were outside. Her eyes grew cold.

She picked up a wooden stick from the ground and rushed towards the crowd.

The thug who chased after her shouted, "Catch her! Mr. Ware said whoever catches her will receive a two million dollar reward!"

Upon hearing this, the crowd immediately swarmed and everyone intended to capture Briana alive.

If they hadn't been drugged, these people wouldn't have meant anything to Briana at all. But now, she felt weak all over, and despite giving it her all, she only managed to hurt a few people before being captured.

Sammy saw Briana being caught, and a cruel and insane smile formed on the corners of his mouth.

"Bring me a knife!"

He wanted to dig out the eyes of this despicable person alive in order to vent his anger!

Sammy approached Briana step by step, holding a knife, with pure hatred in his intact right eye.

George on the side couldn't help but frown. He just wanted to get his hands on all the money from MY Corporation, but he didn't want to have a life on his conscience.

At this thought, he hurriedly stepped forward to stop Sammy.

"Mr. Ware, calm down, the contract is important!"

Sammy slapped him hard and sneered, "George, who do you think you are? How dare you stop me? If I don't kill her today, my name is not White!"

"Mr. Ware, I was also afraid that it would lead to casualties and end up badly."

Chapter 103

"What's wrong with a bad ending? If that bastard died, I would just escape abroad and still live a prosperous life! As for you, your fate will depend on your luck!"

"Even if we wanted to kill her, we had to wait until she signed the contract..."

Sammy's eyes flashed with impatience as he waved his hand, signaling his subordinate to bring the contract over.

"Directly have her press her fingerprint!"

From Briana's expression, he could tell that she was not going to sign obediently!

Briana felt weak and could only watch as Sammy's henchmen grabbed her hand and stamped it on the contract.

Sammy threw the contract to George and said coldly, "Go back to Bridenville now and take care of the contract. Call me after you're done, and remember, don't play any tricks. Your family is in my hands now."

A look of disbelief flashed in George's eyes, "What?!"

Sammy lightly tapped his face with a dagger, grinning menacingly as he said, "Don't be so surprised. As long as you behave and listen obediently, your family won't have any problems."

George cursed Sammy in his heart, wishing he could snatch the dagger from his hand and kill him.

"Mr. Ware, aren't you being a little unfair? I trusted you so much, and you..."

Sammy coldly interrupted before the words were finished, "Stop with all the nonsense, or I'll kill you along with it! Get out of here!"

Sensing the murderous intent in Sammy's eyes, George dared not say another word and quickly left with the contract.

Sammy turned around slowly and approached Briana. After standing in front of her, he slapped her twice.

When Briana saw two finger marks instantly appear on her fair face. Sammy smirked coldly and said, "You bitch, I'm going to make your life a living hell!"

Briana coldly looked at him, with no expression on her face.

"You're still so stubborn even when facing death. Here's the deal, I'll give you a choice. Do you want to go blind in your left eye first, or your right eye first?"

Sammy held a dagger in front of her and gestured, seemingly considering her proposal seriously.

Briana did not speak, the disdain and indifference in her eyes made Sammy even angrier.

"Since you refuse to choose, then let me choose for you. How about the left eye first!"

He raised the dagger and stabbed towards Briana's eyes. Briana instinctively turned her head, and the dagger instantly plunged into her shoulder, causing blood to flow out immediately

The intense pain made Briana unconsciously frown, but at the same time, she felt her body regain some strength.

She suddenly shook off the thug who was grabbing her and grabbed the dagger inserted in her shoulder, pulling it out directly.

In an instant, blood splattered everywhere, and everyone present was stunned for a moment.

Sammy almost instantly sensed the danger and quickly stepped back, narrowly avoiding the dagger in Briana's hand.

He was greatly shocked in his heart, what kind of devil was this woman?!

He had administered this medicine to others before, and they had not resistance at all. Briana, a woman, surprisingly had the strength to resist?!

He quickly stepped back while shouting loudly, "Catch her for me!"

Although Briana hadn't fully recovered her strength, the dagger in her hand was like a nimble snake, causing everyone nearby to fall down wherever it went.

Sammy became more and more frightened as he watched. Along with the rising fear in his heart, he also understood that this woman absolutely could not be allowed to stay. Otherwise, he would surely die at her hands in the future!

At this point, Sammy gritted his teeth and said to his subordinate, "Bring me the final potion!"

The medicine given to Briana was brought back by Sammy from abroad at a high price, costing millions for each bottle. There were a total of three bottles, one of which had been used before. Last night, one bottle was used for Briana, and now there is only one bottle left.

He had originally planned to keep her as a means to eliminate his biggest rival, but now if he doesn't kill Briana, it is very likely that he will be the one who dies!

The subordinates quickly brought the potion over, and Sammy coldly said, "Go past her and inject this potion into her body while she is weak!"

Briana was busy cleaning up the people rushing in and didn't pay any attention to Sammy's movements or notice the app

Chapter 104

Just as Briana felt her strength draining away, her arm suddenly hurt. She saw a syringe inserted into her arm and her eyes turned cold. She reached out and pulled it out directly.

However, half of the needle had already been injected into her body. She used all her remaining strength to inject the remaining half into the other person's body, and then fell to the ground, completely powerless.

When Maxim arrived with the people, what he saw was Briana covered in blood, lying on the ground.

His pupils suddenly contracted, and his voice was filled with malevolence, "Arrest them all!"

Sammy saw Briana fall down, but before he could even rejoice, he saw a group of well-dressed men suddenly appear around him and quickly subdue all of his subordinates.

Seeing the figure sitting in the wheelchair, fear flashed in his eyes.

"Mr. Mr. Yoder, how did you come here?!"

Maxim didn't even look at him, and with Rayan's help, he carefully held Briana in his arms.

"Call the doctor!"

Seeing the injuries on Briana's body and the slap marks on her face, Maxim's anger surged.

He coldly looked at Sammy as if he was looking at a dead person.

"Did you hit her, causing the injuries on her face?"

Seeing Maxim's cold expression, Sammy didn't dare to admit it and quickly shook his head, "No... it wasn't me..."

Maxim's lips curled into a cold smile, "I gave you a chance, but since you refuse to tell the truth, there's no use keeping your tongue."

As soon as the words fell, one of his henchmen walked up to Sammy, grabbed his chin, and swiftly brought down the knife.

Sammy screamed in agony, blood gushing from his mouth, unable to utter a single word, only making whimpering sounds.

His eyes were filled with terror as he quickly knelt down and kowtowed, begging for mercy. However, Maxim remained indifferent and averted his gaze.

"Mr. Yoder, what should we do with these people?"

"The pain she suffered, they will repay it a hundred fold and a thousand fold!"

"What did Mr. Ware do about it?"

"Chop it up and throw it to the dogs!"

Briana woke up again, it had already been two days.

She found herself in the bedroom of a villa and immediately realized that seeing Maxim before losing consciousness was not an illusion, he had saved her.

Briana pursed her lips, feeling a mix of emotions.

She wanted to draw a line with Maxim, but now she owed him a life.

Just as Briana was feeling upset and confused, the bedroom door was pushed open.

Maxim held a bowl of chicken soup and slowly wheeled towards Briana.

Suddenly seeing him, Briana's heart skipped a few beats unconsciously.

She bit her lower lip and whispered. "Mr. Yoder, thank you for saving me."

Maxim stopped by the bedside and handed her the chicken soup. "Drink the soup first. The medicine Sammy gave you earlier was very strong and caused your body to become weak. You need to rest for a while."

"Thank you."

She took the chicken soup, lowered her head and drank it slowly. For a while, neither of them spoke.

Maxim spoke in a calm tone until Briana finished drinking the soup, "It's too dangerous for you to live alone, it's better to move back."

Briana fell silent for a few seconds, then looked up at Maxim and said. "No need, this time it was an accident, and besides, eventually I will have to live alone after we get divorced."

Maxim furrowed his brow, a hint of displeasure flickering in his eyes.

"Move back first, we'll talk about it when we get divorced."

He had a dominant attitude and didn't give Briana any room for refusal

Chapter 105

Thinking about how he had just saved her and considering her current physical condition, which made it inconvenient for her to cook, she nodded and said, "I will stay here until I recover, and then I will move back."

Maxim's eyes grew colder for a moment, and he remained silent, clearly indicating his disagreement.

"By the way, where is Sammy now?"

"He died."

Briana's eyes flickered with surprise as she looked at Maxim and said, "Did you kill him?!"

"No, he accidentally fell down from the mountain during his escape, and when he was found, his body had been completely disfigured by wild animals."

Even if he hadn't fallen down, I wouldn't have let him continue living!

Briana nodded, "He had a partner named George."

After Sammy died, George, feeling guilty, has already turned himself

1. in.

After speaking, doubt flashed in Maxim's eyes. "You are just a small employee of MY Corporation, why did Sammy and George go to such great lengths to catch you?!"

Briana pursed her lips and lowered her gaze, saying, "Because earlier, George wanted to sign a contract with Sammy and asked me to go and get Sammy to sign it. But Sammy wanted me to sleep with him, so I ended up giving him a beating. He held a grudge against me and that's why he conspired with George to kidnap me."

However, Maxim's suspicion did not diminish in the slightest. "If it was just because of that, wouldn't it be simpler for Sammy to have George fire you from MY Corporation, and why would he need to kidnap you alone?"

Briana rubbed her temples and frowned, "Did you forget that Melody and I are good friends? Even if George wants to fire me, Melody won't agree!"

As for Sammy bringing George along, he was just a lunatic. How could I have guessed what was going on in his mind?

Maxim's eyes deepened slightly, but he didn't ask any further.

"You rest well, I will go to the study to work. Call me if you need anything."

"Okay."

After Maxim left, Briana finally breathed a sigh of relief.

In the afternoon, Melody came to see Briana.

Melody finally breathed a sigh of relief when she discovered that she had recovered quite well.

"Do you know that I was terrified when I heard that you were kidnapped? Luckily, you're safe. Otherwise, I would have skinned George and Sammy alive!"

Briana smiled and said, "I'm fine, what's the big deal?"

"You dare to say that I'm overreacting! Do you know that if it weren't for Maxim this time, you might have..."

At this point, Melody's eyes suddenly turned red and she didn't continue speaking.

"Alright, if you start crying, I won't comfort you!"

Melody rolled her eyes and said in a displeased tone, "Who said I was going to shed tears!"

"Okay, okay, okay. You didn't, it was me who started crying, right?"

Melody wiped away her tears and took out a document from her bag "How do you plan to handle this contract? If we give it to the police, George will definitely spend his whole life behind bars!"

Briana remained silent for a few seconds before speaking, "Destroy it. I don't want anyone to know that I was the CEO of MY Corporation."

"You didn't want Maxim to know, right? Afraid he would divide the property with you?"

"If anyone should be afraid, it should be him afraid that I would take his money. It's just because we were about to get divorced, and I didn't want any complications."

Thinking of Maxim, a vague and indescribable emotion suddenly surged in Briana's heart, causing her to unconsciously furrow her brows.

After knowing that he had saved her, she could clearly feel that her determination to divorce had significantly weakened compared to before.

But if they continued to be together, she would become the pathetic Briana she used to be, and she would never let that happen!

Melody stayed for a while longer and then left with the contract.

Briana took a few days off to rest, and the police came to take her statement several times.

When the police left for the last time, they looked at her and said, "Ms. Schneider, George wants to see you."

come over tomorrow?"

"Sure."

The next morning, Briana drove to the police station.

After a few days of not seeing each other, George had completely lost his previous vigor. He seemed to have aged ten years, with his hair turning completely gray.

He was locked in here for the past few days, and finally experienced what it means to be cold-hearted.

Those relatives whom he had helped in the past, when they saw him in trouble, not only refused to help him one by one, but also urgently distanced themselves from his family.

George finally saw through the true colors of these people, but unfortunately, it was too late.

He was filled with unwillingness when he saw Briana

"Briana. Sammy died, and now I have to go to jail. Are you satisfied?"

Briana looked indifferent and said, "This is your own doing with Sammy, I have no satisfaction or dissatisfaction with it."

George gritted his teeth, although unwilling, he knew he didn't have a chance to compete with Briana anymore.

"I called you here today with the purpose of asking you what you plan

Chapter 106

Briana raised an eyebrow and looked at him, "What do you want to say?"

"I want to transfer my shares in my hands to my son. Don't worry, he won't join MY Corporation. As long as my annual dividends are deposited into his account, it's fine!"

Briana smiled and said, "Mr. Landry, you were thinking too optimistically."

George also knew that she wouldn't agree so easily, and said coldly, "As long as you agree. I will keep your secret forever, but if you don't, I can trade this secret for a lot of money."

Briana squinted her eyes and said, "Are you threatening me?"

George shook his head, "How could it be? I was begging you."

After a moment of silence, Briana slowly said, "I used to give your family five million dollars every year, but as for the shares of MY Corporation, you and your family can forget about getting even a single cent!"

"Briana, you shouldn't be too excessive!"

“Mr. Landry, you no longer had the qualification to negotiate terms with me.”

“Aren’t you afraid that I will reveal your secret?!”

Briana remained calm and said slowly, “Mr. Landry, this time you are going to prison, I’m afraid you will have to spend many years inside. If your family knows that you still receive a five million dividend from MY Corporation every year, they might come to visit you from time to time, and you will have a more comfortable life inside.”

“If you reveal my secret, you can get some money, but after your family knows that you have no value to exploit, do you think they will still have some sincerity towards you?”

George’s face turned extremely ugly, and he couldn’t refute a single word Briana said.

Because he indeed had no second choice, the thing he deliberately mentioned earlier was just to increase his bargaining chip for himself.

Little did George know, Briana had already seen through his thoughts!

“Okay, I could transfer my shares to you, but we must find a lawyer to sign the agreement!”

“Sure.”

Because both parties had reached an agreement, the lawyer drafted the agreement and the two individuals signed it willingly.

“Mr. Landry, it was a pleasure working with you!”

George’s face turned ugly as he coldly stared at Briana and said, “Briana, you are so ruthless in your actions, one day you will regret it!”

Briana smiled and didn’t pay any attention to his words at all.

“Mr. Landry, if I really didn’t show any mercy, there would be ways to take back the 10% of shares in your hands without leaving a single penny. Don’t forget, your shares were originally gifted to you by me.”

After saying these words, Briana turned around and left directly.

Just as Briana walked out of the police station, she saw Wyatt’s car parked at the entrance.

“How is it? Have you handled everything?”

“Well, Wyatt, how did you know I was here?”

Chapter 107

“I went to the villa to pick you up, as the maid said.”

“I have already packed my things, I just need to go back and get my suitcase before I can leave.”

“Okay.”

Returning to the villa, the maid was organizing and preparing the ingredients for dinner. Upon seeing Briana, she stopped what she was doing and walked over to Briana's side.

"Ms. Schneider, your friend came to see you earlier, and I told him that you were at the police station."

Briana nodded. "Hmm, I will be going out for a while, probably for about a week. When Mr. Yoder returns, could you please let him know?"

The maid looked puzzled and said, "Ms. Schneider, aren't you and Mr. Yoder married? Why don't you personally talk to him?"

Briana remained silent for a few seconds and then said, "He is currently at work and must be busy. I don't want to disturb him, and besides. I have to take a seven to eight-hour flight. I won't be able to call him when he finishes work."

"Okay."

The maid still felt strange in her heart, but she didn't ask much. After all, Briana was the owner, and inquiring about the owner's personal matters might lead to dismissal.

In the evening, Maxim returned home and noticed that Briana was not there. He couldn't help but frown and took out his phone to give her a call.

He tried several times, but the phone was always in a shutdown state. He put down the phone, and a cold aura emanated from his body.

The maid brought the dishes to the table and carefully walked over to Maxim, saying, "Mr. Yoder, Ms. Schneider asked me to tell you that she is going on a trip and may not be back for about a week."

At the mention of these words, Maxim's face immediately turned uglier, gritting his teeth he said, "When did she tell you?!"

Briana was really good!

What did she think of him when I didn't personally tell him that I was going out and asked the maid to pass on the message?!

The maid was startled by Maxim's cold expression. She stammered, "Y-y-you told me when you came back to pick up the suitcase in the afternoon around three o'clock. Ms. Schneider said she might be on the plane when you finish work, so she couldn't call you... So she asked me to tell you..."

Maxim's face turned pale with anger. Was she afraid of disturbing him? She had never been so considerate before!

After a moment of silence, Maxim coldly said, "Alright, I got it. You can go back now."

"Okay."

After the maid left, Maxim called Rayan.

“Go and check where Briana booked her flight to in the past, whether she went alone or with someone else!”

Soon, Rayan replied to Maxim’s message.

“Mr. Yoder and Ms. Schneider booked tickets to Faywick, accompanied by a person named Wyatt, who is the heir of the Waylon family, a prominent pharmaceutical dynasty in Bridenville.”

Maxim couldn’t help but frown. How did she meet Wyatt?!

And Faywick is a small town located on the southwestern edge of the country. She had probably never been there before, so why would she suddenly go to Faywick?

In the past. Maxim thought that Briana was like a blank sheet of paper, easily readable at first glance.

But now he feels like there is a veil between him and Briana, the more he tries to tear that veil off, the less he can see her clearly.

“Find someone to wait at the airport exit, I want to know their every move after they leave the airport!”

“Okay, Mr. Yoder.”

At one o’clock in the morning, the plane landed over Faywick.

Briana and Wyatt got off the plane and they got into the off-road vehicle that came to pick them up.

I opened my phone and there were no missed calls or messages on the screen.

Briana pursed her lips, turned her phone upside down on the bag, and couldn’t help but frown.

What was she looking forward to?

She shook her head and suppressed the strange feeling in her heart, calmly watching the scenery passing by outside the window.

It has been three years since I last came back.

Suddenly, the driver in the front row frowned and said, “Someone is following us!”

Chapter 108

Briana and Wyatt’s faces changed, they were targeted as soon as they arrived in Faywick?!

The two of them exchanged a glance and both saw caution in each other’s eyes.

“Wyatt, what do we do now?”

Their whereabouts could not be exposed, otherwise it would probably cause a lot of trouble.

Wyatt took out his phone and dialed a number, coldly saying, “Go find out who the car that followed us from the airport belongs to!”

He had just hung up the phone when the driver spoke with a serious expression, "There are two groups of people following us!"

Wyatt and Briana's faces turned extremely ugly, indicating that their whereabouts had been exposed.

After a few seconds of silence, Wyatt said to the driver, "Let's not go back for now. Just take us to the Faywick hotel and we'll figure out our next move once we find out who's been following us."

"Okay."

After dropping off the two individuals at the hotel, the driver left.

Wyatt and Briana opened a room. As soon as they entered the room, they instinctively started checking for hidden cameras and recording devices.

In less than five minutes, there were seven or eight cameras and recorders piled up on the table.

The two of them directly dismantled the camera and recorder, threw them into the toilet and flushed them away, and then sat down on the sofa.

Briana frowned and whispered, "Wyatt, do you have any suspects among the two groups of people following us?"

Wyatt shook his head, "No, we can only wait for the outcome."

"If they came for Master, we should stay in Faywick for a few days for now, and deal with those people before going to find Master."

After all, for the outside world, their master had been dead for several years. If he was discovered, the consequences would be unimaginable!

"Well, these past few days we..."

The conversation was not finished yet when the room door was suddenly slammed open, and several people wearing police uniforms rushed in.

"Crack down on pornography! Raise your hands!"

Briana: '

Wyatt: "."

An hour later, the police, with a guilty expression on their faces, escorted the two individuals out of the police station "We're really sorry, we received an anonymous tip-off, but it turns out the other party gave us the wrong room number. We apologize for the inconvenience caused to you!"

After tossing and turning for most of the night, the two of them were exhausted. They returned to the hotel and each booked a new room before going upstairs to sleep.

Meanwhile, in Bridenville.

Maxim received a call from Faywick.

"Mr. Yoder, the matter has been taken care of. Ms. Schneider and Mr. Waylon have already returned to the hotel and each of them has booked a room to rest. However, I have noticed another group of people following Ms. Schneider and them."

"Got it, you keep watching, and if you see them engaging in any intimate actions, you know what to do!"

"Okay, Mr. Yoder."

After hanging up the phone, Maxim's face was filled with an impending storm.

It seems that after leaving Bridenville, Briana's courage grew, and she dared to share a room with a man. Good for her!

When she came back, he would definitely teach her a lesson! Let her know what it means to adhere to the duties of a wife!

The next morning, when Briana and Wyatt were having breakfast, Wyatt looked at her strangely and said, "Briana, those two groups of people have been identified. One group was after me, and the other... was sent by Maxim..."

Briana frowned, "I got it. I'll take care of the person sent by Maxim."

She got up and walked to the side to make a phone call to Maxim, and soon the call was answered on the other end.

"Anything wrong?"

Briana remained silent for a few seconds and coldly said, "Mr. Yoder, please remove those people you arranged to track me!"

Maxim sneered, "Why don't you explain first why you were in a room with another man?"

Briana pursed her lips, and suddenly a thought flashed through her mind.

Chapter 109

"Did you do last night's thing?!"

Maxim's voice was cold. "Last night was just a warning. If I find out that you have any more intimate actions with Wyatt, I will immediately bring you back!"

"Mr. Yoder, I came to Faywick this time to find a way to treat your leg!"

"Why were you sneaking around?"

"When did I sneak around?"

"When you left, you didn't dare to say it to my face and had the maid pass the message. Wasn't it because you were afraid I would find out that you went to Faywick?!"

Briana: "..."

”

“What? I hit the nail on the head, feeling guilty?!”

“Say whatever you want, remove your people immediately, or else don’t blame me for being impolite!”

“Sure, I would love to see how you won’t be polite!”

The answer to him was a busy tone coming from the phone.

Maxim’s hand holding the phone tightened involuntarily, how dare he hang up on him, very well!

He dialed Rayan’s phone number and said coldly, “Book two tickets to Faywick immediately, and come with me!”

On the other side, Briana sat down across from Wyatt and spoke calmly, “Maxim misunderstood our relationship and refused to withdraw the person.”

Wyatt glanced at her with a half-smile, raising an eyebrow as he said, “I don’t think your husband is as indifferent towards you as you claim. Do you want me to help you test his feelings for you?”

Briana rolled her eyes, “Wyatt, are you boring or what?! Shouldn’t we be thinking about how to dump him now?”

“It’s simple, but do you really not want to know how he felt about you?”

“I don’t want to, but if you keep blabbering so much, I would like to see the expression on the master’s face after he knows about your interesting stories!”

Wyatt: “...”

In the evening, Maxim arrived at Faywick only to find out that his people had lost track of Briana and Wyatt.

Seeing Maxim’s cold expression, his subordinate hesitantly spoke up, “Mr. Yoder, we really did our best, but we lost track of Ms. Schneider north of Faywick. There is only one road over there, so if we continue to search along that road, we will definitely find them!”

“No need to search, have someone guard Faywick Airport and inform me immediately when Briana appears!”

“Okay, Mr. Yoder!”

After his subordinates left, Maxim’s expression turned extremely cold and his eyes became deep and mysterious.

Two years ago, Briana said she wanted to treat her legs and suddenly disappeared for over a week. When she returned, she brought back a prescription of traditional medicine and a set of special treatment.

At that time, Norma was also desperate for a cure, so she sought out the most famous special treatment master in Bridenville to come to her house every day for special treatment. With the prescription of traditional medicine from Briana, his leg gradually started to get better.

At that time, he was not interested in Briana. He only asked Briana where she got the prescription and special treatment from. Briana said she got them from Dr. Moon, and he didn't ask any further.

Now thinking back. Briana had many mysteries surrounding her at that time, but she never cared, so she never investigated.

Now Briana is planning to divorce him, he just planned to get to know her well.

After a long silence, Maxim finally called Briana.

Most likely, it had already shown "shut down".

It seems that he had no other way to find her except waiting.

After Briana and Wyatt dumped those two groups of people, they drove west in an off-road vehicle for seven or eight hours before finally stopping in front of a cluster of bamboo huts.

In front of the bamboo house, an old man with a white beard, wearing a blue long-sleeved shirt, was grinding medicine powder.

Hearing the sound of the car, I lazily lifted my eyes and grumbled in a displeased tone. "Finally decided to come back!"

Briana and Wyatt exchanged glances and hurriedly walked towards the old man.

"Master, it has been three years since we last met, but you are still as lively and energetic as before. You haven't aged a bit!"

The old man glanced at her sideways, "Is that so?"

Chapter 110

"What I said was all true, master, you know it too. I never lie."

Jaxon glared at her and said irritably, "You lie to me every day. If it weren't for having to treat Maxim's leg again this time, would you have come back?"

Briana nervously stuck out her tongue and said, "I didn't come back because I didn't inherit your mantle, that's why!"

"You still know, huh! So when are you planning to come back and inherit?"

Briana:

"Master, let's not talk about unhappy things anymore. What are we having for dinner tonight?"

"We ate chicken stew with mountain mushrooms, and you ate vegetables!"

"The master definitely couldn't bear to see me only eating vegetables!"

"Alright, stop talking and go help Hailey with the fire!"

"Alright, I'll go right away!"

Seeing Briana bouncing into the kitchen, Jaxon couldn't help but sigh and looked at Wyatt, saying, "How is that girl doing these days?"

Seven years ago, when the Schneider family came knocking on the door, Briana was studying medicine with Jaxon. She was the most talented and hardworking apprentice among all of Jaxon's students because she was the youngest. Therefore, the other seniors doted on her.

Wyatt fell silent for a moment and whispered, "He must not be doing well, he doesn't smile like he used to."

Jaxon snorted coldly and said, "It's no wonder. What good place could the Schneider family be? They heartlessly abandoned that girl at the doorstep of an orphanage just because of a clever prophecy."

Later, when he went to find her, it was only because she was the one who had donated bone marrow to raise their daughter! They were nothing but a group of heartless and cruel animals!

"Master, it's all in the past."

"Never mind. let's not bring up these things anymore. Someone will take care of the Schneider family!"

A hint of surprise flashed in Wyatt's eyes, "Who is it?"

"The Cameron family was in Butterwolf!"

If the Cameron family knew the grievances Briana had suffered over the years, it would be strange if they didn't turn the whole Bridenville upside down!

Wyatt was shocked. How could Briana be related to the Cameron family in Butterwolf?!

However, seeing that Jaxon had no intention of continuing to speak, Wyatt also did not ask further.

"Master, over the past few years, I have encountered many difficult and miscellaneous ailments. I have come this time to seek your advice."

He took out his notebook where he had recorded various difficult symptoms and handed it to Jaxon. His face was filled with guilt, afraid that Jaxon would smash the notebook on his head and ask him where all the knowledge he had learned over the years had gone!

However, Jaxon's mood was good today. He didn't scold him, but after pointing out a few typical ones to him, he threw the notebook back at him.

"The rest of my books are in my study, go find a book to read yourself!"

Wyatt quickly said, "Okay, thank you, Master!"

In the kitchen, Briana and Hailey, Jaxon's granddaughter, cooked and chatted at the same time.

Hailey looked at Briana with envy and said, "Briana, I really want to go out too! But my grandfather said I have to wait until I turn twenty before he allows me to leave the mountain."

Briana smiled and said, "Master is also looking out for your best interests. Although the outside world is fun, there are also many bad people. Master is afraid you might get hurt."

"Why don't I just go to seek refuge with you and the other seniors? With you guys looking out for me, I can walk with confidence!"

Briana couldn't help but tap her nose and said, "It's only two years. Just endure it and it will pass. Besides, the master doesn't take in disciples anymore. If you're not here to accompany the master, he will be very lonely."

"He is not lonely at all! He said that after I leave, he will be able to live a carefree life, very freely!"

"That was the master deceiving you. It's so pitiful for someone who doesn't even have someone to talk to!"

Hailey was feeling a bit troubled and furrowed her brow, saying. "Grandpa can go back to Butterwolf, anyway. After all, many people hope that he can return."

"Some people wanted him to go back, while others wanted him not to go back."

Hailey's eyes flickered with confusion at the words, "Why though? Grandpa has always been treating and saving people, shouldn't others respect him?"