

Fall for You 1017

Chapter 1017

“Mom, did you really think Dad would listen to you?”

Mallory sneered, “He hasn’t done a few illegal things over the years. I can report him accurately for some things. If he dares not to listen, I will send him to jail!”

Upon hearing this, a weight was finally lifted off Kiley’s heart.

“That’s good, but we can’t let that bitch Sabina off the hook. If she really gives birth to the child, we will truly have no status in Dad’s heart.”

Speaking of the child, a hint of sadness flashed in Mallory’s eyes. Although the child never came into this world, she had carried it for over six months and had developed feelings for it.

Sensing the change in Mallory’s mood, Kiley’s voice also dropped a few notches, “Mom... I’m sorry, I’ve brought up your sad memories again...”

Mallory shook her head, “It’s not your fault. That child was killed by Zane and Sabina. I won’t let them get away with it!”

Seeing the hatred swirling in Mallory’s eyes, Kiley quickly comforted, “Mom, don’t be too upset, I believe brother also wants you to live a happy and joyful life.”

Mallory’s eyes were bloodshot, it was the first time she had cried in front of others since she lost her child.

“Kiley, I promised to avenge him, and to protect everything that belongs to you!”

“Um, everything would get better!”

Kiley comforted Mallory with a sad face, but inside she was full of mockery and contempt.

She had no sympathy for Mallory whatsoever. If it hadn’t been for her secretive desire to have a son to secure her position, she wouldn’t have miscarried due to the stress from Sabina and Zane.

“Right, Mom, didn’t I say last time that I would find a doctor to help you improve your health? I’ve already found one, how about we go see him today?”

Mallory wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes and nodded, “Okay.”

The two had seen the doctor and came back with over a dozen packs of medicine.

After sending Mallory back, Kiley went straight back to the villa.

During this period, all she needed to do was occasionally pass on information about Zane and Sabina to Mallory, allowing Mallory to deal with them upfront, while she reaped the benefits from behind.

Thinking of this, a cold smirk appeared on Kiley's face!

Lewis had just fired the employee who delivered the message to Kiley when problems arose with the collaboration between the Schneider Group and the Kingly Group.

Zane hurriedly walked out of the office, coldly saying, "Lewis, you come with me to Kingly Group immediately. Kingly Group suddenly wants to terminate the contract with us!"

Lewis's face also changed, he quickly said, "Alright, I'll have the driver prepare the car immediately!"

The two arrived at Kingly Group, but were stopped by the receptionist downstairs.

The receptionist's expression was icy, "Mr. Schneider, the president is not here right now, please leave!"

Zane sneered, angrily saying, "Who do you think you are, daring to stop me?! Do you know that I am your CEO's father-in-law? If you anger me, I can have you fired in a minute!"

No sooner had the words fallen than a cold voice sounded from behind.

"What a big talker you are! But Mr. Yoder has really gone abroad. Even if he were in Haseton, the decision to terminate the contract with the Schneider Group was made by the entire board of directors. Mr. Yoder couldn't help you!"