

Fall for You 1021

Chapter 1021

Kiley was silent for a moment before she whispered, "Dad, Isaac refuses to resume cooperation. Give me some more time, I'll try to persuade him..."

"What?!"

Zane's voice instantly rose in anger, "Don't forget, you promised me that we would resume cooperation, and only then did I agree to give you 10% of the shares in the Schneider Group. If you can't do it, give the shares back to me now!"

Kiley's gaze turned cold, her voice icy, "Dad, it's impossible for me to return the shares to you. I will continue to persuade Isaac. You need to consider what's more important – the 10% stake in the Schneider Group, or the potential to continue collaborating with the Kingly Group in the future."

After speaking, Kiley hung up the phone.

Zane was so angry that he gritted his teeth, wishing he could immediately call Kiley over and slap her twice!

After about ten minutes, his emotions gradually calmed down and he made a call to Kathy.

"Kathy, you were right," said the man. "Kingly Group had no intention of resuming cooperation with us."

Kathy's voice held no surprise, "I told you long ago, the only ones who can save us now are the Yoder Group and the Cameron Group. Think about how to invite Briana Cameron out, let's apologize to her."

Zane looked upset. Now, it wasn't a matter of whether he wanted to apologize to Briana Cameron or not, but whether Briana Cameron was willing to see him or not.

"Kathy, you know I've always had a bad relationship with her, she definitely wouldn't see me... Maybe you should go see her first, see what her attitude is."

Knowing she couldn't rely on her brother, Kathy had no choice but to say, "Alright, I'll give it a try."

After hanging up the phone, Kathy pondered for a moment. Suddenly, she remembered that senior Mr. Bynes' 70th birthday was just a week away. By then, Maxim and the Cameron family would all be there, and Briana Cameron would definitely come. She might as well take that opportunity to test the waters with Briana Cameron.

Time flew by quickly, and before we knew it, it was time for senior Mr. Bynes's birthday banquet.

Early in the morning, senior Mr. Bynes had called everyone into the living room.

"I didn't care how bad your relationships were behind the scenes, you all had to be peaceful at the banquet tonight. If anyone dared to stir up trouble, don't blame me for being ruthless and ruining this birthday party, I wouldn't let anyone off!"

The Bynes family was no longer what it used to be. For this birthday banquet, senior Mr. Bynes had the idea of forming a marriage alliance with other families, of course, he wanted to show the best side of the Bynes family.

The eldest son quickly said, "Dad, don't worry, we all know what's important."

The second son, with a nonchalant expression and a forced smile, spoke up, "I won't be participating, I have plans tonight."

As soon as he finished speaking, Kathy's face instantly turned incredibly unpleasant.

Senior Mr. Bynes gave her a cold glance, his voice filled with anger, "Can't even manage your own husband, yet you dream of managing a company. It's simply a fool's talk!"

Kathy's face turned pale, filled with resentment. It was clearly him who had spoiled their son, and now he was turning around and blaming her for not managing her husband well. It was simply nonsense!

The second son raised his eyebrows, his eyes full of mockery.

"Dad, don't blame her. After all, if it wasn't for you insisting that I marry her, I would be the one running the company now. And I really don't want to deal with such a headache."

Impatience flashed in the eyes of senior Mr. Bynes. He waved his hand dismissively, his face showing clear signs of not wanting to see him. "Get lost, just seeing you gives me a headache now!"

He didn't waste any words either, he just turned around and left directly.

Sensing the familiar mocking glances from the people around her, Kathy clenched her fists tightly, telling herself to endure. As long as she pleased Briana Cameron tonight, her future in the Bynes family wouldn't be so difficult anymore!

Chapter 1022

Thinking of this, her hand hanging by her side unconsciously clenched, a hint of determination slowly flashing in her eyes.

Night fell quickly, the Bynes family's house was brightly lit, filled with the scent of clothes and the shadow of hair, cups and dishes were intermingled.

Kathy moved among the business elites and socialites, her face always adorned with a smile.

However, her peripheral vision was constantly fixed on the entrance, fearing she might miss the moment Maxim and Briana Cameron walked in.

Just after eight, Briana Cameron finally walked into the Bynes' Residence, hand in hand with Maxim.

She wore a goose-yellow strapless long dress tonight, her long hair tied up behind her head. She looked like a budding yellow rose, fresh and elegant.

The moment the two stepped into the living room, they attracted quite a few glances. After all, their attractiveness was quite striking, not at all inferior to the stars in the entertainment industry.

Upon seeing Briana Cameron, the smile on Kathy's face deepened instantly. After saying something to the wealthy lady she was chatting with, she turned around and quickly walked towards the two.

"Mr. Yoder, Ms. Cameron, welcome!"

Maxim and Briana Cameron turned simultaneously, surprised to see Kathy walking towards them with a smile on her face.

After standing in front of the two, Kathy said with a smile, "Mr. Yoder, the male guests mainly chat about business on the left, while the female guests mainly chat and have tea on the right. I'll take Briana over there."

Briana Cameron looked at her with a faint expression, "Good evening, Mrs. Bynes, I can go by myself, no need to trouble you. You can go and attend to other guests."

Kathy held her hand, a hint of reproach in her eyes, "I'm your aunt, stop calling me Mrs. Bynes, it's too formal!"

Briana Cameron was somewhat baffled by Kathy's sudden warmth. If she remembered correctly, Kathy seemed to have always looked down on her. So, when she first returned to the Schneider family, and the Schneider family held a banquet to welcome her back, Kathy had merely sent a perfunctory jade bracelet as a gift, without even showing her face.

Suddenly acting so attentive now, I always felt there was some problem.

She withdrew her hand, a distant and indifferent smile on her face, "Mrs. Bynes, I am no longer a part of the Schneider family, we can't really be considered as family."

The smile on Kathy's face faded a bit, a flicker of guilt flashing in her eyes.

"Briana, are you still holding a grudge against me? I didn't know back then that your parents were so biased towards your sister. If I had known, I would have definitely intervened. However, now that you are with Mr. Yoder, it seems like your hardships have finally paid off."

Briana Cameron didn't want to play along. She looked straight at Maxim and said, "I see Astrid over there. I'm going to go chat with her. You should go do your business."

"Good."

Seeing Maxim nod, Briana Cameron immediately let go of his hand and turned to walk towards Astrid.

Maxim didn't even glance at Kathy, he just turned around and left.

Seeing Kathy deflate, Mrs. Bynes walked over with a smile, speaking in a sarcastic tone, "How did your brown-nosing end up kicking you in the shins? If you want Briana Cameron to pay attention to you, I'm afraid you'd have to time travel back to ten years ago."

The Bynes family knew about the incident where Briana Cameron was brought back by the Schneider family. At that time, everyone in the Bynes family despised the Schneider family, so when the Schneider family held a welcome party for Briana Cameron, not a single person from the Bynes family attended.

Unexpectedly, Kathy, as Briana Cameron's aunt, also did not go.

Previously, the Schneider family was not as prestigious as the Bynes family, so it was normal for Kathy to look down on Briana Cameron. But now, Briana Cameron has transformed into the adopted daughter of the Cameron family, and she is even with the president of the Yoder Group. So now, Kathy can't reach up to Briana Cameron.

Kathy gave Mrs. Bynes a cold glance. Her maiden family was better off than the Schneider family and could provide significant assistance to the Bynes family. Therefore, she always acted superior at home and never regarded others.

"Sister-in-law, this is my family matter, it seems to have nothing to do with you."

"Hahaha, that's hilarious. Briana Cameron shouldn't have anything to do with you now, right? Where did this talk of family matters come from?"

She was almost applauding Kathy's shamelessness, now seeing Briana Cameron having a powerful backer, she treated her like family, when initially she didn't even want to spare her a second glance.

Chapter 1023

Kathy's face turned ashen, she warned in a low voice, "Sister-in-law, don't forget what dad said this morning. Do you want to be driven out of the Bynes family?"

"Hehe, don't worry, if Dad knew we had a fight, the one who would be kicked out definitely wouldn't be me. After all, I'm not the one who can't bear a son and can't even control her own husband!"

Kathy stared hard at her retreating figure, her eyes filled with resentment and anger.

This woman was nothing more than her superior in terms of reincarnation, she couldn't compare to her in anything else. What right did she have to boss her around!

She took a deep breath, forced a smile, and kept reminding herself not to get angry. As long as she could get Briana Cameron to vent, she was sure she could make Briana Cameron acknowledge her as her aunt.

By that time, she had started giving others a hard time!

On the other side, after Briana Cameron found Astrid, the two of them grabbed a cocktail each and found a corner to sit down.

Astrid took a sip of wine, raising an eyebrow, "I saw Mrs. Bynes talking to you just now, did she need something from you?"

Briana Cameron looked indifferent, "It's okay, just a greeting."

"That's good, it's best not to get too close to her. She's notorious in the circle for being mercenary. Many wealthy businessmen's wives don't like her much. However, she's quite shrewd and does well in business, so most people still give her some respect."

Astrid glanced at her and laughed, “True, by the way, how’s the clothes I bought for you before? Have you used them?”

At Astrid’s teasing gaze, Briana Cameron couldn’t help but glare at her, “You have the nerve to talk! I’ve lost all my face!”

Seeing her cheeks slightly flushed, Astrid became interested and leaned in to whisper, “What’s really going on? Tell me! Otherwise, I’ll die of curiosity!”

“Then you can just die of curiosity!”

Thinking about that night, Briana Cameron still felt her face heat up. Anyway, she was certain she would never tell anyone what happened that night.

“Briana, with that expression, I can’t help but overthink. Yet, you don’t satisfy my curiosity, leaving me to speculate?”

Briana Cameron turned to look at her, her face full of disgust, “Can you stop being so creepy?”

Upon hearing the word ‘sleazy’, disbelief filled Astrid’s eyes. She pointed at her own face and exclaimed, “Me?! Sleazy?!”

“Facing such a beautiful face, you actually dared to utter the word ‘sleazy’. How could your 37-degree mouth utter such cold words?!”

Briana Cameron rolled her eyes, “Of course it is!”

“Woo woo woo, I’m so sad, you don’t love me anymore. After Maxim came, you obviously became more and more rude to me!”

Briana Cameron: “.....”

After enduring for about ten seconds, she finally couldn’t bear it anymore and said, “If you continue like this, I will pretend not to know you. It’s embarrassing.”

Astrid wiped away non-existent tears, sneered coldly: “Trashy woman! You don’t cherish what you have!”

“Don’t talk nonsense, or others might think my sexual orientation is abnormal.”

Just as Astrid was about to speak, a voice laced with laughter sounded behind the two of them.

“Excuse me, could I sit here?”

Chapter 1024

Briana Cameron and Astrid turned their heads at the same time, seeing it was Aurora, Briana Cameron’s face changed.

Astrid raised an eyebrow, smiling as she said, “Ms. Fredrick, please, feel free.”

“Then I disturbed.”

Aurora sat down across from the two, her gaze falling on Briana Cameron.

“Ms. Cameron, did you come with Mr. Yoder today?”

Briana Cameron didn’t really want to deal with her, she took a sip of her drink, pretending not to hear.

The smile on Aurora’s face stiffened for a moment, she slowly said, “It seems that Ms. Cameron doesn’t welcome me very much, should I not sit here?”

Astrid detected some tension between Aurora and Briana Cameron, and couldn’t help but frown.

“If Ms. Fredrick felt uncomfortable sitting here, she was more than welcome to leave. There was no need for her to act so strangely.”

Aurora bit her lower lip, her face adopting a look of grievance.

“Ms. Remington, that’s a bit too much, isn’t it? I don’t seem to have provoked you, have I?”

Astrid sneered, “You may not have provoked me, but you should be able to tell that Briana doesn’t want to deal with you, right?”

“I was just trying to lighten the tense silence, but to my surprise, Ms. Cameron didn’t give me any face at all.”

The atmosphere between us was good, no need to ease it. Either sit here quietly, or stay away, don’t bother people here.

From childhood to adulthood, Aurora was always pampered by others. When had she ever suffered such humiliation? Her face immediately turned cold.

“Ms. Remington, I originally thought we would have common ground, but it seems I misjudged you!”

Astrid rolled her eyes impatiently, saying irritably, “What a nuisance, Briana, let’s go to the terrace for some fresh air.”

After speaking, Astrid immediately pulled Briana Cameron towards the terrace, seemingly completely oblivious to the extremely unpleasant expression on Aurora’s face.

Aurora glared at the retreating figures of Astrid and Briana Cameron, her eyes filled with hatred.

She was determined to snatch Maxim away from Briana Cameron, then ruthlessly trample on Briana Cameron’s pride, making her her defeated subordinate.

Reaching the edge of the terrace, Astrid finally couldn’t help but gossip, “Briana, did you have any issues with Aurora before? She seemed quite sarcastic when she spoke today.”

"She liked Maxim."

Astrid's eyes widened in disbelief, "So Maxim ignored her, and she came to bother you?"

"She was probably just bored, it was best to just ignore her."

"Tsk, tsk, tsk..." Astrid kept shaking her head, "I didn't expect Maxim to be so popular. You have to hold onto him tightly, don't let him be seduced away by some cheap, flashy woman."

Briana Cameron didn't seem to care at all, her expression indifferent as she said, "If it can be taken away by others, it doesn't belong to me."

Astrid: ".....You really are casual."

I guess Maxim would have been furious if he had heard that.

The two chatted for a while, then Astrid was called away.

Briana Cameron had been standing on the patio, enjoying the breeze for a while. Just as she was about to go back inside, a soft voice sounded behind her.

"Sister, you also came to attend this banquet!"

Chapter 1025

Briana Cameron had turned around, seeing Kiley holding Denise not far behind her, her eyes narrowing slightly.

However, she had no intention of dealing with Kiley. After greeting Denise, she turned around and left directly.

Kiley bit her lower lip, catching up with Denise and asked, "Sister, have you heard about what's been going on between Dad and Sabina recently?"

Briana Cameron glanced at her impatiently and said coldly, "Don't call me sister, it makes me sick."

She had regained her memory now, and every time she saw Kiley, she was reminded of those disgusting things Kiley had done back in Bridenville.

If it weren't for her, Maxim and I wouldn't have gone through so much. And now, she even has the nerve to call me sister, her face as thick as a city wall.

Kiley's face changed slightly, she said in a low voice, "I know I don't deserve to be your sister, and I'm sorry for what happened in the past, but this time, if you don't talk to dad, he and mom might get divorced."

Briana Cameron took a deep breath, having decided not to let these things affect her mood anymore. However, upon hearing her shameless remarks, she couldn't help but feel a surge of anger.

She sneered, "What does it have to do with me? They are your parents, not mine. I cut ties with them a long time ago."

The voices of the two people were quite loud, and at this moment, they had already attracted quite a few onlookers from the side.

Sensing those glances coming her way, Kiley felt a surge of joy in her heart and feigned hurt as she began to speak, "Don't take to heart what mom and dad said. They were just speaking out of anger. How could they possibly not want you as their daughter?"

"A few days ago, your mother mentioned you and she cried, saying she was sorry and hoping you could give her a chance to make it up to you."

"Even if they had made many mistakes in the past, no matter what, they are still your biological parents. I hope you can reconcile with them."

As Kiley's voice fell, Briana Cameron distinctly felt the change in the way people around her were looking at her.

No need to guess, she could also know what those people's gazes revealed.

It was nothing more than feeling that she was unfilial, a waste of a child and the like.

If it were in the past, she might have cared about the gaze of others, but now, what does the thoughts of others have to do with her?

She smiled, "With such a good daughter like you by their side, they don't need any other children."

Kiley's expression instantly became somewhat anxious, her face flushing bright red, "How could that be? No matter how filial I am, your place in our parents' hearts is irreplaceable."

"Of course I'm irreplaceable now. After all, everyone is trying to take advantage of me now that they see I've become the adopted daughter of the Cameron family!"

"Sister, how could you think of our parents like this?"

A glint of coldness flashed in Briana Cameron's eyes as she looked at Kiley's aggrieved expression.

"Enough, stop pretending. You want me to go back and persuade them, isn't it because you're afraid you won't be able to inherit the Schneider Group in the future?"

"I didn't..."

Tears had already welled up in Kiley's eyes, as if they would spill over any second.

Briana Cameron, too lazy to watch her act, directly said, "If it wasn't for the Schneider Group, why would you go to great lengths to get Sabina from Bridenville to Haseton?"

"If I remember correctly, your dear mother Mallory was pregnant at the time, wasn't she? She was on bed rest at Haseton's First Hospital, right?"

"You brought Sabina here, and single-handedly facilitated her affair with Zane, wasn't it all to provoke Mallory, hoping she would miscarry the child in her womb, so that no one would compete with you for the Schneider Group, right?"

A flash of horror and fear crossed Kiley's eyes, and she unconsciously stepped back two steps.

"No...what are you saying? I don't understand!"

Chapter 1026

She shook her head desperately, disbelief filling her heart. How could Briana Cameron know about this? She had hidden it so well!

"Oh?"

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, "You really don't understand what I'm saying?"

Seeing the mocking expression on Briana Cameron's face, Kiley gritted her teeth, "I don't understand, are you trying to smear me now, sister?!"

She didn't believe that Briana Cameron would have evidence, she must have been tricking her!

Briana Cameron chuckled and slowly said, "Then I will make you submit both in heart and in words."

She took out her phone, clicked on a recording, and Kiley's cold voice immediately came out from the phone.

"Find a way to inform Sabina about my mother's bed rest in Haseton. If necessary, provoke her to cause a scene in Haseton."

"Mr. Schneider, isn't this not quite right? After all, Mallory is your mother."

Kiley sneered, "What's so wrong about it? She was the one who abandoned me first. I'm just fighting for my own interests now! If you don't look out for yourself, you'll be doomed! They forced me into this!"

As the recording played, the looks directed at Kiley became increasingly intriguing, most of them filled with contempt and disdain.

"Hehe, Kiley usually pretends to be incredibly kind, but who would have thought she's such a disgusting person in private, even scheming against her own mother and younger brother!"

"How could this kind of person have the nerve to show up in front of everyone? If I were her, I would wish to crawl into a crack in the ground!"

“Then you’ve underestimated her. When she was with Maxim, people dug into her past. She did a lot of shocking things in Bridenville. It’s just that after she came to Haseton, not many people knew about her past!”

The surrounding mockery was like a dense net, tightly enveloping Kiley, almost suffocating her.

She kept shaking her head, “No... No, it’s not like that! Her recording is fake, it’s a fake recording made by Briana Cameron to frame me!”

“Stop pretending, if it wasn’t for you going after Briana Cameron, she had no intention of releasing this recording today! You brought this on yourself!”

“If I were senior Mr. Bynes, and such a person emerged from my own family, moreover, being exposed at my own birthday party, I would definitely feel utterly humiliated!”

“Having done such a thing and still daring to show off in public, truly shameless beyond compare!”

Upon hearing those comments, the faces of the Bynes family turned sour.

Senior Mr. Bynes gave Kathy a cold glance and angrily said, “Take her away immediately! Are you planning to let her continue to disgrace us here?!”

Kathy had never been publicly yelled at by senior Mr. Bynes before, she felt utterly humiliated. She also resented Kiley deeply, regretting her soft-hearted decision to let her attend the banquet!

She walked up to Kiley, grabbed her wrist, and said in a deep voice, “I need to talk to you, come with me!”

It was not until Kathy left with Kiley and Denise that the chatter among the crowd gradually subsided, and they began to talk about other things.

Soon, the living room was filled with laughter and joy again, as if nothing had happened before.

Dragging Kiley to the end of the hallway, Kathy finally let go of her hand, angrily saying, “Kiley, did you really bring Sabina here to scheme against your mother?!”

Tears welled up in Kiley’s eyes, and she said with a wronged expression, “Aunt, do you also believe Briana Cameron’s words?! How could I possibly do such a thing? I don’t know where she got that recording from, her purpose is just to embarrass me in public...”

Kathy looked at her with a cold expression, not directly believing her words.

“Alright, you can go home for today. I will talk to your father about this matter. Once they have thoroughly investigated and if it really has nothing to do with you, we will settle the score with Briana Cameron then!”

and Aurora tonight, she would not have attended this banquet.

She spotted Maxim in the crowd. The moment her gaze landed on him, it seemed as if Maxim sensed it and turned to look at her.

Their gazes met across the room. Briana Cameron pursed her lips, picked up her skirt, and walked towards him.

Just as she had walked a few steps away from him, a figure suddenly blocked her path.

Upon seeing Aurora, Briana Cameron's face turned cold.

"Mr. Yoder, several partners of the Fredrick Group wanted to have a chat with you. They also had the intention to collaborate with the Yoder Group."

Aurora spoke loudly, making sure Briana Cameron could hear her. She didn't believe that if it was about work, Briana Cameron could stop Maxim.

Maxim was indifferent, saying coldly, "Ms. Fredrick, the Yoder Group doesn't need your mediation. If those partners are interested in cooperating with the Yoder Group, I will arrange another time and place to discuss with them in detail."

Aurora almost couldn't keep the smile on her face, surprised that Maxim would reject her so bluntly.

She gritted her teeth, "Maxim, is this how you treat me when I kindly introduce clients to you?!"

Maxim's expression was icy, his tone incredibly distant, "Ms. Fredrick, I didn't ask you to do this, and I'd appreciate it if you didn't meddle in my affairs in the future."

Having said that, Maxim didn't bother about her expression anymore and directly walked past her to Briana Cameron.

"Briana, were you tired? Should we go back first?"

Long before Aurora mentioned that several partners wanted to cooperate with the Yoder Group, Briana Cameron had glanced in the direction she pointed out. Seeing that those people were all fairly well-known businessmen in the Haseton business community, Briana Cameron thought that Maxim could go and get to know them.

A smile tugged at the corner of her mouth as she spoke, "No, I just came over to talk to you."

At this point, she leaned closer to Maxim and whispered, "Getting to know those businessmen would be beneficial to the Yoder Group, you should go and meet them."

Although Aurora purposefully approached Maxim, which annoyed her, Briana Cameron still decided to prioritize the development of the Yoder Group.

As her words fell, her wrist was suddenly seized.

In the next second, Maxim had pulled her into his arms!

Chapter 1028

"Ah!"

She let out a low moan, her hands instinctively pressing against Maxim's chest.

"What were you doing?!"

Briana Cameron's voice was laced with embarrassed anger, he didn't even restrain himself a bit with so many people around.

Maxim looked down at her blushing face, chuckled softly and said, "You are my wife, even if you know those people, you should go with me, shouldn't you?"

Briana Cameron pursed her lips, the words were indeed correct, but she had never been particularly interested in such matters.

After a silence of two seconds, she still nodded and said, "Alright."

"Maxim, holding her hand, turned and walked towards the few people Aurora had just mentioned."

Aurora had watched the whole process from the side, almost spitting blood in anger, and followed up with gritted teeth.

Maxim had just approached Briana Cameron and a few others when Aurora's voice came from behind, "Let me introduce you, this is Maxim, the president of the Yoder Group. Weren't you just saying you wanted the opportunity to work with the Yoder Group? Well, we've brought him to you now, don't miss this chance!"

Upon hearing this, everyone started laughing and began to greet Maxim one after another.

Seeing Maxim leading Briana Cameron, a boss laughed and said, "Mr. Yoder, this is your girlfriend, Mr. Cameron's daughter, Briana Cameron, right?"

Maxim nodded, "Hmm, she's quite shy, sorry for any embarrassment!"

"Hahaha, how could it be? Ms. Cameron obviously has a gentle personality, Mr. Yoder is really lucky!"

"Yeah, my brat at home was originally planning to pursue Ms. Cameron, but who would have thought that Mr. Yoder beat him to it!"

"Mr. Yoder and Ms. Cameron, one young and promising, the other exceptionally talented, truly a match made in heaven!"

Hearing these praises for Briana Cameron, Aurora was indescribably upset.

She clearly wanted everyone to set her up with Maxim, but now everyone is saying that Maxim and Briana Cameron are a perfect match!

After chatting for a while and exchanging contact information, Maxim spoke apologetically, "I'm sorry, but I have something to attend to later, so we'll have to leave now. We'll have the chance to meet again and discuss our collaboration in detail next time."

After saying goodbye to a few people, Maxim left with Briana

Cameron.

Watching the two of them walk away hand in hand, Aurora's face turned livid with anger. In her heart, she was even more determined to break up Maxim and Briana Cameron!

On the way back, Maxim couldn't help but look at Briana Cameron and ask, "How did you know that Sabina was brought to Haseton by people sent by Kiley?"

A glint of coldness flashed in Briana Cameron's eyes as she spoke, "When I found out that Zane and Mallory were my biological parents, I had them investigated. I knew Mallory came to Haseton for bed rest, and when Sabina suddenly appeared, I suspected something was wrong. So, I had it checked out. I never thought that Kiley would go to such lengths to get the Schneider Group."

"I also didn't expect that she would become so unscrupulous."

The current Kiley was sinister and malicious, completely different from the gentle and kind Kiley he had initially known.

"She has always been like this, it's just that you used to like her, so naturally, you thought she was kind and lovely."

Detecting the sour tone in Briana Cameron's voice, Maxim couldn't help but chuckle, "Did the vinegar bottle spill? Why is there such a strong sour taste?"

Briana Cameron snorted, "I'm not jealous, I just simply thought you had poor taste before."

"That was before I met you. After I met you, I only liked you and no one else."

"If I remember correctly, after Kiley returned to her country, someone didn't come home every day, and went straight to our 'bridal chamber' to find her after work!"

Chapter 1029

The two words "marriage room," Briana Cameron emphasized deliberately.

Maxim frowned, recalling that she must have been referring to the time he had been working overtime at the Yoder Group.

"You really wronged me on this. I was working overtime at the Yoder Group every day during that period, I hardly saw her at all. And when I came home exhausted, you wanted to divorce me."

Briana Cameron scoffed, "Are you implying that it's my fault?"

"No, I was explaining to you that since we got married, I had no intention of having any relationship with her."

Briana Cameron pursed her lips and didn't speak again, but it was clear that she didn't believe Maxim's words either.

If it hadn't been for his indulgence in the first place, Kiley wouldn't have provoked herself so arrogantly.

And not long after she divorced Maxim, he abandoned himself for Kiley, claiming that he had no thoughts about Kiley after getting married. She wouldn't believe it even if she died!

Seeing her not speaking, Maxim turned his head to glance at her.

"Briana, were you angry?"

Recalling the past, Briana Cameron felt somewhat reluctant to engage with him. She turned her head towards the window and said curtly, "No."

Maxim parked the car by the side of the road, speaking softly, "I truly owe you an apology for what happened in the past, but I promise, I really have no connection with her now."

Seeing the seriousness in Maxim's eyes, Briana Cameron pursed her lips and lowered her gaze, saying, "I believe you. I was just thinking about all the misunderstandings we've had in the past, and I was a bit emotional for a moment."

Seeing no signs of anger from Briana Cameron, Maxim finally breathed a sigh of relief, slowly starting the car and saying, "I'm glad you're not angry. I hope every day you spend with me in the future is a happy one. I don't want you to be sad."

Hearing this, Briana Cameron turned to look at him, smiling as she said, "Then you'll have to behave well in the future."

"Of course!"

On the other side, Kathy quickly told Zane about what had happened at the Bynes family's party.

After hearing this, Zane's face turned incredibly ugly. He said angrily, "I will definitely investigate this matter. If it really has something to do with Kiley, I will not let her go!"

After hanging up the phone, Zane's eyes turned cold. He immediately dialed a number and said coldly, "Check if Sabina's visit to Haseton has anything to do with Kiley."

"Alright, Mr. Schneider."

Zane put down his phone, a glint of calculation flashing in his eyes. If this matter really had something to do with Kiley, he could legitimately reclaim the 10% of shares she held. He wouldn't have to hand over the Schneider Group to her in the future. After all, such a malicious person was not fit to manage the Schneider Group!

On the other side, after returning home, Kiley also hurriedly dialed Lewis's number.

As soon as the call connected, she raised her voice and said, "Lewis, how dare you secretly record our conversation! Don't think I don't know about your little affair with Sabina. If anything happens to me, neither you nor Sabina will get away with it!"

"Kiley, what do you mean?! What recording are you talking about?! Stop talking nonsense!"

Kiley sneered, "Tonight, I attended senior Mr. Bynes' 70th birthday party, and Briana Cameron played a recording of me telling you to inform Sabina about my mother's pregnancy in front of everyone. And you dare to say it has nothing to do with you?!"

Lewis's face changed, he had indeed recorded it at the time, but he hadn't given the recording to anyone, planning to use it to threaten Kiley in the future.

"How could it be... That recording must be fake! I never gave that recording to anyone..."

"You finally admitted it! If this matter was traced back to me, I would never let you and Sabina off the hook!"

After speaking, Kiley angrily hung up the phone!

Chapter 1030

Lewis looked terrible. If Zane found out about his affair with Sabina, he would be completely ruined. This matter absolutely could not be revealed!

An hour later, Zane received a call from his subordinate.

After hearing the words from the other side, Zane's face instantly turned incredibly ugly.

"I knew."

After hanging up the phone, Zane slammed his cell phone on the table, his cheeks flushing red with anger.

He hadn't expected that Sabina's arrival in Haseton was actually Kiley's doing!

So from the beginning, she knew that Mallory had come to Haseton for bed rest. She had been pretending not to know, just to get Sabina over here and use Sabina to upset Mallory.

He didn't dare to think, what measures Kiley would have taken against the child if Mallory hadn't miscarried due to excessive anger.

All of them had been used by Kiley.

Thinking of this, Zane was filled with anger and directly called Mallory.

"Mallory, you really did raise a good daughter!"

Mallory had already been asleep when she was woken up by Zane's call. Now, hearing what he said, she suddenly felt baffled.

"Zane, what on earth were you doing in the middle of the night?!"

"Hehe, do you know how you lost the child in your belly?"

Detecting the icy tone in Zane's voice, Mallory gritted her teeth, her voice filled with anger, "You have the nerve to ask?! That child was killed by you and Sabina!"

"That child was not killed by me and Sabina, but by your beloved daughter, Kiley!"

Mallory paused for a moment, then sneered, "Zane, have you lost your mind?! I'm telling you, no matter what you say, I will find a way to let Kiley take over the Schneider Group!"

"Kiley had known about your pregnancy long ago, and she also knew that you were in Haseton's First Hospital for fetal protection. She deliberately had someone bring Sabina to Haseton in order to make herself the heir of the Schneider Group. Her goal was to use Sabina to harm the child in your womb, without getting any blood on her own hands. We were all used by her!"

Hearing Zane's cold words, Mallory's breath hitched sharply.

The next second, she screamed.

"Impossible!"

Kiley had been obedient since she was a child, how could she possibly harm her own younger brother!

"At the birthday banquet of senior Mr. Bynes tonight, Kiley went to trouble Briana Cameron. Briana Cameron publicly played a recording of her asking someone to bring Sabina to Haseton. I also had someone check on this matter just now. If you don't believe it, you can check it yourself!"

“Shut up! Kiley could never be that kind of person! I won’t believe it, this is a lie you made up to give the Schneider Group’s shares to Sabina, that bitch’s bastard! I won’t believe it!”

“Believe it or not, I would rather destroy the Schneider Group than hand it over to such a conscienceless person!”

She could harm her own biological brother now, she could also harm him in the future.

Zane felt an indescribable chill in his heart. He never expected that his daughter, whom he had raised with pride for so many years, would turn out to be such a scorpion-hearted person!

“You’re talking nonsense! Kiley is not that kind of person, it must be Briana Cameron who framed her! She could never harm me!”

Zane’s voice was icy cold, “If you don’t believe me, so be it. I can’t be bothered to waste my words on you!”

After speaking, Zane hung up the phone.

Mallory’s hand, holding her phone, dropped weakly, as she sat on the bed in a daze.

Kiley was the one she had raised single-handedly. Before she got pregnant, she had poured all her heart and soul into her. Now Zane was telling her that Kiley had killed the child in her womb. How could this be possible?!

She couldn’t accept it!

She took out her phone, ready to call Kiley, but at the moment she dialed, she suddenly hung up.
