

Fall for You 1071

Chapter 1071

With the sound of a bone breaking, a scream erupted from the bartender's mouth.

"Let... let me go! It hurts!"

Briana Cameron stared at him intently, the anger bursting from her eyes like a raging flame, utterly terrifying.

"Who fet you come!"

A tiny bartender, he probably wouldn't dare to do such thing.

"What are you saying... I don't understand... Let me go... Or I'll make you regret it!"

No sooner had the words fallen than a more intense pain shot through his arm, as if it was about to break at any moment.

"Ah, let go! I beg you, I know I was wrong!"

"I'll ask you one last time, who exactly sent you!"

"If you don't speak up, next time it won't be an arm that gets twisted off!"

Seeing the coldness and murderous intent in Briana Cameron's eyes, the bartender finally became scared and hurriedly said, "It was Ms Fredrick it was Ms. Fredrick who sent me, it has nothing to do with me, please spare me!"

Due to the pain, the bartender had already broken out in a cold sweat all over his body and forehead, looking as if he had just been fished out of the water.

"Where was she now?"

"It was...it was in the number 8 private room on the second floor..."

Briana Cameron bit her lower lip hard, the strong taste of blood spreading in her mouth, which also helped her regain some sanity.

She hoisted the bartender, coldly saying, "Lead the way!"

Her voice was filled with murderous intent, the bartender dared not make any rash moves, he could only obediently lead her upstairs.

A glint of malice flashed in his eyes. He hadn't expected this woman to be so formidable, able to remain lucid even after taking his drug.

However, if she dared to offend him in the bar, she was doomed!

Finally, five minutes later, the two stood still at the door of Box 8.

“Knock on the door!”

The bartender took a deep breath and slowly knocked on the door under Briana Cameron’s cold gaze.

After pushing open the door, Aurora and an unfamiliar woman were sitting in the middle of the booth, drinking wine.

Both of them turned their heads at the same time, seeing Briana Cameron standing behind the bartender. Aurora’s pupils contracted sharply.

However, she quickly regained her composure and said coldly, “Briana Cameron, what are you doing here?! Bursting into someone else’s private room without permission, is this the manners the Cameron family taught you?”

Briana Cameron ignored her and directly threw the bartender on the ground.

“Aurora, I’ve never seen someone as clingy as a plaster like you. You stick to me whenever you see me, it’s truly disgusting!”

Aurora’s face changed, she gritted her teeth and said, “Shut up, what right do you have to criticize me? If it weren’t for the Cameron family, you wouldn’t even have the right to stand in front of me!”

Briana Cameron sneered, “If all the socialites in Haseton knew you were looking for someone to drug me in a bar, I guess your reputation wouldn’t be safe, would it?”

There was not a trace of fear in Aurora’s eyes as she looked at her with an air of confidence.

“Did you say I drugged you? What evidence do you have?”

“If I remember correctly, it was you who brought a stranger into our private room, wasn’t it?”

Briana Cameron curled her lips, contempt filling her eyes.

“I knew you wouldn’t admit it easily.”

“Why should I admit to something I’ve never done? You’re not upset because I’m engaged to Maxim, and deliberately found someone to slander me, are you?”

Briana Cameron’s hand unconsciously tightened at her side, staring at her as she said word by word, “I told you long ago, you can have that kind of man who abandons after seducing, I won’t miss him at all. In fact, I should thank you. If it weren’t for you, I wouldn’t have realized that I had such a jerk by my side!”

Aurora’s face was full of provocation and triumph, “Stop pretending, if you really didn't care, you wouldn't have made a scene at our engagement party. Considering the time you two spent together, when we get married, I will personally deliver an invitation to you!"

Chapter 1072

"There's no need, seeing your wedding would probably make me sick to my stomach!"

"Stop being stubborn, you probably cried out of sadness!"

Briana Cameron pursed her lips, her face full of coldness.

"I didn't come here to talk nonsense with you. It's your choice whether to turn yourself in at the police station, or I personally hand over the evidence to the police."

Looking at Briana Cameron's flushed face, Aurora gave a cold laugh.

"Sorry, I didn't know how to choose any of them."

"It seemed that I had to choose for you."

"Hahaha, you're really full of yourself, do you truly believe you're qualified to compete with me?"

As Aurora spoke, she clapped her hands and five or six burly men appeared behind Briana Cameron.

"Arrest her!"

The moment the words fell, all the burly men lunged at Briana Cameron.

However...

Five minutes later, upon seeing the bodyguards scattered on the ground, a flash of terror crossed Aurora's eyes.

"How could it be..."

Seeing Briana Cameron approaching her, Aurora was filled with fear. She kept backing away, picking up the wine and glasses from the table and throwing them at Briana Cameron.

"Don't come over! Get lost! Stay away from me!"

However, no matter how she screamed, Briana Cameron still walked up to her.

"Briana Cameron, if you dare touch me, the Fredrick family will never let you go... Ah!"

Her neck was suddenly gripped tightly, a wave of suffocation washed over her, and Aurora was so frightened that she began to tremble.

She tried to push away Briana Cameron's hand, but she didn't succeed.

Waves of suffocation came over, and Aurora's face gradually turned into a sauce-red color.

“Let go... let go of me...”

However, no matter how much she struggled, she couldn't escape Briana Cameron's control.

Just when Aurora thought she was going to die at the hands of Briana Cameron, the hand gripping her neck suddenly let go, and she fell to the ground, coughing violently.

Seeing Briana Cameron collapsed on the ground, a wave of fear surged in her heart, causing her to involuntarily shrink back.

Gillian, who was nearby, quickly came over to help her up, “Aurora, are you okay?”

Having sat down on the sofa, Aurora finally caught her breath. After the fear had subsided, a wave of anger surged up within her unconsciously.

That bitch, Briana Cameron!

Actually wanted to strangle her!

Her icy gaze fell on the bartender cowering at the door, “Aren't you going to come in and drag this scum away?! Do I have to ask you?!”

The bartender shuddered at her icy tone, hurriedly stepped in, about to take Briana Cameron away, when a cold voice suddenly came from the entrance.

“I dared anyone to touch her!”

Ji looked towards the door, only to see Thomas walking in with a cold expression on his face.

The bartender instinctively stepped back, but was still kicked away by Thomas. His body, like a kite with its string cut, slammed against the wall and then directly onto the ground.

The bartender let out a terrible scream, violently spat out a mouthful of blood, and then passed out immediately.

Seeing Thomas, who was full of evil aura, Aurora gritted her teeth, suppressing her fear and said coldly, “Thomas, if the Cameron family doesn't give me an explanation for Briana Cameron barging into my box without reason, I absolutely won't let it go!”

Thomas looked at her coldly, a glint of murderous intent flashing in his eyes.

“What explanation did you want?!”

“I was going to make Briana Cameron kneel and apologize to me!”

“Hehe!”

Chapter 1073

Thomas chuckled lightly, looking at her with a mocking expression, "You're worthy?"

Aurora hadn't expected him to say that. A flash of shock passed through her eyes, followed by anger tinged with embarrassment. "Is your Cameron family planning to go against our Fredrick family?" she asked.

"You used such dirty tricks on my sister, and you still expect her to apologize to you? In your dreams!"

Aurora's face stiffened, then she immediately denied, "What nonsense are you talking about?! When did I ever do anything to Briana Cameron?!"

"It doesn't matter if you don't admit it, I've already copied the bar's surveillance footage. By tomorrow, everyone in Haseton will know what kind of person you are behind their backs. As for Maxim, he'll probably despise you too!"

After speaking, Thomas didn't even glance at Aurora. He picked up Briana Cameron and turned to leave directly.

Just as she reached the door, Aurora's angry voice came from behind.

"Stand still!" you ordered me.

However, Thomas didn't even pause, quickly disappearing from Aurora's sight.

A wave of panic surged in Aurora's heart. She dared not imagine what Maxim would do to her if he really knew about this...

She frantically found her phone and dialed Benjamin's number.

"Dad, I had something to tell you..."

Briana Cameron woke up again, it was already the next morning.

As soon as I opened my eyes, I immediately felt exhausted all over, with no strength at all.

She slowly sat up, realizing she was in a hospital, a flash of surprise in her eyes.

Soon, as her memory returned, her face turned deathly pale.

When she strangled Aurora last night, she really wanted to kill her, but then she fainted.

She couldn't...

Just as Briana Cameron lifted the blanket to get out of bed to settle accounts with Aurora, the door of the ward was pushed open.

Gemma walked in from outside with the medicine, seeing Briana Cameron trying to get out of bed, she hurriedly said, "Briana, you need to get back in bed immediately, the doctor said you need to rest for a few days!"

Briana Cameron bit her lower lip, "Mom, I need to find Aurora!"

She dared to scheme against her, she definitely wouldn't let Aurora off easily!

Gemma quickly walked over to her side and helped her onto the bed, saying in a deep voice, "It's okay, your father and your third brother will handle this, you don't have to do anything."

Briana Cameron pursed her lips, a sudden thought flashing through her mind. She quickly grabbed Gemma's hands and asked, "Mom, where's Astrid?! Is she okay?!"

Last night, when she was drugged, her consciousness had already begun to blur. At that time, she didn't realize that Astrid had also drunk that wine. It's only now that she's come to realize it.

Thinking of this, Briana Cameron was filled with a wave of fear, feeling that she was really too foolish.

"Don't worry, she's fine. You three encountered her first, and had your subordinates send her to the hospital before coming to find you. She's in the next room."

Upon hearing this, Briana Cameron finally breathed a sigh of relief. If anything had happened to Astrid, she would never have forgiven herself.

"That's good then."

"Alright, don't worry anymore. You just need to rest well these few days. Your dad and your third brother won't let this matter go so easily, so you don't need to worry about it."

Briana Cameron nodded, "Okay, I understand."

"But you and Astrid, you're adults, yet you don't know how to protect yourselves when you go to the bar. If your third brother hadn't happened to be there this time, who knows what could have happened!"

Briana Cameron lowered her head guiltily, "It won't happen again."

"Alright, I'll go home and make you some soup. You just stay put in the hospital room, don't run around everywhere, understand?"

After Gemma left, Briana Cameron immediately went next door to find Astrid.

Seeing that Astrid was really okay, she finally felt relieved.

"Astrid, I'm sorry, it was my fault for not paying enough attention to the bartender last night, which led to you being drugged as well..."

Astrid didn't care at all, she said, "It's fine, after all, that bartender has already been locked up now, he definitely won't be out for three to five years. And as for Aurora, not only will the Xie family not let her go, I won't either!"

A glint of coldness flashed in Briana Cameron's eyes, "I won't let her go either, do you have any plans?"

Chapter 1074

Astrid sneered, "I'm going to ruin her!"

"Just as I got the surveillance footage from the bar, I planned to post it directly online, along with the bartender's testimony."

Hearing this, surprise flashed in Astrid's eyes, and she immediately said, "If we have these things, we need to not only let everyone know what she did to us, but also take her to court!"

Briana Cameron nodded, "Alright, I'll contact the lawyer immediately."

The two contacted a lawyer, who said that he would prepare the lawsuit materials today. After that, they went to the police station to report.

Soon, Aurora was taken away by the police.

Upon arriving at the police station, she saw Briana Cameron and Astrid, both of whom had eyes filled with anger and hatred.

"You two despicable people wait for me, I will definitely not let you go!"

Astrid looked at her, speaking with a mocking tone, "You've been brought to the police station and you still dare to talk big. It seems you really won't cry until you see your coffin!"

"Hehe, you thought this would cause me any harm? If anything happened to me, the Fredrick Group wouldn't let the Xie family and the Cameron Group off!"

No sooner had the words left his mouth than he was slapped in the face.

"Ah!"

Aurora screamed, covering her face in anger, "Are you police just eating for nothing?! Didn't you see I was hit?!"

Astrid chuckled, raising an eyebrow, "Sorry, I slipped my hand just now, it wasn't intentional, I hope you can forgive me!"

"You wait for me!"

There was not a trace of fear in Astrid's eyes, "Aurora, considering what you've done to us, this slap is nothing."

Aurora wanted to say something, but a police officer next to her spoke up, "Enough! Everyone be quiet! This is a police station, not a market, and certainly not a place for you to argue!"

Astrid immediately looked at the police with an apologetic face, "I'm sorry, I will definitely be careful next time."

"Hypocrisy!"

Aurora stared hard at Astrid, her eyes full of contempt and disdain.

Astrid glanced at her indifferently, smiling as she said, "Ms. Fredrick, you better confess everything at the police station, otherwise it might not just be you who ends up embarrassed, but the Fredrick family as well!"

After speaking, Astrid turned around and left the police station with Briana Cameron.

Thinking of the Fredrick family's influence, Briana Cameron. said with some concern, "I feel that getting Aurora in won't be that simple."

Astrid nodded, "Indeed, but at the very least, it could tarnish her reputation. For a proud person like Aurora, making her lose face is more painful than killing her."

"That's true."

The two were about to leave when a black Maybach stopped not far away.

Briana Cameron's gaze faltered, her hand hanging by her side unconsciously clenched.

The next second, the rear door of the Maybach opened, and a man in a black suit stepped out.

Upon seeing Maxim, a surge of anger rose in Astrid's heart. She gritted her teeth and said, "This scumbag, he must be here for Aurora!"

Briana Cameron pursed her lips, lowering her gaze and said, "Whatever he's here to do, it has nothing to do with us. Let's go."

After speaking, Briana Cameron immediately turned around and walked towards her car.

Astrid hurriedly followed, carefully watching her face, fearing she would burst into tears any second.

After all, she had seen with her own eyes how devastated

Briana Cameron was on the day Maxim and Aurora got engaged. It hadn't been that long since then. Even if she really planned to give up on Maxim, she wouldn't lose all her feelings so quickly, would she?

Chapter 1075

Briana Cameron stopped somewhat helplessly and looked at Astrid, saying, "You don't need to worry about me, I'm fine."

For Maxim, she might have had some illusions before, but seeing him so eager to pick up Aurora, the last bit of lingering affection she had for him in her heart was gone.

Such a person was not worth her affection.

Seeing no trace of lying in Briana Cameron's eyes, Astrid finally breathed a sigh of relief and quickly said, "That's more like it... He's just a jerk, next time I'll introduce you to someone better!"

“Then I was waiting.”

“Alright, don’t worry! As soon as I’m better, I’ll find something for you!”

At the entrance of the police station, Maxim’s cold gaze fell on the gradually receding figure of Briana Cameron, his eyes filled with reluctance and affection.

Rayan, standing by the side, couldn’t help but remind, “Mr. Yoder, please go in first.”

Maxim averted his gaze and turned to walk into the police station.

The police thought he was there to bail someone out, and quickly approached him, saying, “Mr. Yoder, Ms. Fredrick’s actions have already involved criminal activity. We hope you won’t make things difficult for us.”

Maxim’s expression was indifferent, “I came here only hoping that the police station could handle this case impartially. No matter what the outcome, I will accept it.”

A flash of surprise crossed the policeman’s eyes. He had originally thought that Maxim was here to pressure them, but unexpectedly, he was asking them to handle the case impartially. If he remembered correctly, the person currently detained inside was his fiancée, wasn’t she?!

“Alright, I understood.”

Coming out of the police station, Rayan looked a bit upset, “Mr. Yoder, what you’re doing might offend the Fredrick Group.”

Maxim gave him a cold glance, “So what if we offend the Fredrick Group? If Aurora dares to make a move against her, she should be prepared to face the consequences!”

A flicker of worry flashed in Rayan’s eyes, but if Mr. Vanderberg knew, he would probably stop it.

After all, Aurora was the daughter-in-law Mr. Vanderberg had chosen himself, and he had a good relationship with Benjamin. It was impossible for him to turn a blind eye to Aurora’s arrest.

“Back to the Yoder Group!”

The two had been back at the Yoder Group for less than an hour when Cosmo came storming in, furious.

He walked straight into Maxim’s office, slammed the door shut with a “bang”, and coldly looked at Maxim, saying, “Have you gone mad?! I told you to go to the police station to bail out Aurora, what did you do?! She is now your fiancée!”

Maxim put down the file in his hand, looking up at Cosmo with an indifferent expression.

“Why was she my fiancée, weren’t you very clear about this?”

Cosmo sneered, “Regardless, Aurora will be your wife in the future. No matter what mistakes she makes, you should always stand by her!”

“I couldn’t do it.”

“If you couldn’t do it, I’m afraid Briana Cameron’s antidote for this month would be gone.”

Maxim chuckled lightly at Cosmo’s fearless gaze.

“What gave you the confidence to think that you could threaten me over and over again with this matter?”

“Unless you want Briana Cameron to die, you can only listen to me!”

“If something happened to Briana Cameron, any of the things that the Fredrick Group and the Vanderberg Group have done, if revealed, would be enough to destroy both families. If you can bear the consequences, you don’t have to give me the antidote.”

Seeing the madness and recklessness in Maxim’s eyes, a touch of horror rose in Cosmo’s heart. He was very clear, what Maxim said was true.

If he had really done something to Briana Cameron, he would have undoubtedly spoken out about it.

Thinking of this, anger surged on his face, “Just for a woman, you dare to threaten me like this?! Maxim, don’t forget, the smooth sailing of the Yoder Group these past few years has been due to the Vanderberg Group’s support!”

Chapter 1076

Maxim looked at him indifferently, and said word by word, “The Vanderberg Group has also benefited a lot from the Yoder Group over the years, so the Yoder Group has never owed anything to the Vanderberg Group.”

Cosmo choked for a moment, slammed the table hard, and angrily said, “Even if the Yoder Group doesn’t owe the Vanderberg Group anything, you should still thank me!”

“I really should thank you. If it weren’t for you forcing me to get engaged to Aurora with the poison in Briana, our relationship wouldn’t have turned out this way.”

Cosmo sneered, “Are you implying that it’s my fault?”

“You could think of it that way.”

“It’s absolute nonsense! I’m telling you, if you want Briana Cameron to be fine, you better treat Aurora well. She is your fiancée now and will be your wife in the future. No matter what, I won’t let a woman like Briana Cameron become my daughter-in-law!”

Maxim looked at him coldly, “You can sever ties with me, then who I marry will have nothing to do with you.”

“You!”

Cosmo's chest heaved with anger, he gritted his teeth and said, "In your dreams! Since you refuse to save Aurora, the Vanderberg family will step in. If you dare to do anything behind our backs, I won't let Briana Cameron off the hook!"

Maxim chuckled lightly, his eyes full of mockery, "So you can only threaten me with Briana Cameron, you're not even worthy to be a father."

"When you reach my age, you will know that I was doing it for your own good."

After speaking, Cosmo turned around and left directly.

It was not until the office returned to quiet that Maxim picked up the document to continue reading, but he just couldn't concentrate no matter what.

It seemed that he had to surpass the Vanderberg Group with the Yoder Group as soon as possible. Only then could he escape the threat of Cosmo and reunite with Briana Cameron.

the Cameron family.

The day after reporting the incident, Briana Cameron received a call from Astrid.

"Briana, Aurora was released."

Briana Cameron's grip on her phone unconsciously tightened. It seemed that Maxim had indeed made a move, as she had managed to leave the police station unscathed despite the pressure from the Xie family and the Cameron family.

She lowered her gaze, speaking without any expression, "Oh, I see. Since the law can't punish her, it seems I'll have to do it myself."

There was silence for two seconds on the other end, then Astrid's somewhat panicked voice came through, "Briana, don't do anything stupid! It's not worth it for a jerk like. Aurora!"

Briana Cameron chuckled, "Don't worry, I won't do anything on a whim."

After speaking, Briana Cameron hung up the phone.

She needed to plan carefully on how to teach Aurora a lesson.

After Aurora emerged, she immediately held a grand banquet, inviting all the socialites of Haseton, deliberately excluding Briana Cameron and Astrid. The targeted implication was very clear.

Many people were disgusted by Aurora's behavior, but out of respect for the Fredrick family, they let it slide.

Briana Cameron had naturally heard about it, but she didn't care, because she was preparing a big gift for Aurora.

During dinner, Gemma watched her as she seemed to want to say something but stopped herself.

After several times, Briana Cameron put down her chopsticks and looked at her, "Mom, if you have something to say, just say it. Staring at me like this is kind of scary."

Gemma sighed and slowly said, "Briana, mom knows about what Aurora did before, and I know you've been wronged. But no matter what, you can't do anything extreme. I don't want you to become like her!"

Briana Cameron pursed her lips, taking a good while before she finally spoke, "Mom, I know what I should and shouldn't do. You don't need to persuade me."

Chapter 1077

"But..."

Briana Cameron chuckled, reassuring her, "You don't need to worry, I won't let anything happen to myself."

After speaking, Briana Cameron turned and went upstairs.

Gemma frowned at her retreating figure, still she called Thomas.

"Aurora didn't come out of the police station with any issues, but this seems to have hit Briana pretty hard. I'm afraid she might do something irreversible. You need to find a way to talk her down."

Thomas didn't pay much attention to Gemma's worries, he said, "Mom, Briana is an adult now, what she wants to do won't be influenced by our persuasion, she must have her reasons for everything she does, you should stop interfering."

Upon hearing this, Gemma immediately became angry, "Briana is your sister, how could you say such heartless words?!"

"She was my sister, but also an independent person. I believed she had a sense of propriety in her actions. Could you try to trust her too?"

Not only did Gemma not take it in, but she became even angrier, gritting her teeth and saying, "If you won't deal with it, I will!"

Furiously hanging up the phone, Gemma only felt her headache worsen. She was already troubled enough trying to persuade Briana Cameron, but she never expected that her son wouldn't understand her worries either.

Briana Cameron had just returned to her bedroom when Line suddenly rang.

Seeing the message was from Hector, a flash of surprise crossed her eyes.

"Did you have any free time tonight, would you like to go out for a walk?"

Briana Cameron stared at the message for a while. In fact, she knew about Hector's feelings for her. She had thought that he had let go over the years, but it seemed that he had not given up yet.

This bothered her a bit, as she only had friendly feelings for Hector, with no other thoughts or emotions.

Quickly, a flash of determination crossed her eyes, and she flatly refused.

He never came back, Briana Cameron felt that she had made herself very clear, he should have understood.

Early the next morning, as Briana Cameron got up, freshened up and was about to go to work, a servant approached her as soon as she came downstairs.

“The Cameron family, Mr. Baldwin was waiting for you at the door.”

Briana Cameron frowned, changed her shoes and went out.

Just as he arrived at the Cameron family’s doorstep, Hector handed over the things he was carrying.

“Here, the dumplings you like.”

Seeing the logo of “Wu Ji” on the bag, Briana Cameron was somewhat surprised, she didn’t expect him to still remember.

When she used to be Hector’s behind-the-scenes agent, she would go to buy buns from this shop every morning, sometimes bringing some for them as well. Over time, everyone knew that she liked the buns from this shop.

However, after she married Maxim, she never ate buns from this place again.

She didn’t pick up, but instead looked at Hector, who had a smile on his face, and slowly said, “Hector, I haven’t been thinking about starting a new relationship recently, so you...”

Before she could finish speaking, Hector interrupted her with a laugh, “I know, I’ve never expected you to reciprocate my feelings. I just want to be there for you when you’re upset, to make you feel less sad, that’s all.”

Upon hearing this, Briana Cameron bit her lower lip. It seemed he was always like this, always following her around. Although he didn’t have much of a presence, whenever she needed him, he would always appear before her.

“Hector, I didn’t deserve your kindness. I only lent you the villa out of pity... You didn’t need to dwell on it for all these years.”

As her words fell, silence also descended between the two.

Chapter 1078

After a good while, Hector’s gentle voice finally sounded again.

"Briana, whether out of pity or whatever, you helped me during my hardest times. Later, in Rosecliff Village, if it weren't for you, I would have been swept away by the flood. So, my feelings for you won't change. You just need to accept it, you don't have to think about repaying."

Because, he had never thought of asking her for anything in return.

Briana Cameron lowered her gaze, slowly closing her eyes, "But why should one give so recklessly, without considering the gains and losses? If you love someone, wouldn't you want to be with them?"

Hector chuckled, "Of course I do, but more than that, I wish. for your happiness."

Briana Cameron sighed, her expression somewhat helpless.

"I really couldn't understand you."

"If you can't understand, then don't think about it. Just peacefully accept everything I've done for you."

He handed her the bag of soup dumplings, smiling as he said, "Let me take you to work."

For the next few days, Hector kept appearing in front of Briana Cameron. From initial resistance to eventual acceptance, it took her less than a week.

After learning about this, Astrid couldn't help but sigh, "If I had someone who silently liked me like this, I would definitely be with him."

Briana Cameron glanced at her and said irritably, "If you had someone you liked, you wouldn't feel this way. Hector is a good man, I don't want him to waste his time on me."

"Truth be told, since things with Maxim are no longer possible, why not try being with someone else? Perhaps, once you're together, you'll find that you and Hector are a better match."

"I didn't want to take advantage of his forgetting Maxim, his love deserved respect. I wouldn't accept anyone's feelings until I completely disliked Maxim."

Astrid frowned, "You're so stubborn. Haven't I already told you, the fastest way to forget an old relationship is to start a new one?"

Briana Cameron shook her head with a smile, "No, if you truly love someone, it's impossible to start a new relationship so quickly, unless, you started flirting with someone else before the relationship ended."

"Fine, I can't argue with you, but if you're planning to start a new relationship, I think Hector would be a good fit," I said.

“Understood, let’s not talk about this anymore. How’s your collection of Aurora’s past scandals coming along?”

“She was still collecting, but she really did a lot of bad things in the past. She should be able to sort it out and send it to you tomorrow.”

Briana Cameron nodded, her eyes full of coldness, “I will definitely make her repent for what she has done!”

After they parted, Briana Cameron went straight to Graceful Attire.

As soon as she returned to the office, Elliot came to find her.

“Ms. Cameron, the company recently had a project that required a business trip to North Town, leaving tomorrow. Was that time convenient for you?”

A flash of surprise crossed Briana Cameron’s eyes, “I hadn’t heard about it before, what project?”

Elliot handed her the documents, “The company is planning to expand into North Town, but we need to do some research first. Your sensitivity to design is stronger than mine, so the company has assigned you to go with me. It’s estimated to take about a week round trip.”

Hearing this, Briana Cameron nodded, “I understand. I’ll review the materials first. If tomorrow works, you can arrange it on your end.”

“Alright, I’ll have my assistant book the flight tickets first, and then send the flight information to your mobile phone later.”

“Good.”

Turning away from Briana Cameron’s office, Elliot’s gaze became icy cold.

This time, he was determined to make sure Briana Cameron would never return!

Briana Cameron spent the day in the office reviewing North Town’s documents and left the company as soon as it was time to clock out.

Just as I got downstairs, I was stopped by someone.

Chapter 1079

After a long time apart, Mallory was pale and haggard to the extreme, a stark contrast to her previous arrogant demeanor. Briana Cameron almost didn’t recognize her.

She took two steps back, looking at Mallory with a cold expression, “Mrs. Schneider, do you need something?”

Mallory handed her a bank card, speaking guiltily, “Briana, this is all my money, including the shares of the Schneider Group that I’ve already converted into cash. It’s all in this card. I know I’ve wronged you in the past. I hope you can accept this, so I can leave Haseton with peace of mind.”

Briana Cameron's expression was icy cold, "No need, even if you gave me all the money in the world, it wouldn't make up for the harm you've done to me in the past. I don't need this money either."

What she needed was affection, something Mallory had never given her, and now she didn't need it anymore.

Mallory's face was filled with sadness, tears welling up in her eyes, "Consider this as my compensation to you, I'm not worthy to be your mother..."

Briana Cameron suppressed the irritation welling up inside. her, looking at her coldly, "Since you know, don't show up in front of me again. For me, that's the greatest kindness you can show. Don't come looking for me anymore."

After speaking, she bypassed Mallory and left directly.

Just a few steps away, Mallory's sorrowful voice came from behind.

"Briana, I'm sorry. I know it's too late to say this now, but I hope you can live each day happily and healthily in the future. Please forget about me, your wicked mother."

Briana Cameron hesitated for a moment, but still didn't look back.

Watching Briana Cameron's figure gradually fade away, Mallory's vision also became a blur.

After a long while, she finally wiped her tears and turned to walk in the opposite direction.

Just a few steps were taken when two bodyguards suddenly appeared in front.

"Madam, please come with us,"

A cold glint flashed in Mallory's eyes as she said, word by word, "It was Zane who sent you, wasn't it?"

She sold her shares in the Schneider Group to other shareholders, Zane must be very angry now.

"Mm-hmm."

She smiled, "Alright, I'll go with you."

There were some things that she should have told Zane as well.

Half an hour later, in Zane's villa.

Seeing Mallory, he could no longer suppress the anger he had been holding back for days, and he stepped forward and slapped her directly.

"You despicable person! How dare you treat me like this, do you think this will get me pulled down from the position of President of the Schneider Group?!"

Looking at Zane's angry eyes filled with hatred, Mallory couldn't help but burst into laughter.

"Anyway, the Schneider Group would have become someone else's, what I'm doing now is just helping you."

Zane became even more furious upon hearing this, and kicked her hard, "Nonsense! I would never hand over the Schneider Group to anyone else!"

"Hehe, did you really think the child in Sabina's belly was yours?"

The mocking tone of Mallory made Zane shudder involuntarily, then he gritted his teeth and said, "Of course the child in her belly is mine. During the time you were preserving the fetus, we were together in the hotel every day!"

"Hahaha, but it seems that the appraisal report didn't say so."

She pulled out a document from her bag and tossed it into Zane's lap.

"Look for yourself, see if the child in that wretch's belly is really yours!"

Zane took the report, flipped to the last page, and after reading it, disbelief flashed in his eyes. He violently threw the report at Mallory, angrily saying, "You wretch, I won't believe it, this must be a plan you came up with to get the Schneider Group!"

Mallory looked at him with a mocking expression, "If you don't believe it, that's fine. As long as you enjoy raising other people's children, I don't care. After all, I was planning to divorce you anyway."

As she spoke, Mallory handed him the divorce agreement.

"Sign it, after signing we'll go for notarization, and then we'll have absolutely no relation anymore."

Zane sneered, "I won't get a divorce!"

Mallory frowned, saying coldly, "Zane, is there any need to continue this marriage of ours that is in name only?"

"Whether it was necessary or not, I would never agree to a divorce! Don't even think about taking half of my property!"

Watching Zane's ferocious expression, Mallory couldn't help but laugh, her eyes filled with contempt and disdain.

"Take a good look at the divorce agreement," it clearly states that I won't take a single penny of your property.

Zane was stunned, disbelief filled his eyes.

"How could it be?! How could you possibly not want a single cent..."

He had always been reluctant to divorce Mallory, simply because he didn't want her to share his property. But... how could Mallory possibly not want anything and still divorce him?!

"I just wanted to set boundaries with you now, let's just pretend I was blind all these years, seeing such a scumbag like you!"

Thinking back to when she had listened to that Feng Shui master, and how she had despised Briana Cameron, giving all the good to Kiley, Mallory was filled with regret.

If she had another chance, she would never let anyone hurt. her daughter again.

After a moment of silence, Zane said coldly, "Since you want a divorce, I will have my secretary prepare the divorce agreement. I will call you over to sign it when it's ready. You can leave now!"

For some reason, the moment Zane knew that Mallory truly wanted a divorce, a wave of panic surged in his heart.

He had been married to Mallory for so many years, and although he had other women outside, he had never thought about really divorcing Mallory.

Mallory sneered, standing up and saying, "I'm going back to Bridenville in a few days, so hurry up. I don't want to have anything to do with you!"

"Understood, I was very busy, you had better leave quickly!"

Having sent Mallory away, Zane was planning to call the lawyer over. Even if they were really going to divorce, considering the many years Mallory had been with him, he would still give Mallory some money.

However, the moment he picked up his phone, thinking of the report Mallory had just given him, a glint of coldness flashed in his eyes as he dialed the private detective's number.

He was determined to find out if that child was actually his!

In the evening, the incident where Aurora used to bully her classmate, leading to the classmate's suicide, quietly made it to the trending topics.

It was not until the situation escalated that Aurora received the news.

Upon hearing the words "campus bullying", her face suddenly changed. She quickly clicked on the trending topic and saw a name that had long been sealed in her distant memory. Her hand gripping the phone tightened sharply, and her pupils unconsciously dilated.

How could it be...

This incident happened so many years ago. Her father had already settled the matter at that time. The girl was ultimately ruled to have committed suicide by jumping off a building. due to severe mental stress. How could it possibly be dug up by anyone!

She was all flustered inside, the feeling of her classmates whispering about her once again surfaced in her mind, causing her to tremble involuntarily. She quickly dialed Benjamin's number, Aurora had already started to babble, "Dad... that thing... you have to save me... that thing from before... someone has dug it up!"

Benjamin was in a meeting, he frowned upon hearing the news, "Whatever it is, wait until after my meeting!"
