

Fall for You 111

Chapter 111

"You will understand when you grow up a little more."

"Okay."

As they were chatting, Jaxon stormed into the kitchen with a stern face, "How is the meal coming along?! All you do is chat, the pot is about to burn dry!"

Briana knew that Jaxon was deliberately picking on her just because he didn't like her. She smiled helplessly, thinking that the older the master, the more childish he became.

However, such relaxed days, I don't know how much longer they can last.

In the end, the master had to return to Butterwolf. Perhaps when Hailey is capable of handling things on her own, he will return to Butterwolf.

Seeing the two people cooking rice earnestly, Jaxon nodded in satisfaction and left with his hands behind his back.

After his figure disappeared behind the kitchen door, Briana and Hailey exchanged glances and couldn't help but laugh.

From the next day on, Jaxon would pass on the patients who came for home visits to Briana and Wyatt, claiming to see if their medical skills had deteriorated over the years, but in reality, he just wanted to slack off.

The two of them saw hundreds of patients every day. Hailey would be by their side, dispensing medication according to the prescriptions they wrote. The day before they had to leave, Jaxon finally allowed them to take a break.

After reading the diagnosis records and prescriptions of the two individuals, Jaxon couldn't help but nod in satisfaction, "Very good, what I learned before has finally not been wasted."

"Master, did you see so many patients every day in these past few years?"

She remembered that Jaxon had set a rule before, to only see twenty patients per day, so the people who came to see Jaxon for medical treatment had to wait for a year.

Jaxon touched his beard and said with a smile, "No, the patients you have been seeing these past few days are the workload for the next two months for me. Once you finish helping me, I will be able to take a two-month vacation."

"Master, is it really okay for you to do this?"

The outside world used to spread rumors that Jaxon, the Magic Healer, had a bad temper and would refuse to see patients if he was not in a good mood. If others knew that Jaxon was actually a funny old man, they would definitely be surprised.

Thinking about being able to rest every day for the next two months, Jaxon smiled and said, "Of course, if you come to visit me every two months, I can retire."

Briana and Wyatt exchanged glances and couldn't help but laugh

"If we came back to see you once every two months, you would feel annoyed again."

Jaxon nodded in agreement, "Indeed, alright, you guys go pack up, we have to hit the road early tomorrow morning."

When Briana was tidying up her clothes, Hailey came over holding a brocade box and said, "Briana, this is from grandpa for you."

She took the brocade box and opened it, inside was a snow lotus plant. However, this snow lotus was not white, but red, as bright as blood.

"Briana, Grandpa said that this is the only remaining snow lotus plant. you have grown. In the future, if you encounter an emergency, you must come back to him and not take matters into your own hands by secretly planting snow lotus!"

Seeing Hailey's serious expression, Briana nodded and said, "I understand."

"Well, then I won't delay you from tidying up."

After Hailey left, Briana carefully collected the snow lotus, and a big stone in her heart finally fell. With this snow lotus, Maxim's leg could be saved.

In the evening, Jaxon personally cooked a table full of dishes for Briana and Wyatt to enjoy, and he also brought out the wine he had been keeping for many years.

Briana and Wyatt accompanied Jaxon for a few drinks, and Jaxon then made an excuse of being too drunk and left.

Hailey's eyes were also a little red as she looked at Briana and Wyatt and said, "Actually, Grandpa couldn't bear to be without you. Even though he didn't say it out loud these past few days, I know he was very happy when you came back."

Briana and Wyatt also felt a bit reluctant, after all, they had been living here for several years too, and Jaxon had become like family to them.

But even if reluctant, in the end, one still has to leave.

The next morning, when Briana and Wyatt left, Jaxon did not come out to see them off.

Briana and Wyatt walked up to his door, and the two of them knocked on Jaxon's door a few times before they stood up and left.

On the way back to Faywick, both of them felt a bit heavy-hearted and remained silent without speaking.

When they arrived at Faywick Airport, Briana and Wyatt had just gotten off the car when they were stopped by several men in black.

"Ms. Schneider, Mr. Waylon, please come with us."

Chapter 112

Briana frowned and coldly asked, "Who are you, and why should we go with you?"

"Ms. Schneider, our boss was Mr. Yoder."

"Maxim?"

"Yes."

Briana's eyes flickered with surprise, "Did he come to Faywick?"

"Well, Mr. Yoder ordered that he must take you to see him. Hopefully, Ms. Schneider won't give us a hard time."

After hesitating for a few seconds, Briana nodded and said, "I can go with you, but we need to consult Dr. Waylon for his opinion."

As soon as the words fell, Wyatt spoke up, "Ms. Schneider, I will go with you."

"Okay."

The two of them followed a few people onto the car, and approximately half an hour later, the car stopped in front of the largest hotel in Faywick.

After bringing Briana and Wyatt to the door of the president's suite on the top floor, several men in black left.

Briana knocked on the door and waited for a while, then the door opened.

Ryan saw Briana and Wyatt, without any surprise in his eyes, "Ms.

Schneider, the president is waiting for you inside."

Briana and Wyatt entered the room, and Ryan stopped Wyatt, saying, "Mr. Waylon, the CEO only wants to see Ms. Schneider alone."

Wyatt looked at Briana with some concern, but she reassured him with a comforting smile, "Dr. Waylon, you don't have to worry about me."

After speaking, she looked at Ryan and said, "Dr. Waylon has a bad stomach and still hasn't had lunch. Could you please have someone bring some food over?"

Ryan nodded, "Okay."

Briana pushed open the door and entered the room. Maxim was sitting behind the desk, looking at some documents. He looked up when he heard the door open.

The moment he saw Briana, a coldness flashed in his eyes. He put down the files in his hand and said coldly, "Briana, you have become bolder. How dare you disappear for a week, leaving my subordinates behind!"

Briana walked over and sat across from him, "Mr. Yoder, I thought we had reached an agreement to mind our own business."

Maxim sneered, "I never said such words!"

Briana nodded and said calmly, "I left this week to find medicinal herbs that can treat your leg."

"What is your relationship with that man outside, and why do you need to be with him to find medicinal herbs?!"

"He is Dr. Moon who prescribed medicine for your leg three years ago, so this time when I came to look for medicinal herbs, I asked him to come with me."

Maxim still had some doubts in his eyes, "Really?"

"Of course, if you don't believe me, you can call him in and ask."

On the way, Briana informed Wyatt through messages to impersonate herself, otherwise it would be easy for Maxim to see through the deception with other explanations.

Maxim looked at her coldly and said, "How do I know if you all conspired to deceive me?!"

Briana frowned and said, "If you don't believe me, he will treat your leg for the next month, and the truth will be revealed then!"

Maxim fell silent for a moment and said coldly, "Alright, I'll temporarily believe you, but if you dare to deceive me!"

Seeing the threat in his eyes, Briana smiled and said, "What benefit do I have in deceiving you? I just want to help you heal your leg so that we can get divorced as soon as possible."

Maxim's gaze instantly turned icy, "So you want a divorce?!"

"Mr. Yoder, don't you want to?!"

Maxim did not speak, but his aura was suppressed to the extreme.

"If there's nothing else, I'll head out first. We still need to rush back to Bridenville today."

"I have already asked Rayan to cancel your plane tickets. We will return together tomorrow."

Chapter 113

Maxim's decision was final, and even though Briana protested, it was of no use. Briana simply nodded and said, "Alright, so where will Dr. Waylon and I be staying tonight?"

"Later, Rayan will give him a separate room, as for you, you will stay with me."

“Okay, then I went out first.”

After Briana left, Maxim made a phone call and coldly said, “Find out where they have been these past few days, according to the direction Briana and Wyatt came from!”

Maxim only believed half of what Briana said.

She purposefully distanced herself from Wyatt, how could he possibly believe that what Briana said was so simple? She must have something else hidden from him!

In the evening, after dinner, Briana had planned to go out for a walk. However, she did not expect Maxim to suddenly suggest that Wyatt give him a special treatment.

Briana knew that he was still doubtful, but she didn’t refuse. She immediately called Wyatt.

Soon, Wyatt came up with the toolkit.

“Mr. Yoder, the first special treatment may be more painful than three years ago. If you can’t bear it, please let me know at any time.”

“Good job, Dr. Waylon.”

Wyatt had Rayan lay Maxim flat on the bed and instructed Briana to step aside. After that, Wyatt had Rayan undress Maxim, removing his clothes and pants, and then began administering the injection.

Wyatt would ask Maxim if he had any pain every time he didn’t get pricked.

Until he hit a point behind his calf, Maxim’s face suddenly changed and sweat started to bead on his forehead.

“Mr. Yoder, from now on, the pain will increase and if you can’t bear it, you must tell me.”

Wyatt continued to administer the injection, and Maxim’s expression also became increasingly grim.

Until the last injection was administered, Maxim was covered in sweat.

A hint of admiration flickered in Wyatt’s eyes. He hadn’t expected Maxim to be able to endure and persist through such pain, most people would have given up after the first injection.

“Mr. Yoder, I will come to pick up the needle in half an hour.”

Maxim was in so much pain that he could hardly speak. He could only manage a “uh” from his throat, as the pain in his legs seemed to instantly amplify tenfold.

Half an hour later, when Wyatt removed the needle, Maxim’s face had turned pale as paper.

“Mr. Yoder, you can try to get out of bed and walk a little later. You should be able to take a few steps now, but your legs will be much more painful than when you received the injection before.”

Maxim nodded and said, “Alright, please ask Dr. Waylon to bring Briana in for me.”

When Briana came in, Rayan had already helped Maxim put on his clothes.

Seeing Briana, Maxim reached out his hand and said, "Help me up."

Briana stepped forward and helped him up, with Maxim almost putting half of his body weight on her.

"Dr. Waylon just said that I should be able to take a few steps."

With Briana's support, Maxim took his first step slowly. However, the pain in his legs made him break out in a cold sweat instantly, and he couldn't help but let out a groan.

The two of them were tightly pressed together, and Briana could feel his entire body trembling slightly, with his muscles tensed to the extreme!

Briana frowned and said, "Mr. Yoder, why don't we wait until after the three injections before attempting to walk? The pain will be much less by then."

Maxim shook his head and said, "No need."

With Briana's help, Maxim took a few steps forward, and suddenly the pain in his legs disappeared. He lost all sensation and his body fell straight to the ground.

Briana quickly grabbed him and moved him back onto the bed.

"Mr. Yoder, I went to fetch some water to wipe your body."

She was about to get up and walk towards the bathroom when her wrist was grabbed by Maxim.

"Briana, how long did it take for my leg to heal?"

Chapter 114

A hint of surprise flashed in Briana's eyes. "At least three months, it mainly depends on the effectiveness of the later rehabilitation."

Maxim nodded and said, "I understood."

"Why would you suddenly ask this? Do you want to get better quickly?"

"No, just ask."

Briana didn't speak anymore and went to the bathroom to get some water to wipe Maxim's body. Due to the previous experience, Briana appeared calm this time.

After finishing, Briana looked at Maxim and said, "Mr. Yoder, I will be sleeping next door tonight. If you need anything, just give me a call."

Upon hearing this, Maxim's face immediately turned extremely ugly, and his eyes grew cold.

"Briana, I was still your husband! And now I was partially paralyzed, and you just let me sleep in a separate room?!"

Briana frowned and said, "I remember you were able to bathe and use the restroom by yourself when you were in the hospital before."

"Before was before, you refused to go to the hospital to take care of me, did I have any other choice besides taking care of myself?!"

Briana pursed her lips in response to Maxim's cold gaze.

"Okay, I got it. I stayed here tonight."

I saw her go to the second bedroom and bring the blanket over, laying it on the floor. Maxim didn't say anything, his face remained cold.

Briana made her bed and was about to turn off the lights to go to sleep when her phone suddenly rang.

Seeing Mallory, a hint of surprise flashed in her eyes. After all, Mallory had never called her before.

Without any hesitation, Briana hung up the phone.

Mallory kept bothering Briana, so she got annoyed and decided to block her. Finally, she had some peace and quiet.

Soon, Kiley sent a message.

"Briana, why did you block your mom? Do you know that the things you did before are now known by netizens? Today, when mom went out for socializing, she was criticized by many wealthy ladies from Bridenville, which almost made her faint from anger!"

"If you saw the message, Briana, you quickly called mom!"

Briana squinted her eyes, opened Twitter, and was startled to see a trending topic.

"Miss Briana Schneider of the Schneider family hit someone.

"Briana's Affair"

Briana clicked on the first trending topic and saw her own video of her last time fighting Adeline in the mall.

The second hot search is a disclosure from an entertainment influencer, claiming that she stole Kiley's boyfriend and deliberately showed affection in front of Kiley to disgust her.

A coldness flashed in Briana's eyes. She was not a person from the entertainment industry, and if it wasn't bought, it would never have made it to the trending topics.

After a few seconds of silence, she dialed Melody's number directly.

"Go and find out what's going on with those two trending topics on Twitter for me. It's probably Adeline's doing!"

Soon, Melody's phone rang back.

"It has been found out that Adeline somehow obtained the role of Female Supporting Character 4 in 'My Timeless and Endless Love'. Today is the press conference for 'My Timeless and Endless Love', and she took advantage of the opportunity to ride the hot search by claiming that she had a similar experience with the current actress playing Female Supporting Character 4. Therefore, she is confident in portraying this role well!"

"Under the journalist's questioning, she revealed the incident of you hitting her in the mall and portrayed herself as a righteous girl who stood up for her friend. She claimed that you stole her best friend's boyfriend and even bribed a popular entertainment influencer to create a fake scandal!"

"I definitely wanted to tear her apart, this green tea!"

A hint of surprise flashed in Briana's eyes as she spoke, "Did she star in 'My Timeless and Endless Love'?"

Melody was a bit speechless. "Is this the main point? She accused you of interfering with Kiley and Maxim. How do you plan to fight back?"

Chapter 115

After a few seconds of silence, Briana slowly said, "Call the police directly."

"Okay, I will arrange it right away."

Hanging up the phone, Briana noticed that Maxim was looking at her strangely and turned to him, saying, "Mr. Yoder, do you need something?"

Maxim turned her phone screen towards her, a hint of a smile playing at the corners of his mouth. "I didn't realize you used to like me so much, always sneaking glances at me from behind?"

The scene in the photos on his phone was of Briana secretly gazing at his back, with an undeniable love in her eyes. She felt completely devastated.

Although the entertainment influencer's revelations were all fake, the photos posted online were all real. Briana could even match each photo with its location and time, but she didn't know that someone had secretly taken the photos at that time.

She pursed her lips and said calmly, "When I was young, I used to do some foolish things, but not anymore."

At the mention, Maxim's smile turned icy, and he stared into Briana's eyes, saying, "You really don't like me at all anymore?"

"Mr. Yoder, you should have been clear about the answer."

She liked him for these years, always closely following his footsteps from behind, but he never turned back.

She was tired and wanted to give up, but he didn't want her to leave. Briana felt puzzled.

After a long silence, Maxim finally spoke, "Do you need me to handle the online matter?"

Briana shook her head, "No need, I don't mind, and this matter will be resolved soon."

A hint of imperceptible disappointment flickered in Maxim's eyes, and his voice lowered slightly, "I am your husband, and sometimes you can try to rely on me."

Briana frowned and said with some displeasure, "I said I don't need it, Mr. Yoder. I don't want to have anything to do with you, nor do I want to owe you anything. I'm tired, let me sleep!"

After finishing speaking, she didn't care about Maxim's attitude and directly turned off the light, lying down on the floor to sleep.

A good night's sleep.

The next morning, while Briana was squeezing toothpaste for Maxim, Zane's phone call came.

Briana sneered and it seemed like she wouldn't answer the phone. They wouldn't give up easily.

She walked to the balcony and just as she connected, she heard Zane's displeased voice from the other side, "Briana, you saw those online messages, right? This issue has caused a big uproar and it has already affected the Schneider Group's stock price. You should apologize!"

Briana smiled and raised an eyebrow, saying, "Why should I apologize?"

Did she interfere in Kiley and Maxim's relationship, outsiders are not sure, but do he and Mallory also not know?!

"I know you feel wronged, but now the netizens are agitated, and this matter has already affected the Schneider Group. Just consider it for the Schneider Group, apologize and in the future, Dad will compensate you, okay?"

The temperature in Briana's eyes cooled down inch by inch. Faced with such a situation, instead of clarifying, she thought about apologizing herself.

Did he know that apologizing would confirm the rumors that she was the mistress?

"I have absolutely no connection with the Schneider Group, why should I compromise myself for the Schneider Group? Besides, I am not at fault, I will not apologize!"

As soon as the words fell, there was a rustling sound from the other end of the phone. The next second, Mallory's angry voice came through.

"Briana, you finally revealed your inner thoughts. Let me tell you, don't even think about getting involved with the Schneider Group. From now on, the Schneider Group belongs solely to Kiley!"

Even though Briana had long known about Mallory's favoritism, at this moment, she couldn't help but feel a chill in her heart.

"Since that's the case, then let Kiley explain it clearly. I never did anything to ruin her and Maxim, so why should I call her?"

“You!”

Mallory seemed to be annoyed, and her breathing became slightly heavy

“This mess was caused by you. Why should Kiley clean it up for you? Let me tell you, if you don’t apologize, I will consider you as if I don’t have a daughter!”

Briana chuckled and said, “I won’t go, you can give up on that idea!”

Chapter 116

“Briana, you were such a troublemaker! I should have strangled you back then...”

Briana hung up the phone directly, her hand holding the phone trembling slightly.

Although it was still the end of summer, she already felt cold.

“Have your parents always treated you like this, calling and shouting at you all the time?!” Sitting in a wheelchair, it seemed like he had been listening for a while.

Briana calmly put away her phone and did not answer Maxim’s question.

“Mr. Yoder, I will go freshen up first and then take you to have breakfast later.”

As I passed by Maxim, he directly grabbed my wrist.

“Briana, answer me!”

Briana frowned and shook off Maxim’s hand, coldly saying, “What does it have to do with you?”

“I was your husband!”

As soon as the words fell, Briana looked at him with a mocking expression on her face, “Mr. Yoder, I have been ignored by the Schneider family, didn’t you already know about it? Why pretend to be shocked now?”

Maxim’s face stiffened, but Briana ignored him and walked away without a word.

After finishing washing up, Maxim still maintained the same posture as before, with his head hanging down, lost in thought.

However, Briana didn’t mind.

She walked up behind Maxim and whispered, “Mr. Yoder, I pushed you to have breakfast.”

The two of them arrived at the restaurant, and as soon as they walked in. Wyatt saw them.

He waved to Briana, “Teacher... Ms. Schneider, let’s eat together!”

Briana looked at Maxim and, seeing no reaction from him, she pushed Maxim to sit opposite Wyatt.

“Mr. Yoder, what did you want to eat?”

“Whatever!”

Maxim's voice was cold, and Briana didn't say anything else. She turned around and went straight to get breakfast.

During breakfast, Maxim had a cold face and didn't speak. Briana and Wyatt pretended to be unfamiliar with each other and only occasionally exchanged a few casual words.

After several people finished breakfast, Briana was about to leave with Maxim when Wyatt suddenly spoke up, "Mr. Yoder, I want to know, when are we going back to Bridenville?"

"The plane was at three o'clock in the afternoon."

Back on the top floor, Briana pushed Maxim into the study and turned

Just as I took a few steps, I heard Maxim's apologetic voice coming from behind.

"Briana, I apologize for ignoring you in the past."

Briana's footsteps paused for a moment, then she lowered her gaze and said, "You don't need to apologize, I stopped caring a long time ago."

Watching her fragile figure, Maxim wanted to say something, but his throat felt dry, so he could only watch her leave.

Back in the bedroom, Briana had barely finished tidying up when she received a call from Adeline.

"Briana, you bitch, was it you who called the police to arrest me?!"

Adeline had just finished her makeup and was getting ready to shoot a movie when suddenly two police officers came to find her and took her directly to the police station.

Briana looked indifferent and asked, "Did Kiley tell you my phone number?"

Adeline's face turned pale with anger as she gritted her teeth and said, "I asked you if it was you who reported me to the police!"

When she was taken away just now, the astonishment in the eyes of those staff members and actors made her feel humiliated. She will not easily let Briana off!

Briana smiled and said, "So you can spread rumors online, but I'm not allowed to call the police?"

"Why are those online rumors always spreading? You didn't hit me, you didn't interfere with Kiley and Maxim's relationship?!"

Briana found Adeline's anger amusing.

"Say whatever you want, but I advise you to obediently cooperate with the police investigation. Also, don't call me again."

Chapter 117

As soon as Briana finished speaking, Adeline heard a beep from her phone, and when she called back, they were already in the middle of a conversation!

Adeline tightly held onto her phone, her newly done nails already showing signs of slight deformation, but she seemed to feel no pain at all.

This bastard!

Dare to oppose her!

She dialed Natalia's phone directly and choked as she spoke, "Mom, Briana bullied me! You must seek justice for me!"

The Ponce family, a prominent family in Bridenville, wasted no time after hearing Adeline's words and Natalia went straight to find Mallory.

Knowing that Briana had reported the incident online, Mallory turned pale with anger and felt embarrassed at the same time.

"What a disgrace! She actually did something so embarrassing, I will definitely not let her get away with it!"

Natalia's face was filled with coldness as she stared at Mallory and said, "If this matter affects Adeline's future, I will definitely not let it go just like that!"

Mallory quickly assured, "Mrs. Ponce, I will definitely give Adeline an explanation about this matter!"

"Then I will wait for your good news, Mrs. Schneider!"

After Natalia left, Mallory immediately called Kiley over and coldly said, "Kiley, you go and contact Briana right away, tell her to come back!"

Kiley also learned from Adeline about Briana calling the police, and quickly comforted Mallory for a few moments. Then, pretending to be sad, she said, "Mom, it's not that I don't want to contact Briana, it's that she blocked me too..."

Upon hearing this, Mallory trembled with anger and gritted her teeth, saying, "That wretched person! This time, I will definitely not let her go!"

Briana and her group returned to Bridenville, and it was already past ten o'clock at night.

Just after getting off the plane, Briana saw more than a dozen missed calls, including ones from Zane, Lacey, and Desmond.

She unconsciously raised an eyebrow, indicating that the Schneider family was now furious, otherwise Lacey and Desmond wouldn't have contacted her.

However, she was very tired now and had no interest in dealing with them.

Together with Rayan, they saw Maxim off on the car. Briana said lightly, "Mr. Yoder, I'll go straight back to the villa in the north of the city."

Maxim's eyes grew colder for a moment. "Get in the car, I'll take you."

"No need, we were not going in the same direction."

"Briana, believe it or not, I could make it so you couldn't catch a cab!"

Briana frowned, "Maxim, you were too bossy!"

"Either get on the car or walk back by yourself, it's your choice!"

After a few seconds of hesitation, Briana finally opened the car door and got in.

Because she was well aware, Maxim really would make her go back.

The car drove towards Glamor Villa, and upon reaching the entrance of the villa, Maxim turned his head to look at Briana, who had no intention of getting out of the car.

"Take me back home."

Briana: "Isn't Rayan here? Just have Rayan take you in, I have something to do and need to go back."

"Briana, don't make me angry."

Briana couldn't stand his bad temper anymore, so she pushed open the car door and walked away quickly.

Maxim's voice came from behind, sounding a bit frustrated, "Briana, stop right there!"

Ignoring Briana's words, she walked up to the entrance of Glamor Villa and hailed a car to leave.

Just as I had returned to the villa in the northern part of the city, the doorbell suddenly rang.

Seeing that it was Maxim outside, a hint of impatience flashed in her eyes, and she had no intention of opening the door.

The next second, as if knowing what she was thinking, Maxim coldly said, "Briana, open the door. I know you're inside. If you don't open the door, I'll have to find a locksmith to open it!"

Briana's face turned pale with anger, and her grip on the water cup tightened unconsciously. How could this man be so shameless!

With a loud "bang," she placed the water cup on the table, turned around, walked towards the door, and coldly said, "Maxim, what exactly do you want to do?!"

Maxim glanced at her and said indifferently. "I don't want to do anything, I just plan to move in and live with you."

Chapter 118

Briana frowned and, not knowing what she had thought of, a smile suddenly appeared at the corner of her mouth.

"Mr. Yoder, living in Hector's villa, didn't you feel awkward?"

Maxim's eyes grew colder for a moment, and just as Briana thought he was about to get angry and leave, Maxim suddenly spoke up. "Since he's willing to lend you the villa and knows that we're married, I suppose he won't say anything about having one more person."

Briana: "."

She gritted her teeth and said coldly, "But I don't want to live with you!"

"Briana, I wouldn't leave. Arrange a room for me or come back with me! Don't forget, I am now partially paralyzed and you can't escape the responsibility!"

After a long silence, Briana finally gave in.

"Okay, I went back with you."

She didn't want Maxim to stay here, in case they would continue to be entangled after he found out the truth.

After tossing and turning all night, Briana returned to Glamor Villa and took a shower before going to sleep in the guest bedroom. This time, Maxim didn't insist on her staying in the same room as him. After all, she had already come back, and a few days wouldn't make much difference.

The next morning, Briana arrived at the entrance of MY Corporation and saw Mallory and Kiley waiting there.

Seeing her, the anger in Mallory's eyes seemed to have found a place to vent. She walked quickly towards Briana, raising her hand to hit her.

"Briana! Withdraw the lawsuit immediately! You have brought shame upon the Schneider family's reputation!"

Briana took a step back to dodge Mallory's slap, which made Mallory even angrier.

"Are you still hiding?"

Briana looked indifferent and said, "Why didn't I dare?"

“I was your mother! I taught you a lesson that was absolutely necessary!”

Kiley on the side also chimed in, “Briana, Mom didn’t sleep all night because of your situation. She cried several times. You shouldn’t be stubborn with Mom. Withdraw the lawsuit, okay? Do you want to just watch Mom lose face and apologize to the Ponce family?!”

Briana smiled and said, “Adeline slandered me online. Instead of going after the real culprit, you come to me, the victim, and ask me to withdraw the lawsuit. Don’t you find it ridiculous?”

As soon as the words fell, Mallory’s sharp voice rang out.

“Briana, if you were not at fault, how could Ms. Ponce post those things online?! Let me tell you, if you don’t withdraw the lawsuit, I will consider you as if I don’t have a daughter!”

Briana nodded and said slowly, “I did make a mistake!”

Mallory’s eyes flickered with surprise, seemingly not expecting her to change so quickly, but then she coldly snorted, “It’s good that you know! As long as you are willing to apologize, I won’t pursue this matter!”

“Mrs. Schneider, I hadn’t finished speaking yet. My mistake was returning to the Schneider family when I was sixteen years old. I thought you had found me to compensate me, but I didn’t expect it was to donate bone marrow for Kiley!”

The faces of the two people across from each other changed. Mallory gritted her teeth and said, “You are Kiley’s sister, it is only right to save her!”

“I hadn’t finished speaking yet, Mrs. Schneider, you don’t need to be so eager to refute.”

Mallory coldly looked at her, she wanted to see what else Briana could say!

“I was wrong to have any illusions about you and Zane, about the Schneider family. I had hoped to maintain a last shred of peace, but it seems impossible now.”

During the three years when Kiley was abroad, every time Mallory had a headache or fever, it was Kiley who ran around and took her to see a doctor.

She used to think that one day Mallory would see her true heart, but now she realizes that no matter how hard she tries for another three years, she can’t compete with Kiley’s sweet words.

Sensing the wrong tone in Briana’s voice, Mallory’s anger intensified. “Briana, are you determined not to apologize?!”

A hint of mockery flashed in Briana’s eyes as she looked up at Mallory and said, “I won’t apologize, and I won’t come back to the Schneider family in the future. Since we don’t have a mother–daughter bond, let’s not bother each other anymore.”

After speaking, Briana turned around and was about to leave.

Mallory lost her temper and yelled at Briana, "If I had known you would turn out like this, I should have strangled you back then!"

Chapter 119

Briana did not turn back, not even stopping her footsteps.

Kiley supported Mallory and comforted her with a sad expression, "Mom, don't be angry. Your health has always been poor, and Briana's words were just a momentary outburst. They shouldn't be taken seriously."

Mallory angrily said, "No matter if she is sincere or not! I will never acknowledge her in the future! Kiley, you will be my only daughter from now on!"

Kiley felt proud in her heart, but she put on a troubled expression on her face. "Mom, don't say angry words. I'll take you back first, as for the Ponce family's matter, I'll think of a solution."

Mallory wearily patted her hand and said, "Kiley, you've worked hard!"

Kiley shook her head and said, "It's not hard. As long as our family can be together happily, I am content."

Mallory didn't say it out loud, but she was even more dissatisfied with Briana in her heart.

Indeed, it was thoughtful to have been raised by my side since childhood!

After Mallory was dropped off at the Hsu's house, Kiley called Natalia

"Mrs. Ponce, I have something I want to talk to you about. Are you available now?"

In the evening, Briana had just finished work and walked out of MY Corporation when suddenly a figure darted out from the side and splashed a bucket of water on her.

Briana's face turned pale and she quickly dodged away.

The things in the bucket were spilled on the ground, and the red paint was terrifyingly reminiscent of blood. If that paint were to be spilled on her, who knows what consequences it would have caused.

The person saw that he didn't splash Briana, so he dropped the bucket and ran away.

Soon, a person riding a motorcycle came over to pick up. After the person got on the motorcycle, they turned back and made a provocative gesture towards Briana before quickly disappearing into the traffic.

Briana smiled and took out her phone to make a call.

"Find out who instructed the two individuals to pour paint downstairs at MY Corporation today."

An hour later, Briana smiled and dialed the emergency hotline.

The police were very efficient. While Briana was still taking notes, Natalia was already taken to the police station.

She saw Briana at a glance and immediately lost her mind, rushing towards her. “Briana, how dare you call the police on me! Just wait! I will make sure my husband ends the cooperation with the Schneider family!”

Briana, of course, did not let her get away with it and immediately grabbed her hair and slapped her.

The sound of a pig-like scream echoed in the police station, and the police quickly stepped forward to separate the two individuals.

Natalia stared at her with a pale face and coldly said, “Briana, you can just wait to regret it!”

Briana glanced at her indifferently and said, “Regret what? Regret not giving you a couple of slaps just now?”

“You!”

Natalia pointed at her, anger filling her eyes, “You wait!”

After Briana finished taking notes and signing her name, she ignored her and walked out of the police station.

The news of her reporting and catching Natalia quickly spread, causing a lot of discussion within the upper-class circles of Bridenville.

When Mallory went to play cards, they were sarcastically teased by their card-playing friends.

“Mrs. Schneider, you still have the mood to play cards! We dare not play with you anymore, in case one day your daughter also reports us to the police and gets us arrested!”

Mallory’s face stiffened, and she forced a smile. “That incident was just a misunderstanding. I have already asked Briana to apologize, and I believe Ms. Ponce will come out soon.”

As soon as the words fell, the other person stared at her with a strange expression on their face.

“Don’t you know that Briana called the police again today and caught -Mrs. Ponce? Your daughter is quite ruthless, daring to offend even the Ponce family!”

Chapter 120

After all, the Ponce family has always been cunning and unscrupulous in their business dealings, so even though the Ponce family is only of average level in Bridenville, there are not many companies that dare to offend them.

“Don’t you even consider who she married? Just with the name Maxim, she can walk around Bridenville with pride. Let’s be careful with our words from now on, so as not to invite trouble upon ourselves.”

“Hehe, Mrs. Schneider, your expression suggests that you are unaware of Mrs. Ponce being taken away by the police, right? It was just over half an hour ago when the police came, and we were still playing cards with her!”

Mallory's face turned pale, and it took a while before she fumbled for her phone and dialed Zane's number.

"Zane, she... Briana..."

Before the words were finished, Zane coldly interrupted, "Shut up, I am busy right now, you immediately tell Briana to go home!"

Listening to the busy tone on the phone, Mallory's anger surged up again.

In the morning, she refused to apologize and even cut off ties with her. Now, she has called the police and had Adeline's mother arrested. Briana is really going too far!

Back at the villa, Briana and Maxim had dinner, and Wyatt came over to treat Maxim.

After the treatment ended, Briana escorted Wyatt out.

Walking up to the entrance of the villa, Wyatt changed his serious expression in front of Maxim and looked at Briana with a half-smile, asking, "Briana, how was my acting?"

He was referring to the fact that he pretended to be unfamiliar with Briana in front of Maxim.

Briana nodded and said seriously, "Wyatt, if your medical skills are as good as your acting, you will definitely be unbeatable."

Wyatt:

He glared at Briana, pretending to be angry, and threatened, "Don't forget, you still need my help now. If you make me angry, I'll quit..."

Before he could say the words "I'm leaving," he was shocked to see what Briana had taken out.

"Myriad Poison Pill! How could you have this thing!"

Briana raised an eyebrow, "Before leaving, the master asked Hailey to give it to me."

Wyatt immediately pounded his chest and stomped his feet, "The master is too biased!"

Briana glanced at him coldly and ruthlessly exposed him, "Don't think I don't know. Master had Hailey bring you a lot of medical books."

Wyatt's expression froze instantly, he sneered and said, "Boring, why are you waving this Myriad Poison Pill in front of me?"

"This was the reward for helping to treat Maxim's leg."

Wyatt looked incredulous, "Really?!"

"You didn't have to give up."

Wyatt quickly dodged the detox pill from her hand and looked at her with a smile, "Yes, I need this! So, I'll take it!"

“Do you still want to quit now?”

Wyatt shook his head and said seriously, “What are you talking about? A doctor with a kind heart would never abandon a patient. If Mr. Yoder doesn’t improve for a day, I will persist in coming to give him special treatment!”

Seeing him looking so serious, Briana couldn’t help but smile and said, “Alright, it’s getting late now, you should go back.”

“Alright, see you tomorrow!”

Briana returned to the bedroom and saw Maxim leaning on crutches, struggling to walk forward. With each step, cold sweat would appear on his face, which also turned red from the effort.

She hurriedly went forward to support him, and spoke with some dissatisfaction, “Didn’t I tell you? Give me some special treatment a few more times before slowly starting the reconstruction. This way, the pain will be greatly reduced!”

Maxim let her help him onto the bed and whispered, “I thought you would want me to recover quickly so that you could divorce me.”

Briana paused for a moment as she covered him with a blanket. “I did hope for you to get better sooner, but I also don’t want to rush things. Your leg is more severe now compared to three years ago, and it will take longer to recover.”
