

Fall for You 31

Chapter 31

Kiley looked at Kendra. She opened and shut his mouth. Finally, she said hesitantly, "Mrs. Yoder... Actually, there is one thing. It's about my sister. I don't know if I should tell you."

"What's it? Just tell me!"

"Well, a few days ago, Briana went to a club and got some men to amuse her. And someone had seen it. On the day of my grandpa's birthday, the surveillance video was even played on the big screen... And most people in the upper class of Bridenville saw it..."

Kendra's eyes flashed with anger and disbelief, "How dare she do this?"

Kiley nodded and said sadly, "I don't know why Briana did this. Maxim talked about their marriage in public in order to protect her."

Kendra looked angry. She had disliked Briana, and now she even learned that Briana had cheated on Maxim.

"Kiley, I have something to deal with. I won't be able to go shopping with you. When you have time, come to visit me again."

"No problem, Mrs. Yoder. But you mustn't tell anyone that I told you about it, or my sister will think I speak ill of her behind her back."

Kendra shook her hand, nodded, and said, "Kiley, don't worry. I won't tell anyone."

When Kiley saw Kendra leave hurriedly with an anxious look, there was a satisfying smile on her face.

As soon as Briana got the dress and walked out of the mall, she received a call from Maxim.

His voice was cold and his tone was even colder, "Where are you?"

"At the entrance of Rocklin Mall. What's it?"

"Wait for me there. I'll be there in half an hour."

Just as Briana intended to ask him why, Maxim had already hung up.

In less than half an hour, Maxim stopped his car in front of Briana.

Noticing that Maxim drove the car, Briana put the dress on the back row. She pulled the car door of the passenger seat and sat at it.

"Why did you come to see me in such a hurry? What's it?"

There was only coldness in Maxim's eyes. As he drove the car, he said, "To deal with the mess left by you and your bastards."

Briana frowned, "What do you mean?"

"You will know when we get there."

As Maxim drove to the gate of the Yoder's house, Briana finally knew what he had meant.

Thinking that she had met Kiley and Kendra in Rocklin Mall, Briana realized that the Yoder family learned about the matter of her in the club so soon. Briana couldn't help but smile coldly.

When they walked into the living room, Briana saw Kendra sitting on the sofa with a cold face.

Seeing Briana, Kendra was even angrier as her eyes became much colder. She wished she could slap Briana in the face!

What a bitch!

"Maxim, I heard that Briana had gone to a club and spent time with some strangers. Is that true?"

Maxim looked cold, "Who spread those rumors to you?"

Kendra slammed the teacup on the table with anger all over her face. "Does it matter who told me? What matters is whether it is true or not!"

Just as Maxim wanted to deny it, behind his back, Briana said, "It's true. You didn't ask us to be here to confirm this, did you?"

Before Briana and Maxim came, Kendra had investigated the matter and watched the surveillance video. She couldn't be angrier.

She looked at Briana coldly and said in disgust, "You are quite honest to admit it. I indeed asked you to be here for another thing today!"

Briana looked at Kendra calmly. She wanted to know what Kendra would say next.

"Briana, you didn't deserve to marry Maxim. You didn't have any children for him. And now you even cheated on him. You can't stay in the Yoder family. Just divorce Maxim!"

Chapter 32

"Okay!"

"I don't agree!"

Two different voices sounded in the living room at the same time.

Kendra turned to Maxim with disbelief. "Are you insane? Briana has cheated on you!"

Maxim looked indifferent. "This is our business. I hope you don't interfere."

Kendra sneered, "You don't want me to interfere? Maxim, did Briana drug you? She has done such a shameful thing, but you still want to be with her?"

"I said, it's none of your business. Don't interfere in our affairs again!"

On the other hand, Briana suddenly said, "I agree to divorce, as long as you can get Maxim to sign the divorce agreement."

Kendra couldn't help but frown when she found that Briana was so deceived.

“Why are you deceived to agree to divorce?”

Briana smiled, “Didn’t you say that I didn’t have any child for Maxim after we had been married for 3 years? And I indeed spent the time in the club with those men.”

Kendra looked at Briana coldly, “You’d better keep your word.”

“If you don’t rest assured, I can get you a written pledge.”

Just as Briana said that, Maxim couldn’t help but say, “Briana, shut up!”

Briana turned to look at Maxim and said calmly, “Did you see? Everyone thinks we shouldn’t be together. Why do you insist on refusing to divorce?”

Briana felt that she really didn’t understand what Maxim was thinking. She took the initiative to quit to help him and Kiley. Shouldn’t he agree to divorce immediately?

Maxim was silent for a few seconds, saying nothing and directly pulling Briana away.

Seeing their back, Kendra was furious. She immediately called Reese Yoder.

“Reese, come back home. I have something to discuss with you!”

After walking out of the Yoder’s house, Briana impatiently shook off Maxim’s hand.

“Maxim, I’m really fed up with it. I don’t want to deal with your mother anymore. Can’t you just let me go?”

Maxim stopped. “If you don’t want to deal with it, you don’t have to see her in the future. If she’s looking for you, just ignore it.”

When Briana heard that, there was a trace of surprise flashing in her eyes. She didn’t expect that Maxim would say that.

“No matter what you say or do now, I won’t change my mind about divorce.”

Maxim looked indifferent and said word by word, “As long as I don’t want a divorce, you won’t get rid of your identity as my wife!”

Knowing that they wouldn’t make any progress if they continued to talk about it, Briana didn’t continue this subject.

“I don’t want to talk about it today. Let’s go back.”

Seeing the impatience in Briana’s eyes, Maxim felt restless.

They went back home silently. Briana picked up the dress and went to her room.

Early the next morning, Briana gave the dress to Melody when she got to the company.

“Happy birthday!”

The moment Melody saw “Adore You”, she looked so surprised. She touched the dress carefully.

“Is it really for me?”

“Yes. It has already been done, but I haven’t picked it up.”

Melody hugged Briana excitedly. “Thank you, Briana. I’m so surprised. I’m going to wear this dress to my date tonight!”

Briana raised her eyebrows, “You have a boyfriend?”

“Yes.” Melody’s eyes flashed with shyness. “When it’s time, I’ll bring him over to see you.”

Chapter 33

Seeing Melody’s happy look, Briana was curious about which guy fascinated Melody, a woman with a strong personality.

“I was going to invite you to dinner tonight, but since you have an appointment with your boyfriend, I will treat you another day.”

“Alright.”

After Melody left, Briana was about to read the file when her mobile phone suddenly rang.

She answered the phone. It was Kendra, “Briana, Maxim signed the divorce agreement. Come to the Yoder’s house now!”

Briana frowned. Maxim refused to divorce yesterday, but why did he sign it so happily today?

“Did he really sign?”

The voice on the phone paused for a few seconds before Kendra’s sarcastic voice came over. “Or what? Do I have to lie to you?! You don’t think Maxim can’t live without you, do you?”

Briana pursed her lips and said, “Alright. I’ll be there right away.”

After Kendra hung up the phone, Kiley, sitting next to Kendra, said anxiously, “Mrs. Yoder, is it proper for us to do this? If Maxim knows about this, he will be angry.”

Kendra’s eyes are full of chills. “You don’t have to worry. When he and Briana are divorced, even if he is really angry, he can’t do anything to change it. I am his mother. What can he do to me?”

Last night she called Reese back and embellished the story of Briana and those men in the club. She wanted Reese to force Maxim and Briana to divorce. Unexpectedly, Reese scolded her instead, saying that it was not her business. Reese told Kendra not to mess around!

Kendra was so angry that she couldn’t fall asleep last night. She believed that Briana was such a shameful woman, so she couldn’t let Briana be with Maxim.

Half an hour later, Briana walked into the living room of the Yoder’s house.

Both Kiley and Kendra stopped smiling when they saw Briana.

Kendra raised her chin and said contemptuously, "The divorce agreement is on the table. After you sign it, you have nothing to do with Maxim anymore!"

Briana walked directly to the table. She picked up the divorce agreement and turned to the last page, and sure enough, she saw Maxim's signature on it.

Briana picked up the pen. She couldn't help but turn to Kendra and reconfirmed, "Is this signature authentic and effective?"

Kendra sneered, "Of course it's authentic. I don't have to deceive you with a fake signature!"

"Fine."

Seeing that Briana did not hesitate to sign her name, Kendra felt a little uncomfortable. She thought, "Shouldn't Briana hesitate to sign? But why did it seem that it was as easy as throwing off a burden for her?"

To avoid any accidents, Briana suggested, "I will now take the divorce agreement to the courthouse for notarization.

As soon as Briana said that, Kendra said coldly, "I'll go with you so that you won't play any tricks behind my back!"

Briana didn't refuse, "Okay."

When they walked out of the Yoder's house, Kendra saw the Lamborghini parked at the door and frowned. "Did Maxim buy this car for you? Now that you're getting a divorce, you can't take the car away with you."

Briana did not expect Kendra to be so strange and penny-pinching. Not to mention that Briana bought the car on her own, even if Maxim bought it for her, she had been taking care of him for three years, so it was not too much to ask for a car from him.

At the side, Kiley's eyes became red out of anger. She looked at Briana with jealousy.

"That's right. Briana, you won't take advantage of Maxim after getting divorced, will you?"

After Kiley married Maxim, Maxim's money was hers, so she would never let Briana take the car away!

Briana took a cold look at them and said indifferently, "I may disappoint you. This car has nothing to do with Maxim. I will wait for you at the gate of the courthouse."

After saying that, Briana got in the car and started it. Standing there, the only thing Kiley and Kendra got was vehicle exhaust.

When Briana got to the courthouse, she waited for over an hour, but Kiley and Kendra didn't show up.

With a flash of impatience in her eyes, she decided to go directly to notarization alone.

Just as Briana got out of the car, a black Maybach parked right in front of her.

Briana's pupils shrank out of shock. She unconsciously pinched the divorce agreement in her hand.

The next second, the backseat door of the Maybach was pushed open.

Maxim got out of it and walked to Briana with a cold face full of anger.

Chapter 34

The unfriendliness in Maxim's eyes intimidated Briana. The moment his eyes fell on her, she felt she couldn't breathe.

As Maxim moved near, Briana felt a chill.

He was very mad!

To be precise, Briana had never seen Maxim so angry.

He stopped in front of Briana and said with a long good sneer, "How dare you go to the courthouse to have the divorce papers notarized!"

Briana didn't need to ask around to know Kendra did that behind Maxim's back. He found it out so he came to Briana. Briana had no idea who told him.

Briana hid the divorce papers behind her and looked up into his eyes without guilt.

"Mr. Yoder, are you coming with me?"

Maxim noticed her stealthy movement and said coldly, "Briana, although you have the divorce papers signed by me, you can't divorce me without my consent."

Briana tightened her grip on the papers. "What would it take for you to consent? Do I have to actually sleep with another man?"

Maxim laughed angrily and warned her.

"You can try and bet on his family's lives."

Briana compressed her lips, knowing that she wouldn't get a divorce today. She didn't want to waste her time here anymore.

"Are you done? I have to go."

When Maxim saw the Lamborghini behind Briana, his face darkened.

"Whose car is this?"

Briana had been unemployed for several years and had only rejoined the workforce recently, so there was no way she could afford the car.

Briana smiled, "It's none of your business."

With that, she drove away, leaving behind the grumpy and jealous Maxim.

His eyes narrowed as he watched the Lamborghini disappear. "Rayan, find out who owns this Lamborghini!"

Zane stopped Briana when she had just arrived at the building of MY Corporation.

Zane was surprised to see her driving a Lamborghini. "Briana, did Maxim buy you this car so you can drive it to work?"

Zane had done his research: Briana was just a junior worker at MY Corporation. Zane guessed she took this job just to pass the time.

Briana ignored his question and asked with a frown, "What's the matter?"

She didn't expect to see Zane here.

Zane wore a gentle smile and said in a soft voice, "I tried to call you but couldn't get through these days, so here I am. Can you come home this weekend? Your grandparents really miss you."

Briana was silent for a second and then looked at Zane. "Got it. I have to go back to work."

"Good. Then I'll tell the driver to pick you up this Saturday."

After Zane left, she turned and walked into the office.

Soon it was time to get off work. Briana did not want to go back to face Maxim, so she decided to work overtime.

At ten in the evening, when she was about to go home, she got a phone call from Melody.

"Briana, I'm so sad. Can you come?"

Melody asked with a sob. Worried, Briana answered, "Where are you now? I'll be there in a minute."

Melody told her the location of the club and hung up.

Briana drove to the club, and she was worried and suspicious all the way. She thought, "Melody is supposed to have fun with her boyfriend at her birthday party at this time."

Briana frowned at what she saw in the private room. It was a mess, with bottles all over the floor.

Chapter 35

Melody sat in the corner of the sofa, crying with a beer bottle in her arms. Her makeup was already smudged, and her mascara was running from her eyes. She looked like a mess.

Briana walked over, sat down next to her, and took the beer bottle from her arms. "What happened? Where is your boyfriend?"

Melody cried harder at the word "boyfriend". She sobbed and said brokenly, "That scumbag... I dumped him..."

After hearing her out, Briana knew what had happened.

Earlier today, Melody's boyfriend asked her out to dinner. She had thought he was going to celebrate her birthday, but he just wanted to break up with her.

He explained that his first love back in college came back home and he planned to be with that girl again.

Briana patted Melody's back and tried to comfort her. "Don't be sad. It's a good thing that you've seen through that guy. You deserve better."

Melody's eyes were puffy from crying, and she reached out to grab the beer bottle from Briana.

"Give me a drink! I want it..."

Briana put the beer away. "No. You're drunk already. Let me take you home."

"No, I'm not! I want more!"

Briana didn't want to waste her breath with a drunkard. She picked Melody up and carried her.

Briana dropped Melody off at home. When Briana was about to leave, she couldn't find her phone.

Briana tried to recall where she might have dropped her phone. "Maybe in the private room," she thought.

So she drove back to the club. It was past eleven at night. She went straight into that private room.

Briana opened the door and saw a man sitting in the middle with a fat face checking her mobile phone.

Briana narrowed her eyes and walked up to him.

"Excuse me, Sir. The phone in your hand is mine. Can I have it back?"

The others in the room all stopped to look at her, waiting for a drama.

Obviously, Briana didn't recognize Jackson Moore, the man in front of her. Otherwise, she would have asked very politely.

Jackson was amazed when he saw Briana's pretty face. He thought she was more stunning than any other woman he had met before.

Leering at her, Jackson said in a flirtatious tone, "Pretty, do you have any proof that this phone is yours?"

Briana said patiently, "I can unlock it."

Jackson let out a chuckle and nodded. "Alright, it's yours then. But now that I found the phone, you have to pay me something, if you want it back."

"What do you want?" asked Briana.

"It's simple. You drink the three drinks in front of you, and I'll give you your phone back!"

Briana glanced down at the drinks on the table. "Seriously?"

"Of course," said Jackson.

“OK.”

Briana picked up the drinks, finished them in one go, and put the glasses away. “Can I have my phone back now?” Briana asked.

Jackson smiled and gave her phone back.

“Thanks.”

Briana turned and left directly, and the others knew that she had become Jackson’s prey for the night.

When Jackson was gazing at her back, a smirk crossed his lips. He said to his men, “Send two men to get her and then take her straight to my room.”

Soon after Briana stepped out of the room, she sensed something was wrong. Somehow, she felt hot and dizzy.

She held on to the wall and was about to leave quickly. Suddenly, a voice came from behind.

“She’s right there. Get her!”

Chapter 36

Briana had a trace of cold in her eyes. Soon, some big guys surrounded her.

One of them even stretched out to pull her and sneered, “Chick, come with me.”

Just as he was about to touch her, Briana grabbed his wrist and did a suplex. The man screamed and was thrown onto the ground.

The other three men realized the problem and jumped at her together.

One minute later, they all moaned on the ground.

Briana felt that she had reached her limit too. Her sight became blurry.

She tried to support herself and moved faster.

After walking into the elevator, Briana pushed a button intuitively. She thought it was for the first floor. Then, she leaned against the wall and gasped.

When the door opened, Briana walked out and found that it was not the first floor. She frowned. If she went back, she may meet those people again.

There was a long corridor ahead. Briana struggled to walk forward.

After a long while, she felt that she was losing consciousness. Just as she lost all her strength and was about to fall, she fell into a warm embrace.

In the most luxurious box on the 8th floor of Grande Club.

Maxim drank quietly. He had finished two bottles of good wine.

Brycen said disapprovingly, “Maxim, you’ve been drinking quietly. What? Do you need a woman?”

Maxim glanced at him coldly. "If you don't know how to use your mouth, just shut up."

Brycen was speechless.

Tyrone patted Brycen's shoulder with pity. "Didn't you see his bad mood? You ask for it."

Just then, the door was opened. Oliver walked in with Adeline.

"Hi, guys. This is Adeline Ponce, my girlfriend!"

The three people in the box knew that Adeline used to date Oliver. They didn't expect them to go back together soon after Adeline returned home.

Brycen couldn't help frowning because he came across Oliver and Melody in the street days ago.

Melody was born into a rich family too and disappeared for some time after her family went bankrupt. When she came back, she turned the table as the president of MY Corporation.

But MY Corporation had been declining in the past two years. So people didn't have faith in it.

Brycen even worried that Melody and Oliver's relationship would end up in nowhere once the Newman family refused to accept Melody after MY Corporation went bankrupt.

However, to his surprise, Oliver was with Adeline again.

Seeing that they were all silent, Oliver had an upset look in his eyes. "What do you mean? No congrats? You don't like her?"

Tyrone smiled as he looked at Oliver. "We are afraid that we might scare her."

Then he looked at Adeline. "Ms. Ponce, my name is Tyrone Moyer, Oliver's friend."

Adeline put on a gentle smile. "Hi."

After the greeting, Oliver and Adeline sat down. He looked at her. "If you feel bored, you can call Kiley over. You are good friends, right?"

Hearing this, Adeline hesitated and glanced at Maxim subconsciously. "Is that OK for everyone?"

"Of course. We all know her, anyway

Just as Adeline was about to make a phone call, Maxim stood up suddenly. "I got something to do. Bye."

Adeline's face turned pale. She looked at Oliver sadly, "He doesn't like me, right?"

Brycen frowned because he felt she was playing the victim.

With his eyebrows raised, he teased, "If Maxim likes you, someone will be jealous."

Chapter 37

Oliver glared at Brycen and rubbed Adeline's hair. "No. He's always been aloof. You'll see after you get to know him."

After walking out of the box, Maxim checked his phone and found no missed calls or messages.

When he drank or went to parties for business' sake, Briana would prepare medicine for him and warn him not to drink too much. But now, she said nothing even if he didn't go home.

Cold flashed in his eyes. Just as he put away his phone to leave, he saw a silver phone in someone's hand. Then his face turned cold.

It was a custom-made phone he ordered for Briana as her birthday gift. It was unique!

Maxim stopped the man and said coldly, "Where did you get the phone?"

Hector didn't expect to meet Briana in Grande Club. Seeing her blushing face, he couldn't help frowning.

Apparently, Briana got tricked!

He took her back into his room and called his agent.

"Call a female doctor over now!"

After the call, he was still worried and pushed the door open.

Then he froze nervously.

On the bed in the bedroom, the sheet was messed up as Briana struggled.

She had red cheeks with a frown. Her starry eyes opened slightly in a daze, which was sexy.

As she struggled, her collar was open, revealing her fair skin on her chest.

"So hot..."

Hector clenched his fists and looked away. "Briana, hold on. The doctor is on the way."

He didn't dare to look at her again. After making sure nothing could hurt her in the room, he turned and left.

Hector had never had such a hard time. The doctor hadn't come yet after a dozen minutes had passed. He stood up to check on Briana.

Suddenly, a loud bang sounded at the door. It was kicked open. A cold and tall man walked in.

Seeing Hector, Maxim had cold eyes. "Where is Briana?"

Hector frowned and said coldly, "Mr. Yoder, this is my room. Get out!"

Maxim's gaze fell on the door to the bedroom behind Hector. He ignored Hector and walked towards the bedroom.

Hector wanted to stop him, only to be controlled by his bodyguards.

Maxim pushed the door open. Then his pupils shrank.

He slapped the door at once. When he came out, he had covered Briana with sheets.

Passing by Hector, he stared at Hector gloomily. "If I learn that you are behind this, I won't let you off!"

Maxim took Briana to the top floor. She struggled, but Maxim gave no response with a cold face.

He couldn't imagine what would happen if he didn't find her phone by accident. It made him very angry.

In the suite on the top floor, Maxim threw Briana onto the bed.

The pain brought Briana back to her senses. But she felt even worse as if ants had been biting her.

"So hot... Help me..."

She pulled her clothes randomly. Her skin became slightly pink like a charming peach.

Maxim walked over and grabbed her waving hands. Staring at her eyes, he said, "How can I help you, Briana?"

Chapter 38

"I don't know..."

Briana had a red face. Her forehead was sweating, and her body felt hot.

Maxim pinched her chin and said word by word, "Look at me! Who am I?"

The pain in her chin made her sober for a moment. She opened her eyes slowly.

"Maxim..."

Maxim lowered his head to kiss her red lips as he held her waist.

Briana felt hot and then cold.

It was a long night.

When Briana woke up, her sore body made her moan subconsciously.

Then she opened her eyes abruptly. When she saw Maxim's handsome face, she realized that it was not a dream.

Briana rubbed her temples and felt even a greater headache.

Because of her movements, Maxim woke up too.

As they looked at each other, they said nothing.

Briana pouted. When she opened her mouth, she found that her voice was hoarse. Then she had flashbacks of last night. It made her clench her fists.

After a moment of silence, she said in a low voice, "Let's forget about what happened last night."

They would get divorced soon. She didn't want to cause any trouble because of this. Nor did she want Maxim to think that she would take the chance to stick to him.

Maxim's eyes turned cold. "What do you mean?"

Briana frowned and looked at him. "We are grown-ups. It was just an accident. Don't worry. I won't ask you to do anything."

Maxim laughed in anger. "Should I say thank you for being so considerate?"

He thought their relationship would improve after last night. However, he was wrong!

Briana said nothing.

She wouldn't ask Maxim to do anything for her. Why was he upset?

After a while, Maxim said, "I saved you last night. I helped you. Don't you think you should do something for me to pay me back?"

Briana looked at him in shock and complained, "You took advantage of me. Why should I pay you back?"

"You asked me to have sex with you again and again. Remember?"

Briana blushed subconsciously in embarrassment. Although she was unconscious back then, she had memories.

She couldn't help blushing at the thought of last night.

Seeing that she was silent, Maxim felt better.

"Looks like you have memories."

Briana bit her teeth and stared at him. "What do you want?"

"Don't mention divorce again!"

"No way!"

Briana's eyes turned cold at once.

"Maxim, it's none of my business if you want a mistress. I just don't want to be between you and Kiley. Even if you hadn't saved me, I would have been saved by another man!"

It angered Maxim, who grabbed her wrist and pressed her down.

"Say it again!"

Their bodies were close. Briana blushed in anger or embarrassment.

"Let go!"

Maxim lowered his head to bite her lips. It hurt. He said coldly, "Now that you are my woman, you are not gonna be with other men! I won't let my wife go unless she is dead!"

Briana looked at him coldly. "You are forcing me to kill you?"

Maxim raised his eyebrows. "If you can."

Then he let go of her and stood up.

Chapter 39

His good shape was revealed. His muscles were perfect, making it hard for her to take her eyes off him.

Briana suddenly thought of what had happened last night and looked away at once. "Are you a pervert?" she asked coldly.

Maxim had a smile in his eyes and said in a low voice, "You saw my body last night. Why are you being shy now?"

"Get lost!"

Seeing that Briana covered her head with the quilt, Maxim stopped teasing her. After putting on clothes, he said, "I got you some clothes. They will be delivered soon. I have a meeting to attend. Let's have dinner tonight."

"I have no time!"

"I will pick you up."

Briana ignored him. After it became quiet, she lifted the quilt and sighed helplessly.

If she had known what might happen, she would not have come back for the phone. It seemed that Maxim would not divorce her within a short time.

She picked up her phone on the nightstand and made a call.

"Check out who was in box No. 5 on the 8th floor of Grande Club last night!"

L

Then she put down her phone and went to the bathroom for a shower. Seeing the marks on her body, she couldn't help cursing Maxim secretly.

After the shower, the clothes ordered by Maxim were delivered over. There was even underwear.

Briana put on the clothes and found that they suited her well even in size. Her face darkened.

She called Melody and told her that she would not go to work. Then she left Grande Club.

As for Rayan, he learned the identity of the man who drugged Briana last night on the way to the company

"Mr. Yoder, the man who drugged Ms. Schneider is Jackson Moore. He is powerful in the north of the city. He is a shareholder of many clubs. He built up his wealth by playing on the gray side.

Maxim frowned and said coldly, "Make him disappear from Bridenville today!"

"OK."

In Melody's office in MY Corporation.

After hesitating for a long while, Melody called Oliver,

“What?”

Oliver sounded impatient. “Melody, we’ve broken up. Don’t pester me. It only makes me hate you more!”

Melody sneered, “Don’t worry. I won’t stick to a bastard. I called you because I want you to return my clothes. I left them in your car last night!”

“I’ll have my assistant send them to you.”

Melody didn’t say anything else and hung up the phone.

Oliver asked his secretary to send her clothes back. Just as the secretary was about to leave, he met Adeline, who came for Oliver.

Adeline saw the clothes named “Adore You” at once. She was surprised and stopped him at once. “Is this Oliver’s gift for me?”

Oliver said he would surprise her today.

The secretary seemed embarrassed. He explained, “Ms. Ponce, the clothes belong to Ms. Joyce. Mr. Newman asked me to send them to her.”

Adeline’s smile froze with jealousy and anger in her eyes. “Oliver bought them for her, right?”

The secretary shook his head. “I don’t know.”

“Give me the clothes. I’ll talk to him.

She still loved the clothes. She wouldn’t let Melody have them whether Oliver had bought them or not.

Adeline wanted Melody to know that she was the one who had these clothes and Oliver!

The secretary hesitated. “Ms. Ponce, this is Mr. Newman’s order. I...”

Then he got interrupted. “Don’t worry! I’ll take the consequences on my Own!”

She snatched the clothes from him and walked into the compam fast

Looking at her back, the secretary shed helplessh It seemed that Oliver’s new girlfriend was not easy going It would be hard for them to get along with her

At noon, Melody hadn’t got her clothes yet. So she couldn’t help calling Oliver again

“Why haven’t I got my clothes back yet

She snatched the clothes from him and walked into the company fast.

Looking at her back, the secretary sighed helplessly. It seemed that Oliver’s new girlfriend was not easygoing. It would be hard for them to get along with her.

At noon, Melody hadn’t got her clothes yet. So she couldn’t help calling Oliver again.

“Why haven’t I got my clothes back yet?”

Chapter 40

There was silence for a while. Then Oliver's cold voice sounded. "Adeline likes your clothes. How much? I'll pay."

Melody's face changed in anger, "Oliver, how could you give my clothes to her without asking for permission? I'll give you one hour to send them back. Or I will sue you!"

She hung up angrily. After thinking for a while, she called Briana.

"Briana, sorry. I left your birthday gift in Oliver's car and forgot about that after breaking up with him..."

"I asked him to send it back. But his girlfriend likes the dress. Then he gave it to her! I am pissed off! I don't know if I can have it back!"

Briana couldn't help frowning. She didn't expect Melody's ex-boyfriend. to be so bad.

It doesn't matter. I can design a new one. But they went too far. What are you going to do?"

"No need, I will have it back. I told him that I would sue him if he didn't send it back!"

"OK. Call me if you need help."

"OK! Sure!"

After the call with Melody, Briana got a call from her subordinate.

"We have found that it was Jackson Moore who drugged you last night. But before we could do anything, he was arrested by the police.

He will be put in jail."

Briana kept quiet for seconds and said coldly, "Send all the evidence to the police and make sure he will never be free!"

"Got it."

In the late afternoon, Maxim sent someone to drive Briana to a restaurant.

On the way, Briana planned to have a talk with Maxim during the meal.

Just as the car stopped at the entrance, Briana's eyes paused.

She got out of the car quickly and walked behind Oliver and Adeline. Seeing Adeline's dress, she was sure that Adeline was wearing the dress called "Adore You"!

It seemed that it was Oliver and his new girlfriend!

Just as she was about to speak, Maxim's cold voice sounded.

"Why are you standing here? Why not come in?"

Hearing his voice, Oliver and Adeline looked back.

Oliver was surprised. "Maxim, you are gonna dine in a restaurant for couples?"

Maxim turned to him and nodded slightly.

Adeline was shocked. She thought Maxim liked Kiley. How could he come here with Briana?

She looked at Briana with disgust and texted Kiley. Then she smiled at Oliver. "In this case, how about having a double date?"

Oliver wanted to say no. But Briana, who had been quiet, suddenly said, "OK."

Maxim frowned at Briana in confusion.

They sat in the box. Then Adeline smiled at Maxim, "Mr. Yoder, you haven't introduced her to us yet."

Briana chuckled and said, "You don't deserve to know my name."

It was embarrassing. So Oliver and Adeline had their faces changed at once.

Maxim was surprised. He had never seen her treat others so badly before.
