

Fall for You 61

Chapter 61

Briana frowned and coldly looked at Maxim, her eyes devoid of any warmth.

Maxim was filled with anger. He had barely left for a while, and she was already having dinner with another man. If he came back any later, he might even end up wearing a cuckold's hat!

He walked over to Briana and sat down, coldly laughing as he looked at Hector across from him."

Hector, unwilling to be outdone, smiled and said, "Mr. Yoder, Briana's matter is my matter too. As long as she needs it, I can lend a helping hand anytime."

Maxim looked at him coldly and said, "I didn't expect you to be so enthusiastic about other people's affairs. But I advise you to think more about how to improve your acting skills when you have free time, instead of meddling in other people's business!"

"How was my acting? It was not Mr. Yoder's concern."

The two of them locked eyes, neither willing to back down.

Sensing the intense atmosphere in the air, Briana frowned and looked at Maxim. "Mr. Yoder, if you're here to cause trouble, you can leave now."

Maxim's anger surged to its peak in an instant, gritting his teeth he said, "Briana, who is the one stirring up trouble between us in front of you, this little pretty face?!"

Briana's eyes were cold. "First, Hector is not a gigolo, he is my friend.

Please respect him. Second, our relationship doesn't need anyone to sow discord. We both know what the truth is."

Maxim, furious, burst into laughter and grabbed Briana's hand, pulling her outside.

As Hector passed by Briana, he suddenly grabbed her other hand.

"Mr. Yoder, Briana almost fell, didn't you see?"

Seeing Maxim treat Briana like this, Hector felt anger rising in his heart. Is this the man she chose over everything else in the past?!

If she was with him, he would definitely be unwilling to let her suffer any grievances or harm, instead of disregarding her feelings completely!

Maxim turned around and saw Hector grabbing Briana's hand. His pupils suddenly contracted, and his eyes became as cold as ice that had been frozen for a thousand years, chilling him to the bone.

"Let go, if you still want your hand!"

Hector was not at all intimidated by the coldness in his eyes, and said slowly, "It is you who should let go!"

The two of them stood facing each other coldly, quickly attracting the attention of the people around.

Briana had a headache. She just wanted to have a quiet meal, but it turned out to be like this.

She remained silent for a few seconds, then she abruptly let go of their hands and quickly walked out of the restaurant.

Just as I reached the elevator, Maxim caught up with me.

“Briana, it seems like you really have a short memory. Unless I teach you a lesson, you won’t learn your lesson!”

He took out his phone and dialed Rayan’s number directly, “Go check what upcoming movies and TV shows Hector has recently signed or will be released soon, immediately...”

Before I could finish speaking, someone suddenly snatched away my phone.

Briana hung up the phone decisively and sneered, “Maxim, is this the only lowly trick you know?”

Maxim exuded a cold aura all over his body and spoke expressionlessly, “Do you think that by doing this, you can stop me from dealing with Hector? Unless you keep an eye on me for twenty- four hours, I will always have the opportunity to make him disappear from the entertainment industry!”

Briana frowned and was about to speak when Hector’s cold voice sounded from behind.

“Briana, you don’t have to worry about this matter. I also want to see how Mr. Yoder will make me disappear!”

Briana turned to look at Hector and whispered, “This is between him and me, I don’t want to involve you and burden you.”

Maxim clearly blamed Hector, who had worked so hard for many years to reach this position. She didn’t want it all to be ruined because of her in an instant.

Hector smiled and said, “I am not afraid, and I don’t believe Mr. Yoder can really control everything.”

Maxim sneered, “You can give it a try!”

Chapter 62

Briana frowned and looked at Hector, saying, “Hector, thank you for helping me, but I really don’t want you to get involved in this matter. It’s my personal business!”

Seeing the displeasure in Briana’s eyes, Hector’s heart felt like it had been pricked by a needle, and his face turned pale.

She didn’t say anything else and turned around to enter the elevator, with Maxim following behind.

Outside the elevator, Hector hung his head, unable to see his expression clearly, but his words just now must have hurt him.

After the elevator doors closed, Maxim sneered and said, "The words you said to Hector just now were only to distance yourself from me, fearing that I would actually do something to him. You really know how to look out for him!"

Briana looked at him expressionlessly and said, "It has nothing to do with you."

"You can say it again, it doesn't matter, give it a try!"

During this period, Maxim has been losing patience more and more due to conflicts with Briana. If she continues to be so indifferent towards him, he doesn't know what he will do.

Briana looked indifferent and somewhat helpless as she asked, "What do you really want?"

Maxim's face turned cold as he stared at Briana and said, "Come back to me, and I will pretend that nothing ever happened."

Upon hearing this, Briana lowered her gaze and after a while, she spoke, "I can't do it, there is no other way for us except for divorce."

"Briana, I have already explained to you that I had no relationship with Kiley anymore, why do you keep holding on to it?"

Briana took a deep breath and shook her head, saying, "I wasn't clinging on, I just wanted a divorce, that's all."

"Impossible!"

"Since it was impossible, let's just do our own thing and not interfere with each other."

Her black and white pupils reflected her own figure, but there was no longer any love in her eyes, only a stagnant pool.

"Each playing on their own?"

Maxim gritted his teeth and uttered these four words, as a chilling sensation seemed to freeze everything around him.

Briana nodded, "Yes, if you can accept it, I won't mention the word 'divorce' again in the future."

The elevator fell into a suffocating silence, Maxim coldly stared at her, with deep eyes that made it impossible to know what he was thinking.

"Ding!"

The elevator door opened, and Maxim dragged her back to the room, throwing Briana directly onto the bed.

Briana frowned and was about to get up when Maxim pounced on her, trapping her between the bed and him.

He stared at Briana's face, with a flicker of fire in his eyes, "Since you want to play, then I will play with you properly!"

The next second, his slender fingers unbuttoned Briana's shirt.

Briana's face changed slightly, and she grabbed his hand, saying coldly, "Maxim, I have no interest in you now!"

Maxim had a malicious smile on his face as he slowly said, "But I haven't had enough of you yet. Maybe one day when I've had enough, I will let you go. How about we make a deal out of this?"

"If I had feelings for you, maybe I would agree to your condition, but now whenever you touch me, I feel disgusted!"

Maxim's face turned cold as he stared at Briana and coldly said, "Disgusting? Weren't you also enjoying yourself last time at the hotel?"

Briana sneered, "That's because I was drugged and lost my sanity. Even if it wasn't you, any other man would have elicited the same reaction from me."

"Say it again!"

Briana raised an eyebrow and sneered, "You don't expect me to rely on medication every time I have to be with you in the future, just to suppress my disgust towards you, do you?!"

Maxim stared at Briana, his eyes filled with raging fury, as if he wanted nothing more than to strangle her right away.

Briana pushed him away and stood up, looking at him coldly as she spoke, "If you have needs, you can go find Kiley. After all, this is not the first time you guys have done something like this."

Upon hearing this, Maxim furrowed his brow and said, "Briana, I have already explained to you that I had no connection with Kiley!"

"Well, if you say there isn't, then there isn't."

Chapter 63

Looking at Briana's indifferent expression, Maxim couldn't help but feel a sense of unprecedented frustration and annoyance in his heart, as if no matter how he explained, Briana didn't care.

This kind of Briana made him feel like punching cotton, and he didn't know how to get along with her.

After a moment of silence, Maxim got up and left the room directly.

Briana didn't care where he went. After resting for a while, she applied sunscreen and went out to explore the resort.

She came this time to have fun, not to argue with Maxim.

Briana wandered around for a while and then came across a horse stabl dden a horse for a long time, and suddenly felt an itch in She had agreed to come to the vacation village with Norma she had heard her say that horseback riding was possible.

na walked towards the work area next to the horse stable. Inside, here were not only various horse harnesses, but also horse riding equipment available for rent. Of course, they could also be purchased, but at a much higher price.

As soon as I walked in, the staff came up to greet me.

“Hello, Ms. Schneider. May I ask if you need any assistance?”

Briana nodded, “I wanted to buy a set of horse riding equipment and some horse tack.”

“Okay, on the left side is the place where horse riding equipment was sold. Please follow me.”

Briana chose a set of burgundy riding attire. After coordinating gloves, a helmet, and riding boots, she went to buy a whip and horse tack. Then, she changed her clothes and went to the stable with the staff to choose a horse.

The coach chose a relatively smaller horse for her based on her height.

“Ms. Schneider, this horse has a gentle temperament and is more suitable for girls to ride. You can first spend some time getting acquainted with the horse, and later I will lead the horse in front of you for a slow walk around, and then you can try gradually increasing the speed.”

Briana glanced at the horse recommended by the coach, her gaze swept around and settled on a sturdy chestnut horse in the corner.

She pointed at the horse with a riding crop and said, “I want that one.”

A hint of surprise flashed in the coach’s eyes, just as he was about to speak, a mocking voice sounded from behind.

“Some people really don’t know where their confidence comes from. They insist on challenging a fierce horse, even though they are not afraid of falling and dying later!”

Briana turned around and saw Maxim and Oliver standing not far behind her, she couldn’t help but frown.

The speaker is Adeline, and it seems that the lesson from the last time “Adore You” was not profound enough, otherwise she wouldn’t have started provoking herself so quickly.

Oliver glanced at the expressionless Maxim beside him and couldn’t help but furrow his brow as he looked at Adeline, saying, “Adeline, say a few less words!”

Adeline’s face looked unpleasant, and she was about to speak when Kiley spoke up beside her.

“Oliver, Adeline was also doing it for Briana’s sake, after all, they were afraid she might fall off the horse later.”

Oliver didn’t want to argue with the two women because of Briana, so he remained silent.

Briana didn't feel like wasting time talking to them, so she turned to the coach and said, "Coach, I want that one. Could you please bring it over for me? There are too many flies here, and they're bothering me."

Adeline was furious, the stable was cleaned every day, so where did the flies come from?! Briana was deliberately insulting her and Kiley!

She was angry when her wrist was suddenly grabbed.

Turning her head, she saw Kiley give her a wink, indicating that she should wait and watch the show.

Briana chose a spirited horse and later clumsily fell off it, resulting in minor injuries or even a potential loss of life. She welcomed this outcome.

After all, Briana, a country girl who grew up in the countryside, could never ride a horse!

Brycen had a look of amusement on his face as he observed Maxim. It was likely that Maxim had gotten into another argument with Briana, otherwise he wouldn't be watching Briana choose that spirited horse without saying a word to stop her.

Tyrone couldn't help but frown and said, "Maxim, I'm not even sure if I can tame that horse. Briana will definitely get hurt. You should advise against it."

After all, Maxim was Briana's husband, so he was the most qualified person to persuade her.

Maxim appeared indifferent, with no trace of warmth in his eyes.

"She chose the horse herself, so even if she got injured, it was her own fault."

Chapter 64

A flash of anger crossed Tyrone's eyes, but he quickly concealed it.

"Maxim, now is not the time to be stubborn. If Briana really gets hurt, you will regret it too late!"

Maxim gave him a cold glance and said, "If you are really that worried, go and persuade him yourself!"

Tyrone hesitated for a few seconds and walked quickly forward.

When he reached Briana, the coach had already led the horse to her side and was telling her about the precautions.

Briana turned her head and immediately collided with Tyrone's worried eyes, realizing that there was someone standing beside her.

"Ms. Schneider, this horse is not suitable for you. You should change to another one, otherwise you might lose control and get injured."

The worry in his eyes seemed genuine, Briana smiled and said, "Thank you for your concern, Mr. Qi, but I have already made up my mind."

Tyrone couldn't help but frown and whispered, "Even if it's to spite Maxim, one shouldn't gamble with their own life."

Upon hearing this, Briana couldn't help but laugh, "Mr. Qi, you're overthinking. He hasn't become that important to me yet."

She mounted the horse directly, with a perfect and graceful movement, showing no signs of being a first-time rider.

Tyrone paused for a moment, his gaze unconsciously falling on her.

She was wearing a set of burgundy equestrian attire, which outlined her perfect curves. Her slender waist seemed like it could be held in one hand, and her long hair was tied up in a ponytail. The whole person exuded a sense of sharpness and coolness, so beautiful that he could hardly take his eyes off her.

Noticing that he was lost in thought, Tyrone quickly lowered his gaze to hide the emotions deep in his eyes. He was about to speak, but Briana had already ridden off towards the horse field.

Maxim stared at the figure of Mahogany, her long hair swaying in the wind. Just her back alone was enough to make one's heart flutter.

This kind of Briana was something he had never seen before.

In his eyes, Briana was gentle, like a morning glory that could only cling to a big tree, so weak that she could only rely on him to survive.

So when everything spiraled out of control, Maxim was caught off guard and felt like he had never truly understood Briana.

Kiley saw Maxim's gaze fall on Briana and felt insanely jealous, but she managed to put on a gentle smile on her face.

"Adeline, I also wanted to go horseback riding. Will you come with me?"

Adeline and Kiley exchanged a glance and instantly understood what Kiley meant.

"Sure, it's been a while since we rode horses together. Oliver, do you want to join us?"

Oliver turned to ask the others, but seeing that they were not interested, he dismissed the idea.

"Adeline, you go with Kiley, we'll wait for you here."

Adeline and Kiley quickly changed into their riding gear and both chose smaller and gentle horses.

The others sat in the resting area next to the horse stable, watching as the two slowly rode their horses towards the stable.

The racecourse was very big, and Briana's figure had long disappeared from the sight of the crowd.

After about ten minutes, the figures of Adeline and Kiley became so small that they were hardly visible.

Several people sat in the lounge area chatting, and Oliver sincerely apologized to Maxim again.

“Maxim, I was indeed confused before, and I know I was wrong. I promise I won’t be foolish again in the future. Please forgive me this time!”

Maxim looked at him with a faint expression and said, “As long as you don’t let your love brain interfere, we won’t have any conflicts between us.”

Oliver: “...”

Brycen glanced at Oliver with a difficult expression and spoke up for him, “Maxim, don’t worry. This time, Tyrone and I scolded him mercilessly. If there’s another time, I don’t think he’ll have the face to come and ask for your forgiveness.”

Maxim nodded and coldly said, “Warn your girlfriend to stay away from Briana!”

Oliver and Brycen exchanged a glance, and both saw surprise in each other’s eyes.

Is Maxim going to protect Briana?

Chapter 65

What about Kiley?!

Brycen and Oliver grew up with Kiley, so naturally they hoped that Maxim could be with Kiley. Moreover, Briana lived in the countryside until she was sixteen, and although they didn’t say it openly, they actually looked down on Briana a little in their hearts, thinking that she wasn’t good enough for Maxim.

“Maxim, now that Kiley is back, what are you and Briana planning to do?”

Maxim coldly glanced at Oliver and emotionlessly said, “What does her return have to do with me and Briana?!”

Oliver frowned, “Everyone knew that you and Kiley used to be a couple, you...”

Maxim interrupted coldly before the words were finished.

“You also said it was in the past, now I only treat her as a sister.”

“What about Briana then? Are you falling for Briana?!”

As the words fell, there was a momentary silence between the few people.

Maxim looked at Oliver with cold eyes and said, “This is between her and me, I have no obligation to explain it to you.”

Oliver also realized that he had reached Maxim’s limit and didn’t dare to speak up anymore.

At this moment, in the horse stable.

Kiley and Adeline had found Briana, and they surrounded her, one on each side.

Adeline's face was filled with mockery, and there was a hint of a smile at the corner of her mouth.

"Briana, is this horse difficult to ride? Shall I help you?"

As soon as the words fell, she raised the whip and fiercely lashed it towards the horse's buttocks of Briana.

The horse was startled and let out a cry, then ran wildly forward.

Two people on horseback caught up from behind, their faces filled with malice, waiting to see when Briana would fall off her horse.

A cold glint flashed in Briana's eyes as she gently pulled on the reins to steady the horse's emotions, and ran towards a farther direction.

In their eyes, Briana was panicking and making reckless decisions, otherwise she should have been running towards the direction of the stable.

Kiley and Adeline exchanged a glance and both saw excitement in each other's eyes.

They wanted to teach Briana a lesson, preferably causing her to become partially paralyzed!

The two of them chased after Briana and finally cornered her in an empty corner.

Briana coldly looked at Kiley and Adeline, "What do you want to do?!"

Adeline sneered, "What are you doing?! Briana, you made me embarrassed in front of the largest billboard in Bridenville before. Shouldn't I get back at you?"

Kiley, who was standing aside, hesitated and said, "Adeline, I don't think Briana meant it on purpose. How about letting her apologize to you? For my sake, let's just forget about this, okay?"

Adeline raised an eyebrow and said disdainfully, "That depends on whether her apology is sincere enough to calm me down!"

Kiley looked at Briana and said gently, "Briana, apologize to Adeline, I don't want to see you being troubled by her either!"

Watching the two of them singing and harmonizing, a glimmer of interest flashed in Briana's eyes. "You two are perfect for acting, one with honeyed words and a hidden agenda, the other fierce and aggressive. You will definitely become popular!"

Adeline's face turned pale with anger as she coldly stared at Briana and said, "I see that you won't shed a tear until you see the coffin!"

She raised the whip in her hand and fiercely swung it towards Briana's face. Briana's eyes turned cold.

Adeline exerted all her strength with this whip, and if it had truly landed on her face, it would have surely disfigured her.

Meanwhile, Kiley just watched quietly without saying anything to stop

Since they were so malicious, there was no need to show mercy.

Just as the whip was about to strike Briana's face, Adeline and Kiley hadn't even seen how Briana moved, and Adeline was already knocked over to the ground!

Chapter 66

"Ah!"

Adeline screamed in pain, her face contorted with agony.

"Kiley, please help me, my back hurts so much!"

As soon as she moved her back, she felt a sharp pain that she couldn't bear.

Briana, that bitch!

I will definitely not let her go for causing her to end up like this!

Kiley's face changed slightly, and she looked at Briana, saying, "Briana, Adeline just wanted to vent her frustrations. How could you treat her so harshly!"

Briana raised an eyebrow and sneered, coldly staring at Kiley. She held a whip in one hand and slowly and rhythmically tapped the palm of her other hand.

"I am also very dissatisfied now, why don't you let me vent a little?"

Kiley gritted her teeth and said, "I didn't do anything wrong to you, why should I let you vent? Even if Adeline is at fault, she is Oliver's girlfriend. Aren't you afraid of causing trouble for Maxim by treating her like this?"

Briana's eyes were devoid of any warmth as she spoke slowly, "What does it matter to me whether he makes things difficult or not?"

"You!"

"I saw Adeline looking very distressed. As her good friend, instead of immediately calling for the staff to come and check on her, you were wasting time talking to me about useless things. Do you want to delay and let her become paralyzed?"

Kiley didn't expect Briana to be so sharp-tongued. She felt that Adeline, lying on the ground, had already started to resent her. She gritted her teeth and said, "Briana, we won't let this matter go just like that!"

Briana ignored her and turned the saddle to leave.

Just as Briana was squeezing the horse's belly, a flash of silver flickered in Kiley's hand and stabbed into the horse's hindquarters with a thud.

"Hiss..."

A sharp and long roar sounded, and the horse beneath Briana suddenly bolted out, starting to rampage. Briana almost got thrown off.

She tightly held the reins, her palms already red from the pressure of the reins.

After finally stabilizing my body, the horse beneath me was extremely agitated, continuously running forward and not stopping even when it collided with the railing. Instead, it wildly swayed its body, seemingly attempting to throw Briana off.

Briana tried her best to steady her body and prevent herself from being thrown off, but she couldn't calm down the horse's emotions no matter what.

At this moment, Oliver on the sidelines had already received a phone call and his face immediately turned extremely unpleasant upon learning that Briana had knocked Adeline off the horse.

Several people rode horses and followed the staff inside. On the way, they encountered Briana.

Seeing the horse Briana was riding running wildly like a madman, Oliver's eyes flashed with a hint of mockery. He had intended to say something, but when he saw Maxim's cold profile, he held back.

It is important to go and save Adeline first. After confirming Adeline's injuries, then we will settle the score with Briana. He will not let this matter go just like that!

Briana also saw a few people, while trying her best to calm the horse's emotions, she led the horse towards the direction of the stable.

Maxim looked on coldly, showing no intention of coming to help.

Briana also had no intention of seeking his help. After a while, she finally calmed the horse down and slowly rode back to the stable.

Just as he dismounted, Maxim's icy voice sounded from behind.

"I heard that you deliberately knocked Adeline off her horse just now?!"

Briana was examining the horse's body when she noticed out of the corner of her eye what Kiley had done to her horse before she rode off. There must be something suspicious about this!

Hearing Maxim's questioning voice, she impatiently said, "What's it to you?"

Chapter 67

Maxim grabbed her hand and coldly said, "Briana, do you know that Adeline could have been trampled to death after falling down? No matter how much you dislike her, you shouldn't be so malicious!"

Briana raised his hand and looked at him with an indifferent expression.

"Have I always been this malicious? Is today the first day you've met me? If there's nothing else, don't appear in front of me, it's annoying to look at you!"

Maxim's eyes were filled with anger, "Apologize to me!"

"You had to go by yourself."

Suddenly, Briana's gaze froze on a certain spot on the horse's hindquarters, and her expression turned incredibly cold.

Maxim forcefully grabbed her hand and dragged her out of the stable.

Briana tried to shake off his hand, but she was unsuccessful and had to let him pull her to the resting area.

There was a room in the rest area for tired customers to take a short- rest. After Oliver brought Adeline back, he immediately had the doctor examine her.

When Maxim pulled Briana in, the doctor solemnly spoke, "Mr. Newman, Ms. Ponce has fractured her bones. The exact severity will need further examination to determine."

Adeline nestled in Oliver's arms, tears streaming down her face.

"Oliver, what will I do if I can never stand up again?"

Oliver's face was gloomy as if it could drip water, and he lowered his head to comfort her, trying to speak as softly as possible.

"Adeline, don't worry, I will hire the best doctor who will definitely be able to cure you."

Kiley saw Briana intact, without even a trace of falling, and a hint of hatred flashed in her eyes.

This bitch, her luck is unexpectedly good, it must be Maxim who helped her!

She glanced at the still-sad Adeline and said guiltily, "Oliver, this is also my fault. If I hadn't asked Adeline to accompany me for horseback riding, this wouldn't have happened.

Oliver looked up at Briana with a cold expression and said coldly, "It has nothing to do with you, the real culprit is Briana!"

He didn't expect that he and Adeline had stooped so low. She was still so malicious, wanting to kill Adeline. Even if Maxim wanted to protect her, he wouldn't just let it go like that!

Adeline also saw Briana, and her hatred towards Briana surged even more in her heart. She wished she could immediately provoke and kill Briana.

"Oliver, I don't want to see her, you make her leave!"

Kiley hurriedly said, "Adeline, calm down. I think Briana must have felt guilty and come to apologize."

Adeline's eyes were filled with anger. "Who wants her apology? I won't let her off easily!"

"Oliver, what will I do if I can never stand up again?"

Oliver's face was gloomy as if it could drip water, and he lowered his head to comfort her, trying to speak as softly as possible.

"Adeline, don't worry, I will hire the best doctor who will definitely be able to cure you."

Kiley saw Briana intact, without even a trace of falling, and a hint of hatred flashed in her eyes.

This bitch, her luck is unexpectedly good, it must be Maxim who helped her!

She glanced at the still-sad Adeline and said guiltily, "Oliver, this is also my fault. If I hadn't asked Adeline to accompany me for horseback riding, this wouldn't have happened.

Oliver looked up at Briana with a cold expression and said coldly, "It has nothing to do with you, the real culprit is Briana!"

He didn't expect that he and Adeline had stooped so low. She was still so malicious, wanting to kill Adeline. Even if Maxim wanted to protect her, he wouldn't just let it go like that!

Adeline also saw Briana, and her hatred towards Briana surged even more in her heart. She wished she could immediately provoke and kill Briana.

"Oliver, I don't want to see her, you make her leave!"

Kiley hurriedly said, "Adeline, calm down. I think Briana must have felt guilty and come to apologize."

Adeline's eyes were filled with anger. "Who wants her apology? I won't let her off easily!"

Kiley felt secretly delighted in her heart, but wore a sad expression on her face. "Adeline, just consider it as a favor to me and give Briana a chance to apologize. She must regret her impulsive actions now!"

Maxim pulled Briana forward and looked at Oliver with a cold expression. He said, "This incident was indeed Briana's fault. I will take full responsibility for Adeline's medical expenses, and if there are any further issues, I will see it through to the end!"

After speaking, he turned his head and looked at Briana, coldly saying, "Briana, apologize!"

Briana smirked, but there was no warmth in her eyes. "Maxim, it seems like I never agreed to apologize. It was your own wishful thinking to drag me here."

As soon as the words fell, Oliver sneered and said, "Fine, very well! Maxim, originally I intended to let this matter go and forgive her, for your sake. But now that she refuses to apologize, whatever I do next, I hope you won't blame me for being heartless!"

Briana raised an eyebrow and looked at him, "What do you want?"

"What suffering Adeline went through, I will make you go through it too! An eye for an eye!"

Briana chuckled lightly and said indifferently, "You probably don't have the ability for that."

"Briana!"

Maxim looked at her angrily, disappointment evident in his eyes. "Apologize! Otherwise, not only Oliver, but I won't let you off the hook either!"

Chapter 68

Briana looked at him with indifference and said, "I'm also curious. about how you won't let me go."

As the voice fell, the entire room fell into silence, so quiet that one could almost hear a pin drop on the ground.

Feeling the icy aura emanating from Maxim, Tyrone quickly stepped forward, fearing that he might actually harm Briana. "Maxim, what exactly happened? We haven't figured out the reason for the dispute between Briana and Adeline yet. Let's all calm down first."

Oliver sneered, "Does the reason even matter?! Adeline had a broken bone, while Briana was unharmed. It's clear who is right and who is Wrong!"

Briana turned and looked at Oliver, then suddenly smiled.

A coldness flashed in Oliver's eyes, "What are you laughing at?!"

"I laughed at how blind Melody was to fall for you, and silently became your secret lover for two years."

As the words fell, Oliver and Maxim's faces turned extremely ugly.

Oliver was angry that Briana was exposing his flaws, while Maxim felt that Briana's words had hidden meanings, as if she was insulting both Oliver and him.

Just as everyone's faces were different, Adeline in Oliver's arms spoke

"Briana, I know that after I returned to my country, Oliver came back to me and Melody was unwilling. It's normal for you, as her friend, to dislike me. But I cannot tolerate the malicious way you sought revenge on me!"

Briana raised an eyebrow and looked coldly at her before speaking, "You're overthinking it. How could Melody not be relieved? If she were there, she would definitely thank you for taking this scumbag away from her. After all, scumbags and cheap women are a perfect match!"

"Briana!"

Maxim's face turned pale with anger. Her provocation towards Oliver and Adeline was nothing short of crossing Oliver's bottom line.

"Apologize to Oliver and Adeline immediately!"

Briana raised an eyebrow and smiled, her eyes filled with coldness. "Maxim, I said I won't apologize."

After saying that, she turned around and was about to leave.

"Stop!"

Oliver put down Adeline and stood up, walking towards Briana. He said, "Apologize and choose something similar to falling off a horse like Adeline did!"

Maxim coldly looked at Briana, not saying a word, clearly accepting what Oliver had said.

Kiley couldn't contain her secret joy in her heart. It seemed that Briana -wasn't as important to Maxim as she thought, otherwise Maxim wouldn't have forced Briana like this with Oliver.

Briana lowered her gaze and smiled, her voice was not loud, but everyone present could hear it clearly

"Sorry, I didn't choose either of them."

"Briana, this is what you forced me to do!"

Oliver reached out to forcefully grab Briana and make her apologize, but before he could even touch Briana, his arm was grabbed by her.

His eyes darkened, before he could even resist, he was thrown over Briana's shoulder and slammed onto the ground.

Every part of his body was in pain, if it weren't for the sake of saving face, he would have definitely cried out in pain at this moment.

Except for Brycen and Maxim, everyone present was shocked to see how skilled Briana was.

Maxim squinted his eyes, his suspicion growing deeper. When exactly did Briana hone her skills? Was it after marrying him or before?

Briana lowered her gaze and looked at Oliver, and said slowly and firmly, "I told you, if you try to stop me, you don't have the ability to do so."

She finished speaking and left directly. Brycen and Tyrone on the side went to help Oliver up.

Oliver limped over to Maxim and coldly said, "Maxim, you saw it too. Briana went too far and if you don't give me and Adeline an explanation for this, I won't let it go just like that!"

Maxim was about to speak when the staff at the stable suddenly walked in.

"Mr. Newman, this is the surveillance video of the accident that occurred when Ms. Ponce was involved. As soon as we learned about Ms. Ponce's incident, we immediately had it copied."

Upon hearing this, Kiley and Adeline's faces turned pale. How could there be a video recording?!

Once they saw this surveillance video, they were done.

What should I do?!

The two of them exchanged a glance, and Adeline quickly came up with an idea, saying, "Give me the surveillance footage!"

Chapter 69

When she got the video, she pretended to accidentally delete it, and then found an excuse to say that she didn't want to watch the video anymore. She was sure she could get away with it!

The staff was about to hand the Pad to her when Tyrone suddenly reached out and took it, saying calmly, "Let me do it instead. Ms. Ponce is injured now and her hand is not convenient."

Adeline: "..."

Kiley turned her head and saw the cup beside her. She silently picked it up and was about to casually splash it onto the pad. However,

Tyrone had already noticed her plan and turned his head to look at her with a cold expression.

Kiley, who was already feeling guilty, dropped her water cup on the ground when she saw Tyrone's seemingly penetrating gaze.

Tyrone smiled and said mysteriously, "Ms. Schneider, why were you shaking?"

Kiley quickly placed her hand behind her back and calmly said, "It's nothing, just that the water was a bit hot and I didn't hold it properly."

"Be more careful next time, holding something too hot in your hand will only hurt yourself."

Kiley understood the hidden meaning behind his words and her eyes turned cold. She didn't say anything further.

Tyrone quickly finished watching the surveillance video at sixteen times the normal speed. He handed the Pad to Maxim, his expression turning cold. "Maxim, you can see for yourself."

After saying that, Tyrone sneered and looked at Oliver, saying, "Oliver, your girlfriend is really something else. What do you mean by turning the tables? I finally understand now."

Oliver frowned, but before he could speak, Tyrone turned around and left directly.

From the moment Tyrone finished watching the surveillance footage, Adeline's face turned incredibly pale

She was well aware that today's matter could not be kept a secret.

After Maxim finished watching the surveillance footage, his face had turned as cold as an icy tundra.

A wave of indescribable anger and guilt surged in Maxim's heart. Thinking about the scene just now where he forced Briana to apologize, Maxim unconsciously tightened his grip on the Pad, and his fingertips began to turn white.

He raised the Pad and threw it fiercely towards Adeline. Adeline screamed in fright, and although she managed to dodge it, her face turned as pale as paper.

Oliver was shocked in his heart. The fact that Maxim and Tyrone's attitudes changed so drastically indicated that it was highly possible that Adeline was not as innocent as she appeared.

"Oliver, I told you earlier in the rest area to take care of Adeline. If you can't handle it, I don't mind helping you out!"

After Maxim left, Oliver's gaze also turned cold, glaring at Adeline with anger on his face.

"What on earth happened?! Adeline, I'm giving you this one chance. If you lie, we don't need to continue being together!"

Maxim learned from the staff that Briana had returned to the hotel. He hurriedly went over and as soon as he entered the room, he saw Briana packing her things.

He hurriedly stepped forward to stop her, but didn't know what to say.

"Briana, I wanted to talk to you..."

Briana looked at him with indifference and said, "Maxim, I have already told you, I wouldn't apologize. Even if you bring me in front of Adeline, I still won't apologize!"

"I didn't want you to apologize, I had already watched the surveillance footage."

Maxim's voice was hoarse, and he didn't know what to do to make Briana forgive his previous actions.

Briana pursed her lips, showing no emotion in her eyes.

"Oh, since you don't want me to apologize, can you please move aside?"

"Where did you want to go?"

Briana was starting to get a little impatient and was about to speak when she heard Norma's angry voice coming from outside the door.

"What does it matter to you where Briana was going?!"

Maxim turned around and saw Norma walking into the room with an angry expression on her face.

"Grandma, could you please stop causing trouble?"

Briana was already angry at the moment. If this matter is not resolved properly now, she would definitely become even more indifferent towards herself later.

Norma sneered, "I now understand why Briana divorced you. You're such a scumbag, the sooner she left, the better! I support Briana in divorcing you!"

Chapter 70

Maxim frowned and said, "Grandma, what do

"What does it mean?!"

you

mean?!"

Norma looked at him with anger on her face and coldly said, "I know all about you helping outsiders bully Briana. What use is a husband like you who only helps outsiders?"

Maxim's eyes grew cold as he looked at Briana and said, "Did you tell Grandma?"

Norma stood in front of Briana and glared at Maxim, "You dare to hurt Briana and still think you're right?! I warn you, stay away from Briana! When we return tomorrow, you will go and divorce Briana, and I will have the divorce agreement sent to your company!"

“Grandma!”

Maxim was really angry, he had never even thought about divorcing Briana.

“Don’t call me grandma, I don’t have a grandson like you!”

After speaking, Norma directly pulled Briana away.

After Norma had escorted Briana to her new room, she looked at her with pity and said, “Briana, don’t worry, I won’t let Maxim bully you. After what happened today, I’ve been thinking, maybe you and him are really not suitable for each other. It’s him who doesn’t deserve you!”

Briana didn’t expect to receive Norma’s support, and her eyes immediately became slightly red.

“Grandma, thank you!”

“What’s there to thank for? If anyone should be thanking, it should be me thanking you. If it weren’t for you, Maxim wouldn’t have been able to stand up. But that foolish boy is blind and can’t see your goodness. It’s his misfortune.”

Briana shook her head, “Grandma, you don’t need to thank me. It was all voluntary on my part, and I am truly grateful that you were willing to help me!”

Although she had a bad relationship with Maxim, Norma was really good to her. She didn’t need to hold a grudge against Norma because of Maxim.

“Just now you said not to say thank you, but how come you turned around and started saying thank you again? Alright, you’re tired today, rest well. I’ll go back first.”

“Okay.”

After leaving Briana’s room, Norma’s gaze turned cold.

If she hadn’t impulsively decided to check the surveillance, she wouldn’t have witnessed the scene where Kiley and Adeline were trying to harm Briana, but Maxim was helping them to force Briana to apologize.

Just as she arrived at the door of her room, she saw Maxim standing next to it with a cold expression on his face, clearly waiting for her.

Norma walked up to Maxim and coldly stared at him, “Do you know that you were wrong?”

Maxim pursed his thin lips and looked at Norma, saying, “Grandma, you shouldn’t have agreed to help Briana leave...”

Before the word “marriage” could be uttered, Norma slapped him.

“Maxim, how did I teach you back then?! I told you to treat Briana well, and this is how you treat her?!”

Norma exerted all her strength to deliver this slap, and a handprint immediately appeared on Maxim’s face.

His hand, hanging by his side, unconsciously clenched into a fist, and a cold aura emanated from his entire body.

Norma's eyes were filled with anger as she looked at him with a disappointed expression. "Who took care of you day and night for those two years when you were partially paralyzed? Who found people to help treat your legs? Do you really think Kiley likes you? If she truly liked you, why wasn't she by your side during the most difficult two years of your life?"

Maxim fell silent for a few seconds and whispered, "Grandma, at that time Kiley was abroad and heard about me marrying Briana, so she refused to come back."

"Since you knew that you were married to Briana, why did you get involved with Kiley again after she returned to her country?!"

Maxim frowned at Norma's skeptical expression and said, "I didn't have any entanglement with Kiley, it was Briana who misunderstood."

Norma was extremely angry and laughed sarcastically, pointing at Maxim and angrily said, "Oh, so now you've learned to lie too? If you weren't involved with her, then why did you let her stay in our marital home before? Why did you take her to various events?!"

Just as the words fell, there was a sudden muffled sound from behind.

Norma and Maxim turned around at the same time and saw Briana standing nearby with a faint expression. Norma's heart tightened.
