

Fall for You 621

Chapter 621

The Timeline that Briana posted was quickly seen by Maxim.

He looked down at the timeline for a long time, and in the end, he just silently gave a like.

On the way back to the Yoder Group, he almost masochistically watched her friend's message over and over again, not knowing how many times.

Suddenly, when he refreshed his Timeline, he couldn't see her post anymore.

Maxim thought she had deleted it. He exited and clicked into her homepage, only to find it was a single dash. His heart sank instantly.

He opened the chat interface between the two of them and sent over an emoji.

Soon, a red exclamation mark appeared in front of that expression.

His hand unconsciously tightened around the phone, a suppressed cold light flickering in his eyes.

Briana really wanted to set boundaries with him, even going so far as to block him.

Maxim slowly closed his eyes, letting the pain inside him engulf him.

Anyway, it was impossible to be with her again, so it was quite good to end it like this.

On the other side, after Briana blocked Maxim, she just couldn't concentrate on the documents in her hand. Scenes of her past interactions with Maxim kept surfacing in her mind.

She didn't want to think any further, irritably she got up and walked out of the office.

William quickly stood up. "Ms. Schneider, do you have any instructions?"

Briana shook her head, "No, you continue working, I'm just coming out to pour a cup of coffee."

"Shall I pour it for you?"

"No need, I did it myself."

Briana walked into the tea room, pouring coffee while thinking to herself. She had just divorced Maxim and he was already eagerly seeking Kiley. It seemed that all his previous promises to woo her again were false. Indeed, a man's words cannot be trusted.

At that moment, she felt somewhat relieved. She had never held much hope, otherwise, she would probably be very disappointed now.

While daydreaming, the cell phone suddenly rang.

As soon as the call connected, Thomas's angry voice came through, "Briana, what the hell is going on with Maxim and Kiley?! Didn't he just divorce you? Did he cheat on you with Kiley during your marriage?"

Hearing the anger in Thomas's tone, Briana pursed her lips and spoke in a faint voice, "Brother, don't worry. He didn't betray me. Although I don't know what happened between them, I'm already divorced from him now. Whoever he is with has nothing to do with me. You shouldn't care either."

Thomas was so angry that he wanted to hit someone. How could he possibly not care?

They had investigated and found that in this marriage, Briana had not wronged Maxim at all. On the contrary, it was Maxim who had wronged her!

"Briana, if you have any grievances, you must speak up. You can't keep it all to yourself, it will make us and mom and dad worry."

The concern in Thomas's tone made Briana's nose tingle, she hadn't felt the care of her family for a long time.

The Schneider family had never treated her as a relative, but she had felt the warmth of kinship from the unrelated Cameron family.

Indeed, not everyone with a blood relation can be called family.

"Third Brother, I was really fine, don't worry, I wasn't the kind of person who would be bullied."

Chapter 622

Thomas sighed. "Alright, if anything happens, remember to tell me in time."

After hanging up the phone, Briana picked up her coffee and turned back to her office.

After work in the evening, as soon as Briana reached downstairs, she saw Thomas standing not far away, surprise flashing in her eyes.

Thomas had been watching for people coming out, and upon seeing Briana, he immediately approached her.

After standing still in front of her, Thomas reached out and ruffled her hair, smiling as he said, "Let's go, I'll take you to eat."

"Third Brother, weren't you very busy with your work?"

Thomas glanced at her and said, "No matter how busy, there's always time to have a meal with one's sister. Let's go, I've booked a Sichuan restaurant."

Upon hearing this, Briana's eyes immediately lit up. She held Thomas's hand and said, "Third brother is always the best to me!"

What the two didn't know was that their intimate moment was captured by someone at the street corner, and the photo quickly ended. up in Maxim's hands.

Maxim clenched the photo tightly, his eyes filled with uncontrollable anger.

Rayan stood a few steps away, shivering with fear. He really didn't know which unscrupulous person had sent such a photo to Maxim, and now he had started to be afraid. If Mr. Yoder were to get angry, should he run or should he run?

Maxim threw the crumpled photo on the ground, his expression icy as he commanded, "Find out who sent the photo, and who the man in the photo is!"

"Alright, Mr. Yoder."

Soon, Rayan had found out the identity of the person Briana was with, his brows furrowing unconsciously.

He took the information to Maxim, "Mr. Yoder, the person in the photo has been identified. It's Thomas, the third son of the Cameron. family from Haseton. However, he has always been in Haseton, so theoretically, he shouldn't know Ms. Schneider. Yet, they seem to be quite familiar with each other."

Maxim skimmed through Thomas's information at a glance, his gaze gradually turning icy.

Recently, he had been investigating the matter of the Haseton key, and coincidentally, Thomas had just come from Haseton at that time, and even approached Briana. Could these two things be related?!

If Thomas really came for the key, then Briana was in danger!

Thinking of this, Maxim stood up directly, saying coldly, "Find out where they are now! Once you find out, send the address to my phone."

When Maxim arrived at the entrance of the restaurant where the two were dining, Briana and Thomas had just finished their meal and were walking out, laughing and talking.

Seeing Maxim, the smile on Briana's face gradually faded, "Mr. Yoder, what are you doing here?"

Thomas had long disliked Maxim, and now he instinctively shielded Briana behind himself.

His action made Maxim's eyes turn icy in an instant, "Briana, I want to talk to you."

Briana frowned, her eyes full of impatience.

"Maxim, we're already divorced. I don't know what else there is to discuss."

"This matter was very important."

Meeting his serious gaze, Briana faltered for a moment, but still refused, saying, "I don't care, there's nothing between us that needs discussing."

After speaking, she was about to leave with Thomas.

As she passed by Maxim, he suddenly reached out and grabbed her wrist, pulling her into his arms.

The familiar scent of pine from the man wafted over, causing an inexplicable sting in Briana's nose. She wanted to push him away immediately, but Maxim's hand held her tightly like an iron arm, making it impossible for her to escape.

"Mr. Yoder, please let go of Briana!"

Thomas had a smile on his lips, but those who knew him well knew that he was on the verge of rage at that moment.

Chapter 623

Maxim looked up and coldly met Thomas's gaze, "Mr. Cameron, what is your relationship with Briana? On what grounds are you telling me to let go?"

"There's no need for you to know what our relationship is. All you need to know is that I'm much closer to her than you are," Thomas said, a smile playing at the corners of his mouth, but his eyes were cold.

"I had to take Briana away today!"

Thomas sneered, "Then you ask her, if she's willing to go with you, I promise I won't stop you."

Maxim's hand hanging by his side unconsciously tightened, "No matter what, I have to take her away!"

He was about to leave with his arm around Briana's waist, but the next second, a dozen men in black suddenly appeared around them.

Thomas's cold voice rang out from behind, "You can take Briana, as long as you can defeat these dozen or so people from the Cameron family Dragon Group."

Upon hearing this, Briana's gaze instantly hardened. The people in the Cameron family's Dragon Group were all one in a million elites, with unfathomable martial arts skills. It was not an exaggeration to say that they could fight a hundred on their own.

Although Maxim was very skilled, he definitely wouldn't have had an advantage against the people from Dragon Group.

Thinking of this, Briana frowned and said, "Maxim, you can't beat these people, let me go."

A chill flashed in Maxim's eyes as he lowered his head to look at her, saying, "If I could do it for them, would you be willing to talk to me then?"

"What exactly are you trying to say? You might as well talk about it now."

Maxim coldly glanced at Thomas beside him and said in a low voice, "I want to talk to you alone, I don't want Mr. Cameron to be present."

Briana:

Thomas raised an eyebrow and chuckled, "Alright, if you can defeat the people from Dragon Group, I'll let you take Briana away."

“Good.”

Maxim let go of Briana, ready to confront the people from Dragon Group, but Briana suddenly grabbed his hand, “Are you crazy? You can’t beat them!”

Moreover, the people from Dragon Group were deadly in every move they made, Maxim would surely have been seriously injured.

Maxim lowered his head to look at her, “Were you worried about me?”

Briana’s eyes flickered, then she said coldly, “No, I just don’t want my third brother to cause trouble in Bridenville. After all, you are the president of the Yoder Group. If anything happens, my third brother will also be implicated.”

The light in Maxim’s eyes gradually faded, and his pupils became incredibly cold.

“I’ve long heard of the renowned Cameron family’s Dragon Group, today I just happen to have the opportunity to learn from you!”

After speaking, Maxim charged directly at the nearest member of the Dragon Group, and in no time, a dozen or so people had Maxim completely surrounded.

Thomas pulled Briana aside, saying in a low voice, “Briana, stay here and don’t move, so you won’t get hurt accidentally later.”

Briana glanced at him irritably, “Third Brother, you let over a dozen people from Dragon Group bully him alone, that’s too much!”

Thomas looked at her, “Are you worried about him?”

A hint of unease was visible on Briana’s face, “I’m not worried about him, I’m worried about you!”

“Don’t worry, I’ll take the blame if anything happens!”

In the gap of their conversation, Maxim had already started fighting with the people from Dragon Group. Their movements were so fast that they were almost indistinguishable.

Briana’s hand, hanging by her side, unconsciously clenched each time she saw Maxim being hit. Her heart would involuntarily flinch, and the worry in her eyes would leak out.

Thomas was observing her expression from the side, his brows furrowing tighter and tighter.

It seemed that Briana still had lingering feelings for Maxim. A way had to be found to make her give up completely!

Chapter 624

Several minutes later, Maxim approached Briana in a disheveled state, with a dozen members of the Dragon Group lying on the ground behind him.

Shock filled Thomas's eyes. The members of the Dragon Group he had brought this time were each the elite of the elite, yet they couldn't beat a single Maxim.

It was estimated that even if the leader of Dragon Group fought with him, they wouldn't gain any advantage.

Briana saw the various wounds on Maxim's body, her pupils suddenly contracted, and her nails unconsciously dug into her palms.

It wasn't until Maxim stood in front of her that she opened her mouth, "You..."

Maxim took her hand directly, saying lightly, "You can come with me now, right?"

Thomas was about to reach out to stop him, but Briana suddenly spoke up, "Brother Three, since he has already beaten the people from Dragon Group, I want to hear what he has to say to me."

"If anything happens, remember to call me immediately," Thomas said, his eyes filled with worry.

"Alright, I knew."

Briana got in the car with Maxim, looking at him with a calm expression, "Mr. Yoder, whatever you wanted to tell me, you can say it now, right?"

Looking into her indifferent eyes, Maxim felt waves of pain in his heart again.

After several seconds, when Briana was already getting a bit impatient, Maxim finally spoke in a low voice, "I don't know how you met Thomas, but you'd better be wary of him."

He couldn't speak too clearly about the matter of the secret key. Knowing too much would be even more dangerous for Briana.

Briana furrowed her brows, her gaze turning icy, "Mr. Yoder, my third brother wouldn't hurt me. There's no need for you to sow discord here."

Unexpectedly, she would think of him in this way. A hint of anger rose in Maxim's eyes as he coldly said, "Is this the kind of person you think I am?!"

Briana pursed her lips, smiling as she said, "I don't know, after all... I've never really known Mr. Yoder, have I?"

"Briana, I'm doing this for your own good. Recently, Haseton has sent many assassins to deal with the Yoder family, and it's such a coincidence that Thomas appears here. He might have ulterior motives for getting close to you."

Briana looked up at him coldly, "You said Thomas approached me with a purpose, then tell me, what could he possibly want from me?"

Maxim was left speechless when asked. The Cameron family was one of the four major families in the capital, and the third son of the Cameron family. Moreover, in recent years, the Cameron family had shown a trend of becoming the head of the four major families. Others were trying to curry favor with the Cameron family. Whatever the Cameron family wanted to do, they didn't need to go to great lengths to get close to the other party.

But as this matter involved the key, Maxim still had to be cautious.

Seeing him silent and not speaking, Briana sneered, "Since you can't say it, I don't want to continue listening to you slander him. Mr. Yoder should have nothing else to do, right?"

After speaking, Briana turned around to push open the car door and get out.

The next second, a large hand covered hers.

"Briana, would you believe me if I said he might have come for the key?"

Briana's movements paused, she turned to look at the solemn-faced Maxim, frowning, "The key?"

"Um, the Yoder family had a secret key. Isaac kidnapped my grandmother and my mother before, just to find out where the key was. The power behind him came from Haseton! He also disappeared suddenly after he escaped to Haseton."

Upon hearing this, Briana's face changed, "What is the use of that key? Why would someone from Haseton come to steal it?"

Maxim shook his head, "Grandma didn't tell me either, she only said that the key was very important, so all the families that Haseton knew wanted to snatch it."

Briana was silent for a moment, looking at Maxim before slowly saying, "This matter must be important, why did you tell me?"

"I didn't know whether it was right or wrong to tell you, I just wanted you to be wary of people from Haseton. Even if you knew Thomas before, you can't judge a book by its cover. Who knows what his intentions were for approaching you."

"I trust him, he would never harm me." Briana said with a determined look, her eyes full of trust.

Chapter 625

A glint of coldness flashed in Maxim's eyes. She didn't even trust herself this much, not even willing to doubt Thomas for a moment.

"Regardless, I wouldn't let you get close to any danger!"

Maxim's domineering words echoed in her ears. If it had been before, Briana would have been very happy, but at this moment, her heart was already as calm as still water, unable to stir up any ripples.

She looked at Maxim with a distant expression, "I appreciate Mr. Yoder telling me all this, but this is my own business. I hope Mr. Yoder won't interfere."

"Briana! Don't be stubborn, I'm doing this for your own good!"

Briana chuckled, calmly saying, "But I don't need it."

After speaking, Briana immediately turned around and left.

The aura around Maxim suddenly became extremely cold. From the driver's seat, Rayan glanced at the rearview mirror and cautiously asked, "Mr. Yoder, should we send someone to protect Ms. Schneider?"

"Send two people over, don't let her know, contact me anytime if there's anything."

"Good."

After getting out of the car, Briana slowly walked towards Thomas.

Thomas had nothing but worry in his eyes, and only breathed a sigh of relief when he saw that she was alright.

"Briana, what did Maxim say to you? He didn't ask you to remarry him, did he?"

Briana shook her head, subconsciously not wanting to reveal that Maxim suspected Thomas.

"It's nothing, Third Brother, let's go back."

On the way back, Briana remained silent, staring out the window, lost in thought.

It was not until the car stopped at the entrance of Elm Bay that she unbuckled her seatbelt to leave, when Thomas called out to stop her.

"Briana, no matter what, we will stand by your side, but I think Maxim is not a good match for you. I hope you can think it over carefully."

Briana paused for a moment, then whispered, "Third Brother, I know, I've already divorced him, it's even less possible for us to be together in the future."

Seeing her serious expression, Thomas didn't continue to persuade. She still had feelings for Maxim at the moment, and he thought that saying more might backfire.

"Um, go home and rest well. The unhappy things will pass quickly."

"Good."

After watching Thomas leave, Briana turned and walked into the villa, took a bath, watched a TV show, and then went to sleep.

Meanwhile, inside an abandoned factory outside the city.

"Mr. Yoder, I discovered something while I was investigating Briana!"

Isaac's expression was cold, "What is it?"

"Briana was associated with a mercenary organization called Fullmoon Hotel, but that's all I could find out, I couldn't find anything else."

Upon hearing this, Isaac's eyes trembled violently, he gritted his teeth and said, "What?! Tell me in detail what you found!"

After hearing what his subordinate had said, a suspicion suddenly arose in Isaac's mind. The days when Briana went missing, as investigated by his subordinate, coincided exactly with the days when he and Mr. K planned for Iris to kill Scorpion.

Could Briana have been Iris?!

Chapter 626

Thinking of this possibility, Isaac's face instantly turned extremely ugly. If Briana really was Iris, then he couldn't keep Briana around anymore!

"Find two people to test Briana's skills."

"Alright, Mr. Yoder."

After his subordinates left, Isaac's gaze gradually turned icy.

That night, at the Yoder's house.

Kendra was about to go to sleep when her phone suddenly rang. A message from an unknown number had come in.

After understanding the content, Kendra unconsciously furrowed her brow.

Maxim was not your son.

She sneered, wondering which lunatic had sent this message. Maxim was the child she had carried for nine months and given birth to, how could he possibly not be her son.

Thinking of this, she immediately deleted the text message.

Several minutes later, Reese came out of the bathroom, lifted the blanket and lay down next to Kendra.

After the incident with Isaac, their relationship had somewhat eased, but they remained indifferent to each other.

Just as she was about to turn off the light, Kendra suddenly asked,

"Has the Yoder Group offended someone recently?"

A flicker of surprise flashed in Reese's eyes, he frowned and said, "I didn't hear about it, what happened?"

"It was nothing, just a lunatic who texted me a while ago saying Maxim wasn't my son. It was absolutely hilarious."

Kendra spoke casually, not noticing that Reese's body had stiffened for a moment.

"Right, weren't you going to turn off the light? Why haven't you moved?"

Soon, the bedroom was plunged into total darkness.

Kendra fell asleep quickly, but Reese hadn't yet recovered from what Kendra had just said.

The next morning, Reese went straight to the Harmony Villa.

After learning about this, Norma said solemnly, "The Haseton group already knows that the key is with us, the Yoder family. Some restless ones have already started preparing to make a move on the Yoder family. Maxim's background, I guess, won't be able to be hidden for much longer."

Reese looked upset, saying in a deep voice, "I'm afraid Kendra won't be able to accept this."

After all, the son one has raised turns out not to be one's own biological child, anyone would find it unbearable.

Although Reese did not like Kendra, they had been married for over twenty years after all, and Kendra had even given birth to their daughter, Roxanne.

Norma sighed, "Acceptance is inevitable, sooner or later we have to tell her."

As she spoke, a glimmer of sadness flashed in Norma's eyes. If Kendra's child had survived back then, he or she would probably be as capable as Maxim now.

It's just a pity...

"Mom, I'm going to find out who's been pulling strings behind the scenes. Once I find out who it is, I won't let them off easily!"

Norma nodded, not asking him to stay.

She knew very well that a storm was brewing for the Yoder family, the matter of the secret key had already been discovered, going to Haseton was the best choice.

Only Haseton could protect the Yoder family!

Haseton, the Bynes family.

Herbert Bynes was standing on the veranda feeding the fish, while behind him, one of his subordinates was reporting the recent movements in Bridenville.

"Mr. Bynes, I had someone send a message to Kendra reminding her that Maxim is not her biological son, but there has been no response from her end yet."

Chapter 627

A cold smirk curled up on Herbert's delicate face, "Keep trying, we must turn the Yoder family upside down."

When speaking, Herbert's eyes were all cold. He had originally planned to use Isaac to get the key, but he didn't expect that fool couldn't do anything right.

Later, when he was on his last breath due to Maxim's torture, he even took him away. Unexpectedly, this fool couldn't wait to betray him as soon as his wounds healed!

If it weren't for his usefulness, he would have killed this fool a long time ago!

"Alright."

"By the way, how is Isaac's plan for revenge against Maxim coming along?" Herbert asked indifferently, tossing the last bit of fish food into the pond.

"Recently, he had been investigating Briana."

Herbert frowned, "Why on earth did he not deal with Maxim, but went to investigate Briana? Idiot!"

"I don't know either," the subordinate lowered his head.

After a few seconds of silence, Herbert said coldly, "Don't bother about him, as long as he's still trying to deal with Maxim, that's fine. Just remember not to let Maxim find him."

After his subordinates left, a cold smirk appeared on Herbert's lips. As long as Maxim died, getting the key would be as easy as taking candy from a baby!

In the past few days, Kendra had been shopping and constantly felt like someone was following her. However, whenever she turned around, she didn't notice anything unusual.

When she once again sensed that feeling of being watched, she quickly looked around, but still felt that everyone seemed normal.

She couldn't help but frown, could it be that she had been too tired. recently, thus causing her to have hallucinations?

With that thought, she quickly entered the shop she often visited, paid for the new dress she had recently ordered with her card, and then left immediately.

Just as she reached the edge of the road, waiting for the driver to pull out the car, someone suddenly pushed her hard from behind. Kendra fell directly onto the road, with a car heading straight towards her!

Maxim and Reese received the message and rushed to the hospital, but it was already an hour later.

"Doctor, how was my wife?"

"Mr. Yoder, Mrs. Yoder was waiting for surgery. Could you please sign the consent form for the operation?"

Reese quickly took the pen and after signing, looked at the doctor and said, "You must save her!"

The doctor nodded, "Mr. Yoder, rest assured, we will do our utmost, and since Mrs. Yoder was brought to the hospital in time, the surgery has a high success rate."

After the doctor left, Reese asked coldly, "Maxim, have you figured out the car accident?"

This incident must have been man-made, those people from Haseton have started to make their move!

Maxim nodded, saying coldly, "The surveillance footage showed that she was pushed onto the road by a person wearing a mask and a hat. However, because the person was well-covered, we have not yet been able to identify them."

"Um. keep investigating, we must find out who it was!"

The two didn't speak again, silently standing at the entrance of the operating room, waiting for Kendra's surgery

The last time Kendra was hurt by Isaac and fell off the cliff, it was also such a late night, with Maxim standing guard at the door of the operating room. The difference was that Briana was with him that time.

Three hours later, the surgery was finally over.

"Mr. Yoder, the surgery was very successful. Mrs. Yoder's injuries were not very serious, but because her old injuries from the previous car accident have not yet healed, she needs to rest well this time, otherwise, there will definitely be sequelae."

"Alright, I understood, thank you, Doctor."

After knowing Kendra was okay, Maxim left, as he had more important things to do.

Half an hour ago, Rayan had already caught the person who pushed Kendra.

At that time, he was about to board the plane to go abroad. If Rayan had been a few minutes later, it would have been impossible to catch that person.

When Maxim entered the basement, the man had already been beaten. beyond recognition, yet he still gritted his teeth and refused to speak.

Rayan frowned, saying, "Boss, he's a tough nut to crack. I guess it will take some time to get him to talk."

Chapter 628

Maxim sat down on the chair opposite him, and Rayan immediately handed over the information he had found.

After a few glances, Maxim said indifferently, "Doesn't it say here that he has a sister? Just bring her here."

Upon hearing this, the man's expression finally changed for a moment, fleeting as it was, Maxim still caught it.

Rayan nodded, "Yes!"

Soon, Sophie was brought over.

Maxim looked at her coldly, always feeling a sense of familiarity, but he couldn't remember where he had seen her before.

Sophie shivered involuntarily at the sight of Maxim's cold expression, quickly averting her gaze.

Suddenly, her gaze froze.

Upon recognizing the man bound to the cross, hatred surged in her eyes, "Colin, you're actually still alive!"

Back then, when her father had accumulated a huge gambling debt and her mother had contracted kidney disease, Colin suddenly disappeared one night, taking all the money from the house with him. At that time, Sophie almost sold herself for money.

Seeing Colin now, her long-held memories were unconsciously evoked, and her hatred for Colin deepened a bit more.

"I didn't know you!"

Sophie quickly walked up to him, gritting her teeth and said, "Of course you don't want to know me, because you don't want to pay back dad's huge gambling debt, nor do you want to take care of mom's illness. But how could you be so heartless! When you left, you even stole mom's life-saving money. Are you still human?! You're nothing but a beast!"

Colin's eyes were filled with disbelief. When he left, he hadn't taken a single penny from home, and moreover, the Bynes family had agreed to help treat his mother, which was why he had been loyally serving the Bynes family all these years.

And not long ago when he returned to Bridenville, he had secretly visited them. Clearly, they were doing well, there must have been some misunderstanding. Moreover, he couldn't reveal his identity to Sophie now, otherwise, they would be done for!

"I didn't know you, get lost!"

Sophie's face turned pale with anger, her gaze at him was like looking at an enemy, making Colin's body involuntarily shudder.

Over the years, he had been living a life on the edge, licking the blade, all for the sake of providing a stable life for Sophie and his mother. Yet at this moment, the way Sophie looked at him was so alien, as if she wished him dead.

Maxim's cold, deep voice echoed in the dimly lit basement, sounding particularly eerie

"Since you didn't know her, I presume you wouldn't care about what my subordinates did to her."

As soon as the words fell, four or five subordinates stepped forward and surrounded Sophie, starting to strip her clothes. A camera was set up nearby, capturing everything that was happening.

Fear flashed in Sophie's eyes as she screamed frantically, "What are you doing?! Let me go! This is illegal!"

However, no matter how she begged for mercy, everyone's actions did not pause in the slightest.

When she was left in only her underwear, Sophie finally despaired.

"Colin, what on earth did you do?! Are you satisfied only when you drive me to death?! I hate you, I hate you!"

Tears slid from the corners of her eyes, Sophie exuded an aura of despair all over her.

Just then, she abruptly pushed one of them away, fiercely crashing into the wall.

"Bang!"

A violent crash sounded, and Sophie blacked out immediately.

Maxim gave his subordinate a cold glance, and the latter immediately dragged the person back and threw him on the ground.

Chapter 629

Colin looked at the unconscious Sophie with heartache, his eyes filled with uncontrollable anger and hatred.

"Maxim, what do you have against me! Bullying a woman, what kind of man are you!"

Maxim scoffed coldly, "Didn't you directly push my mother onto the road? If you don't reveal who's behind you, I guarantee that your sister's indecent video will be spread all over the world by tomorrow. Wherever she goes, people will point fingers at her. I'll give you three seconds to think about it."

"Three, two, one!"

Seeing Maxim's henchman about to pull down Sophie's underwear, Colin finally couldn't help but speak up: "I say! Maxim, you are a devil!"

Maxim waved his hand, and the actions of those people stopped.

"It was...it was the Bynes family, I worked for the Bynes family!"

A glint of coldness flashed in Maxim's eyes. He had heard of the Bynes family, but he had never offended them. The only possible reason they would suddenly target him was for the key.

Thinking of this, he sneered, "You'd better not deceive me, or I have plenty of ways to make your life worse than death. Besides Sophie, you also have a sick mother. If you don't want to see them die in front of you, cooperate a bit."

Colin glared at him fiercely, "Maxim, you can't fight against the Bynes family. They could crush you as easily as crushing an ant!"

"If it was really as simple as you said, why did they need to send you over?"

Having said that, Maxim couldn't be bothered to deal with him anymore, he turned around and left directly.

"Mr. Yoder, what happened to Sophie?"

Maxim's eyes were cold and distant, "Being locked up with Colin, he must know more than just this about the Bynes family's affairs!"

"But...Sophie was a designer at MY Corporation, if Ms. Schneider found out she was locked up here... and suffered those injuries..."

Hearing the worry in Rayan's tone, Maxim said coldly, "Do as I said!"

Rayan didn't dare to speak anymore, he just watched Maxim's figure gradually recede, and sighed.

In the basement, Sophie woke up again, finding herself almost completely naked. She was falling apart, sitting on the floor and bursting into tears.

Colin quickly said, "Sophie, don't cry... They didn't do anything to you."

Only then did Sophie remember that Colin was still locked up. She hurriedly picked up her clothes and put them on, looking at Colin with disgust.

"Why did you have to come back?! You might as well have died out there, at least I wouldn't have to suffer this humiliation!"

The hatred in her eyes made Colin flinch, then he gritted his teeth and said, "I've been working my ass off for the Bynes family all these years just to provide you and mom a stable life. Otherwise, do you think you and mom could have survived?"

Sophie laughed.

"Colin, do you believe in what you're saying? You stole the money for mom's medical bills. I begged those relatives on my knees, but not a single one was willing to lend me money. I almost sold myself!"

"In order to get money for my mother's treatment, I sold my work to the person I used to despise the most, allowing her to make a big name for herself in the design industry with my work, and become a designer for MY Corporation!"

"If it hadn't been for the president of MY Corporation who found me later, I would still be drawing day and night for my mother's medical expenses. The stable life I have now is all due to my own efforts, what our boss gave me, what does it have to do with you?!"

Colin's face was filled with disbelief, his body slightly trembling.

"No! Impossible! When I left, I didn't take a penny with me. The Bynes family told me they would give you a sum of money to ensure you were provided for..."

Sophie sneered, "I've never seen a penny! Colin, it's one thing for you to steal the money, but to make up such lies now, are you trying to use me for something?!"

Chapter 630

Colin gritted his teeth, "I didn't lie to you, I really didn't take a penny from home! I've been working my ass off for the Bynes family all these years, just for you and mom. The people from the Bynes family also told me that they've been sending you money every year!"

Sophie looked at him coldly, "You said you didn't take the money, but the money disappeared, and I never received any money transferred from others. If neither of us is lying, then the Bynes family has deceived you!"

Each of her words was like a knife stabbing into his heart, each cut- drawing blood.

"No! Impossible! The Bynes family wouldn't have lied to me!"

"Hehe!"

Sophie looked at him as if he were a fool, "If you don't believe it, it doesn't matter. Anyway, the day you left home, I swore that we would no longer be siblings."

Colin didn't speak again, his face just remained very unpleasant.

In fact, he had already believed Sophie's words in his heart. If she really got the money, she couldn't possibly lie to him.

So there was only one possibility, the Bynes family was just using him and had never intended to take care of his family.

Thinking of this, Colin's hands involuntarily tightened, and a burst of hatred flashed in his eyes.

He had suffered so much over the years, all for the purpose of providing a better life for his mother and sister. Taking care of them was just a matter of words for the Bynes family, but they refused, even pushing his sister to the brink of despair.

The thought of having devoted himself to such a family filled Colin with such hatred and regret that it almost drowned him.

After an unknown period of time, Colin's eyes were bloodshot, and he said hoarsely, "Sophie, I'm sorry! I failed to take care of you and mom. The Bynes family deceived me, I won't let it go just like that!"

Sophie remained indifferent and silent. She had already endured the hardest times. Whatever Colin said at this moment couldn't turn back.

time, nor could it make the hurts she had suffered never have happened.

On the other side, the Bynes family.

Upon learning that the person who was taken away was Colin, Herbert angrily threw his cup and coldly asked, "Who arranged for Colin to carry out the mission in Bridenville?"

Among the few people kneeling before him, one of them stammered, "Mr. Bynes... it... it was me..."

No sooner had the words left his mouth than he was sent flying by a kick from Herbert.

The person who was kicked flew out like a kite with its string cut, heavily hitting the wall and spitting out a mouthful of fresh blood with a thud.

After falling to the ground, despite the pain distorting his face, he quickly endured the pain and got up to continue kneeling on the ground, otherwise his fate would be even worse!

"If such mistakes occur again in the future, commit suicide yourself, I don't want to dirty my own hands!"

After speaking, Herbert immediately stood up and left, his face frighteningly cold and grim.

It seemed that it was time to rearrange again.

Maxim had caught Colin, and he was certain he could get Colin to reveal that the Bynes family was behind everything, thus knowing that it was the Bynes family who wanted the key.

Now that we've stirred up the snake in the grass, we need to be even more careful in order to get the key.

However, the thought of the wealth and power he could obtain after getting the key filled Herbert's eyes with a light of determination!

The day after Sophie disappeared, Briana found out that she had been taken by Maxim's people.

She went directly to the Yoder Group to see Maxim, but Maxim refused to see her.

Briana gritted her teeth in anger. Maxim must have known why she was looking for him, and didn't want to get involved, which was why he refused to meet her.

Briana had been waiting downstairs at the Yoder Group for two days, but still hadn't seen Maxim. She had no choice but to go find Robin to inquire about Sophie's exact location.

Soon, upon seeing the message sent by Robin, Briana's face turned incredibly ugly.

Maxim had actually locked Sophie up!

What on earth did he want to do?!

Just after nine in the evening, Briana finally cornered Maxim at the entrance of Emerald Villa.
