

Fall for You 691

Chapter 691

“Were you a designer?”

“Um, I hadn’t been at Graceful Attire for very long.”

Michael was about to speak when he suddenly remembered the new colleague Katherine had told him about, the one who hit her. Could it be Briana Cameron?

“Ms. Cameron, my sister is also a designer, I don’t know if you know her, her name is Katherine.”

Briana Cameron put on a surprised look, pursed her lips and said, “I do know him, but we didn’t get along very well.”

Upon hearing this, Michael was even more certain that the ‘cheap woman’ Katherine was referring to was Briana Cameron.

His eyes darkened, he quickly said, “Katherine has been spoiled since she was a child. If she has offended Ms. Cameron in any way, please tell me, I will definitely discipline her!”

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, a trace of cold mockery flashing in her eyes.

“Mr. Marsh, to be honest, my relationship with your sister might be a bit complicated. She publicly accused me of plagiarism today. Later, Mr. Ayesa took a liking to my draft and appointed me as the chief designer for the Ayesa Group’s orders. She stormed into my office, accusing me of sleeping with Mr. Ayesa and even tried to hit me. I couldn’t stand it anymore and slapped her.”

Upon hearing this, Michael frowned. He was well aware of Katherine’s personality, and these words were completely in line with it.

“Ms. Cameron, I’m sorry, I hope you won’t take it to heart. I will definitely discipline her and won’t let her offend you like this again.”

Briana Cameron nodded with a faint expression, “Alright, as long as Ms. Marsh doesn’t bother me, I would be very grateful.”

The two of them exchanged a few more words, then the Cameron family’s driver approached Briana Cameron and said, “Miss, we need to go back. All four young masters are coming home for dinner tonight, and they are all waiting for you now.”

“Good.”

With an apologetic look on her face, Briana Cameron turned to Michael, “Mr. Marsh, I have to go now, we’ll talk next time.”

Michael had been watching Briana Cameron’s retreating figure until the Cameron family’s car left. Only then did he turn around and walk towards his own car.

Just as she got in the car, Katherine asked excitedly, “Bro, what were you saying to that bitch just now?! Did you threaten her to resign?!”

In the past, whenever Katherine complained to Michael about her unpleasant colleagues, Michael would resort to this method to force them to leave. If they refused to leave, he would harm their family members. After several threats and harassments, the colleagues Katherine disliked would resign and leave.

However, this time, Michael suddenly looked at her with a serious expression, “Katherine, you will apologize to Briana Cameron tomorrow!”

Katherine’s smile froze on her face, her eyes filled with disbelief.

“Bro, are you crazy?! Why would I apologize to that jerk?!”

Michael took a deep breath and said coldly, “Do you know who she is?!”

“Who else could she be, if not a cheap woman who pissed me off?!”

“Her father was named Sean, he was the president of the Cameron Group!”

“What?! How is that possible?!”

Katherine bit her lower lip hard, almost overwhelmed by jealousy and anger

Originally, it was thought that Briana Cameron was just a woman with no background, but surprisingly, she turned out to be the youngest daughter of the Cameron Group!

Then wouldn’t she be unable to do anything to this scoundrel in the future?!

“Bro! Even if she is the daughter of the president of the Cameron Group, she can’t just hit people. You and mom and dad never hit me when I was a kid, but she slapped me hard today. Look at the slap mark on my face!” Katherine said with a wronged expression, tears already welling up in her eyes.

What she said was indeed the truth. The slap mark on her face was still clearly visible at this moment, which showed that Briana Cameron had hit her with all her strength.

Michael also felt a bit heartbroken, his gaze darkening a bit.

“Katherine, I am currently pursuing her. If she marries me, the status of the Marsh family will rise with the tide. Not to mention Elliot, it’s even possible for you to marry into the Cameron family. So, in the future, you not only can’t go against Briana Cameron, but you also have to please her. Do you understand?”

Chapter 692

With a wronged expression, Katherine asked, “So, am I just supposed to let that slap from her go?”

Michael chuckled, his eyes filled with gloom.

“When she marries into our family in the future, you will have plenty of opportunities for revenge. After you’ve had your revenge, I’ll just need to soothe her.”

Upon hearing this, a smile finally appeared on Katherine’s face. She nodded and said, “Alright, brother, you better not defend her in the future!”

“Don’t worry, you are my sister. In my heart, you were always the most important.”

Katherine nodded, “Alright, rest assured, I will try my best to please her and create opportunities for you to meet.”

Michael smiled contentedly, “That’s my good sister!”

For Briana Cameron, he was bound to win!

Returning to the Cameron family, Briana Cameron saw that only her second older brother Roger was at home, everyone else was not around, a flash of confusion crossed her eyes.

“Second Brother, where are Eldest Brother, Third Brother, and Fourth Brother? Gunnar told me that you all would be coming back for dinner tonight.”

Roger closed the file in his hand, looked up at Briana Cameron and said, “They all left temporarily for company matters.”

He was dressed in a well-tailored black suit, his hair meticulously combed, the top button of his shirt fastened, and a pair of gold-rimmed glasses on his face, exuding an air of a refined rogue.

Disappointment flashed in Briana Cameron’s eyes as she nodded, saying. “Alright then.”

Roger raised an eyebrow, “Are you unhappy just because I’m the only one dining with you?”

“Of course, how long has it been since all five of us siblings had a meal together!”

Roger chuckled, a fond look flashing in his eyes, “Then you call them now. Once they receive your call, they’ll surely come back immediately.”

Briana Cameron shook her head, “No need, if they come back to have dinner with me, they’ll have to work late into the night.”

“The opportunity was given to you, it was you who gave it up.”

Seeing the teasing in Roger’s eyes, Briana Cameron looked at him somewhat discontentedly.

“Second brother, you just knew how to tease me!”

Roger didn’t deny it either, instead he asked her how her work at Graceful Attire had been these past few days.

“Except for an annoying colleague, everything else was pretty good.”

“Did you need my help?”

Briana Cameron waved her hand, “He’s just a jumping jack, there’s no need for you to step in, I’ve already taken care of it myself.”

Knowing she was not the type to be taken advantage of, Roger chuckled, “Alright, Elliot from Graceful Attire is quite capable. His design style is different from yours, but there’s a lot you can learn from him. I arranged for you to go to Graceful Attire because I wanted you to see his design style.”

“Um. I knew.”

“Let’s go, it’s time to eat. The kitchen made your favorite sweet and sour pork ribs today.”

Sean and Gemma were going to attend a banquet tonight, so they didn’t eat at home.

After finishing their meal, Roger left for work at the company after receiving a phone call Briana Cameron sat in the living room, watching TV and couldn’t help but sigh. Everyone in their family was a workaholic. Gemma too, had been in poor health in recent years and had only stepped down from the company.

However, thinking about the sense of accomplishment I could get from my work, I guess my older brothers and parents probably felt the same way.

As she was pondering, Briana Cameron’s phone suddenly rang

Upon seeing a Line friend request, she clicked to find that the other party’s Line name was Missing Briana, with a black profile picture. She didn’t accept, but instead replied asking who the other party was.

Soon, upon seeing the name Maxim, Briana Cameron couldn’t help but frown. How could this man be so persistent?

She felt that her attitude had been very clear that day. She didn’t want to be a stand-in, and besides, Maxim was not her type – cold and aloof. She might not even be able to eat in front of his face.

Chapter 693

After a few seconds of silence, she directly clicked reject.

Seeing that the other party didn’t continue to add her, she finally breathed a sigh of relief.

However, she suddenly remembered what Katherine had said in the meeting room today about the Cameron Group and the Yoder Group terminating their collaboration. As far as she knew, the Cameron Group had quite a few collaborative projects with the Yoder Group. If all were terminated, the loss to the Cameron Group would certainly be significant.

And she always felt that this matter was related to her.

Sean and Gemma didn’t return until after eleven o’clock at night.

Seeing Briana Cameron sitting on the sofa watching TV with a pillow in her arms, both of them were taken aback.

Gemma stepped forward, "Briana, why haven't you gone to bed yet."

"Dad, Mom, I was waiting for you."

"Waiting for us?"

"Mm-hmm."

Briana Cameron looked at Sean, pursed her lips and said, "Dad, I heard that the Cameron Group and the Yoder Group have terminated all their collaborations. Is this related to me?"

Surprise flashed in Sean's eyes as he quickly said, "Briana, you're overthinking it. The Cameron Group and the Yoder Group simply stopped cooperating because of differing philosophies."

Briana Cameron sighed, "Dad, do you realize that every time you lie, you unconsciously put your hand behind your back?"

"Ah?! Really?"

Sean quickly lowered his hands from behind his back, guiltily touching his nose.

Gemma on the side gave him an annoyed glance, knowing he was useless.

"Briana, don't worry about the things in the mall. Your dad must have his reasons for what he does. Don't overthink it."

Briana Cameron frowned, "Mom, if it's because Maxim mistook me for his ex-wife, I don't think it's necessary to terminate our collaboration with the Yoder Group and harm the company's interests. I've already made it clear to him today, I won't be with him..."

Before he could finish speaking, Sean suddenly raised his voice and said, "He came to see you again today!?"

Seeing Sean's excited expression, Briana Cameron had no doubt that if she said yes, he would immediately go to trouble Maxim.

"No, he went to our company to discuss cooperation with Mr. Ayasa today, and happened to meet him."

Sean snorted coldly, angrily saying, "Stay away from him if you see him in the future!"

Briana Cameron nodded, "Yes, I know, and he's not my type either. I'm even less interested in being a substitute for a deceased person. But I don't think it's worth terminating our collaboration with the Yoder Group over this."

After all, she was well aware that the living could never compete with the dead. She was unwilling and would not allow herself to live in the shadow of another woman for the rest of her life.

Sean and Gemma exchanged a glance, then quickly looked away from each other.

“Alright, your father knew what he was doing at the mall. We’ve been at a banquet all night and we’re tired. You should go rest. Don’t you have to work tomorrow?”

“Alright, Dad, Mom, you guys should go to bed early too.”

After Briana Cameron returned to her room, Gemma looked at Sean with a somewhat heavy expression, “Honey, I don’t think we can hide that matter for much longer. Maybe we should discuss terms with Maxim, see what it would take for him to stop bothering Briana.”

“His mood is unpredictable, I’m afraid he won’t easily agree. Let’s wait and see. If he dares to approach Briana again, I won’t let him off!”

Thinking of the hardships Briana Cameron had endured in Bridenville, Sean wished he could beat up Maxim. There was no way he would let him be with Briana Cameron again.

Gemma sighed, “There’s nothing else we can do...”

Early the next morning, as soon as Briana Cameron arrived at the company, Katherine approached her with a bouquet of roses, her face full of smiles.

“Ms. Cameron, this is the rose my brother asked me to give you. I was indeed wrong about what happened yesterday, I hope you can forgive me!”

Briana Cameron looked at her impassively. Katherine’s sudden change in attitude towards her must have been due to learning from Michael that she was a member of the Cameron family.

She gave a slight smile. “Thank your brother for his kindness on my behalf, but I’m allergic to pollen, so I won’t accept the flower.”

Chapter 694

Ignoring Katherine’s frozen face, Briana Cameron directly turned and walked into her own office.

Katherine inwardly cursed, her hand unconsciously tightening around the flower.

That bitch Briana Cameron must have done it on purpose. If it weren’t for the fact that she’s part of the Cameron family, she would have thrown the flowers at her just now!

She cast a cold glance at the onlookers, and said icily, “Are you all so idle? Don’t you have work to do?”

The person she saw quickly lowered his head, not daring to make eye contact with her at all.

Katherine snorted coldly, directly throwing the flowers into the trash can and turning to walk towards her own office.

After closing the door, Katherine immediately called Michael.

“Bro, that bitch Briana Cameron didn’t even accept your flowers, she claimed she was allergic to pollen!”

Michael chuckled lightly, slowly saying, “Katherine, it’s just a small matter, there’s no need to be angry. Now, I want to marry her, of course I have to coax her.”

Katherine snorted, “But I’m not satisfied. You’re my brother, Haseton. Who knows how many socialites want to be with you. What right does Briana Cameron have to be so arrogant!”

“Simply because she was a member of the Cameron family, this alone was enough to defeat those women who wanted to be with me.”

Moreover, Michael had never seen a socialite more beautiful than Briana Cameron. The moment he saw her, he made up his mind that he would definitely marry Briana Cameron.

“Alright, for your sake, I’ll tolerate her a bit longer. But don’t forget, you promised me that after marrying her, you would help me get my revenge.”

“Don’t worry, you’re my sister, of course I would help you.”

After pacifying Katherine, Michael finally hung up the phone.

Thinking of how Briana Cameron looked yesterday under the Graceful Attire building, he directly called his secretary.

“I cleared my schedule for tonight.”

In the evening, as Briana Cameron just stepped out of Graceful Attire, she saw Michael standing not far away, next to a low-key Range Rover.

Seeing Briana Cameron, a smile appeared on his face as he quickly walked towards her.

After he had positioned himself in front of her, Michael smiled and said, “Ms. Cameron, I would like to invite you to dinner tonight, to apologize on behalf of Katherine. I wonder if you are available?”

A flash of surprise crossed Briana Cameron’s eyes, then, as if thinking of something, she frowned and said, “Mr. Marsh, you’re not trying to pursue me, are you?”

Michael chuckled, “I thought my purpose was already quite clear.”

“Then I clearly told Mr. Marsh that I had no intention of dating at the moment, and I hoped that Mr. Marsh would not pester me.”

A shadow passed over Michael’s eyes, then he said with some sadness, “Why? Does Ms. Cameron dislike me?”

“This seems to have nothing to do with whether I like you or not, I just simply wanted to work well.”

Just as Michael was about to speak, a cold voice sounded beside the two of them.

“Mr. Marsh, Briana has already expressed her dislike for you. There’s no point in persisting, is there?”

Briana Cameron and Michael turned their heads at the same time, seeing it was Maxim, their reactions were completely different.

Michael looked surprised, 'while Briana Cameron seemed somewhat dissatisfied.

Was she familiar with him? Who allowed him to call himself Briana?

Michael quickly realized and looked at Maxim with a vigilant face, "Mr. Yoder, I am Ms. Cameron's suitor, I am just pursuing Ms. Cameron now, not harassing her as you said."

"Hehe, if I heard correctly, Briana just clearly rejected you, didn't she?"

The moment the words fell, Briana Cameron finally couldn't help but speak up: "Mr. Yoder, I don't seem to be familiar with you either, I hope you call me Ms. Cameron like Mr. Marsh does."

Meeting Briana Cameron's cold gaze, a hint of sadness flashed in Maxim's eyes.

"I knew."

Chapter 695

It was time to get off work, and there was a chance of running into her colleagues at any moment. Briana Cameron didn't want to continue the argument with the two, so she turned around and left directly.

Michael wanted to catch up, but was stopped by Maxim.

"Mr. Marsh, I hope you will stop pestering Briana, otherwise the cooperation between the Yoder Group and the Marsh Group may not be able to continue."

Michael's face stiffened, Maxim's words were like hitting him where it hurt most. But to give up on Briana Cameron just like that, he was not willing.

"Mr. Yoder, I liked Ms. Cameron, pursuing her was my freedom, you shouldn't have had the right to interfere, right?"

Maxim chuckled, his voice icy cold, "Indeed, I have no rights, but I do have the right to terminate my collaboration with the Marsh Group."

"You! Didn't you feel despicable behaving like this?!"

Maxim's expression was icy cold, "So what if it's despicable? If you're not afraid of the Marsh Group going bankrupt, then keep pestering Briana Cameron."

After speaking, Maxim left directly.

Returning to the car in a huff, Katherine quickly asked, "Brother, did you just have a conflict with Maxim?"

"No, go back."

Seeing his gloomy face, Katherine didn't dare to speak anymore. She sat quietly on the side, only hoping that her brother would calm down soon.

After all, her brother's anger was terrifying. She certainly didn't want to relive that terrifying experience.

Briana Cameron had arranged to have dinner with Astrid at a private restaurant. As soon as she got out of the car, she ran into Maxim, which made her frown involuntarily.

What bad luck, how could I see this man everywhere?

Seeing the disgust in her eyes, a hint of self-mockery flashed in Maxim's eyes. It seemed that her impression of him was not much better than that of Michael.

Briana Cameron was the first to look away, acting as if she hadn't seen him, and quickly turned around to walk into the restaurant.

Maxim followed behind her, his gaze on her made her feel like a thorn in her back, until she walked into the box, she felt the gaze on her disappeared.

Astrid had already ordered two dishes, handing over the menu to her while asking, "Why do you look so upset? Did something unpleasant happen at work today?"

"No, I just ran into an annoying person at the door."

She flipped open the menu and added two dishes and a dessert, then promptly handed the menu to the waiter.

"Right, the reason I asked you out for a meal today was because I needed your help with something."

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, "What's the matter?"

"You also knew that my company recently invested in a new play and needed a designer to design the costumes. But the designer we had booked suddenly became pregnant and went home to take care of her pregnancy. Now we can't find anyone, so I wanted to ask for your help."

"How many sets of clothes were needed?"

Astrid whispered a number, causing Briana Cameron to frown involuntarily. "I have a job now, I could use my off-work hours to draw design sketches, but I don't have time to go to the site to make modifications," she said.

"You don't need to worry about this. Our company has recently hired a few fashion designers. It might be difficult for them to design, but modifying the clothes is not a problem."

Briana Cameron nodded, her lips curling into a smile as she said, "Let's talk about the compensation then."

"A suit for one million, that was the highest price I could offer."

As she spoke, Astrid blushed a bit. After all, she knew that the cheapest of Briana Cameron's clothing designs cost more than a million. She quickly added, "After this show is broadcast, when I get my share of the profits, I'll give you half!"

Seeing the pained expression on Astrid's face, the smile on Briana Cameron's lips deepened a few degrees.

"Alright, no need for any dividends, consider it a friendship price. After all, you are my best friend!"

Upon hearing this, Astrid was visibly excited. If it weren't for the table in the way, she would have definitely rushed forward to hug Briana Cameron.

"Briana, I knew you were the best to me, accept my heart!"

Chapter 696

Briana Cameron looked disgusted, "You should save your heart for those handsome younger brothers."

"Hahaha, you truly are my good sister, knowing exactly what I was thinking."

"Alright, stop nagging. Remember to send me the script of that play. I'll design the costumes after I finish reading it."

Astrid nodded, "Alright, I'll send it to your email when I get back."

The two had finished eating, it was already two hours later.

While swiping the card at the front desk, a group of people happened to come down from the second floor. Leading them was Maxim, and the rest were the heads of families that Haseton had gradually developed over the years.

Briana Cameron couldn't help but frown, whispering, "I'll wait for you outside."

Without lifting her head, Astrid said, "Alright, I'll be right out."

Seeing the hurriedly departing figure, Maxim's eyes darkened a bit.

The way Briana Cameron avoided him like the plague made Maxim feel very uncomfortable.

When Astrid left the restaurant, Briana Cameron was leaning against the car, her eyes downcast, lost in thought.

She quickly walked up to her, smiling and said, "Why were you in such a hurry to come out just now? Did you see someone you didn't want to see?"

Briana Cameron couldn't help but roll her eyes at her, "No, I just felt a bit stuffy inside. It's getting late now, I'm going home first."

"Alright, be careful on the road, let me know when you get home."

"So were you."

On the way back, thinking of Maxim's aggressive gaze, Briana Cameron felt a wave of annoyance. She had clearly told herself not to care, but Maxim's image would still inexplicably pop up in her mind.

Just as Briana Cameron was lost in thought, a large truck suddenly came barreling towards her car.

When she realized it was too late to avoid it, she could only sharply turn the steering wheel, crashing hard into the guardrail on the side.

"Bang!"

Half of the car was already hanging over the edge of the cliff, while the other half was teetering precariously

The large truck was about to reverse and knock Briana Cameron's car off the cliff when several black sedans appeared from behind.

The driver glanced at the rearview mirror and immediately started the truck to leave.

Seeing an accident up ahead, Rayan quickly hit the brakes. After getting a clear view of the car teetering on the edge of the cliff, a flash of shock passed through his eyes.

"Mr. Yoder, the car involved in the accident ahead seemed to be Ms. Schneider's!"

Upon hearing this, Maxim's face changed immediately. He quickly pushed open the car door and walked over, only to find out that it was indeed Briana Cameron, which instantly changed his expression.

At that moment, the airbag had already deployed, Briana Cameron's face was covered in blood, she had fallen into unconsciousness.

"Rayan, call the ambulance!"

He walked over to the driver's seat, and after opening the door, he was about to lift Briana Cameron out when he realized her leg was stuck in the car.

After hanging up the phone, Rayan turned around and saw Briana Cameron's car leaking oil. He quickly said, "President, it's very dangerous here! Let's retreat to a safe place and wait for the ambulance!"

"No need, you step back first!"

While speaking, he didn't even glance at Rayan, approaching the driver's seat to pull Briana Cameron out of the car.

Seeing Briana Cameron's car leaking oil more and more seriously, and even starting to smoke, Rayan was filled with worry.

"Mr. Yoder, it's very dangerous now, you should retreat to a safe place first!"

Maxim turned a deaf ear and continued with his actions.

Rayan stared at his retreating figure, hesitated for a few seconds, then -gritted his teeth and rushed over to help.

Chapter 697

“Rayan, go back!”

He could risk his own life to save Briana Cameron, but he couldn't let Rayan also bear this danger.

“Mr. President, instead of criticizing me, you'd better hurry up and think about how to save Ms. Schneider!”

Hearing this, Maxim didn't waste any more time. After about ten minutes of effort, the two of them finally rescued Briana Cameron from the car.

However, just as he breathed a sigh of relief, Rayan smelled the scent of burning gasoline.

“President! Hurry and get Ms. Schneider out of here! The car is likely to explode!”

The two people supported Briana, quickly moving in the direction. away from the car.

Just a dozen meters away, a sudden explosion sounded from behind. The debris from the exploded car hit several people's backs. Rayan spat out a mouthful of fresh blood, and Maxim was hit until everything went black before his eyes, and he passed out directly.

When he woke up again, he found himself in the hospital. Maxim quickly sat up and got out of bed to look for Rayan and Briana Cameron. But as soon as he stood up, a sharp pain shot through his back, causing him to uncontrollably fall forward.

In the moment he fell, he reached out to grab the table beside the sickbed, knocking over the medicine and various bottles and jars on it.

The nurse pushed the door open and walked in, seeing Maxim in a disheveled state, she quickly stepped forward to help him onto the bed.

“Mr. Yoder, your injuries were severe. The fragments from the car explosion injured the nerves in your back and legs. You need to rest well, otherwise, there might be lingering effects.”

“How were the two people with me?”

“Don't worry, they are fine. They are still unconscious now, but they are expected to wake up in about an hour or two.”

Maxim's serious expression had noticeably relaxed a lot, and he also lay back down on the bed according to the nurse's words.

“Alright, where is my phone? Could you please hand me my phone?”

The nurse pulled open the drawer of the nearby cabinet and handed Maxim his phone.

“Mr. Yoder, I was going to clean up the ward first, feel free to tell me if you need anything.”

After getting his phone, Maxim immediately called the vice president of the Yoder Group, asking him to deliver the documents to the hospital for him to handle in the near future. Only then did Maxim dial another number.

“Look into Briana Cameron’s car accident, if I’m not mistaken, it should be man-made. I want the results within three days!”

***

Briana Cameron felt as if she had had a long dream, in which she seemed to have gotten married and deeply loved the man, but the man didn’t love her at all and always hurt her.

After waking up, she couldn’t help but feel that she was too humble in her dream. If the man she liked in reality treated her like this, she would have kicked him away long ago.

After forcing herself to stop thinking about the things in her dream, she slowly sat up and realized she was in a hospital room, immediately pressing the bell.

Soon, the nurse came over. Seeing that she was awake, she quickly said, “Ms. Cameron, do you feel uncomfortable anywhere? We have already contacted your family, they should be here soon.”

At first, all three of them were unconscious. Apart from Maxim, who often appeared on TV, they didn’t know Rayan and Briana Cameron. It was only after Maxim woke up just now and they asked him that they found out about Briana Cameron’s identity.

“Just felt a bit dizzy and nauseous.”

Her face was pale, with a bandage wrapped around her forehead. Her small, palm-sized face looked quite frail at the moment, resembling a sickly beauty, which made people feel heartache at just one glance.

“You hit your head during the car accident, and a mild concussion was detected during the examination. Everything is normal now. Do you feel uncomfortable anywhere else?”

Briana Cameron shook her head, “No more, by the way, who brought me to the hospital?”

The nurse was about to speak when the door to the ward was pushed open.

Gemma and Sean both had anxious expressions on their faces as they hurriedly walked in.

Upon seeing Briana Cameron in a hospital gown, looking pale, Gemma’s tears immediately fell.

“Briana, how did you suddenly get into a car accident? When your father and I received the news, we almost fainted from shock!”

Chapter 698

Meeting Gemma’s worried gaze, Briana Cameron shook her head, “Perhaps the road was too narrow at the time, so an accident happened unintentionally.”

She felt that this car accident was probably not an accident, but she didn’t want to worry her parents, so she didn’t tell the truth.

"Do you still feel uncomfortable anywhere?" Gemma asked her, her eyes red and full of concern.

"Just felt a bit dizzy, other than that, there were no issues."

"That's good, I was going to have Mrs. Wu bring over some chicken soup later."

"Good."

After confirming that Briana Cameron was really okay, Sean said, "I'm going to the doctor's office to ask about Briana's condition, you stay here with her."

Gemma nodded, "Okay."

After Sean left, Briana Cameron comforted Gemma for a while, and her emotions gradually stabilized.

"Briana, you should really consider getting a driver in the future. With Cheney and Elvis not by your side these past few days, such an incident occurred. I can't help but feel uneasy."

Briana Cameron also understood Gemma's personality, so she agreed.

"Alright, Mom, you can go back and rest with Dad later. I'll just find a caregiver to come over here."

Gemma looked at her irritably, "How could that be acceptable? I don't trust others to take care of you, I'll do it myself."

Briana Cameron was somewhat helpless, "Really, there's no need, and you don't even know how to take care of people."

Previously, Briana Cameron was hospitalized again due to illness. Gemma insisted on taking care of her personally, but she always messed up whatever she did. Briana Cameron was almost driven away by her.

Gemma apparently also remembered this matter and said awkwardly, "Alright then, but there's no need to hire a caregiver. I can just arrange for two of our housemaids to come and take care of you."

"Alright, we'll do as you say."

The two chatted for a while, and soon Sean returned, but his face looked somewhat unpleasant.

Seeing his serious expression, Gemma hurriedly asked, "What happened? What did the doctor say?!"

"The doctor said that hospitalization was necessary for at least a week."

Sean's expression was somewhat complex. When he had gone to the doctor's office earlier, he was told that it was Maxim and his secretary who had saved Briana Cameron. Moreover, his secretary was still unconscious, while Maxim had woken up.

He went straight to Maxim's ward, first thanking him for saving Briana Cameron, then immediately told him not to appear in front of Briana Cameron again. The favor that Briana Cameron owed, the Cameron family would repay on her behalf.

40 (Vouchers

Unexpectedly, Maxim turned out to be impervious, stating outright that this was a matter between him and Briana Cameron, and that he would personally seek her out in the future. This really infuriated Sean.

"Is it really going to take that long?!" Gemma exclaimed in shock.

Sean nodded, "Yes, because Briana hit her head during the car accident and suffered a mild concussion, she needs to be observed for a few more days."

"Alright, honey, should we invite some foreign doctors to examine Briana? I'm feeling a bit uneasy," she suggested.

Sean was silent for a few seconds, just about to agree, when Briana Cameron quickly said, "No need, I know my own body very well, there won't be any problems. Mom and Dad. you can go back and rest, you don't need to stay here, I also need to rest."

Gemma had intended to wait here for the maid to come before leaving, but unexpectedly, her husband spoke up, "Alright, then you rest well. Mom and Dad will come to see you tomorrow."

With a baffled expression, Gemma walked out of the ward with her husband and said irritably, "Sean, what's the matter with you today? Our daughter just had a car accident, and you're okay with leaving her alone in the hospital?!"

Sean's gaze was icy as he said in a low voice, "Do you know who saved Briana?"

"Who?"

"Maxim."

Upon hearing this, Gemma's face turned incredibly ugly, she gritted her teeth and said, "He really is a persistent ghost. Wasn't it enough to hurt Briana like that in the first place? Does he want to continue hurting Briana?!"

Sean sighed, "Even though the Cameron Group has already terminated all collaborations with the Yoder Group, it doesn't seem to have threatened Maxim. I think he still wants to keep in touch with Briana."

Chapter 699

Gemma's face turned livid with anger, she demanded, "Where is he now?! I'm going to find him immediately! I will definitely not let him get close to Briana again!"

If they hadn't let Briana Cameron return to Bridenville back then, they wouldn't have met at all, and Maxim could never have married Briana Cameron!

Seeing Gemma's angry face, about to storm off to find Maxim, Sean quickly grabbed her.

"We went back first, this matter needed to be discussed with a few sons. Besides, no matter how you put it, Maxim did save Briana's life, and he is still recovering from his injuries. If you go and trouble him now, what would people say about the Cameron family? How would they view Briana?"

"I didn't care about face or no face, I just wanted to protect my own daughter!"

Although Briana Cameron was adopted, she truly considered Briana Cameron as her own daughter. Thinking about the harm she had suffered, she still felt heartbroken.

"I knew, so I had to plan for the long term. Fortunately, I saw that Briana didn't seem to be interested in him for now. As long as we can get Briana a boyfriend as soon as possible, I don't believe he would dare to steal someone else's girlfriend!"

Upon hearing this, Gemma quickly nodded, "You're right, I'll continue to find suitable men for Briana when I get back, and let her continue dating as soon as she gets out of the hospital!"

"Mm-hmm."

In the ward, after Gemma and Sean had left, Briana Cameron suddenly remembered that she had intended to ask the nurse who had saved her, but had forgotten when they arrived.

Thinking of this, she rang the bell again.

Five minutes later, upon realizing that it was Maxim who had saved her, Briana Cameron was filled with shock and disbelief.

She didn't want to have anything to do with Maxim in the first place, and now she owed him such a big favor, how was she supposed to repay it?

Just as Briana Cameron was racking her brains on how to repay Maxim, Astrid burst through the door.

Seeing that Briana Cameron was not in any serious condition, she finally breathed a sigh of relief and went straight to sit by the bedside.

"Briana, weren't you always a good driver? How could you have had an accident halfway up the mountain? When I heard that your car almost fell off the cliff, I was scared to death!"

Seeing Astrid's face filled with lingering fear, Briana Cameron whispered, "Astrid, my car accident this time wasn't an accident, but deliberate."

"What?!"

Astrid looked shocked and angrily said, "Who dares to do such a thing? If I catch him, I will definitely not let him go!"

"Back then, I could feel that the truck deliberately hit me. Could you help me investigate whether the truck driver was instructed by someone else?"

Astrid frowned, "Why didn't you let the Cameron family investigate? Their intelligence network is better than mine, they probably could have found out in a few hours."

"I didn't want to worry them, and I hadn't offended anyone recently, so I was still doubtful about this matter and didn't dare to confirm it."

Astrid nodded, "Alright, I understand. I'll call someone to investigate immediately."

After making a call to her subordinate, Astrid turned to Briana Cameron and said, "You should take a good rest during this period. I'll have someone else handle the costumes for the play."

Briana Cameron couldn't help but chuckle, saying, "It's okay, I have to be hospitalized recently and can't go to work at the company. It's a good opportunity to design the clothes during this time."

"You were still injured, I didn't want others to accuse me of mistreating the wounded. You should have rested well these past few days."

"I was really fine, and besides, I had promised you. I couldn't just eat that meal for nothing."

"Alright, then I'll bring the script over to you tomorrow."

"Mm-hmm."

Astrid stayed a while longer, and left after the servant of the Cameron family came.

Briana Cameron called Elliot and told him about the car accident, asking for two weeks off.

What she didn't expect was that Michael found out about her car accident and hospitalization the very next morning, and he came over with a bouquet of flowers.

"Ms. Cameron, I heard you were injured, I rushed over immediately, how are you feeling now?"

Before Briana Cameron could respond, Gemma suddenly interjected from the side, "Young man, you look somewhat familiar. Are you the son of the Marsh family?"

Michael seemed to just notice Gemma beside him and quickly said, "Gemma, I'm sorry, I didn't notice you earlier, I was too worried about Ms. Cameron..."

Seeing the sincerity in his eyes, Gemma had a very good impression of him and smiled, saying, "It's okay, didn't you go to work today?"

Michael smiled sheepishly, "I just came to see Ms. Cameron, I'll head to the office later."

Gemma couldn't see it, it was obvious that Michael had feelings for Briana Cameron, it seemed like he wanted to pursue her.

Compared to Maxim, Michael was simply a much better choice.

She smiled and said, "I was just about to go down to buy breakfast for Briana, you guys chat."

After speaking, Gemma glanced at Briana Cameron and winked, saying, "Briana, I'm going to buy your favorite dumplings. It will probably take me half an hour to get back."

Catching her hint, Briana Cameron said somewhat helplessly, "Mom, I'm not that keen on the dumplings from that place. You can just buy something from the hospital downstairs."

"That won't do, I had to go first, call me if anything comes up."

As if afraid that Briana Cameron would say something else, Gemma quickly grabbed her bag and phone and left.

Briana Cameron: "

Michael, who was standing by the side, also noticed that Gemma was trying to set him up with Briana Cameron, and his smile became a bit more sincere.

After Gemma left, he set the flowers aside and sat down by the sickbed.

"Ms. Cameron, I know it's not quite appropriate to say this now, but ever since the day we first met on the blind date, I've been hopelessly in love with you. Could you give me a chance to pursue you?"

Briana Cameron was indifferent, showing no joy of being confessed to, her emotions barely fluctuated.

She was about to refuse when a surprised female voice suddenly came from the doorway.

"Mr. Yoder, were you here to see Ms. Cameron? Why didn't you go in?"

Upon hearing this, the two of them looked towards the door at the same time, and sure enough, they saw a tall figure standing there.

Maxim was also wearing the same patient uniform as Briana Cameron. His face was a bit pale, but it didn't diminish his handsomeness at all. The patient uniform on him didn't have the loose and sloppy feel that others had, instead, he wore it as if it was haute couture.

Briana Cameron sighed inwardly, indeed, attractive people would still look good even if they were wearing a sack.

However, sensing Maxim's cold gaze constantly on her, with his deep eyes unknowable as to what he was thinking, Briana Cameron couldn't help but purse her lips.

"Mr. Yoder, I heard it was you and your secretary who saved me. I was too dizzy yesterday and didn't get a chance to thank you. I didn't expect you to come over this morning. I'm very grateful for what happened yesterday..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Maxim interrupted her.

"What? Did Ms. Cameron get upset because she thought I interrupted Mr. Marsh's confession to you?"

As he spoke, Maxim slowly walked into the ward.

His aura was too overpowering. The originally spacious ward seemed much more cramped due to his arrival, especially his height of 1.85 meters, which gave people the feeling that even the ceiling had been lowered.

Briana Cameron was secretly annoyed, she felt that Maxim did it on purpose, he could have simply acted as if he had heard nothing.

Michael saw Maxim, a flicker of unease in his eyes, and forced a smile, saying, "I didn't expect that the person who saved Briana would be Mr. Yoder, I'm really grateful!"

A flicker of displeasure flashed in Briana Cameron's eyes when she heard him calling her name directly.

Maxim's expression was icy cold, showing no respect for Michael, "I saved her, what are you thanking me for?"

Michael's face changed instantly, and the smile on his face almost faltered.

"Briana was the person I liked, and of course, I was very grateful to her lifesaver."

Maxim chuckled lightly, "Right, I think I heard Mr. Marsh confessing to Ms. Cameron earlier. I wonder if Ms. Cameron plans to accept?"
