

Fall for You 701

Chapter 701

As his words fell, the entire ward fell into silence.

Michael's hand, hanging at his side, unconsciously clenched into a fist, his gaze also incredibly gloomy.

He confessed his feelings today, originally intending to let Briana Cameron understand his intentions. He didn't expect Briana Cameron to agree to him right away. However, after Maxim's interference, Briana Cameron was very likely to reject him!

Sure enough, the next second, Briana Cameron looked up at Michael.

"Mr. Marsh, thank you for your affection, but I recently had no plans to start a relationship."

Michael forced a smile and said, "It's okay, I'll be quietly by your side. I have a meeting at my company, so I have to go now. I'll come to see you again next time."

After speaking, Michael left in a hurry. If he had stayed any longer, he didn't know if Maxim would say something else that would embarrass him even more.

After the ward was left with only two people, Briana Cameron said calmly, "Mr. Yoder, thank you and your secretary for saving me. As a token of my gratitude, I will discuss with my father to continue the cooperation between the Cameron Group and the Yoder Group."

Maxim stared at her, saying word by word, "This is not what I wanted."

His gaze was too direct, filled with such deep affection that Briana

Cameron dared not meet it. She quickly averted her eyes, her heartbeat involuntarily skipping a few beats.

Realizing this, Briana Cameron couldn't help but feel secretly annoyed. Knowing full well that he was treating her as a substitute for his ex- wife, she still couldn't help but fall for him. It seemed she really needed to find a man.

"Mr. Yoder, this is the only way I can repay you. If you want something else, I'm sorry, but I can't provide it."

Detecting the coldness in her voice, a sense of loss flashed in Maxim's eyes.

"It's okay, I knew you didn't believe me at the moment, but I would show you my sincerity towards you gradually."

Briana Cameron sneered, "Mr. Yoder, while I appreciate your rescue, isn't it a bit shameless to take advantage of that? You're just treating me as a substitute for your ex-wife, but I won't be anyone's substitute. What I can do is to restore cooperation between the Cameron Group and the Yoder Group. However, if you need money, you can also name your price."

Maxim's eyes grew cold, he walked to the bedside, suddenly bending down close to Briana Cameron.

She was startled by his action, but she didn't back down, just stared at him coldly.

As the distance between the two of them grew closer, Briana Cameron also caught the scent of pine coming from him, and couldn't help but frown.

Even though I had never smelled this scent on anyone before, why did it feel familiar?

He stared into her eyes, chuckling lightly, "Money? How much do you think your life is worth?"

A flash of impatience flickered in Briana Cameron's eyes as she said coldly, "Mr. Yoder, do you find this amusing? It's true that you saved me, but there's no law that states that one must offer themselves to their savior, is there?"

No sooner had the words fallen than Maxim murmured, "So you've been thinking this far ahead? I just wanted you to give me a chance to get to know each other."

Seeing the teasing in his eyes, Briana Cameron frowned, "There's no need to understand, Mr. Yoder is not my type, I have no interest in getting to know Mr. Yoder."

"You hadn't even understood, how did you know you weren't interested?"

"Mr. Yoder, did you find this amusing?"

The disgust in her eyes was undisguised as she coldly said to him, "I detest persistent men the most, I hope Mr. Yoder can respect himself!"

He had said similar things to Briana before, but now that he was saying them to himself, Maxim finally understood how painful it was.

The heart felt as if someone was stirring it with a knife from the inside, causing so much pain that it was almost impossible to breathe.

"Briana....."

He reached out to touch Briana Cameron's face, but before he could, an angry voice came from behind him.

"Maxim! What were you doing to Briana?! Stay away from my daughter!"

Just as Maxim turned around, Gemma angrily threw the porridge she was holding at him!

Chapter 702

Maxim didn't dodge, and the bowl of scalding porridge hit him directly in the chest, instantly spilling white porridge all over his hospital gown.

Gemma hadn't expected that he wouldn't dodge, her face instantly turned incredibly ugly.

Maxim's expression was icy as he stared at Gemma, speaking deliberately, "Mrs. Cameron, out of respect for you being Briana's mother. I will let it slide this time, but if there's a next time..."

Gemma had also reacted by now, sneering, "What if there is a next time? Can you eat me? I warn you, don't appear in front of Briana again, otherwise the Yoder Group can forget about continuing to develop in Haseton!"

No sooner had the words fallen than Briana Cameron hurriedly said. "Mom, stop talking!"

Maxim had just saved her after all. Even though his intentions were not pure now, it was true that she owed him a huge favor. The way Gemma was treating him made her feel a pang of guilt.

Gemma glanced at Briana Cameron, saying irritably, "Once you're discharged, I'll arrange a blind date for you. You can't be with that heartless man!"

Maxim didn't speak again, he turned to look at Briana Cameron and said, "I'll come to see you again tomorrow."

After he left, Gemma immediately hurried to Briana Cameron's side, her face filled with worry as she asked, "He didn't do anything to you, did he?"

"No, don't interfere with my affairs with him in the future. I can handle it myself."

"If you really could handle it well, you wouldn't have let him step into this ward today."

Briana Cameron frowned, looking at Gemma with some confusion. "Mom, although Maxim treated me as a substitute for his ex-wife, you don't have to react so strongly, do you? It's as if he really did something to wrong me."

Gemma's face stiffened, then she said coldly, "Briana, you probably don't know about what happened three years ago. At that time, Maxim's ex-wife and his ex-girlfriend were both kidnapped by his cousin, who forced him to choose who to save. Maxim didn't even think before choosing his ex-girlfriend. What kind of good man do you think he could be?!"

Upon hearing these words, Briana Cameron felt a pang of pain in her heart and couldn't help but purse her lips.

Why did she feel a pang of pain in her heart upon hearing this? Was she also grieving for Maxim's deceased ex-wife?

However, it seemed that Maxim would rather save his ex-girlfriend than his wife, indicating that he probably didn't have much affection for his wife. Now, acting affectionate in front of her, he was likely just trying to climb up the Cameron family ladder.

Thinking of this, a wave of discomfort-like emotion welled up in her heart. She didn't know if it was for his deceased ex-wife or something else.

"Mom, I understood, I will keep my distance from him in the future."

Gemma snorted, "It's not about keeping a distance, it's about staying far, far away from him!"

Briana Cameron couldn't help but chuckle, "Alright, I understand. But you can't keep treating him like this. After all, he is the president of the Yoder Group. Offending him won't do our family any good."

Although the Cameron family was very powerful in Haseton, they couldn't afford to offend people casually, otherwise they might be retaliated against at any time.

"As long as he doesn't approach you, I would be polite to him."

Briana Cameron wore a helpless expression, "Anyway, I couldn't just take action recklessly. Once I did, I would be in the wrong."

She still needed to find an opportunity to personally apologize to Maxim for what happened today.

If this caused him to hate the Cameron family, it would have been a loss rather than a gain.

"Good."

After lunch, Gemma went back.

Briana Cameron was still bothered by the morning's events, so she went to Maxim's hospital room to apologize to him personally.

Just as I reached the door, I heard a woman's voice coming from inside.

"Maxim, this is the seafood porridge I just made. The doctor said you can't eat too greasy food recently, try it."

The next second, Maxim's cold voice rang out.

"Pack up the things you brought and leave. Don't bother coming back in the future, I don't want to see you."

His voice was filled with coldness, even through a door, Briana Cameron could feel his indifference towards that woman.

Chapter 703

"Maxim.....I....."

"Don't make me say it a second time, Kiley. Have I indulged you too much over the years, to the point where you think I would give you a chance to be with me?!"

The ward fell silent for a moment, followed by the sound of a woman's sobbing.

Briana Cameron was hesitating whether to leave or not, after all, Maxim's relationship with that woman seemed to be not simple.

Suddenly, the door to the sickroom was pushed open, and a woman carrying a lunch box walked out.

After the two collided face to face, both of them had shock and disbelief in their eyes, and there was a faint hint of fear in Kiley's eyes.

"Briana?! You... you're not dead?!" The lunch box in her hand dropped to the ground as she unconsciously stepped back, her eyes filled with terror.

Briana Cameron looked at her, who looked almost identical to herself, with wide-eyed shock. However, when she heard her call herself Briana, she couldn't help but frown, "Miss, you've got the wrong person. I'm not Briana, I'm Briana Cameron."

Kiley stared at her intently, his eyes full of disbelief, "You...you're not dead?"

Over the past few years, Kiley had almost daily imitated from Briana's photo, a face she would never forget, even if it turned to ashes!

This despicable person actually didn't die, and even acted as if he didn't know her!

Briana Cameron's expression was icy, instinctively disliking the woman in front of her. Just as she was about to speak, Maxim's figure suddenly appeared behind Kiley.

"How did you come?"

The gaze Maxim cast on her held a hint of anticipation. Briana Cameron responded with a calm demeanor, "Mr. Yoder, I came to see you about this morning's incident. My mother was too emotional at the time. I apologize on her behalf and hope you can forgive her."

Upon hearing this, a hint of disappointment flashed in Maxim's eyes. He laughed at himself mockingly, how could he have thought that she came over because she was worried about him.

"I understood, do you have anything else?"

Noticing his somewhat cold demeanor, Briana Cameron pursed her lips, "That's all, Mr. Yoder. Take good care of yourself. I will cover the medical expenses for you and your secretary. After you are discharged from the hospital, I will invite you to dinner to properly thank you."

Maxim didn't speak again, his gaze lowered, lost in thought.

It wasn't until Briana Cameron's figure disappeared around the corner that Kiley looked at Maxim in shock and said, "Maxim, that woman is your sister, isn't she? She's not dead?!"

Maxim gave her a cold glance, his voice devoid of any warmth, "You seem quite unhappy to see her alive.

"How...how could this be?"

Kiley forced out a weak smile, "My sister and I are siblings... and I feel guilty about what happened three years ago. I'm glad to see her alive... but why does she act like she doesn't know me?"

"It's none of your business, stop bothering her, she's someone you couldn't afford to mess with now!"

Leaving the hospital, Kiley hadn't yet recovered from the shock that Briana was still alive, and immediately called Mallory.

"Mom, sister... she... is still alive..."

Hearing this, Mallory was also incredibly shocked, but she had no mind to deal with Briana at the moment.

“Kiley, you might have seen it wrong. How could someone who’s been dead for three years possibly be alive? I have something going on here, I have to hang up now.”

After hanging up the phone, Mallory picked up the dark prenatal vitamins from the edge of the table and downed them all at once.

She had finally managed to conceive again, and had already seen a doctor for confirmation. The child was a boy. As long as she gave birth to the child, Zane would definitely not go to that little tramp Sabina again!

Thinking of this, a hint of ruthlessness flashed in her eyes.

Although that little bastard had become stupid, Sabina had been seeking medical treatment for him over the years, and now there was a trend towards normalcy. She absolutely couldn’t let Sabina succeed!

Just as the bowl was put down, Zane walked into the bedroom, still holding a plate full of candied fruits and other dried fruits in his hand.

Seeing that Mallory had already taken the medicine to prevent miscarriage, Zane’s eyes were full of tenderness, “Mallory, you’ve worked hard. Have some candied fruit.”

Chapter 704

Since his affair with Sabina was exposed, he had not spoken to himself in that tone.

Mallory took the preserved fruit, whispering, “Zane, you’ve worked hard.”

“It wasn’t hard. Once you gave birth to the child, I gave him half of my shares.”

When she went to see the doctor for a check-up, Zane also went with her. After finding out it was a son, his attitude towards her underwent a complete 180-degree change.

Mallory nodded, “Alright, Sabina and Victor, what are you planning to do?”

Mentioning Sabina, a flash of disgust crossed Zane’s eyes. Ever since Victor became foolish, Sabina had been blaming Kiley and Mallory every day. At first, Zane was able to patiently comfort her, but as time went on, he became increasingly annoyed with her.

Zane had wanted her to have another child for him, but Sabina had never become pregnant. Plus, she mostly complained to Zane, accusing him of not avenging Victor. Now, Zane didn’t even want to see her.

“Once the child in your belly was born, I sent Victor and Sabina away, never to see them again!”

Mallory looked at his ruthless appearance, her heart couldn’t help but feel cold. She couldn’t help but wonder, if it wasn’t for that little bastard’s stupidity, if Sabina hadn’t become infertile, would there still be a place for her and Kiley in this family?

“Right, about my pregnancy, I plan to tell Kiley. When do you think would be a good time to tell her?”

The baby in her belly was just over two months old, so it was still a secret to the outside world.

Aside from a few trustworthy servants and their spouses, no one knew yet.

“She was in Haseton now, it would be better not to tell her about this yet, let’s wait until the baby is born. You’re carrying a boy, if Kiley thinks that her brother is going to compete with her for the Schneider family’s inheritance, she might not want this baby to be born.”

Mallory frowned, “Kiley would never do such a thing! I raised her single-handedly, I know her character best, and she’s already with Maxim now, how could she possibly be interested in the Schneider family’s property!”

Zane was silent for a moment, then slowly said, “Alright, you choose the time to tell her, but you have to wait at least until the child is about four months old to tell her!”

“Good!”

On the other side, after Mallory hung up the phone on Kiley, she had a strange feeling in her heart.

Mallory disliked Briana so much, how could she react so indifferently upon knowing she was still alive.

However, she didn’t think much about it, immediately hired a private detective, and asked him to investigate why Briana hadn’t died.

Just after she got home, the private detective sent her a file.

Kiley quickly read through the information that the private detective had found. The woman who had appeared at Maxim’s hospital room door today was named Briana Cameron. She was the only daughter of the Cameron family in Haseton. She had always been an excellent student and had gone abroad to study three years ago, only returning recently.

After reading, Kiley’s eyes were filled with jealousy and resentment. This Briana Cameron must be Briana, she just didn’t expect this bitch to be so lucky. Not only did she not die, but she also became the daughter of the Cameron family!

Thinking about how she had been getting plastic surgery to look like her for the past few years, and was about to be with Maxim, only for her to suddenly appear halfway, Kiley just couldn’t suppress the hatred in her heart!

She was determined to kill Briana Cameron!

Briana Cameron was also curious about Kiley and immediately had someone investigate her.

After receiving Kiley’s information, she found out that Kiley was the twin sister of Maxim’s ex-wife, and also the so-called ex-girlfriend of Maxim.

The private detective had returned her Briana’s information. Looking at the face so similar to her own, Briana Cameron still found it too coincidental. Could there really be such coincidences in the world?

But if she was Briana, it didn’t make sense just based on memory alone. Her memory had no issues, all her memories from childhood to adulthood were coherent, there was no chance of any problems.

After a moment of silence, Briana Cameron still decided to give Gemma a call.

“Mom, I am Briana, right?”

Her words startled Gemma, and it took a while before Gemma hurriedly said, “Briana, what nonsense are you talking about? You are my daughter, you have nothing to do with that Briana.”

“I had already regained my memory.”

No sooner had the words fallen than a wave of silence came from the other side.

Briana Cameron’s heart gradually sank, she knew very well what Gemma’s silence meant.

Chapter 705

“Mom, why did you lie to me? Why did you erase my memory?”

“I was about to make a quick trip to the hospital.”

After speaking, Gemma hung up the phone.

Briana Cameron pursed her lips, casually set her phone aside, her eyes filled with confusion.

She was just testing Gemma a moment ago, only she didn’t expect her to actually be Briana. Yet, she had no memory of Briana in her mind at all.

She didn’t want to be Briana, but she wanted to figure out what exactly had happened three years ago.

After a long hour, Gemma and Sean finally pushed open the hospital room door.

Seeing Briana Cameron sitting on the hospital bed, looking at them with a pale face, Gemma couldn’t help but feel a pang in her heart, her eyes also reddening.

“Briana.....”

1

“Mom, what exactly happened, why did I lose my memory?”

Gemma walked over and sat by the hospital bed, about to speak, when Sean turned to Briana Cameron and said, “Briana, you were lying about regaining your memory, weren’t you?”

Briana Cameron gave a bitter laugh, “Dad, I knew I couldn’t fool you, but I had to know the truth.”

Sean sighed, looking at Gemma and said, “You tell her.”

They hadn’t planned to keep this a secret forever, they just didn’t expect her to meet Maxim so soon.

Gemma sighed slowly, “Briana, you were indeed a Schneider before...”

It took Gemma a full hour to finish recounting Briana Cameron’s previous experiences.

After hearing this, Briana Cameron's face turned even paler. She couldn't help but say, "Did I really like Maxim that much before, and was I really that humble?"

Looking back now, she simply couldn't understand her past behavior. If the man she liked didn't like her back, why not just find someone else who did? Why did she have to humiliate herself by clinging to him?

Gemma nodded, "Yeah, but it's all in the past now. If you want those old memories, you can have them too..."

Briana Cameron hastily said, "No, I don't want them, those memories, even if I get them back, they would only disgust me."

Her life was very happy now, and she didn't want to revolve around a man anymore.

Hearing this, Gemma finally breathed a sigh of relief, "Briana, I'm glad you think so."

She had originally prepared for Briana Cameron wanting to regain her memory, intending to persuade her earnestly.

Briana Cameron laughed, "Mom, don't worry, I'm not that naive anymore."

40 Vouchers

Neither of them noticed that a tall figure was standing outside the ward at that moment, and he heard their entire conversation.

Maxim's hand slowly tightened around the doorknob, the pain in his heart nearly crushing him. He realized how painful it was to love someone who didn't love him back...

At that time, she had loved herself unconditionally for so many years, there must have been more such painful moments.

He just didn't expect that when he loved her the most, she only wanted to break off their relationship.

After standing at the door for a while, Maxim turned around and returned to his own ward.

He walked very slowly, each step heavy, his retreating figure exuding a sense of desolation.

Over the next few days, Briana Cameron was recuperating in the hospital ward. After learning that Rayan had woken up, she visited Rayan once.

The Cameron family gave many thank-you gifts to Rayan and Maxim, but Maxim refused to accept them, insisting that Briana Cameron should thank him personally. After learning about this, Briana Cameron told the Cameron family not to interfere anymore, as she would handle it.

On the day of discharge, Briana Cameron went to find Maxim.

"Mr. Yoder, I already knew about my past as Briana, but I don't intend to keep arguing with you. Whatever you want in return, I hope you think it through and call me."

Chapter 706

"I didn't want anything, I just hoped that you could give me another chance to pursue you."

A flash of disgust passed through Briana Cameron's eyes as she said coldly, "I won't give you another chance to hurt me. It's okay if you don't know what you want now, Mr. Yoder. Take your time to think, and let me know when you've made up your mind."

After speaking, Briana Cameron immediately turned around and left.

She went to Rayan's ward, and Rayan was also preparing to be discharged. He looked surprised when he saw her.

"Ms. Cameron, how did you come over?"

Briana Cameron chuckled, "I'm being discharged today, came to see you and to thank you."

"No need to be so polite, the Cameron family had already given me many gifts as thanks."

"That's different, if it weren't for you and Mr. Yoder this time, I would have definitely perished in the fire. I owe you a favor. If there's anything you need my help with in the future, please be sure to contact me."

Rayan was somewhat taken aback, nodding and saying, "Okay."

"Then I won't bother you anymore, goodbye."

After leaving Rayan's ward, Briana Cameron went straight back to the Cameron family.

Just as I entered the villa, I saw Sean and Gemma sitting on the sofa with serious expressions.

"Dad, Mom, what happened? Why do you look so serious?"

Gemma waved at her, "Briana, the details of your car accident have been figured out. The person who harmed you was a business competitor of your father's. He had been unable to find an opportunity to harm your father, so he had his subordinates target you instead. Now, he has been arrested and is in police custody. You don't have to worry anymore."

Briana Cameron frowned, a flash of confusion in her eyes, "I just returned to the country not long ago, how did my father's competitors know about my existence?"

A smile flashed across Gemma's face as she sighed, "He has someone keep an eye on the Cameron family. He started making me follow you since the day you returned to the country."

That reason did make sense, although Briana Cameron felt something was off, she didn't continue to question it.

"Alright, I understood. I would be more careful when I go out in the future."

After Briana Cameron-said, "Can't we re

her life!"

So

airs, Gemma lowered her voice and investigate this? Briana almost lost as he said coldly, "If I can't investigate openly, › in secret. I will definitely find the person who is in Briana!"

believe a single word of the investigation results and the given by the police. That competitor must have been instigated someone, and the person behind it was targeting Briana Cameron

Gemma pursed her lips, "Bring Cheney and Elvis back as soon as possible. They were conveniently absent when Briana had her incident. I suspect there's a traitor in the Dragon Group."

Her face was icy cold. If it hadn't been for her previous injury and poor health, she would definitely still be working at the Cameron Group with her husband and son. In the past, Gemma's decisiveness and efficiency had made everyone in the company tremble in fear. The team she led was also the most efficient in the company.

"Um. I've already had someone investigate it. We should be able to identify the traitor soon."

Neither of them said anything more. Sean went to work in the study, while Gemma went back to her room to rest.

On the other hand, the person Maxim had sent out also came back to report the investigation results.

Upon hearing that the person who attacked Briana Cameron was a competitor of the Cameron Group, and that they had already been arrested, he said coldly, "Since they've been arrested, they don't need to come out again."

"Yes, Mr. Yoder, I knew what to do

After his subordinates left, Maxim's cold gaze turned towards the window, and the words Briana Cameron had said to him that day surfaced in his mind again.

He gave a bitter laugh. He had just found out that she wasn't dead and hadn't yet emerged from the immense joy, when she made it clear that she wouldn't give him a chance to pursue her again. He really was a failure.

But regardless, he would not give up easily.

In this lifetime, he had set his heart on her. The person who ended up spending the rest of their life with her could only be him

Chapter 707

***

In the evening, Briana Cameron called Astrid to come and pick up the completed design drawings.

After looking at those design drawings, Astrid's eyes were filled with surprise and excitement, and she couldn't help but hug Briana

Cameron tightly.

"Briana, you really are amazing, I admire you so much!"

Briana Cameron pushed her away and said, "Alright, you better go now, it's getting late."

"Alright, by the way, during the post-production, if you have time, you could come to visit the set. We've invited two award-winning actresses for this drama, they will be playing against each other, it's going to be really exciting!"

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, "Letting me come over to play was a pretense, the real purpose was to have me alter the clothes, wasn't it?"

Astrid squinted and smiled, "How could it be? I really just wanted to invite you to have fun, but it would be even better if you could help the actors modify their costumes. After all, you designed the costumes. If you see the actors, you would know which direction to modify even if changes are needed."

"Alright, I understand. I will definitely come over when I have time."

"Alright, then I'll go back first."

Briana Cameron rested at home for a few more days, then returned to continue working at Graceful Attire.

Just as she returned to the company, Elliot handed her several documents, "Ms. Cameron, the costumes for these projects need to be completed within a month, do you think you can do it?"

Briana Cameron glanced at the workload and said, "It's possible."

"Alright, you'll have to work hard for a while. There will be bonuses after these projects are completed. I will apply to the vice president for you to take a few days off then."

"Then I thanked Mr. Murphy in advance."

Elliot chuckled, raising an eyebrow, "Ms. Cameron, I have high hopes for you, don't let me down!"

"I would strive not to let down Mr. Murphy's expectations."

"Go to work."

Briana Cameron had just stepped out of the office when she bumped into Katherine, who was looking for Elliot.

Seeing the several documents in Briana Cameron's hand, a flash of jealousy and anger crossed Katherine's eyes. She then smiled and said, "Ms. Cameron, you just got back and Mr. Murphy has already assigned you so much work. That's really inhumane. If you feel troubled, I can speak to Mr. Murphy for you..."

Before the sentence was finished, it was coldly interrupted by Briana Cameron, "Thank you for Ms. Marsh's kindness, but it's not necessary."

Not bothering to see what expression Katherine had, Briana Cameron directly bypassed her and quickly walked away.

Katherine turned her head and stared intently at Briana Cameron's retreating figure, her eyes filled with malice. She had already humbled herself to beg for peace with Briana Cameron, but this despicable woman still acted high and mighty. She must teach her a lesson!

Since she loved to be in the spotlight so much, this time she was allowed to shine in front of the business partners and other designers!

Returning to her office, Briana Cameron opened the file and carefully reviewed it for a while. She prioritized several projects based on their urgency, starting with the most urgent ones.

The first project was the design of formal wear for a fashion show next month. Many famous design brands from Haseton would participate in this fashion show. If the design could attract attention at the show, it would be very beneficial for both the company and the individual designer's exposure.

This fashion show was mainly aimed at attracting some high-end brands and collaborations. Once approved, Graceful Attire's clothing would reach a new level.

Just now in Elliot's office, he clearly stated that not only would he let her produce the design drawings, but he would also give other designers the opportunity. In the end, the design drawings to be taken to the fashion show would be chosen through company decisions.

Briana Cameron was not worried about losing to others, after all, she was confident in her own design.

Pushing aside the other chaotic thoughts in her mind, Briana Cameron began to conceptualize the design.

She was focused, and quickly, several design sketches appeared under her pen, each with its own unique features, making them unforgettable at a glance.

Before she knew it, it was noon. As soon as Briana Cameron put down her pen, her phone rang.

Chapter 709

Watching her speak so confidently, Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, "Did I ask you to kneel? All I said was to tell your brother to stop bothering me. You think you can morally kidnap me by kneeling in front of others? Unfortunately, I don't have such a thing as morality. You'd better use these thoughts on your design drawings."

As her voice trailed off, the elevator arrived.

Briana Cameron didn't even glance at Katherine, who was frozen in place, and went straight into the elevator.

Katherine lowered her head, her hand at her side unconsciously tightening.

She wouldn't let this matter go just like that!

In the afternoon, Briana Cameron and Katherine suddenly trended on Twitter.

#The designer forced his colleague to kneel on the spot in the cafeteria#

#WorkplaceBullying#

The two trending topics were both photos of Katherine kneeling in front of Briana Cameron, coupled with Briana Cameron's indifferent expression at the time, everyone started to criticize Briana Cameron online.

The news quickly reached Graceful Attire, and Elliot called over Katherine and Briana Cameron.

"Explain what exactly happened in the cafeteria at noon today?"

Elliot's gaze fell on Katherine, his eyes full of coldness.

Katherine felt incredibly wronged by his gaze, and her eyes immediately turned red.

"Mr. Murphy, the cause of this incident was that my brother sent a message to Ms. Cameron. When Ms. Cameron didn't respond, he asked me to inquire if she disliked him. However, Ms. Cameron refused to acknowledge me. I thought she was still angry about the previous incident, so I knelt down and begged for her forgiveness. I have no idea who took a picture of it and posted it online."

Upon hearing this, Elliot furrowed his brow and turned to Briana Cameron, saying, "Ms. Cameron, is what Ms. Marsh said true?"

Briana Cameron nodded indifferently, "Hmm, but I didn't ask her to kneel. She was just being overly sentimental."

Katherine exploded in an instant, turning her head to Briana Cameron and angrily said, "If you really weren't angry, you should have stopped me the moment I said I would kneel. You didn't stop me, and now you're playing innocent here?!"

Briana Cameron scoffed. "Why should I stop you? If you want to kneel, then kneel. What does it have to do with me? Do you think that if you kneel. I must hypocritically say it doesn't matter? You've got some nerve!"

Briana Cameron was never a good person to begin with, and if Katherine wanted to degrade herself, she couldn't be bothered to stop her.

"You!"

"Enough!"

Elliot interrupted her, saying coldly, "I understand this matter. I will inform the company's Public Relations Department. How they handle it is their business, you should not respond in any way!"

Katherine snorted coldly, angrily saying, "Elliot, I think you're just bewitched by her! That's why you're always taking her side!"

After speaking, she turned around and stormed off immediately.

Elliot frowned, somewhat embarrassed as he looked at Briana Cameron and said, “Ms. Cameron, Ms. Marsh has been spoiled at home, please don’t take it to heart.”

Briana Cameron chuckled and nodded, saying, “Mr. Murphy, rest assured, as long as she doesn’t provoke me. I won’t do anything to her

The implication was that if Katherine dared to pull any tricks, she wouldn’t let her off easily.

Elliot was somewhat helpless, “Alright, I understand. You go to work.”

Briana Cameron didn’t say anything else, she turned around and left directly.

The public relations speed of Graceful Attire was very fast. In less than an hour, they had Twitter remove the trending topic, and other hot discussions were simply handled coldly.

Just when everyone thought the heat was gradually subsiding, a trending topic suddenly dropped from the sky. The content was all about evidence of how Katherine used to bully her colleagues and drive away those she didn’t like.

Netizens who were just sympathizing with Katherine suddenly became angry. They originally thought they were standing up for a poor person who was being bullied in the workplace, but they didn’t expect that the person was actually the one bullying others in the workplace!

“Damn it, I’m really freaking out right now! How can there be such disgusting people? They are clearly the perpetrator, yet they pretend to be the victim to gain sympathy!”

“Judging from what she had done in the past, she was not the type to kneel in public at all. It seemed that this time she knelt deliberately, with the purpose of driving that female colleague away!”

“No wonder that young lady looked so indifferent. It seemed she had known her true colors for a long time, so she didn’t want to bother with her! Katherine was nothing more than a clown!”

Chapter 710

Seeing those netizens mocking her online, Katherine was almost driven mad. She had been the center of attention wherever she went since she was a child. When had she ever been subjected to such insults?!

Now, because of Briana Cameron, she had become the object of everyone’s ridicule.

It was all because of Briana Cameron that she lost face and was scolded so harshly!

“Buzz buzz buzz!”

Seeing it was Michael’s call, she answered and began to speak in a wronged tone, “Bro, I don’t want to please Briana Cameron anymore...”

No sooner had the words fallen than Michael’s angry voice came over. “What the hell is going on with you?! Is this how you please Briana Cameron, as I asked you to?!”

Katherine was already very upset, and now, with Michael’s shout, she suddenly burst into tears.

“Bro, on what grounds are you yelling at me?! I didn’t do anything with the photos?! Didn’t you see that everyone online is cursing me?! I knelt down to her just to prevent her from ignoring you because of me, but instead of comforting me, you are now questioning me! I won’t bother with you anymore!”

After speaking, Katherine hung up the phone.

Michael called again, but she ignored him and eventually turned off her phone.

On the other side, Briana Cameron saw the negative information about Katherine on the internet and immediately called Thomas.

“Third Brother, were those things on the internet done by you?”

“What’s the matter? I am in Serendelle, what happened?”

A flicker of confusion passed through Briana Cameron’s eyes, wasn’t it Thomas? Then who else could it be?

The eldest brother was focused on scientific research and wouldn’t have time to pay attention to such entertainment gossip. The second brother was in politics and would be even less likely to do such a thing. The fourth brother was still pursuing his doctorate and probably wouldn’t do such a thing. As for Sean, he was busy with meetings every day and wouldn’t even see these messages online.

But those scandals about Katherine were clearly released intentionally by others, otherwise the Marsh family would have suppressed them by now.

Suddenly, a name popped into Briana Cameron’s mind.

After hesitating for a few seconds, she still contacted Rayan.

“Rayan, I wanted to ask, were those negative things about Katherine on the internet done by Mr. Yoder?”

Rayan chuckled, “Yes, but how did you guess, Ms. Cameron?”

Having received a positive answer, Briana Cameron couldn’t muster a shred of happiness in her heart.

She pursed her lips, whispering, “Rayan, could you please tell Mr. Yoder to stop interfering with this matter? I can handle it myself.”

There was silence for a few seconds over there, but the voice that came again was not Rayan’s.

“Briana, anyone who has hurt you should pay the price!”

Briana Cameron furrowed her brow, her voice growing cold, “Mr.

Yoder, we have no relationship whatsoever anymore. I hope you won’t meddle in my affairs in the future!”

“Sorry, I couldn’t do it.”

Although it was an apology, Briana Cameron couldn't detect a hint of remorse in his tone.

She took a deep breath and slowly said, "Mr. Yoder, no matter how much you do for me, I will not get back together with you. Don't do useless things."

"It might have been useless to you, but it meant something to me. I couldn't just stand by and watch others bully you."

Seeing that talking was getting her nowhere, Briana Cameron didn't bother to continue arguing with him.

"Whatever you want!"

After speaking, she immediately hung up the phone.

Throwing her phone angrily on the table, Briana Cameron took several deep breaths before she could barely calm down.