

Fall for You 781

Chapter 781

As soon as these words were spoken, everyone's gaze instantly focused on Briana Cameron.

Contempt, mockery, disdain, all kinds of emotions were present.

Kiley stepped forward, her face filled with sorrow, and said, "Ms. Cameron, if you really took Mrs. Sullivan's necklace, please bring it out now. After all, the necklace isn't worth much, but it holds a different significance for her."

Briana Cameron sneered, "Isn't that just you being certain that I stole the necklace?"

Kiley furrowed her brow and pursed her lips, saying, "That's not what I meant, I was just worried for Mrs. Sullivan."

Just then, the woman beside Kiley spoke.

"Just now, everyone was helping Mrs. Sullivan look for her necklace, and only you sneaked off to the bathroom. Who else could it be but you?"

Briana Cameron's expression was icy cold, "Is it even illegal to go to the bathroom?"

"Going to the bathroom certainly wasn't illegal, but stealing was definitely against the law."

"Yeah, she might have hidden the necklace in the bathroom under the guise of going to use it."

"I really didn't expect Ms. Cameron to be that kind of person."

"I didn't necessarily think that Ms. Cameron stole the necklace. After all, the Cameron family is so wealthy, why would she resort to theft for a single necklace?"

"Hehe. you wouldn't know this, but some people are just mentally disturbed. Even if they have a lot of money, they still enjoy stealing. They simply enjoy the thrill that the process of stealing brings."

Everyone looked at Briana Cameron with utter contempt, as if it had already been confirmed that she was the thief who stole Mrs. Sullivan's necklace.

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow and chuckled, "Since you all believe I stole it, please present your evidence."

No sooner had the words fallen than a woman in a blue dress suddenly stepped forward, pointing at her bag and saying. "Briana Cameron, I just saw you sneak Mrs. Sullivan's necklace into your bag. A simple search of your bag will reveal whether or not you stole that necklace!"

Briana Cameron knew this woman. She had just gone to the bathroom and was bumped by this woman when she came out to wash her hands.

At that time, the woman even apologized to him. Now thinking about it, she must have secretly put the necklace into her bag then.

Seeing Briana Cameron remain silent, a cold smirk appeared on Kiley's lips: "Ms. Cameron, if you want to prove your innocence, please open your bag and let us see. If the necklace wasn't stolen by you, I can apologize to you in public."

"Originally, I didn't want to resort to this method either, but Mrs. Sullivan's necklace holds extraordinary significance. If it were lost, she would definitely be very upset."

"Yeah, if you really didn't steal anything, just open the bag and let us have a look. There's no harm in looking."

"Hehe, someone might be feeling guilty now, look at her, the fingers clutching her bag have already started to turn white."

"From my perspective, she must have been the one who stole it."

Everyone was talking at once, looking at Briana Cameron with contempt. They didn't expect that the Cameron family, being so wealthy, would have a daughter who liked to steal other people's things.

Thomas, who was standing by the side, couldn't bear to watch any longer. Just as he was about to step forward, suddenly a tall figure walked straight towards Briana Cameron.

Maxim walked up to Briana Cameron, shielding her behind him, and coldly stared at the women who had just been mocking her. "Do you have any evidence to prove that she stole anything? If not, why would you want to search her bag?"

Kiley looked at Maxim, her expression indifferent as she said, "Mr. Yoder, if we had evidence, we should be calling the police now, not looking through Ms. Cameron's bag."

"All these things you've said are baseless. That woman claimed she saw Briana Cameron steal Mrs. Sullivan's necklace, but how could she have stolen it when she didn't have any close contact with Mrs. Sullivan throughout the entire evening?"

Standing behind him, Briana Cameron watched his retreating figure, a flash of shock crossing her eyes.

Had he been watching her all along? Otherwise, how could he possibly know that she had never had close contact with Mrs. Sullivan?

Kiley's face turned pale, but she gritted her teeth and said, "Does no close contact prove that she didn't take Mrs Sullivan's necklace? It's also possible that the necklace fell on the ground and she picked it up and didn't want to return it!"

Maxim sneered, "Didn't that woman just say that she saw Briana Cameron steal Mrs. Sullivan's necklace with her own eyes? Shouldn't you get your testimonies straight before you come to cause trouble?"

Chapter 782

"You!"

Kiley looked furious, "Mr. Yoder, you can't just defend Ms. Cameron because she's your girlfriend, can you?"

Maxim looked at her with a cold expression, "I don't defend my own girlfriend, do you think I would defend you?"

Kiley's face turned pale and then flushed, "Mr. Yoder, don't change the subject, we are talking about Mrs. Sullivan's necklace!"

"I also said, if you want to search her bag, bring out the evidence," I had said.

Kiley pursed her lips, looking coldly at Maxim, "Mr. Yoder, if you refuse to cooperate, we will have no choice but to call the police. It won't look good for anyone if this gets out of hand."

"Were you threatening me?"

Maxim's expression was icy cold, his gaze at Kiley was incredibly saintly, sending chills down one's spine.

"This is not a threat, I'm just reminding Mr. Yoder, if this matter is resolved here, it can still be settled privately. But if the police get involved, it's uncertain whether Ms. Cameron will be able to walk away unscathed."

Maxim looked at him coldly, a glint of chill flashing in his eyes.

Just then, Briana Cameron spoke up. "Let's call the police then "

As soon as she said this, everyone looked at her with disbelief and began to whisper among themselves.

"It couldn't really be that she didn't steal it, otherwise how would she have the nerve to call the police?"

"Maybe it's a case of the thief crying 'stop thief? That necklace might not be on her anymore."

"Isn't it a bit too much for you to say that? After all, you don't have any evidence to prove that it was definitely Briana Cameron who stole it!"

A slow smile crept up the corners of Kiley's mouth. If Briana Cameron was intent on digging her own grave, then she would gladly help her along!

"Ms. Cameron, I hope you won't regret it."

Briana Cameron looked indifferent, "If you're going to call the police, do it quickly. Don't waste everyone's time."

"Good."

Kiley dialed the emergency number, and after explaining the situation at the scene to the police, they assured her they would be there soon.

While waiting for the police to arrive, the woman in the blue dress sent a message to Kiley with her head down.

"Ms. Schneider, everything has been taken care of. Once the police arrive, even if Briana Cameron had ten mouths, she wouldn't be able to explain herself."

After reading, Kiley deleted the message, a smile tugging at the corner of her mouth.

The Sullivan family, in Haseton, although not as powerful as the

Cameron family, was not the kind of family that could be humiliated by the Cameron family

Once the police arrived and found the necklace in Briana Cameron's bag the Sullivan family would surely find a way to teach Briana Cameron a lesson.

By then, all she needed to do was to watch the drama from the sidelines

Thinking of the scene where Briana Cameron was taken away by the police, she couldn't help but feel excited.

The police arrived quickly

Because there was no surveillance in the venue, the police could only start by asking about the situation at that time.

Most people didn't have any impression of Mrs. Sullivan's necklace, only the woman in blue told the police that she had seen Briana Cameron put the necklace into her bag with her own eyes.

The police officer approached Briana Cameron, about to speak, but Briana Cameron beat him to it. "Officer," she began, "I want to report that someone has secretly placed Mrs. Sullivan's necklace in my bag."

As soon as these words were spoken, the whole place erupted.

"Did I hear it wrong, Mrs. Sullivan's necklace was really in her bag?"

"This thief was crying 'stop thief', really played beautifully by Briana Cameron. It seems she planned to pin the necklace theft on someone else!"

"It must be said that Briana Cameron's mental strength was really good, she could actually lie with her eyes open, saying that someone secretly put the necklace in her bag!"

Chapter 783

Briana Cameron ignored all these arguments, opened the bag directly, and handed it to the police.

The necklace that Mrs. Sullivan had lost was surprisingly in her bag.

Kiley sneered, wondering how she would explain now.

Unexpectedly. Briana Cameron was so foolish to voluntarily open her bag for the police to see.

The policeman's face also looked somewhat unpleasant, he frowned and said. "Ms. Cameron, are you saying that someone deliberately put this necklace in your bag?"

Briana Cameron nodded. speaking seriously, "When I went to the restroom. someone bumped into me. I thought it was an accident at the time, but when I returned to the venue. someone accused me of stealing Mrs. Sullivan's necklace. And that person was the same one who bumped into me at the restroom door earlier."

The woman in the blue dress had a flash of panic in her eyes, gritted her teeth and said, "Briana Cameron! Don't slander me!"

Briana Cameron chuckled, "I haven't even said that the person who hit me was you. Why are you confessing without being accused?"

"You!"

The woman in blue was filled with anger, her eyes fixed intently on Briana Cameron, but she said no more

Kiley stepped forward, smiling as she said, "Ms. Cameron, the necklace was found in your bag. You claim someone else secretly put it there. Can you provide any evidence?"

Briana Cameron chuckled, "Of course I have evidence if I dare to say someone else did it!"

"I had never seen this necklace from start to finish, let alone stolen it, so it's impossible for my fingerprints to be on it."

No sooner had the words fallen than the face of the woman in blue turned deathly pale, and her body couldn't help but tremble.

She hadn't expected Briana Cameron to be so clever, and indeed, she had forgotten about the matter of fingerprints when she stole Mrs. Sullivan's necklace.

Once the police took the necklace for examination, they would definitely be able to detect her fingerprints on it, and then she would be done for.

Kiley's face also changed, "Ms. Cameron, the necklace was found in your bag, that's a fact, isn't it?"

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, "Yes, but so what?"

"It's good that you admit it, you stole Mrs. Sullivan's necklace, you could have completely wiped off your fingerprints."

Briana Cameron chuckled, "Ms. Schneider is right, but how do you explain her fingerprints on this necklace?"

The moment the words fell, Briana Cameron pointed at the woman in blue, her eyes full of coldness.

"She was the one who stole Mrs. Sullivan's necklace and secretly put it in my bag, attempting to frame me."

Sensing the gaze of the crowd, the woman finally panicked, "No! It wasn't me! I didn't do it!"

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, her expression indifferent as she said. "Are you sure you still won't tell the truth? If your fingerprints are detected on this necklace, its value alone could land you in jail for at least five years."

Kiley's face turned pale, about to speak, but the woman in blue was NO frightened that she lost her senses, "I'll talk! I'll talk! I don't want to go to jail! It was Kiley who made me do it!"

Kiley cursed angrily, "Bullshit, why would I let you do such a thing? It's clear that you can't stand Briana Cameron and you're trying to pin it on me!"

"I warned you, if you dare to talk nonsense again. I won't spare the Zhang family!"

The woman's body jolted suddenly, as if remembering something, and her head dropped abruptly.

Her hand, hanging by her side, was clenched tightly. It took her several seconds before she slowly raised her head and looked at the police officer. "I did it," she said, "I was jealous of Briana Cameron and Kiley, so I deliberately stole Mrs. Sullivan's necklace and secretly put it in Briana Cameron's bag, hoping to frame him."

Mrs. Sullivan looked at her with a face of disbelief, her eyes full of disappointment.

"I considered you my best friend, but you stole my necklace for your own selfish reasons. How could you do such a thing?"

Kiley, who was standing by, finally breathed a sigh of relief. It seemed that although this woman was foolish, she wasn't beyond redemption.

If she had stubbornly insisted that she was the one who instigated her, she would certainly have become the laughingstock of everyone tonight.

The woman in blue lowered her head in shame and slowly said, "I'm sorry, I was momentarily bewitched..."

Chapter 784

Mrs. Sullivan looked at her coldly. "We are no longer friends from now on."

The police officer walked up to her. "How do you plan to handle this? Are you going to press charges for theft, or do you intend to settle this privately?"

The woman in blue hastily said, "Mrs. Sullivan, please spare me this time. If I have a criminal record, my life will be over. I truly realize my mistake."

Mrs. Sullivan took a deep breath and said softly, "I apologize for the inconvenience, officer. Let's settle this matter privately."

After the police left, Mrs. Sullivan didn't even glance at the woman in blue again, instead she walked over to Briana Cameron.

"Ms. Cameron, I'm sorry. I misunderstood you just now."

Briana Cameron smiled. "It's okay. Mrs. Sullivan was also a victim. Here is the necklace, please keep it safe, Mrs. Sullivan."

"Thank you, I will invite Ms. Cameron for a meal another day to express my gratitude. I will take my leave for today."

Briana Cameron nodded, "Okay."

After Mrs. Sullivan left, the woman in blue hurriedly followed.

Soon, the party returned to its previous liveliness, but the socialites who had flocked to flatter Kiley were noticeably less enthusiastic than before

After all, no one is a fool. The woman in blue and Briana Cameron had never met before, so how could she suddenly become jealous of Briana Cameron and do such a thing

Kiley also noticed their change in attitude towards her, which upset her. She resented Briana Cameron even more. If it weren't for Briana Cameron, she would still be the center of attention.

Briana Cameron turned to Maxim, lowering her eyes and said, "Mr. Yoder, thank you for today: "

Maxim looked at her, his voice deep as he said. "You are my wife, it's my duty to protect you. Besides, I didn't do anything, you cleared your own suspicion."

"Anyway, thank you."

With a smile playing at the corners of her lips, her gaze at Maxim was not as guarded as before.

The palpitations in her heart were real when Maxim stood in front of her to protect her just now.

After the banquet ended. Kiley followed Isaac back to the presidential suite on the top floor.

"Isaac, tonight..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Isaac quickly turned around and slapped her

Kiley was caught off guard and fell directly to the ground, a burning pain spreading across her face.

She covered her face, her eyes filled with disbelief, "Why did you hit Me?!"

Isaac looked at her coldly, his eyes full of anger. "You have the nerve to ask me why?! Who allowed you to deal with Briana Cameron in such a foolish way?!"

Kiley's face changed, she looked at him with a wronged expression, "You also believe that I wanted to harm her?!"

"Kiley, stop pretending in front of me. I know exactly what kind of person you are. I will personally deal with Maxim and Briana Cameron. If you ever use those disgraceful tactics again and make me lose face with you, I won't let you off?"

Meeting Isaac's cold gaze, Kiley shuddered deep within, unconsciously lowering her head.

"I knew."

"Take good care of Denise when you have time, go out shopping when you're free. If your stupidity interferes with my plans, even if you are Denise's mother. I won't let you off!"

After speaking, Isaac immediately turned around and left.

Kiley stared intently at his retreating figure, her eyes filled with suppressed rage and resentment.

On the other side, Maxim and Briana Cameron had just returned to Gilded Bay Villa when they saw Sean's car parked at the villa's entrance.

A flicker of surprise flashed in Briana Cameron's eyes, how could her father come looking for her here?

She had just gotten out of the car when Sean's back door opened, and Sean and Thomas got out together.

"Dad, third brother, how did you guys come over?"

Chapter 785

"I came over to discuss something with Mr. Yoder "

Bruna Cameron nodded. 'Oh, then I'll go back to my room first."

"Go"

After Brunna Cameron left. Maxim turned to Sean. "Mr. Cameron. I wonder what brings you to me in the middle of the night?"

"I wanted to talk to you about Isaac from Kingly Group "

"Let's go to my study to talk "

Upon entering the study. Sean was the first to speak. "Mr. Yoder, it seems that the president of Kingly Group is your cousin "

Maxim's expression was indifferent. "He has absolutely no connection with the Yoder family anymore."

Sean sneered. "Three years ago. Briana was nearly killed by Isaac We've been looking for him for these three years. Now he's come to Haseton as the president of Kingly Group. It's time to settle the score from three years ago."

Meeting Sean's cold gaze, Maxim frowned, "I had him locked up all this time, but someone rescued him half a year ago. Kingly Group was founded by the person who saved him. If you want to deal with Isaac. you need to first find out the identity of the person behind him."

Only by cutting off his retreat could they prevent Isaac from making waves

Sean's face changed, no wonder the Cameron family had been looking for Isaac for the past few years but had never found him.

"Did Mr. Yoder figure out who the person behind him was?"

"Was checking, there hasn't been any progress so far."

Sean fell silent for a few seconds, then said in a deep voice, "Mr. Yoder, would you like to collaborate?"

Maxim raised an eyebrow, laughing, "I thought Mr. Cameron would rather I disappeared from Haseton immediately."

"How could it be? Mr. Yoder was young and promising, I greatly admired Mr. Yoder. If the Yoder Group and the Cameron Group worked together to investigate the people behind the Kingly Group, it would definitely be more effective, wouldn't it?"

Maxim nodded, "I can agree to this proposal, but with conditions."

"What conditions?"

"For the next three months, whatever happened between Briana and me, Mr. Cameron could not interfere."

Sean's face darkened, and he flatly refused, "Impossible!"

Maxim's expression was indifferent, "I just want to make good use of these three months to make Briana fall in love with me again."

If it weren't for the possibility of them having to work together in the future, Sean really wanted to curse him for being shameless!

How could it be possible to reconcile with Briana Cameron now, after hurting her so much in the past?!

"Mr. Yoder, cooperation is possible, but I won't sacrifice Briana's happiness."

"I just hoped that when I was pursuing Briana, the Cameron family wouldn't interfere. If she really didn't like me three months later, I wouldn't persist."

Seeing Maxim speak so earnestly, Sean couldn't help but ponder the truthfulness of his words.

"Was what you said true?"

"If Mr. Cameron didn't believe, we could set up an agreement."

"No need."

Sean waved his hand dismissively, "Even if there was an agreement, I couldn't do anything to you if you didn't acknowledge it. I could agree not to interfere with your pursuit of Briana, but you can't force her to do anything."

"Don't worry, I didn't want her to get hurt more than anyone else."

Sean snorted in disdain, clearly scoffing at the statement.

Maxim chuckled, not in a hurry to defend himself, but instead said, "I had a bit of a disagreement with Isaac at the party tonight, so he probably won't be collaborating with the Yoder Group. However, I recall that the Cameron Group and the Kingly Group seem to have already signed a cooperation agreement to develop a resort hotel."

Chapter 786

Sean frowned, "Indeed, there was such a collaboration, but the Cameron Group invested a lot of money in it, so this project absolutely cannot have any problems!"

The Cameron Group had invested billions in this project. If they couldn't recoup the investment, even if the Cameron Group wouldn't go bankrupt, they would definitely be severely weakened.

"Mr. Cameron, you should be well aware that Kingly Group has been gaining momentum over the past few years, showing signs of potentially surpassing the Cameron Group. If you were the president of Kingly Group, would you want to be number one, or forever remain in second place?"

Sean's face instantly turned incredibly ugly. When the Kingly Group initially signed a contract with the Cameron Group, the Kingly Group was just a fairly well-developed company. Sean was willing to sign the contract because he saw that the Kingly Group had no connections in Haseton, so he didn't think that the Kingly Group would dare to scheme against him.

But now that I think about it, Kingly Group was probably preparing to place Isaac in the position of CEO of Kingly Group back then.

"How did you want to do it?"

"Rather than waiting for the Kingly Group to make a move on the Cameron Group, it's better to strike first."

Maxim leaned in close to Sean, whispering a few words.

Sean fell silent for a moment, then said in a deep voice, "I need to think about this. I'll give you an answer in about a week."

"Good."

After discussing the matter, Sean and Thomas didn't stay any longer. They said goodbye to Maxim and left.

Walking into the living room, Briana Cameron, who was sitting on the sofa, quickly stood up and looked at Sean and Thomas, asking, "Dad, Brother Three, are you leaving?"

Sean nodded, walked up to her and slowly began, "Briana, three months will pass quickly. When the time comes, Dad and your brothers will come to take you home."

Just as Briana Cameron was about to speak, Maxim interjected coldly, "I'm afraid you won't have that opportunity."

Watching his overconfident demeanor, Briana Cameron would have rolled her eyes if it weren't for Sean and Thomas still being there.

She was certain that she would never fall in love with a man like Maxim, who was arrogant and conceited. What was the use of just having money? Besides, she was not short of money.

Ignoring him, Briana Cameron looked at Sean and Thomas and said, "Dad, brother, be careful on your way home and let me know when you get there."

"Good."

After the two left, Briana Cameron didn't even glance at Maxim, she turned around and went straight upstairs.

Maxim followed her back to the bedroom, seeing her sitting at the vanity, removing her makeup, looking as if she didn't want to bother with him, Maxim couldn't help but laugh.

"Angry?"

"No."

"Why was there no reason for the tone of speech to be so cold?"

Briana Cameron looked back at him, her face expressionless as she said, "Mr. Yoder, I always speak in this tone. If you find it cold, you can go find someone warm."

"No need, I like you whether you're warm or cold."

Although his tone was teasing, his eyes were full of seriousness.

Briana Cameron's heart suddenly skipped a beat. She turned her head and said irritably, "You're so glib, I really don't know how you became the president of the Yoder Group. Is it because of that mouth of yours?"

"There were also certain reasons."

"I didn't praise you," Briana Cameron said, sounding a bit helpless.

"When I looked at you, all your evaluations of me were compliments."

Briana Cameron:

In the hospital, Zane looked at Mallory, who was constantly vomiting by the side of the bed, and couldn't help but frown, "She's been pregnant for over four months, why is she still having morning sickness?"

The nurse on the side said somewhat helplessly, "Last time Mrs. Schneider almost had a miscarriage due to a fall, and now her morning sickness might be caused by that fall. Moreover, morning sickness varies from person to person. Some people never vomit from pregnancy to childbirth, while others vomit from beginning to end."

Worry filled Zane's eyes, but it wasn't for Mallory, it was for whether the child in Mallory's belly could be born safely.

"Was there any way to make her not vomit so severely?"

The nurse shook her head, "There's no way around this, we can only endure it."

"Would the child in her belly be okay if she vomits like this every day?"

Chapter 787

"Generally, there wouldn't be any issues, but still, caution was necessary. After all, she was at risk of a miscarriage at any time."

Mallory had been throwing up for over an hour before the nauseous feeling in her stomach finally started to subside a bit..

Only after the servant had cleaned up the filth she had vomited, did Zane go and sit by the sickbed.

"Mallory, you've worked hard."

Mallory was pale, lying in the hospital bed with her eyes closed, resting.

While others gained weight during pregnancy, she, on the contrary, lost a lot of weight.

"As long as the child could be born safely, all of this would be worth it."

Zane sighed, murmuring, "If only there was a way to make you feel better."

A thought crossed Mallory's mind, and she slowly said, "Perhaps someone might have a solution."

"Who?"

"Briana."

"What?!" Zane looked incredulous, frowning, "What kind of joke are you making?!"

"It was true."

Mallory opened her eyes and said to him, "Do you remember when she first returned to the Schneider family? She said I wasn't feeling well at that time, so she made me some health porridge. At first, I didn't think much of it. I thought she was trying to please me, that's why she made that porridge sound so magical."

"However, the porridge she made was very tasty, so I drank it for over a week, and surprisingly, my health really improved a lot."

Speaking of this, a hint of nostalgia flashed in Mallory's eyes. If only she could have another bowl of that porridge now.

Zane fell silent for a moment, then sighed and said. "Even if she knew how to make that kind of porridge, it's impossible for her to make it for you now. She's already climbed up to the Cameron family, even changed her name to Briana Cameron."

Mallory looked shocked, "Are you talking about the Cameron family that even your sister wanted to befriend?!"

"Well, she is now the daughter of the Cameron family, her eyes nearly flew to the sky when she saw me!"

Speaking of this matter, Zane was still fuming.

Had I known Briana Cameron would be so disobedient, I should have killed her back then, instead of leaving her at the doorstep of the orphanage.

Mallory pursed her lips, then said, "Zane, if she really has climbed up the Cameron family, then we need to acknowledge her!"

"Impossible, you didn't see her attitude towards me that day, she almost infuriated me to death, this rebellious girl!"

"If she was unwilling, we would expose her online for abandoning her biological parents for money and fawning over the Cameron family. Once they discovered that she could tarnish their family's reputation, the Cameron family would definitely not associate with her anymore!"

A flash of surprise crossed Zane's eyes, Mallory's method might work.

"Then I had my secretary try to contact her."

He himself didn't want to see Briana Cameron's annoying face anymore, and the words she said, each of them could infuriate people to death.

"No need, give me her number, I will contact her myself."

Zane frowned, "No, you're pregnant now. If you get angry, it might affect the baby in your belly."

"No worries, I've got this under control. Besides, I'm carrying her brother in my belly. I don't believe she would ignore her own brother! This child will be her support in the future!"

Upon hearing this, Zane thought it made sense. After all, Briana Cameron was going to get married eventually. If she was wronged in the future, wouldn't she still have to rely on her younger brother?

"Alright, I had my secretary look it up immediately."

Soon, the secretary had sent a string of phone numbers.

Upon receiving it, Mallory immediately made the call.

After a long time, the call was finally connected on the other end.

"Hello, may I ask who this was?"

Mallory cleared her throat and said in a deep voice, "Briana, I am your

Chapter 788

A flash of surprise crossed Briana Cameron's eyes, followed by a cold retort, "I don't know you at all."

After speaking, Briana Cameron hung up the phone.

When Mallory called again, the display showed that the line was busy.

She had tried to call several times without success, realizing that Briana Cameron had blocked her.

Zane on the side sneered, "I told you she was heartless, but you just wouldn't believe it."

"Alright, stop talking. Once I feel a bit better in a few days, I'll find an opportunity to meet with her."

Zane frowned, "Suit yourself, I have things to deal with at my company, I'm leaving first."

On the other side, Gilded Bay Villa.

Briana Cameron put down her phone, her eyes devoid of any emotion.

For her, Mallory and Zane were now just strangers, and there was no need to waste time on them.

She just underestimated Mallory's shamelessness.

Three days later, a meeting was in progress for the project when suddenly Anastasia pushed the door open, "Ms Cameron, there's a woman here claiming to be your mother "

Briana Cameron frowned, Gemma wouldn't just come over unannounced, she would at least give her a call first.

Suddenly, she remembered that phone call from three days ago and unconsciously furrowed her brow

She thought her attitude had been very clear that day, but she didn't expect that the other party would actually come to her workplace.

Clearly, it was Zane who gave her his own work address.

"I didn't know her, let her leave. If she continued to pester, just call the police directly."

"Alright, Ms. Cameron."

I thought this matter had passed, but unexpectedly, about ten minutes later, Anastasia rushed into the meeting room.

"Ms. Cameron, it's bad, that person suddenly fainted!"

Briana Cameron was exasperated, "Didn't I tell you to call the police if she refused to leave?"

Anastasia looked troubled, "But she's pregnant, the security guards didn't dare to lay a hand on her."

"Just call the police."

After dropping this cold remark, Briana Cameron said, "Continue the meeting."

A smirk appeared on Katherine's face, standing nearby. Someone had come looking for Briana, claiming to be her mother. This was indeed interesting.

After the meeting ended, Katherine immediately called Joanne into her office

"Go check, the identity of the person who came looking for Briana Cameron today."

Joanne came back very quickly.

"Katherine, it's been confirmed, that woman is the wife of the President of the Schneider Group."

Katherine furrowed her brow, a flash of confusion in her eyes.

"The Schneider Group? Never heard of it before."

“The Schneider Group only recently moved into Haseton, so it’s normal if you haven’t heard of them. However, the sister of the president of the Schneider Group is Kathy, who is the second wife of the Bynes family.”

Kathy and Katherine knew, this woman had some skills, she had no background at all, but still managed to secure a place in the Bynes family.

But how did the Schneider family get involved with Briana Cameron?

“I understood, you go to work first.”

After sending Joanne away, Katherine immediately called Michael.

“Bro, you definitely won’t believe what happened today!”

As soon as he heard Katherine’s smug tone, Michael was certain that nothing good was going to happen.

“What?”

“Today, a woman claiming to be Briana Cameron’s mother came to our building, but Briana Cameron did not see her and instead had her sent away.”

Chapter 789

Michael furrowed his brow.

“Perhaps it was a case of mistaken identity, there’s nothing much to say about this.”

“But you would never guess who that person claiming to be Briana Cameron to mom was.

“Who?”

“Do you remember Mallory, the wife of the President of the Schneider Group? Briana Cameron looks almost identical to Kiley, and Mallory is Kiley’s mother.”

Upon hearing this, Michael’s face instantly changed.

“I’ll look into this matter, you don’t need to worry about it anymore. Just focus on your work during this period, don’t oppose Briana Cameron anymore.”

It was a critical period for the presidential election. If Katherine pulled any more stunts, her uncle’s family might just take over the Marsh Group.

“Alright, I got it. I won’t have any conflicts with her recently.”

Katherine was somewhat upset. It was clear that she had been wronged before, but now she couldn’t even retaliate against Briana Cameron, she could only swallow the bitter pill in silence.

Thinking of that disgusting man, she still felt like vomiting

“Um, let’s leave it at that for now.”

After hanging up the phone, Katherine suddenly remembered the day of the celebration party held by the Yoder Group. The person who initially came with Maxim and the one who was later held hostage on stage didn't seem to be the same person.

Suddenly, she understood everything.

The person who was taken hostage onto the stage at that time was Briana Cameron, who for some unknown reason had entered that banquet hall, and was later mistaken for Kiley.

No wonder Briana Cameron had such a strong hostility when she saw herself, everything made sense.

If the woman who came today was really Briana Cameron's mother, it means that Briana Cameron had absolutely no relation to the Cameron family.

Afterwards, the Cameron family's property had absolutely nothing to do with Briana Cameron.

Thinking of this, Katherine gave a cold laugh.

Perhaps she should have met with Kiley.

In the afternoon, Briana Cameron was reading some documents when suddenly, a commotion came from the office door.

The next second, the office door was pushed open, and Zane stormed in angrily.

"Briana Cameron, you are so malicious that you can't even tolerate your own brother. I'm telling you, if anything happens to the child in your mother's womb, I will definitely not let you off!"

With a guilty look on her face, Anastasia looked at Briana Cameron, "Ms. Cameron, I tried my best, but I couldn't stop him."

Briana Cameron glanced at her, saying indifferently, "You go out first."

Anastasia was somewhat hesitant, after all, Zane seemed very emotional and there was no telling what he might do to Briana Cameron.

"I was fine, go ahead."

"If there was anything, you could call me anytime."

After Anastasia left, Briana Cameron looked at Zane with a cold expression and said icily, "Ms. Schneider, I have absolutely no connection with you or your wife. Your wife inexplicably came to our company building claiming to be my mother. The fact that I didn't call the police and accuse her of spreading rumors is already more than generous."

Briana Cameron's indifferent expression caused the emotions that Zane had barely suppressed to explode once again.

"Briana Cameron, did you really think that changing your surname would sever ties with us?"

Zane's eyes were filled with anger as he stared at her intently, "If you don't personally kneel and apologize at your mother's sickbed, I will make sure you regret it."

Briana Cameron had no reaction whatsoever to his threats.

“Ms. Schneider, I too, wanted to know, how were you going to make me regret?”

“Did you think that just because you’ve climbed up the Cameron family, you could disregard us?”

“I also wanted to ask Ms. Schneider, have you ever taken me into consideration? Although I lost my past memories, I have looked into my past.”

“You initially took me in to the Schneider family, only to use me as a mobile blood bank for Kiley. When I was no longer of use, you effortlessly kicked me out. Do you, such people, even deserve to stand before me, claiming to be my parents?”

Zane’s face turned livid with anger, “Kiley is your sister, it’s your duty to help her when she’s sick!”

“Natural justice? You have the audacity to utter these words. It’s a matter of course for parents to raise their children, but what else have you done besides giving birth to me?”

“You!”

Zane raised his hand to hit her, but Briana Cameron just sneered, “Ms. Schneider, if you dare to let that slap fall, you might end up in the police station later.”

“Did you threaten me?!”

“If you felt it was a threat, then it was a threat.”

“You wait for me!”

Zane stormed off angrily, however, the words he had spoken in the design department sparked a discussion among them.

“Wasn’t Ms. Cameron’s last name Cameron? Why did Ms. Schneider say she was Ms. Cameron’s father?”

“I heard a gossip before, saying that Ms. Cameron is the daughter of the president of the Cameron Group, I don’t know if it’s true or not?”

“No way, I feel like it’s just a rumor. How could the daughter of the president of the Cameron Group possibly come back to work as a designer at Graceful Attire?!”

Amidst the chatter of the crowd, Thomas arrived at Graceful Attire.

Athena Farley, the CEO of Graceful Attire, saw him, her eyes full of surprise, “What brings you here?”

Thomas gave a wry smile, “A whiff of evil wind.”

Having known him for many years, Athena could naturally tell that he was in a very bad mood now.

“What happened?”

"I heard that Zane, the president of the Schneider Group, made a scene in front of my sister and demanded your company to fire her, threatening to terminate the cooperation otherwise?"

A father, treating his own daughter like this, was simply unworthy of being a human!

If it hadn't been for Sean's intervention. Thomas would have taken action to bankrupt the Schneider Group long ago!

Athena paused for a moment, frowning. "I've been busy lately and haven't heard about this. I'll have my secretary ask around."

Thomas plopped down on the sofa, lazily saying, "Fine."

Several minutes later, the secretary knocked on the door and came in.

"Ms. Farley, when Ms. Schneider previously came to the company to refine the cooperation with Mr. Murphy, she indeed demanded that Mr. Murphy fire Ms. Cameron, but Mr. Murphy refused her at that time."

Also, a woman claiming to be Ms. Cameron's mother came to see Ms. Cameron today. Ms. Cameron refused to see her. Later, she fainted downstairs in the company building. Ms. Schneider came to trouble Ms. Cameron and left not long ago...

Athena felt overwhelmed and frowned, asking, "What's the relationship between that woman and Ms. Schneider?"

"She was Ms. Schneider's wife."

"I understood, you go to work first."

After the secretary left, Athena turned to Thomas who was sitting on the sofa, "How do you want me to handle this?"

"Breaking the contract with the Schneider Group, Zane dared to bully my sister so blatantly, I wouldn't let him off so easily!"

Athena massaged her temples with a headache and said, "If Kathy wasn't backing the Schneider Group, I would agree to this. But breaking the contract with the Schneider Group is equivalent to offending Kathy. You know, our company has a lot of cooperation with the Bynes Group."

Thomas sneered, "Just a Kathy, you can't really think that her support for her own family, the Bynes family, would be supportive, can you?"

Athena fell silent for a few seconds, then frowned and said, "But I still don't want to make things too awkward with people. You know she's not easy to deal with. You've had your own difficulties with her in the past, haven't you?"

"That was because I was young then, it didn't matter if you disagreed, I wouldn't have let Zane bring the company to Haseton, let alone let him hurt Briana again!"

After speaking, Thomas left directly.

Athena always felt that he might do something impulsive, so she quickly called Gemma, telling her that Thomas had come to see her.

Unexpectedly, after listening, Gemma just said indifferently, "I see, thank you for telling me about this, but I think he knows what he's doing."

Athena paused for a moment, a flash of disbelief flickering in her eyes.
