

Fall for You 961

Chapter 961

He slowly approached her, watching her expression grow increasingly desperate, the smile at the corner of his mouth deepening.

“Kiley, your audacity is really growing, daring to drug Maxim and cuckold me. Is it because I can’t satisfy you, so you want to find other men?”

His cold, terrifying voice echoed overhead, and Kiley felt nothing but fear.

Suddenly, she clung to Isaac’s leg, kneeling before him and begging for mercy.

“Isaac.....I know I was wrong, please let me go.....I promise I will stay far away from you in the future, I won’t see Denise again, you.....ah!”

Before he could finish speaking, he was harshly kicked by Isaac. Kiley’s face instantly turned pale, he screamed and curled up clutching his stomach, cold sweat continuously seeping from his forehead.

Isaac squatted in front of her, looking at her coldly, “You didn’t say, I almost forgot. It’s one thing for you to drug Maxim, but to use Denise to deliver the stuff, do you know, Denise also ate what you sent over, she almost ended up in the emergency room yesterday!”

A flash of shock passed through Kiley’s eyes, she shook her head in pain, “No... I didn’t know, I didn’t intend to feed her...”

“Hehe, you didn’t want to feed her, did you? You must have wished to eat all of Maxim’s food, so you could finally become his woman, right?”

“No...”

Seeing the icy smile on his lips, Kiley quickly shook her head, unable to suppress a shudder.

However, Isaac didn’t give her another chance to speak. He tossed her aside like trash and coldly said, “Take her back.”

The moment she heard these words, Kiley didn’t know where she got the strength from, but she suddenly got up from the ground and rushed towards the door.

However, just as he reached the door, he was stopped by Isaac’s men.

A terrifying laugh, akin to a ghoul, came from behind Isaac.

“She still had the energy to run, it seems she still hasn’t learned her lesson. Break her legs for me.”

Kiley’s eyes widened in terror, “No!”

However, the other party did not hesitate at all, directly smashing a fierce punch on her leg.

The strength of a man was naturally much greater than that of a woman, especially this man who had trained before. Almost instantly, a “crack” sound echoed in the small room.

“Ah!”

Kiley screamed in agony, directly passing out from the pain.

And her left-leg was also bent in a strange way.

The subordinate looked at Isaac, "Mr. Yoder, she fainted."

Isaac didn't care much, he laughed and said, "Then let's send it to the hospital."

After all, if Kiley really died, he would have lost a toy. How could that be acceptable?

"Alright."

Maxim quickly received the news that Kiley had been taken away by Isaac, and his subordinate came to report to him.

"Mr. Yoder, what do we do next? Do we have to snatch the person back from Isaac?"

Maxim gave him a cold glance, "Why retrieve it? Since it was taken by Isaac, there's no need to bother about it anymore. Just keep an eye on Isaac's side and note down any movements."

After his subordinates left, Maxim received a call from Rayan.

"Mr. Yoder, I just remembered something. When I was captured by Isaac's men yesterday, I heard them calling Isaac and it seemed like they mentioned the word 'Scorpion'"

Chapter 962

Scorpion?

Maxim frowned, a glint of coldness flashing in his eyes.

"I understand, I will have someone investigate who this person is. You just focus on recovering, don't worry about anything else. We can discuss everything else once you're healed."

Maxim was about to hang up when Rayan continued, "Mr. Yoder, there's one more thing..."

"What happened?"

"This matter was about Ms. Cameron's..."

Hearing Rayan's hesitation, Maxim said in a deep voice, "Just say it, you don't need to have any concerns."

"Yesterday, I heard Isaac's cell phone ringtone. It was the same one I heard when you had a car accident on your way to the courthouse for the divorce notarization, and Ms. Cameron rushed over to wait with me outside the operating room. I remember thinking it sounded familiar at the time, but I couldn't place where I had heard that ringtone before."

Maxim's face grew increasingly somber, his grip on his phone unconsciously tightening, his breathing becoming noticeably heavier.

"Did you remember now?"

"Um, that ringtone, I heard it once six years ago when you and I were on a business trip to Mekton. That was when we were kidnapped in Mekton, and the kidnapper's phone had that ringtone."

At that time, Rayan regained consciousness before Maxim, so he vaguely heard the bell ring, but then he was knocked out again, which is why he didn't remember it when he heard it later.

Maxim's breath hitched sharply, he said in a deep voice, "Are you sure?!"

"Um, I didn't remember it before, and later I put it out of my mind. I just remembered it all of a sudden."

Maxim took a deep breath, "I understand, don't tell anyone about this!"

"I understood."

After hanging up the phone, Maxim's brow furrowed involuntarily. They had been kidnapped by a mercenary organization. It was only after Brycen and a few others went to Mekton to negotiate with them personally that they were released.

Thinking of this, Maxim immediately called Brycen.

"Do you still remember what the organization that kidnapped me and Rayan six years ago was called?"

"Why did you suddenly ask about this?" Brycen's voice was full of confusion.

"Isaac might have been associated with that organization.""

He didn't mention Briana Cameron, he didn't want to suspect her without concrete evidence.

"Holy shit!"

Brycen's voice instantly rose several notches, "If he really is involved with that organization, I suggest you don't confront him directly. You have no idea how many people we had to find and how much effort we had to expend to get you and Rayan out of there."

Maxim's eyes darkened, he said coldly, "It's no longer about whether I want to confront him head-on or not, that organization is very likely the real culprit helping him from behind."

After a moment of silence, Brycen finally said in a low voice, "The organization is called Cold Night. I've heard they're extremely ruthless, often taking on assassination jobs. They have no bottom line, they'll take on anything as long as there's money involved. If that organization really has you in their sights, you need to think carefully about how to deal with it."

"I knew, thank you."

"What's the need for thanks between brothers? If you need help, just tell me anytime."

Maxim lowered his gaze, "No need, I've already troubled you once six years ago, this time I don't want you to be in any danger."

Hearing this, Brycen became displeased and said coldly, "Do you even consider us as brothers?"

"It was because I considered you as brothers that I didn't want you to get involved in this matter. That's it, hanging up now."

Putting down his phone, Maxim's face became incredibly serious. If Briana Cameron really had a connection with Cold Night, would their relationship become antagonistic?

Recalling her skills were almost on par with his own, and the mysteries surrounding her, Maxim realized at that moment that he didn't understand her as much as he had imagined.

Chapter 963

During the first few years of their marriage, aside from knowing that she was the lost youngest daughter of the Schneider family, who was found and brought back by the Schneider family when she was sixteen, he knew nothing about her past.

In the past, it was because I didn't care, so I didn't want to know.

But now, because I cared too much, I didn't dare to check.

They had finally come together after much difficulty, and he didn't want to separate from her again due to external reasons.

In the evening after work, Maxim used to pick up Briana Cameron.

She had just gotten into the car when Maxim whispered, "Briana, do you know of an organization called Cold Night?"

A hint of confusion flashed in Briana Cameron's eyes, followed by a shake of her head, "I don't know, what's wrong?"

Seeing the blank expression on her face, Maxim fell silent. It seemed that Briana Cameron had not been in contact with Cold Night since she lost her memory.

So, only by regaining her memory could she find out what her relationship with Cold Night really was.

"It's okay, it's just that Rayan told me Isaac might be involved with the organization Cold Night, so I was just asking if you knew anything about it."

Briana Cameron nodded, "Oh, I can ask my third brother for you. He is quite familiar with the various forces in Haseton."

"No need, I checked it myself. Cold Night is a foreign organization, not in Haseton."

Upon hearing this, Briana Cameron frowned, "Didn't you say before that it should be someone from the Lightfoot family who was helping Isaac behind the scenes? How did it get involved with an organization called Cold Night?"

“Cold Night might have been founded by the Lightfoot family.”

“Alright, I’ll do some research during this period as well, to see if I can find any information on Cold Night.”

Maxim’s eyes were slightly dim, he said in a low voice, “It’s okay, no need to rush. Didn’t you say that the doctor who hypnotized you before was about to return to the country? How long will he probably be back?”

Speaking of this, a smile appeared on Briana Cameron’s face, “He said he would be in Haseton in at most another week, and I could go find him then.”

“Um, I’ll be with you then.”

“Good.”

Looking at Briana Cameron’s smiling face, a pang of guilt rose in Maxim’s heart. She wanted to tell her everything she knew, but he was afraid that she would worry after knowing.

The only thing that could be done now was to wait for the hypnotist doctor to come to Haseton to restore her memory, and then see what should be done next.

“Was that doctor... trustworthy?”

He was always a bit careful about Briana Cameron’s matter.

Briana Cameron turned to look at him, seeing the worry in his eyes, she couldn’t help but smile, “I heard that the doctor has known my parents for many years, he is the son of a good friend of my parents, so I definitely trust him.”

“That’s good then.”

Although he said so, Maxim still felt a sense of unease inside, which made him somewhat irritable.

Whenever it involved Briana Cameron, he always lost his ability to judge.

On the other side, a hospital ward.

After work, Isaac would come to see Kiley. Seeing the terror on her face, he would always have a strange sense of satisfaction.

He sat down next to Kiley and began to peel an orange.

“You don’t need to worry, the doctor said your bone is broken and you need to rest. I won’t do anything to you during this time.”

Upon hearing this, Kiley’s eyes became even more terrified, her gaze at him was as if she was looking at a demon.

But her limbs were all tied to the hospital bed, no matter how much she struggled, she couldn’t break free. She had screamed, cried for help, but apart from the doctors, nurses, and Isaac, she hadn’t seen anyone else.

Chapter 964

Kiley looked at him in despair, her eyes filled with regret and fear.

“Isaac.....I know I was wrong, please let me go.....If I keep being locked up here, my parents will worry.....”

Isaac chuckled lightly, stuffing a slice of orange into her mouth.

“Zane did come to see me yesterday, but after I gave him a contract, he stopped asking about your whereabouts. In his mind, you are less important than a contract. Such a father, there’s no difference between having him and not, isn’t it?”

His voice was gentle, but the words he spoke were like a knife stabbing into Kiley, causing her unbearable pain.

Seeing the light gradually fade from her eyes, the smile on Isaac’s face deepened a bit more.

“Kiley, you could never escape from the palm of my hand in this lifetime, so I advise you not to have any more crooked thoughts in the future, just stay by my side. As for Maxim and Briana Cameron, I will take care of them one by one, it’s also a way of avenging you, isn’t it?”

Kiley bit her lower lip, a flash of hatred in her eyes. Although she despised Maxim and Briana Cameron, she found Isaac even more terrifying. If she could escape from him, she would rather give up her revenge.

“Why didn’t you respond?”

Under Isaac’s cold, probing gaze, Kiley couldn’t help but shiver, her voice trembling as she asked, “What are you planning to do with them?”

“I had found a poison, prepared to use it on Briana Cameron. As long as Briana Cameron died, Maxim would be devastated. Then, dealing with Maxim would be much easier.”

“Did you have a chance to get close to Briana Cameron?”

Isaac chuckled, “I didn’t, but Denise did. When we went to pick up Briana Cameron before, it was clear that she quite liked Denise.”

Kiley’s face changed, “Isaac, have you gone mad?! Denise is still a child!”

No sooner had the words left his mouth than his chin was pinched.

The pain, almost enough to shatter her bones, made Kiley furrow her brows deeply, her face unconsciously contorting.

A touch of fear welled up in her heart at the coldness in Isaac’s eyes.

“Do you have the nerve to say that Denise is still a child? Speaking of which, it was you who inspired this plan. If you hadn’t used Denise to drug Maxim, I wouldn’t have thought of having her poison Briana Cameron.”

“You’re simply a madman, didn’t you ever consider what would happen if Denise accidentally ingested that poison?!”

Isaac’s eyes were filled with mockery as he let go of her, saying, “Don’t worry, with your previous experience as a lesson, I will find a way to ensure that the poison will only be used on Briana Cameron.”

“Hehe, Maxim was right, we were simply not fit to be parents.”

Although she had used Denise, she had never thought of killing her. But shockingly, Isaac turned out to be so ruthless!

Isaac sneered, “What? Has your maternal love, which has been absent for three years, suddenly appeared at this moment? Don’t think I don’t know how you’ve treated my daughter these past few years!”

Kiley turned away, not speaking again.

“During this period, you should just stay here and recover from your injuries. If you still have thoughts of escaping, next time I will have the doctor arrange a surgery to personally cut off your legs. That way, you won’t think about running away again.”

Kiley’s body shivered, but she still didn’t speak.

Isaac didn’t stay either, he turned around and left directly.

Returning to Kingly Group, he made a call to Scorpion, which this time, was answered.

“Scorpion, you said you would help Kingly Group before, but when Kingly Group was in trouble, you didn’t answer the phone and just let things develop?!”

A soft laughter came from the other end of the phone, “Recently, Maxim has been keeping a close eye on me, of course I couldn’t act rashly, otherwise he would have caught me. I’ve already arranged for someone to inject tens of billions into Kingly Group, Kingly Group will be fine, you just need to do what you should do.”

Upon hearing this, Isaac’s face finally looked a bit better. He said coldly, “Tell me before you cut off contact next time, otherwise how would I know what you’re thinking?”

Chapter 965

Scorpion didn’t respond to his words, instead he coldly asked, “How is the cooperation with the Cameron Group progressing? I heard that Sean seems to not plan on cooperating with the Kingly Group anymore?”

“That old man Sean said that the Cameron Group recently had a break in their capital chain and they are still raising funds. He assured that the funds will be in place within three days.”

Scorpion sneered, “You didn’t believe his words, did you?”

“Of course not, if there were no funds three days later, I would accuse him of breach of contract. By then, the Cameron Group would be involved in a lawsuit, which would definitely affect the company’s image. Then, I would take over the Cameron Group’s clients at a better price.”

“Sure, but move quickly. If Sean reacts, you won’t stand a chance.”

“I knew.”

“Right, I was coming over next week, and I would contact you then.”

After speaking, without giving Isaac a chance to respond, he directly hung up the phone.

Returning to the company, a subordinate came in holding a box.

“Mr. Yoder, this was what you wanted.”

Isaac took the box and opened it. After seeing what was inside, a cold smirk appeared at the corner of his mouth.

“Alright, you may go now.”

After he was left alone in the office, he picked up the tube of transparent liquid – unscented.

As the name suggests, this poison was colorless and tasteless. Just a single drop could slowly weaken a person’s body, ultimately leading to death.

The origin of this poison was unknown, it was rumored to have been developed by a medical genius in Dragonland. There was no antidote, if poisoned, one could only wait for death.

Once Briana Cameron had eaten it, even the greatest deity couldn’t save her!

Isaac carefully put away the things, preparing to seize the opportunity to make a move on Briana Cameron.

Three days passed quickly, and Isaac went directly to the Cameron Group to find Sean.

Seeing him, Sean’s face was all smiles, “Mr. Yoder, the funds have been raised, our cooperation can start at any time.”

A smile flashed across Isaac’s face, “That’s good, I was thinking that if the funds didn’t come through, our collaboration couldn’t continue.”

Sean quickly said, “Such a great project, the Cameron Group certainly can’t miss out. How about this, we officially start this project tomorrow, okay?”

Isaac nodded, “Okay.”

The two chatted for a while, then Isaac got up to leave. Sean personally escorted him to the elevator. After the elevator descended, the smile on his face turned icy cold.

The secretary stepped forward, "Mr. Cameron, can we really do this?"

Sean looked indifferent, "What's not possible? Kingly Group hasn't put out anything, yet they want to gain without giving. I'll make sure they leave empty-handed."

For that project, Sean had secretly found a partner and the two had re-signed a contract, directly kicking Kingly Group out of the game.

Back then, Isaac was still dreaming that he could use this collaboration to severely damage the Cameron Group. He could never have imagined that the Cameron Group would use this contract to reach new heights, and his calculations were destined to fail.

Isaac walked out of the Cameron Group with a sense of accomplishment and immediately called Scorpion.

"The Cameron Group had already started injecting funds, they could close the net tomorrow!"

Chapter 966

Early the next morning, Isaac was awakened by the sound of his phone ringing before he had even gotten up.

Seeing it was Scorpion, he couldn't help but frown, sliding to answer the call.

"How....."

Before the words were even finished, they were interrupted by Scorpion's cold voice.

"Isaac, you fool! Did you know you were played by Sean?"

Upon hearing this, Isaac instantly sobered up, sitting up straight and coldly demanded, "What do you mean?!"

"Hehe, Sean bypassed you and signed a contract with the partner directly. Now, the Cameron Group is working with the partner, and the Kingly Group has been kicked out. I was wondering why Sean had no doubts about you. Turns out, he had been preparing in secret. You are simply too stupid!"

Now, let alone the key, it was unknown how long Kingly Group could hold on.

Isaac's face turned cold, he said angrily, "Sean actually dared to play me like this, I won't let him go!"

"From now on, you don't have to do anything. If I find out you've acted recklessly, I won't let you off!"

After speaking, Scorpion angrily hung up the phone.

Isaac threw his phone on the ground, his eyes filled with anger and coldness. He couldn't believe Sean had dared to trick him!

He immediately stood up, changed his clothes, and went straight to the Cameron Group to find Sean. The moment he saw Sean, his gaze was so cold it was almost murderous.

“Sean, you actually dared to play me!”

Sean looked at him indifferently and slowly said, “Mr. Yoder, didn’t you play me? I just returned the favor you did to me, why can’t you accept it?”

“I won’t let you and the Cameron Group off the hook. You breached the contract, I will definitely sue you into bankruptcy!”

Looking at Isaac’s excited and angry expression, Sean laughed, “Mr. Yoder, even if you want to sue me, you have to consider the current capabilities of Kingly Group, don’t you? As far as I know, many partners have terminated their contracts with Kingly Group. Whether Kingly Group can continue in Haseton is a question. To sue me, you also need to have the resources, don’t you?”

Detecting the mockery in his tone, Isaac turned livid with anger.

“You wait for me!”

“Take care, no need to see you out!”

After leaving the Cameron Group, Isaac went directly to the Kingly Group and called a shareholders’ meeting.

However, he had sat in the meeting room for over half an hour, and apart from him and the secretary, not a single shareholder had come.

He looked coldly at the secretary, “Are you sure you notified the shareholders?”

The secretary dared not meet his furious gaze, quickly lowering her head and saying, “I’ll notify them again.”

Several minutes later, the secretary returned with a distressed look on her face.

“Mr. Yoder.....those shareholders refused to come.....they said.....said.....”

Seeing his hesitant manner, Isaac knew it certainly wasn’t going to be good news.

He sneered, “Just tell me what they said!”

“They said they wouldn’t want an incapable waste to be the president of Kingly Group. If it weren’t for your large shareholding, they would have kicked you out long ago... They also said they would never attend any meetings in the future, unless you manage to regain all the partnerships Kingly Group has lost.”

After speaking, the secretary had already lowered his head deeply.

The entire conference room fell into silence, and the temperature also dropped rapidly.

Isaac's face hardened, and he remained silent for a long time before he finally spoke, "Fine, if they refuse to participate, they don't need to continue working at Kingly Group. Fire them all!"

The secretary hesitated for a few seconds, then said in a low voice, "Mr. Yoder, you don't have the right to dispose of other shareholders' rights..."

"I held 50% of the shares in Kingly Group, Kingly Group was mine, why wouldn't I be qualified! You go handle this matter immediately, I'll take responsibility for any issues!"

Chapter 967

The secretary wanted to say that you might not be able to afford it, but upon meeting Isaac's cold and intimidating gaze, he immediately backed down.

"I was going right away."

Soon, the shareholders arrived at the meeting room one by one, fuming with anger.

"Mr. Yoder, what do you mean?! On what grounds did you fire us?!"

"Exactly, we are also shareholders of Kingly Group. Don't think you can do whatever you want just because you own 50% of the shares!"

"His abilities were not great, but his temper was certainly not small. It's a pity that he only dared to be aggressive in his own den. If he really had the ability, why didn't he go and get the cooperation back from those partners!"

The mocking voices of the crowd made Isaac's face grow increasingly unpleasant.

He sneered, suddenly slapped the table, and instantly the entire conference room fell silent.

He lifted his head and swept his gaze over the shareholders, their faces filled with anger. He said coldly, "You can't even hold a meeting without making excuses, and you have the audacity to ask me why I fired you?!"

"The reason we didn't attend the meeting, Mr. Yoder, should be quite clear to you. Before you took over Kingly Group, it was consistently profitable. However, since you took over, partners have been terminating their collaborations left and right. Even the potential partners we were in talks with have turned to other companies."

"Mr. Yoder, if you lack the ability to manage the company, why not step down and give those capable shareholders a chance? Wouldn't it be better to just wait for your annual dividends?"

Isaac confronted them coldly, "In the end, you just want me to step down so that your people can take this position."

"We just hoped that the person in the position of president would have the ability to lead Kingly Group to an even more glorious position!"

“No matter what you say, I won’t leave this position. If you don’t want to come to the meeting, you don’t have to come in the future. You can leave now!”

Seeing Isaac’s terrible attitude, all the shareholders’ faces turned extremely ugly, and they left one by one in anger.

Isaac had the audacity to say such things, they wouldn’t want to cooperate with him in the future!

The secretary couldn’t help but frown, whispering, “Mr. Yoder, falling out with these shareholders now is not a wise choice.”

Isaac gave him a cold glance, “You mean, I should ingratiate myself with them?!”

“That’s not what I meant...”

“You had better not really mean that!”

After speaking, Isaac immediately stood up and returned to his office.

The secretary sighed. The meeting didn’t happen today, and for some unknown reason, he was scolded by Isaac. Good intentions were mistaken for malice!

Back at the office, Isaac’s anger still hadn’t subsided, and then Scorpion called again.

He directly hung up the phone and turned it off, not wanting to deal with anyone at the moment, just wanting to be alone in peace.

On the other side, Scorpion heard the sound of shutting down from inside, a hint of mockery flashing in his eyes.

If it weren’t for Isaac being a part of the Yoder family, this bumpkin wouldn’t have even been worth his attention.

“Mr. Lightfoot, what do we do now?”

Scorpion – that is, Robinson Lightfoot, sneered, “Return home immediately!”

If it weren’t for that fool Isaac, he wouldn’t have had to go back early.

“Alright, I had them prepare immediately.”

That night, a helicopter quietly landed in the outskirts of Haseton.

After getting off the plane, a servant immediately came forward to take the luggage.

An elderly man, on the verge of death, slowly approached with the support of his cane, looking at Robinson with eyes full of excitement.

“Young Master, you’ve finally returned!”

Chapter 968

Robinson nodded, “Yes, finally returned.”

Over twenty years ago, the Lightfoot family was schemed against by the four major families, and in the end, they had no choice but to flee to a foreign country. Now, after more than twenty years, he can finally return to clear his past disgrace.

The helplessness and pain that the Lightfoot family had experienced in the past, he would make the four great families taste it as well!

"It's good that you're back. I had someone clean up the room early on. You should go back first."

Returning to the Lightfoot family, seeing everything still the same, a touch of nostalgia flashed in Robinson's eyes.

"Uncle Lane, thank you. If it wasn't for you all these years, the Lightfoot family might have fallen into ruin long ago."

Uncle Lane shook his head, "If it weren't for my master back then, I would have died long ago. Staying with the Lightfoot family was my own choice, because I knew that one day, someone from the Lightfoot family would return."

Robinson fell silent for a moment, then said, "Now that I'm back, why don't I arrange for someone to send you abroad to enjoy your twilight years? You've done more than enough for the Lightfoot family over the years."

"Young Master, there's no need. I've lived with the Lightfoot family for so many years, I'm used to it. If you ask me to leave and live abroad, I definitely won't be able to adjust. Living with the Lightfoot family until the day I die, that would be the best ending for me."

Seeing Uncle Xiang's persistence, Robinson didn't continue to persuade him, but slowly said, "My words always stand. If you ever want to leave, just let me know at any time."

"Alright, young master, let's eat first."

"Mm-hmm."

After dinner, Robinson returned to his room. Uncle Lane took a stroll around the garden and then also returned to his room.

After taking a bath, Robinson stepped out of the bathroom, picked up his phone and sent a text message after changing his clothes, and then immediately left the house.

On the other side, Briana Cameron received the message from the doctor, a flash of surprise in her eyes, followed by excitedly taking her phone to the study to find Maxim.

"Maxim, the doctor said he had returned to his country and asked me to meet him the day after tomorrow to help me retrieve my memory through hypnosis again!"

Watching her excited expression, Maxim couldn't help but curve his lips into a smile, softly saying, "I'll go with you the day after tomorrow."

"Good."

Late at night, Isaac was still in the office dealing with documents when suddenly the office door was pushed open.

He thought it was the secretary, without lifting his head, he said, "You go back first, I'll look at the files for a while longer."

No sooner had the words fallen than a contemptuous laugh sounded from the doorway.

"Without ability, even staying up all night wouldn't provide a solution."

Isaac's body stiffened, he incredulously lifted his head, seeing a silhouette standing against the light at the door, his hand unconsciously tightened around the document he was holding.

Although he had never met Scorpion, he could tell from the tone of the other's speech that it must be Scorpion.

He just hadn't expected that Scorpion would be so young.

He stood up abruptly, finally seeing clearly the person standing at the door.

"Scorpion!"

Robinson hooked his lip, "At least the eyes are still good."

After speaking, without waiting for Isaac to respond, he went straight to the sofa and sat down, calmly watching Isaac.

"Come and sit, were you waiting for me to invite you?"

Isaac took a deep breath, walked over and sat down across from him, his face somewhat unnatural.

"I knew you were coming, I just didn't expect you to come so quickly."

Chapter 969

Robinson sneered, "If I hadn't come over, you would have bankrupted Kingly Group."

Isaac: ".....

He clearly didn't do anything, it was Maxim and Sean who teamed up to trick him!

"It wasn't my fault for what happened to Kingly Group, I didn't do anything. The Yoder Group and the Cameron Group had deep-rooted connections in Haseton, their network was much stronger than the emerging Kingly Group, so it was normal for those clients to be poached."

Robinson frowned, his voice growing cold, "Isaac, what I hate most are those who are clearly useless, yet desperately make excuses for themselves. If you can't handle this position, it can be replaced by someone else."

"No!"

Isaac's face instantly turned incredibly ugly, he gritted his teeth and said, "Now I hold 50% of the shares in Kingly Group, no one but me is qualified to sit in this position!"

Robinson snorted, "Even if you want this position, you need to have the ability. From what I've observed, you don't seem to have any."

"Could you possibly turn around the current situation of Kingly Group?!"

"What if I could?"

Isaac gritted his teeth, "Your purpose of coming back is to help Kingly Group, if you can, I thank you on behalf of all Kingly Group employees."

Robinson sneered, now he suddenly became clever.

"Kingly Group was founded by me. If I really wanted to kick you out, do you think I couldn't do it?"

Upon hearing this, Isaac's face turned incredibly ugly. He angrily said, "Scorpion, don't forget, I exchanged a secret key for my 50% share. You have no right to drive me away!"

Robinson frowned, saying coldly, "Don't call me Scorpion anymore, call me Mr. Lightfoot!"

Facing Robinson's cold gaze, although Isaac was unwilling in his heart, he knew he had to obey him at that moment.

"I understood, Mr. Lightfoot."

"Tomorrow I would officially enter the company as a shareholder. Have your secretary arrange a spot for me, closer to you."

"Good."

The purpose of Robinson's visit was to knock some sense into Isaac. Seeing that he was quite cooperative, he immediately stood up and said, "I'm going back first."

Isaac escorted Robinson downstairs, watched him leave, and then turned to walk towards his own car.

The thought of having to obey Robinson in everything from tomorrow onwards made Isaac feel sick at heart.

However, he also knew that his abilities were no match for Robinson's, and everything he had now was given by Robinson. If he didn't listen to Robinson, he could take everything back at any time, which would be a loss for him.

Having driven back home, Isaac carefully placed the poison he had prepared for Briana Cameron in the secret compartment of the cabinet.

Since the last time his secret key was stolen by Robinson's people when he secretly placed it in the cabinet, Isaac had someone thoroughly check his study and even installed an anti-eavesdropping device. Therefore, his study was very secure now.

He just didn't notice that a crack had opened in the cabinet in the corner. It wasn't until he turned off the light and left that the cabinet door was pushed open and a small figure walked out. It was none other than Denise.

Denise wondered what Isaac had secretly set up just now, but she didn't dare to ask, and she wasn't tall enough to reach it. She had to suppress her curiosity and sneak back to her room from the study.

Kiley was not at home these past few days, Isaac came back very late every day, and Denise, sometimes scared, would hide in the cabinet in the study.

When she used to get hit by her mother, she would often find a place to hide. The study room cabinet was the safest place she found, because her mother dared not enter the study room.

Just didn't know where mom had gone. She had previously promised to take her to live with her uncle, but now mom hadn't come back. She wouldn't have abandoned her, would she?!

Thinking of this, Denise suddenly pursed her lips and burst into tears with a loud sob.

Denise's voice was not low, and Isaac in the next room heard it quickly.

He got up and went to Denise's room, saw her sitting on the bed, sobbing uncontrollably. He turned on the light and sat down by the bed.

"Denise, what's wrong with you? Did you have a nightmare?"

Tears welled up in Denise's eyes as she looked at him, "Daddy, where is Mommy? Does she not want me anymore?"

Although Isaac was disgusted with Kiley, he couldn't bear to see his daughter's tearful eyes filled with grievance. He said, "No, your mother has been sick recently and is now in the hospital, that's why she hasn't come back. Once she gets better, she will come back."

"Really?"

"Really, if you don't believe me, I'll take you to see her tomorrow."

Denise wiped her tears and nodded, "Yes, I need to go see mom!"

Even though her mother didn't like her, she still felt upset when she heard her mother was sick.

"Alright, you go to sleep first. After breakfast tomorrow morning, I'll have Uncle Butler take you to the hospital to see her."

Mm-hmm."

Only after lulling Denise to sleep, did Isaac carefully leave her room.

After returning to his own room, he couldn't fall asleep.

Thinking about my current situation, I didn't know if I could provide a good growing environment for Denise in the future.

After hesitating for a while, he still dialed a number.

After hearing his words, the other party couldn't help but say, "Isaac, are you sure you've thought this through?"

Isaac was silent for a few seconds, then said in a deep voice, "Well, Irene, I've thought it through. I don't know what Denise will become if she stays with me. I hope she can grow up in a healthy and happy environment."

His life had already been ruined, and he didn't want his daughter to live a life of pain like him.

"Alright, since you've made your decision, I'll come to take her away after a while."

"Irene, thank you!"

Irene was Isaac's lifesaver. Once, when he was abroad, he nearly died on a mission. It was Irene who saved him. During the process of recovery, the two gradually became familiar with each other. Now, Isaac considers Irene as his own family.

Irene sighed slowly and said, "Isaac, I know I should persuade you, but I still want to say, if your parents were still alive, they would definitely hope that you could live happily, not blinded by hatred."

Isaac gave a bitter laugh, "Irene, I have no way back."

From the moment he kidnapped Norma, he knew he had fallen into hell for the rest of his life, and there was no

"You could give up anytime you wanted, as long as you were willing."

"Irene, I had something else to attend to, so I couldn't talk to you any longer."

After hanging up the phone, Isaac put his cell phone aside and leaned back in his chair, covering his eyes.

If his parents were still alive, he would be living much more comfortably now, but they were murdered, and he had the duty and responsibility to seek justice for them!

Early the next morning, as soon as Isaac arrived at the company, he saw Robinson sitting on the sofa in the president's office, looking down at some documents.

A flash of surprise crossed his eyes as he quickly stepped forward, "Mr. Lightfoot, how come you're here so early?"

Robinson glanced at the time and realized that there were only five minutes left before work. He frowned and said, "It's not that I came early, it's that you came too late. I don't like people who arrive at the company just in time. It's acceptable for ordinary employees, but you are a shareholder of the company. The company's benefits and your dividends are closely related, how could you afford to be so late?"
